These days many people work under pressure, worry more, sleep less. The strain on body and brain makes physical fitness and mental alertness hard to regain. Today's tense living lowered resistance, overwork, worry — any of these may affect normal kidney action. When kidneys get out of order, excess acids and wastes remain in the system. Then backache, disturbed rest, that "tired-out" heavy-headed feeling often follow. That's the time to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's stimulate the kidneys to normal action, help them clean out poison-laden waste. Ask for Dodd's Kidney Pills at any drug counter. A

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

BEST OF LUCK!

"Red" Doran postponed during our hospital incarceration. Said Red: "There's plenty of interest and enthusiasm over the players taking over the senior hockey club. I foresee a good year." (Not Goodyears, Mr. Compositer.)

From what we have heard and read, the player-operated club is off on the right foot. Unlike former clubs of such ilk, it saw the need of a strong, independent executive body.

And we believe it has just that. In president Frank Grandame, the players have a man who is bread in hockey soups, has had plenty of experience as a sports executive, and has the ability to administrate the affairs of such an organization in a proper, efficient manner. . . .

There is little to be said about the abilities of popular "Red" Doran, the club's new manager. "Red" has always acquitted himself nobly, no matter what kind of a job he was called upon to do. And no one has any doubts as to his managerial ability. Varied hockey background, player experience and a general ear-to-the-ground on all puckchasing activities for the past decade fits "Red" admirably (listenin' chief?) for his new post. . . .

The secretarial-treasurer job sits on Drury Jeanyes like a 1953 hat. Denyes knows through more or less vivid experiences all the heartaches, headaches, fancy kicks and other intangible quirks that go with such a position. The job of keeper of the privy purse and counter could not be in better hands.

Bill Sell as chairman of finance, is the right-shaped peg in the right-shaped hole. Bill is one of Belleville's better young business men and his experience and training in his own particular sphere fits him for the new post. . . .

Came a wave of nostalgia when we read the name of "Twig" Woodley as manager of the player-operated senior committee. "Twig" has been one of Belleville's staunchest sports supporters, especially baseball and hockey, since he was knee-high to a buttertly. . . .

"Twig" rarely missed a game. He exercised his parking privilege's privilege on succeeding blue days. Most of the time he was right, except when he argued with us. . . .

He has been a close sideline observer of hockey and other sports since he ceased active participation as an umpire years ago. . . .

"Twig" was the other half of the well-known Diamond-cee "Twig" Woodley and the late Ken Colling who emerged unscathed (generally) from many hot Central Ontario and Bay of Quinte Baseball Leagues battles. . . .

We recall one occasion when the famous mask-and-pad duo led a parade out of Picton. The rest of the entourage was composed of small boulders, over-age cabbage, tin cans and epithets. Napanee and Lefty Pointer had edged Picton's photo finish a sizzling battle and the home town fans did not take the defeat kindly. . . .

Now, Woodley and Colling? Not so, kiddies, no! The pair were halos. They led the parade of missiles merely because some squealer tipped off the "mob" that both voted Conservative. . . .

Seriously, we're glad to see "Twig" back in sports harness if the health can stand it. He takes any job of this nature seriously, and you can bet your last mink skin "Twig" will put all he has into doing a grand job in his capacity—and in any other way for the club. . . .

As for Devine and this department—both will be in there shooting at usual with well-equipped backs which never have suffered injury through slapping. Now take a little lower . . . .

They tell me some of the Peter' players and parents will round out the Belleville nucleus. It should work out alright as long as there are not too many dressing-room lawyers. . . .

A groundswork of team spirit and club harmony is vitally essential. If the club develops class, then the victories will come easier. An over-all will-to-win, without regard for personal glory will go a long way toward grabbing that elusive group-title not forgetting a play-off berth. . . .

Confidence in and respect for the coach and manager are other essentials. They are vested with authority, in this case, player-bestowed, hence all the more reason why this authority should not be player-abused. . . .

Club members and the executive are to be commended for their efforts in keeping the senior hockey flag flying in Belleville. But they cannot keep the pennant fluttering without adequate support—box office and otherwise.

We believe President Grandame and his executive will go all out to maintain their end. We believe the players will do likewise. We believe all are serious-minded men intent on giving this city a Senior "B" club worthy of its hockey traditions.

Forget the past. This is the present. Yesterday's winds cannot dry today's washing. The club cannot operate without fan support. It is up to fandom to see that it keeps in operation.

Cleveland's One-Game Edge Over New York Due to Fact Tribe Has Played Two More

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

So now the American League thriller comes to this: Cleveland has eight games to play, New York 10. Both have to win 'em all.

If they do, it's a tie.

The Indians and Yankees start the final run for the money tonight all even on the 'next' side. Each has dropped 56, and Cleveland's one-game edge over New York comes from the fact the Tribe has played two more and won both of 'em.

Cleveland is at home to Detroit tonight. The Tribe plays six of its final games with the Tigers, two with the still-hopeful Chicago White Sox.

New York plays Boston at Yankee Stadium. The Yanks have seven left with the Red Sox, three with Washington, the club "that's got us up there," says manager Casey Stengel, by taking 13 of 22 from Cleveland.

INDIANS HAVE ADVANTAGE

On the face of it, Cleveland has the edge. No matter who you play, the easier the win might be next to 10. By sweeping the eight Cleveland can be assured of nobody worse than a deadlock. Any New York loss means Cleveland need win only six.

Cleveland manager Al Lopez, in a pensive mood, thinks the difference in games remaining will decide it. 'We have eight and they have 10. We've won eight next week and they have only one.

"We can start three pitchers and they're going to have to use four or five starters, especially in that last weekend in Yankee Stadium," Lopez said. "They have four games in the last three days.

"We've won two more than the Yankees and they've got to catch up. Maybe it will be that way."

Boston manager Pinky Higgins promised the Yankees they'll "know" using his Red Sox are out of it. Pinky said "We'll be up for the Yankees. We like nothing better than to beat them."

Stengel was more whimsical going into the showdown. "I've been reading all the experts how final 1-0) final I'm supposed to lose," he said. "But neither has won it yet. Maybe they don't want it and maybe we'll win it ourselves."

THEIR BEST MEN

Lopez and Stengel both have their big guns ready—Lopez with Early Wynn (18-9), Mike Garcia (11-12) and Bob Lemon (18-8); and Casey with Whitey Ford (17-7), Tommy Byrne (15-4) and Bob Turley (16-13).

They'll probably go in that order, starting tonight, through Sunday. In return, Detroit has named Billy Hoeft (16-7), Frank Lary (13-16) and Bob Miller (6-1). Boston has listed Frank Sullivan (15-12), Tom Brewer (11-12) or George Susce (9-1) and Frank Baumann (11-12).

Stengel, with four straight complete games from his staff for the first time this season, has added another National League sleeper for the pennant run. He picked up Gerry Staley, a 55-year-old righthander, from Cincinnati—just at the right time to help Ford and Turley.

Only one game was scheduled in the majors Thursday and Brooklyn the National League champs, lost its fifth straight, the Dodgers' longest slump of the year. It was a 3-2 decision in 12 innings for St. Louis as Brooklyn ended its last western trip of the year.

Stan Musial and Bip Repulski, with back-to-back homers off rookie Sandy Koufax in the third, pulled the National League even with its own major league home run record of 1,197 set in 1953.

Moore's Needling Has Got Under Marciano's Skin

By MURRAY ROSE

GROSSINGER, N. Y. (AP)—Archie Moore's long needling campaign has wormed under Rocky Marciano's skin.

The 38-year-old ring veteran's taunts helped get him his Sept. 20 title fight with the heavyweight king but it also could lead to quick destruction for Moore in Yankee Stadium Tuesday night.

Rocky admits Archie's barbs have rattled him. But they also have served as a stimulant for the underrated Brockton blaster.

Rocky said he is in the greatest shape of his career and expects to put on "one of my best fights."

Asked whether Moore's cracks had somewhat to do with this, Rocky replied:

"I guess so. Everything has been leading up to this. It kind of spurs you on. I think I want to win this more than any fight since the first one with Jersey Joe Walcott when I won the title.

In sharp contrast to Archie Moore's blistering caustic remarks, the heavyweight champion exchanged punches with his two sparmates in a typical "war." That's the way the champion won his title and that's the only way he knows how to fight.

The undefeated, 31 - year - old Brockton Blaster's day at the body in a two-round session with Sgt. Lem Reed and Pfc. Bob Satterfield (Rochester leads best- of- seven with pokey Steve Simmons.

Before the practice, witnessed by a large crowd in the airport hangar ring, Marciano, poised and smiling said: "This is the best I've ever been in camp. It's going to be the greatest shape of my career. This should be one of my best fights."

Golf, Wood's Win Games

Belleville Golf and G. H. Wood's took seven points in the Major "A" League competition at the Bowl-O-Drome last night. They defeated Moore's Chiselers and Tobe's Grocery 5-2 and 6-1 respectively. C.N.R. won 5-2 over Seeley's Clippers, while Cement edged Upper Canada News 5-4, 4-3.

Vancouver Lions Have Hottest Popularity-Rating in Canada

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Everybody loves a winner. A good example is British Columbia Lions, the team with the hottest popularity-rating in Canadian football.

Lions, who drew better-than-average crowds last season when they won only one of their 16 starts, are luring fans this year at a record pace. The obvious answer is Lions' improvement over 1954.

They have a record of three wins in six starts in the 1955 Western Interprovincial Football Union.

Last Saturday they set a Canadian football attendance record when 29,503 fans crammed into Empire Stadium at Vancouver to see Edmonton Eskimos win 19-13. That was nearly 1,500 more than the 28,013 who turned out at Empire Stadium Aug. 22.

TICKETS GOING FAST

As the third-place Lions prepared to meet the last-place Winnipeg Blue Bombers at home Saturday, fans were grabbing up tickets. By Thursday night more than 20,000 had been sold. Club officials expect a last-minute rush for seats if the weather is clear.

The Vancouver - Winnipeg engagement is one of four in the WIFU this weekend. In the only other Saturday game, the league-leading Edmonton Eskimos take on Saskatchewan Roughriders at Regina. On Monday, it's Winnipeg at Edmonton and Vancouver stalwart the Canadian Champions at Calgary.

In the Big Four Union, Toronto Argonauts, victims of humiliating defeats in their last two outings, take on Ottawa Rough Riders at Toronto Saturday. Meanwhile, Hamilton Tiger-Cats travel to Montreal for their first game against Alouettes.

Only one game is scheduled in the Senior Ontario Rugby Football Union during the weekend. Sarnia Imperials meet the Beach Club at Toronto Sunday afternoon.

Montreal will havea new addition in the backfield Saturday. Blackie Kincaid, former University of Southern Carolina half, was named by Als to replace Emil Stadik. Kincaid, who played last Montreal will have a new addi-

Los Angeles Rams in the National Football League, was bought several days ago from the TiCats. Radik has been put up for waivers.

It will be Rough Riders' first meeting against Argonauts. The fact that Argos have brought up four American imports in an attempt to correct weaknesses hasn't bothered the Ottawa club.

Says Rough Rider coach Chan Caldwell:

"It looks as though we are going to play a brand-new team but we haven't got time to worry about their problems. We're just going out to play our best football. We think we've got a good chance of winning."

Magistrate's Talk Against Pro Sport Brings Outraged Denials from Many in Game

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

A statement from a British Columbia magistrate that professionalism rules amateur sport, touches, brought outraged denials from many of Canada's athletes.

Roderick Haig-Brown, outdoors author, fisherman and farmer of Campbell River, Vancouver Island, said in an address Wednesday to the Parks and Recreation Association of Canada:

"Professionalism has ruined every sport it touches because it spoils the game through the tendency of promoters to apply professional standards to groups, particularly children, who are not capable of reaching those standards."

He said professional sports are not a good example for the younger generation "since the infernal competitive spirit that them inside these sports are a thing of blood and guts."

MOOSE DISAGREED

A Canadian Press survey shows that generally, sportsmen disagree with Haig-Brown. One agrees. Dr. Maury van Vliet, head of the University of Alberta's physical education department, said:

"Unfortunately, Mr. Haig-Brown is about 10 per cent right—so right it hurts."

"Professional sport as such need not do these things, but the pressures, handling them and interested in developing them do affect a certain amount of public consideration given amateurs in the same sport."

Here's what Haig-Brown's critics said:

Frank Shaughnessy, president of the International Football League: "He sounds like a Communist to me. Competition is the greatest thing we know in this country. The amateur sports people today are just as competitive as the professionals, even more so. . . If you eliminate competition, you're getting towards communism where the state runs everything and there is no competition."

"STUPID ASSERTION"

Frank Selke, general manager of Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League: "His charge is one of the most stupid assertions the amateur people have come up with in a while. Sport is better today because of professionalism which gives the youngsters something to strive for, a chance to improve their game as well as themselves."

Leigh Miller, coach of Canada's 1954 British Empire Games team: "That idea is old fashioned. What we might do here in Canada is to get more people competing instead of watching."

Donald W. Mitcham, president of the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association: "Professionalism raises the standards and adds incentive to amateur sports. In my sport, we suffered from a great public apathy until Marilyn Bell swam Lake Ontario. The current interest in swimming is not only gathering momentum in amateur swimming events but is making the public aware of the necessity of swim training for children."

Conn Smythe, president of Maple Leaf Gardens: "Who is this guy? I never heard of him. The personal success of the men who play professional hockey is clear what it's done for them. Look at the standing in the community of men like the Conachers, Red Horner, Hap Day, Ted Kennedy. Every one of them is a leader."

Sam Snead's Golf School

About 20,000 physicists will probably write in to say that technically I'm all wrong, but I believe the golf swing is essentially a problem in leverage. I remember from high school days that any application of leverage you have to have force, a lever, and a fulcrum. Well, it's my belief that the fulcrum of the golf swing is the straight left leg which you're supposed to hit against. And that makes this leg a pretty important part of your golf swing. It follows that if you don't hit against a straight left leg you have no fulcrum and therefore no leverage. It is wrong to collapse the fulcrum by bending the left knee just before or during impact. Of course it takes more than just a fulcrum to achieve leverage. It also takes a correct application of force.

Junior Prospect From Moose Jaw Sets Camp Afire

Rollins completed his third shutout in four full sessions, making 30 saves in the final drill of the afternoon. Drake's performance Rollins seemed to be back to the form he displayed while winning the Vezina Trophy with the Toronto Maple Leafs.

"Of course," Irvin added slyly, "we are right now playing the clubs that can't get any of hockey used by the Leafs."

Drake, 18, won high praise from Irvin, who labelled the youngster one of the finest prospects in the camp.

First engagement for the season for the Bisons comes tonight when they meet Buffalo Bisons in an exhibition game.

Yvon Durelle Accepts Fight in London

LONDON (CP)—Promoter Jack Solomons announced Thursday that Canadian fighter Yvon Durelle has accepted terms to fight at London's Harringay Arena Oct. 18 against either Randy Turpin or Yolande Pompey.

Durelle, Canadian light-heavyweight champion from Baie Ste. Anne, N.B., lost to Londoner Ron Barton here earlier this year when disqualified for low punching.

Durelle has agreed to a fight over 10 rounds at 171 pounds," said Solomons. His opponent will be picked after Turpin, former world's middleweight champion who has signed a long way, fights Tuesday at Birmingham.

Pompey comes from Trinidad, and has been fighting here for a couple of years.

Ready for Fight

NORTH ADAMS, Mass. (AP)—Archie Moore hit the road for three miles Thursday and then spent the rest of the day relaxing, talking to nobody. He will box two rounds each, today and Saturday, and will finish his pre-fight work Sunday for his Sept. 20 title date with heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano.

Moore already has made plans for a six-week victory tour with Lucky Thompson's band. He will be master of ceremonies.

Almost Unknown Golfers Still In U.S. Tournament

Rose is a little guy who trotted out on the Yale bowl turf almost a decade ago to kick those vital points. Now a quiet, bespectacled Bridgeport, Conn., businessman, he is in the semi-finals of the amateur along with one other near unknown, a player of considerable local fame and one of the world's best amateurs.

The other semi-final brings together Hillman Robbins, Jr., of Memphis, Tenn., last year's intercollegiate champion, and William Hyndman III of Philadelphia, who has been recognized for years as a fine golfer who played only around home.

Ward, 1954 Canadian amateur champion, was an odds-on favorite now that all the other players of international stature have been removed.

After knocking out Robert Jordan of Greensboro, N.C., and young Jimmy McCoy of West Palm Beach, Fla., Thursday, Ward repeated an earlier statement that if he keeps on playing the same kind of golf, he stands a chance to win. That was a real understatement.

Bunty's Flight Favored To Win Coronation

TORONTO (CP)—Bunty's Flight, owned by Toronto industrialist Larkin Maloney, is expected to go to the post as favorite in Saturday's running of the Coronation Futurity, Canada's richest race for two-year-olds. The winner will earn first money of more than $21,000.

Bunty's Flight is favorite on the strength of four consecutive victories on Ontario tracks. He was a bargain purchase as a yearling at year-olds in earnings. He will be ridden by jockey George Walker.

Certain to have much support is Bill Beasley's colt, Canadian Champ, which never has been beaten on a Canadian course. However, Canadian Champ's recent campaigning has been confined to New York tracks and Bunty's Flight has stolen the spotlight in Ontario.

The outstanding filly is Greenfield, owned by Russel Y. Graid of Montreal. Greenfield won the Princess Elizabeth Stakes at Woodbine last week and has been outstanding in her age division throughout the summer.

Rochester Red Wings on Top Of Toronto Leafs by Clubbing Them 14-10 in First Game

By BILL SENYK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP) — Two "hits" ushered in the Governors' Cup finals Thursday night—"I Wish I was in Dixie" and "Has Anyone Seen Kelly?"

Rochester Red Wings added a few chords of their own, however, and outhummed Toronto Maple Leafs 14-10 to take a 1-0 lead in the best-of-seven International Baseball League final.

The music, played over the public address system in Toronto's Maple Leaf Stadium, was an obvious bronx cheer for Rochester manager Dixie Walker who, Toronto fans claim, cost Leafs the pennant.

Leafs, the defending champions, lost the pennant to Montreal Royals by half a game when the Royals won their last game Saturday. The schedule against Wings, Tepsic supporters claim, had Wings, the champion, runner-up for that title in 1953 and unquestionably the finest, most consistent golfer left in this mixed-up tournament.

The other semi-final brings together Hillman Robbins, Jr., of Memphis, Tenn., last year's intercollegiate champion, and William Hyndman III of Philadelphia, who has been recognized for years as a fine golfer who played only around home.

Ward, 1954 Canadian amateur champion, was an odds-on favorite now that all the other players of international stature have been removed.

After knocking out Robert Jordan of Greensboro, N.C., and young Jimmy McCoy of West Palm Beach, Fla., Thursday, Ward repeated an earlier statement that if he keeps on playing the same kind of golf, he stands a chance to win. That was a real understatement.

Bruising Pace Set by Leafs At Training Camp

ST. CATHARINES (CP)—Toronto Maple Leafs' hockey-training camp saw activity at a bruising pace Thursday as the players completed their second day of workouts.

Harry Cullen scored the only goal of the first day's scrimmage and Thursday the output was lifted to two goals by Bill Barilko, former Toronto Mariboro junior, and Parker MacDonald who played last year mostly with Pittsburgh Hornets.

No regular member of the Toronto club has yet scored a goal. Cullen scored Tuesday went against Harry Lumley and the only goalie now to register a clear record is Ed Chadwick. Cullen's goal the first day was scored on Gil Mayer.

The rugged Pittsburgh Hornet, making his second bid as a permanent Leaf, handed out at least five crushing body checks causing under the faces of general manager Hap Day and coach King Clancy.

King Clancy and Day also attended the Pittsburgh training camp in Niagara Falls Thursday but have made no statements yet regarding any shift in personnel between the two centres.

Frank Sargent, 'Mr. Amateur Hockey', Retires

PORT ARTHUR (CP) — Frank Sargent, Mr. Amateur Hockey to thousands of fans in this Thunder Bay region of northwestern Ontario, has ended an executive career that began here 27 years ago.

When he resigned from the Thunder Bay Amateur Hockey Association this week, Sargent, a portly bald, stocky man, made a formal farewell to a game which he says still could be one of the finest sports. He will continue to serve the THAHA in an advisory capacity and he will continue to watch hockey games, although he says he doesn't like the way the game is played today.

Sargent has served as an executive on the TBAHA and the parent Canadian Amateur Hockey Association. And, among other special groups, he was a member of the old CAHA negotiating committee.

In recognition of his 27 years service and his 20 years as a referee, Sargent was given a life membership. He was president of the TBAHA for four of the 27 years.

HONORED BY CAHA

Nine years ago he was honored in the same manner by the CAHA which he served for eight years, three of them as its leader.

Sargent, who moved to Port Arthur in 1928 from Winnipeg, hockey career in the east, says today's big-time brand of hockey is threatening the existence of the sport.

He has to go back a decade and more for his fondest recollections. Sargent played senior hockey in 1933-39 district senior finals between Port Arthur Bearcats and Geraldton Miners.

"You couldn't beat that series for all-round fast, clean competition," he says.

The best three amateurs he has seen are Robert Laprade and Hugh O'Leary, who both played with the Bearcats, and Mitt Schmidt, now coach of Boston Bruins of the National Hockey League.

Pike Has Team But no Ice

WINNIPEG (CP) — There was only one hitch as the Winnipeg Warriors of the Western Hockey League opened their 1955-56 training camp Thursday. There was no ice.

Eighteen players checked in with Art Pike at the new Williamson's headquarters in the reopened Olympic rink in the city's north end. Warriors will play their league games at the 12,000-000 Winnipeg Arena, now under construction.

Pike hopes to put his team on skates Saturday when ice will be available.

Ada Mackenzie Adds Another Title to Laurels

TORONTO (CP)—Ada Mackenzie, 58, of Toronto, added another title to her impressive collection of golf laurels Thursday.

Miss Mackenzie, who has five times won the Canadian women's Open, won the Canadian senior women's association's championship with a 36-hole total of -170, eight strokes better than her nearest rival, defending champion Mrs. H. W. Soper of Montreal.

Miss Mackenzie, who has also won the Canadian closed championship five times and the Ontario Open nine times, took the lead in the two-day tournament Wednesday by carding a nine-over-par 84.

Four Imperials On Injured List

SARNIA (CP)—Sarnia Imperials of the Ontario Rugby Football Union will face this weekend's football games with four men on the injured list.

They play University of Western Ontario Mustangs Saturday in London in an exhibition game. They meet Toronto Beach Sunday for a league game.

Owner--Trainer Groom Suspended Indefinitely

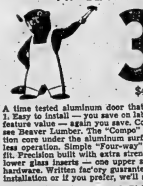
The ruling followed a temporary suspension Sept. 7 when an Ontario government analyst reported a positive urine test on the horse Dan Spirit.



Daring Spirit was claimed in $2,500 race by the triple A stable and the commission gave permission for it to race her.

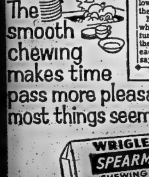
By CHARLES MERCER

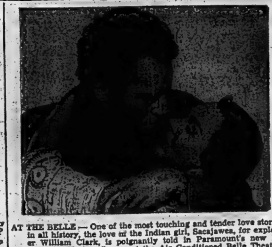
NEW YORK (AP)—These feats have given new life to a TV program that was on the skids a few months ago. I said nobody would ever go for the big and final $64,000 question.

Then Capt. Richard S. Mc-Cutchen of the Marines went for it question—and won. Never did a studied prophet bow more willingly to a courageous warrior. McCutchen displayed coolness, intelligence and modesty throughout his long ordeal, and if he isn't projected to major within two months I'm going to write my congressman.

I must confess that personally I'm a bit tired of the $64,000 question. But apparently nobody else so let's talk about it.

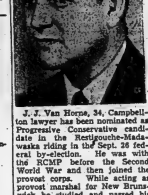


McCutchen has given this program new life at a critical stage in its history. He has ushered in what might call the "multi-million" phase." For when McCutchen said, "I belong to a very proud organization, and the answer is go," he was speaking for the Marine Corps.



It is to be expected that numerous institutions—as well as the people who run this program—will recognize the promotional value of having a representative on the program. After McCutchen any such "representative" will—to the audience—be speaking for his cause as much as for himself.

CLERGYMAN DUE



Word comes that a contestant who will soon be appearing is a Protestant clergyman who will answer questions on jazz. Theologically-liberal segments of Protestantism will root for him. Theologically-conservative segments will bemoan the fact he didn't choose the Bible—and will seek a clergyman to represent their interest. It would be logical to expect a Roman Catholic priest and Jewish rabbi to follow the Protestant clergyman on the program.

My latest tip is that the people who run this show are planning a further development in which all the big winners contest against each other. Details, this source says, are being worked out.

AT THE BELLE — One of the most touching and tender love stories in all history, the love of the Indian girl, Sacajawea, for explorer William Clark, is poignantly told in Paramount's new hit "The Far Horizons", now at the Air Conditioned Belle Theatre. Charlton Heston is cast as Clark and Donna Reed as the girl, with Fred MacMurray and Barbara Hale co-starred.

CANDIDATE

J. J. Van Horne, 34, Campbellton lawyer has been nominated as Progressive Conservative candidate in the Restigouche-Madawaska riding in the Sept. 26 federal by-election. Manitoba Down Two Games In Lacrosse Final

TORONTO (CP)—Manitoba all-stars were down 2-0 in games in the Canadian junior lacrosse final today but coach Jack Arendorf won't concede a thing to the rival Long Branch Monarchs yet.

Monarchs routed Manitoba 14-6 Thursday night to take a firm grip on the best-of-seven Minto Cup series in a game peppered with penalties.

"I still don't think my boys have reached their top form in this series," Arendorf said. "They know their backs are against the wall and the next game might be different."

But if All-Stars hope to win the Minto Cup they will have to stop the high-scoring Monarchs who have fired 25 goals against 11 for Manitoba in the two games.

Thursday night, Long Branch jumped into a 4-0 lead in the first eight minutes. For a time Manitoba threatened, scoring three goals in the first quarter and tying the score early in the second.

After that it was all Long Branch. Monarchs poured in five goals against one by Manitoba and led 9-5 at half time.

In the third quarter two Long Branch goals were counted and the winners outscored the western Canada champions 3-1 in the final stanza.

'How to be Very, Very Popular' Demonstrated

Continuing Today and Saturday at the Odeon McCarthy Theatre is the much-praised new Cinema-Scope comedy with songs, "How To Be Very, Very Popular," farce hit starring Betty Grable and Sheree North as a pair of burlesque cuties hiding out from a murderer at a staid old ivy-mantled college. There they run into co-stars Bob Cummings and Charles Coburn as over-age collegians and Charles Coburn as a faculty elder.

Filmed in color by De Luxe, the Twentieth Century-Fox film was written, directed and produced by Nunnally Johnson, and features newcomers Orson Bean, Alice Pearce and Charlotte Austin as well as veterans Fred Clark, Rhys Williams and Andrew Tombes.

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

By SAM GORDON
The Kibitzer

Over their dead bodies will some opponents let your pals swap information without interference. It may make your task inconvenient and more difficult. But it certainly livens up the game.

What came out was the deal you see here:

NORTH
♦7 4 3
♣A J 10

WEST
♥A K 2 J 10
♦9 8 6
♣Q 9 7 5

EAST
♠J 9 8 4 3
♦K Q J 10
♣7 3 2

SOUTH
♦A K 10 2
♣K Q 8 6 5

The bidding went like this:

South	West	North	East
1♣	Pass	4 ♣ 1 No-trump	Pass
2♥	Pass	5♣	All pass

West tried to throw the full weight of his interference into the fray. But pretty refuses be intimidated and went right after slam information with the signal that asked about aces and kings.

Slam was not yet in sight when north took this plunge and he would have preferred to approach his goal more gradually. However, he decided to take the plunge at once when forced into it.

The five spade reply by south was Gordon convention for saying one ace and two kings. Using this information did north learn that the opponents had one ace and one king; probably both in west.

If south happened to have two hearts a small slam would take a dive fast. Considering this, north was inclined to try five notrump. But he decided to chance a small slam in clubs.

If west was sure the six club bid would make he would have taken a sacrifice at six hearts. There was, however, a good chance that the club small slam might be defeated and he let it go at that.

This is a frequent delicate situation in competitive bridge as played by the tough pairs. The big swings come from making a right guess as to whether a sacrifice or pass will profit you most.

Hard Work One of Secrets Of Success of Walt Disney

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—After completing his tour of Disneyland, Walt Disney headed back to his studio in Burbank.

As he drove, the producer talked earnestly about his many enterprises. These include everything from a full-length movie with ants as stars to a $30 book on animated drawing.

Disney laughed at reports that he was "rolling in dough" and that he merely ordered things done no matter what the cost.

"As a matter of fact," he remarked, "we have always been basically under - capitalized. Our business has always been on the move, always changing.

HAS TO SWITCH

"We had to switch from shorts to features or we would have died. When cartoon features became so extensive we had to diversify."

Cartoons have become so costly that he makes no more than half a dozen shorts a year,and he can produce only one cartoon feature at a time.

Disney can produce true-life adventures faster and at less cost, and these nature films have proved good moneymakers. Coming up are "The African Lion" and "Secrets of Life." The latter deals with the ant society, bee life, making of soil, pollinization, etc. He is also combining true-life adventure with fantasy in "Perry," a fictionalized story of a red squirrel.

LIVE ACTION

In the live-action field he is going to film "The Great Locomotive Chase" starring Fess Parker and Jeff Hunter. It's the story of an abortive attempt to end the Civil War.

Disney is more sold than ever on the value of television to sell movies. He cites his "Lady and the Tramp," a story the public learned of almost solely through TV. The result: "Lady" will earn them $5,000,000 in the United States alone.

At least three major studios have new TV series coming up this fall. All have been reported in trouble. Disney pondered these reports.

"Maybe they're being half-hearted about it," he observed. "They shouldn't be. TV can do things of good, like building new stars, which they need badly. I'm going into TV. I think it's the whole damn studio into it."

Disney returned to his studio and parked his car. He walked to his office at a fast pace, as though he wanted nothing better than to return to work. That is one of his secrets of success.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus) — A splendid day for reading, writing, reviewing plays, pictures, for music, promoting musicals and other healthy entertainment, for charity, hospitals, etc. Enjoy wholesome recreation.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini) — Ideal influences. Both work and play are sponsored. Try to better living conditions for the lonely, the ill, those less fortunate than yourself.

June 22 to July 22 (Cancer) — Your Moon and Mercury, well-positioned, favor changes whether your schedule calls for recreation, home duties or perhaps outside laborious work, study. Do not fret; do be happy, contented.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — Fine possibilities now for business or pleasure trips, for aiding social affairs to benefit others, for government projects. Heart interests should be for big share of stellar attention.

August 24 to September 23 — (Virgo) — All work and no play is not good for anyone. You will be more successful and have greater contentment and better health if you take regular periods for rest and relaxation.

September 24 to October 23 — (Libra) — Don't dwell on anything unpleasant. Start the day with enthusiasm and bright hopes for good returns. Enjoy healthy recreation, wholesome pastimes.

October 24 to November 22 — (Scorpio) — A responsive period for vigorous mental activities, especially in familiar lines. Benefits, spiritual and temporal, are to be had for good thoughts and deeds.

November 23 to December 22 — (Sagittarius) — You should be able to achieve as planned on this generous, inspiring day. It can be profitable for charity affairs, wholesome social activities, children's interests, and necessary work.

December 23 to January 21 — (Capricorn) — No unfriendly aspects and especially honored are the arts — writing, literature, music. Financial matters, sound investments may show gain. Be inwardly cheerful.

January 22 to February 20 — (Aquarius) — Mild but friendly rays in your sector. Sudden changes and decisions not advised. Be open-minded; you may be looking for just the advice offered today. This can be a very profitable period.

February 21 to March 20 — (Pisces) — Why not catch up with neglected correspondence or engage in a hobby during free time. Develop your talents. Good fun advocated.

You born today are artistic, genial, willing to listen as well as talk and are just, though at times too critical. However, you are as critical of yourself as of others. You are capable of achieving a great deal and could achieve recognition when well along in years. Curb any tendency to gamble and be clever enough of mind to accept progressive changes, new devices, etc. Cultivate the talents God gave you and use them properly. Seek contentment in prayer, good deeds.

AN ERA ENDS FOR BRITAIN'S NAVY

For the first time in modern naval history, Britain no longer has a sea-going commissioned battleship. Her last operational battleship, the 44,500-ton Vanguard, shown in drydock at Gibraltar last year, has been ordered placed in the "mothball" fleet. (Central Press Canadian).

There were many fine exhibits including work of the school children of this district.

Fine displays of fancy work, suitable for bazaars were exhibited by Melrose Women's Institute, Front Road and Shannonville Women's Association.

Delicious meals were served on the grounds by the ladies of Melrose United Church. The school parade which opened the fair was much enjoyed. Moscain School S. S. No. 4 won first place in the parade, Shannonville school, S. S. No. 1, won second place and S.S. No. 14 third place.

There were attractions for all attending and everyone had a good time.

Marysville

MARYSVILLE—Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Fahey and family of Toronto, spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Fahey.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bowler, Point Anne, spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Forestell.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Herman and family spent Saturday in Picton and while there attended the Picton fair.

Most of the community was present at the World's fair in Shannonville on Saturday.

ABOVE AND BEYOND THE CALL OF DUTY

Officers of the USS Edisto "expose" themselves to the icy waters of Foxe Basin, far north of Hudson Bay, while testing exposure suits. Approximately 123 ships are pushing beyond the Arctic Circle to supply and replenish important defense bases being operated jointly by Canada and the U.S. in the far north. The operations are being conducted by the U.S. military sea transportation service assigned to Arctic operations.

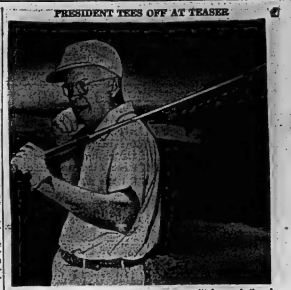
Carmel W.A. convened at the home of Mrs. Ernest Grills for their September meeting. Plans were made for their church supper on Wednesday evening, September 28.

Mr. and Mrs. Blake Sharpe and Bert, attended the funeral of Mr. Sd. Post at Masonic United church, on Monday, and the funeral of their cousin, Mr. Lorne Brough at Foxboro, on Thursday.



Mrs. Robert Merrick had the misfortune to cut her thumb on Friday necessitating three stitches.

Forty people from Moira Chapter attended a shower Friday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sharp at Springbrook Orange Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Sharpe and Ruth, recently entertained Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Shaw of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Mrs. Percy MacMullen and Mrs. Earl McMullen spent Thursday at Marmora at the home of Mrs. Sid Demorest.

PRESIDENT TEES OFF AT TEASER

President Eisenhower, definitely non-committal on whether he will seek a second term in 1956, shoulders his wood on his daily vacation round of golf at the Green Gables Country club in Denver, Col., after having just slammed an extra-long drive for 235 yards. Impressed by his partner's play, former Governor Dan Thornton remarked: "If's the Colorado air that gives him that strength; he could never do that in Washington. The pleased president replied: "Another reason for getting out, Dan." (Central Press Canadian).

Shannonville

SHANNONVILLE — The public schools re-opened with a large enrolment. Mrs. Hattie Rice is the new principal for Shannonville school with Mrs. Henderson as teacher for the junior room. Mrs. Jess Shetler is teacher of the Fountain School and Miss McConnell is teaching in Milltown school.

Shannonville United Church is being re-decorated and the Sunday evening services are being held in the Sunday School Hall until the church is ready.

Congratulations are extended to the newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Warren (nee Anita Brown), who were married in Holy Trinity Church, Shannonville, on Saturday, Sept. 10th, with Rev. L. A. Page as the officiating minister.

Peron Forces Recapture Two Key Bases

Say Casualties Will Be Higher Than June Revolt

Rebels Still Control Some Areas in Central Plains

BUENOS AIRES (CP)—Argentine government forces today claimed the complete surrender of rebel army and navy contingents at two key bases on the revolt.

The high command of government "repression forces" said all rebel army units at Curuzu Cuatia, in the northern province of Corrientes, had surrendered.

Rebel naval forces at Rio Santiago base, 40 miles from the capital, have also made a complete surrender, the official announcement said, adding that this confirmed a previous report.

Curuzu Cuatia is a rail junction and airport town 325 miles from Buenos Aires. An earlier announcement had said government forces had taken it and were in pursuit of the rebels.

BLOODY REBELLION

Forces loyal to President Juan Peron had struck back savagely today in a drive to put down the bloodiest rebellion of his nine-year reign.

The fighting erupted Friday on land, sea and in the air and swirled swiftly to scattered parts of the country.

After some 24 hours of seesaw action, the loyalist forces appeared this morning to have grabbed the upper hand. But it was still too early to forecast the outcome.

The revolt was launched by regrouped and augmented dissidents of the armed forces who touched off the unsuccessful attempt to overthrow Peron June 16.

Friday night the rebels claimed they were in control of much of south Argentina and strategic Cordoba province in the centre of the country, about 400 miles northwest of Buenos Aires.

TOLL HEAVY

There has been no accurate estimate so far of casualties in the bitter fighting, but the toll is expected to far outstrip the 300 to 400 dead and 1,000 wounded in the June 16 upheaval.

The rebels early today still claimed control of the central parts of Cordoba, the naval forces at sea, the big naval base of Puerta Belgrano, about 400 miles southwest of Buenos Aires.

Loyalist government troops were reported in action against rebel forces at Cordoba, the provincial capital and a city of 350,000 persons.

NAMED AFTER HIMSELF

CALGARY (CP)—Despite a last-minute petition opposing the move, the Calgary school board has named one of its new schools after an Indian chief who gained fame during the days when the West was just opening up. The school board Thursday upheld its original decision to call a school "Chief Crowfoot Elementary School," ending a controversy which lasted several months.

Baron Wants Above All to See Ireland United

DUBLIN (Reuters) — John J. Hanley, self - styled "Baron of Brookeway," who crossed the Irish "partition" line Thursday flourishing a cheque for $24,000,000 with which he offered to "buy" the six counties of Northern Ireland, was back in Dublin today—still holding his cheque.

The 67-year-old baron, who emigrated to New York when he was 18, found nobody in Belfast willing to sell. This was his second bid to end the problem of partition on a cash basis. In 1950 he offered $18,000,000.

In his native county Limerick his father was a laborer. But in New York James prospered. He got rich and fortune in the crash of 1929, but he claims he regained most of it.

Nobody knows if he has ever been seriously Thursday than they did five years ago. The cheque was all ready to be endorsed by the prime minister of Northern Ireland, Lord Brookeborough.

For all that, the baron had a disconcerting time. Ungrateful crowds surrounded his sleek car, painted in the colors of the Irish Republic. The republican tricolor on the hood was also unpopular — and police stepped in to save trouble breaking out.

2,078 Forest Fires Reported During Summer

TORONTO (CP)—Forestry officials said Friday 2,078 Ontario forest fires have been reported so far this year, 500 more than average.

Although the number is much higher than average, with a month to go in the fire season the acreage burned over has been kept down by fire fighters.

T. E. Mackey, chief of forest-protection service, said the fire-fighting organization this year is the greatest the province has ever had. About 4,000 acres have been burned over compared to the 1,-017,280 acres or 1,636 fires in 1948, worst on record.

"The reason for the burned-over area not having been far worse is the tremendous effort by department firefighters and other resources."

He mentioned RCAF, which supplied four Otter aircraft and two helicopters, the de Havilland Aircraft company, which supplied spare pilots, a civil defence mobile pumper, bulldozers from logging operators, commercial aircraft transport department special weather forecasts, the press and radio and Trans-Canada Air Lines.

Today's Chuckle

Replied her companion: "Wait till he takes her to the zoo.".

THE WEATHER

TORONTO, (CP) — Synopsis: A late summer heatwave which moved into southwestern Ontario Friday is spreading northeastward through the province and will last into next week. Temperatures will be close to the 90 mark, except in the north of the province where the 70s appear more likely.

HOCKEY'S HALL OF FAME FOUNDER DIES IN KINGSTON

Jim Sutherland, 85, Game's Great Booster

KINGSTON (CP) — Jim Sutherland, one - time travelling shoe salesman who fathered hockey's Hall of Fame, died Friday night at the age of 85. His dreams of seeing the hall get a permanent home were unfulfilled.

Big Jim, who for years collected and treasured material for the monument to Canada's hockey greats, died in Kingston home. Around him were scrolls reporting the histories of the 48 men elected to the hall since its inception.

Mr. Sutherland's last ambition when he fell into ill health two years ago was to have the stacks of hockey memorabilia and literature moved to a Hall-of-Fame building. Organization of hockey wasn't enthusiastic. The relics are still in Jim's bedroom.

His 83-year-old widow has been in hospital here the last two weeks. Other survivors are one son and one daughter.

It was 12 years ago that Mr. Sutherland visited baseball's Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N.Y., and decided that hockey needed a similar shrine. He had been selling shoes nearly 60 years when he created the memorial.

Elevated to the Hall of Fame were such greats as Georges Vesina, the toque-wearing goaltender from Montreal Canadiens; Hugh Gardner, Winnipeg-born goaltender with Chicago Black Hawks; Lester Patrick, Art Ross, Eddie Gerard, Bill Cook, Hobie Baker, Howie Morenz, Newsy Lalonde, Frank Nighbor and Aurel Joliat.

When Mr. Sutherland was elected to the hall in 1943 he was flabbergasted. "There must be a mistake," he exclaimed.

Liquor Board Will Review Ad Regulations

TORONTO (CP)—Ontario Liquor Control Board chairman W. H. Collings said Friday regulations governing advertisements by liquor concerns will be reviewed.

He said any recommendations will be made to Provincial Secretary Dunbar. At present beer and liquor companies may place educational advertisements in newspapers, periodicals and on radio and television. Direct advertising of beer and liquor is prohibited.

No Expropriation

TORONTO (CP)—Expropriation of a section of Woodbine race track in eastern Toronto is no longer considered necessary, Metro Council for road widening to relieve traffic congestion, it was reported Friday.

Expropriation of race track property was considered too costly. City Hall officials said the property may be expropriated at some future time if it is eventually handled by the new road routes being planned.

Separated Siamese Twin Enjoys Fourth Birthday With Its Parents

CHICAGO (AP)—Friday was the fourth birthday for Rodney Dee Brodie, the little boy who was born a head-joined Siamese twin.

It was a day Rodney nearly missed. Last May he was brought to the University of Illinois medical centre suffering from a deep brain hemorrhage which left him near death for several days.

But Friday he was all smiles as he blew out the candles on his birthday cakes, ice cream and toys. The party was celebrated by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Brodie, and Rodney's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brodie of Erris, without regaining consciousness.

Ill., and a four-year-old friend of Rodney's from the same hospital room were the guests.

Physicians said the boy is improving, but still is not fully recovered from the hemorrhage which nearly ended his life. He doesn't walk as well as before, but his conversation is bright.

On December 17th Rodney will have another anniversary. On this day he was fitted with two medical surgeon who performed the delicate operation which left him his own birthday.

Lawyer Calls Newspaperman Blackmailer at Police Probe

VANCOUVER (CP)—Lawyer T. G. Norris, aiming his accusations at a reporter for a Toronto tabloid, charged Friday that a "cloud of intimidation and blackmail" hangs over the royal commission investigation of the Vancouver police department.

He said an attempt had been made to use mental illness in his family as a club over his head and asked:

"Who knows what witnesses have already been intimidated in respect of their evidence before this inquiry? Who knows what witness are now being intimidated in respect of their evidence to be given before this inquiry?"

Mr. Norris is former counsel for police chief Walter Mulligan. He named the reporter as Ray Munro, west coast representative of the Toronto weekly tabloid Flash.

In an exchange during which Mr. Norris described Mr. Munro as a "cowardly cur," the reporter refused to say on oath that he might incriminate him, whether he wrote an item which appeared in the tabloid under his name.

Commissioner R. H. Tupper ordered a transcript prepared demanding that Mr. Munro appear before him to show cause why he should not be cited for contempt of the commission.

Friday was the stormiest of the 26 days the commission has sat. Among the charges it is investigating is that chief Mulligan and other high officers received payoffs from the underworld.

Sitting opened with Mr. Norris, who withdrew as Mr. Mulligan's counsel last week, asking to be heard and reading from the Sept. 3 issue of Flash:

"There is a bullish lawyer with a large mouth who's been talking too much under the influence of spirits in front of members of his business club about people's private lives. This man has no room to talk about other people's personal problems, because a member of his own family was figured mentally unsound in the recent past. For every nail this alleged gentleman drives into the coffin of innocent men, this reporter will drive one in his, through the medium of this publication, unless names spared. "Fair?"

The item was published in the column "Vancouver Merry-Go-Round" under the byline of Ray Munro.

Newspaper Finds Poverty, Starvation Lot of Indians

EDMONTON (CP)—Chronic poverty, virtual starvation, disease and squalor are the lot of the northern Alberta Indians, The Journal says in the first of a series of articles about Indians in the Fort Vermilion district, 300 miles north of Edmonton.

"For many, death is merciful release from the misery of life," writes staff reporter Jack Deakin, who The Journal says made a tour of the area to investigate reports of deplorable conditions among northern Indians.

"The Indians have the choice of remaining on unproductive reservations of the district or wandering thousand of miles in search of territory, once rich hunting grounds and now made virtually barren by the advance of "civilization," the story says.

"In hopeless apathy, born of constant destitution, the Indians huddle in the cold summer, in the meagre shelter of overcrowded log shacks or in tents where maggot-ridden food and lack of simple necessities help in shocking process by which one generation after another is reduced to the ultimate in degradation."

The story says the northern Alberta Indian has been pushed back to reservations and almost complete isolation. "There are no large populations around them and few jobs for white and his family living a life of despair. Instead of Indians are pitiful, forgotten in their ignorance and suffering."

Because they live in such isolation, the paper says, little action is taken. "The federal government, apparently, is as apathetic as the Indians themselves."

The "customary government red tape in administration" is a constant stumbling block, the paper says. Tremendous tasks are imposed on Indian agents and "there is a danger officials may become apathetic, feeling it is impossible to do a good job under such conditions . . .

"The state of utter inertia, apparently prevalent throughout the administration of the federal department of Indian affairs in Ottawa, has choked the efforts of even the most zealous officials in the field."

Deakin describes as "heart-rending" the state of little children around the bay, "their bellies full, hospital. He says:

"They come from the reservations, their bodies shrunken from the lack of food and riddled with sores. They are listless. Their faces vacant, where happy smiles should be. They have their share of food of the hospital replace the spark of life in their eyes.

". . . After the dwindling life in their bodies is restored they must leave the hospital and go back to the reserves, back to a life of bare existence and so again become victims of the forces of privation that first delivered them to hospital.

"That is the fate of the northern Indian child."

Truck Driver Convicted Under Revised Statute

TORONTO (CP)—A 29-year-old truck driver Friday was convicted on a charge of criminal negligence causing death.

Alexander Malecky was remanded to Sept. 30 for sentence when convicted on charges arising from an accident last June 18 when his truck crashed into a passenger car, killing Mrs. Jessie Hamilton and Eagleson and his sister Ettie were killed in the crash.

Malecky's conviction was the first in Toronto under a revised statute of the Criminal Code. Original law divided criminal negligence into two parts—manslaughter and dangerous driving.

Under the revised code there is only one offence—criminal negligence—and it calls for a guilty-or-not-guilty verdict.

Defence counsel William Murphy said Malecky had been negligent in his driving but not to the degree necessary for conviction under the new section.

Statue Found Gracing Lawn Of Fraternity House

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)— Two years ago a college fraternity group "borrowed" a 900-pound, seven - foot - high sandstone statue of Hon. The owner recovered it this week, and one of the pranksters explained. "We didn't think it would be missed."

The statue was found gracing the lawn of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity house here at Ohio Wesleyan University. Its owner, Sidney Fishman, had stalked the big cat for two years.

Learning of the eager search for Lon, the college boys decided to bring him back. They also presented a letter of apology.

REVEALS SPEED

WASHINGTON (AP)—The navy disclosed Friday its tiny new Skyhawk, capable of lifting an atomic bomb from a flight deck, has a speed "well in excess" of 630 miles an hour.

TWO AMERICANS ARE RELEASED BY CHINESE REDS

Civilian Prisoner, Bishop Cross Border

By DAVID J. ROADS

HONG KONG (AP)—Continuing their slow-motion turnover of 39 American civilians they had promised to release at once, the Chinese Communists sent a third man across the border to freedom today.

He was Lawrence Buol, 34, who arrived at the frontier after almost six years of imprisonment.

The Reds also released an ailing Italian Roman Catholic bishop who said he had been a prisoner in Communist China since 1951.

The U.S. consulate general's office for the American-owned Chinese civil air transport was in high spirits. Its two remaining American and British officials that his years of confinement had not been too rough 'physically, but "morally I was treated badly."

HAPPIEST DAY

He sent a telegram to his family hailing his release as the "happiest day of my life."

His wife, Sue, raced into Buol's arms with tears in her eyes.

"Mrs. Buol, who is Gen. Claire Chennault's secretary at civil air transport headquarters at Formosa, had doggedly sought her husband's release since he was captured.

Only a year she flew to Geneva to intercede personally with Red China's Premier Chou En-lai.

Reporters asked Buol about the Communist charges of territorial intrusion which had kept him in prison. He said he was tried only last Sunday at Chungking—after his release had been announced in Geneva. Asked if he "confessed," Buol replied:

"Yes, I had to write a confession. They told me it was the only means of my release."

PRIEST WEAK

Happily chewing gum, Buol wore a sports shirt and faded knee pants. He said he had lost about 20 pounds during his ordeal, but looked fairly fit.

Accompanied by the Italian prelate, identified as Bishop Alphonse Ferroni, was so weak he had to be carried aboard the plane.

"I can't believe how any person in his right mind should want to go back there," he said, motioning in the direction of Red China.

RIVERA CHEERED

MOSCOW (AP)—Mrs. Diego Rivera said Friday Soviet doctors have told her husband, the Mexican artist, that the cancer from which he is suffering is not as bad as they had been led to believe. "This good news has cheered him up," she said. Rivera, 69, will remain in hospital here at least a month for treatment of cancer of the skin.

Toronto Parents Escape When Car Drops Into Lake

Carroll Family Was On Way to Hall's Lake

MINDEN, Ont. (CP)—Four children and an adult drowned Friday night when a car plunged from a side road into Hall's lake, eight miles north of here. Minden is 55 miles northeast of Peterborough.

The children were those of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Carroll, the only two survivors to escape. Their rented 1954 station wagon sank in the lake after it struck a curve.

The dead children: Gloria Carroll, 13; Cheryl, 9; Jewel, 8, and Jimmy, 6.

SEEKING JOB

Mr. Carroll, a laborer, had sold his Toronto belongings only Friday and was going to Minden to look for a job.

Mr. Shannon, on the other hand, had just obtained a job in Toronto and was en route to Minden to pick up his car.

Friends of the Carrolls said they recently had been plagued by hard luck.

Provincial police from Minden started a search Friday night for the bodies, picked up early at 3 a. m. By then they had recovered the car, which contained Gloria Carroll's body.

Dragging operations, resumed at 7 a. m., recovered the other bodies.

The Carrolls were on their way to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Packer at Hall's lake to leave the children there. Mrs. Packer is Mrs. Carroll's brother. The group was within a mile of its destination when the accident occurred.

ALWAYS UNLUCKY

Shannon was going to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Shannon, with whom he had left his car.

Mrs. Packer said today:

"They've always had tough luck, never a good break in all the time I've known them.

"They were going to try to get started again. And then this terrible thing had to happen."

Mrs. Packer said the back of the station-wagon was loaded with all the Carroll's belongings. As the car went down the hill about a hundred yards from the highway, it left the road, struck a tree, then the water's edge, "the weight at the back caused the front wheels to go under."

"Don, who was driving, tried to straighten the car out.

"But the car skidded right across the road, out of control, and made two trips down the bank into the lake. It was still going when it hit the water, and went about 200 feet from shore."

When the car hit the water, Mr. Carroll told police, he rolled down a window and pulled his wife and almost out after him. They had to as they had been led to believe. "This good news has cheered him up," she said. Rivera, 69, will remain in hospital here at least a month for treatment of cancer of the skin.

Loss of Prince Albert Packing Plant Heavy Blow to Employers

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. (CP)— Fire which tore at the huge Burns and Co. Ltd. packing plant here in million-dollar bites began exacting a new toll today in salary losses for the workmen whose jobs it destroyed.

Building loss alone in the fire that crippled what is the largest single industry in this northwestern Saskatchewan city was estimated, by a company official at $2,000,000.

The fire got under way today more than 24 hours after flaring on the three-acre plant site but most of the damage was done.

Mayor D. G. Stewart placed in the "emergency category" the problem of finding substitute work at least temporarily for the 350 employees burned out of their jobs.

George Freeman of Calgary, the company's general superintendent, said his building-loss estimate does not include the loss of machinery or equipment he take in at $1,500,000 addition that was under construction.

The fire started in the plant's sausage building, a two-storey building, the main office building and the new addition were reduced to blackened ruins.

Witnesses said the flames shot through the roof of the sausage building in a matter of minutes.

A watchman found the blaze at about 6 a. m. and workers escaped safely. Many of them helped fight the fire which was out of control when it reached some of the hundreds of smokeries.

City officials estimated that 1,000,000 gallons of water, about two-fifths of a day's normal usage, were poured on the fire Friday.

The livestock building, a meat storage plant, feed storage building and creamery were saved and it is believed all cattle escaped the flames.

No residences are located in the immediate area.

Refuses to Levy Jail Sentences

LINDSAY (CP)—Magistrate L. Moore Friday called an incident involving three persons and a police officer a "drunken brawl" and refused to levy jail sentences.

He assessed fines on Bert Gaines of Roberta Conboro, clerk of Minden, and Edward Phillips of Bobcaygeon for the incident which occurred in Minden, Sept. 10.

Evidence was that a policeman found Gaines and Phillips fighting and charged him with speeding. When the other two started to interfere the officer struck Gaines.

Gainor was fined $15 and $18.50 for obstructing police. Miss Conrane was fined $10 and $5.50 costs for carrying a disturbance while Phillips was fined $35 and $32 costs on charges of obstructing police and being intoxicated.

SUES FOR DIVORCE

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)— Composer Hoagy Carmichael was sued for divorce Friday by his wife of more than 19 years. Mrs. Ruth Carmichael, in her brief complaint filed at Los Angeles, alleged "extreme mental cruelty" but gave no details.

from the car roof, where his father had placed him. Mr. Carroll was trying to get his family to safety.

"I just couldn't help him," she cried.

The Carroll's have two other children, Melville, 15, with a grandmother near Haliburton, and Patrice, 13, at Toronto's Home for Incurable Children.

When the Carrolls got to shore cottagers attracted by the screams wrapped them in blankets and notified the Packers. "But by that time was on the scene quick enough to try to rescue the others in the car," said Mrs. Packer.

VERY GENEROUS

In Toronto Roger Evans, landlord of the Carroll's downhill flat said:

"He would do things on the spur of the moment, like moving out of way he did yesterday. He did things like that. He would take a notion to buy some of the furniture—the washing machine I have for odds and ends—to rent a station wagon, things like that.

"He was one of the most generous guys in the world. Yesterday after he had made arrangements to get what he wanted, he gave the rest to the Crippled Civilians and the Salvation Army.

"My wife said she would have bought a bed from him, but he just looked at her as if she suggested something awful. Mr. Carroll had worked at the early summer as a construction worker with the Consumers' Gas Co.

Len, Mrs. Taylor Honored By Tweed Veterans

Tweed branch of the Canadian Legion last night took official farewell of one of its most active members.

Deputy district commander Len Taylor and Mrs. Taylor, formerly of Tweed and now resident in Belleville, were the recipients of tokens of appreciation on behalf of the Legion branch and its women's auxiliary.

Presented to Mr. Taylor was a leather briefcase, while Mrs. Taylor received a huge bouquet.

Mr. Taylor was twice president and once secretary-treasurer of the branch during his years of membership there. Mr. Taylor left Tweed some time ago when he was appointed shop manager of the Ontario Intelligencer job printing department.

Junior Farmers Complete Plans For 'At Home'

Plans for the annual at home and dance for Hastings County Junior Farmers were discussed at an executive meeting of the County Junior Farmers' Association held in Stirling this week. The dance will be held at Stirling Community Hall.

Also discussed at the executive meeting were plans for the public speaking, debating and group singing competition to be held at Stirling. An added feature of the competition this year will be a choir concert. Winners of the competition will compete for provincial honors during the Junior Farmer Conference to be held at Toronto on January 7th.

Pictures to be used in the Association's annual year book were taken at the meeting.

Legion Branch Members Mark Battle of Britain Anniversary

The Canadian Legion here last night quietly marked the anniversary of one of the most loudly-hailed battles of all time—the Battle of Britain.

The 15-year-old airfight, which lasted continuously for nearly four months in the skies of England before turning the tide of ultimate battle was commemorated at a banquet here by Legion, civic and airforce officials.

Highlight of the event was an address by Squadron Leader J. D. Swerdfager, Toronto RCAF base, on the momentous battle itself. In the course of his speech the squadron leader introduced an echo of Britain's Darkest Hour with a recording of part of Churchill's momentous broadcast: "Never was so much owed by so many to so few."

It was Flt. Lt. Swerdfager set out to prove why Churchill ever had reason to utter that vibrant phrase. Armed with dates and data he had taken from the British in first-hand to tell his story.

The blitz of Britain, Hitler's overture to the curtain on the invasion of the island, was divided into four phases, he pointed out: (1 Destruction of the ship's and the ports; (2) annihilation of the RAF and its bases; (3) bombing of London, centre of the Allied war effort and, (4) mopping-up operations.

Then came the time when the people of Britain looked up and cheered their boiling, heavy, fearful distant tat-tat-tat and a distant sound of engines," said S/L Swerdfager.

The Luftwaffe plan progressed through its phases but almost from the start it suffered bitter losses at the hands of the RAF.

GOERING'S FIRST MISTAKE

Bombing of the ports and shipping was carried out in daylight and attempted destruction of the defending RAF. Suddenly on September 4 the Luftwaffe swung into its third phase of the plan and went to London.

"Here was Goering's first mistake.

"If he had pressed home his attack against the RAF things might have been different, said S/L Swerdfager.

It was a big indiscriminate bombing of the mighty city for the blitzing of airfields drew the Luftwaffe farther inland and thus made them more vulnerable. However, the attempt to batter the city into a demoralized state continued despite increasing losses.

A new threat was added the fearful blitz to the city's citizens when the Luftwaffe on September 11 started dropping time bombs.

Then came September 15—"and that, gentlemen is why we are celebrating the Battle of Britain at this moment," said the squadron leader.

On the morning of that day the RAF fought and won the final fight that turned the tide. Over 500 bombers and fighters—everything the Luftwaffe had—was thrown into the battle to finish the defences of Britain on that day. When it was over, sitter 200 dogfights had been fought in a half-hour, the attackers turned for home, with an estimated one-third of their aircraft down.

Intense air attacks followed with a switch from heavy to lighter bombers. A terrible new phase was entered on October 5 when the Luftwaffe began dropping incendiary bombs. The tremendous incendiary attacks were to continue up through the Christmas festival, but the threat of invasion was banished.

Not only was it a deterrent to Hitler but it showed a vastly outnumbered people and air force could to pound a city and also exhibited the importance of the fighter plans.

The German error in the Battle, according to the squadron leader, was that the Luftwaffe did not assess the true strength RAF.

"If they had pressed home their attack on the airfields the RAF things might have been different. But no. They switched to London."

As for the Battle itself—"we," said S/L Swerdfager, "cannot forget. We dare not forget."

He was introduced by former warrant officer of the Battle of Britain, John Silver and thanked by Legionaire Bill Hancock.

Also present at the banquet was Lt.-Col. Everett Fairman, commanding officer of the Hastings and Prince Edward regiment; Scotty Broughton, Legion district commander; Len Taylor, deputy-district commander and Ald. Bram Humphrey.

Chairman of the meeting was Lloyd Monteith. The toast was proposed by Major Angus Duffy.

Obituary

EDWARD SCOTT SMITH
(R. R. 3 Carrying Place)

Stricken with a heart attack as he went to the orchard to pick apples, Edward Scott Smith, 68, Carrying Place district farmer and market gardener, died suddenly at his farm on Friday. He was in his 65th year.

Born in Renfrew county, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, he had farmed in the Carrying Place area for the past 40 years and prior to then had been on the staff at the farm of the Ontario School for the Deaf at Belleville. He was a regular attendant on the Belleville market. He was a member of Albury United Church.

He is survived by his wife, the former Grace Carter, and one daughter, Mrs. Harold Wannamaker (Frances Lillian) of Winnipeg and three grandchildren. One sister, Mrs. Maggie MacAnulty of Saskatoon, and two brothers, George of Lanark and James of Ottawa, also survive.

MISS CAROLYN J. FOX

It will be with profound regret that many friends in this community will learn of the death of Miss Carolyn Jean Fox, twin daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman G. Fox, which occurred at Cherrywood Lodge, Trenton, on Tuesday, Miss Fox was born in Picton on the 16th year, she was born in Picton and had resided in St. Catharines for four years and was a student at the Collegiate Institute. In religion, she was a member of the Anglican Church.

She is survived by her parents, twin sister, Gwenyth Louise, at home, and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brown of St. Catharines.

Funeral services were held on Thursday afternoon at the Butler Funeral Home, Rev. E. Brillinger officiating. Interment taking place in Victoria Lawn Cemetery, St. Catharines.

Herd of Cows Gets Intoxicated On Apple Diet

Over-indulgence of his herd of milking cows in a wild apple orchard overlooking Bellefonte valley for Harry Sherry of the Thomasburg area.

Apparently effected by the fermented apples the cows began to stagger on their way home to be milked.

One decided to "sleep it off" in the orchard another toppled over as it entered the stable door and the harassed farmer had to remove the door to get the balance of the herd out of the stable following inside.

The morning after, none of the cows suffered any ill effects.

But Mr. Sherry was affected financially in that his milk was rejected at the factory for the next two days.

Picture of Panties Distresses Officials

LONDON (Reuters) — London subway officials have blacked out the back panties of a can-can dancer currently adorning posters in subway stations here.

The attractive spread of white space representing the panties had become a bulletin board for all sorts of scrawled slogans and suggestions.

Eggs Prices Up To 75 cts. Doz. On Local Market

Eggs were higher again on the local market this morning.

Extra large were 75 cents a dozen, large 70 cents, mediums 58 cents and pullets 55 cents.

Elsewhere on the market prices were mostly unchanged with the exception of tomatoes, now nearing the end of their season, moved between 40 and 60 cents a six-quart basket. Some full-blossomed cauliflowers were selling well with prices from 15 cents to 50 cents a head. Cabbage continued at 10-15 cents. Lettuce was 15 cents as was Chinese lettuce, while onions continued to be ready at 75 cents for a basket for Spanish onions and 15 cents per bunch for green. Beets unchanged selling from 10 cents apiece for pepper squash up to 50 cents for the largest Hubbard offering. Broccoli was 15 cents a bunch while small-sized beans sold up to 75 cents basket. Radishes were five cents a bunch and carrots after radishes 10 cents a bunch. Turnips were 10 cents each, two for 15 cents. Cucumbers generally continued to hold to five cents each for slicers and three cents each for dills and $1.50 for gherkins. Celery was 10-20 cents.

Peaches continued a heavy, though popular, offering, at 65-75 cents a six-quart basket, $1.10 an 11-quart basket. Prunes continued at 60 cents while Burbanks plums were 60 cents a basket and Rene Claude plums 75 cents. Canta-loupes were 75-35 cents each and watermelons brought up to $1 for the larger sizes. Grapes were 50 cents a basket and pears from 75 cents to $1 for Flemish Beauty. Grapes continued at 60 cents for white grapes and 65 cents for blue grapes. Generally, apples are the basic offering of the local market this time of year with McIntosh bringing 50 cents a basket, $2 a bushel, St. Lawrence 60 cents, Cortland $2 a bushel and Crimson Golden 40 cents a basket.

BATAWA, (Special) — A brilliant beacon that lighted up the sky and could be seen burning for ten miles signalled a new era of progress and prosperity for this 16-year-old village last night. The occasion was the official ceremony marking the third phase of home building since the world-wide show manufacturers located on an 1,800 acre site five miles north of Trenton in 1939. The giant fire was lighted by five men who contributed most to make the present sub-division possible. Tom Bata, president of the universal organization; Senator W. A. Fraser, Hon. W. A. Goodfellow, Kenneth Love, Ralph Goodfellow and Ali-with torch in hand, shared the honour of lighting the symbol of future development and growth for this thriving community.

In his remarks the Hon. W. A. Goodfellow noted that Batawa, was one of the 212 communities in Ontario that in 1934 proved more than seven per cent growth and thus was entitled to additional grants. Several had 20 to 45 per cent increase he revealed illustrating the tremendous expansion the province is having. He noted that 12 new communities with populations of between 1,- and 2,000 have been born and established in Ontario this year.

The Minister of Agriculture affairs said Canadians are the most fortunate people in the world and he was glad to see native-born Canadians sharing with new people who will help bring progress to the district. It is a pleasure to be here tonight and bring the warm greetings from the Province of Ontario, he remarked.

MONUMENT TO SENATOR

W. W. Parry, Q.C., one of the principals in the Bata organization of Canada declared that the establishment of the community was a direct monument to Senator W. A. Fraser, who befriended Tom Bata and his associates when the Batas moved to Canada from Czechoslovakia in 1939. Interests were against a shoe manufacturing factuturer establishing in Canada, he explained, but Tom Bata had one friend in Sir Edward Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, who threw his weight into discussions enabling Mr. Bata to bring a group of his employees here. Mr. Parry introduced guest speaker Senator Fraser.

Senator Fraser remarked that he was against a habit to take part in the ceremony and that from past associations he felt he was part and parcel of the Bata family. The Senator paid tribute to Tom Bata, Sr. and Jr. for the opportunity for you to see the results of your labor?" he asked, pointing out that Canada had given many hours and sacrificed domestic life to make success of the organization." The Senator insisted that the progress of Canada depends absolutely on industry.

Senator Fraser gave an example of his confidence in Bill, pointing to the Minister of Municipal Affairs, and I are farmers. We had good crops a-plenty but when we are finished we have developed nothing."

The Senator maintained that natural resources were developed by industry and provided new wealth.

FRASER NAMED VILLAGE

Reminiscing about the early days in the Bata organization Senator Fraser recalled an instance when he was talking with Tom Bata in a hotel room in Ottawa. "What are we going to name our new town?" Tom asked. I suggested joining the names Bata and Ottawa and Tom agreed.

On behalf of all members of the Bata organization president Tom Bata thanked the speakers for all their kind words. He reviewed the growth of the village since it started. He said he believed that those persons owning private residences in the new project will be able to point to them with pride. "Let us join together to light the beacon," declared Mr. Bata, concluding his remarks before the development was given an exciting send-off.

Family Loses Third Son in Accident

CORNWALL (CP) — Run over by a truck, Lee Riley, six-year-old Cornwall boy, was killed instantly Friday. It was the third traffic death in the family of Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn Riley within six years. Two other young sons of the couple were killed in similar accidents.

PROMINENT JUDGE DIES

NOTTINGHAM, England (Reuters)—Judge Thomas Mercer Beckhouse, who achieved fame in 1948 when he conducted the prosecution case in the Belsen-Auschwitz war-crime trials, died Friday. He was 52. He served with the judge advocate's branch during the war. He was mentioned in dispatches and became officer in charge of the war-crimes section of the British Army of the Rhine.

IN MEMORIAM

FOX. — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, who passed away September 17th, 1950.
Times speed on, five years have flown,
Since death its pinions o'er us threw
And took from us a shining light.
We miss that light, and ever will,
But God in His wisdom has willed it still.
Down here we mourn, but not in vain,
For up in Heaven we'll meet again.
—Sadly missed and remembered by his wife Gladys Fox, daughters Sylvia and family.

BENNETT. — In loving memory of a dear husband, Fred E. Bennett, who passed away September 17th, 1954.
At twilight when evenside draws near,
The sunset flames the sky,
I think of you dear Harry,
And the happy days gone by.
Thoughts of you come drifting back,
When I'm sitting all alone,
In memory I see you clearly,
In the twilight ends the day.
In my heart you will always stay,
Always tender, fond and true;
There is no day dear Harry,
I do not think of you.
—Sadly missed and remembered by mother, Charlie and Irene and family.

I'm Sorry

BY NANCY CLEAVER

"I'm very sorry, lady, but I need your money," said a gunman not long the clerk in a dry cleaning store, as he removed eighteen dollars from the till.

Politeness does not excuse thieving, but Mrs. Souter, the clerk in charge of the store, was almost as much surprised at the bandit's soft-spoken polite remark as she was at the appearance of his nickel-plated revolver!

"I'm sorry!" Why is it so seldom that this phrase is heard? Why, is it so hard to say? Think back over the last year—or the last month. How many times has someone expressed this regret to you? How often have you said these simple words to someone else?

Unfortunately many adults pride themselves on never apologizing to anyone! Can they really believe that they never make any mistakes? Can they imagine that they never cause others embarrassment or annoyance?

"I'm sorry!" just isn't in their vocabulary. They seem to conclude that offering an apology is a disgrace, a meaning sort of thing to do—"I'm not going to 'crawl' before anyone, asking his pardon!" they boast.

There are other people who have suffered under the foolish apology-or at the first of an address which many unexperienced speakers use. They are so critical about the value and the sincerity of many regrets which are expressed in the glib and take between people. A so-called "self-made man" often used this quotation. Here's one's good advice: never offer an apology. Your friends don't need one and your enemies won't believe you."

Strange-or enough, the very parents who will not say "I'm sorry!" sometimes attempt to train their children to express sorrow when they harm or offend each other. Bill puts out his foot and trips his little brother, Tim. When Tim runs to mother with his eyes streaming and a bump on his forehead, mother chases Bill till she finds him. Then she stands over him until he's told Tim he's sorry. Helen has been teasing her older sister and calling 'her "Fatty!" Father indignantly sends Helen to her room. "Say there until you are sorry for the mean way you are behaving!" he calls after her.

Some mothers claim that there is no point in making a child say "I'm sorry!" if he doesn't feel sorry. They are convinced that to do this is just training a youngster in hypocrisy. Other believe that when a child acts in a thoughtless, unkind way, to make him say "I'm sorry!" impresses on him that his behavior is undesirable.

Whatever your opinion on this is, it is important that both you and your child realize that everyone commits blunders which hurt other people. When this happens it is only courteous to say, "I'm sorry!" —and mean it! To fail to express regret is to act in a very immature, boorish way. In our own homes, and among our own acquaintances, let's show our children that when we see we have blundered, we can have the grace to say, "I'm sorry!"

Those two little words, spoken sincerely, can work magic! A strained relationship can be restored to normal. Understanding and harmony can return. If you doubt the value of apologizing, forget your pride next time you are in the wrong and say, "I'm sorry!"

Even if this is received with coldness or hostility, you will have done your part. It's worth a trial, don't you think?

FOXBORO LADIES' GUILD

Mrs. W. R. Bartlett entertained on Wednesday, the Presbyterian Ladies' Guild and W.M.S. of Foxboro. Miss Watt, guild president, presided, and chose as her topics "Where love is, humility and modesty make the character."

The devotionals were taken by Miss Watt, Mrs. Buskard and Ruby, with Mrs. Earl Ketcheson at the piano playing quiet music.

A paper "Questions and Comments", was given by Miss Watt on "If Christ Should Come Today —How Would We Receive Him, in our Home, Church and Community."

Mrs. Johnston favored with a lovely solo, playing her own accompaniment on the guitar. Miss Bell read a paper on "Modesty, and Humility."

Treasurer's reports were received.

Readings, by Mrs. Bartlett, Mrs. Johnston and Mrs. Buskard were enjoyed.

Offering amount to $3.70.

Mrs. Chappelle invited the ladies to her home for the October meeting. The hostess served refreshments and a social time followed.

Thanks were tendered Mrs. Bartlett for her fine hospitality.

Bulletins From Birdland

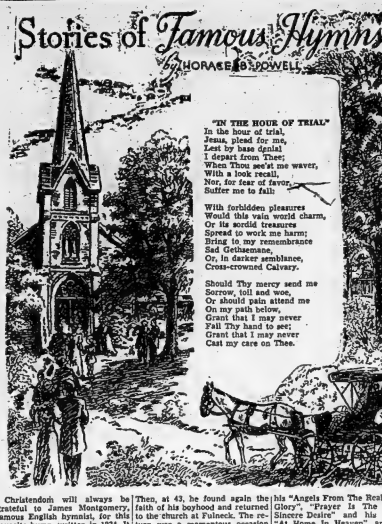
A RETIRING DISPOSITION

Believe it or not, Savannah sparrows are really quite common over all Canada east of the Rockies, right up into the Artic. Their combination of an inconspicuous costume and a retiring disposition is responsible for our disbelief in their numbers. In September, one mile stretch of grassy shore along the St. Lawrence River yearly attracts two or three, hundred. Though active, they spend most of their time on the ground and, unless almost stepped on, do not rise at anybody's approach. But the truth is that they are seldom likely to have intruders either when nesting or later on, for they choose low, moist areas, where tall, rank grass grows near water. They can be found on the edge of marshes, whether fresh or salt, and are especially fond of spruce bogs.

To match grassy surroundings, this 5¾-inch brown sparrow is streaked both above and below and wears a light stripe through its crown and a yellow one over its eyes. Its short, slightly forked tail is camouflaged by pale outer feathers.

Built in a shallow depression amidst dense vegetation, the nest of coarse grass and plant stems is lined with finer grass. Even the 4 or 5 pale green eggs are well camouflaged, for they are very heavily marked with reddish brown.

Although in spring and early summer the Savannah is an inveterate singer, its unusually high voice is barely audible. Beginning with three identical, lisping notes, never heard unless we are very close, the song goes on to two long, buzzy notes, the second one dropping in pitch. These two are more often heard, because they are far-carrying. The slight sameness of it is seldom seen because, although he sits on the highest possible perch for the performance, it is generally hurried by a weed stalk, or more rarely a bush.



Young birds are not as sharply streaked, the line over the eye is missing and their heads and necks are somewhat buffy. By autumn, the parents have changed and resemble their own children.

The Savannahs procuring food is fairly simple, for they live onground insects and weeds and grass seeds are by which they are surrounded. Although they run when evading danger, they hop after insects.

It seems strange that so little is known of these birds, when they spend such a long time in Canada, generally arriving early in April and not leaving until well on in October.

Stories of Famous Hymns

by HORACE L. POWELL

Christendom will always be grateful to James Montgomery, famous English hymnist, for this favorite hymn, written in 1834. It first appeared under the title, "In Trial And Temptation".

Born at Irvine, Ayrshire, Scotland, in 1771, Montgomery grew up under influences deeply religious. His father was a Moravian minister and James made a public profession of faith and joined a church during his student days at Fulneck, England.

In later years, however, he drifted away from his religious moorings and for a long period his soul was filled with dissatisfaction and spiritual doubtings.

Then, at 43, he found again his faith of his boyhood and returned to the church at Fulneck. The return was a momentous occasion in his life and he put his emotions into words in the poem:

"People of the living God,
I have sought the world around,
Paths of sin and sorrow trod,
Peace and comfort nowhere found.
Now to you my spirit turns -
Turns a captive unbidest;
Brethren, where your altar burns,
O receive me into rest."

There are other impressive hymns in the Montgomery list;

"IN THE HOUR OF TRIAL"

In the hour or trial,
Jesus, plead for me,
Lest by base denial
I depart from Thee;
When Thou see'st me waver,
With a look recall,
Nor, for fear of favor,
Suffer me to fall.

With forbidden pleasures
Would this vain world charm,
Or its sordid treasures
Spread to work me harm;
Bring to my remembrance
Sad Gethsemane,
Or, in darker semblance,
Cross-crowned Calvary.

Should Thy mercy send me
Sorrow, toil and woe,
Or should pain attend me
On my path below,
Grant that I may never
Fail Thy hand to see;
Grant that I may never
Cast my care on Thee.

Then, as a hymn of faith, "Angels From The Realms Of Glory", "Prayer Is The Soul's Sincere Desire" and his hymn, "At Home In Heaven", are still in general use. The last hymn cited, considered by many to be his best, is based on a Bible verse in 1 Thessalonians, 4:17. Here are its first and last stanzas:

"Forever with the Lord!"
Amen, so let it be!
Life from the dead is in that word,
'Tis immortality.

Knowing as I am known,
How shall I love that word,
And oft repeat before the throne,
"Forever with the Lord!"

A Lift For Living

When Strength Deceives

BY DR. RALPH W. SOCKMAN

Strength is very deceitful. Take it in the matter of physical health. A wise person is aware that he cannot always trust his own feelings as an accurate guide in keeping fit. It has been said that those who boast most about their good health are often broken physical health during their first fifty years are quite often the ones who break most quickly after fifty. It frequently happens that the bodily organ we think the strongest proves the weakest. We cannot tell from our feelings just where our physical troubles are. A pain in the stomach on the left side may prove to be from a diseased appendix on the right - at least that is what we pay for to have removed.

This deceit of seeming strength applies to nations as well as individuals. The genuine Hebrew prophets like Amos and Isaiah were repeatedly warning Israel against becoming complacent with apparent prosperity. They were less popular than the false prophets who cried, "Peace, peace, when there was no peace." But the true prophets with their warnings were the real friends of Israel.

Turn from the physical to the mental realm. Pride is especially apt to deceive. All human knowledge pretends to be more true than it is. Men jump to conclusions and think they have arrived at the final truth. Minds are always in danger of being stunted by intellectual pride which is ignorance of ignorance.

"INTELLIGENT IGNORANCE"

Charles F. Kettering, the eminent inventor, was born not far from my boyhood home. One summer I met the little town of Loudonville, Ohio, celebrated the birthday of its famous son. Mr. Kettering made a speech in which he pointed out that progress has been due to what he called "intelligent ignorance." The pioneers of intellectual advance have been those who knew enough to know how little they knew. It is in this sense that I understand the Beatitude, "Blessed are the meek for they shall inherit the earth." The meek are those modest enough to know their limitations and thus remain undeceived by their strength.

And in the moral sphere, strength is even more dangerously deceitful than in the physical and mental realms. How often it happens that a man's character is weakest at the point where he thinks himself strongest. God hails of character are in personality somewhat like the grain of wood. It is the grain which gives beauty to lovely wood, but if you wish to split the wood, first hit it along the grain. Similarly it is along the grain of his good traits that a man's character is most easily cracked open.

We feel so sure of our strong points that we leave them unguarded. Or we become proud of them and pride makes any good trait bad. Let a man become too proud of his purity and he becomes priggish and prudish. Let a man become too proud of his thrift and he is likely to turn penurious and greedy. Let a person pride himself on his strong convictions and he tends to become intolerant.

CRITICISM HELPFUL

It is reported of St. Francis of Assisi, whose humility of spirit shines across the centuries, that when he was tempted to think too highly of himself because of compliments paid him, he would ask three fellow monks to sit down with him and tell him his faults. Of course, if St. Francis had been married, he would have had a new service rendered him at home without the trouble and expense required to discover unpalatable, kindly criticism which keeps us from being deceived by our strength in necessary and wholesome.

Saint Paul was the secret of successful strength when he wrote that he would boast only so him, "My power is made perfect- in weakness." Then Paul added, "when I am weak, then am I strong." He meant by this statement that when he was aware of his weakness, he was on the way to being strengthened.

I wonder if we do not think of religion too much as a remedy for our weakness. We say, "I go to church when I feel the need of it." Really it is more important to go to church when we do not feel the need. We need God to show us our weakness, to show Him, even when we feel strong.

A mountain climber once reached the narrow summit of a mountain at the moment a strong wind was blowing. After the exhausted climb, he began to stretch himself in his full height. The guide shouted, "On your knees. The only safe position is on your knees."

Isn't it good that men on America's heights today get on their knees?

ALTERNATIVE TO HYDRO?

Ontario may provide about $40,000,000 to make it possible for the all-Canadian natural gas pipeline to be built from Alberta's wells to Ontario's industries.

Premier Leslie Frost has stated that the province is willing to pay one-third of the cost of the expensive northern Ontario section of the proposed line, providing the venture is found to be economical.

The proposal is that the federal and provincial governments would finance the construction of the line of pipeline across the top of the Great Lakes and would then lease this section of the pipeline to the owners of the remainder of the line, Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Ltd., a private firm.

Premier Frost says, quite rightly, that a thorough study of the economics of the deal is necessary, because he does not want to "pour public money down this drain."

One unusual aspect of the proposal is that, in theory, the Ontario Government will be financing a competitor. Natural gas would give Ontario industries an alternative source of power and would force them to depend solely on electricity, now supplied by the publicly-owned Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario.

The H.E.P.C., however, has been straining every nerve and sinew to keep pace with the mounting demand for power in an expanding industrial economy. It has done a good job. But when the St. Lawrence Seaway is completed there will be many large undeveloped sources of water power in the province. If future demands for increased power are to be met by harnessing water power, then smaller sources must have to be tapped. That means the cost of producing such power will be higher than is the case with large sources such as the Ottawa River, Niagara and the St. Lawrence.

The Frost Government has already foreseen the day when water power could be the expensive, rather than the cheap, way to provide additional electricity. It has therefore decided that it is advisable to study the use of atomic fuel in the production of electricity.

If, however, it is possible to find a market here for Alberta's natural gas, then the country's economy will be doubly benefited. Alberta will find a sale for its abundant gas, while Ontario would not have to produce additional electric power at a cost probably considerably higher than that paid for it at present supply.

We imagine that these factors will be considered when Mr. Frost's experts study the pipeline proposal and that they may carry considerable weight when the Ontario government comes to make a final decision on the pipeline project.

LAND PROBLEM

When 2,000 policemen are required to break up a demonstration, the point at issue is not likely to be a trivial one.

It may surprise some people, therefore, to learn that the residents of Caledonia, a suburb of Toronto, are so indignant at the prospect of losing their farms in a plan to expand the runways of a nearby American air base that they would gather 4,000 strong.

The Associated Press report of the demonstration as being sponsored by "leftists." It is doubtful, though, whether political orientation is a satisfactory explanation for the opposition.

Here in Canada, and in the United States, too, resentment is often expressed when lands are expropriated for public projects. It is understandable; people do not like to be forced to leave their old homes and seek new ones. But on this continent there are plenty of other farms available. In crowded Japan, where every foot of land has to be intensively cultivated to provide food for the constantly mounting population, the loss in production entailed when even an acre or two is deducted from the country's tillable lands is a serious problem, the extent of which steadily mounts. It is, in a way, something akin to the problem which Canada is facing in the Niagara peninsula, where peach orchards are being uprooted to make way for industrial plants. Japan is faced on a national scale and something more important than peaches is involved.

THE HEEL!

Ludwig Japhet, honorary life member of the Transvaal National Olympic Club, wants to segregate white and colored athletes in the field of international competition.

This phase of apartheid is not being suggested to protect the colored man's reputation, which we understand is the official South African explanation for segregation in the political field. In this instance Mr. Japhet admits that the colored man is superior to the whites, he says, having natural physiological advantages over white men.

On the track, for example, it appears that the non-white athlete has a special kind of heel, with sinews built differently from those of the white man. "That," says Japhet, "is why they can run faster and have great endurance."

It is now evident that the reason why both Bannister and Landy were able to do four-minute miles at the British Empire Games, at which a number of non-whites were competing, was that they were eager to show their inferior heels to their rivals.

JUST FOLKS

TROUBLED TIMES

When I was just a lad in school
And wrangled over sums,
The speakers, as a general rule,
Referred to troubled times
"The world is sad to look upon,"
They sorrowfully said.
"When you're the health room you have gone,
Though roads you'll have to tread."

From time to time some lecturer came
Whose voice this message boomed:
"Upon mankind must lie the blame!
The world today is doomed."

But prophets of dismay and fear
Proved often to be wrong.
I trod the rough roads year by year
And somehow got along.

I know to balance greed and hate
The world men's best has had,
And still in spite of blunders great,
There's more of good than bad.
Grave dangers, seen and unforseen,
Have been the lot of man,
And troubled times have always been
Since first the world began.

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BYGONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

Sept. 17, 1935

Mr. Robert Hamilton, Charles Street, member of the C. N. R. office staff, was casting for bass on Sunday afternoon last near Northport when he had a strike and commenced reeling it in. Suddenly the line, which was well hooked was putting up a good fight and attracted the attention of another fish which resulted in both being caught on a second hook on the line. Both were bass and he succeeded in landing both. The first fish weighed one and a half pounds and the second was a pair of two pounders.

The swimming season at the pool on Victoria Park is now closed and the Parks Board report that during the season which opened July 5, a total of 11,788 children and adults have enjoyed the facilities for swimming provided at the park. This included also the small children who performed the cement wading pool. First aid was given to 70 persons during the season and eleven persons were pulled from the water and given varying degrees of resuscitation.

At a recent meeting of the members of the Victoria Avenue Baptist Church choir the following officers were elected: — honorable president, Mrs. B. Doolittle; vice president, Mr. Gordon Bingham; secretary, Miss Elizabeth; treasurer, Miss Anna Lounsberry; social convener, Mrs. Hector Grant; Mrs. Arthur Burton, Mrs. A. E. Berry, Mrs. Albert Thompson and Miss R. Forman. A pleasing part of the meeting was the presentation of a travelling bag of excellent quality to Miss Forman as a slight token of appreciation of the faithful and efficient services rendered by her as choir director and expressing regret that she desires to be relieved of the choir duties. Arrangements have been made to have Mrs. Fred Jobson assume the office of choir director.

A regular meeting of the Board of Education was held last evening and the following members were present: Lieut. Col. Ponton, chairman, J. H. Deacon, A. E. Bailey, S. T. Harris, T. Ed. Ketchabaw, B. Mallory, Arthur McGie, S. S. Moore, J. C. Pascoe, W. C. Reid, Sheppard, L. R. Tweedale, P. J. Wims, Geo. T. Woodley and John Ellis. Secretary Laurin reported that the attendance at the high school is now 300. Inspector H. A. Clarke reported that there are 1395 pupils attending the public schools as follows: Queen Victoria 466; Queen Alexandra 336; Queen Mary 397; Grier Street 196. The Board made a grant of $25 to the High School Athletic Association.

Sept. 17, 1905

Sanford Burrowes presided at a meeting at Hotel Quinte last evening which was called for the purpose of considering the matter of organizing a hockey club. He spoke most enthusiastically in favor of forming the club and after some discussion it was decided to organize and the following officers were elected: honorable president, H. Corby, ex. M. P.; hon. vice presidents, Senator Bilchie and J. V. Jenkins; president, Hirvie Beattie; first vice president, Mayor Charles E. Bulman; second vice president, Albert Vandervoort; third vice president, B. Carre; secretary, A. P. Allen; treasurer, F. G. Williamson. A. E. Allen was the choice for the office of manager, but he did not wish to take on the job this year, and the matter of securing a manager was also left in the hands of the president, secretary and the treasurer. The executive, F. G. Williamson and Capt. Will Conger were appointed to solicit subscriptions and there are indications that the necessary funds will be collected to start the club off in a good financial position.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

When you consider that there is a songsparrow resident during all spring, summer and fall on every two or three acres of land at the very most, from Carolina from Cape Cod to Alaska, there should be little wonder on our part how the birds can foretell the weather. When a songsparrow on Cape Hatteras chirps a warning of a Hurricane Katy coming in out of Florida, how long do you suppose it would take that message, picked up and chirped instantly on its way by the endless chain of songsparrows across the vast continent, to reach, say, New York or Chicago, Montreal, Winnipeg, or even Vancouver?

It is probable that the birds had a means of rapid, almost telepathic communication thousands of years before man had. Science has no knowledge yet of the language of birds. With regard to the songsparrow, which is only one of hundreds of species and one of which might be Nature's telegrapher, it has a full vocabulary and, what it also has a variety of chips and chirps which are variously called its alarm note, its call and signal. It is not at all fanciful to suppose that it birds have special calls with respect to special circumstances such as the weather, and that a bird, sitting on a tree top, is listening to weather reports from its neighbors in all four quarters of the compass, knowing that it is fine in one direction and foul in another, and by the nature of the messages transmitted a great many miles from bird to bird, what weather is coming his way.

The theories we have so far worked out with regard to migration, bird flight and so on are explained. But if, from several hundred miles east or west, a songsparrow is passing on a message in a matter of half an hour or an hour that a fine southerly breeze is coming, and the senders are already on their way, then we understand. Those birds will take off into what appears to be the most unpropitious weather conditions for making their way south. For they know, from the aces to aces, mile to mile messages of the avian world, what weather conditions lie ahead.

Although all nature and man can understand the languages of other creatures, perhaps there are special harbingers, especially among the birds, to whom all nature listens for news of fair away.

The Search for Happiness

(Montreal Gazette)

In The Sunday Times the other day was a remarkable article. It was remarkable because the writer, Cyril Ray, described the rare experience of coming upon two happy men in the one day.

He had gone from London up to the sheep-raising country, to the cool, grey Durham uplands. He was in the land of the shepherds. He came upon a wiry, brown-faced man, wearing a cloth cap and with a sprig of heather stuck in the lapel of his coat. He was leaning on a four-foot-six crook, with a long handle.

His name was Robert Fraser. He was minding sheep on the high Northumberland fells, just a mile north of where his father had minded sheep before him. He was a man getting on to fifty.

Cyril Ray asked him whether he would like to shepherding if he had his time over again. He only laughed, as though such a question was an odd sort of joke.

Hebegan talking about his dogs: "Some's good, some's and stupid ones, some as wi' barkes," he said.

"Bad-tempered ones too, I suppose?" he was asked. He answered: "Nay, nay. A guid dog's never bad-tempered, only more than a guid man ever is."

And again he said: "If ye beat a dog, why they'd never hae ony more confidence in ye. Ye canna beat a dog and speak sort o' sharp—that's more than enough! Dogs are sort sensitive."

As Cyril went on, he thought of this man out beneath the sky, with a contented look on his face, who had not thought of questioning it. And he thought of contentment and of the same day. The same question was put to him:

"Like to do summat else?" he replied. "That's a daft thing to ask. Ah should be up and shepherd if Ah wanted to do summat else. Ah'm big enough to please mesen.

"Some folk work to live, lad, and some folk live to work; me, Ah picked mi hobby as mi work.

"There's chaps as works on th' waterworks near us an don't really work—they're bored stiff in time, poor miserable beggars they are, an' all . . . Nay, lad, Ah don't want mucn in life, nobbut a bit o' shepherding."

Perhaps happiness, like health, belongs most to those who do not question it. The danger is that the pursuit of happiness may thwart its capture. Man must live, but always to be blessed. And the pursuit of more life itself, or more even at the end, the goal will be still beyond reach.

Happier by far are those who find their happiness coming to them, as part of living. Those who work towards happiness, as to such a distant goal, are usually never to reach it. They are surpassed by those who find that happiness grows in the soil of everyday.

Perhaps the greatest defence of the happiness in life itself is given by the gypsy, Jasper, to the English wanderer, George Borrow. More than a century ago, Borrow in his book "Lavengro," told how he found Jasper sitting and watching the sun going down over the heath.

"Life is sweet, brother," said Jasper.

"Do you think so?" asked Borrow.

"Think so! There's day and night, brother, both sweet things; sun, moon, and stars, brother, all sweet things; and there's liberty, too, on the heath. Life's very sweet, brother; who would wish to die?"

"Then we so thankful for the wonder of the world that he said and "artrite" is not a $135.00 word for rheumatism.

"In the pamphlet Calcium and Rheumatic, I mention several specific infections which can cause rheumatism or arthritis, but these are by no means as prevalent as

A Word To The Creaks

A good many readers tell me they don't mind what names I call them, because they are sure . . .

That's as may be, but I must interrupt to say I have never called you names. All I have done is to say here, or imply, that certain characters are so-and-so, if such characters choose to identify themselves, that is their privilege, their knucklebeads will draw near in mind that I have never identified a so-and-so.

A creak, in my lexicon, is a poor geek with rheumatiz. Oh, well, that's no matter. I explain that a lexicon is a vocabulary or a dictionary, a geek is a simple guy and rheumatiz is physical degeneration of joint tissues.

Now I do hope you will crack a dictionary to find out precisely what physical degeneration means.

But no dictionary can tell you what rheumatiz means. My own lexicon rheumatiz is joint disability of insidious or gradual development, and long duration. If any joint inflamation occurs at any stage of rheumatiz it is incidental or accidental and not characteristic of the disability.

In other words, rheumatiz is not arthritis (joint inflammation) and "arthritis" is not a $135.00 word for rheumatiz.

In the pamphlet Calcium and Rheumatic, I mention several specific infections which can cause rheumatism or arthritis, but these are by no means as prevalent as the every-ready diagnosis of "arthritis" by the trick specialists and "clinic" racketeers would lead one to believe.

Unfortunately the fast buck practitioners have found most of you creaks hypnotized by their ponderous pretensions. Maybe I'm just too dumb to understand what the medical merchants consider elemental, but, having followed the medical literature of the subject (joint disability) for many years, I don't know what or where a physician means when he refers glibly to "arthritis". It's in the same category with "a cold", that's no good. I don't know what a "cold" is. But I'm not a d.d., so I challenge any physician who sounds off about "arthritis" or "the common cold" to define the malady. I'm cocksure that no physician of standing will do so.

If my belief is correct, that in most instances chronic joint disability of insidious development and long duration (more than a year) is rheumatiz, not arthritis, it would be fortunate for those who, for the nther new miracle or wonder drug can possible "cure" them. As I have told you, or tried to tell you, so many times, it is my conviction that the cause of rheumatiz is nutritional deficiency through the years from early childhood, the tea and toast, coffee and doughnut, pop and packaged cake and chocolate malted you took in place of adequate food for your last meal.

WHERE IS GOD

Every look at a star at night is a challenge as to the whereabouts of God. The same is true of every flower in the blushing face of a flower — any flower. Man has done some wonderful things, but he has never made a flower! Nor a rose.

God is in all which things — and He is the created them. His voice is in the trees and the wind. Every bird that sings sings of Him. Every bee that gets its food from the flowers is the work of God and you will never be lonely. There is no friend, anywhere, like unto God.

I like that fine statement of the Syrian poet Kahlil Gibran, in his book "The Prophet." He said: "And if you would know God be not puzzled. Neither define Him. Rather look about you and you shall see Him playing with your children."

God is everywhere, but his happiest place is in the hearts of human beings. Man was his last creation and God was very well pleased and put into a beautiful garden and

SPEAKING OF RUTH

Yesterday we spoke about the trouble Robert Raikes had getting his Sunday-schools started. Wm. Carey, a contemporary of Robert Raikes, tried to interest his generation in foreign missions, but he succeeded about the same reception as was Raikes with his plans for Sunday-schools.

There had been great missionary activity in the early Christian years resulting, first in the conversion of the Roman Empire, and then in the conversion of the barbarian European tribes — our forebears. But this activity had ceased at last stopped. There was considerable missionary activity among the American Indians but very little among the Asiatics, and none so far as the Protestant Church was concerned. Carey proposed that Christian missionaries go to India.

His proposal was met with scorn and condemnation. If God wanted the heathen to be converted. He would convert them, and He had no need for a fellow like William Carey to help Him. The whole thing was looked upon as visionary, and particularly so as Carey, and suitable procedures of divine grace.

But Carey, a shoemaker, at last went to Asia, and he is regarded as the father of Protestant missions throughout the world.

Speaking of ruts — even the most godly are in danger of running into them.

Better Than War

(Appleton Post-Crescent)

The country will always wonder and worry about any dealings we have with the heathens from Hiroshima and Peiping, for we think most Americans would rather live with such worries than with the anguish that comes from a shooting war.

Voluntary Abductions

(Windsor Star)

Pakistan police authorities report a large number of "voluntary abductions" of girls in the Punjab area. It seems the girls are conniving at abduction by their would-be husbands because of the traditionally high cost of marriage feasts and presents required by the family circle. They don't want to wait long enough to raise the money to defray these wishes in accordance with custom.

Pakistan has used many such "voluntary abductions," or elopements, to bypass the other Western countries during the deep, dark days of the 1930's. And for the same reason. Although the custom hasn't spread out in so much gold, a girl's dollars make a certain income level, it was expected that a shopkeeper would be able to "afford" a wife. What that meant was a standard of living as well as the ability to feed the latter's parents.

We haven't run across any statistics on the subject but we'll hazard a guess there were successful marriages among those who could not "afford" it as among young people promised in marriage, love will find a way to the altar.

Neglected Burial Ground

(Bowmanville Canadian Statesman)

We have always held the United Empire Loyalists in high regard, but after a visit to the U. E. Loyalist burial ground at Adolphustown last week our esteem for these descendants of these courageous pioneers was greatly increased, if shattered. To say the least, the shocking sight of this historic burial ground was a disappointing and deplorable spectacle.

These grounds are situated on a slight elevation of farm land which lapers away to the water's edge of Bay of Quinte, south of Napanee. To reach this hallowed spot you drive through farm property, over an unused path or road. Our pilgrimage was also hindered by several high wire fences. On abandoning our auto, we wended our way through fields of high grass to the Bay shore, on which several hundred yards away.

We have many deserted and unkempt cemeteries, but this historic one, more than cemeteries, was the most forlorn and wretched specimen we have seen. The large monument which we had expected through the years and ready to topple over, was broken in pieces.

"In memory of the United Empire Loyalists who founded loyal British institutions left the United States and landed on these shores in the month of June, A. D. 1784."

Within the enclosure, which was originally surrounded by an attractive iron fence, now completely gone, lay the stones in pieces, the several family tombstones have all fallen over and are settling in the ground, covered over with grass, weeds, moss and debris, and made impossible to read some of the inscriptions.

More could be written about this forgotten and consecrated shrine, but we hope enough has been said to call for action before it is too late by members of the U. E. Loyalist society.

While making a mental survey of the historic spots surrounding the burial ground, the thought came to use that it is admirably located and could be converted into a National Park, with easy access by road from the main highway and plenty of suitable level park land along the Bay of Quinte.

In a future issue we might give a brief history of the migration of the U. E. Loyalists to Canada around 1783, outlining some of the hardships endured, how they endured and how they played a great part in Canada's history. It has been recorded "That no prouder Canadians live than those who can trace back to U. E. Loyalist descent."

Along Canadian Trails

The Shantymen

Forest industries are still the biggest of all Canadian industries. Each year, thousands of men in almost all our provinces go into the bush to chop down trees which are then brought out to be made into paper, plywood, or sawn lumber for building.

But today's bush workers ride on trucks and in buses to their work. They cut down trees with mechanical saws and watch the trunks hauled out by tractors. It was not always like this. Not so many years ago, the bush worker was the most colorful of Canadian workmen and lived the most exciting and dangerous life.

A colorful part of Canada's history was written by the lumberjacks who toiled in the forests north of Ottawa on the banks of the Ottawa River. Those who cut, hauled or drove timber were called shantymen, not because they lived in what we call shanties, but because a "shanty" was a group of 30 or 40 men, the food supplies, oxen and so forth in one camp for a winter.

When the trees were cut, they were "squared" by an expert axeman. A man with a broadaxe cut away the bark and squared the sides, a task that required both strength and skill. The timbers were then floated down stream in cribs, each crib consisting of 20 sticks of square timber held together by unpeeled logs. At the Chaudiere Falls, the cribs swept down timber slides, specially constructed to carry the timbers so that they would not be damaged. Then they made their way to the St. Lawrence River to Montreal or Quebec where they were loaded on board ships and sent overseas.

The shantymen were a rough, tough crew. Their work was dangerous and many of them lost their lives as they climbed over logs in the water to break up a log jam caused by rocks or waterfalls. Sometimes, too, they were killed in fights and riots which took place among rival shanties or during their visits over in Hull or Bytown across the river.

A shantyman, it was said, had "the stomach of a locomotive and the appetite of a sawmill. He lived on salt pork, petrified biscuit and tea so strong that it would "peel the tongue off a bullfale." He was always ready for a fight or a challenge, but he was always ready to sing and to laugh. His river songs became famous and are still a part of Canada's folklore.

Today, the shantymen are seen no more th the staid, quiet streets of Canada's capital. Their successors live in a machine age and the old, exciting days on the river are over.

POLICEMAN CHARGED

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — A 42-year-old policeman, a veteran of 12 years on the force, was arrested here Friday in connection with the theft of $35 from a hatcleaning store on his beat. Patrolman Richard C. Gast was charged with burglary. Deputy chief Edwin D. Widey said Gast admitted taking the money after the storekeeper complained.

Well-Baby Clinic At Air Station To Open in Oct.

MIDDLETON PARK— The immunization clinic for pre-school children of Middleton Park, South Station and Six Repair Depot will be opened once again on October 20th.

When your child has reached the age of six months, he (or she) is ready to begin the series of inoculations which will protect him from the serious diseases of diphtheria, whooping cough, lockjaw and smallpox. That these diseases do not frequently occur nowadays in this part of the world is a direct result of prevention by immunization.

Through the courtesy of the senior medical officer of the station, and the principal of Breadner school, the Women's Auxiliary is able to afford airforce personnel the opportunity of having their children inoculated, free of charge, by a medical officer.

These clinics will be held on the third Thursday of each month in Breadner School, from 1.30 to 3.00 p.m.

Immunization for diphtheria, lockjaw and whooping cough involves a series of four inoculations. One each month for three months and one four months later. A booster should be received after a period of two years expires.

If for any reason the first three inoculations are interrupted the series must be started over again.

It is advised that vaccination for smallpox be performed before your child is one year old. The medical officer may refuse to inoculate a child who has a severe cold or any previous allergic conditions, such as asthma, hay fever or eczema In these cases you are advised to have your child in his private physician for his injections.

RCAF Women's Auxiliary Elects Year's Officers

MIDDLETON PARK — The 1955/56 season of the RCAF Trenton Women's Auxiliary opened with an attendance of approximately two hundred. The meeting took place in the auditorium of the Breadner school.

It was reported by Mrs. Sinclair, who is the convener of the Trenton Memorial Hospital Committee, that there is a need for a new type of incubator at the hospital. This machine, called an "Isolette," would cost about $800. Dr. Peterkin of Belleville, will talk about the Isolette at the October meeting.

The RCAF Women's Auxiliary will sponsor a performance of "The Four Poster," to be held in the Breadner School auditorium on October 5th at 8.30 p.m.

Planned for adult entertainment "The Four Poster" is a three-act comedy written by Jan de Hartog, starring in the comedy will be Mr. and Mrs. James Alexander,

'Baron of Broadway' Offers $24 Million for North Ireland

BELFAST (Reuters)—Irish-born John Hanley of New York drove into Northern Ireland with a $24,000,000 cheque Thursday and offered to buy the country for the Irish Republic.

Hanley, 63, who calls himself "The Baron of Broadway," and says he made his millions in the hotel business and real estate deals in the United States, got a gruff reception from some bystanders. But he drove on undaunted into Belfast, flying the Irish Republic flag from his car.

The cheque was made out to Lord Brookeborough, prime minister of the six counties of Northern Ireland, which are joined to Britain inside the framework of the United Kingdom.

Hanley figures the $24,000,000 he says he is ready to pay is a fair price for "lock, stock and barrel" ownership of the six counties. He then wants to unite them with the Irish Republic, which fought for Irish Nationalists and their sympathizers ever since Ireland was partitioned some 30 years ago.

"OLD FOGEY" CRIES

Hanley's new bid was a full $6,000,000 higher than one he made without result five years ago.

His green limousine, the cheque—drew a crowd in Belfast and brought shouts of "Go home you old fogey" from anti-union bystanders when they realized that Hanley was heading for the ground passage—their fort.

Police arrived and told Hanley he couldn't drive his car any further with the tricolor flying. Hanley left the limousine at a parking lot and walked to his hotel.

In his previous trip to Belfast, Hanley was almost mobbed by some angry anti-union residents.

Undaunted, he went on to London and tried to see the then prime minister, Clement Attlee, about his "Irish question." But secretaries guards refused him admittance to the prime minister's residence.

Fewer Canadians Die of Polio

OTTAWA (CP)—Twenty persons have died of polio in Canada up to Sept. 10 this year compared with 58 at the same date last year, the health department said today.

None of this year's 29 deaths were of persons who had received Salk vaccine, a department official said.

The number of persons stricken with the disease by the same date this year was 612 compared to 2,268 in the corresponding period last year, which was before introduction of the anti-polio Salk vaccine. Of this year's total, 295 were paralytic cases compared with 1,080 last year.

The latest number of cases reported in the week ending Sept. 10 was 38, down from 55 the previous week.

Tire Failure Generally Due to Owner Neglect

The figures on car breakdowns for last year, when tire troubles boosted the number more than one-fourth of those 46 million reported, have prompted several readers to ask why.

Outside of accidental punctures, you can bet that owner neglect is the reason tireless fail prematurely. Incorrect pressures, e.g., under-inflation and over inflation, are high on the list of offenders. Many other tire failures can be traced to such things as faulty wheel balance and misalignment, worn or loose wheel bearings, faulty steering systems, defective springs and shock absorbers.

Driving practices, too, play havoc with the tire economy. The excessive heat and friction generated by rapid acceleration, overloading, high speeds, hard braking and curb-scraping is bound to reduce tire life considerably and invite trouble.

P.M. writes: "My car, a 1949 model which I just bought, has a noise originating in the rear end. However, this noise is noticeable only when the car is coasting. Do you think worn gears in the rear axle assembly are causing it?"

(A) The trouble is more likely due to ringend pinion gears that are meshed too tightly meshed.

From C.W.: "I do a lot of my own car servicing. During the past few months, whenever I add crankcase oil, it seems to last only before a quart will disappear down the filler pipe. The oil has always been changed regularly and a new filter was just put in. A mechanic tells me it is the ventilating system. What do you say?"

(A) I think your mechanic is right. A slow oil fill will be evident if the crankcase ventilating system is clogged, or if the air intake or outlet pipes are restricted.

J.O. asks:: "Please tell me why the fuel gauge on my 1953 car registers nearly empty when I know how much gas there is in the tank, the indicator remains at the extreme right (past the "Full" mark)."

(A) A short is to blame. It may be in the wiring, in the dashboard unit or in the tank unit. With the help of a jumper wire, a mechanic can quickly find the culprit.

(WINTER GASOLINE)

O.M. writes: "After considerable trouble with a stalling engine on a vacation trip, I had my favorite mechanic inspect the car. He is convinced that winter gas was causing all the trouble. What is the difference between summer and winter gasoline?"

(A) Winter gasoline is more volatile and promotes easier starting. If used during the hot season, it will cause vapor lock and percolation troubles.

From S.V.: "A neighbor recently pointed out that my two front tires are worn badly on the inside, only. What is the reason for this?"

(A) Such uneven tread wear usually points to misaligned wheels. A front end alignment will correct this trouble.

ANNIS—HARBACK

The father of the bride and the father of the bridegroom officiated at the wedding of Miss Joan Frances Harback and Mr. Rev. William Arnold Annis, of Owen Sound, which took place at 7:30 Wednesday evening, in Kingsway United church, Ottawa.

The bride is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Frank R. Harback, former pastor of Tabernacle United church, Belleville, and the Rev. Mr. Annis is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Stanley E. Annis of Owen Sound.

The bride's father officiated, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Annis.

Mr. Harback gave his daughter in marriage. She was attended by Miss Marion Woods, of Sarnia, and Miss Joyce Firth, Belleville. Miss Heather Annis of Owen Sound, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl.

Mr. George James was best man and the ushers were, Mr. William Harback, brother of the bride, and Mr. Glen McPherson.

For her wedding the bride wore a floor-length gown of spun taffeta designed with princess lines and worn with a redingote of Chantilly lace. The ensemble was styled with fitted bodice, high neckline and long sleeves and was trimmed with seed pearls and sequins.

A reception was held in the church hall, where Mr. C. Culley was soloist.

After the Rev. and Mrs. Annis left for Edinburgh, Scotland, where they will be at home after October 1st, the guests were received by Mrs. Harback, mother of the bride, wearing a navy blue dress with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

IF YOU WANT TO ATTRACT A BOY, YOU MUST BE * ATTRACTIVE

Dear Beatrice Fairfax:

I am 17 years old, and I like a boy who goes to the same school that I do. I have liked him for about three years. In fact, I love him, and I would like to know how to attract his attention and get him to ask me for a date.

I thought if I made him jealous he would start to notice me, so I started to date one of his friends, but he is still the same person. He doesn't notice me any more than he did before.

If you can help me, I will be very grateful.

Mary R.

Dear Mary:

Let's try, first of all, to get one important thing straight. If you get it straight now, you'll save yourself a lot of emotional wear and tear as you go through the teens, and it may even help you make a wiser choice of a husband, eventually, than you could otherwise would.

What I'm talking about is your statement that you "love" this boy and the impression it gives me concerning the difference between "like" and "love."

Obviously, you know this boy very, very little. He has never even given you the chance to know him. And you can't "love" someone who is practically a stranger to you. I realize you don't consider him a stranger. You think that because you see him in school every day, and probably say hello to him, he's a friend of yours. And until you know more than the way a person looks and the way he sounds when he says hello; until you know what he's like inside where he lives and not only what he's like on the outside, he's just what I say — practically a stranger to you. You can be grateful — tracted to someone who is "practically a stranger," so that you're in a veritable tizzy to get to know him. But that's all you are, so far as this boy is concerned; you're not in love.

All right, then. You've been tremendously attracted to this boy for a long time and you're in a tizzy to really know him. And he doesn't even notice you. So what can you do?

Well, for one thing, you can stop trying so obviously to get his attention, because that won't get you anywhere. Boys are not attracted to girls who make grandstand plays for them. You say that this one doesn't pay any more attention to you, since you tried to make him jealous, than he did before. Of course he doesn't. He probably pays less. Because he undoubtedly saw through your transparent effort, and thought: "What a silly girl!"

So stop being silly, and put your attention on making yourself into the kind of girl who does attract a boy. That kind of girl is the first of all, herself, with a capital letter. She doesn't try to be anyone else. She doesn't put on an act — like trying to make a boy jealous! — and she doesn't do things, or say things, that aren't her type. Instead, she's always natural, always friendly, always ready for wholesome fun, always a good sport, and always interested in so many things that she makes lots of friends and thinks she's the Best Ever. And, finally, she always thinks of others ahead of herself, which means that she's unselfish.

So there you have it, Mary. Start being the kind of a girl and you're not likely to have much trouble getting the dates you want. I'm not promising that you'll win this particular boy's attention, but if you don't, you'll be getting so much attention from other boys that you won't miss the first one.

And who knows? It's not the least bit impossible that he'll be so surprised to see how attractive and popular you've become that he will be around to find out what's happened to you!

NO ONE NEEDS TO BE LONESOME

Dear Beatrice Fairfax:

I am a very lonesome widow, just like so many others who have written to you.

I am a professional worker, so do not have too much time to be lonely and I have my own apartment and my own car. Yet, after business hours, it is pretty hard just to be alone and have nothing to do but watch TV, write letters or look at the walls.

The man who wrote you recently about never having married because he was too shy with women sounded nice, and I would not mind writing to some nice men. Sounds as though I want you as a love-lorn club, but I feel I can rely on you. Mrs. E. F.

Dear Mrs. E. N.:

It makes me very happy to know that you have such confidence in me, and you may be quite sure I would never give anyone any advice that might lead them into complications of any kind.

That is the very reason why I never would feel that I could act as a "lovelorn club," in the sense of putting people who write letters to me in touch with each other. While I certainly believe that those who take the time and the trouble to write me, are fine sincere people who have problems with which they need help, I am sure you can understand that there might be many reasons why I would not want to take the responsibility of introducing people I have never seen other through the mails.

Besides, there is there are many ways of meeting new acquaintances and getting to know them well enough so that you can tell for yourself whether or not you want to become good friends with them. Just imagine how you'd feel if I were to give you the name of somebody to write to, and he found you a lot more interesting than you found him, and wanted you to keep writing to him, and you wished you'd never started to. Far better, don't you think, not to begin a friendship until you've met someone personally and are certain the friendship is going to work out well?

Now in your case, you live in a big city where there are lots of interesting things going on all the time. Have you ever really looked around you to see what there may be in which you'd like to have a part?

Have you been at the Y to find out what goes on there? All women, you say? Not any more. These days, most YWs and YMs have all sorts of activities to which both men and women are invited. Drop in some time and see for yourself.

Do you belong to a church? Aren't there some clubs there you might join, where you'd find interesting projects going on, and congenial companionship? Don't you want to do something for others by allying yourself with some organization that works for the benefit of those who need help of some kind? Do you like children or young people? There are all sorts of organizations that are always looking for workers to help in such groups. Have you a hobby? If not, here again there are many different hobby groups where you'd not only learn a fascinating new skill or leisure-time project but would find others interested in the same hobby. And there's no way in which new friends are found more quickly than by sharing a common interest.

Frankly, there's just no reason why you should sit home alone in that apartment doing nothing but writing letters or looking at TV or the walls. There's no reason why you shouldn't have such a wide circle of friends that you'll sometimes wish you could find an evening to sit home and watch TV! There's no reason why you, or anybody else, can't have a lively, lovely life that keeps you, every night when you go to bed, looking eagerly forward to the next day. It all depends on you, and your own initiative.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEECKMAN

NAME ON ENVELOPES? TELEPHONE NUMBER ON LETTER-PAPER?

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

1. My husband and I have just moved into our new house. I am about to order some general-usage sheet letter-paper printed with my name and address on the paper. Two or three friends of mine suggest that on the envelopes I have only the address printed, not my name. What is your advice about this?

2. We have just received our telephone and new telephone number. Is it proper to have this telephone number printed on the sheets, with the address?

D.K.W.

1. Whether or not you have your name printed on the envelopes depends on your own preference. Many people do prefer not to have their name made "public" on the envelopes, and since you live in a house, it is not particularly necessary to include the name with the address. For those who live in an apartment it is more of a necessity . . . unless the apartment number is printed with the address, or the name is, when appropriate, hand-written above the address.

2. Yes, it is entirely proper, and quite customary, to have the telephone number printed on the sheets, with the name and address. And this would, I should think, be particularly useful in your case, since you want to inform about your new telephone number.

Invitation-Form When Stepfather is Giving Bride in Marriage

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

My father died when I was ten years old. My mother married again five years later, and since then I have lived with my mother and stepfather. He's a fine man, we're very good friends, and I would like to have him give me in marriage. Also my mother and he and I would like to have the wedding invitations issued in their names. Proper? If so, how should they read? —Katherine

Yes . . . under these happy circumstances, that is quite proper. The form:

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ford request the honor of your presence at the marriage of Mrs. Ford's daughter
Katherine Anne Madison to
Mr. Peter Allington
On Tuesday, the first of November at etc.

Gloves for "The Mothers"

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I am the mother of the prospective groom, and although I have tried in every way to plan my costume so that it will "go with" the bride's mother's costume harmoniously I had not even considered keeping my gloves on all the time I was in the receiving line. Something the bride's mother said only yesterday, as we were all discussing the wedding plans, made me think that perhaps this is the thing to do. Is it?

—Groom's mother.

Yes . . . definitely the thing to do. You wear your gloves as long as you're in the receiving line . . . remove them only when you go into the room where the refreshments are being served.

GROTESQUE IDEA . . . RING-BEARER DRESSES AS "MINIATURE USHER"

Dear Mrs. Beeckman: *

It has been suggested to me that I have the ring-bearer in my wedding dressed as a "miniature usher" the same formal type of attire as the ushers wear, in his size. What do you think of this idea?

It's a grotesque idea. Please, please don't even consider any ridiculous tricks like this. It would very much....Jessie M.A.

RECIPE WANTED

I am mailing to you the recipes which have appeared previously with the grape jam and salad dressing for diabetics. The strawberries peach jam follows:

SUGARLESS PEACH JAM

Four cups well-packed, chopped fully ripened perfect peaches. Peel peaches by dipping in boiling hot water for 1 minute, then dipping in cold water. Then peeling. Chop and measure. Simmer peaches over low heat for 30 minutes, then add 18 sugary tablets, 4 oz. glycerin (if doctor allows it) and dimmer 10 minutes stirring frequently. If desired add 2-3 teaspoon grated lemon rind and 1 teaspoon lemon juice. Using sterile spoons and other equipment pour into pint jars which have been sterilized with the lids, rubbers and rings. Seal tightly. Most diabetics feel that their jams are so precious they keep them in the refrigerator and I recommend this.

QUESTION:

As plums are now in do you have a recipe for Spiced Plums . . . thank you for a very interesting corner in the paper.

Reader.

SPICED PLUMS

Select 8 lbs. of rather firm plums and wash them and stick with a plum with three whole cloves. Make a syrup: Boil together 8 1-2 cups sugar, 4 cups vinegar, 2 cups water, 7 3-inch sticks cinnamon, 2 tablespoons each whole cloves and allspice. Spices should be tied loosely in bag. Boil for 5 minutes, then add prepared plums and boil gently until barely tender. Allow plums to stand in syrup in cool place overnight. Drain off syrup, remove spice bag. Pack plums with sterile equipment into sterile jars. Bring syrup to boil and fill jars with it being sure it flows between plums. Seal. About 7 pints.

Readers' Saturday Column

As Conducted by Mary Moore

QUESTION:

Could you send me your recipe for just plain ordinary nine-day pickles, also for long-brine cucumber pickles. Also about how —do you just rub the salt and soft water and chuck it on or should the water be hot and poured on the salt and stirred until it is dissolved. If so should the brine be cooled again before it is poured over the cucumbers. If you want to use some small onions with the cucumbers is it all right just to substitute them for cucumbers and use the same recipe?

—Gladys M.

ANSWER:

The 9-day pickle that I can recommend most highly follows:

CHUNK PICKLES (9-day)

Seven lbs. dill-size cucumbers cut in 1 1-2-inch chunks. Soak in cold brine for 7 days made of 1 cup non-iodized salt to 10 cups water. Freshen in clear cold water for 24 hours. Drain. Boil for 7 minutes in mixture of 1 quart vinegar, 2 quarts water and piece of alum size of walnut. Drain. Make this syrup—Boil together 4 quart vinegar, 3 lbs. granulated sugar, 1 oz. mixed celery seed, whole allspice, cassia buds. Pour this syrup over the drained pickles and let stand 24 hours. Next day pour syrup off and boil up and pour over pickles. Pack into jars and seal.

I have mailed to you the method for brining cucumbers and a recipe for sweet cucumber pickles using the brined pickles. If you want to use onions scald them in boiling water, skin and peel. Soak in brine (1 cup salt to each 10 cups water) for 24 hours. That is all you do to onions.

QUESTION:

. . . will you kindly send me a recipe for dietetic salad dressing, also for peach and grape jam for diabetic . . . I enjoy your column think that couple should complete each of taste on your part, and it would be unworthy of the personality of your little ring-bearer. If you must have a ring-bearer, have the taste to dress him as a boy of his age should be dressed.

COFFEE AND TEA AT LUNCHEON PARTY

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Is it correct for me to offer tea or coffee irregulation size cups to my guests at a luncheon party, or must demitasse service of coffee be in the living room as after a dinner? Hostess

In these informal days, even though a luncheon is more or less on the side of formality, it is considered perfectly correct and very sensible and considerate to offer coffee or tea at the table at luncheon.

You can relax when we take over your wardrobe. You know every piece of clothing will be delivered to you promptly and beautifully cleaned and pressed . . . at moderate prices.

TEEN-AGE POSTURE

Slumping, slouching and shuffling along . . . That's how you might describe the gait of a character from Skid Row, isn't it? But, alas, it's not a poor derelict we're describing. It's the walking habits of today's average teenager. You'd think that not one of them had ever heard the word "posture." Yet good posture, which is not only so important to health, is an absolute "must" if a girl would look her best and show off her clothes attractively. The stars of stage and screen know this and go through rigorous training to maintain good carriage always.

Generally speaking, the slouching teen-ager is inclined to carry herself in about the same poor balance as the older woman with poor posture except that in the latter case the faults are much more pronounced. The average woman of whatever age let her head go too far forward (and gradually develops a "dowager's hump") rounds her shoulders, forgets she has abdominal muscles and relies on a girdle as a cure-all; gets a swayback that adds to her rear hipline, and walks from side to side with every step forward. It sounds pretty awful, doesn't it? But that's what happens when youth is careless about posture. As the years come along, each fault becomes more pronounced and then, all of a sudden, there's not much that can be done about it. So get a good start now, girls. Get those hips under your trunk where they belong and carry as a base, but a flexible, the entire upper part of you. Stretch up with that little spine of yours to pull the head of your shoulders, the swayback out of its hollow, the rounds her shoulders, forgets she natural girdle of muscles in.

Also stretch up with your bones and muscles. Try yourself carrying a water basket of fruit on the top of your head as do the natives of the East and West Indian countries. This will pull your head into balance with the rest of your body. It may take a little and concentration at first but you get the feeling of sitting and walking at sitting correctly you'll never slouch again, won't feel comfortable.

DAM PROPOSED

This is a sketch of a proposed dam across land and develop 375,000,000 kilowatt hours of

By DON HANRIGHT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

REGINA (CP) — Saskatchewan sets more electricity. It hopes to get it from a $135,000,000 power and irrigation project on the South Saskatchewan river.

It harnessing the river with a dam near Outlook, 125 miles northwest of Regina, enough water would be stored to irrigate 500,000 acres of semi-arid tableland and develop 35,000,000 kilowatt hours of power a year.

Engineers estimate that in 10 years Saskatchewan will require at least six times its present power output. The present all-thermal production is the province has relied in consumer costs for power which are more than three times those in Manitoba and double the Canadian average.

ICE HYDRO POWER

Engineers say water-power development would help lower power costs and increase per capita consumption, which in 1951 was only one-third of that in Manitoba and has changed little since.

The construction of a dam across the wide, deep valley of the Saskatchewan river system probably would be too costly for power alone. And Outlook reservoir is too far from populated areas.

The site on the South Saskatchewan is considered ideal. Within 125 miles of the power plant would be more than 50 per cent of the province's total population of approximately 840,000.

The reservoir, with nearly 500 miles of shoreline, also would help stabilize the South Saskatchewan's regular flow. This would increase the power potential of other plants located at downstream sites.

One such plant—five sites have been suggested—would be at Fort-la-Corne, near the confluence of the north and south branches east of Prince Albert.

ESTIMATED PRODUCTION

With flood peaks in the spring and a low rate of flow in January, the plant could produce 398,000,000 kilowatt hours annually. Regulation of flow could increase this to 2,100,000,000.

However, the South Saskatchewan dam would require about eight years for construction.

Meanwhile, the power demand is increasing by 20 per cent a year. Output in 1954 by the Saskatchewan Power Corporation, a government-owned distributing agency, was approximately 473,000,000 kilowatt hours.

This was produced with steam plants at Estevan, Prince Albert and Saskatoon, and diesel plants at 37 points in the province.

The corporation has estimated that by 1960, Saskatchewan will require 1,172,000,000 kilowatt hours annually. By 1964 this would increase to 2,411,000,000.

In the 1942-52 period, costs to domestic consumers in Saskatchewan decreased by 22 per cent to 10 cents per kilowatt hour.

POWER COSTS

In Manitoba, where nearly all electricity is hydro-developed, 1952 costs were 3.31 cents a kilowatt hour. The figure in Alberta, where 70 per cent of all power is generated by water, was 1.56.

Saskatchewan's annual domestic consumption was 1,677 kilowatt hours per customer in 1952, compared with Manitoba's 4,863.

Last year's federal-provincial discussions on financing the project were based on the over-all cost estimate of $135,000,000.

Although this estimate has increased by $30,000,000 since 1950, it is $115,000,00 lower than the figure approved three years ago by a royal commission which found that economic returns from the scheme would not be "commensurate with the cost."

The report was termed a "bitter disappointment" by Saskatchewan's CCF government. The federal government was asked to restore it.

PREMIER'S STATEMENT

Later negotiations reached the point where Premier T. C. Douglas said "the only remaining obstacle to agreement is the matter of agreeing upon what contribution the government of Saskatchewan should make to the construction of the dam itself."

He said in 1954 this contribution would "remove any likelihood that the provincial government would be subsidizing the generation of hydro-electric energy in this province."

Subsequently Prime Minister St. Laurent announced that the federal government "could not take the responsibility of recommending to parliament any project as one that would be in the national interest of Canada generally."

However, the opinion is general that the dam will be built eventually.

The last announcement on cost proposals for the project broke up the total of $135,000,000 into $80,000,000 for the dam itself, $35,000,000 for the irrigation system and 20,000,000 for the power plant.

SASKATCHEWAN'S SHARE

The Saskatchewan share was set at $77,500,000, including the full cost of the power plant and the irrigation system, plus $17,000,000 as the cost of the dam in the form of power value.

The balance of $62,140,000, the federal government's share, probably was based on Ottawa's past policy of providing headworks for major irrigation projects.

In southern Alberta, for example, the federal government spent $7,500,000 for the St. Mary dam—largest earth-fill dam in Canada—and built the Milk river ridge reservoir and the 29-mile canal that connects the two.

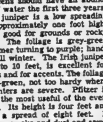
The Alberta government's financial task is to carry the stored water to the farmers after provincial parcelling of irrigable lands. All engineering is done by the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Administration.

When the scheme is completed, the federal government will have borne roughly 55 per cent of the cost.

COST COMPARISON

Howgrver, while the St. Mary-Milk rivers development, now about half finished, will irrigate 500,000 acres at an estimated cost of 900,000,000, it will take 840,000,000 more to irrigate a nearly equal acreage in the South Saskatchewan valley.

The Pine Falls power development, on the Winnipeg river, has a capacity of 13,000 horsepower and was built for approximately $24,000,000. The South Saskatchewan plant would have an equal capacity, but the dam's power value would bring the total cost to $38,000,000.



The dry trench that has been scored through the prairie by the South Saskatchewan river is the chief reason for these high costs. The river valley generally is two miles wide, with banks 200 to 300 feet high.

To fill this gap, the dam near Outlook would require 40,000,000 cubic yards of fill—nearly eight times as much as was put into the St. Mary dam. Reservoir storage would be 8,400,000 acre-feet, compared with 320,000 acre-feet at St. Mary.

Even with the 205-foot-high dam, water would have to be pumped as high as another 120 feet to reach some section of the surrounding prairie. This would require 50,000,000 kilowatt hours of electrical energy a year, leaving 325,000,000 for general use.

To generate power at the site, water would be carried to the turbines, by three steel penstocks, each feeding two power units through Y-branches.

CANADIAN IN NOMINATED FOR POST IN PHILIPPINES

William Rogers, director of education for schools in Sarnia, Ont., since 1951, has been nominated for the post of director of elementary education in the Philippines. Mr. Rogers is the only Canadian being considered for the UNESCO post, although it is expected there will be candidates from other U. N. countries. The appointment is for a year and may be renewed at the end of that time. The post is to foster educational, social and economic development in the Philippines and to plan for improved community education. A native of Brantford, Ont., and a graduate of the University of Western Ontario and University of Toronto, Mr. Rogers came to Sarnia in 1944 as inspector of public schools.

Choosing Small Evergreens

BY FLORA M. SAVILLE

Evergreens may be used as foundation plantings, accent points in the shrub border, to mark the house or property entrance, or to border the driveway. The number needed will depend upon their position and their ultimate size at maturity.

If you are in doubt as to the proper choice submit a scale plan of your house front, border or drive and ask your nurseryman to suggest suitable evergreens for your property. If you live in the city mention this in your order; some evergreens will not stand city dust and smoke. There are other types which are immune to this dust.

Fall is a good time to plant evergreens as they are in the best possible physical condition, your nurseryman has time to talk things over with you; the plants are freshly dug, assist those which remain in burlap ball through the winter in storage, and the evergreens can take advantage of late fall and early spring growing weather to become settled and be ready for new spring growth.

Here is a list of good evergreens of the smaller variety that will stand the heat and drought well, but like all evergreens they should have plenty of water at planting time and for weeks after; also all evergreens should have an abundance of water the first three years. Plumy juniper is a low spreading type approximately one foot high. This is good for grounds or rocky slopes. The foliage is grey-green in summer turning to purple; handsome all winter. The Irish juniper grows to 10 feet, is excellent for corners and for accents. The foliage is blue-green, not too hardy where the winters are severe. Pfitzer is one of the most useful of the new evergreens. Its height is four feet and it has a spread of eight feet. It tolerates smoke and dust and semi-shade. It will also stand strong winds. The foliage is a pleasing grey- green. Swedish juniper is a dwarf type in columnar form.

Yews stand shade better than other evergreens; they are hardy and slow growing. The upright type is excellent hedge material and grows to 12 feet. The foliage is a dark green: mature plants have red berries in autumn. The spreading type grows four to six feet; this is considered one of the best of the medium-sized evergreens.

Nurserymen advise a thorough dusting of the Spring limbs of all yews with arsenate of lead in mild-June to prevent infestation of blackvine root weevil which attacks their roots.

Arborvitae globe is a formal-type evergreen used to mark entrances and foundation plantings, four feet high. Woodward is one of the best. This forms a handsome globe that needs no trimming. Both Globe and Globosa are also globular in form. Elegantissima is compact pyramid shape, in light yellowish green, a lovely accent evergreen of cedar family.

Mugho pine is a compact globe, which needs a little trimming each year. White candles give a lift to the dark green of the foliage. Mugho is a favorites for foundation planting.

There art also a half dozen varieties of dwarf spruce, Hedgehog, Nest Spruce, Globe, Spreading underfoliage, and others equally good.

Evergreens need good drainage, but they are not demanding as to the type of soil they are planted in.

It is possible to buy seedlings, or small transplants, at a much lower price. These small evergreens will need several years before they will make enough growth to give a good appearance. They are best planted in an open place in the back garden where they can attain satisfactory size before being moved to their permanent location. However, this procedure means a loss of time and often plants. The evergreens grown in the nurseries are root-pruned for several years to insure satisfactory plants. This makes for their greater cost but they are much more satisfactory in their results.

When planting evergreens, before loosening the burlap wrappings dig a hole slightly larger than the ball of earth. Set the ball and burlap in and see that it will be one inch below the former level. Fill the hole half way before cutting the cords around the burlap. Allow the burlap to remain; it soon rots. Tramp down the soil and soak the soil thoroughly. Fill in the rest of the hole; leave a shallow basin to catch and hold rain water until it can seep down into the soil. Hilled up soil sheds water before it can soak into the roots. Soak the soil deeply twice a week, or oftener if the weather is unusually warm, dry and windy. Soak the soil around evergreens before the freeze-up. Cold winds can be just as drying as warm winds.

GORE — Friends are sorry to know that Mr. Sidney Fox is a patient in the Belleville hospital —all wish him a speedy recovery.

Mr. Roger Bateman attended the Junior Farmer camp at the Salvation Army grounds in Ameliasburg village over the week-end.

Outlines Work For Old People By Red Cross

TORONTO — Mrs. Jeannette Tarleton, head of the Old People's Section, Civil Defence Department, British Red Cross outlined the work which the British organization is doing for old people. She spoke on Tuesday, September 13th before a meeting of the Senior Citizens Committee, Ontario Division Red Cross. The meeting was presided over by Miss Hope Hobenshield and was held at National Red Cross headquarters in Toronto.

One of the most important things about Red Cross work was its international character. The only uniform during World War II which could go right around the world, including enemy countries, was the Red Cross uniform. The problem of the welfare of old people was a universal one. It was to be hoped that the defeatist attitude would be less apparent in the next generation of old people and this attitude was one of the problems which British Red Cross was currently trying to eliminate. In England there were "long stay homes", these were started during the last war when bombings, etc. had made them necessary for old people who could not fend for themselves. The tendency today however, there as here, was to try to get the old people homes with their own relations. It was felt that the more old people lived with a member of the community, the better it was for all concerned. Segregation of old people was not best, either for the old people or for the community. One of the developments in England under British Red Cross was the "short stay homes." These were for men or women over 60. Here they might stay while members of their own families, especially the mother holidayed, or during a period of convalescence on the part of the old person. There were comparatively few of these homes as yet, but they represented a big development by British Red Cross which worked closely with government. In the establishment of such homes there were very long waiting lists for these homes. An interesting development was the formation of regional boards which encouraged the formation of geriatric units or special wards in hospitals. As a result of their studies very often the rehabilitation of an old person who had spent years in hospital was brought about. British Red Cross staffed these geriatric clinics and through such units many old people were brought back to terms with other people. This has been a tremendous success. British Red Cross played some part in the formation of "daily clubs". "Meals on wheels" was another service of British Red Cross to old people living in furnished rooms. This was not a charity but hot meals, cooked in restaurants, or by the British Red Cross, were supplied old people at a modest cost.

Two Bush Workers, Four Horses Killed When Lightning Hits Stable

CHAPLEAU (CP) — Two bush workers and four horses were killed Friday and thirteen other men and an undetermined number of horses injured when the stable at the Robitaille Lumber Company camp was struck by lightning.

The isolated camp is 35 miles northeast of Chapleau and can be reached only by jeep. The men killed are both from Quebec province. They are still unidentified.

According to meagre details reaching here the men were in the stable harnessing the horses in preparation for a day's work in the bush. A bolt of lightning struck a large pine tree beside the stable and leaped down the wall and into the interior.

The two men killed were putting harness on the horses which were killed. Thirteen other teamsters in the stable at the time were hurled to the floor. At least five were burned.

The injured were loaded in a number of company trucks and started for Chapleau and medical attention.

Cash Income of Farmers Drop $30,000,000 in First Six Months

OTTAWA (CP)—Cash income of Canadian farmers for the first half of the year was some $30,000,000 below the level of the first six months of 1954.

The bureau of statistics estimated today farmers received $1,-230,800,000 in the January-June period from sale of farm products and payments on previous years' grain crops.

It compares with $1,060,800,000 a year earlier and $1,186,000,000 in 1953. None of the figures includes Newfoundland farm income and the bureau noted that this year's total does not include an estimate of income for sale of maple products which totalled $7,400,000 last year.

Cash income declines were felt in all provinces except Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick and Manitoba. They ranged from less than one per cent in Nova Scotia, Ontario and British Columbia to eight per cent in Saskatchewan.

Father of Four Guilty of Rape

OTTAWA (CP)—Roger Larocque, 24-year-old father of four children, was sentenced to 10 years in penitentiary Thursday after a jury found him guilty of raping a pregnant young married woman.

In passing sentence, Mr. Justice F. H. Barlow said it was "one of the worst cases of rape I have come upon in some considerable experience."

The woman, mother of four children, was pulled into a vacant garage the night of Aug. 22 and criminally attacked. Larocque was arrested near the scene shortly after the attack and admitted the crime in a statement to police.

Yankees Exercise Home Run Patent To Climb Back Into Top Position

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By Geo. H. Carver, Sports Editor

SPEAKING OF HOCKEY

The Belleville Senior "B" hockey club unwittingly, may have set the style for certain other clubs of the future in the province—and possibly elsewhere.

A hockey club operated on a player co-operative basis is not by any means a new idea. It has been done before successfully. If memory is not at fault the Owen Sound Mercurys Senior "A" season operated on a similar basis—and one report last year had it that some of the older co-operative projects were interested in a racehorse or two.

It is getting to be a trite statement, but the fact looms larger than ever, that if upper bracket hockey is to survive, high operational costs must be cut. And the onus rests squarely on the players.

The day of the $100 per week salary for senior "B" players, or allegedly such, is on the wane, if not completely finished. In our opinion there is not a senior "B" player in Ontario worth that amount in cold cash. Glory-hungry sponsors who have the bonds to toss away, may pay that sum but they, too, like the whooping crane, are gradually becoming extinct.

MANAGER DORAN

Feeling the pulse of the Eastern Ontario Senior "B" circuit, proved for the best in the province since its three-year sojourn in OHA circles, we discovered there is a diversity of opinion in some quarters as to the success of the Belleville venture inasmuch as the Moira city players are co-operative and and combining with those of a sister city.

There are those who claim the Peterborough players will fall by the wayside once the new broom has gotten over its clean-sweeping antics. It has been said the players of both clubs will not co-operate. And it has been suggested that the club as a whole will fall by the wayside through lack of consistent all-team practice.

Don't misunderstand these statements. We found there was a distinct aura of gloom over the circuit when it was announced that the Belleville team would not enter because of lack of sponsorship.

Since Michael J. Rodden, sports editor of Kingston, somewhere sent o' here, has openly issued the annual declaration of war (and so soon), yet we're warning him that anything said in this column anent him and his Goodyear pets, can be used against us.

For we firmly believe that this new co-operative team set-up with the background of a strong executive and the backing of a loyal fandom will result in the traditional wormturning and this season will be Belleville's to howl in the pundonum of the Goodyear ones and be all.

If such a thing happens, as it will, the roar will gush from Kingston throats: "You had to get the Fetes to help you do it." So what! Ottawa, Quebec, Sault Ste. Marie and other points' players helped the Goodies to two titles. Mebbe Belleville visitted the wrong cities in their twice unsuccessful bids for group honors. The war is on, Miguel,

During our sojourn in Kingston and on the few occasions we had to put our ear to the hockey ground, we did elicit some gossip. We learned that a prominent Kingstonian (and man (name on request) was all set to step into the breach with a senior "B" club had the Goodyears punctured. We learned that Georgy MacGregor and Johnny Myre had mobilized their crew. (Wanna bet?). We heard that Belleville playoffs bete noir, Ken' Johnson, will be back in the nets. If that guy had broken a leg just prior to the group finals had ensured that senior "B" crown would be permanently resting in a Belleville wigwam. And we heard something about a strange animal in "amateur hockey" called holdouts. Palms, that is, with an Oliver Twist vocal accompaniment. We heard that Les Douglas who doesn't work for goobers, will pilot the good ship "Goodyear" and that Tom Disney will again hold the sponsorship reins.

And we heard the Goodies are taking matters quite seriously. That co-operative idea coming out of Belleville caused smiles to appear on the faces of some of the Kingston "experts." But the smiles quickly vanished when the impact reached home —and things are starting to move. You'll see some of 'em, not all, in action at the Belleville all-star tilt.

We also heard the Clinton Comets will make a last desperation try for entry at the group meeting set for Kingston on September 18th. This, since it was learned the Fetes had been given a year's leave of absence.

It is extremely doubtful that the entry will be accepted, especially since the vice-proxy president has the five team schedule ready for group approval. This likely will come up for discussion at the Sept. 18 confab.

To get back to the original theme of this piece, we repeat what was written in a previous column. We firmly believe the Belleville senior "B" club and its executive are sincere in a combined effort to keep this city, already deep in hockey lore, on the puck-chasing map. While Belleville has not won an upper bracket puck title since Eddie Thomas' internationales copped the honors in 1936-37, this could be the season for an inaugural senior "B" title. We are not limb-crawling, nor predicting, but we are of the opinion that solid support of fandom over the season will go a helluva long way towards achieving that objective.

Berra, Bauer Hit for Circuit In 5-4 Win Over Red Sox; Tigers Teepee Tribe 3-0

By The Associated Press

The patent for the big home run still belongs to New York Yankees.

And combining that talent with the unexpected help of Detroit's Steve Gromek, the starter-turned-reliever, Yanks are back in first place again in that treacherous American League pennant race.

A cut-out homer by Hank Bauer drew Yankees even with Boston in the ninth inning Friday night and after Ellis Kinder, the Red Sox relief marvel, got the second out, Yogi Berra rapped a shot into the right-field stands to win it 5-4. It was Yogi's 27th homer of the year and his second of the game.

Until the ninth, Kinder had been tagged for only two home runs all season. Gromek, meanwhile, toppled Cleveland out of the lead with three-hit pitching in six innings of relief at Detroit won 3-0.

EIGHT PERCENTAGE

New York took over by two percentage points. Yanks also gained a one-game lead in the all-important "lost" column. New York has won 89 and lost 56, with seven games remaining. Cleveland, with seven lost, is 90-57.

Chicago White Sox practically fell out of the fight with a 13-7 thrashing at Kansas City.

Boston played to the hilt the "spoiler" role it shares with Detroit. A three-hitter against the starter Whitey Ford in the eighth and gave Sox a 4-3 stranglehold. But then, in a twinkling, it was all over.

Bauer connected on a 1-1 pitch off Kinder who, by baseball standards, should have been a fountain. The 41-year-old righthander fed Berra a fast ball and Yogi gobbled it up.

In claiming the lead for the first time since May 30, Yankees got Mickey Mantle, who leads the league with 36 homers, hobbled a muscle in his right thigh beating out a bunt against Boston starter Frank Sullivan in the second inning.

NOT GOOD

An official report will have to wait until Mickey tests the leg today. But Manager Stengel says it doesn't feel good. I guess I'll be out a couple of days.

Mickey's bunt led to the first run off Sullivan and Berra's first homer made it 2-0. Jim Piersall, who had fanned in his last 12 starts, when Billy Hoeft rolled a tendon on the last pitch of the third inning. Gromek, a 25-year-old righthander traded to Detroit by Indians in 1953, then went to work, striking out four and allowing wound up with just four hits.

FANNED KINDER

Gromek ended it by fanning pinch-hitter Ralph Kiner with two on and two out in the ninth.

Early Wynn (16-11) was the loser. Earl Torgeson broke up a scoreless duel with a two-run single in the seventh. An inning later, Ray Boone — another Indian — doubled and scored on Bill Tuttle's single.

Kansas City scored seven runs in the first to swamp White Sox, now five games behind on the losing side with seven left. That splurge chased Connie Johnson and Harry Byrd. Alex Kellner and Tom Gorman, who broke, did the pitching for As. In the other American League action, last-place Baltimore swept a twin from Washington—the only club with an edge over Cleveland—and 6-7.

The National League champion Brooklyn Dodgers beat New York 4-3 as Gil Hodges homered twice. Willie Mays hit one for Giants to claim the major league lead with 46.

Robin Roberts went the 3rd at Philadelphia beat Pittsburgh 5-1. The Bucs' Dick Groat homered. Milwaukee, the major league one-season record. The National, which set the old record with 1,197 in 1953, now has 1,206 home runs. Milwaukee practically cinched second place, beating St. Louis 9-4 in the only other game scheduled.

Phoney Tickets Being Peddled For Big Fight

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Police reported they have a new possibility a gang was peddling counterfeit tickets to closed circuit television showings of Tuesday's heavyweight championship fight.

Acting detective Paul Marcette said it was believed phoney tickets were made from engravings taken from legitimate tickets. Ava Myers Jr., district director of internal revenue, said the intelligence division of the internal revenue service was beginning an investigation.

Norman Rothschild, president of the Arena Boxing Club, said he knew of four bogus tickets that turned up locally. He said they were made for entry to the closed circuit showing of the Rocky Marciano-Archie Moore fight which Rothschild is promoting at the State Fair Coliseum here.

Police said they understood similar tickets had showed up in Buffalo and Detroit for local showings in those cities. According to Rothschild, Buffalo received three hundreds of legitimate $3.50 tickets. In Buffalo police arrested three bogus tickets for a theatre television showing of the fight had been found.

Quash Charges Against Pitchers

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Two pitchers for the Syracuse Chiefs have been acquitted of disorderly conduct charges in connection with the beating of a sports writer.

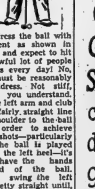
Normile A. Hannon of the Syracuse Post-Standard charged that the two International League baseball players had attacked him in a tavern early June 23 and that he had suffered a broken nose and cuts and bruises of the head.

Farrell testified that Hannon had made a move to start the fight. Morehead testified that he had not taken part in the fight but had tried to break it up.

Hannon never had written a story about the Chiefs for his newspaper.

'Gen' Rickey



MEADVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Branch Rickey, general manager of the last-place Pittsburgh Pirates, said Friday he wouldn't trade his pitching staff for that of any other National League club.

Rickey modestly predict the winner of the American League pennant, but he said it looks like New York or Cleveland.

He added:

"Brooklyn can beat either one of them."

Sam Snead's Golf School

You can't address the ball with both elbows bent as shown in today's drawing and expect to hit the ball. An awful lot of people are growing this error daily! No, the left arm must be reasonably straight at address. Not stiff, rigid, or tense, you understand. Furthermore the left arm and club should form a fairly straight line from the left shoulder to the ball at address. In order to achieve this on most shots—particularly woods where the ball is played far forward, off the left heel—it's necessary to have the hands slightly ahead of the ball. Throughout the swing the left arm remains pretty straight until, of course, the end of the follow-through, when it bends into a 90-degree angle. Meanwhile, the right arm at address is also fairly straight, though not quite as much so as the left. It's also very relaxed. The right shoulder dips a little lower than the left at address simply because the right hand is lower on the shaft of the club.

Canadian Football Roundup

Toronto Argonauts may not yet be ready to admit it, but so far they have shown that money doesn't necessarily buy a winner in the Big Four football setup.

They have played three league games so far and all that their money has got them is the most costly rebuilding job in Canadian football history has been one victory.

This, more than the fact that Montreal and Hamilton are battling it out again for first place and Ottawa has a big edge in carrying power, holds top interest as the league heads into the second quarter of the schedule.

The spending spree isn't over yet either. The disastrous start has caused team manager Harry Sonshine to start his strong-arm quest for more imports.

He obtained four new Americans in recent days and at least three of them will probably be in the lineup when Argos clash with Ottawa Rough Riders in Toronto today.

This battle sends the loser into the cellar with the winner nipping into a second-place tie with the team that is beaten in the clash between the Montreal Alouettes and Hamilton Tiger-Cats at Montreal. Argos and Rough Riders now are deadlocked for last with one win and two losses while the Tiger-Cats and Alouettes are deadlocked for the lead with two wins in three starts.

In other eastern football action Sarnia Imperials will be playing two games this weekend. They meet Ontario Loggers today for an exhibition game against the University of Western Ontario Mustangs and the following day meet Toronto Balmy Beach in scheduled Ontario Rugby Football Union tilt in Toronto.

Argonauts' new imports who'll likely see action are Bruno Bancilori, wingback from San Francisco '49ers; tackle Ed Fouch from UCLA, and end Jim Hanifan from the Chicago Cardinals. The Scullers' other new American, fullback Jim Shipley from Clemson College, only arrived Thursday and it's doubtful whether he'll be ready.

MAY LOSE PODRES

BROOKLYN (AP) — Johnny Podres, Brooklyn southpaw who injured his ribs when he ran into the batting cage before the Dodgers left for their western trip, may not see action in the world series.

Though x-rays taken Thursday were negative, Podres was in such pain Friday it is not likely he will pitch for a week.

Edmonton Eskimos seek their seventh straight victory this season in Western Interprovincial Football Union play tonight and they may go into the game without quarterback Jackie Parker.

Parker was in hospital in Edmonton recovering from a serious strep throat infection Friday when his team left for Regina where they meet the second-place Saskatchewan Roughriders.

Meanwhile, Winnipeg Blue Bombers, fresh and hungry after scoring their first victory in six starts this season by defeating Saskatchewan last Monday night, go to Vancouver to meet British Columbia Lions, in third place, two points behind Saskatchewan.

Eskimos will sorely miss Parker, Mississippi State quarterback whose deceptive ball handling, running, passing and punting have been a major factor in the spilt-T Esks six-game win streak. It has helped put them in first place, four points up on Riders.

In his place, Edmonton will play Don Getty, who starred with the University of Western Ontario Mustangs in eastern college play last year, and Ray Willsey, Saskatchewan-born backfielder who came to Esks from the University of California.

The Riders aren't at full strength either. Coach Frank Filchock said centre Tom Wozniak, and Harry Langenbrunner, and half Bill Todd are out with serious injuries.

Riders also may miss end Stan Williams, who is broken toe and guard Mario DeMarco, suffering an injured leg.

Injuries also plague the Lions who expect lineman Walt Cyr and John Cvitanovich to miss tonight's contest because of knee injuries.

'Hardrock' Atkins Steals Show Vanquishes Vons, Loses Match

By GARRY ALEXANDER

The "Hardrock from Australia" Fred Atkins proved himself too rugged a fellow for the Vons at Memorial Arena last night. He and his partner Doug Hepburn, gave Fritz Von Erich and Karl Von Schober a trouncing but failed to cop the official decision when Atkins jumped the ropes to the alleged referee Sam Godder and was promptly disqualified.

Atkins took plenty of the usual Von dirty work but came back strong with some decidedly roughy rough treatment. The German team took the first fall but the second Atkins walked off with the middle session.

Heighten-ed for the 'heroes' in this final fall but Herrs Fritz and Karl worked him into their corner and went to work. Erich fastened the tag rope around his neck while buddy Schober stood by ed his midsection with a number of well-placed kicks.

Freddie charged into the ring and the fireworks broke loose as all four locked head away. Atkins finally recovered from the strangling attack and managed to himself into a roaring wildman. He heaved Schober over the prone to the apparent floor and quickly followed up with Erich.

Godder attempted to control him while the Vons dragged themselves back into the ring but received a bust in the beak for his effort. Atkins and Hepburn then turned their affections on the Vons again and clobbered them with everything in sight before tossing them out for the second time. Atkins picked himself up and once more tried to quiet the "Hardrock," and this time Atkins really dinged him. That was it. Godder crawled across the mat, fell to the floor with the Vons and lifted their hands in a sign of triumph.

It took the "Terrible Teutons" ten minutes to grab the first fall. They worked for some time trying to get Atkins in their corner. Fred scampered away and back in to deal some punishing blows, much to the discontentment of the Germans. Hepburn had Erich in a bad way several times with a back-breaking bearhug while all four charged about in wild confusion at times. Atkins finally fell victim to the Von treatment in the corner and Erich finished him off with a body-press.

Atkins was out for revenge in the second fall, clashing with Erich to open activities. Wild mayhem broke loose with everyone getting into the act with Hepburn and then Atkins weakening Erich with beerhugs. Fred wrapped it up in seven minutes with a Boston Crab. Schober hollered and screamed for minutes after the fall, claiming the winners had used tactics unbecoming to such a clean, wholesome sport, but matters were even at a fall for a fifth team.

His Di Paino gained victory over Pat Fraley in the semi-windup, pinning the big Irishman in 11 minutes. This was a crowd-pleaser all the way with both boys handing out plenty of rugged treatment, no holds barred.

Pressure On Harvey Ward In Golf Tourney

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The pressure was on Harvey Ward, Jr., Raleigh, N.C. Korean-old San Francisco automobile salesman met tall, greying William Hyndman III of Philadelphia in the finals of the 55th U.S. amateur golf tournament.

You might think it would be the other way, but look:

Ward has tried for the title every year since 1947. He made the quarter finals then and the fifth round in 1950. Hyndman has never been from the start. Every one of his opponents was bearing down.

Hyndman, the outsider who has had a wealth of golfing experience, was virtually ignored until he began knocking off favorites. He was pleased as a new parent when he reached the quarter finals because that meant he'll get to play in the Masters at Augusta, Ga. Even if he loses, Bill has had his day of glory. He's been playing golf after only a couple of 36-hole days, but he's happy as a lark.

Even little Bill Boos of Bridgeport, Conn., a nonentity in big-time golf until this week, got the pressure on Ward in Friday's semi-finals. He scrambled, said pressure puts and carried Harvie to the 36th before yielding 4 and 3 to Hyndman. Robbins, who had been expected to do well, collapsed in front of Hyndman's steady play. The Philadelphia insurance man had a fairly easy 4 and 3 victory.

Five Peterborough Players Signed by Senior B Club

Under a new regulation adopted by the Ontario Hockey Association at a recent special meeting last night, the Belleville senior hockey club can sign as many Peterborough players as they desire, aside from the five imports allowed senior "B" clubs.

Signed to Belleville certificates are Tootie Greenham, Bill McMaster, Gus Leonard, Bert Hill and Chesa Pyrie, manager "Red" Doran announced today.

The OHA new regulation permits senior "B" clubs to sign players of another club which has been granted "leave of absence" for a season. The Whitby Dunlops, it is stated have signed the Peterborough pair, Jack Deeley, and former playing coach Schuneman, Eddie Redmond.

The Belleville club sought the services of both players but were informed both had been acquired by the Whitby club.

If the club avails itself of the four imports, it will means that some nine new faces will be seen wearing Belleville colors this year. The manager is seeking the services of an outstanding goalie.

It is stated that Whitby is questing the services of Ted DeGray but the player must necessarily obtain his releases from the former Memos.

No name has as yet been selected for the city entry.

President Jack Ball attended, Manager "Red" Doran will represent the club at the Eastern Ontario group meeting in Kingston tomorrow afternoon.

Arena commission chairman Alderman Claude D. Tice was delegated to represent the Belleville club at the OHA meeting. Mr. Tice requested the Intelligencer to thank all players signed. This is a departure from the former ruling which permitted only three players to be waived.

Shamrocks Whip Trailermen 14-5; Take 2-1 Lead

VICTORIA (CP)—Victoria Shamrocks took a 2-1 lead in the Mann Cup lacrosse series, here Friday night as they laced Peterborough Trailermen 14-5 before more than 5,000 fans.

Shamrocks, establishing themselves as solid favorites to win the senior lacrosse championship, led only 3-1 at the quarter but held the visitors scoreless while running the count to 6-1 at the half.

The fired - up Rocks whipped seven goals past Moon Wootton in the third quarter and at one time boasted a 13-2 lead.

Nine Shamrocks figured in the scoring, with hard-working Pee Wee Bradshaw leading the way with three counters. Larry Boots, Whitey Severson and Bob Dobbie each scored twice. Mike Kam and Tony d'Amico were standouts for Trailermen and shared four of their goals.

Fourth game of the best-of-seven series goes Monday night and the fifth is set for Wednesday.

ROUGH ALL THROUGH

The game was rough all the way. Trailermen drew numerous penalties in penalties while Shamrocks drew 13.

Harry Wipper of Peterborough was thumbed for five minutes in the second period after touching off a brawl with Severson.

Ten minutes of play-time penalties flared again and Bob Dobbie and Curly Mason act out a major fighting.

Wootton turned aside 29 shots in the Trailermen nets while 19 in the second quarter. Geordy Johnston blocked 26 for Shamrocks.

Bill Hildebrand, high - scoring Trailerman, was held to one assist as Jake Proctor, acquired from the Mount Pleasant Indians in Vancouver, continued his shadow tactics that have completely handcuffed the easterner.

Solmar Notes

Industrial Pollution

INDUSTRIAL POLLUTION

There is a stream is central Pennsylvania called Loyalsock Creek. The lower end of this stream flows about a good stone's throw from my house. It is a lovely thing, the Loyalsock, and it winds through a pleasant and picturesque valley that stays in your memory, once you have driven through it.

Years ago, 50 years or more, this stream held a bountiful supply of big brook trout. Then two things happened—three, really. First the mountains were lumbered. This created fast run-off and the waters of the stream grew warm in the summer sun. No longer would the brook trout breed in such high temperatures. They simply disappeared.

The state stocked the stream with brown trout and later with rainbow. The fishing was plentiful in the lower end of the Loyalsock and the trout grew large and fat.

RUIN BY WATER

Then an enterprising mine owner in the upper valley dug a tunnel through a mountain in order to drain the lower levels of his coal mine. The acid water from this and one of the upper branches of the Loyalsock.

To complete matters still further, an acid factory was built on the banks of that same branch and one of the main streams, before it runs into the stream. In a short time, the Loyalsock was a biological desert, devoid of life of any kind.

Now and again accumulated rains in heavy rains would break through its barrier and carry with it sweepings from the culm banks of the coal mine. This charge of poison would find its way into the main stream, coloring the water as black as ink and killing for 10 miles downstream.

The fishermen and the riparian owners raised such a hue and cry that in due course the pollutions and, through them, the state authorities found the culprits and the Loyalsock under serious consideration. Now the stream flows again, again, furnishing fishing, bathing and outdoor recreation for thousands.

DAMAGE NOT UNDONE

To the casual observer, the damage has been undone and things are back to normal. Such, however, is far from being the actual state of affairs.

When pollution occurs in a stream, of course many fish die and these can be seen drifting with the current. What are not seen by the casual observer are the thousands, the millions, of tiny stream-bottom insects, crustaceans and minnows killed by this same pollution.

It is a fairly simple matter to restock a stream with fish. Conversely, rehabilitation of a stream bed with the countless aquatic creatures which normally live there is a job that can not be done by the state fish department. Only nature can repair that bottom life and that takes a long, long time.

To give you some idea, it has been estimated that there are about 2,000 varieties of May flies in the world, obviously, no state biologists can duplicate the original supply or the early larvae, available to quantity or variety. Complicate that still further with caddis, dipters, springtails, etc., and you can see that even the pollution damage is an extremely serious thing, not to be undone in a hurry.

In the United States today there are more than 10,000 separate plants that discharge acid wastes into our streams. About 8,000 of these discharge waste materials that decompose just as city sewage does, removing oxygen from the water.

POLLUTION BIG PROBLEM

The discharge from these 8,000 plants is equal to the pollution effect by sewage that would be created by 110,000,000 people. Add to this the 10,000 tons of mine acid that goid into our streams each day, not to mention harmful byproducts of pulp and paper mills, rubber and fibre factories, steel mills, refineries, etc., and you can begin to realize the extent of the pollution problem.

Many of the plants and factories have installed or are installing treatment plants which render these harmless when discharged into public waters. This, however, is a long and an expensive rubber and fibre factories, steel mills, refineries, etc., and you can begin to realize the extent of the pollution problem.

Red Wings Wallop Leafs 12-4 Despite Limmer's Homer Trio

By BILL SENIK

Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP)—Lou Limmer, 28-year-old slugging first baseman playing Maple Leafs, snapped his one-man assault on Rochester Red Wings Friday night—but only when he was forced into the lineup after hitting three homers.

As a result, Rochester is now advancing into its first little world series in 21 years are low today.

Leafs were humbled by the Wings before 8,230 fans in the second game of the International Baseball League baseball final, falling apart at the seams after Limmer left the contest when struck by a pitched ball in the eighth inning with the score Rochester a 2-0 bulge in the best-of-seven Governors' Cup final with the advantage of the next three games — Saturday, Sunday and Monday, if necessary — Rochester, where Toronto has won only four games this season.

SUCCESSIVE BLOWS

Limmer, a Toronto sparkplug since joining Leafs in mid-season, kept Toronto in the game Friday night, walloping successive solo homers in the second, fourth and sixth innings. The blows, all at the expense of Rochester pitcher Duke Markell, had given Leafs a 3-1 lead, erased when the Wings scored four runs in the seventh.

Trailing 5-3, Toronto had scored one run and had two men on base with none out in the eighth inning just before their first sacker was due for his fourth trip to the plate.

Markell was yanked in favor of Ed Ludwig and the Rochester southpaw threw only one pitch, striking Limmer on the right wrist and forcing him to retire from the game. Leafs appeared to fall apart after that and couldn't score another run in the eighth although the bases were loaded with none out.

The Wings made it a runaway, er loding for seven runs in the ninth inning.

Limmer, who led Leafs in homers during the regular schedule with 28, has knocked in six runs during the playoffs. The six-foot-two native of the Bronx, N.Y., plated 84 during the season—21 of them in 74 games with Toronto. He walloped 20 of the 31 total home runs for Leafs.

It was learned today he suffered no fracture but is a doubtful starter for tonight's game in Rochester.

Rochester's case was aided by a three-run homer by leftfielder Allie Clark in the sixth inning, following a base-empty clout by catcher Et ba St. Claire in the same frame.

Righthander Gary Blaylock probably will start tonight for the Wings, Governors' Cup and little world series winners in 1953. Either lefty Ken Johnson, 14-10, or righthander Eddie Blake, 17-13 during the schedule and 2-0 in the playoffs, will work for Leafs.

Fans Give 'Beloved Bums' Hot Reception

NEW YORK (AP) — Brooklyn loves its Dodgers—especially when they win—and it demonstrated that fact of life Friday.

More than 750,000 yipping, yelling fans jammed downtown Brooklyn to give the team a full-throated, warm-hearted salute.

The National League champions, all 34 of them along with their coaches, in 25 open cars along the victory parade march.

"We have a great team. It's the greatest in Dodger history. And I know what every fan knows. This is, they are going to sweep the world series, and bring a world championship back to Brooklyn."

Orfuns' Timely Homer Snatches Win From Point Anne in Finals Thriller

By GEO. H. CARVER

Sports Editor

In a down-to-the-last-ditch homer-packed thriller, Bob Feather's Belleville Orfuns snatched a 4-3 victory from Point Anne last night to grab a two-game lead in their best-of-five city football finals and the Bill Ott Trophy.

Orfuns won the first of the series, another thriller, 5-3 count. The date of the third game was not announced last night.

Home runs played an important part in Orfuns' victory. Their first inning deep ball, centre smash by Vern Geyer gave them a 2-run lead while Bobby Hunter's mammoth left foul-line clout in the eighth gave them the winning margin after the Pointers had grabbed a belated eighth-inning 3-2 lead.

It was a familiar hurling duel between ace pitchers of both squads with Pat Marzelo going the route for the Pointers, giving up eight hits, walking two and whiffing five while starter Bobby Green tossed hitless ball for four innings. He allowed but two hits up to the eighth when two straight walks with none out saw Manager Bradford rush Bob Feather into the breach to quell the threatened Point uprising. Green walked seven and struck out five while Feather was handed the two remaining pair of clouts but won the game with his two-run four-baser.

Feather and Green was credited with the victory. It was a royal battle after Orfuns went two up on Geyer's first-inning homer. Smart fielding featured the battle with both teams pulling off twin-killings, Green's lone Orfuns' error paved the way for the Point's first run in the sixth when a bad throw to first erased Gerry Goyer who had hit safely.

The Pointers snatched a 3-3 lead in the sixth after Orfuns had been wearing Belleville colors ice-free. The maneuver is seeking the services of an outstanding goalie.

It is stated that Whitby is questing the services of Ted DeGray but the player must necessarily obtain his releases from the former Memos.

No name has as yet been selected for the city entry.

Boxing Crowd Picks Marciano To Defeat Challenger Moore

By MURRAY ROSE

GROSSINGER, N.Y. (AP) — A heavy majority of boxing's fighters, trainers and managers pick heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano to beat Archie Moore in their title fight Tuesday night at Yankee Stadium.

Some hedge somewhat by saying Moore will be "dangerous for five or six rounds" but if it goes beyond that it will be curtains for the 38-year-old light-heavyweight king.

Manager Jack (Doc) Kearns and ex-manager Tex Sullivan, now matchmaker at New York's St. Nicholas Arena, were the only ones of some 20 boxing men polled who pick Moore to win.

"Moore has a good chance of beating him up," said Sullivan. "He'll win if it goes all the way and he could take it by a K.O. if he hits Rocky right."

"Archie will win after a rough, tough fight," said Kearns. "They'll both be on the floor before it's over. Archie will win on his superior boxing and experience."

"Rocky will wear that guy down until there'll be nothing left of him," said Abe Attell, a featherweight champion of long ago. "I've never seen any heavyweight who throws punches like Marciano does for 15 rounds. He's the most tireless heavyweight ever."

"Rocky is just too powerful," said former light - heavyweight champion Bobby Gilin.

"I was never myself and go for boxers," said Billy Graham, recently retired welterweight contender. "But how can you go against Rocky? He's too strong and Archie's too old."

Dan Florio, who trained Jersey Joe Walcott and others who fought Marciano, chose Rocky by a knockout. He, too, however, gives Moore a chance by a decision.

AT THE McCARTHY

Actor Jose Ferrer has successfully faced his toughest director—himself.

During the filming of Universal-International's "The Shrike," opening Sunday at the McCarthy Theatre, he fought a daily battle with his divided personality.

"The actor in me said one thing," he confided, "and the director across the continues quite another. I tried to let the director win, but I'm not always certain he did."

Ferrer's versatility is a byword in show business, has directed numerous Broadway productions but has never before mentored a motion picture. He also stars in the film version of "The Shrike" with June Allyson.

Ferrer reported that his most difficult task, as a director, was to see himself in the proper perspective when he changed position and moved in front of the cameras.

To facilitate his dual chores, the "Oscar" winning Ferrer engaged a one-time Broadway actor Leon Charles, to serve as dialogue director and also to be, so to speak, his alter ego.

While he was preparing a scene, in a directorial capacity, he arranged for Charles to not only read his own lines, but also to go through each of the various pieces of business Ferrer intended to use for the action.

"It was the only way I could see myself with any reasonable sort of perspective," he declares. "But it's a little unnerving at the same time. Leon was so good in the part there's no reason he couldn't be doing it for the camera."

"The Shrike" was adapted for the screen from the Pulitzer Prize winning play by Joseph Kramm.

AT THE CAPITOL — Elroy "Crazylegs" Hirsch and Barbara Hale are paired in "Unchained", produced by Hall Bartlett for Warner Bros., opening Monday at the Capitol Theatre for its first district showing. Chester Morris appears in the film as Kenyon J. Scudder, founder of California's famed "prison without bars" at Chino. The film introduces Todd Duncan. On the same program Humphrey Bogart stars in "The Enforcer."

AT THE BELLE—Fred MacMurray, Barbara Hale, are co-starred with Charlton Heston and Donna Reed in "The Far Horizons" now at the Belle Theatre. Blending rousing action, romance and high adventure, the film reveals the story of the Lewis and Clark expedition through the northwest and of the Indian girl who made it possible, and has been produced in VistaVision and Technicolor.

THEATRE FEATURE TIMES

1.50-1.85-7.15-10.30.

AT THE BELLE — "The Far Horizons" Fred MacMurray, Charlton Heston, Donna Reed, Barbara Hale, in VistaVision and Technicolor — 1.55-4.45-7.35-10.25.

Cozy Story of Terror Will Introduce Hitchcock to TV

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A rich man is returning from Florida to New York in his car. He collides with a bulldozer, smashes a prison truck, kills two guards.

The man is completely paralyzed except for a finger on his left hand. He is presumed dead and taken to the morgue, his body resting on his left hand.

This chilling situation is meat for the macabre mind of Alfred Hitchcock and it's one of the dramas that will introduce the famed director to television audiences. He'll begin the Alfred Hitchcock series on CBS Sunday, Oct. 4.

Hitchcock was supervising the filming of the drama at Republic Studios. The interior was being wheeled into position, an auto was being jacked up to look like a wreck and Joseph Cotten stood by ready to assume his role as the paralyzed driver.

NICE COZY STORY

"This is the kind of story we'll present," Hitchcock remarked. "A nice, cozy story of terror with a little twist at the end."

Will he appear in the stories, as he does with all his feature films?

"No," he replied. "I'll appear as host, introducing the stories in a rather light manner. You know, something like, 'We have a nice little murder for you tonight.'"

Hitchcock, who has presented nice little murders in films like "Dial M for Murder," "Rear Window" and "To Catch a Thief," is directing three to six of the 39 films. The others will be done in the Hitchcock manner, but by others.

SAME METHODS

He is using the same methods he uses for features—making drawings of each shot before filming begins. But there's a big difference. The TV shows are shot in three days.

"I hope Paramount and Warners don't hear about this," he said.

They'll say, 'Hmmm, a 30-minute show in three days. Then why a 90-minute show for us in 93 days?'"

There's a lot of difference of course. You have to cut a lot of corners in TV. The emphasis is not so much on quality."

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars:

FOR MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1955

March 21 to April 19 (Aries)—Generous aspects from major planets. A fortunate date to begin a new and profitable week. No need to strain or worry but do keep sensibly busy, active for gain, profit.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Your Venus and other planets well positioned, favor trades, manufacturing, building, artistic professions, research and science. A responsive day for all worthwhile undertakings.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—This day may not be wholly inspiring for creative and ingenious ideas and promotions but it is a good period for bound matters, hard work, study, handling large and small businesses.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—So many nice things favored today; difficult matters, too. Those in all walks of life are under fine aspects.

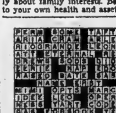
July 24 to August 23 (Leo)—A heart truly great and generous is also compassionate. This is a splendid thought for today as you ponder and achieve. There are fine opportunities and fresh advantages for you now. Apply yourself intelligently.

August 23 to September 23 (Virgo)—Heed advice to Gemini. Your outlook is similar now. If you don't worry or overdo, you can have a profitable day and week. Be serene; strive for harmony as well as material gain. Pray when troubled.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra) — Taurus and Cancer indications are similar to yours today. Be acquisitive, but don't seek the unreasonable. Fresh openings for the go-getter in trades, professions, artistic lines.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio) — A big day for big accomplishment if you are in good health. Don't fear to try new tasks but do be careful not to undertake more than you can reasonably handle. Profits possible.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius) — Friendly rays from other planets than your Jupiter can work to your benefit. Money isn't everything. Work for improvements; better the quality of your output. Good going!



December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn) — This day may not be entirely easy for some laborious undertakings, handling machinery, tools. But careful planning, without worry or strain, will put you in the winning class. Be alert.

January 23 to February 20 (Aquarius) — Favorable rays for matters pertaining to business, work, home. But, remember, prudent pauses aid business, promote success. Seek good advice.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces) — This day is so promising and encouraging it should stymie all doubt, fear and discouragement. Be your intuitive, keen self and read the harvest that is possible.

Plan wisely for the whole week.

YOU BORN TODAY have fine reasoning faculties and usually take the middle road in all activities, avoiding extremes. You are imaginative, intuitive, artistic and know how to keep confidences. You pay attention to details and wait patiently to solve problems. You are usually quick to recover from reverses and will, with faith, seek new objectives and high aims; are sensitive to pain, often suffer with others in illness and often worry needlessly about health matters. Be fair to your own health and assets.

BY VIRTUE OF A WARRANT issued by the Warden under the Seal of the County of Hastings, to me directed, I, the undersigned, Treasurer, hereby give the Twenty-fifth day of October, 1955, at the hour of 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at the Court House in the City of Belleville, in the County of Hastings, I will sell the lands mentioned in the following list for arrears of taxes and costs due thereon, hereby give notice that unless such arrears of taxes and costs are sooner paid, I shall pursue the several directions of the Assessment Act, proceed to sell by Public auction the said lands for the payment of the said taxes and costs, at Shire Hall, in the City of Belleville, on the Twenty-fifth day of October, 1955, beginning at 10 o'clock in the forenoon.

DATED at Belleville this 15th day of September, 1955.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that if any of the said lands are not redeemed as aforesaid sale will be held on Tuesday, the Eighth day of November, 1955, at the same time and place at which the Municipalities may receive the right to purchase any of said lands.

CECIL E. JENVEY,
Clerk-Treasurer.

Belleville, Ontario,
July 28, 1955.

LAWYER

Mr. Norris, who withdrew as Mr. Mulligan's lawyer "for personal reasons," said the story referred to himself and his daughter, who had a nervous breakdown while taking medical training. He said she had recovered and now is interning in another city.

Mr. Norris said he went to Toronto to talk to his daughter.

"She insisted that I do my duty as a member of my profession and expose this blackmailer regardless of any embarrassment or difficulty that might be caused to her."

He charged that Mr. Munro and his counsel, lawyer Neil Fleishman, had intimidated two police officers who later shot themselves —one fatally.

The reference to "other people's problems," Mr. Norris said, "is an effort to suggest again the lying statement made by his counsel, Fleishman, to Supt. Harry Whelan that I had intended to cross-examine the superintendent about the suicides of his father and his daughter."

Supt. Whelan committed suicide by gunshot Aug. 3, three hours before he was to appear as a commission witness. Det. - Sgt. Len Cuthbert had also committed suicide the same way earlier, wounding himself badly.

"It must never be forgotten that Ray Munro intimidated Cuthbert and Cuthbert died by suicide—that Munro's counsel intimidated Supt. Whelan and Whelan then shot himself.

SAY CASUAL TIES

Friday Brig.-Gen. Dalmiro Videla Balaguer, described by the government radio as the leader of the rebellion, proclaimed a provisional government at Cordoba and blamed Peron for "many deaths." Loyalist troops were flown to Cordoba and immediately engaged rebel forces in the city's main square, reports from the scene said.

CAPITAL QUIET

A "regime of repression" headed by Army Minister Maj.-Gen. Franklin Lucero was named Friday to cope with the uprising. A 4:30 p. m. curfew was decreed and a state of siege, previously in effect only in Buenos Aires, was extended to the entire country.

Quiet violence was reported in Buenos Aires itself, contrasting with the June 16 revolt when the major fighting centred here. But anti-aircraft guns were manned in the city, artillery batteries were set up in the port area and all bridges were heavily guarded.

Support of the Argentine fleet was claimed by both the loyalists and rebels, but most of it was reported on manoeuvres in the Atlantic about 600 miles south of Buenos Aires when the revolt flared. One unconfirmed rebel report Friday night claimed the fleet was heading for Buenos Aires in combat formation.

Reports from Montevideo said two Argentine destroyers reached there Friday with five dead and 32 wounded after clashes with pro-Peron aircraft off Buenos Aires.

FIFTH UPRISING

Four conspiracies against Peron were reported between June 15 revolt and Friday's uprising.

Videla Balaguer, named by the government as the rebel leader, was accused nine days ago of plotting a revolt at the Rio Cuarto army base, 350 miles west of Buenos Aires. A report last week that he had been arrested recently was erroneous.

There were no reports of activity by the General Confederation of Labor, which formerly claimed a 6,000,000 members to the government as a civil militia. The confederation was formed from one of the major bases of Peron's power.

CANADIAN BUDDHIST DIES

MILL VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—Sandor Alex White, one of the first North Americans to become a Buddhist clergyman, died at his home Friday after a long illness. He was 68. A Canadian veteran of the First World War, he came to the United States in 1920 and later studied in Japan before being ordained in the Buddhist faith.

HOCKEY'S HALL

Jim recently was about ready to admit that his memorial project was doomed. The Hall-of-Fame committee has received about $87,-000 in donations and contributions since 1943. The job can't be done for that price. Estimates range up to $150,000. Mr. Sutherland was ready to throw everything overboard.

Jim was born in Kingston, Oct. 10, 1870, and the fame of his love for the game always burned brightly.

He was one of the pillars upon which amateur hockey was built. He was a gangling defencemen playing organized hockey 70 years ago when scores of the ball's members were hockey fledglings; when nets were unheard of, upright posts served as a goal and goal judges signalled scores by upraised arms.

Mr. Sutherland was a defenceman of what was believed to be the first organized team in Canadian hockey — the Kingston Athletics of 1885. In 1887 he quit. That was four years after he married Ethel Mary Metcalfe.

Jim helped organize the Frontenac Hockey Club. He was manager and coach of the team and stayed with the club was disbanded in 1926 after winning several intermediate and Ontario titles.

"During that time," Jim said a couple of years ago, "I never took in over $1,000 in a season and it was never paid a cent."

He was elected to the executive of the Ontario Hockey Association in 1911. In 1915 and 1916 he was OHA president. He was elected president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association for four terms —from 1915 to 1918—the only man to hold that office so long.

Hockey organizations that donated portions of the $87,000 to the hall cut Jim off from further donations. The National Hockey League originally gave $25,000. It holds $30,-000 in trust for the hall fund but no one has made a move to put it to work.

Other donations came from the CAHA, private businessmen and the Amateur Hockey Association of the United States.

The country of Frontenac donated the land for the hall years ago. Then the Hall-of-Fame committee started negotiations to buy old Cooke's church here. The deal collapsed.

"Two years ago Big Jim said he hoped "the Hall-of-Fame building will be finished before I go to the little plot of land I bought in the cemetery."

It isn't.

Life a Struggle, Struggle Good, Is Father's View

PRINCESS ANNE, Md. (AP) — When Grant Bartholomew Martin, 21, receives his bachelor's degree from Maryland State Teachers College at Bowie next spring, he will be the 10th member of his family to receive a college degree.

It will also mark the end of Louis Martin's dream of educating his entire family. Grant is the youngest of 13 children of Mr. and Mrs. Martin and his sheepskin will be the 13th in the Negro family. Three of them hold master's degrees.

The event will be all the more unusual in that Louis Martin, the father, has worked most of his 66 years for not more than $30 a week. Most of his working life he earned about $20 a week.

The Martins' philosophy of life: "Life is a struggle. But it is good to have a struggle. It strengthens your character."

Drive Started To Collect Funds For Stricken

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — A drive has been started to collect funds for the polio-stricken family of Kenton Walsh, a farmer in nearby Durand.

Eight of the 14 Walsh children have been stricken with polio. Four are in hospital in Rockford and four are being cared for at home.

The drive is sponsored by a local television station and the Winnebago county chapter of the National Polio Foundation.

Stirling

STIRLING.— Mrs. Jim Wright began her duties as teacher at Wellman's public school.

Mrs. Walter Elliott was guest speaker Wednesday evening, at Deseronto United church when the W.A. entertained several groups. Mrs. James Hough accompanied Mrs. Elliott.

TO MARK ANNIVERSARY

At the initial meeting Tuesday evening of Laurel Rebekah Lodge No. 311, under the direction of the Noble Grand, Mrs. Morley Barlow, plans were completed for the 35th birthday party.

The local community hall has been rented for the occasion and the officers and past grands are having a special birthday ceremony under the guidance of Miss Evelyn Bailey, who resides in Peterborough, but is a valued lodge member. The birthday party will be for Rebekah members only and guest Rebekah members from other lodges.

Plans were also made for catering for the IODE banquet on September 29, and for the annual bazaar and tea on October 27. The bazaar is staged three weeks earlier than usual but it is hoped that the usual number of patrons will be in attendance.

Douglas Bolte, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bolte, had the misfortune to fracture his leg while playing rugby at the noon hour last Tuesday. He is a patient in the General Hospital, Belleville.

COMPLETES COURSE

F/O. J. A. Hermiston has successfully completed a special course at the RCAF Station, Clinton, Ontario, as a telecommunication officer and has been posted to Whitehorse, Yukon. F/O Hermiston took an air radio officers' course at Clinton, Ontario, and received his wings three years ago.

Mrs. Earl Eggleton, press secretary, Belleville Presbyterial, attended the fall executive meeting of the Belleville Presbyterial W.M.S., last Thursday at Wellington United church.

The Cubs resumed their meetings, Monday evening in Stirling public school. The leaders are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Irish, Mrs. Ken Hay and Mrs. Burton Woodbeck.

Mr. and Mrs. Carleton Wright recently entertained Mr. and Mrs. Sylvanus Mitts, of Ivanhoe.

Mrs. Bob Bastedo, who has spent the summer months at Bracebridge, has returned to the village.

Mrs. C. W. Thompson has been holidaying with her son at Sioux Lookout, Ontario.

Moments later two men slugged him. He came to and found the canvas bag was under his head. It contained $15,574 in cash.

Father of Three Blasted to Death With Shotgun

MAGOG, Que. (CP)—A 24-year-old father of three children was blasted to death with a shotgun Saturday night and police said they are holding a man with whom the victim had had a long-standing quarrel.

The shotgun blast, fired through a window of the lounge in the Mount Orford Golf Club, caught Gilles Murray in the back of the neck as he worked behind the bar. He fell dead amid a clutter of broken bottles and the screams of more than a score of persons attending the season's closing banquet at the club.

Held as a material witness in the death is Jeffery Lowther, 29, a Magog textile cagraver who, police said surrendered his rifle after the shooting with the statement: "I'm the guy you're looking for."

Lowther was taken to Montreal pending further investigation. At police request, an inquest was postponed until later this week.

In all cases of violent death in Quebec province, no charge can be laid until after an inquest.

Murray was employed as a gateman in the provincial government's Mount Orford Park since the beginning of the season and was working part time in the golf club's bar.

Police said a "long-standing feud" between Murray and Lowther reached a peak last year when Murray shot Lowther in the legs.

Murray was charged with attempted murder following the shooting, but the charge was later reduced to one of assault with intent to injure and he was given a one-year suspended sentence.

CHICAGO (AP)—A 26-day strike of some 40,000 CIO United Auto Workers at 13 International Harvester Co. plants in six states was settled Saturday, a company spokesman announced.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO, (CP) — Synopsis: A disturbance moving across northern Ontario today will bring cloudy skies and scattered showers today and Tuesday in most northern regions. Cool air will push down over the province as this storm moves eastward giving cloudy skies and scattered showers or thundershowers in southern regions, the severest. Hurricane of the current season is being watched closely for any tendency to move toward our forecast regions.

TORONTO (CP) — Seventeen thousand workers in five General Motors plants in Ontario went on strike today after their union rejected a company package offering them a version of the guaranteed annual wage.

The United Automobile Workers (CIO-CCL) said the best offer in the marathon negotiations preceding the auto-free left GM workers far behind employees of the corporation's main Canadian competitors.

The company described its 18-point package wrapped in a three-year contract as something the most progressive and far-reaching economic benefits in Canadian labor-management history.

The strike call takes in the 10,000-man Oshawa complex and the company in the midst of the changeover to 1956 automobiles: the Frigidaire plant in suburban Scarborough; the London diesel locomotive plant; the Windsor engine plant and the parts and foundry operations of the company in St. Catharines.

TOLD OF STRIKE

Negotiations ended a few minutes after 11 p. m. EDT, George Burt, Canadian director of the United Automobile Workers, walked from a meeting at 12:30 a. m. and said "The strike is on."

The 17-cent-an-hour package included an allowance of five cents an hour for the guaranteed annual wage plan and an across-the-board pay increase of five cents hourly. The average hourly wage for production workers now is $1.64 and for non-production workers about $1.46.

Louis Seaton, second-in-charge of personnel in the big General Motors parent corporation, said today his group is willing to meet union negotiators again Tuesday.

At a press conference after the strike started, company negotiations described their rejected proposals as "the largest offer ever made in Canada."

MATCHED U. S. PLAN

Mr. Burt, at a union-conducted press conference, said of the guaranteed-wage plan submitted by the company and accepted in principle by the union:

A statement issued by Mr. Burt said:

"General Motors made much in its negotiations that it was offering the limited guaranteed annual wage and an increase over the provisions paid by Ford of Canada, and will undoubtedly try to improve the position.

"But this does not lessen the validity of the union's contention that GM wage rates will remain below its competitors."

TWO ARE KILLED AS JET CRASHES ON BIG ISLAND

Plane Exploded On Hitting Ground

Two RCAF airmen, one of them a still unidentified aerial hitchhiker, and the other a Trenton pilot, met death early Sunday morning when their T-33 jet trainer crashed into a farm field on Big Island directly south of Point Anne.

Killed was Flying Officer Denis Henry Tanguay, 24, son of Joseph Tanguay, Ville LaSalle, Montreal, and brother of a man who had been given an aerial flight by Tanguay on a cross-country training flight from Portage La Prairie. The dead airman's name will be withheld until next of kin are notified.

SAW PLANE CROSS OVER

Two boys at Point Anne said they saw the plane cross over with its motor dead; seconds later an explosion lit the night sky as the plane exploded when it crashed into the field.

A farmer on Big Island notified Provincial Police at Picton who in turn notified Trenton Air Station. Ambulances and crash trucks from the station rushed to the scene.

The dead pilot was stationed at Trenton where he was being trained for a flying instructor. Sunday's flight from Portage La Prairie was his last flight before completing his course.

Squadron Leader Roy Woods, public relations officer for Trenton Station said the name of the other airman will not be given as he could not be released until it was certain next of kin had been notified.

The officer and the jet trainer had left Portage La Prairie on a cross country flight. Shortly before eight o'clock last night it radioed the Trenton Air Station control tower that it was over Belleville and it was thought at the air station the plane would be coming in for a landing shortly.

It was the last that was heard of the pilot and a half hour later it crashed on Big Island.

Conflicting reports as to the scene of the crash sent provincial police from Belleville to the Point Anne and Shannonville areas. Their search was called off when it was definitely established the plane had crashed on Big Island.

Thousands of Canadians Observe 15th Anniversary Battle of Britain

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

Thousands of Canadians commemorated the 15th anniversary of the Battle of Britain Sunday with solemn ceremonies, roaring aircraft and blaring bands, and one Canadian contributed a quiet but moving unveiling ceremony in an English remembrance church.

In Coventry, Hill, England, 12 stained glass windows were unveiled in memory of the Battle of Spitfire and Hurricane pilots who helped stem German bombers' thrusts from the key air base south of London.

A formation of CF-100 jet planes flew over the Parliament Buildings at Ottawa as Air Marshal G. O. Johnson took the salute in a colorful march-past of RCAF, air cadets and air force veterans. Air Marshal Johnson was commander of RCAF forces overseas in 1940-45.

In Montreal more than 1,000 air force personnel attended memorial church services.

Air Vice Marshal A. L. James, retired, commander of air defence command, placed a wreath at the cenotaph in the memorial park. Canadian airmen who gave their lives in the skies 15 years ago.

Air Marshal W. A. Curtis, former RCAF chief of staff, took the salute from the Union Sqdn. L. A. Curtis, jr., in Toronto's ceremonies, Sqdn. Ldr. Curtis is commander of the City of Toronto auxiliary squadron.

A parade of 630 RCAF members and air cadets took part in Winnipeg observances.

BULLETIN

BUENOS AIRES (Reuters)—President Juan Peron tonight offered to hand over the government to the army.

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP)—Argentina's President Juan Peron offered today to negotiate with rebel leaders. The Argentine state radio heard here said Army Minister Gen. Franklin Lucero read Peron's orders had invited the revolutionary command to start conversations.

The broadcast said the decision to confer with the rebels was taken after insurgent threat to bombard Buenos Aires and the city of Eva Peron.

Rebel naval forces had announced the bombardment of Mar Del Plata, a seaside resort town 250 miles southwest of Buenos Aires, and a threat to shell Eva Peron, an industrial city in the same province, only 25 miles away.

Claim and counterclaim from each side in the revolt marked the exact situation of the revolt, which began Friday.

The broadcast seeking negotiations, first heard here at 12:45 (11:45 a.m. EDT) was repeated regularly every few seconds after that. With the announced purpose of averting bloodshed, it asked that fighting cease at the present lines.

There was no immediate reaction from the rebel fleet in the River Plate.

The rebel radio said the port said Mar Del Plata had been shelled by the cruiser 17 de Nueve de Julio, shortwave broadcast said fighting began in the streets of Mar del Plata, which has a population of 100,000.

Another rebel broadcast declared that Bahia Blanca, capital of Buenos Aires province, will be bombarded shortly.

The reported assault on Mar Del Plata could be the curtain-raiser to the rebel oft-repeated threats to bombard Argentine port cities until president Juan Peron resigns.

ATTACK REBELS

The short wave broadcast, heard here by the rebel transmission, said port and oil depot installations in Mar Del Plata were hit by shells.

The Peron government said early today it had launched an attack on the rebel stronghold of Puerto Belgrano.

Buenos Aires went through its second consecutive night blacked out under the threat of rebel bombardment. The government took note of the insurgent threats, asserting that the capital should be considered an open city.

Rebel radio broadcasts have warned that Buenos Aires will come under naval and aerial attack unless Peron resigns. The rebels say the capital could not be considered an open city because it is defended by troops loyal to Peron.

Two deadlines set by the rebels for Peron's resignation passed Sunday without the promised attack.

Meanwhile, three big warships, presumably part of Argentina's strong navy, moved up the broad River Plate today. Their destination is Buenos Aires. Rebel controlled fleet of river warships has been standing by in the Plata, but unofficial reports said the river vessels are awaiting the support of the main units of the ocean fleet.

Both sides have claimed the loyalty of the fleet. Most of the larger ships were on manoeuvres in the Atlantic when the revolt started Friday.

One rebel broadcast said the fleet would shell Buenos Aires who the high revolutionary command made the decision. Another statement said weather conditions had prevented an attack.

Government broadcasts asserted that there is no doubt that the insurrectionary movement was patiently prepared with great foreign help and with "criminal international complicities."

Telephone communication with Argentina was disrupted Sunday afternoon, and correspondents in Buenos Aires were permitted to send out only government communiques and other official information.

Rebel forces in the vicinity of Bahia Blanca, a big port near Puerto Belgrano, cut the gas pipeline to Buenos Aires from the fields in southern Argentina. The government termed the move a "cowardly act" and appealed in housewives to use gas only for essential needs. Gas is widely used for industrial as well as household purposes in coal-short Argentina.

NATO Commitment and Home Defence Worry Government

OTTAWA (CP)—The government is caught in a jam between NATO commitments and home defence needs, some senior officials say.

The problem arises in this way:

Consensus among defence planners is that any future war will be swift and extremely violent, with both sides using all available nuclear weapons.

The main struggle would be between the United States and Russia, also bombers forces. Therefore, North America is the key to Western defence.

But 12 of the RCAF's 21 fighter squadrons are based in Europe as part of Canada's commitment to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. The commitment also includes an infantry brigade group.

Officials say it would be awkward for the government, long and strong supporter of NATO, to withdraw from this division from Europe, even though it feels the main threat in a war would be out of North America.

But a senior defence official put the problem this way:

"To the Canadian taxpayer it must appear quite illogical that we should continue to maintain ground and air forces in Europe in order to defend western Europe and yet at the same time be unable to provide adequate air defence resources all the forces required to be stationed in Canada for the defence of North America and be obliged to have United States forces stationed here."

The situation is considered to have changed radically since what it was five or six years ago when Canada contributed to NATO commitments. Then, before nuclear weapons and long-range bombers became plentiful, the main Communist threat was judged to be against western Europe.

The latest is by External Affairs Minister Pearson, outlined in an article in the October issue of the U.S. quarterly Foreign Affairs, published last week.

Mr. Pearson says the position of North America as an important to European defence as the stability of North defence is vital to stability in Europe.

Mr. Pearson put forward a similar view last January when he should examine changes in the vulnerability of various NATO areas as they occur and that his examination would involve increasing concentration interest in the continued security of North America as a whole.

It was indicated last spring that the government was also due to bringing more American armed forces, especially air force personnel, to Canada and display operating them as NATO forces. This would help to emphasize that Canada stands in light of Mr. Pearson's latest comments on the subject.

LONDON (Reuters)—Britain came close to fighting Japan as well as Nazi Germany in 1939, according to government documents published here today. Tension between Britain and Japan became so strong during the summer that on Aug. 31—just a month before war broke out—there was an Germany—a British foreign office memorandum declared Britain and Japan were in danger of "drifting into a war which neither country desired."

HURRICANE IONE SWEEPS INLAND OVER N.C. COAST

Torrential Rains Flood Streets and Highway

BULLETIN

RIVALS HAZEL

HATTERAS, N. C. (AP)—The U. S. weather bureau said today hurricane Ione, which whipped inland over North Carolina today, "may be compared with hurricane Hazel" which smashed into Ontario last October, killing 82 persons, most of them in the Toronto area.

HATTERAS, N. C. (AP)—Hurricane Ione swept inland over the North Carolina coast today and headed northward. Beaches and inland cities took a pounding from the violent winds and high tides.

The big storm headed for Virginia and hurricane warnings were up all the way from Wilmington, N. C., to Atlantic City, N. J. The rest of the east coast all the way to Provincetown, Mass., on the tip of Cape Cod was under hurricane alert.

Torrential rains flooded streets and highways, tore out communications lines isolating many communities and the high tides and pounding waves ate at the North Carolina beaches.

DAMAGE NOT SERIOUS

Ione came ashore just east of Morehead City, N. C., the state's second port. Telephone lines in the whirlwind area went out and stopped on the pavement facing north. The weather bureau at the front and left side folded like an accordion, spun into the air by the storm near Cherry point. She was travelling north northwest at 12-15 miles an hour and was expected to continue on a course between northwest and north for the next 12 hours. After that the storm was expected to veer to a more north northeast course.

Three Men, Girl Killed As Cars Meet Head On

Also Critically Injured Is Springbrook Youth

Four young persons were instantly killed and one other was critically injured when two cars collided head-on with terrific force on Highway 62 north of Bancroft late Saturday night.

Three of the dead, a girl and two young men, were from the Bancroft area, while the fourth man was from Peterborough.

Dead are: Miss Lois Vardy, 18, of Muscloer; Earl William Kerr, 21, of Fort Stewart; Thomas Kelly, 24, of L'Amable, and Wilfred Lyle Thackary, 27, of 166 Adelaide St., Peterborough.

In critical condition with internal and other injuries is Bert Rathson, 21, of Springbrook.

The accident which snuffed out the lives of the four young people and left a fifth critically injured occurred about eight miles north of Bancroft on a wide sweeping curve from which there is clear vision for a distance of a mile in both directions. Occupants of one car were believed to be returning to Bancroft from one of two Saturday night dance spots north of the village, while the other car was thought to be on its way to a dance.

ACCIDENT WITNESSED

An eye witness said the northbound car believed driven by Kelly with Thackary as passenger had turned out to pass another northbound car, when it crashed headon into the southbound vehicle driven by Kerr and containing Miss Vardy and Rathson as passengers.

Fronts of the two cars were crushed like accordions as the vehicles crashed almost in the centre of the highway.

Two of the victims including Rathson, who is critically injured, were thrown free of the smashed cars while the body of Kelly was pinned in the wreckage and could not be removed until the car was pried apart.

The force of the impact spun the northbound car around and it stopped on the pavement facing north. The southbound car, its front and left side folded like an accordion, spun into the air by the storm near Cherry point. She was travelling north northwest at 12-15 miles an hour and was expected to continue on a course between northwest and north for the next 12 hours. After that the storm was expected to veer to a more north northeast course.

Four-Day, 32-Hour Week Answer To Automation Says Union Head

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—A forecast of a labor demand for a four-day, 32-hour week and a huge range answer to automation in industry was made today by W. J. Smith, president of the International Brotherhood of Railway Employees (CCL).

Mr. Smith, opening the triennial convention of Canada's largest railway union, said the union's accepted annual wage sought by some unions is a necessary answer to automation, the use of automatic machines that take over manpower's work.

"The answer to the problem of automation must be in the industrial address, "is to be found in a reduction in the hours which constitute a normal work week.

"We must begin to consider seriously a four-day week and a five-day 32-hour week and organizing labor and management and others concerned work out long-range plans to cope with such situations as rail strike threats.

Mr. Smith was critical of the federal government on several points, including its handing to the provinces of jurisdiction over labor disputes involving transport and the way it has dealt with seasonal

Reds Renew Call For U.S. Troops To Leave Europe

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union is wasting no time in renewing its call for American troops to quit Europe in the wake of Russia's promise to return the Porkala naval base to Finland.

"There can be no doubt that the abolition of foreign military bases on foreign territory would be an important contribution to the cause of the relaxation of international tension, and would help to create the necessary conditions for ending the arms drive."

Foreign Minister Molotov is expected to take the same tack before the United Nations Assembly's opening Tuesday in New York, as well as in the Big Four foreign ministers' conference in Geneva next month.

In another phase of the cooperation drive, Soviet scientists are under way in the Soviet capital on the biggest international peaceful sweeping amnesty reducing or cancelling sentences of Soviet citizens convicted of collaboration with the Germans during the war. This is viewed also as a necessary prelude to the expected official announcement of amnesty for German war prisoners still held by Russia.

The amnesty decree by the president of the Supreme Soviet also said Soviet citizens who were exiled or deported for collaboration charges, or who fled abroad and served in "anti-Soviet organizations," could apparently also be cleared of guilt if they came back voluntarily "to an honest life of labor and (to) become useful members of the Socialist society." The decree applies to some 1,000 refugees appears part of the Communist drive for a big campaign to get such citizens home from abroad.

Union Rejects Company Package On Annual Wage

Negotiations End One Hour Before Walkout Called

TORONTO (CP) — Seventeen thousand workers in five General Motors plants in Ontario went on strike today after their union rejected a company package offering them a version of the guaranteed annual wage.

The United Automobile Workers (CIO-CCL) said the best offer in the marathon negotiations preceding the strike left GM workers far behind employees of the corporation's main Canadian competitors.

The company described the 10-point package wrapped in a three-year contract as offering the most progressive and far-reaching economic benefits in Canadian labor-management history.

The strike call takes in the 10,000-man Oshawa plant, with the company in the midst of the changeover to 1956 automobiles; the Fleetdale plant in suburban Scarborough; the London diesel locomotive plant; the Windsor engine plant and the parts and foundry operations of the company in St. Catharines.

TOLD OF STRIKE

Negotiations ended a few minutes after 11 p. m. EDT. George Burt, Canadian director of the United Automobile Workers, walked into a meeting at 12:20 a. m. and said "The strike is on."

The 17.6-cent-an-hour package included an allowance of five cents an hour for the guaranteed annual wage plan and an across-the-board pay increase of five cents hourly.

Average hourly wage for production workers now is $1.64 and for non-production workers about $1.46.

Louis Seaton, second-in-charge of personnel in the big General Motors plants corporation, said today his group is willing to meet union negotiators again Tuesday.

At a press conference after the strike started, company negotiators described their rejected proposals as "the largest offer ever made by any company."

Lowther was taken to Montreal pending further investigation. At police request, an inquest was postponed until later this week.

In all cases of violent death in Quebec province, no charge can be laid until after an inquest.

Murray was employed as a gatekeeper at the provincial government's Mount Orford Park since the beginning of the summer and was working part time in the golf club's bar.

Police said a "long-standing feud" between Murray and Lowther reached a peak last year when Murray shot Lowther in the legs.

Murray was charged with attempted murder following the shooting, but the charge was later reduced to one of assault with intent to injure and he was given a one-year suspended sentence.

Moments later two men slugged him. He came to and found the canvas bag gone. The paper bag was under his head. It contained $15,574 in cash.

Father of Three Blasted to Death With Shotgun

MAGOG, Que. (CP)—A 36-year-old father of three children was blasted to death with a shotgun Saturday night and police said they are holding a man with whom the victim had had a long-standing quarrel.

The shotgun blast, fired through a window of the lounge in the Mount Orford Golf Club, caught Gilles Murray in the back of the neck as he worked behind the bar. He fell dead amid a clatter of broken bottles and the screams of more than a score of persons attending the season's closing banquet at the club.

Held as a material witness in the death is Jeffery Lowther, 29, a Magog textile engraver who, police said surrendered to them shortly after the shooting with the statement: "I'm the guy you're looking for."

Lowther was taken to Montreal pending further investigation. At police request, an inquest was postponed until later this week.

Three Men, Girl Killed As Cars Meet Head On

Also Critically Injured Is Springbrook Youth

Four young persons were instantly killed and one other critically injured when two cars collided head-on with terrific force on Highway 62 north of Bancroft late Saturday night.

Three of the dead, a girl and two young men, were from the Bancroft area, while the fourth man was from Peterborough.

Dead are: Miss Lois Vardy, 18, of Muscliow; Earl William Kemp, 21, of Fort Stewart; Thomas Kelly, 24, of L'Amable, and Wilbert Lyle Thackary, 27, of 166 Adelaide St., Peterborough.

In critical condition with internal and other injuries is Bill Rallison, 21, of Springbrook.

The accident which snuffed out the lives of the four young people and left a fifth critically injured occurred about eight miles north of Bancroft on a wide sweeping curve from which a driver has a vision for a quarter of a mile in both directions. Occupants of one car were believed to be returning to Bancroft from one of two Saturday night dance spots north of the village, while the other car was thought to be on its way to a dance.

ACCIDENT WITNESSED

An eye witness said the northbound car believed driven by Kelly with Thackary as passenger just started to pass another northbound car, when it crashed headon into the southbound vehicle driven by Kerr and containing Miss Vardy and Rallison as passengers.

Frosts of the two cars were folded like accordions as the vehicles crashed almost in the centre of the highway.

Two of the victims including Rallison, who is critically injured, were thrown free of the smashed cars while the body of Kelly was pinned in the wreckage and could not be removed until the car was pried apart.

The force of the impact spun the southbound car around and it stopped on the pavement facing north. The rear end, front end left side folded like an accordion. The car was then ditch and turned on its side. The wrecked car had to be turned over. Some of the victims could be freed.

BROTHER CAME ON SCENE

Fred Rallison of O'Amable, brother of the injured boy, came on the accident in another car moments after the crash and was shocked to find his younger brother lying on the roadside. His head was thrown from one of the wrecked cars. He walked for an ambulance and took his brother to hospital at Bancroft.

NATO Commitment and Home Defence Worry Government

OTTAWA (CP)—The government is caught in a jam between NATO commitments and home defence needs, some senior officials say.

The problem arises this way:

Consensus among defence planners is that any future war will be short and extremely violent, with both sides using all available nuclear weapons.

The main struggle would be between the United States and Russian bomber forces. Therefore, North America is the key to Western defence.

But 12 of the RCAF's 21 fighter squadrons are based in Europe as part of Canada's commitment to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. This commitment also includes an infantry brigade group. Officials say it would be awkward for the government, long and strong supporter of NATO, to withdraw from any division from Europe, even though it feels the main threat in total war would be against North America.

One senior defence official put the problem this way:

"To the Canadian taxpayer it must appear quite illogical that we should continue to maintain ground and air forces in Europe to help defend western Europe and yet at the same time be unable to provide adequate forces or resources all the forces required to be stationed in Canada to defend North America and be obliged to have United States forces stationed here."

The situation is considered to have developed radically since when it was five or six years ago when the commitments were first undertaken. Then, before nuclear weapons and long-range bombers became plentiful, the main Communist threat was judged to be against western Europe.

The latest is by External Affairs Minister Pearson's office had an article in the October issue of the United States Foreign Affairs, published last week.

Mr. Pearson says the protection of North America is as important to European defence as the stationing of North American troops in Europe.

Mr. Pearson put forward a similar view last January when he should examine changes in the vulnerability of various NATO areas so they can accept and that his examination would include increased European interest in the continued security of North America as a whole.

It was indicated last spring that the government has also been bringing more American armed forces, especially air force personnel, to Canada for duty and dealing them as NATO forces. This practice, officials say, still stands in light of Mr. Pearson's latest comments on the subject.

CAME CLOSE

LONDON (Reuters) — Britain came close to fighting Japan as well as Nazi Germany in the last months of campaigning, government documents published here today. Tension between Britain and Japan became so strong during the summer that Aug. 9—just a month before Japan surrendered to Germany—a British foreign office memorandum declared Britain and Japan were in danger of "drifting into a war which neither country desired."

Four-Day, 32-Hour Week Answer To Automation Says Union Head

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—A forecast of a labor demand for a 32-hour week and a threat of a strange answer to automation in industry was made today by W. J. Bentley, president of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees (Local).

Mr. Smith, opening the triennial convention of Canada's largest railroad union, said the guaranteed annual wage sought by some unions is just a temporary answer to automation, the use of automatic machines that take over manpower work.

"The answer to the problem of automation lies in his present accidental address, "is to be found in the reduction of the hours which constitute a normal work week.

"We must begin to consider seriously establishing a demand for a 4-day 32-hour week and organizing the forces necessary to back up such a demand.

Only by this method will we retain employment for ourselves and provide employment for the coming generation."

Dealing with the railway union's contract negotiations with Canada's railroads in which representatives of some 160,000 workers will be asking for a wage increase and welfare plan—Mr. Smith issued a new demand for the rail workers' right to strike. They pleaded that in the last set of negotiations under a cabinet threat of legislation for compulsory arbitration.

"Let this convention make clear our opposition to such a threat," he said, "our undying opposition to the enslavement of labor by the use of any form of compulsory arbitration."

It is important to let all Canada know that, as a responsible union of railroad workers, we will never agree to forgo our basic rights and freedoms.

"We may be standing at the crossroads insofar as our economic future is concerned and the concerned work out long-range plans to cope with such situations as rail strike threats."

Mr. Smith was critical of the federal government on several points, including its handing to the provinces of responsibility over interprovincial highway transport and the way it has dealt with seasonal

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

Thousands of Canadians commemorated the 15th anniversary of the Battle of Britain Sunday with church parades, sounding sirens and blaring bands, and one Canadian unveiled a memorial to the unveiling ceremony in an English remembrance chapel.

In Bexley, England, 12 stained glass windows were unveiled in memory of the pilots of Spitfire and Hurricane planes which, with German bombers, fought from the key air base south of London.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Donovan of Vancouver donated one of the windows. Their son, Flying Officer Ralph W. Donovan, was killed while flying with 609 Squadron, RAF, based at Biggin Hill.

A formation of CF-100 jet planes flew over the Parliament Hill area as Air Marshal G. O. Johnson took the salute in a colorful march-past of RCAF, air cadets and air force veterans. Air Marshal Johnson was commander of RCAF forces overseas in 1940-45.

In Montreal more than 1,000 air force personnel attended memorial services.

Air Vice Marshal A. L. James, retired former commander of air defence command, placed a wreath at the cenotaph to the memory of Canadian airmen who gave their lives in the skies 15 years ago.

At Manning Pool, Ont., former RCAF chief of staff, took the salute during his son, Sqdn. Ldr. W. A. Curtis, Jr., in Toronto's ceremonies. Sqdn. Ldr. Curtis is commander of the City of Toronto auxiliary squadron.

A parade of 600 RCAF members and air cadets took part in Winnipeg observances.

Reds Renew Call For U.S. Troops To Leave Europe

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union is wasting no time in renewing its call for American troops to get Europe in the wake of Russia's promise to return to Porkkala naval base to Finland.

"There can be no doubt that the withdrawal of foreign troops passed by other powers of great importance for foreign territory would be an important contribution to the further relaxation of international tension, and would help to unfold the broad path conducive for ending the arms drive."

Foreign troops in Moldov is expected to take the same tack before the United Nations Assembly opening Tuesday in New York, as well as in the Big Four foreign ministers conference in Geneva next month.

In another phase of the comprehensive diplomatic manoeuvres now under way in the Soviet capital, the government is reported sweeping anxiously reducing or cancelling scores of Soviet citizens convicted of collaborating with the Germans during the war. This is believed to be a necessary prelude to the expected official announcement of amnesty for German prisoners still held by Russia.

The amnesty decree by the presidium of the Supreme Soviet also said Soviet citizens who were exiled or deported on collaboration charges, or who died abroad and served in German or satellite nations, would return home and be cleared of guilt if they came back voluntarily. They would be given jobs of labor and (to) become useful members of the Socialist society.

Duck Bag Up This Year But Still Some Sad Sacks

Shotgun artillery roared a thundering tempo on Saturday in the marshes, swamps and other haunts of the elusive wild duck as the official season got under- way.

Consensus of hunters checked in various districts was that the feathered quarries were more numerous on opening day 1955 than they were a year ago.

Lands and Forests officials who checked hunters in parts of the Lake District stated a comparative check with 1954 bags revealed that ducks numerically were about the same as last season.

In the Tuff's Island area, 33 hunters were checked. They had a collective bag of 225 ducks or an average of 6.24. The Hay Bay district yielded 57 ducks to 17 hunters checked, an average of 3.35.

Hunters were questioned as to their opinion of the quantity of ducks in flight on opening day. 13 were of the opinion they were more numerous, 16 said they were about the same as last year, while nine thought they were less numerous.

Reports from city hunters revealed that the tasty wood duck was fairly numerous, several pairs of hunters came back with the quota of delicious singleton.

While a number of hunters reported good hunting there were those who were not so fortunate. Hazen Stairs and friend "shot" the Whitney Marsh and came back with a pair. They did not see many others.

Jack O'Neil and Gord Irwin shot seven teal and blacks, all falling to the gun on 670ths.

Vern Goyer and Jake Wade showed their versatility. The genial pair sharpshooters are as good with ducks as with golf balls. They bagged one Big Island and came home with bags, including blacks, mallards and a wood duck each.

Paul Hibbard and a party of five came home with a collective bag of 28, including 11 blacks, two wood ducks and the rest teal.

Gordie St. Louis and Art Emery were highly successful, each securing their quota, including blacks, teal and two wood ducks. They reported the ducks were "thick" in the area in which they were shooting.

There is humor in every opening day. The hilarious highlight of Saturday occurred up Trenton way.

A hunter, it was said, was extremely proud of his dog retrieving. "He'll bring back anything from a duck to a helicopter," he boasted.

Later a duck whipped out of the morning mist. A gun blazed and the dog leaped into the water to bring home the "bacon." The owner smiled. "He'll bring it in," he said.

A minute or so later his smile changed to a look of amazement. The retriever brought "it" in all right. But instead of a feathered dinner the clever dog deposited an empty beer bottle at his master's feet.

Reports from Trenton hunting districts stated that the quota was good. A number of hunters shot their quota while others were not so fortunate.

Will Address Sales and Ad Club

Guest speaker at the first fall meeting of the Belleville Sales and Advertising Club here tomorrow night will be David S. Catton, Toronto, prominent figure in Canadian advertising.

DAVID S. CATTON

Mr. Catton was appointed president and manager of the Magazine Advertising Bureau this year. He is a member of the Toronto Advertising and Sales Club and the Canadian Institute of Trade Association Executive. A director of the Canadian Marketing Association, Toronto chapter, and the Canadian Public Relations Society he also is editor of the Toronto chapter Newsletter of the American Marketing Association.

The meeting will be held in the Shrine Club.

Square Dancing Champs to Give Exhibition Here

A Square dance, sponsored by the Belleville Recreation committee will be held in the Belleville Memorial Arena on October 1.

The Square dance, arranged to initiate interest in the possibility of forming a group here in Belleville, will feature the Northern Ontario Square Dance Champions from North Bay, Ontario.

The Champions, under the direction of Sam Jacks, recreation director, North Bay, defeated last year's international champions in a tournament held recently in North Bay. The champions have put on exhibitions at Bigwin Inn, at several Northern Ontario Sportsmen's shows and before the Mayors and Reeves of Ontario and the Ontario Municipal Association. All members of the set have taken training at a number of the North Bay Municipal Square Dance courses.

Besides putting on an exhibition the champions will mingle with other sets on the floor, with instruction and advice to beginners.

Police Blotter

A series of minor motor vehicle accidents were investigated by city police over the week-end. Only one of the mishaps resulted in more than $100 damage and no injuries were reported.

Mrs. Lum Carson, 57 Montgomery Blvd. was eastbound on Victoria Ave. when a car emerging from Hillcrest street forced her to swing wide and her car rammed a light pole causing about $150 damage. The car on Hillcrest was going the wrong way on a one way street.

Ted Mowers, reported that his North Front street store and restaurant had been entered and a quantity of cash stolen.

And a George street resident complained that windows in his home were continually being broken during his absence.

Finally, city firemen were called to the Dixie Inn Ber-B-Q on Bridge street west, where there was a fire in a rubbish can. A neighbor broke in and removed the burning can before arrival of firemen.

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP) — Industrial issues were irregularly higher in first-hour stock exchange trading today. Most other sections were dull in moderate activity.

Among industrials, Ford A gained two points to a new high of 156 and General Motors added a point despite the strike that began today at 17,000 GM workers. Up about a point were Aluminium, Canada Iron Foundry and Eddy Paper. Canada Bread improved 25 cents at $4.50. Walker's was off ¼.

Profit-taking knocked down a number of mining and western oil stocks. Multi-Minerals topped the base metal losers, off 43 to $1.85. Between 10 and 20 cents lower were Cassiar, Sherritt and United Keno Hill. Mayburn headed the winners, up 17 to $1.77. Most uranium movements were limited to a few pennies.

Husky headed the lower western oils, falling 70 cents to $8.20. Western Leaseholds gained 20 to $8.40.

Among holding companies, 10-cent losses went to Hoyle, Lake Dufault and Frobisher.

Braloran and Sigma firmed lightly in a mixed golds group.

PRODUCE MARKET

The egg market was weak on large and firm on medium and small. Offerings of large were in excess of a quiet demand.

Quotations, provided by the Dominion department of agriculture: eggs, in fibre cases, graded: A large 65; A medium 53-54; A small 37-38; B 38; C 28. Wholesale to retail: A large 70; A medium 58-59; A small 42-43; B 43; C 33.

DOLLAR RATE

MONTREAL (CP) — The U.S. dollar was at a discount of 1 3-16 per cent, the Bank of Canada reported at noon EDT, today. Friday's noon rate 98 13-16 cents. Pound sterling $2.75¾, against $2.75 3-16.

Only Mailman Taking Box To Office

Visions of a mail theft were entertained by a Highland Ave. resident Sunday evening when he saw a man get out of a car, detach a mail box from the post and put it in his car and drive away.

The citizen jotted down the number of the car, then called police.

Police throughout the city were alerted, but investigation showed that everything was in order. The man seen lugging away the mail-box was a duly authorized mailman. He was merely returning the mail box to the post office because the lock on the box refused to work.

Fisheries Minister Returns on Litter From China

HONG KONG (Reuters)—Fisheries Minister James Sinclair of Canada was carried across the border into Communist China on a sedan chair today with a broken leg and other injuries suffered during his visit to Russia earlier this summer.

Sinclair was accompanied from Communist China into Hong Kong by Alistair Fraser, executive assistant in the Canadian ministry of fisheries.

Fraser said Sinclair had been "seriously injured" Aug. 4 at Petropavlovsk, on Siberia's Kamchatka peninsula, when a wooden scaffolding on which he was standing collapsed, dropping him 20 feet to the ground. The minister has suffered a simple fracture of his left leg and a deep cut in the right leg, as well as a spinal injury affecting control of the movement of his legs.

Sinclair had been touring Russian fisheries and had also visited Moscow on his Iron Curtain trip.

WELL TREATED

Fraser said Sinclair was in Petropavlovsk hospital from Aug. 4 to Sept. 2, when his left leg was set and gashes in his right leg were sewed up. He was given the latest drugs, including penicillin and aureomycin, and the Russians flew in two specialists 2,000 miles to treat him.

He and Fraser then were taken to Irkutsk by ship and plane and were flown from there to Peiping where they arrived Sept. 14 and stayed with the British charge d'affaires before leaving for Hong Kong.

Sinclair, 47, was then able to walk with a cane, but the Chinese Communists provided the sedan chair for his trip to Hong Kong.

He will fly to Tokyo Wednesday and leave for Vancouver by Canadian Pacific airliner Saturday.

WANTS NORMAL RELATIONS

TOKYO (AP)—A Peiping broadcast Friday quoted Red China's official newspaper, People's Daily, as proposing that normal diplomatic relations be established between Red China and West Germany. The article spoke of the recent success at Moscow in "normalizing" diplomatic ties between the Soviet Union and West Germany.

'Battle of Britain' Day Observed at Air Station

TRENTON (Special) — Battle of Britain day, later to be marred by the crash of an RCAF T-33 jet trainer near Demorestville at night, was observed at the Trenton Air Station yesterday with the same reverence and enthusiasm as the fourteen earlier anniversaries set aside to honor the few fighter pilots who defeated Hitler's air hordes and decided the fate of the free-world over the British Isles in September, 1940.

Chaplain F/L C. H. White, No. 6 Repair Depot, reminded officers and other ranks that "it was good for us one and all to observe that solemn hour." He pointed out how easy the human mind can forget.

While he noted that words fail to describe the heroic efforts of the "few" he paid tribute to the unsung heroes, ground crews and personnel who also contributed to the great victory. "It is appropriate there is in Westminster Abbey a window dedicated to the few," he remarked. Chaplain White expressed belief that people who continue to remember these dedicate themselves as a living memorial to the Battle of Britain victors.

Chaplain White observed that the 'few' received help from God. "We called upon the heavens and the Lord during the battle and we can recall the Lord helped us," he said.

ISSUES WARNING

Chaplain White issued a warning in his closing remarks. Insisting that people were travelling at a very fast pace he declared: "We are going to see just how far we go before we smash ourselves again." Recalling the old adage, "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," he advised turning to God's way of living. "Surely only by the help of God we out-manoeuvred and defeated that which was once evil in the world," he remarked as he closed his address in note with the theme.

A very impressive turn-out observed the 15th anniversary of the battle. Bands from both stations played for the marching. Women's Division personnel looked especially smart on parade.

14 Stitches Required To Close Wounds

TRENTON (Special) — Marylyn Purdon, 14-year-old daughter of LAC and Mrs. H. N. Pudden of 58-B Rivers Drive, Middleton Park, suffered multiple injuries when she was struck by a car driven by Vivian Simpson, 33, of 11 Weeks Avenue, Trenton, on Saturday. She received 14 stitches in the forehead to close the wound, cuts on the upper lip and abrasions on the right arm and shoulder. She also complained of back injuries.

Weaver's ambulance rushed her to Trenton Memorial Hospital where she is under the care of Dr. E. W. Dow. The hospital today reported she was resting comfortably.

The car proceeding south on Byron Street was about 44 feet north of Princess Street when the girl who had just stepped from the pavement to the boulevard was hit. The girl was carried 66 feet on the front of the car before she fell off.

Trenton police investigated.

FOUR-DAY

"The time has come, indeed it is long overdue," he said, "for the national government to use all the powers it has to give the country a proper, unified transportation policy and so to give both railway and highway transportation and both railway and highway workers a fair deal."

He said interprovincial highway transportation should have been placed under the board of transport commissioners at Ottawa when the Privy Council more than a year ago ruled it under federal jurisdiction. But instead the cabinet and Parliament had "shrugged their shoulders and abdicated their responsibilities."

Discussing seasonable unemployment in the cold weather months, he said the federal government has been "callous, complacent and indifferent."

PRAISES UNIFICATION

He said the convention should protest strongly government inaction and demand a new program of widespread public works, along with an extended period of unemployment insurance benefits.

Of unification of Canadian labor bodies, Mr. Smith said the forthcoming 1,000,000 - member merger of the Trades and Labor Congress and the Canadian Congress of Labor will add strength to every union associated with either of these central bodies.

He told the CBRE, long an advocate of a single transport union for Canada, that the TLC-CCL move should mean that "greater opportunities have been opened up to us to work for a realization of our goal of one industrial union in the transportation industry."

But, he added, the brotherhood leadership will take no decisive step in this regard without laying it before a special or regular convention.

Merchants Set Store Hours For Christmas

Shades of Christmas glimmered around city hall as the Chamber of Commerce held a meeting to set the festive season's shopping hours for the city.

Result of the meeting is that Christmas shoppers in the city will have five late-night shopping sprees in the days immediately previous to the holiday.

Besides the regular Friday late night closings there will be three extra late closings during the busy week previous to Christmas, the retail directors of the Retail Merchants section of the Chamber of Commerce decided today.

Also, the Wednesday half-holiday of stores previous to the special late-night closing week will be lengthened to a regular six o'clock closing.

The following are the Christmas store hours!

Wed. Dec. 14—open till 6.
Thurs., Dec. 15—regular hours.
Fri. Dec. 16—open till 9.
Satur. Dec. 17—closed at 6.
Mon., Dec. 19—regular hours.
Tues. Dec. 20—open till 9.
Wed., Dec. 21—open till 9.
Thurs. Dec. 22—open till 9.
Fri., Dec. 23—open till 9.
Satur., Dec. 24—closed at 8.
Mon., Dec. 26—closed all day.
Tues., Dec. 27—regular hours.

Regular hours, until Monday, January 2nd when stores will be closed all day.

Meanwhile merchants will be asked to co-operate with these hours.

At the meeting it also was announced that retail sales training [illegible] will again be provided as a free service to retail members of the chamber for their employees, in October.

Chairman for the committee handling the plans will be W. Turner, manager of Woolworths.

The films will instruct employees in customer retailing and selling.

Yale Scientist Lists 3 Drawbacks To Salk Vaccine

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — A Yale scientist has listed three drawbacks of the Salk polio vaccine. He says intensive laboratory and field research is needed to correct them.

Dr. Joseph L. Melnick, a professor at the Yale school of medicine who helped to develop a test for the vaccine, said Sunday night it's impossible to be absolutely sure of vaccine's safe until it has been given to children.

He added that tests indicate repeated shots may have to be given over a period of many years to insure protection. "We are not happy," he said, "at the prospect of inoculating children year in and year out with the Salk vaccine, for it could mean monkey kidney production which might produce allergic states if inoculated repeatedly over the years."

He said studies in Connecticut showed many children vaccinated in 1954 had lost their resistance to polio during the year. They had to be re-inoculated this summer.

Many Beautiful Pieces Will Be Seen at Exhibit

An exhibit of ceramics by Dr. Roman Schneider is being shown at the Arts and Crafts exhibition at exhibit being held in Sir Winston Churchill School, September 23-24.

Dr. Schneider's exhibit, consists of 13 pieces, eight of which show him to be master of the fine art of glazing. The others are samples of beautiful design and workmanship. Dr. Schneider's preference for red clay is explained in his remark, that it is "more alive, and that one can bring out such beautiful color combinations, by dipping the piece into the glaze and letting it run over the container."

Also in the exhibition the Belleville Weavers Guild, members of the Arts and Crafts club, will bring to the public a display of professional hand-weaving. This beautiful display of work has been done by weavers from every province across Canada, and will be just one of the exhibits being shown this week by the Arts and Crafts club of Belleville.

There will also be hand-woven articles for sale done by Mrs. Allan Cameron and Mr. Gordon Barrett, who are professional weavers, living in Carrying Place, Ontario.

The fall term for Arts and Crafts will be getting under way this week. All who are interested will be given the opportunity to take out membership at this exhibit.

DOG ATTACKS CHILD

HARRISTON, Ont. (CP) — A dog attacked a four-year-old girl here Sunday and chewed off most of the face. Ricky Newman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison, about 25 miles north of Stratford, required 83 stitches to close gashes in his cheeks and forehead. The dog fled.

TEEN-AGE SMOKING AND DRINKING

The Woodstock Sentinel-Review has some pertinent comments to make about smoking by teen-agers. As it points out, this is not a new evil, although with the increase in cigaret smoking in recent years it is perhaps more difficult for teen-agers today to do their experimental smoking with tobacco instead of the cedar bark, corn husk or other commodities which were sometimes utilized in the past.

"In a way," says the Sentinel-Review, "it is sad that youngsters 17 and under are making use of cigarets. But there is nothing much anyone can do about it. A parent can forbid it, but he cannot trail the youngster all day long. Common sense is the only answer and if that fails, the parent can but sigh as well he might and hope it does not die in the open he will do it secretly."

This line of argument will appeal to many parents. Indeed, parental permission to smoke might remove one of the incentives, the enjoyment of forbidden fruit.

It is possible to apply the "moderation" argument to smoking to a different problem. If smoking among teen-agers is undesirable, it is surely evident that social only moderate drinking leads to drunkenness and folly. Many of these experiences could be avoided with proper supervision. But the law forbids a father to offer his son a glass of beer until he reaches the age of 21—by which time the son may have fought and won a war, married a wife, established a home, made his father a grandfather—and almost certainly have found his way through hangover and nausea to a proper appreciation of the virtue of moderation.

The conscientious parent is thus between the horns of the dilemma. Should he observe the law and let his son—or daughter—face a difficult task unguided? Or should he give them the benefit of his experience, at the price of flouting the law?

A PEACHY IDEA?

A story from St. Catharines reported on Thursday of last week that the Ontario Peach Growers' Co-operative had dropped the minimum price on peaches, "leaving growers free to sell peaches at any price in any effort to break a jam which brought the peach market virtually to a standstill."

With about half the crop of late peaches still on the trees, baskets of peaches carpeted numerous orchards, it was reported.

Weather conditions were partially responsible for the glutted market, having crammed ten normal weeks' supply of peaches into two weeks.

It was added, however, that "an unexplained falloff in demand" had been a major factor in the situation.

Perusing the remarks of the co-operative's directors, it strikes us that there is a simple explanation for this decline in demand.

The minimum price which the peach-grower could accept for baskets of late peaches had been set at 65 cents a basket, this minimum later being reduced to 60 cents and then 50 cents.

Now prices were never limited in the price they charged for direct sales to consumers.

In other words, dealers could not sell peaches to consumers for less than the minimum price, plus a reasonable profit. But growers could sell as less than this price. It appears reasonable to suppose that when peaches started to pile up as the result of cramming ten weeks' supply into eight weeks, many of the growers sold peaches to consumers at prices lower than those at which a dealer could make a profit. But the growers are not organized for engaging the retail market and therefore are nearly as efficient as would dealers in promoting sales. If Mrs. Smith was told at her favorite grocery store that a basket of peaches would cost her 55 cents, and if she knew that her neighbor, Mrs. Smith, had bought peaches from a grower at 45 cents a basket, she would probably be reluctant to buy from her usual grocer. But she might not be able to discover a grower offering peaches at 45 cents a basket. So she would not buy peaches at all. Add up a few thousand Mrs. Smiths and you have "an unexplained falloff in demand." Another price-fixing scheme bites the dust and yet nobody seems to be able to discover a reason.

SET A SLOW PACE

Gretna Green is a household word in much of the English-speaking world.

Thousands of people who have never trod the auld sod know Gretna Green as the lovers' haven, where runaway maids and widows could find a smithy prepared to shackle them with the golden bonds of wedlock.

It is now being offered for sale and we learn that, in two and a half centuries, 5,000 lovers were wed there.

Only 5,000? That definitely puts Gretna Green in the stagecoach age. Why, in today's jet age, Reno could unweld those chains of wedlock in a tenth of the time that it took the Gretna Green smithy to forge them.

ABSENT SECRETARY

If some one should wonder why
Still unanswered letters lie,
There's a simple explanation:
Secretary's on vacation.

Can't find envelopes although
You're sure there's some I know.
Postage stamps, I'm sure I've many,
But I've searched and can't find any.

Here I sit and try to think.
Where would woman hide the Ink?
Vainly, just as Mother Hubbard,
I have gone through drawer and cupboard.

Since to do the tasks I tried,
I have put them all aside,
There will be of work a stack
here
When the secretary's back here.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

Now that the holiday season is drawing to its close with only one more big death-dealing weekend, Thanksgiving, to add another ten inches to the score, we are starting to see the usual statistics building up to the annual year-end lump in which are supposed to make us gasp.

But when you come to think of it, what a miracle it really is that the death and destruction on our highways and city streets is not twice but ten times greater than it is.

The average man or woman is not actually mechanical-minded. Most of them are all thumbs around the house when it comes to using a hammer or a screwdriver. All they have to do is look at the baseboard around the rooms of average house to see how much of a mechanic the housewife is with a vacuum cleaner with which she bangs and batters and scars the furniture and the paint. Watch the ordinary householder running a lawn mower, carrying out the same, pulling up the stem-windows; what a stumbledum! Yet we agree that she or he has the divine right to climb into a motor car with the power of a hundred horses and the like leap of a panther in it, and go swerving off into a regular buffalo stampede of other such engines of destruction, on their way down town to buy lipstick or out on the crowded sixty-mile per highways to look at the autumn colors.

In that storm, that storm, that rabble of leaping machinery, climb to take control of machines from dull-witted boys to elderly ladies who took their first driving lesson one month ago; girls at steering wheels who can't talk to their friends in the crowded seat without taking their eyes off the road; husbands, shortsighted people, deaf, slow-reflexed; people going to die tomorrow of heart attacks, people with a grief in them, worry or despair — all charging heat and ice one stream one way, and two feet away, another stream raging the opposite way. A monstrous demonstration of the mechanical talents of a people that, when the lifeline, couldn't harness a horse, is unnerved at the fewness of the disasters.

Unfair to Fathers

(Minneapolis Tribune)

Men often stand accused of not carrying their share of the parental burden. In most cases the husband is innocent. His only fault is ignorance. In some fields, because he is a man, he simply does not know the ropes.

Take the business of outfitting son or daughter for school. This is a woman's work. She knows the ins and outs. Man does not. His field lies elsewhere. He knows corduroy from burlap and silk from wool and cotton. In short, he He cannot distinguish taffeta from glazed chintz or denim from jersey. Unless he is in the garment business he doesn't figure that it matters.

Even to personal attire his knowledge is sketchy. His wife buys his shirts, socks and neckties and often accompanies him when he purchases a hat, suits—to protect him from himself.

Yet after she buys the children's school apparel she wants him to pass judgment as if he were an expert. The cords were on sale and she bought three pairs and a sweater. Hubby takes his head out of the newspaper and allows that they are indeed fine. He is numberless when she inquesay he knows better than to ask what they cost. His eyes closed for a year? Doesn't he know that pink slacks are the thing?

Give Pest A Muffler

(Detroit Free Press)

It sounded like good news for an nightgown-clad, flyswatter-equipped mosquito hunters that the Bureau of Entomology is starting to turn out a tablet which, when swallowed, repels the blood destroyers.

But, the pill promoters merely claim that the skeeter may think twice before he bites. They don't say that the mosquito's dive-bombing buzz is appetizing. This means the pill won't keep the bug from whining, but the mosquito's dive-bombing buzz.

That's as disturbing as the sting. For full effectiveness, we're guessing an anti-buzz ingredient—something in the barbiturate family, for instance.

Agreed Rates Not Unfair

(Montreal Gazette)

An interesting letter has been issued by the General Traffic Manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway, Mr. G. F. Buckingham. It is in reply to an article in Railway Traffic Magazine. In this article, a panel of shippers in the United States were quoted as saying that the principle of "agreed charges," as set out in the Transport Act in Canada, would be undesirable in the United States.

Under the system of agreed special rates, lower than normal, that a shipper may enter into with a railway for a guaranteed share of the shipper's carrying business. It is opposed by shippers who object to the "secret" nature of the charges, however beneficial to the railways, to the shippers. Mr. Wm. Hall, it is claimed, the big shippers may get a special rate which will give them a big business.

Mr. Buckingham points out, this type of criticism rests upon a misunderstanding of what agreed charges really are. So far from agreed charges being unfair to the shipper, they are set up to be a great opportunity.

It is quite true that the big shipper may be able to get his special agreed charge on the railway, because he can offer a large and low transportation costs by water or highway. But it is precisely this high competition by means of an agreed charge, base on which the big shipper can secure rail available to the big shipper.

But the important point is that such agreed charges do not shut the little shipper out from the competition they apply to him also. The little shipper may either be only a specified per centage of his traffic. This is a condition that, in the nature of things, the prosperous shippers. Any shipper, big or small, may know just what agreed rates exist. And he may become a party to them, if he wished, by the terms of agreed rates is essential, if the railways are to maintain their competitive from other carriers. And in this respect, as in many others, competition is good for the shipper. It brings about lower rates, available to all, adults.

Most People Are Honest

(Christian Science Monitor)

People may be funny. But they are also honest. If anyone doubts this, let him ask Western Union.

That corporation has just announced that henceforth anyone can send a wire from anywhere—from the telegraph office, over the phone, or from a public phone booth. And he has only to give the name and address. His wire will be sent, and he will be billed.

Nor has Western Union suddenly gone softheaded. It figures that 14 out of 15 telegrams are paid for through some kind of credit arrangement rather than for cash over the counter. One can deduce that if this experience with the 14 has been satisfactory there has been reason to take a proportional chance with the one.

No doubt the company has taken care to study the general experience of retailers with "open book" accounts—that is, accounts on which credit has been extended on the basis of the customer's financial status, but on the books of which no charges for the articles purchased. The experience has been good.

The credit manager of one very large department store in this city estimates that his firm loses less than 1 per cent of its sales in a year on bad accounts, and that less than one customer out of 100 fails to pay his bill because he is dishonest.

Like the headliner which report the breaking of laws, the wreck of families, the emnities of nations, so often we assume that people will "do you" if they can. They won't. They are busy and all day by day they pay their bills. And that ought to be the big news.

Banker Tries Bright Stunt

(Royal Bank Magazine)

There's just no end to the bright ideas banks dreams up to attract customers.

We've just heard of one that seemingly has merit. It's called "Start With Chicken Feed" for a neighborhood bank. Every time a home show booth and later in the branch lobby, it set up a display featuring a large chicken and a sized papier-mache chickens and corn shocks, and for every dollar, the sounds picked up by a tape recorder at the local Agricultural Fair.

In the bank lobby particularly, the display attracted considerable "When the amplifier was turned on, it would suddenly reports the bank's advertising manager, "you could see the customers all over the room looking to see what in the world was going on. We had a good chance to start bringing this idea, but feel it did a lot to break down the feeling that a bank is a cold place."

One of the bank's competitors has been rather catty about the whole thing. They point out that the advertising manager neglected to mention the customers who not only stiffened when they heard the whistle, but clerked over in a dead faint, stiff as a board.

Onus On Adults

(Vancouver Sun)

Two more child deaths reported from an out-of-use refrigerator add up to world-wide publicity on this shocking carelessness toward children. It seems to seem to have hit the public conscience. Certainly most makes old refrigerators safe. No one can make tots

Going through the heavy mail that comes from readers of features of high and low calibre, people with and people without degrees, people in all parts of North America, I note with satisfaction that a good many people believe what I say about trick specialism and the phoney "clinic" devils in medicine today.

I mean to say that four out of five physicians who hold themselves out to the public as specialists are general practitioners with no particular ability but with a lot of gall. I call them trick specialists.

The poor souls who are most susceptible to the pretensions of these trick specialists imagine that a doctor who calls himself a specialist must have had better training, be more skilled and more competent than an "ordinary" doctor, that is, a doctor who does not call himself or herself a specialist. It is pathetic the way some of these simple customers will fall for the formula. I have really think the law demands higher qualifications for specialists than for general or family doctors. The truth is that in the law as it is enforced, when a doctor gets a licence to practice medicine and surgery, he or she may engage in general practice or devote himself or herself exclusively to any branch or field of medicine, surgery, obstetrics—although the specialist doctors who decide to limit practice to a specialty do pursue some months or years of postgraduate study in the chosen field before they announce "practice limited to" whatever the specialty may be.

At least that's the way it was when practice was a profession. Now that the AMA has converted it into a business it is hard to tell the real specialists from the trick specialists.

The Code (Principles) of Medical Ethics, as the watered down version after numerous revisions by the AMA pointedly ignores the custom of announcing "practice limited to (name of specialty)." Send that way the trick specialists like it.

The reputable physicians in the community know which specialists are genuine and which are tricksters. When a general practitioner or family physician encounters a case more difficult case he or she may call a specialist into consultation or refer the patient to the specialist for opinion and advice. The family physician who has had a real specialist will not try to supplant him as his patient's doctor.

Trick specialists, which, as I have already indicated, comprise almost real specialists today, are in unfair competition with the general practitioners of the community for whatever business they can lure away from the honest doctors—the patronage of simple-minded people.

THE DIVINE FORMULA

"You see," confided my friend the barber, "he was hemmed in with a car right in front and a car right behind. He went forward and then backward until he moved inches every time, and then at last, by gosh, the old fellow lost his religion, and backed the car in front and the one behind."

I'm glad the religion over a considerable less than this. In fact being caught tight between two cars parked along the sidewalk is enough to make most people lose their eternal salvation. I've been up in years and has to try to get out of a parking place with only a few inches to spare, he is ready to do and say and think all manner of things.

By and large, people identify religion with certain definite concepts. The religious man doesn't swear, he doesn't play games on Sunday, and he doesn't lose his temper. But a person may abstain from all these things and still not be religious.

There are only do people feel that losing one's temper is a sign of forsaking one's religion. Usually it is. But there are times when not to get angry would be sinful and when to get angry is precisely the right thing. Our Lord was angry on many occasions, but there was always divine anger was that it was always directed against people who were doing something evil to somebody else. He was never angry with people who did evil to himself. Keep to that formula and you will never go wrong.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE OTHER FELLOW'S VIEW

It is fortunate that none of us think exactly alike. If we did where would the fun of conversation come from? Variety is the spice of life. Certainly in a dry and dull state of mind! It's only in the stagnant ring of the mind that it keeps plastic and alive.

Your wife and other fellow's may be miles apart, or just inches, but each of them has a point of view and in his view by calm and dispassionate discussions with others. One of them may be wrong, or both of us, but we gain by fresh viewpoints and honest differences. The well informed person is always the most interesting conversationalist. But the man who is not learn something from everyone, it behooves us to begin with a spirit of open-mindedness and respect the-viewpoint of the other fellow. Arguing for argument's sake is foolish and a waste of good time.

But we are entitled to his own view. We can think as we please, and say what we will so long as we do not interfere with the rights of others. Individual liberty of thought and freedom of expression, as well as that of the press, is guaranteed to all in the free world. Those who are unhappy over such a heritage should seek other territory.

I've had a good book and then discuss it with someone else who has read the same book. It's fun to bring something evil to somebody else. He was never satisfied with people who did evil to himself. Keep to that formula and you will never go wrong.

32 Are Killed In Fatalities Over Weekend

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

Two multiple fatalities in Ontario pushed the eastern Canada fatalities toll to 32 during the weekend.

A Canadian Press survey showed that in the period from 6 p. m. Friday until midnight Sunday, 32 persons died violently in Ontario and Quebec.

In Ontario 11 persons died in traffic accidents, six were drowned —five in one accident—and five died of other causes.

Two men were killed in the province's first hunting accidents, one man was killed when caught in a 42-inch circular saw, another fell from a furniture truck and suffered a fractured skull and an eight-year-old boy fell from a railroad bridge while hunting birds' eggs.

Quebec's toll was made up of eight traffic deaths, one man who fell 25 feet from a dock and another who was killed when a firecracker exploded.

WORST IN ONTARIO

The two worst accidents in Canada's eastern provinces both occurred in Ontario. Four children and their uncle were drowned when the station wagon in which they were riding left the road and plunged into a lake near Minden.

The other multiple-fatality was near Bancroft, 30 miles northeast of Peterborough where four persons were killed in a two-car collision.

Ontario deaths:

Four Carroll children, Gloria, 12, Cheryl, 9, Jewel, 8, and Jimmy, 6, and their uncle, James Shannon, 26, in a drowning accident near Minden.

Roland Fawcett, 60, was struck by a car near Newmarket. Harris Filson, 35, was killed when his gun accidentally discharged while he was hunting near Nanaimo.

FALLS FROM BRIDGE

Gerald Duggan, 8, was killed when he fell from a Peterborough railroad bridge. George Stewart died after a car accident, near Alvinston.

Charles Chapman, 76, was killed when struck by a car on a highway near Tilbury.

Lois Vardy, 17, William Kerr, 20, Thomas Kelly, 25, and William Thackaray, 27, were killed in a two-car collision near Bancroft.

Dorothy Buddingh, 17, was killed in a traffic accident near Guelph. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fraser were killed when struck by a car while crossing a road near Guelph.

CAUGHT IN SAW

Adrian Goldgrab, 8, was struck by a car in Windsor, Alfred Sauve, 31, died on a hunting trip and was found in six feet of water in a small creek.

Nick Waskul, 39, was killed when caught in a 24-inch circular saw. Cecil Mahaffey, 65, died when he fell from a furniture truck and fractured his hull.

By-Elections In Quebec Hitting Home Stretch

RIVIERE-DU-LOUP, Que. (CP)—The cry that father-son relationships in the Liberal camp are a threat to free elections has been flung into the high-gear Sept. 26 federal by-elections campaign.

It was heard Sunday from Progressive Conservative platforms in two of the three Quebec ridings where by-elections are to be held to fill Commons vacancies created by appointments. A fourth scheduled for the same day, a week from Monday, is to be held in the New Brunswick riding of Restigouche-Madawaska.

One Liberal candidate in the hotly contested campaign is the son of Prime Minister St. Laurent, another is the son of Hon. Charles J. Power, former Liberal cabinet minister who was recently appointed to the Senate.

Resources Minister Lesage, speaking in support of Mr. St. Laurent's son, in Temiscouata riding, counter-charged that the Conservatives are indulging in "low down politics" and "stirring up prejudices."

IN LIBERAL CAUSE

Veterans Affairs Minister Lapointe, speaking in Bellechasse riding in support of Liberal candidate Ovide Laflamme, said the Conservatives have pulled in the name of Premier Duplessis on their side and created a federal contest into a provincial electioneering campaign.

In Quebec South, the third riding where voters will go to the polls, a quieter campaign tone prevailed. Liberal candidate there is Frank Power, a young lawyer who hopes to follow in the footsteps of his father, who was Liberal for Quebec South without a break for 38 years.

Progressive Conservatives and Liberals have pulled heavy artillery into the campaign reported to be one of the most heated in years in the three traditional Liberal strongholds.

PC CANDIDATES

Progressive Conservative candidates are Jean-Paul Berube, Rivier du Loup lawyer running against Jean-Paul St. Laurent in Temiscouata; Yvon Tasse, industrial engineer running against Mr. Power in Quebec South, and Jules Pare, lawyer running against Mr. Laflamme in Bellechasse.

Target of Conservative attacks has been the husky, dark-haired son of Mr. St. Laurent, a lawyer who resides in Quebec City.

Robert Perron, Conservative Commons member for Dorchester, said at a rally in Bellechasse Sunday that Liberal party conventions to pick candidates are a "joke."

"Candidacies are really handed down from father to son, as in a monarchy," he said.

During the same rally, Leon Balcer, a lawyer and Conservative Commons member for Mr. Duplessis' hometown of Trois-Rivieres, said the Liberals feel they are so strong they can afford to have a laugh at Quebec.

CAR KILLED FOUR

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Emil A. Decina, 33, driver of an automobile that jumped a curb last March 14 and killed four small schoolgirls, Friday night was found guilty of criminal negligence. The charge carries a maximum sentence of five years in jail and $1,000 fine, or both. He will be sentenced Sept. 30.

TO CONTINUE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The air force has decided to continue using students at its counter-brainwash school, on a voluntary basis, for the demonstration of how the Communists grill prisoners of war. Questions have been raised about methods used by instructors, who played the role of enemy inquisitors, in questioning "prisoner" students.

PICKED SAME DAY

NORTH BAY (CP) — Lieut-Gov. Breithaupt Friday postponed his plans to visit this city Oct. 29 when it was discovered the governor-general was planning a visit here the same day. Earlier this year civic officials invited both dignitaries to visit the city at their convenience. Last week they each picked the same day, and threw the council into confusion.

"Want some help with your homework, Dad?"

If his Dad took him up on that offer, Ted would soon find himself floundering in a sea of facts about family income management, succession duties, taxes, wills, trusts, business insurance and other related subjects!

You see, Ted's father is a typical life underwriter — a man who has not only been trained for his job, but keeps up-to-date by constant study. For the uses of life insurance are more extensive today than they used to be. And the men who represent companies in this business now advise you with increased skill.

Doing this calls for more than study. It takes real understanding of people's needs. And since each family's needs are different, the company representative offers valuable guidance in making plans to fit these needs — individually.

All in all, the life insurance man you deal with today is a very good man to know. And his progress is another reflection of the many ways in which the life insurance business has developed with the times to meet your changing needs!

BOWLING TOURNAMENT

Visiting rinks from Belleville and Stirling competed with the local lady bowlers in an open doubles tournament at the club on Friday. Three games were played in all and lunch was served under the convenership of Mrs. Grace Stevens. The following were prize winners: Mrs. R. P. Lowe; Mrs. R. Gage, Mrs. F. Stewart; Mrs. Duncan, Mrs. A. L. Jarvis; Mrs. G. D. Carlaw, Mrs. F. A. Coppens; Mrs. M. S. Rathaldes, Mrs. G. R. Bromley.

Women of the Moose

The Women of the Moose, Belleville, Chapter 435, held the first meeting on Thursday evening in the Moose Hall, Victoria Avenue, with Senior Regt. Mary Van Dusen, presiding.

The opening ceremony was held with Junior Grad. Regt. Marjorie Calbury, Junior Regt. Nora Kaiser, Chaplain Grace Bartlett, and Senior Regt. Mary Van Dusen taking part.

It was an open meeting, all the members wore gowns which with all the variations of colors, made the floor work look most attractive.

The Senior Regt. had Guides Marg. Wright and Nellie Shandraw Rating Gen. Vea Dusen of the Loyal Order of Moose to the altar where she introduced him to the members and the visitors.

The initiation was held with four candidates, Mable Bailey, Helen Webb, Ruby Stapley, Viola Cooney, who initiated into the defending circle. The Guides then showed the candidates to their seats.

The Senior Regent had the Guides bring the sponsors, Nellie Seryngeour, Vivian Keller and Selina Isles to the altar where Publicity chairman, Marian Madden, congratulated them for bringing their friends into the chapter.

Reports were given by alumnae chairman, Audry Donley for penny garden held in the month of August, thanking Nora Kaiser, and Bessie Brooks for their help. Graduate Regent Ruth Mintz gave a report on a wiener roast held at her home. She also thanked the members who helped her.

"KIDDIES KARNIVAL"

Publicity chairman Marian Madden gave a report on "Kiddies' Karnival" held at her home and thanked the members for helping make the evening a success.

The Senior Regent reminded the members with birthdays to put their donation in the birthday box. She also asked the members to send Co-worker Ethel Knott, a card, as she is ill in the hospital.

The draw, a pair of pillow cases, was donated by Marian Madden and won by Clara Lidster.

After the meeting, a cold supper was served by publicity chairman Marian Madden and her committee, Michaeline Calbury, Madeline Argent, Joyce Soules and Edith Burrows. Co-worker Olive Hansen also assisted in pouring coffee.

As it was publicity month, the tables were covered with newspapers also newspaper servieties and centred with vases of beautiful flowers.

A reminder was made to all members that a bus is leaving the Moose Hall, Friday morning for the convention.

The next meeting is to be held in two weeks.

W.C.T.U. Formulates Plans For National Temperance Course

The September meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union was held at the home of the president, Mrs. E. Farnsworth presiding.

A hearty welcome to members they were reminded that Christ is the great leader of the Temperance Movement and the work in Christ's Kingdom has always been done by ministry groups, who have been touched by the vision of service for Him.

"The work is not easy, but rather a struggle, but spiritual values are attained through struggle. Take away struggle and the power is reduced. Strength is generated by the enormity of the odds against which we work."

"The early Christians did not say in dismay "Look! What is the world coming to" but rather "What has come to the world," something whereby men can attain goodness through our Lord Jesus Christ."

Some time was given to the study of the Billy Graham campaign. He was invited to appear in the request of 500 churches. His first act was to entertain and address 700 ministers of the city at breakfast—the largest clerical assembly of any crusade.

The cost of the crusade is $4,000 a day. The Rev. Crowley Ratcliffe said "Canada's Defence program is costing Canada's taxpayer half-a-million a day and why parley when this represents the moral fabric of the Kingdom of God."

In any case, every penny received and spent is accounted for and published, as Dr. Graham insists. He is another example of humility and give his message to the human heart.

The devotional was taken by Miss Claxie and Mrs. Bennett in which a memorial service to Pidgeon brought inspiration to all.

TEMPERANCE STUDY COURSE

Plans were laid for the National temperance study course in Sunday schools and many public schools, which appear to be papers during the month of October. Leaflets will be sent to teachers in charge giving many schools.

The study book was presented by Mrs. Vandervoort, a study of Alcoholism and Alcoholics.

Ontario's Premier Hill, ending March 31, 1955, for beer, wine, and liquor was $258 million. This is five per cent increase over the previous year, and the largest figures in history. Federal profits were $82 million; Ontario received $45 million and municipalities got $11 million as their part of license fees.

4,000 NEW CASES

The executive-director of the Alcoholism Research Foundation of Ontario, Dr. E. D. Archibald says "There are 4,000 new cases of chronic-alcoholism in Ontario each year, this added to the 50,000 Ontario alcoholics.

He said "neither specialized treatment nor Alcoholic Anonymous holds the answer to the problem. It lies rather in research followed by education."

The regular monthly meeting of St. Michael's C.W.L. was held last Monday evening in St. Michael's High school on John street with the president, Mrs. R. E. Burley, presiding. The meeting was opened by the Very Rev. L. R. Garvin. The corresponding secretary sent 33 get-well cards, eight letters of condolence and six baby congratulation cards. The treasurer, Mrs. J. E. Boyd, gave a detailed financial report.

The first vice-president, Miss Alice Doyle, reported 204 paid up members, two of which are new members.

The second vice-president, Mrs. C. Casey, reported that plans are undergway for the graduation dance to be held in K. of C. rooms early in October.

The third vice-president, Mrs. J. Farrell, urged the ladies to attend the retreat to be held at the Cenacle, September 16-18.

Two large shipments of used clothing were sent to Father Rolter said "Canada's Defence program is costing Canada's taxpayer half-a-million a day and why parley when this represents the moral fabric of the Kingdom of God."

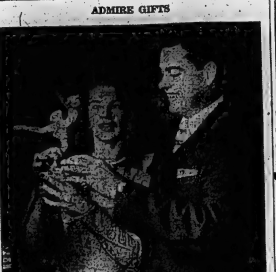
Two large shipments of used clothing were sent to Father Rolter Hall, S.J., Manitoulin Island. He is most grateful to all who contributed as he uses these clothes for his bazaar.

One shipment was sent to Comfurnish for which they also extend sincere appreciation.

Mrs. Withers made 56 visits at hospital in July and Mrs. E. Finkle the Red Cross convener, urged the ladies to sew or knit to help supply the various stock piles in the world. She asked the ladies to consider sewing one afternoon a week at the Red Cross rooms or at her home.

The bulletin published in August was requested. It was decided to publish it quarterly.

Plans for the harvest supper to be held at K. of C. rooms on Monday, late this month, are still underway. All are urged to come and enjoy a delicious roast beef meal.



Mrs. R. E. Burley, convener, and Mrs. T. J. Furey, co-convener of the parish bazaar to be held in November in the K. of C. hall, gave detailed reports of the preparations to date. Mrs. M. J. Farrell will make the Christmas cake and Miss A. Doyle will look after tickets.

A beautiful oil painting donated to the League by Mrs. C. Murdock, on which tickets are being sold is on display in store window of Woodley Furriers.

Dean Corbett addressed meeting briefly stating that any contribution the League can make to the Building Fund will be most acceptable.

Following adjournment, refreshments were served by the ladies of Coleman Ward.

ADMIRE GIFTS

Barbara Ann Becomes Bride Of Tom King

The skating star soon may also wave goodbye to the career which began as a child in Ottawa and made her famous throughout the world. Inside that church at 4 p.m., she had become Mrs. Thomas King.

The blonde, 27-year-old skater once said that when a girl marries she should look after her husband and home instead of dashing about. After a prospect year's skating tour of Canada, Barbara Ann, it is expected, will settle down to housekeeping in Chicago.

IN PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Barbara Ann, whose Anglican communion does not allow marriage of divorced persons if both parties to the divorce are living, pledged her troth in Rosedale Presbyterian church. King is divorced as his second wife.

Barbara Ann was gowned in a white artibelle organdy. Fashioned in French silk brocade, it had a portrait neckline and bell skirt to emphasize her waist.

Mrs. A. M. Burke of Toronto was matron of honor. Bridesmaids included Miss Caroline Louise Woodcock of Rochester.

The best man was the groom's father, T. J. King, dean of freshmen students at Michigan State University in Lansing.

Mr. and Mrs. King will honeymoon in Mexico.

Women's Institute

WALLBRIDGE W.I.

The September meeting of the Wallbridge Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Wilbur Shoemy with 11 members present. The president opened the meeting. The secretary read the minutes of the proceeds realized from catering at the Belleville Fair.

The Eastern Area convention will be held at the Collegiate on the 13-14 with a supper meeting in Tabernacle United church on Thursday evening. The Area Extension Service with Mrs. Armstrong conducting a discussion on "What makes a Good Officer" will be held in Stirling Community hall, October 22, 7:30 p.m. to 4 p.m. There will be a pot-luck dinner at noon.

Mrs. Clarence Woods was appointed 4-H club leader for the coming year with Mrs. Ray Shoemy and Frances Tucker as assistants.

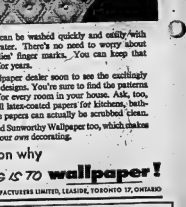
A "thank-you" letter was read from Mrs. Vera Vermilyea.

It was decided to hold a "games evening" early in November, also a "Hobo Tea" results to be given at the next meeting which will be held the first Thursday of October instead of the regular second Thursday.

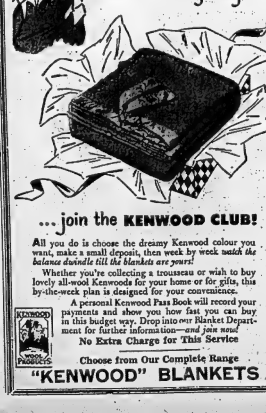
Current events were given by Mrs. Vera Phillips and the roll call answered with "My Pet Peeve."

The hostess was thanked for her kind hospitality and refreshments served.

Fashion Flashes



Tone on tone hats to create the important monochromatic look appear to interest many millinery houses. For instance, there's a nice little felt cloche with deep, dark gray crown and lighter gray rolled brim, trimmed with a crown band of speckled feathers that includes some medium gray and grayed white touches. A narrow red cord sets off the grays nicely.



Back for fall is the satin blouse after such excellent reception last winter. Crepe-backed silk satin shows up in top-flight collections and there is a new satin with cotton that is said to wash beautifully. Satin overblouses, worn in or out, are liked, as are woven dots, crushed collars and sleeves. Pearly grays and pink-tans are noted, as are deep plum and garnet tones designed to go with tweed suits and skirts in these lovely shades.

High fashion has moved in on foundation garments with lush, lovely results. Nylon sheer, in Winter violet misted over with black nylon lace, is the color and fabric scheme chosen for a new long-line brassiere. Another version uses pink, with black or dark brown lace.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

NO, MRS. W., I DON'T THINK IT'S "USELESS" TO KEEP TRYING

Dear Beatrice Fairfax:

I have been married 33 years, and for the first 10 of them was very happy. But my husband and I decided to adopt a baby, since I could like no children of my own.

As soon as we brought the baby home, some neighbors we had never even spoken to before came in to see us, and it wasn't long before my husband and the woman became friendly. This almost broke up our home and our marriage, but when he asked forgiveness and promised he would never see the woman again, I agreed to give him another try.

Now he has had another affair, this time with a 25-year-old girl in his office. This went on for 4 years, and finally, after long deliberation, I filed for separate maintenance. In 10 days he was back, saying he would do as I asked, which was just two things: to face this girl and admit that he had told her many lies about me, and to share finances. He has done neither. Instead, he goes out with this business associates (I guess) to all the best restaurants to eat and drinks well and enjoys himself, and thinks he's doing me a big favor by coming home and going to sleep. He gives me just $20 to feed three people for two weeks, and now is complaining about paying the rent. Fortunately, I have had a little money left over which I use to buy plenty of good food, and clothes for myself. My son, now 25, lives home and pays no board. And I don't care say anything about it, as it would only start another argument.

During the last six months that we have been together again, there have been many violent quarrels between us. He has severed all ties with our friends, and never takes me anywhere or buys me anything.

My husband had a good Christian rearing and does have many fine qualities, but I feel if he would only face reality, and clean the slate, he would live with himself better, and with other people, too. But he says that if I would forget about what he has done, and stop talking about it, it would be better for everyone.

We all have a cross to bear, and I guess this is mine, but is it useless to try any longer? Mrs. W.

Dear Mrs. W.: Desperately unhappy as your situation certainly is, I still don't think it is "useless to try any longer." If you had definitely stopped loving your husband, and were perfectly sure you didn't want to live with him any more, you would have left him long ago. I feel that, in spite of everything, you still do have love for him and want to stay with him in hope that some day he may care again as the husband with whom you had that first 10 happy years. Isn't that so?

When any one of us finds himself in conflict with another person, the first thing to do is to study the situation to see if perhaps we may not be able to correct some of our own ways that may be aggravating the trouble. And the fact that you say your husband tells you to stop talking about what he has done makes me believe that this is the place for you to start, by doing just that — stop talking about it. For no matter what he has done, and no matter how wrong his thinking is about it, you will never set him straight by keeping it all alive. On the contrary, if you continually accuse and reproach him, you are simply driving him further and further away from you. Did you ever stop to think that perhaps the reason he goes out with his associates is because he knows that if he comes home, the time will be spent quarreling with you?

I realize it seems unfair for you to be the one to shoulder the responsibility of trying to make the peace. But if you were successful in doing this, wouldn't it be worth it?

So here is what I suggest:

Began by resolving to think no more about the past, and who is wrong. Tell your husband, quietly and pleasantly, that since it is about rightfully be the head of the house, you feel that the time has come to rearrange your lives on that basis. Say that you will put what money you have in the bank for emergencies, or for special things the three of you might like to do, and run the house on the money he gives you. Let him see for himself how far he can go in buying food for three people. If he doesn't pay the rent, let him cope with the landlord.

Then do your utmost to refrain from quarrels, arguments, reproaches or hard words of any kind. Put all your effort into making your home a happy place for your husband to come to, whether he deserves it or not. After all, it's in your own interest that you're doing it.

If you see that this new program begins to have results, however small, try in a quiet way to get your husband, little by little, back into friendly relationships with your friends. Ask him, one day, if he wouldn't like to invite some of his business associates to dinner. If he says no drop the matter and let it rest awhile. If he says yes, make it the best dinner and best evening, you've had for a long time.

Make up your mind that you'll try all this out for, say, three month and see what happens. You may find the results far outweigh every bit of effort and self-sacrifice you've put into it.

Vegetable Variations

By Mary Moore

At the market I heard a snatch of conversation between two farm wives: "Isn't it a shame that city women don't know how much better they are when they're cooked just after they're gathered?" They were talking about squashes. I made a circle of the market and went back to their stand to question them. They had little but squashes there that did not require spearing or seeding — immature summer squashes — so I bought a couple.

While fruits must be big and fully ripened to be at their luscious best (and most expensive!) it is almost the opposite with vegetables—for when they are small and young they are tenderest and tastiest.

I did several things with the squashes that I want to pass on to you. Since few of us can get "newborn" squash these treatments will help us to forget our lamentable city state.

I want to interject here that they are one of the lovely yellow vegetables that Canada's Food Rules refer to that we should serve once per day, for they are high in carotenal and vitamin content.

SUMMER SQUASH

No. 1: Wash very immature summer squash, remove stem and blossom end, but do not pare, cut into ½-inch slices or cubes. In saucepan add to them 2 tablespoons each hot water and butter (or margarine) and ½ teaspoon salt (for enough to serve 4). Cover, bring to boil, reduce heat to very low and cook 10 to 15 minutes. It is ready to serve now but a delicious addition is ½ cup cream.

No. 2: Thinly sliced or dice summer squash (or any other immature squash) enough to serve four melt two tablespoons butter in frying pan and add squash and sprinkle with salt and pepper and saute gently. This should be cooked for the first ten minutes, it should also be given several good shakes. A wonderful addition to this is about ½ to one cup sliced mild onion rings. Heat must be low and treatment gentle, for you do not want to make it mushy, and it must be only delicately browned. Perfect with boiled potatoes.

No. 3: The Pie treatment: Chop young tender squash finely and measure 2 cups and mix it with ½ cup finely chopped onion, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, shake of nutmeg, two well-beaten eggs and ½ cup dry bread-crumbs. Turn into greased 9-inch pie plate. Bake at 375 deg. Fahr. for about 30 minutes. Serve hot cut in wedges.

Now you know, I'm no great shakes at encouraging you to stretch your meat servings, but I'm going to give you a recipe for serving egg-plant that is a main dish. Don't get me wrong — I believe you should have a main-size serving of protein at every meal, but this is a delicious once-in-a-while thing for variety's sake, and it is economical, and it will coax your reluctant family into enjoying this picture's vegetable.

MAINDISH EGGPLANT

Wash a medium-large eggplant, cut off stem, cut it into halves and boil it, cut side up, in shallow water for 20 minutes. Carefully take out centres to leave a ½-inch wall. To the scooped-out portion add ½ lb ground raw beef, ½ mild onion chopped finely, ½ cup very finely chopped celery, 1 cup cooked rice (¼ cup raw rice is needed before cooking), 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup chopped raw tomatoes. Mix well, and turn into eggplant shells on shallow baking dish. Add ½ inch water to pan and bake 1 hour at 375 deg. Fahr. This looked lovely in the centre of the platter, bordered with alternating rows of carrots and stalks of broccoli. Be liberal with the butter at the table.

BEAUTY

By HELEN JAMIESON

THE GREEK INSPIRATION IN COIFFURES

A charming new hairdo, influenced by the legendary Greek hero, adds a new chapter to the Ulysses story.

Women are once again proving their emancipation from the dictates of high fashion. Buoyed up by their successes of last season against the extremes of Dior's "A" line, with its unflattering flat bosom, they are now rebelling against the proposed trend to long hair. And rightly so. For not indeed is the woman who can wear long hair with grace and charm, much less find it flattering. Aside from the difficulty encountered in the nightly setting of long hair, in twisting it, braiding it, and coiling it, long hair pulled severely back from the face adds years, shows up age lines, accentuates feature defects. And when long locks are windswept, the effect is totally unbecoming.

So fashion conscious women, with phenomenal speed, are taking to a coiffure called "The Ulysses Cut." Based on the hairdo worn by Kirk Douglas in the current motion picture "Ulysses," the cut was adapted for feminine fet dinner. It was wonderful, and I had a marvelous time. But I think I made a social error, and I'd like to have you set me straight, if I can explain clearly. We went together to the buffet tables to make our selections for the first course (we chose hors-d'oeuvres), for the main course, for the salad course, and for the dessert.

After I had taken my plate, served with main course, to my place at table, I went back to the beverage-table to get a glass of iced tea and brought it to my place. My date glowered, and said, in a very sarcastic tone, "You shouldn't have done that, that was my job." He didn't say anything more, and neither did I for I really didn't understand what he meant. Do you, Mrs. Beeckman? Molly S.

I imagine he referred to the customary beverage-procedure at a buffet meal: that is, it is the escort's responsibility to ask his guest what beverage she wishes to have, and then he goes to bring this to her. This is an appropriate service by the escort. However it's not a very important detail, so don't worry about it this time, and remember it next time.

Canada Outdoors

From B.C. to Newfoundland Hunters Wait for Early Bird

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

This is the time of year to get that early bird.

And thousands are getting it, a Canadian Press survey indicates, from British Columbia to Newfoundland wildfowl hunters are rising before dawn and silently awaiting the first formations of migratory birds.

Figures for the number of licences sold to resident and non-resident hunters won't be available until later in the fall, but as an indication, last year 51,200 licences were sold in New Brunswick, more than 59,000 in Alberta, 64,000 in Saskatchewan, 75,000 in Manitoba and 10,000 in Newfoundland.

WIDE VARIETY

Hunters — the skilful and the lucky—have their choice of black ducks, green-wing and blue-wing teal, pintails, spoonbills, eiders, Canada geese, greater snow geese, brant, woodcock, snipe, rails, partridges, ptarmigan, murrs and other species.

All varieties are plentiful in one province or another gstma officials say. For instance, an Ontario hunter has a good chance of bagging a ruffed grouse while his Alberta counterpart may feed on partridge, theoretically, until the season closes Nov. 30.

The 1955 wildfowl season is well under way in most provinces. Alberta and northern Manitoba had the earliest start, Sept. 1, and other provinces started their season during the first two weeks of September. But parts of some provinces still have to open.

Seasons mostly close towards the end of November and beginning of December, except for the western coastal district of British Columbia, which goes to Jan. 18.

It should be a good season for the man with a steady hand. Bag limits range from eight a day in Quebec to 15 in Saskatchewan, which also has the top in possession limit of 45.

And it isn't too expensive. Resident hunters in Nova Scotia pay nothing while New Brunswick—with the highest residence licence fee—charges $4.50.

Fee for non-resident hunters is about $15, but in British Columbia United States and foreign hunters pay $25. Many think it's worth it: In 1954 more than 8,500 non-resident licences—including U.S. and foreign—were sold in B.C.

In some provinces the licence covers both game and wildfowl hunting.

Community Chests Set Quota

OTTAWA — (CP) — A total of $16,750,000 is the goal set by 67 Community Chests across Canada in their 1956 fund-raising campaigns which will start shortly.

The Canadian Welfare Council, announcing the figure today, said that last year 85 Community Chests raised $15,990,283 in contributions for the health and welfare operations of 1,020 agencies. Last year's total was 98.4 per cent of the combined goal.

False Teeth Need A Special Cleanser

Don't Brush Your Plates! Soak Them in Polident As Dentists Suggest

Polident is the recommended way to clean dentures, banish Denture Breath. Just follow these easy rules.

1. Never use a brush on them! Your dental plate is much softer than natural teeth. Brushing wears down fitting ridges so they get loose.

2. Never use soap or tooth-paste! They can leave film which collects bacteria and food particles, a major cause of offensive "Denture Breath".

3. Use a soaking-type cleanser made for false teeth only . . . Polident! Polident cleanser is recommended by more dentists than any other. No brushing, no handling of soapy plate. Polident gets where a brush can't reach.

Best of all, Polident always leaves false teeth odor free. Get the world's largest selling denture cleanser, Polident, at your drug counter. D-123

Not since I learned about Kruschen! I didn't find it any too soon, either, My job was getting too much for me, and when I got home at night, I was surly as a bear with my family. A chap at work put me on to Kruschen and now I wouldn't be without it. Just a little in my morning coffee when needed sets me up for the day. Of course, Kruschen is a gentle laxative and diuretic, too. It goes to work fast without any straining or bubbling. Get a package today and start enjoying life again!

Dr. S. S. Lunn of Bancroft, gave roadside treatment at the scene.

Provincial police investigating the accident did not identify all of the accident victims until more than two hours after the crash.

For three of the accident victims it was to be a week-end of duck hunting in the Bancroft area. Kelly, a mechanical shovel operator working in the Lindsay area, had picked up his friend Thackary at Peterborough and came to L'Amable to visit his parents and to hunt ducks. It was the same for Bill Raillson, who with his parents had motored north from Springbrook to visit relatives and hunt ducks.

PICKED UP TWO

Saturday night Raillson had picked up Kerr and Miss Vardy, both of whom work at L'Amable. Kerr as a truck driver, and Miss Vardy at McGibbon's Store, and later in the evening had motored north of Bancroft.

"Earl was in our store three or four times on Saturday," Mrs. McGibbon said. "I went to the undertakers at Bancroft and identified Earl and Lois. Lois was a good, quiet girl and had been working for us for about two months."

All four bodies were taken to the Hatin Undertaking Parlor at Bancroft where the final identification was made more than two hours after the accident.

Sunday the tragic accidents which claimed the lives of the four young people was the topic of conversation by shocked villagers. All day throngs talked in small groups and visited the wrecking yards to inspect the broken vehicles that carried three district persons to their deaths.

Coroner Dr. O. W. Anderson ordered an inquest looking into the tragedy. The inquest and hearing was held Sunday afternoon. Investigating the accident were O.P.P. Cpl. A. F. Greyling and Constables George Lloyd and John Hawkins.

3rd Hillier

3rd HILLIER — Miss Joyce Benway, of Kingston, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Benway.

Recent callers on Mr. Ross Benway and Mrs. Benway were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Lloyd and boys of Cold Creek; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Goodmurphy, Mr. Will Dafoe, Mr. Wallace Graham, Mr. Wil Benway, Mr. Richard Benway, Mrs. Hank Poole and daughter of Consecon Lake, and Mrs. Merritt McFaul of Bowerman's.

The corn picking goes merrily on in this vicinity.

Mrs. Merritt McFaul of Bowerman's spent several days this week with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Benway.

Mrs. Marshall Trumpour of Hillier is spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. Orville Trumpour and spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Benway.

The Christ Church Guild meeting has been postponed until the factory work is over.

Mrs. Stanley Thompson is a patient at a Toronto hospital taking treatments.

Mrs. Gordon Benwry and girls and Miss Florence Miller called on Wednesday evening on Mr. and Mrs. Ross Benway.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

READY TO GO!

Belleville opens the 1955-56 senior "B" hockey season at Memorial Arena playing host to the Whitby Dunlops on Friday, October 28. The season proper opens at Kingston on Wednesday, October 26 with the Goodyears entertaining their "foe" rivals from Whitby. That, and the rest of the season schedule of forty games per club, was practically the only item of major importance to emerge from the Eastern Ontario senior "B" group meeting held in Kingston yesterday.

Representatives of the five club entries under the convenorship of OHA vice-president Lorne Cook revised a former meeting in that each club will register twenty-five players instead of eighteen and dress fourteen players, including a spare goalie in each game of the schedule and the schedule playoffs.

A former argumentative bugbear was revived when the question of the fifteen per cent group pool was brought up. Whitby's Wren Blair who voted against the motion at a former meeting bit later changed his mind, although reaffirming his decision to stand by the motion requested that each club reveal its personal agreement with the circuit arenas. No action was taken after Brockville and Kingston representatives stated they had not as yet reached an agreement with their respective arenas.

There was a good feeling of give and take as the representatives threshed out their various schedule problems. Belleville's president Frank Grandeau and manager "Red" Doran were generally satisfied with the schedule as a whole but agreed on certain changes which were granted by the remainder.

Cornwall and Whitby, the extreme east and west teams of the circuit, took considerable time and study ironing out their different wrinkles with Brockville also sticking up for certain changes. The meeting ended on a happy note and the members separated to ready their troops for the ice-lane battles ahead.

The schedule, as was mentioned before, is a forty-game affair with each club playing the other four five games at home and the same number away. The first four teams in the final standing will enter the group playoffs with the first meeting the fourth, and the second the third club in a four-of-seven series. The final series will likewise be a four-of-seven affair. The schedule will end officially on March 4 with the Goodyears at Cornwall.

There was not much player information handed around as each representative was peculiarly mum on the subject and both or wisely refusing to give any information to the press boys on hand.

It was the general consensus, however, that although it was apparent each and every club intended cutting the cost of player operation, the group will produce as good, if not better, hockey than that of last season.

The group's Kingston Goodyears versus All-Star game was set for October 21 with Whitby's manager, Wren Blair, and Cornwall coach Frank Mario in charge of the All-Star squad. No announcement of selection of players from the "rest" has been made and will not likely be released until a week or so before the game.

PITCHER TROUBLE

"Foreign" pitchers practically stole the show on the softball playdowns front here Saturday. Youthful Allan Quartermain, hole flinger of the Toronto Beaches Orphans bantam team, turned in his 35th strikeout according to his coach, to win the title over the Belleville Elliott Regents. The youngster narrowly missed his first defeat when the Regents rallied in the seventh, but he settled down in the eighth to retire the side easily.

Marg McKibbon, Goderich Dodgers lassies' pitcher, turned in a finished one-hitter to blank Osterhout's Shellettes 7-0 in the first game of the OASA Southern Ontario Intermediate ladies' finals. Leo Luccisla's gals had trouble locating the ball and Irene Reeves was the only Shellette to connect safely. Both the Shellettes and the Regents return to the wars next week. The bantam game was a thriller and with a spot more clouting the Elliotts could have pulled the game out of the fire.

The Shellettes meet Trenton Town at the CNRAA Park at 6 o'clock in the second game of the city playdowns. Trenton won the first tilt 5-0.

SHOULD BE A THRILLER!

The death-or-glory city softball league finals battles resumes tomorrow night when the Orfuns and Point Anne clash in the third game of their best-of-five series. The Orfuns hold a two-game lead and if they can tomorrow's tussle they will grab the title and the Bill Ott trophy. But the Pointers will have something to say about matters and it is a victory-hungry Ole Point crew that takes the field against their city-slicker rivals. Game at 6 p.m.

Thump Boston for 5 in Row And Two-Game League Lead As Indians Lose 4th Straight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The New York Yankees have the Cleveland Indians on the floor and, like the Bronx Bombers of old, they are moving in for the kill.

Just a week ago the Yanks' chances for their 46th pennant in seven years under the guidance of Casey Stengel looked slim. They trailed the Indians by 12½ games and, apparently had the worst of the schedule.

Today they are roaring along two games in front—three on the all important losing side—and the schedule favors them with the Tribe in the most disastrous tailspin of the year. The Yanks have seven to play to only five for Cleveland. Both teams play on the road.

The Yankees moved two games out in front Sunday as they thumped the Red Sox 8-2 for their fifth straight victory, including three over Boston. The Indians continued their slide Sunday as they bowed to the Detroit Tigers 10-2 for the third game. The setback was the Indians' fourth straight.

DECISION NEAR

Now the Yankees need only a combination of five victories or Cleveland defeats in 12 games to clinch the National League pennant. The world series scheduled to start Sept. 28.

Chicago White Sox all but slid out of the league lead as they dropped a 6-5 sixth-place Kansas City. Any combination of two Yankee victories or Chicago defeats would put out the Sox.

Here's how the pennant race looks:

	W	L	Pct.	GBL	Left
New York	91	56	.619		7
Cleveland	90	59	.604	2	5
Chicago	89	62	.589	3½	5

Bob Grim was the big man in the Yanks' triumph over the Red Sox as Stengel continued to get top-flight pitching. Grim, a 25-game winner in the pennant last year but plagued with sore arm most of this season, replaced first baller Bob Turley in the third with the score tied 2-2, two runners on base and doubled out.

He promptly shut the door in the faces of the Red Sox, pitching hitless ball the remainder of the way. Only spot on base, Billy Klaus via Billy Martin's error and Ted Williams, who walked.

GAVE HIM LEAD

The Yanks gave Turley a two-run lead off Willard Nixon in the first but Jackie Jensen tied it up with a two-run homer in the third before Grim came in. The winning run, scored off Nixon, came in the fifth. Two singles and a walk loaded the bases. As Ted Lepcio forced out Gil McDougald, Gerry Coleman raced home with what proved to be the deciding run.

The defeat of the Indians was ironic in that it came at the hands of 20-year-old Bob Miller, beaten by the Yanks last week. At that time there was considerable comment because Detroit manager Bucky Harris used an untested youngster in a game involving the pennant.

Miller lived up to Harris' expectations as he hurled six-hit ball before he tired after seven innings and was relieved by Dick Marlowe. By that time the Tigers led 9-2, chiefly because of a six-run sixth inning at the expense of Mike Garcia and Ray Narleski.

SPIKED SOX EARLY

Gus Zernial's bases-loaded home run off Chicago's Dick Donovan spiked the White Sox early in the game and they never were able to do anything with the offerings of Art Ditmar.

In the only other American League game, Baltimore Orioles pulled out of the cellar into a seventh place tie with the Senators as they beat Washington 9-0 behind Jim Wilson.

Milwaukee Braves clinched second place in the National League with an 11-inning, 5-4 victory over St. Louis Cardinals. New York Giants dropped a 7-6 decision to the Dodgers while Philadelphia Phillies split with Pittsburgh Pirates, losing the first 6-5 and winning the nightcap 2-1. That left the Giants a game in front of the Phils in the battle for third place.

Shellettes Bow To Goderich By 7-0 Score

Osterhout's Shellettes, Belleville's entry in the OASA Intermediate Ladies southern Ontario league, went down to defeat here Saturday bowing to the Goderich Dodgers 7-0 in the first game of the best-of-three series.

The second game of the series is scheduled for Goderich next Saturday. The winners meet Sudbury for the all-Ontario title.

Marg McGibbon, tall lithe Goderich hurler, proved too much for the usually potent bats of the Shellettes. She had the Luccisla girls practically eating out of her hand, allowing but one hit over the nine innings route. Helen Reeves, Shellette third baseman, drove out a single in the third innings to rob McGibbon of a no-hitter.

McKibbon sent down 15 Shellettes via the strikeout route while issuing no eight walks.

Linda Wagg, who also boasts a sound mound record for the Belleville team, was touched for eleven safeties, the only extra base hits being a double by C. Erehl, who added a single to lead the Dodgers at the plate. A. McCabe had two singles as did M. Castle. Other hits were credited to Hartlen, McKinnon, D. McCabe.

The Dodgers fielded flawlessly behind McKinnon's fine hurling while the Shellettes bobbled five times in their first whack at a championship. It was their first shutout in their first year of organized softball.

The Dodgers grabbed a two-run lead in the first innings and never looked backward. They added singles in the third, fourth and fifth and topped them off with a pair in the eighth. They got aboard via the hit and error route as Linda Wagg walked only one better.

The Shellettes have played better softball and perhaps a touch of nervousness in their first game with "foreign" opposition affected their play. They should come up with a good exhibition next Saturday.

The score:

Goderich	201 110 020—	7	11 0
Shellettes	000 000 000—	0	1 5

Umpires: Thomas p, Ehler.

Abbruzzi Shines for Larks, Ticats Scuttle Argos' Ship

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Pat Abbruzzi was just a name among the 150-odd American imports who came to Canada this fall looking for a job. Now he's just about the hottest piece of gridiron material in the country and the particular pride and joy of Montreal Alouettes fans.

The Big Four Union Als didn't have a backfielder of the calibre of driving type of Alex Webster who returned to the National Football League after a 16-touchdown season in 1954. Abbruzzi fired that—fast.

Saturday, the Rhode Island State import man-rollered through the Hamilton Tiger-Cat line and ended the afternoon with four touchdowns as the Als humbled TiCats 38-20. That gave him nine for the still-young season and the way he's going he could power Als to the Nov. 26 Grey Cup final at Vancouver.

BROKE THE FOR FIRST

The victory broke a deadlock for first place between the Als and TiCats. Meanwhile, at Toronto, the supposed-great Edmonton Eskimo backers trampled Argonauts 27-12 to move into a second-place tie with Montreal and leave the third-placed Toronto club in last position with only one victory in four starts.

Abbruzzi's performance wasn't too surprising. It proved he could pick—or make—the holes in any line in the league. A week ago he smashed over for three touchdowns against Argonauts and the week before cracked Rough Riders' line for two.

The 23-year-old 205-pound American had lots of help from the mighty Als 'and before a record crowd of 22,940. Three times in the third quarter he finished off Montreal's passing and running by charging over the Hamilton line from the five-yard stripe or inside. He scored his first touchdown in the second quarter, also on a line smash.

Quarter Sam Etcheverry passed to Joey Pal for another touchdown, also in the second quarter, and Hal Patterson took another pass from Etcheverry to score Montreal's sixth touchdown in the fourth. In the third the Als added a safety touch. Bud Korchak kicked the six convert.

CAME FROM BEHIND

Tiger-Cats shocked the big crowd by taking a 9-0 lead early in the second quarter but the big Montreal team got the range to trail only 12-12 at the half.

Hal Waggoner opened the scoring with a TiCat touchdown in the first quarter. Tip Logan added the convert and Cam Fraser a single. Lou Kusserow went over for the first of his two touchdowns in the second, again converted by Logan before Montreal became untracked. Then, with Abbruzzi and Etcheverry leading the way, it was all Montreal.

Fraser booted another single in the third and Kusserow got his second touchdown late in the game.

It was Bobby Simpson Day at Toronto. The homebrew from Windsor, Ont., hauled in two long touchdown passes, set up a third and was largely instrumental in Riders' victory before a slim crowd of 16,078.

LACKED GROUND STRENGTH

Logan looked both good and bad. They didn't have much of a ground attack to go with their dangerous aerial power in the air and their line allowed Rough Riders to prowl in their backfield and chase quarter Tom Dublinski.

Geoff Crain, Ottawa's second-best quarter and another homebrew, also played a big part in Ottawa's win. Simpson took a long pass from Crain to go 74 yards for the Riders' first touchdown and before the opening quarter ended got another on a 52-yard-and-run play with import quarter Don Bailey doing the tossing.

Simpson went 85 yards to the Toronto four on another Bailey pass in the second quarter to set up a touchdown by Avatus Stone. An intercepted pass set up Riders' for their fourth touchdown with Don Pinhey going over from the two-yard line.

Tom Tracey kicked a 21-yard field goal in the last 15 minutes and converted all Ottawa touchdowns. Royal Copeland and Bucky Curtis scored the Toronto touchdowns, both converted by Imports Ed Fouch.

TORONTO (CP)—Sarnia Imperials scored three touchdowns, but failed to beat Toronto Beaches 16-8 in a senior Ontario Rugby Football Union game before 1,000 fans here.

It was Beaches' second beating of the weekend. On Saturday they took a 37-4 pounding from Queen's Golden Gaels in an exhibition game at Kingston. In another exhibition contest Saturday at Waterloo, Western Ontario Mustangs defeated Imperials 24-17.

A 16-yard run by import halfback John Jacoba put Sarnia in the lead after they trailed Beaches 6-4 at the half. Jacoba, a former University of Chicago star, dashed through the whole Beach backfield from his own 16 for a third-quarter touchdown.

Beaches, who lost 45-0 to Sarnia last Wednesday when they dressed only one import, had former Argo halfback Dynard Tyrris in uniform. He sparked the Toronto team with his hard running and scored Toronto's only touchdown in the second quarter. Harvey Singleton converted.

EARLY SCORE

Sarnia scored early in the first when quarterback Gino Cappelletti kicked a 35-yard field goal.

Imperials held Beaches in their own end for most of the first and added a single when Ron Warrell was rouged on Jim Burr's kick.

Imps added an insurance touchdown in the fourth on a line smash by halfback Richard Dixon. Cappelletti converted both Sarnia touchdowns to raise his point-total to 23 for the season and take league scoring leadership. Halfback Billy Graham of Kitchener - Waterloo Dutchmen is second with 26 points.

IMPS LOSE

Western were apparently too lightly held by Sarnia. The Imps, in training only a couple of weeks, trailed only once in one of the best opening contests in Big Four history.

Western touchdowns were scored by Neil Desborough and Bruce Thomas, a lineman who got a touch after a kick was blocked deep in the Sarnia end. Dixon, Glen Coppellett and Cadieux got the Sarnia majors.

At Kingston, Queen's recovered from a lethargic second quarter and swept to four converted touchdowns in the last 30 minutes to overwhelm Balmy Beach.

Frank Tindall's dynamic backfield trio forged the win. Allstar back Ron Stewart swept to two touchdowns, Gar Schreider added one on a 51-yard run. Ends Jay McMahon and Jim Coutts each recorded a major on pass plays. Ex-Western Mustang Jocko Thompson converted the four touchdowns and booted a 25-yard field goal.

Stewart's total accounted for Beaches' four points in the second quarter.

Canuck Football 'Not My Kind' Says Mains

DETROIT (CP) — Tackle Gil Mains, who fled a $13,000 no-cut contract with Toronto Argonauts Saturday, is expected to don a Detroit Lions football suit Tuesday. Mains sat on the bench Sunday as the Lions defeated New York Giants 27-17 in a pre-schedule National Football League exhibition game.

"I'm glad to be back," said Mains who is expected to get a little over the $7,000 he drew last year for this season's service with the Lions. "I had enough of it up there...They don't play my kind of football. Practically all of the others I know who went up there from the States felt the same way."

Mains was the second of three players Argonauts sent from the Lions to return here. Jungle Jim Martin made the hop a week ago. He kicked two three-point field goals in Sunday's game.

The third player is quarter Tom Dublinski and Mains says "he doesn't like the way brand of ball they play either but they got him a good, off-season job."

Yankees Start Ticket Sale

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees announced Sunday night they will begin accepting world series applications effective immediately.

General manager George Weiss said all box and reserve seats would be sold only by mail order and only in sets of two for each customer, meaning that each purchaser must buy two strips of tickets—eight in all.

The two sets of box seats will cost $4 and the reserve $3.50.

Weiss said the only method of payment acceptable to the Yanks would be certified checks, Bankers cashier's cheque, or U.S. or express money orders.

He also said mail orders would be accepted only from the Yanks' ticket distribution area which includes New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, eastern Pennsylvania and parts of New England.

Will Stick With Argos

TORONTO (CP) — Quarterback Tom Dublinski says he intends to remain in Toronto Argonauts of the Big Four despite repeated offers from Detroit Lions.

Dublinski said he made his decision Saturday and will stick by it. Officials of the Detroit football League Lions have been after Dublinski ever since he jumped them this season to join Argonauts.

"I'm not going to kid myself that I wouldn't like to be playing back there in the National League," he said. "Most people have been so wonderful to us up here and Harry has done so much for me that I think the only fair decision is to stay."

Hard-Hitter Hurricane Ione Has Rocky, Archie Worried

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP) — Hurricane Ione, a gal who likes a big punch, had heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano and Archie Moore more worried about her than each other today as they idled away the hours. Ensiled in a rain-shaken edge, the fighters ended their long preparations for Friday night's title fight at Yankee Stadium Sunday with short boxing sessions. Now there is nothing to do but rest at the sides and wonder if Ione was going to throw a wet blanket over their plans.

If it should blow up Tuesday and a postponement, the fight will be held on Wednesday, Thursday is the postponement date after that.

Naturally, neither wants the de-facto 38-year-old light heavyweight champion has been stuck in a long time and that he is champion more than a year for the chance and landed Moore deep daily for "duckling him." The 38-year-old gladiator confidently himself to become the oldest heavyweight king in history and doesn't figure an hour more than necessary for the crowning.

The undefeated Rocky Marciano is just as anxious to get at his cocky challenger. Rocky admits that Archie's better than he's been given credit for and while he won't make any prediction he figures to have the fight finished to destroy Moore in the early rounds.

Judging by his last three workouts, the 31-year-old heavyweight ruler may do just that. Never a flashy fighter, Rocky has been spectacular with both the power punch and pinpoint accuracy he has.

Ring training drills seldom are a reliable criterion, this observer, after watching them practice over the past week, picks Marciano to win on a knockout within five rounds.

Rocky's body punching has been devastating and he has been unloading his blows in combinations of three and more within split seconds.

The odds still tower Marciano by 3-1 to stretch his all-winning streak to 49. Moore has won his last 11 over the past three years and nine straight.

Until hurricane Ione was spawned, the promoting International Boxing Club had been hoping to do $750,000 and better at the gate. Now it's a matter of sweating out the weather reports and hoping for the best.

With no such confusion, the advance sale for the closed circuit telecast to 128 theatres in 99 cities has been phenomenal. Theater Network Telecast, Inc., officials expect to gross $1,000,000 at an average of $3.50 a head. From this the IBC will collect about $600,000. Radio will throw another $35,000 into the pot. From the IBC's share, Marciano will collect 40 per cent and Moore 20 per cent. With a break in the weather, Marciano could earn about $400,000 and Moore $200,000.

SINKS 30-FOOTER

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —Ted Kroll sank a 30-foot putt in a sudden-death extra hole Sunday to win the $20,000 Daily News open golf tournament.

Kroll won $4,000 first prize money. Ford collected $2,500.

TO COACH BULLDOGS

WINDSOR (CP)—Jimmy Peters, 32-year-old former National Hockey League player, has signed a one-year contract as player-coach of Windsor Bulldogs of the Ontario Hockey Association senior A circuit.

CLAIMS RECORD

BELGRADE (AP) — Vladimir Kuc of Russia today claimed a world's record for the 3,000-metre run with a time of 13:46.6 in an international track meet at Belgrade. If the record is established an official fact, he has broken the mark held by Sandor Iharos of Hungary by 0.2 seconds and the distance recently at 13:50.8.

ROYALS WIN

AYLMER, Ont. (CP)—Bowmanville Royals won the semi-finals of the Intermediate "B" OBA here Saturday by defeating Aylmer Trojans 8-3. The Royals will meet the winner of the Strathroy-Listowel series.

ROYALS OUSTED

SARNIA (CP)—Fort Erie Centos ousted Sarnia Royals from OBA intermediate A semi-finals by virtue of a 7-3 win here Saturday in the rubber game after dropping the second contest 8-3 here Saturday.

Harvie Ward Wins Amateur Golf Title

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Harvie Ward's nine-year quest for the United States amateur golf championship ended in success Saturday when the young North Carolinian, near flawless and long-hitting golfer, smothered Philadelphia's William Hyndman, III, 8 and 8, in one of the worst shellackings in the tournament's history.

Hyndman, a 39-year-old insurance executive little known outside his own district, went eight-down at the end of the morning round when Ward, his tense blazing shots around the James river course in 66, four under par.

The tall Philadelphian, disheartened and frustrated by bad putting luck, went to the first 4old room for treatment of raw foot blisters and stinging eyes. Refreshed, he then returned in the afternoon to make a stirring, but futile, run for it.

A 75-FOOT PUTT

He went nine down at the 19th, the first hole of the afternoon, and then, while writers were searching the record books for records unsmitten defeats, rolled in a 75-foot putt. The crowd of 4,500 went wild.

It was the first and only hole Hyndman won for when on the seventh to match the mighty Ward stroke for stroke through the next five holes, Ward took hold on until Ward clinched the decision with a halved four on the 28th.

ASK WAIVERS

BALTIMORE (AP) — Baltimore Orioles have asked for waivers on left-handed pitcher Ted Gray for the purpose of giving him an unconditional release, Gray, 30, has pitched 15 1-3 innings for the Birds, yielding 14 earned runs for a 8.21 mark. Two victory and two losses. He broke into the American League with Detroit in 1946.

Rampaging Red Wings Oust Toronto in Four Straight

ROCHESTER (AP)—The suddenly vicious Rochester Red Wings have swept the Maple Leafs out of the Governors' Cup, four games to none, with one of the highest scoring offences in International League playoff history, will rest their sore bats and limbers up until the opening of the little world series here Wednesday night.

The Wings polished off Toronto 11-10 in 11 innings, Sunday to win four hours before the Minneapolis Millers eliminated Omaha in the American Assn. playoff, also by a 4-0 sweep.

The Millers, pennant winners in the Association, can't afford to be overconfident about playing a four-place finisher. The Wings will field a team which warmed up by taking four out of five from the pennant-winning Montreal Royals and Toronto took a 6-0 lead in the first inning, but the Wings cut into the margin on solo homers by Brandt, Ebbs St. Claire, Allie Clark and Jay Van Noy. Archie Wilson of the Leafs made it 8-6 with a three-run clout and the Leafs led until the seventh when Rochester rallied for four to knot the game.

Eskimos Trounce Roughriders As Blue Bombers Edge Lions

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Two teams boasting victory strings clash in Western Interprovincial Football Union action tonight.

Edmonton Eskimos, seeking their 13th straight, and Winnipeg Blue Bombers, looking for their third in a row after suffering five consecutive defeats, meet at Clarke Stadium in Edmonton.

In the other game in the five-team league, the British Columbia Lions battle the Stampeders at Calgary.

Ten games Saturday Eskimos invaded Regina and trounced Saskatchewan Roughriders 38-20 at Vancouver the Blue Bombers edged the Lions 30-19.

Frank (Pop) Ivy's split-T Edmonton offense suffered their first serious injury this season. Gino Fracas, the 25-year-old fullback from the University of Western Ontario, broke his leg on one of the last plays of the game.

SPARKED ERK PLAY

It was another University of Western Ontario product, 21-year-old Don Getty, who sparked the Eskimos as they ran up their seventh straight win in conference play this season.

Eskes won two pre-season exhibitions and closed out last season with three straight and the Grey Cup, were without Jackie Parker, their first string quarterback, in hospital with a virus throat infection.

Getty steered Edmonton to a convincing victory, throwing three touchdown passes as Eskimos completed eight of 11 forwards.

Halfback Oscar Kruger, usually used on defence, got on the attack to replace slightly-injured halfback Rollie Miles, caught passes for two Edmonton touchdowns and halfback Earl Lindley the other.

Tackle Bob Dean converted all five and kicked two field goals. Lindley was given credit for two other points when he caught quarterback Ron Adam behind the Roughrider goal line.

Point-getters for the second-place Riders were halfback Ken Carpenter who scored his 10th touchdown of the season to retain the conference scoring leadership, and fullback Ron Atchison who converted the touchdown and kicked a field goal.

In Vancouver, quarterback Bud Grant with less than two minutes to play put Winnipeg kicked a field remaining to give Blue Bombers the one-point margin. Bombers battling to get out of last place, had scored a 23-0 win over Roughriders last Monday.

Leske also converted two of Winnipeg's three touchdowns. The other Winnipeg points came on touchdowns by quarterback George Elliott, flying wing Leo Lewis and halfback Gerry James.

British Columbia scored on touchdowns by Dan Edwards, Primo Villanueva and Al Pawlett. All three were converted by Polland. The third-place Lions got their other point when Gordon Rowland of Winnipeg was rouged on Vic Chapman's kick.

Sam Snead's Golf School

Your stance and your head are the fixed points of axis of swing. Hold your head steady, immovable all through the swing. Your arms and your club are a spoke in the wheel. When you think of a golf swing think of it as you realize why body sway—whether right or left—kills a golf swing. Swing. Notice that our player's eyes are on the ball on the way back; the ball was. And by holding his eyes fixed on that spot and keeping his head still, this golfer makes certain that the top end of the axis of his swing remains fixed. The bottom of the axis of this swing, which at this stage of the stroke is mainly straight left leg, can't shift much since feet are anchored by his body weight. With these two points fixed there will be less efficiency for your right side to dip as you swing through—spoil your shot.

THE Calvert SPORTS COLUMN

by Elmer Ferguson

Whatever may happen in the impending battle between Rocky Marciano against the saving but ring-crafty Archie Moore, it's to be hoped there will be no charges afterward of foul fighting on the part of Marciano.

This writer, having met Marciano several times, found him a very pleasant person, outside the ring, but a man and does not believe he deliberately foul in his methods. It's just that Marciano is one of the worst clinching and pushing fighters in the history of the game. He can be hit easily.

Once during the much-discussed fight with the tough Britisher, Don Cockell, he held his right hand out to shake hands with the referee, Ruby Goldstein, and Marciano almost fell down. In the Golden Gloves, he was strong but a rough amateurish.

Then there was the blow he launched at Cockell when the latter had one knee on the floor. In the British fighter's corner, he would have been disqualified Marciano would undoubtedly have been disqualified. But Rocky explained later, and tried to prove his point from photographs, that it was impossible to tell whether Cockell's knee was on the floor or off when he swung out.

"I had started the punch", Rocky said, "and for the life of me, couldn't have stopped it."

This we believe, because Marciano is an untamed jungle man in the ring. His law is punch, punch and keep on punching until the opponent drops. He seems almost impervious to punishment, and you get the feeling, watching him in action, that the only way to halt this human dynamo would be to use an axe.

In a British ring, Marciano would undoubtedly have been disqualified for the fashion in which he fought Cockell. He threw blows from all angles, in physical points that are supposed to be out of bounds. That's his type, and his temperament. He's just not a boxer, rather a thrilling, terrifying battler of the roaring, punch-hurling Terry McGovern vintage.

Madoc Defeats Brooklin 6-4 In Playdown Opener

MADOC (Special) — A four-run rally in the top of the eighth overcame a 4-1 deficit on Saturday and gave Madoc a 6-4 victory over Brooklin in the first game of their OASA Juvenile "C" semi-final series. The second game is slated for Madoc next Saturday at 2.00 p.m.

Saturday's game, played in Brooklin, saw the home club take a 2-0 lead in the initial frame with Madoc coming back for one in the second. Brooklin upped their lead to 4-1 in the sixth but Madoc fought back with one in the seventh and finally took over in the eighth with four tallies to complete the scoring.

Wayne Shaw went all the way on the mound for Madoc, allowing nine hits, whiffing seven and walking only two. Fraine was his pitching opponent, giving up nine hits. He threw third strikes by 13 of the victors and was charged with four walks.

Fox spearheaded the winner's offence with a triple and double while Shaw aided his cause with a brace of singles. D. Burnside drove in the winning runs with a double while Tufts, Devolin, Johnson and C. Whiteman each singled.

Jones paced the Brooklin attack with three hits while MacMullen claimed a triple and single.

Line score:

Madoc	010 000 140	6	9 1
Brooklin	200 002 000	4	9 0

Toronto Bantams Edge Regents In Close Game

Behind the spectacular hurling of Allen Quartermain, Toronto studded the Belleville Elliott's Regents 2-1 here on Saturday afternoon in the first game of their OASA bantam playdowns. The second game is slated for Toronto on Wednesday at 8.00 p.m.

Saturday's game was a thrill - packed fixture with Toronto leading 1-0 until the seventh and final scheduled inning. Belleville plated one run to tie the score and another man came home on a passed ball but was sent back on a ground ruling. This run would have given Regents the game but Quartermain set the next three down in order and sent the game into extra innings. Toronto netted one run in the top of the eighth and when Belleville failed to score in their half, Toronto took the decision.

Quartermain tolled the route, allowing just three hits, all singles. He struck out 16 and passed four. Ted Hook was on the hill for Belleville, giving up five hits and whiffing four while passing the same number.

Balmer was the only batter with two hits to lead the winner's attack. Adams, Almark, Linn and Oitment had one single each for Toronto.

Locke had two of the Regents' safeties with the odd one going to Keller.

Lineups:

Toronto: Tant, Linn, Almark, MacDonald, Balmer, Oitment, Young, Adams, Rooney, Quartermain.

Belleville: Keller, McGuire, Morreau, Locke, T. Hook, J. Hook, Dever, Lewis, Langabeer, Clapp.

Wellington Enters Midget Finals; Oust Alliston

A seven-run explosion in the eighth inning helped the Wellington midgets to a 13-4 victory over Alliston on Saturday and gave them the midget "C" series in two straight games. They will now advance into the OBA provincial championship with their opponents to be named at a later date.

Alliston took a short-lived 1-0 lead in the second frame but Moreatt's boys tallied one in their half to tie it and moved ahead with another in the third. The losers pulled up to even terms at 4-4 in the top of the sixth but Wellington went on from there to win going away.

They pounded out five hits in the eighth including back to back home runs by Platt and Purtelle for seven markers. Platt's circuit blast was the longest ever hit on the Wellington diamond, hitting the arena roof.

Tom O'Halloran pitched the route for the victors, allowing 10 hits for three earned runs. He nailed five on strikes while walking two.

Dowling and Hurst shared mound duties in defeat, Hurst taking over in the big eighth inning. They gave up 12 hits while fanning one while six errors did little to aid their cause.

Platt had a perfect day at the plate with two for two while Carson, McEntcey and Goulding also claimed a brace of safeties. The others went to Tripp, Purtelle, Foster, O'Halloran and Guernsey.

Cunningham, Bulles and Scollard each pounded a pair of hits in a losing effort with McDonald, Bartlett, Whalen and Dowling also hitting safely.

Alliston Juveniles lead Wellington one game to none with the second fixture slated for Wellington Wednesday.

The score:

Alliston	010 003 000—	4	10 0
Wellington	011 021 17x—	13	12 4

Tennis Notes

In a Bay of Quinte tennis match played over the week-end, Quinte Club defeated the Point Anne club four games to one.

Results:

APPROVES PARK PLAN

MONTREAL (CP)—The city executive committee Friday approved in principle a master plan that would set aside 12 per cent of the city's area for open spaces and parks.

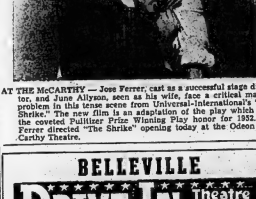
U.S. Football

NEW YORK (AP) — The U.S. college football season opened Saturday and the Maryland-Missouri game turned out to be the headline attraction although it was billed as nothing more than a good warmup for Jim Tatum's Bruisers, rated a threat for national honors.

As it turned out, Maryland won 13-12.

Nebraska, which represented the Big Seven in the Orange Bowl last New Year's Day, suffered a humiliating defeat, dropping a 6-0 decision to the University of Hawaii. Last year, the Cornhuskers used Hawaii as a 50-0 punching bag.



Texas Christian smashed Kansas 47-14; Wyoming routed Kansas State 39-20, and Denver whipped New State 18-7.

The television game of the day turned out as figured with Georgia Tech handing Miami a 14-6 licking. This was the first college football game ever televised in the south.

Story of the unique "prison without walls" at Chino, California, "Unchained" also stars Barbara Hale and Chester Morris. On the same program "The Enforcer", starring Humphrey Bogart."

AT THE McCARTHY — Jose Ferrer, cast as a successful stage director, and June Allyson, seen as his wife, face a critical marital problem in this tense scene from Universal-International's "The Shrike." The powerful film is an adaptation of the play which won the coveted Pulitizer Prize Winning Play honor for 1952. Mr. Ferrer directed "The Shrike" opening today at the Odeon McCarthy Theatre.

INDIAN ACCEPTS JOB

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Indian embassy Friday said it has been formally notified by the government-in-exile New Delhi that India has agreed to "assume the functions and responsibilities" of the Geneva agreement between the United States and Communist China. The agreement calls for India to aid Chinese Nationals in this country who feel they are being instructed to returning to Communist China or who lack funds for the trip.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Tuesday, Sept. 20, 1955

March 21 to April 20—(Aries) — This may not be a good period for exciting activities but much can be accomplished in industry, trades, manufacturing and building. Railroading, shipping, and construction highly favored.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus) — This can be a productive, profitable day for you sturdy, innately clever folks. No matter what your occupation, as long as it is honest, you can make headway now.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini) — Keep on an even keel and you will go further, make surer advancement. However, impatience, too much self-assurance could put you on the wrong path. Be careful, understanding.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — Indications similar to Taurus. Be serene and steady and you will realize much accomplishment. Could also be able to avoid mistakes. Do not hesitate to try new methods.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — An unusually advantageous period for study, research, chemistry, teaching, preparing others for higher education, improving talents, all useful undertakings. Mechanics, miners can make gains.

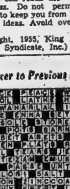
August 24 to September 23 — (Virgo) — Highly favored are mental tasks and those requiring physical prowess and endurance. Do not undertake more than you can reasonably handle. A fine day for achievement.

September 24 to October 23 — (Libra) — With your innate sense of balance and fair, sound judgment working to full capacity, you should have a prosperous day.

October 24 to November 22 — (Scorpio) — There's plenty of challenge and stimulus in this peppy, generous Tuesday. It is important that you plan your schedule wisely in order to get the most for your efforts.

November 23 to December 22— (Sagittarius) — Similar to Scorpio's. Be conscientious, ambitious, and just as you push determinedly ahead toward objectives. Benefits, fresh gains possible through intelligent management.

December 23 to November 21 (Capricorn)—Many fresh avenues open now to new, unexpected and profitable connections, fortunate outcomes. Be alert to these.



January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—What are your special talents, aptitudes? They can advance your status now if you use them wisely and consistently. Don't put off minor chores necessary to achieve objectives.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Very delicate and artistic matters, dealings in foods, beverages, businesses, servicing the public in improved standing.

You born today have steadiness of purpose, are highly intuitive and imaginative; are kind, sympathetic, especially with the unfortunate and the young. You make wonderful teachers, judges, lawyers, artists. You may also be expert mechanics or builders. Whether you choose a trade, go in business or a professional calling, you can reach the pinnacle of success. Do not permit stubborness to keep you from listening to good ideas. Avoid overindulgences.

Held for Murder After Daughter, 4, Dies from Beating

Randell was arrested by Ontario Provincial Police corporal Henry Cartier and jailed in Woodstock following the death of Cynthia Falconer, one of his three step children.

OPP Sgt. Burk Moore said preliminary investigation disclosed the beating was as a "corrective measure carried too far." Police were notified by hospital authorities soon after the dead child was brought from the parents' farm near Embro.

One of five children at the farm is the couple's own daughter. The other four, including the dead girl, are children of a former husband of Mrs. Randell. The pair have been married less than three years, it was reported.

Randell has been remanded by Justice of the peace and must appear before a magistrate either Wednesday or Friday when court is held here.

HURRICANE IONE

Ione's peak winds near the centre were estimated this morning at 125 miles an hour. Winds up to 10 feet above normal are expected near the storm's eye, along with rains up to six inches.

DANGEROUS WINDS

"All precautions should be continued for the protection of life and property against dangerous winds and heavy rains of this hurricane," the weather bureau warned.

Winds of more than 100 miles an hour were reported before 2am as the hurricane battered largely unpopulated south communities.

Waves and high tides clawed for the third straight day at ever-busy North Carolina's vacation beaches and their installations. Protective dunes, hastily rebuilt after Connie and Diane moved on, were swept away.

Power lines went down in some communities, communication lines went out, isolating some towns and villages, and highways and low-lying lands were flooded.

Vacationers and beach residents by the hundreds huddled in quickly opened shelters in schools, churches and community buildings as Ione swirled her fury.

Hurricane warnings flew from Wilmington to Atlantic City, N.J., and over the south half of Chesapeake bay. The hurricane's heart was in effect all the way to Provincetown, Mass., on the tip of Cape Cod.

The fear of floods equalled that of winds and fires during the first and northeast states, where rampaging rivers took more lives and property than any natural damage after August's hurricane Diane dumped torrents of rain on Pennsylvania, New York and New England.

Forty-three had died a week earlier when Connie crashed above both the Carolinas and moved northward to Pennsylvania and New York.

Screen Swimmers Says Gus Ryder After Lake Death

NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE (CP)—Drowning of a swimmer set on conquering Lake Ontario has brought a call for some system of screening to prevent a repetition of the tragedy.

One minute Sunday Clifford Snowdon was swimming strongly in a record attempt. The next minute he was gone. The lake still holds his body.

The 29-year-old tree surgeon from Grimsby was making the 31st assault on the lake since Marilyn Bell's epic swim last fall.

It was Marilyn's coach, Gus Ryder, who suggested that some way be found to screen would-be marathoners. He did not suggest a method but compared lake swimming with driving a car: there should be some licensing.

HISTORY OF EPILEPSY

Ryder said he was doubly shocked when he learned that Snowdon had a history of epilepsy.

"I would not think of putting any swimmer in the water who was in Rhodiotuby too physical condition," he said. "With me it has always been safety first."

Snowdon lost his life one hour after setting out at 2:10 a. m. on the 32-mile crossing from Niagara-on-the-Lake to Toronto.

Snowdon's pilot, Trellie Ledoux of Niagara-on-the-Lake, said he stopped briefly to talk to the swimmer and to take a fix on their course almost 10 miles from shore.

Snowdon said the 65-degree water was "just fine" and asked Ledoux about two lights just ahead of the boat. He explained that they were lighters on a larger tender, operated by Cunningham of St. Catharines, which also was accompanying them.

ACCOUNTING SECONDS

"I just looked down at the compass, and in those three or four seconds," Ledoux said, "the motor was stopped and the boat out of control. When I looked up he was about three or four feet in front of the boat. I threw the compass again very briefly and when I looked up again he was gone."

Ledoux called to the other boat and a search was started.

Ryder wore a white bathing cap with a strip of fluorescent tape around it. Protection? he was asked.

"The powerful lights on the tender made no one have picked him out if he had been there."

Snowdon, who has a four-year-old son, had not told his wife he was making the attempt. She heard of his death in a telephone call from police here.

Snowdon was reported missing once before in a swim. Two weeks ago he was separated from his boat's load in the lake but swam to shore safely.

Little Benny's Notebook

Skinny Martin and his whole family moved out of their house yesterday, and us fellows watched the moving men carry out the last load of furniture and drive down the street. Skinny is being told they are moving to, on account of living in a bigger, more high class house, and Skinny he says he is overjoyed with between 10 and 15 years service.

Us fellows sympathize which would give $67.50 a month to 30-year employees and $90 to 40-year employees.

UNION REJECTS

General Motors said its GAW offer described it as a supplemental unemployment benefit plan ... would provide a laid-off employee with a weekly total of from 60 per cent to 65 per cent of his take-home pay for as long as 26 weeks.

The amount and duration of the benefits would depend among other things on the total amount in the trust fund which GM would establish, the employee's seniority and pay rate, number of dependents, amount of his unemployment benefits and the number of weeks worked.

Mr. Burt said agreement was made impossible by what he called insistence of GM on a three-year agreement not much better than contracts for less than half that duration which the union had signed with GM's competitors.

GM said it believes the majority of its employees favor the kind of stability and labor peace enjoyed under its long-term agreements.

NOT ACCEPTABLE

Louis G. Seaton of Detroit, director of labor relations for General Motors, said agreement on any issues was tentative until the report of a conciliation board was handed down. A majority report signed by judge J. C. Anderson of Belleville, chairman, and Charles McGrae of Toronto, the company nominee, criticized the action of Mr. Burt, who twice left conciliation meetings ahead of conciliation board sessions.

"Continuous negotiations Mr. Burt said conciliation boards are a waste of time as nothing is accomplished until after they are over and the company is threatened with strike action.

More than 60 bargaining sessions were held. The conciliation board made no recommendation about the more than 100 points in dispute.

PICKETS OUT

Intensive bargaining began two days after the conciliation board report was released.

Then, union members filed on to picket lines within minutes of the announcement from Toronto that contract talks had broken down.

The men had been waiting in the union hall for word on progress of the talks.

The GM offer also included:

A new contributing arrangement which would increase the present six-cent-an-hour bonus more quickly if living costs went up but would decrease no faster than at present if living costs drop.

Wooden Nickels Prove Headache For Casinos

RENO, Nev. (AP)—A commercial stunt by the neighboring city of Sparks in issuing 10,000 wooden nickels to commemorate its 50th anniversary is turning into a headache for gambling casino operators here.

Someone has discovered that the "nickels" work nicely in the dollar slot machines used in many of the state's casinos.

Only a few gambling houses report finding the phony pieces of pine in their slots so far, but word of the wooden nickel's dual role is spreading fast.

"We may have to put on extra girls to keep an eye on the dollar machines alone," said a slot operator.

Scouters' Club Holds Meeting

MIDDLETON PARK — The monthly meeting of the RCAF Trenton Scouters' Club, which took place at the home of Scouter Bob Clay, was honored by the presence of Chief Commissioner Art Jackson of Brighton, Ont. Mr. Jackson presented Scoutmaster Art Davies with the "Rover Wood Badge Certificate."

This is the second Wood Badge course which Scouter Davies has completed. He now holds certificates for the Scoutmasters' Wood Badges and the Rover Scouts' Wood Badge courses. Scouter Davies worked with the Cubs for seven years at Station Trenton, then he moved to the Scout troop.

Last year, in May, the Scouts were formed into two troops, but difficulties arose when no additional Scoutmaster was available so Scouter Davies combined the two troops for their summer activities at camp. Scouter Davies reports that this year he will have five Queen's Scouts in his troops.

Appointed as Group Cubmaster and Group Scoutmaster for RCAF Trenton group are respectively: Squadron Leader V. Rutherford of 25B Johnson Drive, Middleton Park and Flight Sergeant A. Davies of 34 Rivers Dr., Middleton Park.

Kitimat grows
Already Alcan's big new West Coast smelter goes ahead with TWO major increases to meet the rapid growth in demand for Canadian aluminum

The broken lines on the photograph roughly indicate the additional area to be occupied by new smelters and other buildings. Beyond the present plant (the aluminum structure in the middle ground) can be seen the harbor and docks of Kitimat.

In August, 1954, only 3½ years after ground was broken, the Kitimat smelter commenced production of aluminum with an annual capacity of 91,500 tons. Almost immediately a 60,000-ton extension was started. And in the spring of 1955 the decision was made to proceed with a flexible program to add a further 150,000 tons to ingot capacity.

. . . A progressive increase to 331,500 tons, more than three times the size of the original installation, and well on the way to our ultimate Kitimat goal of 550,000 tons a year.

"This continuing expansion of Kitimat in successive stages", stated Aluminium Limited president Nathanael V. Davis, "should, we believe, help to keep pace with the growing free world demand for aluminum and particularly the demand in our major export markets, the United Kingdom and the United States."

The new facilities will go into production step by step, with the first unit starting up in the fall of 1956. It is expected that the present building program will be completed in 1959.

Hurricane Heads Out To Sea After Taking Big Toll

Spread Death, Devastation In Virginia, North Carolina

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Hurricane Ione veered well out to sea on an eastward course today and virtually all remaining threats to the northeastern United States and eastern Canada vanished.

The devastation of the season's ninth tropical storm was visited mainly on Virginia where over five lives were lost and property and crop damage ran well up in the millions. Aside from some more flood-conscious towns, Virginia, which expected a large dose of damage escaped almost unscathed.

Ione, her 120-mile-an-hour winds reduced to about 60, spun uncertainly for several hours off Norfolk early today and then veered out over the open sea.

All storm warnings south of Rhode Island to Cape Hatteras were ordered down, including those in Chesapeake and Delaware bays. The alert remained in effect from Block Island to Provincetown, Mass.

TOWN HARD HIT

Wind and water damaged every house in Bethaven, N.C., a town of 2,500. Police estimated that about 15 square miles was under water at one time in the immediate area.

If the storm continues moving out to sea, Canada is expected to escape its effects. For a time it was feared that Ontario and Quebec might suffer from the fringe winds of the year's ninth hurricane, with possibly more of its force expended on the Maritimes.

CURVES TO SEA

But shortly after 7 a. m. EDT the weather bureau in Washington said a continued northeasterly path should take the hurricane out to sea in a curve lying south of Nova Scotia.

Ione's rain, which totalled more than three inches in Virginia's Hampton Roads area, had spread into flood-ravaged southern New England early today, and more was on the way. The weather bureau forecast total rains along the coast of up to six inches.

Ione, shoving many of the stopand-go characteristics of her sister Connie, which inflicted tremendous damage on the Carolina coast in August, moved at 25 miles south of Norfolk.

TIDES RUN HIGH

Tides in Hampton Roads reached only three feet above normal. When she passed, they were to ease somewhat and the winds were from her inner fringe.

Damage was tremendous, on the other hand, in North Carolina, at which Ione threw her 100-mile-an-hour punch sunday.

Four persons died in North Carolina and property losses were counted in the millions of dollars. All the deaths were in New Bern, where the ramaging Trent river swept over 40 city blocks and put business buildings and dwellings under three to four feet of water.

Title Fight Is Postponed For One Night

NEW YORK (AP)—Heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano weighed 188½ pounds and challenger Archie Moore 186 even today for their 15-round title fight in Yankee Stadium, postponed until 10:45 p.m. EDT Wednesday because of threatening weather.

The 24-hour postponement was announced in mid-morning by Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, despite predictions that the metropolitan area would receive only a glancing blow from hurricane Ione and there would be clearing by early evening.

Norris said the move was motivated by the "uncertainty," of weather conditions.

Another factor was that of gate receipts. With some $670,000 already in the till, promoters hoped to add another $150,000 in sales before fight time, granting weather is good.

If weather conditions Wednesday are still unsuitable, the fight will be held Thursday.

Howe Decides On Change In Command

OTTAWA (CP)—Production Minister Howe has decided on a change in command of Canada's $200,000,000 defence shipbuilding program, marking the end of dollar-a-year men under his control.

The plan, which is to be announced shortly, will see shipbuilding director R. M. (Mike) Robertson, 61, return to his civilian role as operations manager of the Dominion Bridge Co. at Montreal.

The last of the dollar-a-year men will be replaced by J. C. (Jack) Rutledge, 41, of Toronto, a warsea civil servant who now is Mr. Robertson's deputy.

The changeover will be the final chapter in Mr. Howe's operations to shift management of a multi-billion-dollar-arms effort from technicians borrowed temporarily from industry to permanent civil servants.

The operational move is designed to provide a nucleus of well-trained personnel permanently-based in Ottawa and available to direct an expanding arms production quickly in the event of emergency.

EAST GERMAN SOVEREIGNTY IS RESTORED

Russian Troops Stay Until West Goes Too

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union and Communist East Germany today signed agreements which they said formally restore sovereignty to East Germany but provide that Russian troops must remain stationed there for defence purposes.

These agreements, which also concerned the remaining German war prisoners held by the Russians, were signed after five days of negotiations between East German Prime Minister Otto Grotewohl and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin.

The agreements provide for the liquidation of the Soviet high commissioner's office in East Germany and the formal assumption of his duties by the new ambassador.

The Germans announced that the pact will grant them "real sovereignty contrary to the phoney sovereignty that Bonn received from the Western powers," make provision for the release of prisoners and for the establishment of normal Russian troops on East German soil will withdraw their troops from West Germany.

Russia, meanwhile, has offered to withdraw her troops from Germany if the West will do the same.

The conference in Russia's East German meeting Monday by Nikita Khrushchev, first secretary of the Russian Communist party, who said Russia was ready to withdraw her forces from Germany "provided our partners in the war against Hitlerite Germany will withdraw their troops."

200 Employees Ordered to Work

GUELPH (CP)—Union officials have ordered 200 employees of the Canadian General Electric plant here to work their regular shifts today.

The men were suspended Friday for two days by the company after they staged a sit-down strike in sympathy with two welders who protested against being reclassified into a lower category.

Their return is to be followed by a meeting of company heads and officials of Local 524, United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America (Ind.) in an effort to reach a settlement in the dispute.

Legal Battle Over

TALLAGEDA, Ala. (AP) — The two legal battle over ownership of a meteorite struck by a three per Sylacauga, Ala., last Nov. 30 has been settled out of court.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hodges, 31, who was hit by the falling 8½-inch, 9-pound meteorite and Mrs. Birdie Guy, owner of the house where Mrs. Hodges was living at the time, gets $500 of the purchase price.

Mrr. Guy had filed suit for the hunk of granite as being her property since it fell on her house. Mrs. Hodges, who said she had been offered up to $5,500 for it, resisted the suit.

Use of Milk as Chain Store Loss Leader Worries Distributor Assoc.

CHATHAM (CP)—Concern over the use of milk as a loss leader by large retailers was expressed Monday at a meeting of the Ontario Milk Distributors Association's board of directors.

The 30 directors representing dairies from all parts of Ontario said they have learned that certain chain groups are selling milk as cheaply as two quarts for 39 cents.

If retailers continue to sell milk at a loss, the cost to the dairy will become prohibitive when house sales fall, delegates said. The directors decided to give the problem further study.

The distributors' also considered the problem of introducing bonded caps, metallic covers fitting over the entire head of the milk bottle. It was reported that a number of smaller dairies have already begun to use the bonded caps without any resistance from the buying public. Some which made the innovation have already begun to use the caps permanently.

Use of the caps, the directors decided, would lead to added cost which they felt should be passed on to the consumer. The covers cost more and in addition required a different type of bottle.

The conference, under the chairmanship of O. E. Sinclair of London, was largely devoted to planning an agenda for the annual conference of the association in Toronto in May. It is expected to attract representatives of 300 Ontario dairies.

Cautious Optimism Prevails At UN Post-Geneva Meeting

By JACK BENT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—Delegates from 60 nations meet here today for discussions aimed at easing international tension and furthering the cause of peace in the world.

The 10th General Assembly of the United Nations convenes at 3 p.m. EDT to begin deliberations on a variety of topics ranging from atomic energy and disarmament to colonial matters and revision of the charter.

Cautious optimism has been expressed that the meetings will result in important achievements, particularly in view of the fact it's the first assembly since the Big Four leaders met at Geneva in July to press the search for peace.

However a lively dispute is expected to mark the opening session. Observers predict that Russia — as in past assemblies—will challenge Nationalist China's right to the seat and demand that Communist China be seated instead.

The United States will seek to crush this move by proposing that the matter be shelved, and UN sources predict she will be successful.

Canada will support the U.S., sis's attitude towards the plan.

despite External Affairs Minister Pearson's statement some weeks ago that the time may have arrived to reconsider the question of recognizing Red China.

Though in favor of eventually seating Peiping's representatives, Canada is apparently willing to wait until the American people—still sharply mindful of Korea—are more receptive to the idea.

Canada is sending a 12-man delegation—including 4 alternates—to the meetings. For Canada, disarmament and the allied question of atomic energy will be the dominant note. The Canadian group is headed by Health Minister Paul Martin and includes two other cabinet ministers—Revenue Minister J. J. McCann for the first part of the session and State Secretary Roch Pinard for the second.

Martin will enter the assembly general debate next Monday. U.S. State Secretary Dulles refers to the leader's address to President Eisenhower's plan for mutual aerial inspection and swapping of military blueprints, as expected, Martin's submission will contain a reaffirmation of Canada's favorable attitude towards the proposal.

Foreign Minister Pearson's address late next week will be watched for a statement of Rus-

Union and GM Negotiators Await Word to Resume Talks

TORONTO (CP) — Union and company negotiators were called today to resume contract talks aimed at ending the strike of 17,000 workers at General Motors of Canada plants in Ontario.

As members of the United Auto Workers (CIO-CCL) picketed the company's five Ontario plants, negotiating teams were standing by here for either side to make a request for re-opening of bargaining discussions. Both parties were confident talks would be held again within the week.

The walkout, which started early Monday, has closed plants in Oshawa, suburban Scarborough, St. Catharines, Windsor and Windsor Ford when the massive General Motors enterprise should be gearing up for full production of its model vehicles and other highly-competitive products. It is the first strike to hit all of GM's Canadian operations.

UAW negotiators rejected a three-year package offer from the company Saturday 17-7 on appeal.

The guaranteed annual wage was not behind the walkout. The company had offered, and the union accepted, a modified version of it.

In terms given the union in the package offer, union spokesmen said, the GM employees are still lagging behind the wages of the other two major automobile companies—Ford of Canada and Chrysler Corporation.

Ford's contract with the UAW expires next June and Chrysler's in August. The improvements expected in those new agreements would leave GM workers even further behind if they were tied to a three-year contract, union strategists said.

The company termed its offer—virtually a carbon copy of recent auto settlements in United States plants of Ford, Chrysler and GM—the most progressive and far-reaching economic package ever put before a Canadian union.

It included a provision of five cents an hour to establish supplementary unemployment insurance, a no-cost guaranteed annual wage. It also called for an'improved pension plan of 70 cents a year for all GM workers and extra boosts for skilled men.

In wages and fringes, union officials estimated the company's package would raise production workers' basic pay to $1.83 an hour. Better hospital-care and dental benefits also were included.

The union, however, said GM ought to match a fully-company paid medical and hospital-care plan won by UAW from Ford of Canada earlier this year.

"General Motors should pioneer for once," said George Burt, the UAW's Canadian director.

Most office employees worked as usual Monday. However, the London office workers were told by the company to stay home.

House Owners Believe It Is Time to Move

MEDICINE HAT, Alta. (CP) Mrs. Walter Eaton, whose house has been hit in recent days by a car which crashed an automobile, a truck and a 12-foot plank hurled by a wind storm, said Monday after another truck smashed 19 windows, downed the Eatons' power, cracked the plaster in all rooms and knocked off one end of the verandah:

"I think we'll move soon."

THREE-DAY-OLD BABY KIDNAPPED FROM HOSPITAL

Frisco Parents Ask Child Be Returned

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Nearly 200 policemen today searched house by house through a 66-block area for a doctor's three-day-old son who was kidnapped from Mt. Zion Hospital.

The child, Robert J. Marcus, is the healthy six-pound, 6½-ounce son of Dr. and Mrs. Sanford Marcus of suburban Daly City. Dr. Marcus is a staff physician at the hospital.

The baby was taken from the glass-enclosed nursery Monday afternoon, police said, by a woman described as an untidy blonde who had been questioned by Lettie Clement, 21, a student nurse.

Radio Teleco is Asuncion, Paraguay, said this afternoon the Paraguayan ambassador here, Dr. Juan R. Chaves, had summoned Peron in a Paraguayan gunboat in Buenos Aires harbor.

Chaves, reached by telephone, at first said this report was true and then said he could not talk further.

Peron, of generals took command of the government as a climax to the three days of revolt that overthrew Peron. They quickly announced peace talks with the rebel forces.

The rebel radio at Bahia Blanco meanwhile claimed that leaders of the 8,000,000-member General Federation of Labor (CGT), which formed the backbone of Peron's popular support, still hope to retain power by reinstalling the ousted president with a general strike. Such a strike forced Peron to turn power in 1945 after a military junta arrested him.

Anticipation of strike action on Peron's behalf was heightened by a government announcement that "there shall be no work" in Buenos Aires today.

START THE TALKS

But several hours later the state radio announced that the junta of generals which took over the government from Peron had begun peace talks with the rebel command. The broadcast called on the workers to remain calm and resume their work.

The junta's communique appeared to be at odds with a broadcast CGT strike plan with a statement that Hector Hugo Barbaro, the labor secretary-general and one of the fallen dictator's closest henchmen, had been given asylum in the Uruguayan embassy.

The communique termed without foundation and tendentious the government radio that the rebels had threatened again to bombard the city with 33 miles southeast of Buenos Aires because hostilities have not ceased."

It was the rebels' threat at noon Monday to fire on the city installations that apparently induced Peron to quit and the army commanders-in-chief to loyal to him to propose peace talks.

Publisher Hopes To Regain Paper

NEW YORK (AP) — Alberto Gainza Paz, La Prensa Buenos Aires publisher, believes a new Argentine government would return to him the newspaper recently confiscated four years ago by President Juan Peron's regime.

However, Gainza Paz said in an interview Monday night after Peron's overthrow, it is too early to predict how soon he will be able to return to his homeland and resume publication of the famous daily, held by his family for 100 years.

Gainza Paz fled Argentina to seek refuge in Montevideo, shortly after La Prensa was seized by the Peron forces. He has since resided in the United States, acting as a spokesman against the Peron government.

Teen-Age Hungarian Princess Finds Romance in Dolls' House

VENICE (Reuters)—In the abandoned dolls' house of 15-year-old Princess Ira Fuerstenberg, whose grandmother was Hungarian, a romance is blooming.

Princess Ira, with Prince Alexander Agaelli down in the ground-green lawns to be greeted by the bearers of names which have resounded through European history.

In the middle of the lawn stood a huge marble statue of a nymph lophane and garlanded with pink rosebuds—a wedding present from Italy's giant Fiat automobile company.

Princess Ira's mother is a member of the Agaelli family, millionaire owners of the Fiat factories. Her fiance is the representative in Mexico of the German Volkswagen automobile, another colossus in the European automobile world.

ment instructed airport personnel to be watch for the possible arrival of one or more Argentine planes. There was speculation that Peron might arrive on one of the planes to seek asylum.

One big question mark is whether the rebel commanders—scattered from the central Argentine city of Cordoba, 400 miles northwest of Buenos Aires, to Bahia Blanca, 325 miles to the southwest—can unite and exploit their advantage.

PONDER FUTURE

There also is speculation as to the future course of the junta, all of whom were close associates of Peron during his days in power.

The group, originally reported to have three members, today emerged as a four-man command, with Gen. Jose Domingo Molin, the army commander-in-chief, mentioned as its president; and the three others as Gen. Emilio Forcher, commander of interior forces; Rear Angel Jaun Madani; and Brig.-Gen. Carlos Wirrth, army chief of staff.

The resignation was accompanied by that of his cabinet and Peron's vice-president, Maj.-Gen. Franklin Lucero, who had brought the dictator through four short-lived revolt.

Lucero's last service in office was to announce an impassioned farewell from his fallen chief, saying that his "prayers and love of the people" led him to resign.

A curfew Monday night failed to stop celebrations by Peron's foes shouting "Liberty! Liberty!" as they paraded in downtown streets. For the moment the ousted dictator's supporters are low.

Only two disorders were reported in the capital Monday, the first ever since the revolt started. An anti-Peron crowd demonstrating in front of the Uruguayan embassy clashed with police trying to set up barriers, and three persons were reported wounded in ensuing gunfire. Two employers of the Brazilian embassy were injured by demonstrators at the central post office.

New Army Govt Begins Peace Talks With Rebel Forces

Millions Threaten Strike To Bring Back Peron Rule

By SAM SUMMERLIN

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Argentina's new army government began peace talks today with the rebel forces which ousted Juan D. Peron's 10-year dictatorship.

Peron was reported to have escaped arrest and fled the country. The independent newspaper Clarin says the dictator's arrest was decided upon in all-night session of top military leaders. But Peron was forewarned so that he could leave the presidential palace and flee the country by air, the newspaper says. There was speculation that he had gone to Paraguay.

Radio Teleco is Asuncion, Paraguay, said this afternoon the Paraguayan ambassador here, Dr. Juan R. Chaves, had summoned Peron in a Paraguayan gunboat in Buenos Aires harbor.

Chaves, reached by telephone, at first said this report was true and then said he could not talk further.

Peron, of generals took command of the government as a climax to the three days of revolt that overthrew Peron. They quickly announced peace talks with the rebel forces.

The rebel radio at Bahia Blanco meanwhile claimed that leaders of the 8,000,000-member General Federation of Labor (CGT), which formed the backbone of Peron's popular support, still hope to retain power by reinstalling the ousted president with a general strike. Such a strike forced Peron to turn power in 1945 after a military junta arrested him.

Anticipation of strike action on Peron's behalf was heightened by a government announcement that "there shall be no work" in Buenos Aires today.

START THE TALKS

But several hours later the state radio announced that the junta of generals which took over the government from Peron had begun peace talks with the rebel command. The broadcast called on the workers to remain calm and resume their work.

The junta's communique appeared to be at odds with a broadcast CGT strike plan with a statement that Hector Hugo Barbaro, the labor secretary-general and one of the fallen dictator's closest henchmen, had been given asylum in the Uruguayan embassy.

The communique termed without foundation and tendentious the government radio that the rebels had threatened again to bombard the city with 33 miles southeast of Buenos Aires because hostilities have not ceased."

It was the rebels' threat at noon Monday to fire on the city installations that apparently induced Peron to quit and the army commanders-in-chief to loyal to him to propose peace talks.

Unemployment Drops in August

Junior Leaders Elect Officers

Ten YMCA junior leaders attended the first meeting of YMCA season Saturday, Sept. 17th at 12.15 p.m. The first item on the agenda was the election of new officers for the Leaders' Corps and the results were as follows:

President, Brian Valcanov; vice-president, Larry Regensburg; secretary-treasurer, Don Whitfield.

Three of the junior leaders, Ron Porte, Bill Simmons and Don McBride advanced to the Intermediate Leaders' Corps.

The Leaders' Corps in the YMCA are trained to assist the physical instructor, supervise and help in their own department of the Y, and to lead and instruct Y classes. These boys are the future leaders of the YMCA and the community.

The leaders are guided and advised by the general secretary, Dr. Dinsmore, and physical instructor Jim Heffernan.

Greasy Road Surface Cause Of Accident

A road surface made greasy by this morning's light rain was given as the cause of a rear-end collision on Highway No. 2 near Milltown which caused approximately $200 damage to one vehicle.

Provincial Police Constable Gordon Oliver stated that a stake truck driven by Ross Brown, Brantford, had turned out with the intention of passing a transport. The driver then decided he did not have room to pass because of approaching traffic and was forced to get back in line. He applied his brakes but could not stop in time and ran into the rear of the transport. Brown was uninjured.

More Bargains Being Offered On Wednesday

Belleville shoppers gave out with an enthusiastic response last Wednesday to the special bargains offered by city merchants before stores closed for the half-holiday.

The merchants will be repeating the offer on that particular day advertised a day previously in the Intelligencer.

Today the Intelligencer again runs a special page of these bargain offerings.

Only difference is there are more bargains being offered on sale for tomorrow morning.

Leroy Madden New President 21st Batt. Assoc.

Leroy G. Madden of this city was elected president of the 21st Battalion CEF Association at the 37th annual reunion of the "remnants" held in Assembly Hall, Lansdowne Park, Ottawa on Saturday.

Maurice Button, also of this city was named secretary treasurer with William S. Taylor, Kingston, elected vice-president.

Lieut. Col. H. E. Pense, Kingston, former battalion commanding officer was the guest speaker and outlined the history of the "Fighting 21st" from its mobilization in Kingston in its first reunion held 37 years ago and which was attended by over 600 members of the unit.

Always looked for its esprit de corps, fighting qualities and sense of comradeship, the battalion was in the Ottawa Valley, Kingston and other points was formed mainly from the front by Brigadier General Sir Pierre Hughes.

Sunday morning the unit attended St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Ottawa, for a brief service in the memory of their original commanding officer who was a cousin brother of Prime Minister Sir Sam Hughes and for many years a distinguished resident of Ottawa.

Jock McDougall who was pipe major with the unit piped, King's 160 officers who recalled memories of other September 19ths. Prominent among those who joined the front line Bulawer Switch had a special reunion there in the days of World War I.

Lt. Col. the Rev. W. E. Kidd, MC, DD, received a silver platter on behalf of the 21st proposed with moving and eloquence the unit's esprit de corps. A splendid spirit of comradeship had always permeated all ranks and had persisted down through the years.

Greetings from Ottawa were brought by Controller Nelms, deputy mayor. He said that at the next reunion he would extend facilities to members of the organization to enable them to see Ottawa and its expanding environs. Alderman Boyce spoke a message.

The toast to the 21st Battalion Association was proposed by A. R. Ferguson, immediate past president of the organization. This was replied to by Frank Lambert, Kingston.

W. S. Taylor, MM, proposed the toast to absent members on active service. This was replied to by D. F. Smart, DFC.

Ladies Elect Mrs G. Bradford Golf President

Mrs. G. A. Bradford was elected president of the Ladies' Golfing Division Trail Bay of Quinte Golf and Country club following the annual field day on Saturday.

H.S. Students Obtain Bursaries

MADOC — Clifford Derry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Derry, Madoc, has been awarded a bursary of $400 from the Atkinson Foundation. Clifford placed in the Grade 13 class this year with six firsts, two seconds and one third. He plans to attend Queen's University, Kingston, this fall. As well as being a student, Clifford has been active in the extra-curricular program in the school. He was a member of the Madoc high school quartet and editor of the school paper.

Larry Mitz, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Mitz of Foxboro, has been awarded a $400 bursary from the Atkinson Foundation and will enter Engineering at Queen's University.

Edward Burnside, in addition to the Dominion-Provincial Bursary of $500 announced last week from the Department of Education (Hastings County) has received $400 from the Atkinson Foundation. Edward will be attending Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph.

Nylon Stocking Smuggling Ring Is Said Broken

MONTREAL (CP) — RCMP claimed today they have broken the back of a ring that smuggled more than $100,000 worth of nylon stockings into Canada from the United States without payment of 1953. Warrants have been issued for the arrest of seven men and one woman.

Police described the ring as an offshoot of the multi-million-dollar 75-member cigaret smuggling ring that was smashed a year ago.

Spokesmen identified Edward Brakefield-Moore said seven of the eight men charged with conspiracy to deal in smuggled goods and nylons.

He identified the eight as Roger Gelinas, 28, Victoriaville, Que.; Morris Hoffman, 36, and his wife, Jacqueline, 34, of Ville St. Laurent, Que., owners of Dominion Hosiery in Montreal; Clovis Hamel, Sherbrooke, Que.; Yvonne Audet, Lac Mégantic, Que.; Lucien Dubois and Fernand Touloux, both of Voyeux, Que.

The seven, in all, were scheduled to be arraigned later today in Arthabaska, Que. The name of the eighth man could be withheld pending confirmation of his arrest.

Superintendent Brakefield-Moore said evidence showed that the nylons were purchased direct from mills in the United States and were transported to Canada by hired drivers. They were then cleaned and graded and sold at a profit of possibly between 200 and 300 per cent.

Most of the nylons smuggled into the country entered western Canada, he said. Only a few pairs were seized.

IT'S NATURAL

OTTAWA (CP)—A drilling team searching for water hit a natural gas pocket Friday on Ottawa's southern outskirts. J. B. Dutrisac, drilling contractor, said he would check the possibility of using the gas commercially to heat homes in suburban Gloucester township.

DIES AFTER FALL

GALT (CP)—Mrs. Elsie Munday, 70, died Monday of a haemorrhage and shock after she fell down a flight of stairs. A piece of glass smashed out of a door at the bottom of the stairs pierced her heart. Neighbors tried to render first aid but were unable to stem the flow of blood.

Pastoral Charge Observes Rally Day

MARMORA — Rally Day observance in the Marmora pastoral charge of the United church was marked with good attendances at all appointments.

At St. Andrew's United Church at 11 a.m. the Sunday School joined with the regular congregation in the service which was conducted according to the form prescribed by the Board of Christian Education. The superintendent of the Sunday School, James Sproul, was in charge.

The two Bible lessons were read by Mrs. James Auckland and Miss Marion Reynolds led in prayer.

The special story, "Kelly of the Crosby," was read by Miss Barbara Meiklejohn. A special solo was taken for the M. and M. Fund.

The Rev. K. J. Crawford announced the benediction.

At Zion United Church, North Marmora, at 9.30 a.m., three young people took part in the prescribed form of Rally Day service which was under the leadership of the pastor, Mary Ann Fox read the Scripture lesson; Bonita Perry led the prayer, while Earla Moffatt read the story "A Land and His Alley." Rev. K. J. Crawford pronounced the benediction.

At Cordova United Church at 3 p.m., the Young People's Union had charge of the service with Rev. K. J. Crawford accompanying for the hymns. Worship, invocation and announcement of the opening hymn were taken by Hilda McCurdy.

Barbara Vanvolkenburg read the first Bible lesson, the second lesson was taken by Carol Caverly; Sally McClary took the prayer. Rev. K. J. Crawford conducted the succeeding hymn after which Mollie Bird read the story, "Kelly of the Crosby". Dean Steenburg took the offering prayer. Benediction was pronounced by Rev. Crawford.

The congregation remained for the showing of colored missionary slides, "Across Indiana at Christ," depicting mission work of the United Church of Canada in the Niagara Peninsula.

Police Blotter

City police spent a comparatively quiet night with little of a criminal nature entered on the books.

Only one accident and that a minor one, was reported to the police station. Thos. G. Guthrie, driver for Bearer Limited Company backed his truck into a telephone pole at the corner of West College and Gilbert streets breaking the pole.

Provincial liquor control act charges were heard in city magistrate's court today.

An 18-year-old minor charged with consuming intoxicating beverages and his case enlarged for a week, while two ordinary drunks were given fines in the county jail on pleas of guilty.

TORONT GSTOCKS

TORONTO (CP) — There was little movement in the stock market during first hour-trading on the Toronto exchange today.

Among industrials, sickly showed strength, with scattered minus signs in the list. There was selective support from the papers, liquors and refining oils. Ogilvie gained $2.50 to 54¼, Page-Hersey was at a new high of 75¾, adding ½. Moore, Algoma Steel and International Petroleum were among lower issues.

Fractional gains among senior base metals helped the group's index forward about half a point. Other advances were limited to about 10 cents. Better issues included Chibougamau Explorers, International Ranwick and Quebec Metallurgical.

Uraniums were listless, Algoma and Consolidated Denison moved up a fraction. Pronto was off ¾.

Most western oil changes were downward though generally small. Lower were Calgary and Edmonton, Consolidated West Pete, Crown Sweet Grass, Prairie Oil and Gas and Western Leaseholds. National Pete gained 12 to 12.13.

Golds were a little softer, McIntyre and Hollinger moved off fractions.

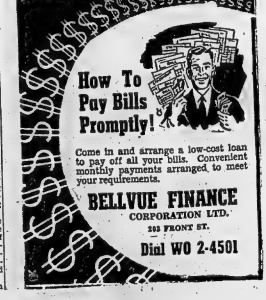
In Stern Fight For Survival Of 2-Party System



VANCOUVER (CP) — Social Credit and CCF parties "haven't got a chance" of forming a federal government "in our lifetime," Progressive Conservative leader George Drew said here Monday night.

Addressing 350 party supporters, he said the Liberal party "has been in power too long."

"We have before us a stern fight for the survival of the two-party system," Mr. Drew said. The present government, with power extended from the war years and a powerful propaganda machine under its control, no longer needed the best interests of the people.

He called on supporters of all political parties to turn to the Progressive Conservative party for the future of Canada.

Mr. Drew, who arrived in Vancouver Friday to launch a coast-to-coast tour, was speaking at a centenary dinner in celebration of the 100th year of conservatism in Canada.

Fines for Speeding in Quebec Range from $15 to Hundred

MONTREAL (CP) — Motorists who speed in the Montreal suburban area can be sure of one thing: eventually they'll find themselves in a speed trap and stopped by a policeman.

What happens then depends on traffic regulations which vary almost in accordance with the number of municipalities.

A survey of 15 municipalities shows each controls traffic within its boundary, whether speed traps are admitted or not, and each makes use of its powers regarding fines. They range from $15 to $100.

Police chiefs said they don't make a practice of cracking down on American tourists, although claims to this effect have been aired.

Chief Gerald Reilly of St. Lambert said: "A policeman is a salesman and any kind of success he must sell the law, not force it on anyone. He has to get people to make our point we will."

He said there are stretches known to us as speed areas and they are watched."

In Longueuil the speed limit is 20 miles an hour and most speeders are fined $20. Chief J. Brossard said tourists are handed "courtesy cards" rather than traffic tickets.

In Lasalle fines are from $20 to $50. "We give out about 20 tickets a month, mostly to Canadian cars but sometimes to American cars," said chief Germain Brown.

Chief F. de Miffonis of Ville Jacques Cartier said that during summer months on weekends "We had close to 3,000,000 passing through the town, we gave out only 270 tickets." Fines are $50.

Chief Frank Price of Lachine said the town gives out about 120 tickets a month and the minimum fine is $20. He said most speeders are stopped and told of the danger they are creating—"On the average motorists are not completely stupid and we must teach them to drive safely."

Chief A. R. Noel of Dorval said he has no set procedure. "We get more co-operation by talking to motorists than by fining them."

The Island of Montreal North fines begin at $50 for speeds of more than 35 miles an hour. At Aboard a Plouffe the fine is $23; at St. Martin, $40; at Terrebonne, $15.

Highest fine shown in the survey is in Pointe Claire, $100, for speed of more than 70 miles an hour and brings a fine of $100. But at nearby Lac-au-Lac-le-Lac it's $25 for the same offence.

Quebec municipalities have the right to collect fines under the Quebec Motor Vehicles Act. Following complaints of abuses, Premier Duplessis last year said the right would be revoked if towns were deliberately trapping motorists in order to exact fines.

Accused Youth Said Subnormal

GUELPH (CP)—Lloyd Lester, 21, charged with the murder of his mother, was described Monday as "subnormal but in the higher grade of mental defectives" by Dr. C. S. Tennant, psychiatrist with the Ontario department of health in Supreme Court here.

The medical inquiry is scheduled to be continued today to determin if Lest 'is mentally fit to stand trial.

A 13-man grand jury Monday returned a true bill against the youth. J K Blair, defense counsel immediately asked that consideration be given the mental status of the accused.

Lester was charged in connection with the death of his mother, Mrs. Margaret Annie Lester, 54, in Guelph hospital 15 hours after she was found beaten in her apartment on March 4, 1955. Police said a steel bar was used in the assault.

Two American Missionaries Freed by Reds

HONG KONG (AP) — The first stage in the repatriation of 41 American civilians from Communist China neared completion today with the release of two American women missionaries after 4½ years' imprisonment.

They are Miss Sarah Perkins, 63, and Miss Dorothy Middleton, 34. Miss Perkins is a Presbyterian. Miss Middleton a Lutheran who worked at a leper colony.

Of the 10 Americans the Communists earlier this month in Geneva announced would be freed from jail or house arrest, only Dillon T. Kanaday, a cotton dealer, remains to come across.

The Reds also have said that 12 other Americans previously denied exit permits were free to leave China and that another had been set up to provide the "expeditious" release of 19 others under detention. None of these has arrived yet in the Free World.

British Foreign Office Flayed Over Spy Case

LONDON (Reuters)—A mounting wave of public indignation burst today over the foreign office for the way it handled the case of two of its diplomats who fled to Russia as suspected spies.

Most British newspapers attack the foreign office with vitriolic editorials and critical front-page articles. Editorials carry bold headlines alleging "a foreign office scandal," or demanding: "who are the guilty men?" Some draw a parallel with the Alger Hiss case in the United States.

The press broadside over the case of missing diplomats Guy Burgess and Donald Maclean followed on the announcement Monday that the government will week publish a white paper—an official government report—on the pair.

Monday, the foreign office, after years of reticence, conirmed that Burgess and Maclean, who mysteriously disappeared in 1951 and who are thought to be in Russia, were being investigated by security police at the time of their flight and were considered to have been Communist agents.

The admission was prompted by a London Sunday newspaper article, written by Vladimir Petrov, former Soviet secret police official who has sought asylum in Australia.

ONT. SAFE FROM HURRICANE

TORONTO (CP) — Ontario is "quite safe" from hurricane Ione, officials at the Dominion weather bureau at suburban Malton announced today.

The announcement placed the eye of the hurricane 35 miles east of Norfolk, Va., at 6:00 a. m and moving northeast at 10 to 15 miles an hour.

This course will leave Ontario "unscathed," the announcement said.

Four Diesels, 100 Freight Cars Pass Over Man

ATLANTA (CP) — An elderly man slept soundly between the rails while four diesel engines and 100 freight cars passed above him, members of a railroad crew reported.

J. W Smith, engineer, and A. W. Jackson, conductor told the story Sunday when they arrived in Atlanta with a 113-car Southern Railway freight train.

Smith said he saw a man lying between the tracks.

"I stopped the train after four diesel units and 100 cars had passed over him," Smith said.

Jackson said he found the man, a Negro, just waking up when he reached him. He said the man was in his 70s and gave his name as Isaac Merrick.

"He was not drunk, nor had he been drinking," Jackson said. "I think the old fellow wandered onto the tracks, became tired and simply lay down to sleep, unaware he was in danger."

LAKES SKIPPER DIES

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Capt. John Drury, 83, Ontario-born former chief skipper of the Tomlinson Line, ex-president of the International Shipmasters Association and a veteran of 63 years on the Great Lakes, died here Friday. He retired in 1950.

12 Die, 350 Hurt and 15,000 Homeless in Tampico City

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Some 15,000 were homeless today in storm-wracked Tampico, Gulf of Mexico oil port where at least 12 died and 350 were injured by hurricane Hilda..

The mighty gulf hurricane died overnight in north-central Mexico's mountains, some 125 miles west of Tampico, and threats eased to the north of Tampico in Mexico and Texas.

Governor Horacio Terras reported Monday night that 90 per cent of Tampico's buildings, housing a population of 110,000 and thousands of refugees from an earlier storm, were damaged. He called Hilda the worst storm in the wind-ravaged city's history.

EMERGENCY CALLED

A state of emergency was ordered, and the army was authorized to requisition food, shelter and transport for the stricken. The city's only outside link today was the airport radio. Water service has been restored, but power, telephone and telegraph facilities are out.

President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines has ordered unlimited aid for Tampico and other Mexican cities damaged by Hilda's tempestuous might.

All highways and the two railroads into Tampico were washed out by Hilda's heavy rains. They had been damaged earlier by nearly 10 days of almost incessant rain which had accompanied tropical storm Gladys. This storm swelled the Panuco river to flood tide and sent thousands of refugees into the port city days ago.

French Cabinet Authorizes Faure To Remove Sultan

PARIS (AP)—France today officially resolved to remove the sultan of Morocco and replace him with a three-man regency for a indefinite period of government reform.

In a stormy, three-hour meeting the French cabinet authorized Premier Edgar Faure and his minister for Moroccan and Tunisian affairs, Pierre Pflimlin, to name the three regents.

Both Faure and July told reporters that they would make the choice of regents later today and include this in detailed instructions Pierre Boyer de Latour.

BRAINWASHING IN THE NEWS

Two stories on the front page of Friday's issue of The Ontario Intelligencer made intriguing reading when they were considered as different facets of one of the strangest twentieth-century problems— the question of "brainwashing," whether a person can acquire immunity to this treatment and whether those who succumb to it should be treated as if they were guilty of a crime or as if they were helpless victims of criminals.

One of the stories was from San Francisco. Three United States soldiers were commenting on the U.S. Air Force's attempt to "inoculate" men against "brainwashing" by subjecting them to this technique at a "torture school" in Nevada. The U.S. soldiers, William Cowart, Lewis Griggs and Otho Bell, were agreed that this procedure is useless. Bell called the school "childish." The men being exposed to the risk of "brainwashing" knew that they were not going to be killed, that they would not even lose their cigaret ration. "How can you call that a real test?" he asked. It appears like a good question. Griggs termed the procedure "ridiculous, completely wrong." Cowart called the school "the silliest thing I've heard of since I came back." Back from where? From China. For these three men have had first-hand experience with "brainwashing," have had the real thing, have first refused to sign a confession and espoused Communism, then rejected the Chinese Reds and returned home to face court-martials.

They should know what they are talking about. And yet do they? Bell said: "The big thing is education. A man with an education can stand up to the Chinese or anybody else."

That is the point where we turn to the second story in Friday's Ontario Intelligencer, a story from Hong Kong about the release by the Chinese Communists of two American educators. One was Walter A. Rickett, who says he was engaged in espionage for the United States, who believes that the U.S. used germ warfare in Korea. Here is a "brainwashed" man. His last term has any meaning. Rickett is a Fulbright Scholar. That seems to answer Bell's contention that education will protect a man against being "brainwashed."

Elsewhere on this page will be found an article by John W. Campbell Jr., reprinted from "Astounding Science Fiction." This article is an account of a new kind of scientific fact, then Bell, Cowart and Griggs are right when they term the U.S. Air Force "torture school" ridiculous, but Bell is wrong when he says that education can protect a man from being "brainwashed." Campbell maintains that "brainwashing" is just psychiatry gone wrong, that "any organism using a bio-chemically powered brain" can be "psychoanalyzed." Campbell's interesting is his suggestion of what to do about it. Nothing. That is his answer. Do not punish the "brainwashed" man. All that is necessary is for the world to recognize that there is no protection against "brainwashing," that anybody can be made to say anything. Immediately this is accepted as the truth, statements made by "brainwashed" persons lose all their propaganda value and the reason for "brainwashing" any prisoner ceases to exist.

Incidentally, Campbell maintains that for thousands of years this fact has been known, because "brainwashing" is more effective. This appears like a strange statement after some of the stories which have been told by prisoners of the Communists. But Campbell argues that the physical discomfort inflicted on a person being "brainwashed" is not torture, in the old sense of the word. It is interesting to note that Griggs, in his statement at Tokyo, declared "all these Chinese torture stories aren't true either." For a man facing trial, who might find a story about being tortured a convenient defence, that statement is highly significant.

FEDESTRIANS DESERVE PROTECTION

Pedestrians are deserving of some protection at street crossings. They are not receiving it.

We have made this complaint before in these columns. We shall make it again, unless police take some action to curb the boorish actions of some motorists.

When the light turns green, the pedestrian has the right to expect that he or she can cross the street safely, without having to watch constantly for traffic and without running or jumping to escape cars.

This right is being denied pedestrians every day. Turning traffic makes crossing with the light only slightly less hazardous than crossing against it.

One of the most dangerous trips is that from the southwest corner of the intersection of Bridge and Front Streets to the northeast corner. Eastbound traffic on Highway No. 2 makes a right-hand turn at this corner. If the driver faces a red light, he generally proceeds with caution. But if the light is green, many drivers swing around the corner with no concern whatever for the safety of pedestians crossing with the light.

There are other intersections where heavy traffic makes crossing the street dangerous, particularly if the traffic is making a right-hand turn, and if the pedestrian crossing with the light is on the same side of the street as the vehicle making the turn. In such instances the pedestrian must crane his neck and look back over his shoulder if he is not to risk being hit from behind. If he is timorous and wary enough there are no cars which could attack him from the rear, the light will have turned red before he gets a chance to cross.

Psychiatry Gone Wrong

(By John W. Campbell, Jr., in Astounding Science Fiction)

The Red brain-washers are forcing us to recognize an exceedingly unpleasant truth: torture is being abandoned, after its many millennia of use, for the same reason horse-stealing is almost completely abandoned. They have something more effective.

That Red brain-washing is not torture is not at once obvious, but a little consideration will, I think, indicate that is the case.

First, if we state that the standard of the brain-washer, it clarifies matters. His goal is to find a technique whereby a completely determined man can be made to relinquish his absolutely held beliefs, and be forced to accept and act on a system of beliefs more acceptable to the operator.

Let's call it a mind-alteration technique; that will do. And mind is perfectly and solely a tool.

It has, therefore, the characteristics of a tool. A tool can be used with exactly equal effect for or against.

Brain-washing is simply psychiatry-gone-wrong. It is not torture.

The important part of this fact lies in this: courage and determination have, in the past, proved the only resist efforts to break their wills—have permitted men to hold their integrity. Torture, however, could do.

But courage and determination have nothing to do with mind-alteration techniques; they don't enter into it. Instead of seeking to force a change by sheer will, they bypass that part, and make changes in the brain itself.

To clarify the difference: one psychiatric technique is prefrontal lobotomy. This isn't a matter of "courage." It's painless, and it severs the nerve trunk by which the adjustment faculty exerts itself on the organism.

Whether the individual's will control is good or bad somewhere or not is beside the point, its connection with the organism has been severed.

The result is a living robot; the terms "courage" and "determination" no longer can be applied. The organism, if it still retains those qualities, it is impossible to say, has severed the nerve trunk which would carry their control messages has been cut.

The brain-washer, having no concern about the subsequent health of the organism on whom he is working, can use the mind-alterations techniques with considerably more effectiveness. He can the psychiatrist. The psychiatrist does not have the confidence of self-determinism in the individual: the brain-washer does have that confidence.

The mind-alteration technique just described, for example, is the judgment from the scene, and works with the following principle that's left. Judgment may still be present. But what of it? It can't do anything!

Psychiatric research has also led to the insulin-shock technique.

(The lobotomy methods are totally unsatisfactory as psychiatric procedures; they are used simply to make the violent patient less of a burden on the institution.)

The insulin-shock therapy, however, has led to a valuable theory of direction of determination — a very different thing. It depends on the fact that, if the brain is starved of sugar or of oxygen, the judgment faculty is the first to go. If starvation is maintained, the judgment, beliefs, and opinions of the mind seem to slump, weaken, and permit of mind-alteration.

Any organism using a bio-chemically powered brain can be affected in this way; courage and determination are meaningless terms at the level of biochemistry.

Think you can think clearly with an oxygen starved brain? Read what happens to a pilot flying to high without oxygen mask. He thinks his judgment is still working — because the judgment needed to detect that it is not working isn't there.

The Red brain-washers are a more vigorous approach to this same technique; they produce a state of semi-starvation in the individual, and weaken the resistance of the whole organism by cold, damp, and by encouraging chronic minor infections such as colds.

In addition, the intellect is aided by what is termed sensation an additional effective factor.

How can you know what you're going to try to tell you. Suffice that many good techniques are found among vaccination and re-vaccination, regardless of whether successful vaccination against smallpox, particularly efficacious against obstinate recurring herpes zoster.

Public Sees Chartwell

(BBC Weekly Talks Summary)

Twice this summer the lovely grounds of Chartwell, the home of Sir Winston and Lady Churchill, were open to the public which has eagerly taken the opportunity of seeing something of the home of Britain's most famous man. Chartwell is eventually to go to the nation and Sir Winston has devoted a substantial part of the time which he received as his eightieth birthday to endowing it as a museum containing memories of his long life.

Amongst the crowds that flocked into the grounds recently was BBC observer Patricia Brent, described her visit in "Radio Newsreel". Sir Winston's standard of Warden of the Cinque Ports flew over the red brick nineteenth-century house in which Henry VIII is reputed to have stayed, and all parts of the house was not itself open the front door was, with a blue coat attendant outside. The narrow high hall had a beamed ceiling and inside the door was a brass-bound wine cooler containing three walking sticks and a frontline-looking faded red and green golfing umbrella—"Surely," said Patricia Brent, "the one Sir Winston uses when he goes sketching!" She looked inside again from a window on the terrace and there in a studio saw one of the artist-statesman's sketches on an easel. One of the Y. W. C. A. members on duty said that earlier in the day Sir Winston himself had been feeding the goldfish in the pools set one above the other on one side of the hill on which Chartwell stands, and had chatted amiably to some of the visitors before driving off in his car with his beloved poodle.

The setting of Chartwell is one of the loveliest in Kent, and is generally known as the Garden of England. Patricia Brent sat in the sunny lawn in front of the house and saw below her a meadow stretching to a sunken pool fringed with Kentish ragstone and a lake fed by springs from the hills around. A cow on which five Australian black prawns were swimming. A background of hills and woodland was shimmering in the heat haze and beyond them the group of cottages, oasthouses and an orchard with a smoulding red brick kiln. Here it was that there was a cement plaque which said, "The gunpowder plot of 1605 was built between the years 1923 and 1932 by Winston Churchill with his own hands." The celebrated brickayer also laid many of the bricks in one of the new cottages.

A pillared walk in the extensive garden ended in a pavilion which was decorated for Sir Winston by his wife as a seventy-fifth birthday present. This is the Marlborough pavilion and the decoration is the work of Winston's nephew, John Churchill. The four pedestals carry busts of Queen Anne, Prince Eugene of Savoy and the first Duke and Duchess of Marlborough, while a frieze all round the room depicts the Battle of Blenheim, scene of the greatest triumph of Sir Winston's famous ancestor.

Personal Health Talks

Herpes Come In Regular and Large Economy Size

In Yell, one of the Shetland Islands, a school teacher with shingles (doctors call it herpes zoster) came an outbreak of chickenpox in the pupils.

Last March the chain of events appeared to be repeating itself, for cases of chickenpox were occurring in the family of a teacher with shingles. Later this outbreak extended all over the island.

From epidemiology studies made in the homes of persons who had shingles and of persons who had had chickenpox in the 1945 outbreak as described by Drs. Peterson and Black, it seemed evident that the virus of shingles (herpes zoster) is identical with or at least closely related to the virus of chickenpox (varicella).

This is not news.

Physicians have been suspicious these two for a long time. In fact there have been numerous reports in recent literature of unusually good results from treatment of herpes zoster with vaccine virus.

If you are asking how the vaccine virus got into the skin, I am going to try to tell you. Suffice that many good physicians have found accidental vaccination and re-vaccination, regardless of whether successful vaccination against smallpox, particularly efficacious against obstinate recurring herpes zoster.

Ordinary shingles is more or less painful, runs its course in two or three weeks, manifests itself first for a day or two as pain of stabbing, neuralgic character in the course of a sensory nerve or nerves on one side of the body—the pain sometimes extends all the way back to be mistaken for facial neuralgia, pleurisy, appendicitis or other internal trouble, depending on the level of the shingles. When the eruption appears, in the form of a group of little vesicles the nature of the trouble becomes obvious.

Herpes zoster, whether of the trunk or the face—sometimes facial zoster involves the eye and damages the cornea—is probably closely related to the common herpes of the lip, so-called "cold sore."

First aid treatment for herpes zoster (shingles) or "cold sore":

1. If no salve, oil, liniment or counterirritant has been applied, paint the dry vesicles with flexible collodion.

2. If vesicles have broken, apply only spirits of camphor to herpes on lip just with a cotton tip dipped in it every hour through the day. For herpes elsewhere than on lip, sprinkle heavily with borated talcum powder because of camphor's warnings about the "poisonous" potentiality of boric acid) and cover with a heavy layer of cotton batting held in place by tape.

Strength for the Day

DR. EARL L. DOUGLASS

OF LIFE'S ESSENCE

Here are George Washington's six rules of conduct:

1. Never attack a position in front which you can gain by turning.

2. Charges of cavalry should be made, if possible, on the flanks of infantry.

3. The first qualification of a soldier is fortitude under fatigue and privation; courage is only the second. Hardship, poverty and mutual want are the soldier's best schools.

4. Nothing is so important in war as an undivided command.

5. Never do what the enemy wishes you to do.

6. A general or ordinary talent occupying a bad position and surprised by a superior force, seeks safety in retreat; but a great captain supplies all deficiencies of time and marches boldly to meet the attack.

These are good rules not only for meeting the attack of soldiers but also for meeting the onslaughts that comes for meeting also the onslaught of moral temptations. No life is a cinch. Try to lay it out. life is a struggle. We may call it an adventure if we want to use one's capacities to the full, — or some may term it a bondage, yet always we come back to this — there is struggle in it. In fact, struggle is the very essence of life.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE CHEERFUL FRONT

Through our attitude of mind we influence people around us far more than we realize. Keeping a cheerful front not only helps us but should be proud to own. Who doesn't wish to be in the presence of a cheerful person? Such a one lives in a halo of light, and that light keeps spreading.

Cheerfulness is contagious, and few better, when the sun is shining. If that same sunshine is not in one's heart, life itself is full of sunshine! I once had a friend whom everyone named Sunshine because of her ever cheerful mood. That same cheerful mood helped her to be so magnetic that others felt the warmth of her personality.

In times of trouble and disappointment cheerfulness helps the will and courage shapes everything. A favorite quotation from the poem of Robert Louis Stevenson is one: "A happy man or woman is a better thing to find than a five-pound note. He comes to us radiating hope of goodness; and their entrance into a room is as though another candle had been lighted."

Mark Twain was a world asset.

Campney Loaned One Ship To CNE for Marathon Swim, Knows Nothing of CBC Ship

VANCOUVER (CP) — Defence Minister Campney said Monday he takes full responsibility for the loan of a naval vessel to the Canadian National Exhibition for its planned Lake Ontario marathon swim.

He said he had no knowledge of a second RCN vessel which an Ottawa correspondent said was loaned to the CNE and used by the CBC for commercial television purposes.

The cross-lake swim was not held. It was cancelled for safety reasons and replaced by a swim over a course on the Toronto waterfront.

Mr. Campney was commenting on a column in The Herald, written in the form of an open letter by Ottawa correspondent Patrick Nicholson.

SAFETY FACTOR

The defence minister said the negligible cost to taxpayers and the added safety factor provided by the light-equipped vessel warranted his action. There was an RCN vessel nearby and its use could be tied into training regulations.

"I was asked by Toronto and CNE officials whether I could lend them a naval vessel to light up the swim rout . . . because of the large number of participants in the swim," he said.

He said of the reported other vessel: "I'll have to investigate that aspect of it when I get back to Ottawa."

ASKS IF BILLED

Mr. Nicholson asked whether the two companies which sponsored the television coverage would be charged for the ship. He said that as Goodyear Tire and Lipton Soup are commercial enterprises "I . . . hope you are planning to bill them for the use of the Royal Canadian Navy.

"As part of your audience, I hope that you fairly made available these naval facilities equally to all television broadcasters."

He said that the "tax dollars of all Canadians pay for those ships and searchlights, and for the crews manning them. They would be properly used in the defence of Canada, not in advertising soup."

The ships used were described by Mr. Nicholson as "gate vessels."

1957 Model Cars to Feature Lower Bodies, More Hardtops

By DAVID J. WILKIE

DETROIT (AP) — A styling revolution, unlike any the auto industry ever has experienced, is gaining momentum.

It had its beginning with the introduction some five years ago of the so-called hardtop convertible car. It probably will reach a temporary levelling-off stage in 1957. That's when the industry will make its "billion dollar" model changeover.

Most manufacturers already have completed the design of their 1957 models. These are the cars that will present the most drastic —and perhaps the most costly design changes made since long before the war.

The big change in 1957 will bring more models with the lower silhouette; it may mark the beginning of the end of standard-type two- and four-door sedans in favor of the hardtop version.

MUCH LOWER

The planned cars are not necessarily larger. Certainly they are not longer. But they are distinctly lower; the belt line on some of them is only 56 inches from ground level.

Most of them slope sharply in front and rise even more sharply in rear. Apparent also is an effort to reduce the vacuum caused by conventional exhaust systems. This is being sought in dual exhaust systems and, in some instances, by mounting exhaust outlets on the lower side of the car body immediately below the doors. Deflectors and protective shields are provided for these mountings.

Most 1957 models probably will utilize the push-button method of gear selectors. These will be mounted on the instrument panel or steering-shaft housing. Push-button control shifting the gears of automatic transmissions are an innovation of Chrysler's 1956 models.

Shellettes Edge Trenton 4-2; Series All Even

The Belleville Shellettes evened their three-of-five league championship series at the CNRAA Park last night by shading Trenton Cleaners 4-2 in an abbreviated contest.

Lunch's gals took a 3-0 lead in the second inning and after Trenton plated two in the top of the fifth, they added an insurance marker in their half of the frame. Darkness halted activities at the end of the fifth.

Linda Wagg hurled for the winners, allowing six hits, all singles. She fanned two and walked the same number. Donna Drake, who pitched a 5-0 no-hitter against the Shellettes in the first game of the series, was on the hill for Trenton allowing four hits. She claimed four on third strikes while pacing two.

Belleville's offensive weapon was the double with Sandra Slade, Linda Canning and Linda Wagg each connecting. Eunice Summers added a single.

MacMurter paced the loser's attack with a brace of singles while one each went to Drake, Kenny Visau and O'Neil.

The third game of the series is slated for Trenton tomorrow night.

Bowling News

At an executive meeting held over the week-end of the Lawn Bowling Club, it was decided to hold the annual banquet for the club both men and women on Wednesday, October 12th. President Orlo Smith was elected chairman of the committee, with power to add to his committee. It was also decided that the annual meeting of the club would be held immediately following the banquet, it is expected that the women's section will hold their meeting at the same time.

A nominating committee of Claude Tice, Harold Parker and Gordon Edward was named to bring in nominations for the various offices but this list was not in any way a slate for the members to accept in its entirety. The members will be quite free to make nominations from the floor. It was thought his method of handling the election was the best way to speed up the meeting.

The greens chairmen, Garn Dobbs, and Ernie Jones were appointed a committee to look into the extension of the tool house, so that all equipment could be stored inside during the winter months. These two members will secure prices on the cost of the addition.

Gerald B. Hyde and Bruce Millier, who had charge of the Corbin Gold Cup competition reported to the executive and the revenue obtained from the advertising was quite encouraging. The women's section was also thanked for their fine donation to the coffers of the club.

Gordon Vince, Gordon Edwards and Orlo Smith were the winners of the last tournament to be held on the local greens this year. Ernie Jones, W. B. "Skit" Vandervoort and Jim Hanna were a close second. Lou Glover, E. Ballintyne and Archie Meyers of Campbellford were the two-game high winners with Mrs. Percy Locke, Peter Locke and Percy Locke capturing the one-game high. The attendance was not as good as expected but a good time was had by all.

House Moved in Record Time Without Commotion, Damage

By JOHN LeBLANC
Canadian Press Staff Writer

IROQUOIS, Ont. (CP) — Mrs. Charles Roberts had just finished up the breakfast dishes at 9:30 a.m. Monday when a big machine surrounded her house and started lifting it off its foundations.

At 10:45 a.m. the Roberts and their six-room home were settled in a new community 1¼ miles away — with electricity, phone, water and sewage connected—and Mrs. Roberts was inviting in other residents of new Iroquois for a neighborly cup of tea.

The crockery was uncracked in the cupboards. The television was working. So were the electric stove and refrigerator.

All the Roberts lacked were a clothesline, the front and back steps of their frame house and some landscaping for the grounds.

RODE WITH HOME

Charlie Roberts, a 6-foot-old linen mill superintendent, his wife and 17-year-old daughter Gladys had ridden along with the home as the Ontario Hydro - Electric Power Commission staged a press-radio-newsreel-television showpiece on how families can be relocated at speed in the job of shifting whole communities out of the area to be inundated by the St. Lawrence seaway-power project.

By all odds, this was the fastest comparable moving ever carried out in Canada. Perhaps it was the fastest in the world, though there are no record books for comparisons. While several days of advance work preceded Monday's demonstration for about 65 observers, the actual moving time between the disconnection of the Roberts utilities in old Iroquois and their resumption in the new townsite of the about-to-be flooded village worked out to almost exactly an hour.

It wasn't the normal speed of Hydro's home shifts between the old and new communities, expected to settle down shortly to a one-house-a-day movement involving between 150 and 250 homes in this village of 1,180 persons. So far, just 10 houses have been moved.

For this move, everything had been set up in advance as an eye-opener for the observers who included Hydro Chairman R. L. Hearn, officials of the New York State Power Authority—sharing in power-dam construction on the seaway with Ontario Hydro—and representatives of Canada's St. Lawrence Seaway Authority, which is building navigation canals with the United States government.

Crews of workmen were standing by to cut off power and other utilities as the huge house-moving machine threw its metal arms around the Roberts' house. They snipped off connections as the lifting machinery started to haul the home off the concrete.

Weddings

MADDOX—COOPER

PICTON—The Church of St. Mary Magdalene, Picton, was the scene of a lovely wedding at 2.30 p.m., on Saturday, September 17, when Dona Marie Cooper, became the bride of John Keith Maddox. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Cooper, Picton, and the late James Clifford (Buff) Cooper, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Maddox, Foathill, Ontario.

Vases of mixed gladioli were on the altar while baskets of similar flowers adorned the chancel steps and white ribbons with gladioli petals marked the guest pews. The Rev. W. G. Hope Swayne officiated.

Given in marriage by her uncle Mr. Clinton Heimer, the bride chose a ballerina-length gown of white French Chantilly lace over ivory satin, featuring a tucked, strapless bodice under a matching lace jacket with fingertip pointed sleeves. The bouffant skirt fell into small star-pointed handkerchiefs. Her fingertip veil was caught to a matching headdress and she carried a mauve orchid and stephanotis on a white prayer book.

Miss Maude Heimer, Picton, as maid of honour, wore a cocktail-length dress of mauve nylon lacey over taffeta, with shirred bodice, giving a drop-waist effect matching mitts and shoes. She wore a matching headdress and carried a cascade of white Shasta daisies and yellow pomm.

Miss Blanche LeHeup, Bongards, as bridesmaid, wore a similarly designed gown in yellow with matching headdress. She carried a cascade of Rubicon bronze pomm.

Miss Linda Hobson, Picton, was a pretty flower girl, wearing a floor-length frock of pale green nylon with scalloped neckline, short fitted bodice with sash and full skirt. She wore a matching floral headdress and carried a nosegay of pink Pinnochio pomm.

Mr. Gordon Jacobs, Ridgeville, Ontario, was groomsman and ushers were, Messrs. Donald Maddox, St. Catharines and Max Piper, Bloomfield.

The reception followed at Maple Inn, Bloomfield. The bride's mother chose navy crepe with beaded jacket, navy accessories and corsage of pink roses. The bridegroom's mother was in powder blue with dusty rose accessories and corsagepf pale pink Sweetheart roses. The bride's table covered with a white linen cloth was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake flanked by pink tapers in crystal holders. Servers were, Mrs. Bill Hobson, Mrs. Walter Fraser, Mrs. Jack Hobson, Mrs. Patrick Widdifield, Mrs. Douglas Porter and Miss Eileen Theobald.

For travelling to Virginia, U.S., the bride donned a dress of brown tissue nylon with short cuffed sleeves, fitted bodice and long torso hipline buttoning to a high pointed collar, very full skirt. Her accessories and topcoat were in matching shades of ivory and brown and she wore a mauve orchid.

Mr. and Mrs. Maddox will reside in Picton, both being members of the staff of the Bank of Nova Scotia.

FAIR OPENS

STRATFORD (CP)—On the heels of the longest dry spell to hit western Ontario in years, Stratford Agricultural Society's 116th fall fair opened Monday. Some produce and poultry exhibits showed signs of the drought's effect.

East Belleville U.C. Forms W. Committee

The first meeting to organize the Women's Committee in connection with the congregation of the new United church of East Belleville, took place on Wednesday evening last, at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Flatt, with 30 ladies in attendance.

Mr. Flatt convened the devotional portion of the meeting and Mrs. Cliff White was pianist.

OFFICERS ELECTED

Mr. Flatt conducted the election of the following officers: president, Mrs. Norman Meldrum; vice-president, Mrs. J. E. Hunter; recording secretary—Mrs. Thomas Riley; treasurer, Mrs. George Maybee; pianist, Mrs. Clifford Whitfield.

Interested discussions ensued with regard to plans for social events and future activities for the new organization.

The second Tuesday evening of each month was the unanimous decision for regular meetings.

Mrs. Linton Read moved a vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Flatt for opening their home and for their gracious hospitality.

Refreshments were served and enjoyed by everyone.

College Hill U.C. Holds Service

Sunday morning College Hill saw a goodly sized congregation share in the dedication of their new organ. New chairs for the choir, and new windows of ethereal colored glass were also dedicated to the service of God. Along with these fine additions, the building-lot next to the church proper has been purchased from a cash memorial gift, given to the church by Mrs. J. Allin of Belleville. These much appreciated gifts will add much to the church at College Hill.

The service began with the use of the piano. After the dedication, Mr. Besley asked the organist, Mrs. E. Miller, to cut the ribbon on the new organ and play it for the hymn "The Church's One Foundation."

INSPIRATIONAL SERVICE

An inspirational service of dedication was conducted by the Rev. W. R. Merrick, who brought a challenging message on the theme "Music In Our Souls", and stressed the mention in the Bible of musical instruments as means of praising God, yet how important it is to have the soul in tune when praising the Lord.

The service of worship was in charge of the student minister of College Hill, Mr. Bruce Besley. He spoke briefly regarding the much appreciated gift of Mrs. Allin. He mentioned how the church has made splendid progress since its renovation three years ago. He praised the true spirit of his congregation and the way they have co-operated in bringing the church to the place where it is today. Special tribute was given for the memorial gifts with which the several additions were purchased.

Special numbers were rendered by the junior and senior choirs. The Junior choir sang "I Believe". And during the receiving of the offering, Mrs. Ross Bradshaw on behalf of the senior choir, sang "Bless This House".

This dedication Sunday service will be memorable in the life of College Hill United church.

Crookston Residents Mark Golden Wedding Anniversary

On September 11, a pleasant day and evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Crookston, to mark the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary.

Several close friends and relatives attended among whom were their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Wellman of Corbyville. Also present were their seven grandchildren and nine great grandchildren.

A daughter-in-law, granddaughter, and great grandson of Germany, were unable to attend.

There were also present, Mrs. Wellman's brothers, Heston, of Brooks, Alberta, and Steven of Moira. Another brother Fred of Crookston, was unable to attend due to illness in the family.

Mrs. Wellman was the former Ellen Keller of Fuller. She was united in marriage to Mr. Albert Wellman of Crookston by the late Rev. Mr. Burns of Tweed.

During the early part of their marriage they resided at Crookston, where Mr. Wellman, worked for Quinlan & Hennessy for nearly 30 years. Due to a bad fall, he was in the hospital for three years. Now he is employed by the Corbin Lock, of Belleville.

They have one son, Lorne of Corbyville. Their elder son, John, was killed away in 1952 and a daughter, Pearl in 1911.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Wellman have taken a keen interest in the work of their church. Mr. Wellman has been Bible class teacher at the Madoc Standard church for the past eight years.

Mrs. Wellman is a member of the W.A. and the L.O.B.A.

Their son and his wife presented them with a blue and gold satin comforter; the granddaughter with an ivory and gold radio, and the great grandchildren with two dozen golden roses.

They were also recipients of many other lovely gifts and numerous cards from friends and a congratulatory certificate from the Ontario government.

Guests were present from Roechester, Niagara Falls, Toronto, Alberta, Corbyville, Foxboro, Madoc, Moira, Ivanhoe and Crookston.

NAPANEE MAN DIES

NAPANEE (CP)—Arthur R. Sexsmith, 55-year-old painter, died Saturday. His doctor had planned to send him to Toronto next week to have a new aorta (main artery) inserted.

$1312.60 Received For Work Of Area Blind

A generous response from the people of Belleville and district resulted in the fine sum of $1, 312.60 being realized by the tag days on Friday and Saturday last, to carry on the work for the blind in this area.

The Hastings County Advisory Board is most appreciative of the effort of the school children who called at the homes in their districts; to all taggers who worked diligently; to the captains; to the Lions' club members, who assisted, and to all who helped in organizing and carrying out a successful tag day.

Women's Activities

KINGSTON ROAD W.A.

The regular meeting of the Kingston Road W.A., was held at the home of Mrs. D. MacDonald with 19 members and three visitors present.

The president opened the meeting with a reading and a prayer.

Mrs. D. Brook was in charge of the devotional.

After the business was attended to and discussions held, Mr. Besley addressed the ladies.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. D. MacDonald, Miss Annie Logan and Mrs. George Logan.

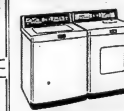
Blame Increase In Divorce Rate On Sex Equality



LONDON (Reuters)—A marriage guidance expert here Sunday blamed sex equality as the main cause for the increase in Britain's divorce rate to four times its 1939 figure.

The expert, Joseph Brayshaw, secretary of the Marriage Guidance Council, declared in the British Medical Association's journal "Family Doctor:" "It is the new equality of women with men that has really shaken the stability of marriage and family life."

The real trouble today, he said, is that women now do almost every male job.

He added: "The recognition of women as the equal of man always means the crumbling of outmoded patterns of marriage and an increase in divorce. Equality of sexes has come to stay. There can be no question of putting the clock back."

"The plain truth is that the modern marriage partnership is much more difficult. It involves much greater tolerance and in abiding higher in marriage today we are suffering more casualties."

Liz Taylor Is Considered Screen's Greatest Beauty

By JAMES BROWN

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Is Elizabeth Taylor unfair to organized womanhood? At least one top feminine star thinks so.

"Liz should be picketed everytime she appears in public", said the star. "No woman has the right to look that good all the time."

This outburst by Stevens came at a recent swank filmland gathering. Most of Hollywood's queens were there, most of them looking gorgeous too.

Into the face of such stiff competition walked the super-gorgeous Miss Taylor. If there ever had been any question that this was the screen's greatest beauty, her entrance that night would have dispelled all doubts.

CLOTHES ROUSE ENVY

She wore the most beautiful gown, too. Somehow that hurt most of all if the comments of the caustic star, who for once prefers anonymity, means nothing.

"Where does she get such clothes? I hate her!"

Liz, when told of the comments later, laughed and proved she's like all other women. She would rather look like someone else. Her choice: Ava Gardner.

But, the fact that she looks like Liz Taylor and not someone else, got her the plum role of the year. The British-born actress will play the Virginia social figure who married into a Texas cattle empire in "Giant." The movie, a joint venture of Henry Glunberg, George Stevens, Edna Ferber and Warner Bros., on paper figures to be a certain Academy Award finalist.

Liz is one of those exciting girls that come along every few years to make Hollywood the glamorous place it is. She could get by on just looks alone but she is turning into quite an actress too. She literally grew up as an actress with Stevens in "A Place in the Sun."

WAS CHILD STAR

Many think that to be her finest performance. Liz, of course, had been a better-than-average child actress in such MGM hits as "National Velvet" and "Lassie, Come Home."

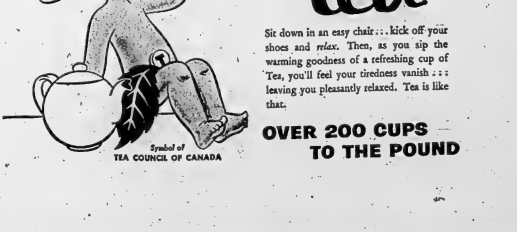
At 18, Liz was married to hotel heir Nicky Hilton. It was a stormy-book wedding with an unhappy ending—divorce in eight months.

Now she is married to Michael Wilding, a British actor 20 years older than she. Wilding, charming, like all other women. She would

Y's Menettes Begin Fall, Winter Sessions

The regular bi-weekly meetings of the Y's Menettes club got off to a good start for the fall and winter session last Tuesday night with 17 girls in attendance. The new president, Mary Fletcher, welcomed all new and old members.

Business, arising from the minutes, was discussed and it was decided the next meeting would be in the form of a wiener roast at the Sine's cottage on Moira Lake.



The balance of the meeting was much enjoyed with Alice Wanaselotsky ably presiding over a Chinese Auction.

Refreshments were served by hostesses, Doris Trill and Martha Booth.

handsome and witty, cares little for the Hollywood nightlife what. He's strictly a pipe and slippers type guy—and Liz likes the idea. "I found out that I'm a family type girl—surrounded by men," she laughs, referring to Wilding and the couple's two young sons, Mike and baby Chris.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

MAYBE YOU AND YOUR HUSBAND COULD REACH A COMPROMISE

Dear Beatrice Fairfax:

I think my case is beyond help, but you may think of a remedy I don't.

My husband is very handsome, very hard working and is a good provider. I love him.

But he was raised to hate society. From what I've heard, his father was even worse. I don't know if his mother was easy-going like me but she had twelve kids. He was the last, and unwanted until he was old enough to support his parents to the end, also three sisters.

He doesn't want me to have any friends, doesn't even care to meet my folks who live far from us. He makes enemies of the neighbors every place we go. If I act friendly to them before him, he makes a scene and insults them. I don't even dare let him catch me talking to them.

I left him once, and went to Las Vegas for a divorce. The first day, a telegram came saying: "Take next train home." I felt like a deserting child, so back I flew.

I like people, and once I make friends, I try to keep them. But he's ended a lot of that. I'd be so happy if we had people come for supper or a TV party or for bridge games, but I don't dare. We quarrel a lot about this, and sometimes I feel bitter long after, but I couldn't live without him. If you say to have him see a doctor, you know I'd never get him there. I think people who raise kids to hate people like that should be hanged.

Do you think there's anything that can be done?

Mrs. V. R.

Dear Mrs. V. R.:

It is true, of course, that any one who "hates people" is in need of special help from the kind of doctor who would know how to find out just why he hates them and how to lead him to want to get over it. I can understand that, as you say, you would probably never be able to persuade your husband to see a doctor. So all you can do is try and see if you might be able to solve the problem in some other way. Maybe, even though you couldn't get him to turn into a really friendly man, you might be able to influence him enough to at least let you alone to make friends of your own and keep up with them.

So what I think you should do is to be the one to get help and advice on how you should deal with him.

If you have the money to afford to consult the kind of doctor I mention, then your very best plan would be to get the name and address of one, and make an appointment with him to discuss your problem. You could tell him just exactly what your husband's ideas are, how he acts with people, and why you think he acts that way—that is, that you believe his early life, and the kind of father he had, is responsible for his peculiar attitude. You say you love your husband in spite of the way he acts, and that will make it easier for the doctor to advise you and easier for you in trying to carry out his advice.

If you decide to talk with such a doctor, you could ask your own family physician to give you the name of one, or you can write to the American Association of Marriage Counselors, 270 Park Ave., New York, N.Y., and ask for the names of some such advisors near you.

If, on the other hand, you don't feel you can afford this kind of consultation, then you might get in touch with the Family Service organization in your city and ask if you may make an appointment to discuss a very serious family problem. If you can afford to pay anything, they may charge you a small fee for a consultation, but if you can afford nothing, then they will ask nothing.

One more thing I might say is this: Have you ever told your husband definitely that you simply cannot live the kind of life he wants to live and that it is up to him to choose whether he wants you enough to try to be different, or whether he would prefer to be left alone to live as he pleases? You could tell him that even if he will not go so, far as to have normal friendships himself, you must be free to have friends of your own with whom you can spend time when you wish to do so. At least if he will not make an effort to overcome his own abnormal attitude, he could compromise in this way.

Possibly you did this before you made that trip to Las Vegas, but if you just went out there on the spur of a desperate moment, perhaps after a quarrel, then I think you might try this approach, doing it calmly and lovingly. In a spirit of wanting to really talk things over sensibly, instead of leading into just another quarrel.

Wear a Grape-Purple Apron

By Mary Moore

Some of the cookbooks which are your regular references and on which you depend for your recipes, day in and day out (when I fail you), are compiled by women just like you and me. Some like things sweet, some less sweet, some sour. There is one cookbook which I think is excellent, but the recipe in it for canned grape juice recommends using 1 cup sugar for every four cups of strained juice. I think it is much too sweet. Even my sweet-tooth friends think this.

In our part of the country the grape crop is abundant and grapes are being peddled by the bushel. So the grape juice business is flourishing. My neighbor Eleanor is using lemon juice to remove the stains from her hands. I am going to give you two methods of making it and you may adjust the sugar content to your own tastes.

GRAPE JUICE NO. 1

Ten lbs. ripe grapes weighed before stemming. These may be half blue and half white if desired), 1 cup water, 1 lb. sugar. Wash grapes well, remove from stems, put in granite or stainless steel preserving kettle with the 1 cup water and bring to boil and gently boil until grapes are soft and pulp separate. Seeds will float. Have ready a strong flannel strainer, strain it and pour in hot juice and let it drain, for about six hours or overnight. In the morning bring to boiling point and immediately add the sugar, bring to boiling point again. Pour into sterile jars and seal. These amounts make a little more than three quarts. When grape juice is made by this method it may be diluted one-half with water or soda water when served.

GRAPE JUICE NO. 2

Wash grapes well, then pull from stems. You may now crush the grapes gently with a potato masher or squeeze them with your hands—if you have rubber gloves wear them. For each 8-quart basket of grapes used add 2 1-2 cups water and bring to boil and boil, covered, for 15 minutes, taking time after they begin to boil. Remove from heat and strain through moistened strong jelly-bag overnight. Measure juice. To every cup of juice add 3 tablespoons sugar—that is 1 cup sugar to each 8 cups juice. When this is heated to boiling taste a little—diluted half and half with water. If it is not sweet enough for your family add sugar in proportions of 1 cup sugar to each 8 cups of juice. When boiling pour into sterile jars and seal.

Are you willing to make one grape pie per year? If so here is a good recipe.

CONCORD GRAPE PIE

Six cups stemmed Concord grapes, 1 1-4 cups sugar, 4 tablespoons flour, 2 teaspoons lemon juice, 1-2 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons butter. Make enough pastry for a double-crust pie and line pie plate. Slip skins from grapes and keep them and heat pulp to full boil. While it is boiling rub through sieve to remove seeds. Mix pulp with skins. Mix together sugar, flour, lemon juice and grated rind, salt, and stir this into the grape skins and pulp. Pour into lined pie plate dot with butter, seal on pastry and bake in oven at 425 deg. Fahr. about 40 minutes. Serve this just warm if you can time it properly.

HE INSISTS ON HAVING HIS GIFTS SHOWN

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I am a 16-year-old girl who has been going steady for quite some time with a boy whose name is John. I have accepted many gifts from John on different occasions during our courtship. Since we are not going steady any more, John insists to see all of these gifts back. I do not think this is right. What is your advice on this matter?

—E.

My advice is to give 'em back and just as soon as you possibly can. Even though you're very obviously the unattractive "gimme" type, please don't let yourself stoop to wanting to keep things the giver doesn't want you to keep. Of course your family should have forbidden you to accept these gifts .. and now they should forbid you to keep them.

BRIDE'S ATTENDANTS SHOULD INTRODUCE THEMSELVES

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I am to be a bridesmaid for a college friend of mine, who lives in a city in the state next to ours. I have visited her several times and know quite a few of her friends there. But I'm sure there will be many people at the wedding whom I don't know, and whom the other bridesmaids who live in her home city will know. If I happen to stand first in the group of bridesmaids, or if the bridesmaid next to me doesn't happen to introduce me, should I make any point of introducing myself? If so, how?

—Dorothy S.

Yes, do make a point of introducing yourself . . . this will show an "accustomedness to courtesy."

It's awkward for the guest not to know who you are, what your name is. Too often bridesmaids thoughtlessly omit this courtesy . . . . and to correct this, sometimes a bride-to-be very nicely drops a hint to her attendants about "please introduce yourselves to our guests . . . any will like that." To introduce yourself you might say: "I'm the guest, "How do you do. I am Dorothy Summerfield . . . I live in Westgate City . . . and Helena and I were friends at . . . College". Then, if there is time, the conversation may proceed to comments about the beautiful bride and/or the lovely wedding and so forth.

BRIDE'S MOTHER TO GIVE SHOWER

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

A close relative of mine is to be married quite soon, and the mother of the bride-to-be is giving a shower for her at her home. My daughter says it is not proper to give either the bride's mother or the groom's mother to give a shower, and to me it looks as if the mother is just begging for presents. Apparently the bride's mother should forbid it, so to keep on is given, as it seems that the bride-to-be's real friends, not intimate friends, who are willing to plan a shower for her. To us and to some of our relatives and friends it will really be a hardship to give a shower present after we have given very fine and useful engagement presents and will also have to give wedding presents.

However if we are expected to give shower gifts, we will do it even if we have to go without something in order to do it. But please let us know if it's correct for the bride's mother to give the shower.

—M.C.

Your daughter is right . . . it is not considered correct for the bride's mother (or the groom's mother) to give a shower. A shower given under these "close relative auspices" does, as you say, give an unfortunate impression of being a planned promotion for presents. However, there is nothing you and your Relatives and friends can do about this . . . and I strongly advise that you all accept the invitations, make no criticism whatever (in the important interest of peaceful family relationships), and each take a thoughtful but inexpensive gift to the shower. (This is what a shower gift should be anyway.)

BEAUTY

By HELEN JAMIESON

FLOWERS AS AN ACCENT TO LOVELINESS

A flowered wristlet is the perfect accessory for the strapless formal.

You may not be able to afford mink or diamonds, but for a touch of real luxury, dress up even the simplest of frocks with flowers and you will have achieved a note of feminine loveliness that many a mink-garbed, diamond bestudded woman will envy. You don't have to use many flowers. On a simple tailored suit one or two small blooms in a contrasting shade will make a delightful — and fragrant— accessory.

For a daytime dress occasion, a flower or two at the belt line or at the low point of a V-neckline can be prettier than any costume jewelry you could possibly buy. And, for evening wear there's always, of course, the corsage. Your best beau will probably buy this for you, but don't go into a panic because you're wearing a strapless formal and you don't know how, in heaven's name, you're going to pin it on. Florists keep up with fashion, too, so they long have recognized a girl's plight on such occasions. So next time the man in your life asks you the color of the gown you'll be wearing on the big night, tell him the color — but tell him the style, too. He'll pass he word on to the florist and you'll be surprised a the wealth of ideas he'll come up with.

When you open the precious box you may find a charming wristlet or choker of blooms. Or the florists may come in an arrangement for your hair. It may be in tiara form or perhaps it is to be worn in a prettily draped effect over one ear. Attractive corsages are also made to be clipped to a velvet band worn about the throat. Occasionally, there's a matched wristlet and hair ornament. But, in any event, you won't have to forego the delight of wearing flowers on festive occasions just because Dame Fashion has decreed the strapless formal.

How to wear flowers is important, however. If you are not wearing a strapless gown or wear a corsage, be sure that the flowers are not on the stems down. Upending blooms is not only old-fashioned but it detracts from their beauty. If you plan to wear them in your hair, be certain that the stems are cut short. Leave the teeth of the comb to which the flowers are attached exposed. Then place the comb in put in front, to make it doubly secure with the aid of two or three bobby pins. This will keep it in place through the dancingest evenings ever.

Shoplifters Like Crowded Stores, Busy Salespeople

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — Topcoat weather is returning, and with it comes increased activity in a multi-million-dollar business: shoplifting.

The normal curve of activity rises to a Christmas-time peak, then drops off slightly for another rise just before Easter. Thieves in this category like crowded stores and busy salespeople.

A great deal is known by store-keepers and law-enforcement officials about shoplifters and all the techniques they use. For years there hasn't been a single new technique evolved. The one thing that isn't known is how much shoplifters steal. Various guesses place it between $100,000,000 a year and $1,000,000,000.

For the most part, shoplifting techniques are as classic and unchanging as ballet positions. The details of variations may change. For example, "feedbag" handbags are popular for pilferers now, while it was oilcloth shopping bags a few years ago. But the essential operation is to snatch the loot when attention is elsewhere—sometimes deliberately diverted by an accomplice, sometimes by normal pressures of work in the store.

TWO CLASSES

Shoplifters are usually placed into two categories: professionals, known as "boosters," and amateurs. Amateurs include casual pilferers, who suddenly find a tempting situation and can't resist stuffing a piece of costume jewelry in a handbag, and a broad range of psychopaths—kleptomaniacs, alcoholics and narcotic addicts, or occasionally a pregnant woman who is temporarily unbalanced because of her condition. Recently there has been great concern about the increasing number of teen-agers—frequently girls—who steal for thrills and self-adornment. There are more women than men among the amateurs.

Professional boosters will steal anything, and frequently steal an order. They constitute, according to one authority, about 10 per cent of the shoplifting contingency, but because they make a business of it, are the hardest to spot. The amateurs frequently are nervous, fumbling and maladroitly call attention to their manoeuvres.

Boosters are dressed for their work and women's clothes are best adapted for it. A popular costume is a full skirt with elastic waistband. Underneath is a pair of outsize bloomers capable of holding several dresses. Male boosters frequently have special pockets in their full topcoats, and belts with hooks and sockets for hanging pocketing objects.

A classic piece of equipment is called a "booster box"—a regular cardboard suitbox rigged with slashed sides and springs so that it will snap open to receive merchandise and then spring closed to look like a well-wrapped package. Some of these boxes also have dumping attachments which, when a certain string is pulled, drop the contents onto the floor, thereby rendering the thief, it is hoped, immune to arrest.

How to KEEP FIT after 50

In the old days fifty seemed the signal to slow down—take things easy—watch your diet—get more rest. It's still good advice. But these days you can face fifty with many interesting and active years ahead,—active, that is, if you can avoid backache and the "tired-out" feeling, due to kidney and bladder disorders, that often develop around that age. For more than 50 years Dodd's Kidney Pills have been helping men and women of all ages to keep kidneys and bladder in good order,—helping them to feel better, to work better, and get more out of life. If you are troubled this way, or past it, Dodd's Kidney Pills may help you, too. You can depend on Dodd's. 24

Consumer Credit in U.S. Climbs to Record Peak

By DON WHITEHEAD

NEW YORK (AP) — Main street U. S. A. is a big, wide, wonderful world of easy credit.

It's a treasure lane where homes, automobiles, stoves, refrigerators, vacations, television sets, radios, phonographs, furniture, clothes and almost everything else can be bought on the cuff.

It's a street that encourages debt in a competitive fight for business. It's a place where the young people no longer avoid debt as their elders once did. Instead, they are learning to live with debt as a normal way to achieve the sort of life they want. They don't want to wait for years to have the good things of life, as their mothers and fathers did. They want to enjoy them now . . . today. And they are.

Some are going over their head in debt, tempted by the credit terms which look so easy to meet. Collectors estimate that some 6,000,000 families are delinquent in their payments on one or more things they have bought on time.

But on the whole, they are paying their bills promptly. The percentage of delinquencies is so low that it's a small problem in this time of prosperity.

In the last few years, consumer credit (which includes installment buying) has climbed to a record peak of more than $32,000,000,000. Americans owe $12,500,000,000 on their automobiles. With easy terms, they've piled up more than $32,000,000,000 worth of mortgages. The mortgage debt has jumped by $12,000,000,000 in the last year alone.

The fast upsurge in consumer and mortgage credit has the Eisenhower administration worried—worried not so much by the size of the debt as the swift pace of its increase. Nobody can say precisely where it's heading. The debt is growing faster than the people's ability to pay, measured by income after taxes.

Perhaps some government economists say, the U. S. has plunged into a new era of prosperity in which the soaring debt total isn't out of line with the workers' ability to pay. After all, even though consumer credit has reached a record level, it represents only 8.3 per cent of the people's income after taxes. Two years ago the percentage was 8.2.

If you add the consumer debt and the mortgage debt, the total of $114,000,000,000 is less than half of income after taxes. There seems to be general agreement the people can take care of this debt total without too much trouble as long as employment remains high. Right now employment is at a record high with 63,000,000 people at work.

CHILL FOREBODING

Still, there is an undercurrent of uneasiness in the administration, a chilly foreboding that the splurge in easy credit buying could lead to inflation and then perhaps to a depression—unless the trend is slowed. Some steps have been taken in this direction.

But there is the ironic note that it wouldn't be politically wise for the money powers to check things too much. They don't want to slow down automobile buying, for example, to the point where there would be unemployment in the factories and ranks of jobless voters. Apparently the people like a little inflation if it means good times, and if good times continue through 1956 the Republicans aren't likely to suffer from it at the polls. The trick is to keep the boom going but not let it get out of hand.

70,000 Students Will Tax Capacity of Universities

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The greatest number of students since 1948 is expected to tax the capacity of Canadian university lecture rooms this fall.

A Canadian Press survey shows that more than 70,000 graduate and undergraduate students will enrol this month, about 2,500 more than last year, and 13,000 fewer than in 1948 when war veterans filled universities to overflowing.

University authorities said requests for scholarships and other financial aids have been unprecedented. About one quarter of the students will receive aid, ranging from $50 scholarships to $1,500 combination scholarships and free tuition. In addition more money than ever before is available for student loans, repayable after graduation.

AID TEACHER SHORTAGE

Fees, which have risen steadily in the last 10 years, range from $200 and up for arts to $800 and up in medicine and some sciences.

Some universities have added courses to accommodate the greater number of students but generally they are much the same as last year. A few universities are offering expanded education courses to help relieve the elementary and high school teacher shortage.

Off-campus living accommodation for students is adequate in most centres. Rooms with board average from $50 to $60 a month.

The University of British Columbia expects 8,250 students this fall, compared with 7,914 last year. Among them will be students from 70 countries.

UBC will embark next spring on a $10,000,000 building program which includes a new arts and medical science building and student residences.

OTHER DEVELOPMENTS

Two new buildings are nearing completion — an administration wing and a home management house for practical work in home economics. Construction will start this fall on a building housing a book store, post office, bus terminal and coffee shop.

The university is meeting the accomodation problem with temporary wartime huts, 16 now has 26 permanent, 27 semi-permanent and 135 hut-type buildings.

About 1,500 students this year will share bursary, scholarship and loan fund assistance totalling $400,000.

A "very difficult" classroom situation is forecast at the University of Alberta. About 4,700 students are expected, 400 in Calgary and the remainder in Edmonton. Last year 4,362 students were registered. Laboratory space particularly is short, and so is housing.

About 1,200 students will receive financial assistance from the university's $300,000 fund.

ACCOMMODATION ADEQUATE

No crowding is forecast at the Universities of Saskatchewan and Manitoba. Enrolment is expected to increase to 3,500 from 2,400 last year at Saskatoon and in Winnipeg, enrolment will be "slightly higher" than last year's 5,000.

The University of Western Ontario at London may have the largest enrolment in its history. Approximately 1,700 students are expected, compared with 1853's record 1,500.

Dr. G. E. Hall, UWO president, said scholarship applications indicate high school students entering university have much higher averages than in recent years. He said the marks are "fantastically high."

However, authorities at the University of Toronto, preparing for an eprolment of about 11,190, about the same as last year, said grades of students entering university are "just average."

Ottawa's two universities, the University of Ottawa and Carleton College, say enrolment will be about the same as last year. U of O expects 2,000 students and Carleton 1,450.

A new men's residence, the first of five, will be opened soon at Queen's, where 2,400 students are expected, about 100 more than last year.

20,000 AT MONTREAL

About 20,000 students will attend Montreal universities. McGill expects 6,800 compared with 6,700 in 1954 and the University of Montreal and its affiliated colleges expect about 12,000.

A new course leading to a bachelor of elementary education degree is offered for the first time by the University of New Brunswick, to turn out more teachers for the province's elementary and secondary schools. About 1,000 students are expected this year, the greatest number since 1948 when 1,340 attended.

The government of Nova Scotia has announced a program of financial assistance for teacher trainees by which fi pays tuition fees for the final years at university. Enrolment will increase sharply because of this assistance, officials say. Dalhousie University is offering a new course leading to a degree of doctor of philosophy in biological science.

No changes in enrolment or courses are reported by Prince Edward Island's Prince of Wales and St. Dunstan's College.

Many new degrees will be offered by Memorial University at St. John's, Nfld., this year. For the first time Memorial is offering courses leading to bachelor of commerce, bachelor of arts in education and master of arts in English, history and chemistry.

Registration this year is expected to top last year's 584. Cost of room and board is high, ranging from $90 to $99 a month for men.

Ceremony Marks Fort Ticonderoga Restoration Work

TICONDEROGA, N. Y. (AP)—Restoration of the east barracks of historic Fort Ticonderoga officially began Sunday with bicentennial ceremonies attended by 5,000 Americans and Canadians.

President Eisenhower, in a message read by Senator Irving M. Ives of New York, expressed hope that the observance would "stimulate an increased understanding of life in America in the 18th century and of the history of the critical years in which our nation won its independence."

A. D. P. Heeney, Canadian ambassador to the United States, laid the cornerstone to the barracks, the final portion of the fort to be restored. He noted that Canadians have been coming to Ticonderoga at intervals for more than 300 years. "Lately, I'm glad to say, for less bloodthirsty purposes than those motivated by our ancestors."

The fortress a key defence in the French and Indian and revolutionary wars, fell to Ethan Allen's "green mountain boys" in 1777.

Ticonderoga, on southern Lake Champlain, was astride a main route from colonial New York to Canada.

Eisenhower Plans Conference On Youth Problems

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower today invited 139 world sports figures, educationists and leaders in other fields to a Sept. 27-28 conference here on building the physical fitness of American youth.

The purpose of the conference is to get more youngsters off the spectator grandstands and into active participation in athletics.

The president has expressed concern that lack of such participation is responsible in part for increasing juvenile dilinquency, and for failure of so many young people to measure up to service requirements.

Those invited to the conference from the sports world include:

Bobby Jones, the former grand-slam champion of golf; Gene Tunney, former heavyweight boxing champ; Rogers Hornsby, one-time baseball great and now director of youth activities for the Chicago park district; baseball commissioner Ford Frick and Kenneth L. Wilson, president of the United States Olympic committee.

Invited among others from the news-gathering field are Robert McLean, president of The Associated Press and publisher of the Philadelphia Bulletin, Frank Bartholomew, president of the United Press Associations and Philip Reed, assistant general manager of International News Service.

GETS FULL SALARY

TAIPEI (AP)—Civil Air Transport officials said Sunday the airlines will pay full salary to Lawrence Robert Buol, a C.A.T. employee who was released Friday after 68 months in Red Chinese captivity. At $1,200 a month, he will receive about $81,600.

Diesel Plant Head Evades Picket Line

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—E. V Rippingille, Jr., president and general manager of the embattled General Motors diesel plant here, enlivened the strike scene Monday by running the picket line.

Mr. Rippingille got through the main picket line on Oxford street by driving across a ditch several feet deep at the west-end of the line. He remained in the plant about an hour but ran into trouble when he tried to leave by the east exit.

One unidentified striker snatched the keys from the ignition lock after the car was halted when another striker climbed on the front fender and refused to get off.

During the ensuing argument the man who rode the fender, Lloyd Pickering, warned Mr. Rippingille: "If you want trouble we are out to turn it on. We agreed there would be no funny business."

"Who is the law around here?" Mr. Rippingille asked as he told the striker to get out of the way.

"The law says you must not cross a picket line," replied Mr. Pickering.

Mr. Rippingille: "It does not. Don't display your ignorance."

The pickets which crowded around the open convertible eventually opened a path for the car and allowed it to proceed down the highway.

Another incident brought a warning from police that strikers must stay off railroad property. A truck backed up to a fence bordering a CPR railroad track but it was warned off by strikers after they noticed men from the plant carrying stretchers attempting to meet the truck.

The local plant is one of five Ontario plants which went on strike Monday after negotiations with the company for a new contract broke down.

Bank of Canada Starts Building In Near Future

OTTAWA (CP)—The Bank of Canada Monday night announced construction of its new eight-storey Toronto building will begin "in the near future."

The structure will house the bank's Toronto agency and Toronto offices of the Industrial Development Bank and the securities and foreign exchange departments.

The polished granite and grey limestone building will occupy a site on University avenue bounded by Richmond, Simcoe and Queen streets.

Bank officials declined comment on its cost.

Archdeacon First Suffragan Bishop of Huron

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — By an overwhelming majority, the Ven. W. A Townshend, Archdeacon of Huron, was elected to be the first suffragan Bishop of Huron at a special synod Monday.

He was awarded 135 of the 183 clerical votes on the second ballot and 191 of the 306 on the lay ballot. In each case he needed a majority of both houses to be elected.

The bishop-elect must be received by the House of Bishops of the Anglican Church of Canada and will then retain his office as rector and archdeacon of London. He is also a ballot of Huron county.

Evelyn Nesbit Thaw Takes Ride Down Memory Lane

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"This is a most unattractive section now," said the little grandmotherly old lady, shaking her head as she peered out the car window. "Isn't it terrible?"

The lady was Evelyn Nesbit Thaw. And she was looking at the site of the old Madison Square Garden, atop which in 1906 her husband, Harry K. Thaw, shot to death her former lover, Stanford White, in New York's most celebrated murder case.

She seemed depressed at the way the neighborhood has run down since, as she terms it now, "the tragedy" took place.

But after 49 years "the tragedy" has turned out to be a form of social security for Miss Nesbit. A movie studio has paid her upwards of $30,000 for a film based on her life called "The Girl in the Red Velvet Swing."

"If you think I'm going to invest that money, you're crazy," remarked Miss Nesbit spiritedly. "I never invest in anything but a good meal."

Food seemed more on her mind than sentiment as Miss Nesbit, faded beauty of a faded past looks like a graying retired schoolmarm. But few schoolmarms have her bounce—and none, I suppose, quite has her memories.

Passing her old home on Park avenue, the first floor of which now is a dress shop, she said:

"No, Thaw didn't live there with me. He resided in the Bastille then—in Durance Vile. Boy, the breakfasts I used to have in that house—broiled quail eggs . . . trout . . . fried oysters."

We drove by the former location of Sherry's restaurant, and she said:

"Oh; the wonderful terrapin they served. The terr-a-pi-n"—she spelled it out, as if no one in the present generation could remember it—"is a member of the turtle family, only it tastes better."

The swiftly changing Manhattan scene bewildered her. Most of the landmarks of her champagne youth were gone.

"Everything is so different," she kept saying. "It's so changed. Why have they torn down so many beautiful old buildings?"

Then she was back on food again.

"I ate so much in the old days I still wonder why I didn't get fat," she said. "Lillian Russell was bowing out of the picture as I walked in. Styles were changing. Boy, was she upholstered! Big, hip, watermelon.

"No, I never met Diamond Jim Brady. Stanford White was too snobbish to speak to Brady. He thought he was a frightful character."

Miss Nesbitt still insists that White, a famous architect, was the only man she ever really loved.

"He had one weakness—a love of youth. He would tremble all over when he came near me. Youth—that was his weakness. But all great men have a weakness."

As to Thaw, whose acquittal on grounds of insanity she helped to win by her testimony, she said:

"The poor thing. I guess he couldn't help what he did. It would have been better if he had never been born. Too much money spoiled him young."

The low point of the tour came for Miss Nesbit as we drove along truck-crowded West 24th street, where White's studio once stood, where once at gay parties she swung to the ceiling on a red velvet swing.

"I can't even remember where it was," she murmured. It's people? They tear everything down. They're getting wackier and wackier."

They journey back ended at Luchow's restaurant, still looking much as it did when she dined there with Stanford White half a century ago. Miss Nesbit ordered and drank a seidel of the same Germanbrand beer she had once shared with him.

"That's one new," she said, "I'm on a diet."

Calgary All Set to Stage Biggest Evacuation Exercise

By DAVID OANCIA
Canadian Press Staff Writer

CALGARY (CP)—X is the unknown in "Operation Lifesaver"—the zero hour Wednesday in what civil defence planners call the biggest evacuation exercise ever attempted in the western world.

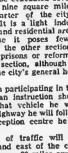
X marks the time at which Mayor Don Mackay will throw the switch which starts air-raid sirens wailing. The time is known only to Lt.-Col. G. O. Bell, civil defence director for Calgary.

The sirens will mark the end of more than six months of intensive planning and the beginning of the action. Within three hours of X hour, civil defence planners hope the 40,000 persons living in northeast Calgary will have left the city and will be speeding to reception centres set up in towns and villages.

Operation Lifesaver is a result of present thinking that mass evacuation is the only defence against hydrogen and hydrogen weapons. Civil defence planners hope it will serve as the basis of all future evacuation planning.

Recently, Wing Commander John Hodsoll, director general of United Kingdom civil defence planning and chief civil defence advisor to NATO, said the operation is the "first real civil defence exercise to be held anywhere in the world."

"It is a genuine rehearsal where people will be doing exactly what they would under attack," he said. "That's why it is of such particular interest to us in NATO."



Operation Lifesaver incorporates all the aspects of evacuation, from assembly to reception and feeding in mutual-aid centres. Calgary will be the first city to actually test reception areas and a pre-planned public information program.

Cars are to be evacuated covers approximately nine square miles, roughly one-quarter of the city's built-up area. It is a light industrial, business and residential area, chosen because it poses fewer problems than the other sections. There are no prisons or reformatories in this section, although it does contain the city's general hospital.

Every person participating in the exercise has an instruction sheet telling him what vehicle he will ride in, what highway he will follow and which reception centre he is to report to.

The stream of traffic will be routed north and east of the city to points as far as 90 miles away. On reaching their destinations, selected groups will go through formal civil defence registration and will be assigned temporary lodging.

Possible Changes In Liquor Ads To Be Discussed

TORONTO (CP)—The possibility of changes in Ontario's liquor-advertising regulations will be discussed next week, Hon. William H. Collings, chairman of the Ontario liquor control board, said Monday.

Mr. Collings, who became board chairman last Jan. 20, said he feels the time about ripe for the question to be reviewed.

Present regulations confine advertising to "institutional" type posters, and displays in newspapers and magazines. No radio advertising is permitted, although there the CBC is the determining authority.

Mr. Collings said discussion by the board of the procedure it will follow will begin next Monday when Col. Charles Woodrow, its solicitor, returns from vacation. Advertising regulations are among Col. Woodrow's responsibilities.

NEW LIQUOR PERMITS

The establishment of the board then also will discuss the possibility of new liquor permits for the province, replacing the present ABC type in which purchases are recorded. He has said he favors the easily-carried plastic-type permit, similar to the province's birth certificates.

Such a permit would need only be shown when the holder buys from a liquor store, and would not entail record-making entries.

Mr. Collings said it is likely the board will conduct public hearings on the advertising question, enabling manufacturers and other interests to express their views on the question to submit briefs.

END OCCUPATION

VIENNA (AP)—The last British, American and Russian troop contingents slipped quietly out of Vienna Monday, ending 10 years of military occupation of this capital. French troops left long ago.

Opposition Candidates Aim At Reducing Big Leads Gained By Liberals in 1953 Election

OTTAWA (CP)—Opposition candidates in next Monday's four federal by-elections in eastern Canada are aiming their efforts at offsetting the big leads won by Liberals in the 1953 general election.

All four constituencies have been represented by Liberals for long periods—the shortest 22 years and the longest 39 years. They are Quebec South, Temiscouata and Bellechasse in Quebec and Restigouche-Madawaska in New Brunswick. In the last election the margins of government representatives ranged in size from 2,258 votes in Bellechasse to 12,587 in Quebec South.

There have been 11 by-elections during the life of the present Parliament.

Seven were in seats won in 1953 by Liberals and one of them, Manitoba's Selkirk last Nov. 8, which was won by a Liberal in 1953 by a 189-vote edge, returned CCF candidate William Bryce with a substantial lead. Liberal margins of 1953 were cut sharply in five of the other six.

Of the other three by-elections since 1953, Progressive Conservatives retained Peel and Elgin in Ontario on March 22, 1954, and a Social Credit was held Alberta's Battle River-Camrose last June 20. But in only one—Peel—did the winning party increase its 1953 margin.

That pattern is far from being as decisive as results of the 29 by-elections held during the life of the last Parliament from 1940-53. Liberals lost eight to Progressive Conservatives while holding 11. Conservatives retained five and lost none. The other five contests resulted in changes between Independent Liberal and Liberal representation.

Present standing in the Commons is Liberals 166; Progressive Conservative 51; CCF 25; Social Credit 15; Independent 4; vacant 6; total 265.

One of the vacancies remaining after Monday's by-elections will be filled by an Oct. 24 by-election in Toronto-Spadina left vacant by Liberal Cairine Wilson's appointment to the Senate. No date has yet been set for a by-election to fill the vacancy in St. Johns-Iberville-Napierville caused by the death of Postmaster-General Cote Aug. 7.

CABINET APPROVES

Can't Buy NHA Home, Civil Servants Protest

TORONTO (CP)—More than 70 per cent of Ontario's civil servants cannot qualify to buy a home under the National Housing Act because they earn less than $3,000 a year, J. P. Cullion, northwestern district director, said.

Harold Bowen, president of the Civil Service Association of Ontario said many association members are forced to accept part-time work to maintain a reasonable standard of living despite government regulations prohibiting outside work.

He cited several cases in which persons were dismissed for doing such work to supplement income and the meeting of the executive they should pass a motion asking the government to remove those prohibitions.

RIVER DRIED UP

Steamshovels, bulldozers and dynamiters work on areas of the St. Lawrence river where once, above, Canada's early explorers sailed by canoe and ship. This aerial view shows the cofferdams at the Long Sault control dam near Cornwall, Ont., which holds back the river to permit construction on part of the $900,000,000 St. Lawrence seaway power development. The flow of the river is switched temporarily to the north. (CP Photo).

Fantastic Things Being Done

Power Shovels, Bulldozers and Dynamiters Changing the Face of Mighty St. Lawrence

By JOHN LeBLANC
Canadian Press Staff Writer

CORNWALL, Ont. (CP)—Engineers are doing fantastic things with the St. Lawrence river.

The mighty stream that rolls down from the heart of America is being manhandled, as never before since wresting for Canada and the United States by producing a flow of power and an access for large ocean ships into mid-continent.

In the process, the bottom of the majestic St. Lawrence has been bared here and there and grass and weeds are thriving along big stretches. Power shovels, bulldozers and dynamiters work on areas where once, above, Canada's early explorers sailed by canoe and ship.

HUGE PROJECT

It is part of the $900,000,000 St. Lawrence seaway-hydro development, due to bring in 2,200,000 horsepower of electricity by 1958 and to carry the big vessels into the Great Lakes. Canada and the United States are sharing the costs.

Construction on this project is the heftiest river construction job ever attempted in Canada. It stretches inland from the east Cornwall to Iroquois 35 miles up river, a little later, it will include deepening of the Welland canal that lets ships past Niagara Falls.

Around Cornwall, the engineers have thrown up a series of works aimed at diverting the humuli of the Long Sault rapids into the electricity that feeds the kitchen stove. Harnessing the 38-foot plunge of the rapids is complicated.

Necklaces of cofferdams have been strung across the river at strategic spots. Four of them string at various points between the Canadian mainland, the United States' Barnhart island, Canada's Sheek island and between the U.S. mainland and land on the island.

The cofferdams built, them were about 365,000,000 gallons of water to be pumped out. This has taken weeks. With it has gone an incidental job of rehabiting the fish, which otherwise would have been left on the water.

CUT THROUGH ISLAND

Meanwhile, engineers were cutting a channel through Long Sault island, which allows the St. Lawrence to flow from its normal channel along the U.S. shore into a more northerly course. That's to permit the building of a control dam reaching from the U.S. mainland, near the tip of Long Sault island and to one end of Barnhart island.

The upshot of these works is that the flow of the St Lawrence is switched temporarily to the north. Eventually, it will come completely under control here.

That is when the $200,000,000 dam stretching 3,130 feet from the Canadian mainland above Cornwall to Barnhart island gets into operation with powerhouses atop it. Power from this dam now is expected in the summer of 1958, previous expectations were for the fall of that year.

But at the moment the dam and the powerhouses are still on the engineers' drafting boards. On a visit to the site, you just see earthmoving machinery chopping away at the river bottom in preparation for the construction, protected by the cofferm.

MAMMOTH BUCKETS

Some of the big buckets can handle four tons at a single bite. Horsing them around are some of approximately 4,000 men working for the Ontario hydro - electric power commission in the spread-eagled area.

When construction gets rolling stronger, it's expected about 12,000 will be at work in this area, half employed by the power authority of New York state, which is sharing the $600,000,000 cost of power, construction with Ontario Hydro.

When they get the dam built, the result will be that the river is backed up into a 35-mile "pool" stretching back to Iroquois and flooding out several communities. At Iroquois, the Canadian government is building a $14,000,000 canal skipping through Iroquois.

At the same spot, the Americans are to build a 2,340-foot dam across the river from Rockway point in the U.S. to Iroquois point, to control the flow of the St. Lawrence. They have just started dumping rock into the river for the base of the 90-foot-high curving structure.

CANADA'S TALLEST

Downriver and in the Cornwall area, Ontario Hydro has already set up the tallest power poles in Canada — 335 feet — which will carry electricity from the seaway's powerhouses when they get rolling. The poles reach across the Canadian part of the river.

Hydro tried out, unsuccessfully, a new departure in stringing lines for the poles. It had a helicopter tow a nylon rope between poles, with wires attached. But the rope was too heavy for easy manoeuvrability and finally it had hauled the wires.

Downriver from Cornwall, the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority, capitalized by the federal government at $200,000,000 — is doing dredging below here and at Montreal has done another job of blocking off the river and working on the bottom. .

On the south shore of the St. Lawrence opposite Montreal, the river has been diked off and here again construction teams are digging at the bottom.

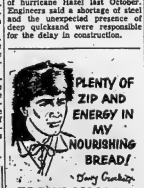
They are working on an undertaking that includes a 10-mile dike swinging around the contour of the river's south shore which will provide a new channel bypassing the Lachine rapids. About 2½ miles of the dike have been built now. Engineers on the job say the work is ahead of schedule.

Complete Plans For Moroccan 'New Deal'

PARIS (Reuters) — The French cabinet met today to complete plans for a Moroccan "new deal" settlement which has been delayed for the last week by differences between French and Moroccan leaders.

Some progress toward breaking the deadlock was reported Sunday night after Premier Edgar Faure warned a cabinet meeting that failure to carry out the new deal swiftly would bring the resignation of his government.

Moroccan nationalists and right-wing French cabinet members have differed over the choice of the third member of a three-man regency council to replace Moulay Ben Arafa, the aged sultan of Morocco.



Pierre July, minister for Moroccan aaid several Moroccans acceptable to all cabinet members were put forward to fill the vacant third place on the council Sunday night. It was up to Moroccan nationalist leaders in Paris to accept one of the men named. They had previously rejected 13 French candidates.

The regency council will name a representative of Moroccaz government to carry out the reform program. The first two members chosen were the centenarian grand vizier in Morocco and Col. El Bekkai, an independent nationalist.

Bridge Opening Will Be Delayed

TORONTO (CP)—The new four-lane bridge to Hoag's Corners on Highway 11 in north Toronto will not be opened as scheduled this fall.

The bridge will replace a two-lane structure which was washed out of hurricane Hazel last October. Engineers said a shortage of steel and the unexpected presence of deep quicksand were responsible for the delay in construction.

Ohio Turnpike Will Let You Drive 611 Miles Without Bother of Lights

By WILLIAM K. TERRY

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — You soon will be able to drive the 611 miles from Philadelphia to the Ohio - Indiana line without the bother of red lights or traffic jams.

That becomes possible at mid-night Friday, Sept. 30, when the entire Ohio Turnpike opens. Cars and trucks since last Dec. 1 have been moving over the 23-mile eastern section of the Ohio Turnpike that hooks onto the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

The men who turned the dream of a 241-mile super-road across northern Ohio into the newest turnpike claim it is the safest in the United States.

You really will be able to see where you're going as the minimum sight-distance is 900 feet. There are no steep hills, because the maximum upgrade is two per cent and the maximum downgrade 3.2 per cent. You won't have to slow down from maximum speed limits—65 miles an hour for cars and 55 for trucks—when you drive around curves, they're that gentle.

You'll be so far from traffic going the other direction that bright headlights shouldn't both you. At no point are roadways less than 36 feet apart and sometimes the distance is 128 feet. This centre strip is depressed so it will be next to impossible for a car to bounce across it into your path.

It took more than six years of planning and construction and law suits—plus about $336,000,000—to lay wide ribbons of concrete over rivers and streams, across swamp land and rolling hills. The Ohio Turnpike runs past four major Ohio cities — Cleveland, Youngstown, Akron and Toledo. The Ohio Turnpike commission expects 14,000,000 vehicles will use it the first year, an average of 40,000 a day.

The toll for the entire 241 miles of the turnpike is $3 for cars and ranges by vehicle weight up to $20 for the biggest trucks allowed, 90,000 pounds.

Freak accident causes loss of eye

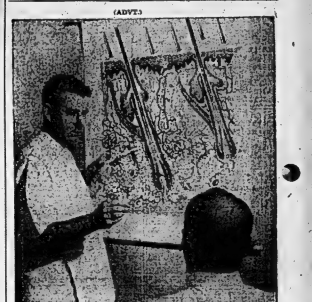
Receives $5,000

While on vacation recently, a young salesman from Toronto had a bad hiking accident. Ducking his head to avoid a branch of a tree, he brushed into another branch that severely damaged his left eye. He suffered complete loss of sight in that optic.

The $10,000 Confederation Life Policy which he carries has an Accidental Death & Dismemberment Benefit. As a result, he received $5,000 for the loss of sight of his eye.

The only policy of its kind in Canada!

Confederation's Accidental Death & Dismemberment Benefit on a $10,000 Policy pays:



$10,000 if you die from natural causes
$10,000 if you die by accident
$30,000 if you die by accident while a passenger in a commercial bus, streetcar, train or ship, or in a fire in a public place.

Liberal cash payment for dismemberment accidents.

M. D. Jarell, eminent Trichologist, demonstrates causes of baldness and how it can be prevented.

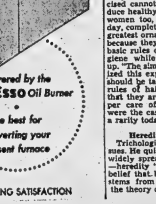
How To Have Hair For A Lifetime To Be Demonstrated Here By Famous Trichologist

OFFERS WRITTEN GUARANTEE

AN EXCLUSIVE INTERVIEW BY WARD ALLEN

Theory does not state that any person must be bald because baldness exists in the family. What it does say, is that in some families, a tendency exists towards an undernourished scalp. The purpose of Jarell Hair and Scalp experts is to teach the method of strengthening the weak scalp and nourishing it to a healthy, vigorous condition. A healthy scalp will grow hair, if it is not wrongly completely bald" assures Jarell.

Is There Hope for the Completely Bald?



In his travels throughout the United States and Canada, Jarell has collected hundreds of testimonials of his ability to develop weak fuzz into healthy, mature hair. All of his clients were started with a private examination, hair and scalp analysis and a diagnosis of the disorder. Jarell is not a miracle man, to tell a hopeless case that he cannot be helped. "We strongly advise", says Jarell, "that no person is completely bald hoids any hope whatsoever of regrowing hair. If there is any fuzz at all, we can restore a healthy scalp condition and the hair will grow normally again as nature intended."

Offers a Guarantee

"Jarell Hair Experts of Canada, offer a guarantee to any client who qualifies for treatment. If he or she is not completely delighted with results at the end of 30 days, the money invested will be graciously refunded," pledged Jarell, "We must have satisfied clients. We must regrow hair. After all, it is our best advertisement."

Is Your Hair Healthy?

If you have a scalp disorder, or if you are worried about your hair, call at the New Queens Hotel, Belleville, Ont. Thursday only from 12 noon to 9.00 p.m. The public is invited. The examinations are private and open to men and women. You do not need an appointment, and you will not be embarrassed or obligated in any way.

Quinte W.I. Hears Fine Talk On Home Making

JOHNSTOWN. — The Bay of Quinte Institute held its September meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Meyers on Wednesday evening with a fine attendance.

The president, Mrs. John Reid, welcomed the ladies and visitors. The roll-call was answered by naming "a household duty I enjoy." It was interesting to hear the answers, one lady said she liked to ery another, canning, ironing and washing.

At the business session, it was agreed to accept the offer of the Home Economist of the Women's Institute Branch and Home Economics Service of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, to conduct demonstrations of "Sandwiches for all occasions," on October 4th at 1.30 p.m. under the sponsorship of the Bay of Quinte Institute. There will be invitations sent out to other groups of ladies to attend. The place has yet to be arranged for.

Mrs. Reid thanked all ladies who loaned articles to be put on display by the Bay of Quinte Institute at the Belleville Fair.

The area convention is to be held on October 13, with Mrs. A. Meyers being nominated as delegate. Mrs. A. Ketcheson and Mrs. DeClerq, saying they would try to go.

Mrs. Reid passed the meeting over to Mrs. Alva Meyers, convener of Home Economics and Health. Mrs. G. VanSchepen and Grace, favored with a lovely Dutch song.

WOMAN IN THE HOME

Mrs. Meyers introduced the speaker of the evening, Mrs. Ernest Bush, whose topic was "Woman in the Home", a most interesting and well given talk. She read the 31st chapter of Proverbs, where she said "One could find anything one wanted in Proverbs, and this portion was her ideal of a good woman and mother. Solomon seel a very high standard to follow and his idea does not give women much leisure. The women of that time were much in the kitchen. Women have been chattels of men and sold on the open market. It was Jesus who gave women their rightful place.

"Around the 12th century there were no printed books and girls were not given the same privileges as boys. They definitely were in the home. Through the years some women of unusual talent, somehow got an education, and made a name for themselves. Florence Nightingale was one of these, who from sheer force of character and help from above, blazed a trail for others to follow. "At this time, schools and universities were being started for the boys, but the girls' chances were slim. Throughout history some mothers have struggled to help their children get an education—there is always a good woman behind a great man. Homemakers of 200 years ago would be surprised if they could see our kitchens today. They had so little to work with in those days. We should do a much better job than they when we have so much.

A GOOD 'HELP MEET'

"If homes are not what they should be, people in them will not want to live there. There was no need for hobbies in those days as it took all a woman's time to be a good "Help Meet", for that is what the Lord intended woman should be. It has been said, "The hand that rocks the cradle rules the world." In our hands lie the happiness of our home. Someone must keep the wheels running smoothly, and the atmosphere of the home has much to do with the happiness of those in it. Proper food, good living conditions and a lot of understanding is necessary. If more of us had this gift there would not be so many divorces. It has been said, "A good home is the thing nearest Heaven there is."

"Marriage is most important. A pretty face alone will not bring happiness to a marriage. It takes two people willing to give and take and trusting in the Lord to have a successful married life. More homes fail because girls and boys do not choose their mates rightly. It takes a heap of living to make a home."

Mrs. Bush closed by reading a couple of lovely poems, one being written by Padre Young.

Mrs. Reid thanked Mrs. Bush for her splendid address, and also Mrs. VanSchepen and Grace for their fine singing.

After the meeting closed, refreshments were served by the convener.

TAKE YOUR CHOICE!

While this piece is being written, Hurricane Jane, twirling her wind-blown tresses at a rate of 125 miles per hour, is gusting northward off Cape Lookout, Carolina, New York, Texas, the blustery wench, decides to whip Ireland, she might blast the heavyweight championship fight between Rocky Marciano and Archie Moore into a day's postponement. For definite info look at the bottom of this column.

Rocky Marciano

Meanwhile the "big fight" looms up as one of the biggest "big boy" attractions since sway back when. If the promoters' advance figure are right a crowd of some 50,000 will eye the bout. The theatre folks expect to grab off at least a million, averaging $3.50 per ticket, since the brawl is not available to home television viewers. And by the same token the boys at the box offices in New York expect a mammoth last-minute rush for pasteboards. The last day of sale for the Randy Turpin-Ray Robinson rematch netted $180,000, no small potatoes in today's fight attraction takes.

And that means the Marciano-Moore exchequers will get a nice golden lining. The champion, making his sixth defence of the title will get, 40 per cent while Moore as challenger will take twenty per cent. This could mean $400,000 for Rocky and $300,000 for the loquacious Archie.

Marciano is definitely the favorite, although strange to say, with the varied ballyhoo and publicity tub-thumping emanating from both camps it would take more than a little from the time the match was made. Rocky went in at a shade of 3-1 and that was practically the figure today at noon.

The bout could turn out to be more than a mere fight for the world heavyweight championship. During his training period, Moore rose to some sort of publicity heights with his verbal taunts and barbs at the champion, and don't think for a minute they have been shrugged aside like the traditional water off the duck's back.

More than that, Rocky has been definitely perturbed by reports that he has been ducking the Moore scrap. This has hurt the champion, a guy who has an intense pride in his title and achievements.

Marciano has been undefeated in 48 fights, 42 of which he has won by knockouts. The Moore barbs and publicity amount anent the "ducking" business has awakened a grim determination in the champion's breast to win this one—come what may. He has adopted a new training for defence. Instead of boxing eight rounds per day and a total of 200 rounds he has eased off saving energy for the fight.

Meanwhile Moore has been taking it fairly easy at his training camp in the Laurentian resort. He figures he can hit the Rock whenever he feels like it and can dodge the Marciano thunderbolts with his tricky defensive tactics. He is a veteran of 164 fights and if he wins will be the oldest man ever to wear the heavyweight crown.

The Rocks cuts easily. Moore can pinpoint his punches. Some of the experts believe Archie will try for a "cut," then probe it until the referee stops the battle. The same experts give Moore a chance to win by a decision or TKO in the early rounds but believe he won't be able to stand up under the champ's last-rounds rough treatment.

But most of the oldtimers and those who claim they are "in the know" predict Rocky will take Moore on his strength and age. They respect Moore's ability but express doubts that he can stand Rocky's battering-ram style of play.

It could be a merry-go-round sort of battle with the dancing Rocky circling the pivoting Moore. If so it will be the first time Rocky has had to fight that way.

The limb? Rocky in the eighth or ninth.

GOOD LUCK!

Point Anne has the singular honor of having the opportunity to bring an upper brackets provincial softball championship home—and not only that, if they win, it will be the first time for the new bauble. Next Saturday they face the Waterloo Seagrams in the first game of the OASA industrial series finals. The game will be played at Ox Point getting under way at 4 p.m. The provincial industrial series was arranged by the OASA for the first time this year. The Pointers were the eastern Ontario title with the Seagrams defeating Toronto for the western Ontario honors. In the meantime, if Hurricane Jane is not kicking up didoes around tuhsaway, the Pointers clash with the Belleville Orfuns tonight at the CNRAA Park at six o'clock in a do-or-die third game for the city championship. The Pointers are still smarting under that "breakless" 6-3 second-game defeat of last week and the third game should be a dilly.

BACK AGAIN!

That one-man show that deprived Fred Atkins the "Australylian" from down under, of a victory-lap ride over the hated Vons, Schober and Erich, may boomerang come Friday night. If Atkins and his well-upholstered palsy-walzy, Doug Hepburn, were put out no end when they lost the decision because Freddie uncorked a few haymakers in the general direction of His Nibs, one Sammy Godder. Anyway, they're back again come fish day and will tote along a couple of reis just for good measure. Now we'll see if Atkins can lick four men at once. Also on the card is Lionel Baillargeon and Tommy O'Toole and Pat Fraley and Frank Thompson.

Yankees Can Clinch Pennant With Sweep Over Senators Providing Tribe Drops Pair

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Unless hurricane Jane sends them sprawling, the New York Yankees figure they'll have the American League pennant in hand Friday at Boston.

Yet, it's possible the championship may not be decided until after Sunday's regular season wind up—which would provide an appropriately screwy finish for the screwiest race since Casey Stengel was a pup.

All sorts of things can happen between now and Sunday, but basically, here's the situation:

1. Any combination of New York victories and Cleveland defeats totalling five gives the Yankees and manager Stengel their sixth pennant in seven years.

2. The Indians, meanwhile, the world on a string just a week ago, must sweep their five remaining games and hope the Yanks lose three of their remaining seven to gain almost a tie for the title.

CAN CLINCH IT

New York could clinch it as early as Wednesday night, Oct. 12, if the Yankees would have to sweep their three games at Washington while Cleveland split with the Athletics at Chicago. Even the confident Yanks don't think it will be over that quick, however. They see themselves hauling in the pennant in either the afternoon or night portion of their twinbill with the Red Sox Friday.

Hurricane Jane also enters the picture. The storm knocked out Monday night's game between the Yankees and Senators. Could be. Jane will send the whole three game series in Washington—and if so, the Yankees may have to return to Washington after Sunday's "finish" at Boston to play the trio, which loom importantly in the pennant issue.

FOR SWIFT KILL

Playing for a swift kill, Stengel sent Whitey Ford (17-7) and Don Larsen (8-2) against Washington in today's scheduled afternoon-night doubleheader.

The Senators, only 8-13 against New York for the season after whipping Cleveland 13-9 and starting the Tribe on a four-game losing streak that dumped them from the lead, will throw Bob Porterfield (10-17) or Pete Ramos (4-9) and Maury McDermott (9-9).

Cleveland manager Al Lopez, forced to win 'em all, will decide on either Early Wynn (16-11) or Bob Score (15-10) against the White Sox' Billy Pierce (14-9) tonight.

Only two other games were scheduled Monday. In the National, St. Louis overcame a 5-0 deficit to beat Chicago Cubs 6-5 in 12 innings. Detroit, riding high after taking three straight from Cleveland, shut out Kansas City 4-0 behind rookie Bud Black's six-hitter.

Pat Abruzzi May Set Modern Scoring Record

Pat Abruzzi, who runs like a bulldozer on the loose, is on his way to a modern Big Four scoring record.

Statistics compiled by The Canadian Press show the solidly-built Montreal Alouettes half leads the scoring race with a total of 52 points on nine touchdowns in four games. He scored only eight more touchdowns in the remaining eight league games to surpass the mark of 16 set by Normie Kwong, other Alouette back, Alex Webster.

Abruzzi is the first Canadian star for Webster, who returned to the National Football League this season. And the Rhode Island State back has made Montreal fans forget the loss of Webster who finished on top of the 1954 point standing with 80 points, all on his touchdowns.

Closest to the 205-pound Abruzzi is Bobby Jenkins, regarded as the best Canadian end in the game. Bobby, a native of Windsor, who has played all his big-time football with Ottawa Rough Riders, has 30 points on six touchdowns.

Tied for third place with 25 points each are Tracey of the Riders and Bucky McElroy of Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

Glen Cappelletti of Sarnia Imperials leads the Ontario Rugby Football Union scoring race with 23 points.

Star Linesman Will Play For Golden Gaels

Frank Tindall, head football coach at Queen's University, has a number of top-notch linesmen who have returned to the Tricolor after playing last year with the Gaels. Thumb-nail sketches of six of these returning players are as follows:

Gary Lewis, captain of the Tricolor, hails from Seattle, Washington. He is 220, 6' 3" and 27. This is Gary's third year with the Gaels. He was captain of the team in 1953, played two games with the squad in '54 and returned this year to captain the team again. A centre, Gary played high school ball at Franklin High School, Seattle. He was on the University of College team when they took the Rocky Mountain championship, and also played for the U. S. Marine Corps team. Gary was on the all-star team for 1953-54 picked by Canadian sports writers. He is a third-year medical student.

Ron Stewart, another all - city championship team while at high school ball with Lawrence Park Collegiate Institute, Toronto. Ron is his second season with the Gaels. He is 220, 6' 3" and 20. At high school he played halfback. Last year he switched to tackle and line backer. An all-round athlete, Ron stars at basketball, lacrosse, hockey, etc. He was picked on the all - city championship team while at high school in Toronto. Jim is a member of Arts '58.

Floyd Balyth comes from Waterloo, Ont. He is 210 pounds, 5' 10" and 27. He played guard for Watertown High School and is playing the same spot for the Tricolor. Floyd is in his third year with the Gaels. He is taking Arts Medi '59.

Jack Thoman, of Montreal, is a tackle. He is 230, 6' 1" and 23. Runs played football with the Westhill High School and Rutherford Collegiate, Montreal. In the 1951-52 season he was on the team that took the city and district football championships and the Quebec Provincial football title. In 1952 he played with the McGill Indians. This is his second year with the Gaels. He is a member of Arts '57.

Jack Abraham, born in Winnipeg, took his secondary school work at Riverdale Collegiate, Toronto, where he played centre. He is 220, 6' 1" and 20. He plays tackle. Jack was with the Riverdale squad which won the Metro-Toronto SAA championship in 1951 and which were semi-finalists in 1952-53. This is his second year with the Gaels. Last year Jack played centre and Gary Lewis is back this year on the Gaels' line. So he has switched to guard. He is in Arts '58.

Victor Sellens is from Hamilton, Ontario. He played high school ball with Hamilton Central Collegiate which won the Hamilton District championship in 1951. He has always played the guard role. This is his third year with the Gaels. Sellens is 225, 6' 2" and is 23.

Tips Gaels, Redmen, Mustangs To Sharpen Up Pass Defence

By BOB SMYLIE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP) — Defence coaches Johnny Metras of the University of Western Ontario Mustangs, Frank Tindall of Queen's Golden Gaels and Larry Sullivan of McGill Redmen:

Sharpen up your pass defence!

Coach Bob Masterson and his University of Toronto Blues, blessed with a strong, experienced line, will be tossing the ball around when the senior Intercollegiate Football Union schedule opens Oct. 1.

The Blues, Intercollegiate champions last year, travel to London to take on the Mustangs, while McGill plays Queen's at Kingston.

Despite the loss of their talented passing quarterback, Bill Stevenson, the Blues have come up with two good replacements.

TWO SIX-FOOTERS

They have six-foot-five Harry Wilson and Eddie Skrzypek, a six-footer who quarterbacked the team two years ago. He sat out last season because of academic difficulties.

Skrzypek threw a 32-yard touchdown pass to end Burt Kellock Friday to give his Blues team an 18-15 win in the annual Blue-White game at Varsity's Lake Couchiching training camp.

Wilson, who subbed at quarterback last season, is the team's leading passer. He completed 42 of 77 attempts for a 54 per cent completion average. He gains averaged 9.1 yards.

Varsity will have one of the strongest lines in years.

John Wismer will centre the big Blue line for his third straight season, and guards Earl Ford and Don Johnston and tackles Walter Baddick, Sanio Martini, George Eakin and Glenn Maclean, all regulars last year, are back.

ON DOUBTFUL LIST

Veteran tackle Bill Beamish is on the doubtful list. He missed his honor subject but could be back if he switches courses.

The line averages 206 pounds, including 175-pound defensive guard Bob Waugh. Waugh, college wrestling champion, will fill a big spot in Masterson's defensive plans.

"He's a tremendous blocker. He moves around fast and while he's small, he can upset the biggest guys," said Masterson.

In addition to Kellock, former McMaster University pass-catcher, Blues will have Gene Chorostecki, Fred Senale, Bill Kozminski and Don Smith at end. They should give Wilson and Skrzypek the receivers they need.

Halfback Steve Oneschuk, the team's leading receiver last year, has gone to Hamilton Tiger-Cats of the Big Four, but Al Rive, another good receiver, is still on the half line. Riva and Senale each completed 12 passes last year.

Masterson's biggest job this year is in the backfield. He's lost such stars as Bob Pinkney, Bob Kimoff, Bill Horton, Ian Mackie and Gerry Spinks. He still has two good fullbacks in Phil Munro and Don Cheeseman.

IS FULLY RECOVERED

Munro is fully recovered from an ankle injury that slowed him down last season and has been ripping off large gains in practices.

"Munro is as good as any fullback in the business," said Masterson. "I think he could play for any college team in the U.S."

Another half, Rich Bethune, is back from last season and will figure largely in Masterson's offensive plans. His blocking is inconsistent last year, but he's improved and should do most of it this season. He shared the duties with Skrzypek Friday.

Newcomers Dave Kotcswell, Jack Rogers and Larry Joynt will fill the gaps on the half line.

Masterson's defensive team is shaky. He has only Waugh and Don Smith and Cheeseman back from last year, but hopes to build a strong team around them. Some of the offensive veterans will have to do double duty, however.

Argos Reject Giant Offers

TORONTO (CP)—Linemen Bill Albright and Billy Shipp of Toronto Argonauts said Monday night they have rejected offers to leave the Big Four Football Union and join New York Giants.

They said they received the offer from the National Football League team Monday. The offer came four days after lineman Gil Maine left Argonauts to rejoin Detroit Lions in the NFL.

Albright remarked:

"Why should we leave? We've been treated like kings up here. We're happy playing football and living here. What more do we want?"

"Now comes the best time of the year for fishing. The bear stays cold longer!"

Gusty Hurricane Ione May Postpone Marciano-Moore Titular Battle

Expect Windy Wench to Veer East of New York During Day; Champion Rated 16-5 Favorite

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP) — Hurricane Ione permitting, heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano will match brute strength and power punches against the finesse, experience and sharp hitting of 36-year-old Archie Moore in a 15-round title fight in Yankee Stadium tonight.

Light rains sprinkled the city during the night, but the hurricane was expected to veer east of New York during the day.

If a postponement is necessary the fight will be held Wednesday, with Thursday the next delay date.

It was 3½ to 1 the undefeated Brockton strong boy would make the storied Archie his 46th victim. The odds may go higher by the time they clinch into the ring at 10:30 p.m., EDT.

It was even money that Moore, who moved four times in his long career of 144 fights 120-185, would not come out on the ninth round, and 18 to 5 that one of the fighters wouldn't go the distance. If you like a price by a kayo, you could get 6 to 1.

MOORE IS CONFIDENT

Despite the odds, the goateed light heavyweight champion was as confident as ever he would upset the "experts" and become, at 39, the oldest man to ascend to the heavyweight throne.

"I never was more sure of winning a fight and I will win this one," said Archie in his usual statement. "I think it will be by a knockout.

"I am in the best condition of my life," declared Marciano. "I am going to go out and try to knock out it if is humanly possible."

The 29-pound heavyweight title is just as anxious to get in there with Moore as he seems to get his long-sought'ecrack at the title. Archie's needling campaign has stirred up the fighter's temper and his intimates say he is burning with a desire to climb the rocky challenger as quickly as possible.

ROCKER TWO JINXES

Archie is bucking two jinxes. No reigning light heavyweight champion ever has been a heavyweight ruler for the title. Seven have tried. Then, too, 12 previous challengers who attempted to win the title in Yankee Stadium were defeated. Five corner slings with the jinxes, picking Marciano to stop Moore within five rounds.

In spite of times, odds and the opinion of the experts, the fight has captivated the public. Unpriced first 10 rows of ringside seats were sold weeks ago. Speculators were getting $100 for the premium pews.

With one eye on the skies and with fingers crossed, promoter James D. Norris said that with a break in the weather he still was hopeful of a 50,000-65,000 crowd and a $700,000 gate. Under advance sale had zoomed close to the $600,000 mark when Ione reared her ugly head.

There will be no home television but the 15-rounder will be broadcast coast to coast (ABC) and to most parts of the world.

ACTOR TO TRY TV

LE HAVRE, France (AP)—Singer-comedian Maurice Chevalier sailed in the Ile de France Friday for the United States to try television and take another crack at Hollywood. Now 68, he is scheduled to appear on the New York stage and will make a movie.

Lake Swimmer Taken Out Near Pickering

Ray Muench, 29-year-old welder from Windsor, Ont., was so exhausted he had to be pulled from the water during his bid to swim the 32 miles across Lake Ontario from Youngstown, N.Y., to Toronto. He was taken out a point some 18 miles off course near Pickering, east of here.

Meanwhile, Attorney - General Kelso Roberts of Ontario said there is no provincial ban on across-the-lake swims. Mr. Roberts said the government has no control over the swimmers. They could start from the United States side if Ontario stopped them.

FOR SAFET TREASONS

Alderman William Allen of Toronto said the long-distance swimmer hibited for safety reasons and conservation. He said swimmers like shooting Niagara Falls in a barrel, which the government forbids.

His statement came after Cliff Snowdon, 29-year-old Orillia swimmer, had his bid in an attempt to become the first man to defeat the lake. More than 12 hours after Snowdon and Muench dived, Muench dived into the lake from Youngstown, N.Y., at 1:45 p.m.

He was in the water more than 20 hours. It was the time when he gave up was most known.

FIGHTAL STATISTICS ON HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMP, CHALLENGER

The downswing starts smoothly with reverse pivot. Everything goes together—arms, legs body. The left hip goes back even as it started from the raised left heel starts toward the ground where it was in the address position and the flexed left leg begins to straighten smoothly out. As our player's weight flows from right leg to left, just before impact the left leg will be fully straightened the left foot flat on the ground and his left side will be one perpendicular line. Notice the picture. This rigid, straight left side provides the leverage against which he swings. This is a nice action golf picture. Fit it in your mind. This swing will be rhythmic throughout. There will be no lunging applied at any point. Rhythm does it.

'Not Giving Up By Long Shot' Says Mr. Lopez

CLEVELAND (AP) — Al Lopez promised Monday his Cleveland Indians will put up a fight 'to the finish in the American League pennant race until their elimination becomes a mathematical certainty.

The quiet skipper, who Sunday was left stunned and speechless after the Indians' fourth successive loss that dropped them two full games behind the pace-setting New York Yankees, was in a more talkative mood Monday.

"Before yesterday's game I said we needed six straight to win the pennant," he recalled. "Now I say we need five straight to finish in a tie. I'm hoping the Yankees lose at least three. We lost four in a row, why can't they lose three? There's no doubt the Yankees have a tremendous advantage, but we're not giving up. Not by a long shot."

Lopez realizes more than anybody else that a major miracle is needed to offset the damage caused by the "lost weekend." He said his hitters let him down.

Something else seemed to be bothering the usually mild-mannered manager. That was the vicious heckling of the Cleveland fans.

"All I can say is their behaviour hasn't helped us a bit. There's no question in my mind that their merciless booing hurt the fellows and affected their playing."

Riders Hoist Custis' Salary

HAMILTON (CP) — Halfback Bernie Custis, sold to Ottawa Rough Riders by Hamilton Tiger-Cats, Monday said Monday he has signed a contract with Rough Riders "at a nice increase" over his 1954 salary.

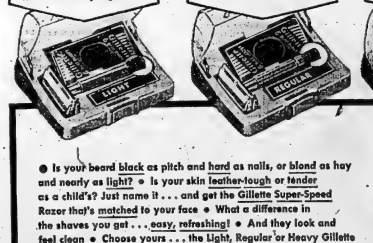
Custis said he will leave for Ottawa today and be in Ottawa in time to attend the Big Four Football Union team's practice in the evening, in Ottawa. Custis will be reunited with Avatus Stone, a teammate when both played for Syracuse University.

Custis, with the TiCats for four years, was sold after he failed to attend practice for four days. Custis claimed coach Carl Voyles offered him a scouting job at $4,000 but refused to match the salary he would have made if he had been an active player.

Gratis Hanover Breaks Records

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—Canada-owned Gratis Hanover, a fast two-year-old filly, broke two world trotting records and Dale Adams' fleet four-year-old gelding, cracked a third Monday at Delaware fair-grounds here.

The filly, driven by Sanders Russell, won the $8,700 Breeders' Stake event, stepping off a two heat record of 4:12 3-5 for a half mile track to clip the old mark of 4:14 1-5 set in 1953 by Stenographer. The two-year-old, owned by F. J. Logue of Sydney, N.S., trotted her second heat mile in 2:06 3-5, clipping one second from the previous record last equalled by Stenographer in 1953. The filly won the first heat in 2:07.



Dale Adam, owned and driven by Bob Parkhurst of Sedalia, Mo., paced off a 2:01 3-5 win over Stanlis in the $1,032 Alambert Pace slicing 1-5 second from the all-mark for the age, sex and gait set earlier this year by Peter Vic Gundy.

'Hope for Knockout' -- Rocky 'Feel I Am Better' --Moore

NEW YORK (AP)—Here are the pre-battle statements of heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano and challenger Archie Moore on the eve of their title fight at Yankee Stadium tonight:

By ROCKY MARCIANO
World Heavyweight Champion

I am very confident. I feel I will win either by a decision or a knockout. I hope it will be by a knockout and I am setting my sights on that target.

But don't think I am undermating Moore. His record speaks for itself. He is a fighter of great experience, a good boxer and a good puncher. If he chooses to swap punches he will be in an exciting evening. And I am sure with an much at stake, he will do just that.

I would be kidding the public if I said I didn't respect some of the things Moore has said, or had said, about me. I have never been a fighter. Nothing, not even the heavyweight title, would make me strive from the way my parents trained me.

I am in the best condition of my life, win or lose there can be no excuses. But I am going to win and by a knockout if it is humanly possible.

By ARCHIE MOORE
World Light-Heavyweight Titlist

I'm in excellent condition. I never felt better in my life. I have trained longer for this fight than for any in my career. I'm ready to go one round or 15 rounds. I've said a lot of things about Rocky and about this fight and I mean every one of them. Just to keep the record straight, I never quer bored Rocky's courage or his fighting ability. He is a strong, game fighter. But I feel I am better and am sure that I can outpoint Rocky Marciano and if the opportunity presented itself, knock him out.

I'll be looking for knockout from the opening bell. It may come in the first or the last round. Rocky won't beat me out of the gate like Nashua did with Swaps. It will be a heads-up fight all the way and the better man will win. That's why I'm so sure of victory.

I'm the better boxer, the more experienced fighter and I punch equally as hard with either hand. I have scored most of my knockouts setting up an opponent with a left hand lead finishing him with a right cross. I don't promise that will be the shortest for this fight but it might. I'm not holding Rocky cheap. He wouldn't have won 49 straight if he wasn't a great fighter.

Producer Petitions Committee For Recognition of TV Writing

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — Television producer Worthington Miner has petitioned the Pulitzer prize committee to establish special recognition for television writing. He says it on an equal footing with journalism and the drama.

Praising the encouragement TV has given many-fine creative writers, Miner told the committee that now "the pressure is already on . . . to buy them at a high salary to become adaptors of creative output, not the creators they have been."

It would indeed be a fine thing if the committee—which never has offered awards for motion picture writing, to name one other field—would recognize television writing.

To lift out of context one phrase of Miner's carefully detailed argument may be unfair. But the phrase hits you: What is the pressure" on television writers? Has Miner fallen for the old cynicism that United States attempts to seduce its best creative writing talent with promises of bags of gold? To me it's a silly idea.

Once in a while somebody says, "poor Smith (or James) showed real promise before he began writing for Hollywood or television." The tone is aggrieved, as if it's a plot by society to rob a writer of his heritage. Actually it's a decision made individually by Smith or Jones. He has decided whether he wants money or critical acclaim. He has not been seduced; he's made a decision.

A great writer is always larger than the eccentric atmosphere of his times, even when he yields to some of its pressures. Both Lord Byron and Charles Lamb wrote adverstising copy at one time or another. That Mark Twain was fond of money, dabbled in—and was financially ruined by—business, did not prevent him from writing a great novel, "Huckleberry Finn." On the other hand, Edgar Allen Poe-ville shunned writing for money and wrote an equally great novel, "Moby Dick."

A hack will always be a hack, but if a writer has something to say and is determined to say it he cannot be stopped working in the gold mines of advertising or Hollywood or TV any more than he ever was.

AT THE CAPITOL

"Unchained"

What happens when 2,000 convicted prisoners are released from their caged cells and placed in a "prison without bars," was revealed yesterday on the screen of the Capitol Theatre with the first showing of "Unchained," Hall 10 Bartlett's production for Warner Bros.

Elroy "Crazylegs" Hirsch, Barbara Hale, Chester Morris, Todd Duncan and Johnny Johnston star in the story of the prison founded by Kenyon J. Scudder at Chino, California, and established thirteen years ago by Scudder with only 37 prisoners as an experiment. To start, the Institution for Men at Chino has no walls, no armed guards and no guns. Today, with more than 2,000 men at Chino there are still no walls or guns.

The story of "Unchained" was based on "Prisoners are People" by Kenyon Scudder about his experiences in running the unique prison. The film was written, directed and produced by Hall Bartlett.

On the Same Program

"The Enforcer," stars Humphrey Bogart, Zero Mostel and Everett Sloane. Both attractions will be shown tonight and Wednesday.

AT THE McCARTHY

Kramm's "The Shrike" Makes a Dramatic Motion Picture.

Another great Pulitzer Prize play has successfully made the transition from the Broadway stage to the theatre screen.

Universal-International's "The Shrike," Joseph Kramm's play which won the coveted Pulitzer Award in 1952, opened yesterday at the McCarthy Theatre and thrilled its opening day audience as did the play in its long run on Broadway.

Heading the large cast are Jose Ferrer and June Allyson. Ferrer's screen credits, however, do not stop at the co-star bracket. The versatile Mr. Ferrer is also called upon for bows as evidenced by his directorial prowess in handling the tense, dramatic offering.

Producer Aaron Rosenberg, who last year guided "The Glenn Miller Story" to the screen, has not changed the essential theme of the Pulitzer Prize story in filming it, but has taken full advantage of the wider opportunities as did the play in its long run on Broadway.

Heading the large cast are Jose Ferrer and June Allyson. Ferrer's screen credits, however, do not stop at the co-star bracket. The versatile Mr. Ferrer is also called upon for bows as evidenced by his directorial prowess in handling the tense, dramatic offering.

"The Shrike" is the powerful dramatic story of a Broadway director, portrayed by Jose Ferrer, and his actress wife, June Allyson, and the backstage story of their romance and marriage.

As Ferrer's career rises, his wife loses their expected child and her subsequent possessiveness inhibits and interferes with his professional activities to the extent that he ultimately loses all individual stature.

In a fit of despair, he attempts to end his life. Examining physicians attempt to piece together his background and the facts responsible for his attempt at self-destruction. How his wife and the audience come to recognize her part in this disintegration and what the two of them do to save their marriage makes for a remarkable film-study.

Beyond the casting of Jose Ferrer and June Allyson in the lead roles, Producer Aaron Rosenberg has further displayed good showmanship in surrounding his principal players with cast members of the stage presentation.

Some Get Bitten by Acting Bug, Ty Power Inherited Disease

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Some people get bitten by the acting bug, others inherit the disease. Tyrone Power is one of the latter.

In his case, it goes away back. He is the third of the acting Tyrone Powers, and the most famous in the line. His family background helps explain why he will soon be abandoning Hollywood again for the stage.

Ty could find enough leading roles here to keep him busy for 10 years, and most actors agree that working in the movies is more restful, easier and more profitable. Then why does he choose the stage?

"You don't always do everything for loot, do you?" he replied.

DIES HARD

It was suggested that in some actors the yen to perform doesn't die easily.

"That's true," he laughed. "In some you can beat it with a club and still not kill it."

Following the footsteps of his forebears, Ty got his seasoning on the stage. When he became a big star in films it appeared that his footlight career was over. But he surprised Hollywood by going to London for "Mister Roberts." It was Ty's merry fling. Three years ago he toured the country in Van Druten's play "John Brown's Body." Last season he starred on Broadway in "The Dark is Light Enough." He appeared opposite Katharine Cornell, with whose company he had once been a featured player.

His next venture is "A Quiet Place," a play written by a new author, Julian Claman. Ty will open this fall, and may be unavailable for films until next June.

In his latest movie job in "The Eddy Duchin Story," he has the chore of matching the finger work of the late pianist. In addition to his chore of matching the finger work of the late pianist, He has a portable piano keyboard in his dressing room and practises regularly to the Duchin records.

Eskies Trounce Bombers 14-8 As Lions Roar Over Stamps

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Edmonton Eskimos, the Grey Cup champions, already are on the verge of clinching a spot in the Western Interprovincial Football Union playoffs this fall.

The split-T Eaks came from behind to defeat Winnipeg Blue Bombers 14-8 at Edmonton Monday night while at Calgary British Columbia Lions won 24-18 over the Stampeders.

The results raised Edmonton's margin at the top of the WIFU standings, lifted the coast team into a second-place tie with the Saskatchewan Roughriders and left Winnipeg and Calgary deadlocked in last place.

Three teams qualify for the WIFU playoffs and some startling upsets in the second half of the 16-game regular schedule would be needed to squeeze out Frank (Pop) Ivy's Eaks.

BOMBERS LED

Winnipeg grabbed a 7-0 first-quarter lead against Eaks and appeared to be on the way to their third successive win after losing their first five starts. Bombers led 7-1 at the half.

But Eaks rallied on the water-logged Clarke Stadium turf and warmed 12,500 fans by taking an 8-7 lead at the three-quarter mark and then outscored Bombers 6-1 in the final 15 minutes.

Edmonton's touchdowns were scored by fullback Normie Kwong and halfback Cos Kelly. Tackle Bob Dean converted the two touchdowns and Eaks' other two points came on single from punts by end Bob Heydenfeldt.

Quarterback Buddy Leske scored Winnipeg's only touchdown and added a single. Halfback Tom Casey, doing Bombers' punting, added two singles.

SET BIG LEAD

At Calgary, the coast team rolled to a 12-0 lead in the first quarter and increased the margin to 18-0 in the second half before Stamps replied with two recorded touchdowns.

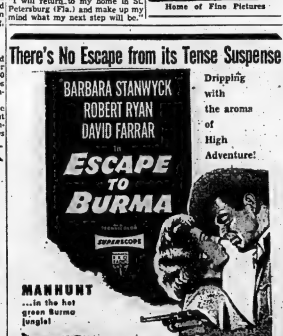
Calgary added another in the third to tie the count at 18-18 but B.C. came back to count a touchdown in the fourth-and hold Stamps.

Chisox Manager Leaving Club; Mutual, He Says

CHICAGO (AP)—Frank Lane is going to leave the Chicago White Sox.

"I want to leave, and I intend to leave," the general manager told The Associated Press Monday.

He said he and Mrs. Grace Comiskey, club president, will meet in the next two or three days."



The conference in which Lane will request to be free from a contract that has five years to run, probably will be Saturday following a two-game series with the Cleveland Indians.

Lane said his position "has become untenable."

"I think it all can be settled by mutual agreement."

When the baseball season ends "I will return, to my home in St. Petersburg (Fla.) and make up my mind what my next step will be."

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Wednesday, Sept. 21, 1955

March 21 to April 20—(Aries)—Don't quibble about a little extra work, or even a lot of it, if it is justly asked, and can do good. You can allocate time for rest, too. Co-operation the big theme now.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus) — No time like the present for taking care of urgent matters. However, set aside some moments for quiet reflection and planning. Put first things first; others will fall in line more swiftly.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini) — The effort and integrity you put into a project will get grand dividends later. Be patient about developments, but also double-check to see how they are doing.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — Though the day's aspects caution against hasty conclusions, don't dally too long before acting. Be prompt in all matters.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — Improved conditions and grave thoughts have their respective and good parts to play but without humor or tolerance, they could make a day most depressing. Keep smiling.

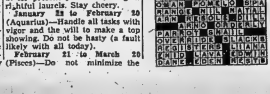
August 23 to September 23 — (Virgo)—Heed advice to Leo and Sagittarius on this somewhat dull day. Don't waste time but, on the other hand, don't be hasty; it could prove costly.

September 24 to October 23 — (Libra)—Overly long work hours can unfit you for the better and more consistent accomplishments that come when you maintain an even pace. Engage in occasional relaxation and wholesome pastimes.

October 24 to November 22 — (Scorpio)— Details are important now. Listen to the opinions of others but think them over before you act. Stock up with good humor.

November 23 to December 22— (Sagittarius) — Differentiate between the worthwhile and the chaff and handle essentials first.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—Being alone in an opinion does not necessarily mean you are wrong, but it does suggest consideration of methods to further present your side, to gain rightful laurels. Stay cheery.



January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Handle all tasks with vigor and the will to make a top showing. Do not be hasty in fault likely with all today).

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Do not minimize the achievements of others. And don't say anything if no good is accomplished thereby. Be sensible about health.

You born today are of Libra, but have some traits from the waning sign Virgo. You have creative talent and great determination; are influenced by keen-minded people. But you may be intolerant of others. Cultivate your talents and let your inborn sense of justice guide you. Birthdate: Girolamo Savonarola, Italian monk, martyr; H. G. Wells, novelist, historian; Henry L. Stimson, U.S. Statesman.

Leather Strap Used to Inflict Girl's Injuries

WOODSTOCK (CP)—Pathologist Lyall Harrison, Toronto, conducted a post-mortem Monday into the death of three-year-old Cynthia Fallon. According to coroner R.H. Taylor, Toronto, death was due to shock from "multiple superficial injuries."

Robert Edward Randell, 27-year-old Embro district factory worker, was charged Sunday with the murder of his three-year-old stepdaughter.

The little girl died in Woodstock General Hospital from injuries inflicted by a leather strap, Hospital authorities notified police after the victim was brought in by the parents and the arrest was made by OPP Cpl. Henry Cartier. Preliminary investigation indicated a beating had "apparently as a corrective measure was carried too far," said Sgt. Burt Moore, in charge of the Woodstock detachment.

Cynthia was one of four children of Mrs. Edna Randell's first marriage. There is one child by the second marriage.

Leave for Sweden

TORONTO (CP)—Two Ontario plowmen left Toronto Monday for Sweden where they will compete in the third annual world plowing match against experts from other Country Cts. 7-8.

The Canadian competitors will be Joe Tran, 38, of Claremont, and Irvan McLaughlin, 31, of Stouffville, winner and runner-up in the Canadian plowing match at Ballantrae, Ont., last year.

Accompanying them on their trip are W. C Barrie, of Galt, team manager, and J. D. Thomson of Toronto, president of the world plowing organization.

ELEPHANT ARRIVES

Fall-Out Patterns For S. Canada Worked Out

OTTAWA (CP)—One of the first requirements for a successful evacuation plan for every major Canadian target area in case of nuclear attack has been completed.

Radiation fall-out patterns for all of southern Canada have been worked out, it was learned Monday. Most of this huge task was done by George Gilbert, 43-year-old meteorologist.

When a hydrogen bomb is burst near the ground, vast quantities of radioactive debris are sucked up into the mushroom cloud. These particles then begin to fall out, exposing unprotected persons beneath to a serious-to-lethal dose of radioactivity.

WIND PATTERNS

From weather data compiled through the years, Mr. Gilbert was able to work out wind patterns for any given area and for any given season. This means that civil defence planners in all major Canadian cities know—or can easily find out—the general wind direction at any time of year for their districts.

They then can draw up evacuation plans which they can be reasonably sure are safe. For instance, if the wind is blowing toward the east, the radiation fall-out would be east of the target. Therefore, a city would plan to evacuate its populace o the west, north or south.

Bride Deserted, She Gets Divorce 41 Years Later

LOS ANGELES (AP)—After 41 years, Mrs. Emma Niecum knew Elwood Niecum wasn't coming home.

So she divorced him Tuesday. She said Niecum deserted her only three months after their wedding in 1914.

Why did she wait so long, the court asked?

Didn't have enough money to get a divorce," said Mrs. Niecum, 82. She said she had no plans to remarry.

GM Has Asked Board Declare Strike Illegal

TORONTO (CP)—General Motors Corporation of Canada said today it has asked the Ontario labor relations board to declare the strike of its 17,000 workers illegal because the walkout was called in violation of the existing agreement.

A spokesman for the company said the request was based on the grounds that the union did not terminate the agreement as was required by the terms of the contract and the Ontario labor board.

60th Birthday Celebrated By Premier Frost

TORONTO (CP)—Premier Frost of Ontario said Tuesday he hopes his government, by its good works, will increase life expectancy to 80.

Celebrating his 60th birthday, he was honored by his cabinet at a luncheon. Provincial Treasurer Porter presented him with a kit bag.

With three breaths Mr. Frost blew out the lighted candles on a birthday cake and said:

"In my case life begins at 60."

Mr. Frost said that when Abraham Lincoln left Springfield to be President of the United States, he described himself as an old man, although he was only 52.

"Our life expectancy is now much beyond that and I hope that as a result of this government's efforts we can increase the expected span of life to 80 years."

MOLOTOV MILD IN URGING UN SEAT RED CHINA

Again Meets Defeat In His Annual Effort

By JACK BEST
Canadian Press Staff Writer

UNITED NATIONS (CP) — The UN General Assembly opened Tuesday with a ceremonial flourish and cordiality seldom equalled in its 10-year history.

Bolstering the feeling of cautious optimism that prevailed prior to the opening was the unusually mild tone in which Foreign Minister Molotov presented Russia's unsuccessful case for the seating of Red China.

Observers were impressed by the fact that Molotov attacked neither the United States nor Nationalist China. The harshest statement he made was that Nationalist China's delegation "does not represent anyone."

The Canadian delegation combined hopefully on Molotov's restraint. "The acrimony of debate and the personal attacks which characterized a similar debate at the last opening was not present today on the part of the Soviet Union," said Health Minister Martin, chief Canadian representative.

GENEVA SPIRIT

Martin said the tenor of the discussion showed "that there is a disposition at the present time to maintain the spirit engendered at the Geneva conference."

Molotov's call for closer soon after delegates from 60 nations convened for the 10th session of the assembly. He challenged Nationalist China's right to a seat and proposed that Communist China be seated in its place.

Molotov said that since the Geneva "summit" meeting there has been "a more favorable international situation with "more favorable promises for a solution of international problems."

But denial of the "legitimate rights of the Chinese People's Republic" is an obstacle to further improvement, he said. "Such a state of affairs cannot but have an ill effect on the authority, of the United Nations."

Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. delegate, moved that the Chinese question be shelved one more session. Lodge won a procedural vote indicating a majority was considered first, then the assembly adopted the American resolution on a roll call vote with abstentions. Canada voted with the U.S.

It was the sixth straight year that a Soviet move to seat Red China has been defeated at the assembly's opening.

KILLED BY ROLLER

HAMILTON (CP)—A 72-year-old farmer, Thomas Prowse, was killed Tuesday when a roller snapped in two and he was thrown under it.

Child Releases Escape Hatch, Falls 6,000 Feet to His Death

SEPT-ILES, Que. (CP) — A 35-year-old boy, who somehow released a latch on an escape hatch of a transport plane, was swept to his death Tuesday through the 20-inch-square opening.

The youngster, Harold Meier, fell 6,000 feet to the bush below. Near him on the bench seats that run lengthwise of the plane were his mother and a five - year - old brother.

The accident happened on a regularly scheduled daily flight of Hollinger-Ungava Transport between Mont Joli, Sept-Iles and Knob lake in the iron ore district of northeastern Quebec.

The twin - engine DC-3 plane, which is used for both freight and passengers, was piloted by Robert McLean. He said the aircraft was passing through a cloud formation at the time. Moments after the child had fallen, McLean doubled back to fly to Sept-Iles. The airport sent a helicopter to search the area for the boy's body.

The boy's father, Bruno Meier, is employed by the Hollinger company at Knob lake.

Roofing Manufacturers Face Charges of Price Fixing

OTTAWA (CP) — Parliament's anti-combines body has charged Canada's $40,000,000 asphalt and tar roofing products industry with maintaining illegal price-fixing operations for the last five years. One of the industry's main products is asphalt shingles.

The three-man restrictive trade practices commission, in a 282-page report to Labor Minister Gregoire, named 10 companies—virtually the entire industry—and urged court action to smash the operations and prevent their reopening.

Mr. Gregoire, making the report public today, said he will consult with his colleagues before any move later what action the government will take.

Named in the report which developed out of a two-year federal combines investigation are:

The Barrett Co. Ltd., Montreal; Dominion Tar and Chemical Co. Ltd., Montreal; Canadian Gypsum Co. Ltd., Toronto; Canadian Johns-Manville Co. Ltd., Toronto; Bishop Asphalt Papers Ltd., Portneuf Station; Bradford Roofing Co. Limited, Bradford, Ont.; Building Products Ltd., Ville La Salle, Que.; Carter Products Ltd., Hamilton; the Philip Carey Co. Ltd., Lennoxville, Que.; and Sidney Roofing and Paper Co. Ltd., Victoria.

The commission, after hearing and the companies named, concluded there had been joint actions by the manufacturers to maintain prices at various distribution points, control distribution outlets, discontinue certain products in public demand, limit roofing guarantees in some cases; and make tenders for government contracts uniform.

"The general effect of the arrangements," the report said, "as shown by the evidence," said the commission, "is to prejudice the public of the benefit and safeguard of active price competition in the sale of roofing and the related products and thus produce conditions which, as the record shows, are clearly detrimental to the public."

Besides shingles, the industry produces insulated and roll siding, roofing, sheathing and insulating felts and papers, built-up roofing felts, asphalt compound and coal tar pitch, waterproofing paints and cements, shingle stains, wood preservatives and disinfectants.

The commission said the manufacturers should be restrained, by court order, from meeting to discuss or reach an understanding on charges, discounts rebates or other subjects affecting prices.

Canada Protests U.S. Invasion Of Whooping Crane Area in Texas

By WARREN ROGERS Jr.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Canada filed a formal protest with the United States Tuesday in an attempt to protect the world's last few whooping cranes from the perils of phosphate bombing.

The Canadian embassy did not disclose details of the protest, which is handled in diplomatic channels.

And the state department, whose bent, known bird-watcher is out of town, had no immediate comment.

But officials of the United States General Assembly for Bird Preservation recently returned from a spell of bird-watching at his Duck island retreat on Lake Ontario.

It was learned, however, that the Canadian protests accuses the U.S. Air Force of threatening the future of the whooping crane. These giant white birds, five feet tall with a seven-foot wing span, number only 21 adults this year.

In the days before the palefaces came, whooping cranes darkened North America's skies on their annual migrations between their nesting grounds in Canada's Arctic and their winter quarters in Texas' Gulf of Mexico coast. Subsequent gunning practically wiped them out.

The Audubon Society calls 1952 "the year of decision" in the whooping crane's fight against extinction. It said on a count made Sept. 11 that the "supreme test" would come with this fall's migration to Aransas national wildlife refuge near Austwell, Tex.

And that's where the air force comes in. It maintains Matagorda island range at Port O'Connor, Tex. Night bombers train there by dropping giant photo bulbs which light up and show, by photograph, how close they come to their targets.

Americans in the area had an opportunity last Aug. 23 to watch the photoflash bombing only a half mile from the sanctuary. They did so, at Calhoun county courthouse in Port Lavaca, Texas.

BUS-CAR CRASH KILLS TWO, HURTS ELEVEN IN QUEBEC

Vehicles Hit Head On On Straight Stretch

STE. THERESE, Que. (CP)—A bus and a car collided head-on on a straight stretch of highway near here Tuesday night, killing two men and injuring some 15 other persons.

Fernand (Ferdie) Lacroix, 41, long-time newspaper man, and Jean Charbonneau, 45, a musician, died on impact when their southbound car smashed into the big bus on the Laurentian Highway 11.

The car was demolished and the Provincial Transport Company bus was thrown into the ditch but did not overturn. Help was quickly sent by a passing motorist, St. Jerome, 11 miles away, to the scene of the crash in a lonely district two miles north of here.

TREAT AS HOSPITALS

Police reported all 16 bus passengers suffered some injuries and were treated at Hotel Dieu at St. Jerome. In the earlier been reported the bus carried 20 passengers.

Hospital officials said most of the passengers suffered only slight hurts but one man and one woman were considered in serious condition.

They were identified as Mrs. Hermine Tunes of Lachute, Que., wife of Joseph Tunes of Montreal, with head injuries, and Raoul Levasseur of Shawinigan, Que., who was accompanied by his wife on the trip.

Mr. Lacroix, well-known in newspaper circles, worked for various periods in Val d'Or and Sherbrooke and was city editor of Montreal's French-language daily La Canada when it ceased publication two years ago. After a stint as editor of the news magazine Metropole he entered business.

Mr. Charbonneau, noted musician, played a prominent part in musical arrangements at the concert congress in honor of St. Joseph at the oratory founded by the famed Brother Andre here.

Made Quick Profit In Sale of Dwellings

TORONTO (CP)—The Telegram says 27 new houses purchased city in Toronto last week for an average profit of $1,000 each, according to figures from the Dominion government for less than $500 each.

The house, it says in a newspaper story, were built for an estimated $250,000 and then expropriated by the transport department to permit expansion of Malton airport.

It quotes J. R. Baldwin, deputy transport minister, as saying in Ottawa:

"We had no choice other than to declare this block of houses surplus to our needs and to call for an official of the crown assets disposal corporation said they went to Ed-win Construction Company for "less than $500."

Berlin Nervously Eyes Reds' New East German Pact

BERLIN (AP)—Deep in Communist territory, West Berlin is nervously eyeing the new Russian-East German treaty.

In Moscow, where the new pact was signed Tuesday with the announced purpose of restoring East German sovereignty, East Germany's Communist boss, Walter Ulbricht, was host at a new traffic squeeze on West Berlin.

Ulbricht, deputy premier and East German Communist party secretary, warned that any new traffic moves around Berlin might be necessary, "unless the government of the German Federal Republic will abandon their cold war attack against our peace-loving German democratic republic."

An East Berlin broadcast said the Russian pact had agreed to call the joint control they have maintained with West Germany over the rail, canal and highway links between West Berlin and West Germany. However, the Russians reserved control of Allied traffic, including the three air corridors to the west.

The Moscow communique at the end of the negotiations said the Soviets and East Germans had agreed both West and East Germany must be represented at the Geneva Big Four foreign ministers' meeting next month if a "fruitful discussion" of the German question was to result.

This marked a new Soviet bid for Western recognition of the East Germans, something both Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's regime and the Western big three have persistently refused.

The Russian official in West Berlin said the Soviet-East German pact "will be of enormous significance for the future of Berlin." The Red official specifically warned a traffic squeeze last April, levying a stiff tax on all trucks travelling from West Germany to West Berlin city and West Germany, Thus far the Russians imposed a blockade shelled out 9,000,000 marks ($2,142,000) to help truckers carry the load.

Soviet retention of control over Allied traffic to West Berlin airports was seen as an indication the Russians will not try to disrupt four-power control of the city.

In 1948-49, during Stalin's time, the Russians imposed a blockade on West Berlin. An Allied airlift afforded the only outside source of supply for the isolated city during that period and eventually forced the Russians to abandon the blockade.

Gen. E. Lonardi, Rebel Leader, Named President

Military Group Turns Tanks On Die-Hard Peronistas

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Gen. Eduardo Lonardi today was named Argentina's provisional president as loyalist and rebel forces signed a peace pact.

This was announced in a communique from the military junta which took control of loyalist-held areas after the fall of President Juan D. Peron.

Lonardi had been rebel commander in the Cordoba area of central Argentina.

The Argentine state radio broadcast the communique.

The military junta, by virtue of the authority assumed by the resignation presented by his excellency the president of the nation, Dr. Peron, has completed accord with the command of the opposition and has accepted the points stipulated by its representatives.

TROOPS IN ACTION

"On Sept. 22 Maj.-Gen. Don Edsardo A. Lonardi (retired) will take charge of the provisional government."

Peron put Lonardi on the retired list in March. He was reported to be plotting against the government.

As the peace negotiations neared a climax today, the junta used tanks to blast out 400 to 500 heavily armed die-hard followers of the ousted president. Peron meanwhile remained aboard a Paraguayan gunboat tied up at the docks here, the Tacuari, which was headed by Gen. Jose Domingo Molina, broadcasting word that any violence would be met sternly. The capital city had been tense but generally free of violence since the revolt began last Friday.

The junta broadcast a warning before dawn that armed bands of civilians were roaming the streets "trying to provoke trouble." The government said the army would take "severe measures of repression" against them.

The communique did not identify the bands but they were believed to be diehard supporters of Peron, possibly rallying for an effort to return him to power.

PERON A REFUGEE

Peron himself was a refugee aboard a 636-ton Paraguayan gunboat—in effect territory of the neighboring republic — in the Buenos Aires docks. The rebels demanded his arrest and ordered their fleet to intercept the gunboat if it tried to run for home.

The last reports said that civilian bands was preceded by a tank and truck which moved from quarters of Peron's strong-arm nationalist 4 th Army Corps. Some 400 to 500 heavily armed Peronistas were holed up in the building.

Firemen generally stood by idly as the blazing structure was allowed to burn, but they were ordered to keep the fire from spreading to the nearby home of the Independencia newspaper La Prensa, official sources said 15 persons, including two women, fled from the building and were arrested. There was no immediate report of dead or injured.

Rumors circulated during the night that Peron had left the gunboat and gone to the Paraguayan embassy, but an official at the embassy said today he was still aboard, the ship. He had fled from the presidential palace Tuesday, making his way through a heavy rainstorm to the ship, whose captain granted him asylum.

Other key officials of his dictatorship, ousted with him, were sought in various foreign embassies.

Despite the rebel demands for the exclusion of Peron's aides, there was considerable speculation that he eventually would be succeeded under the widely honored Latin-American traditions of asylum for ousted political leaders.

John Rich, correspondent for the National Broadcasting Co., reported in New York by telephone today he was in Mendoza, city of about 92,000 in western Argentina, and had interviewed rebel leaders whom he did not identify.

Rich said the rebels, from army and air force groups with some bombers at their disposal, gave those as their objectives: an end to military government in Argentina; abolition of dictatorship; free elections as soon as possible; "unconditional surrender by the pro-Peron forces; no reprisals after the rebels take over.

Rich said the rebels accused pro-Peron forces around Mendoza of "atrocities" in the city by massing 40 jet planes there.

CHIANG NAVY TAKES PART

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—It was reported without confirmation today that Nationalist Chinese planes teamed recently with Chinese Nationalist units in large manoeuvres. Participating were Rear Admiral Adm. Albert R. Jarrell, commander of the U.S. 7th Fleet amphibious training command in the Pacific, and top Nationalist naval officers were observers.

Englishmen Are World's Best Cads Says Expert from Mink Bedspread

By ADRIAN HALL

LONDON (Reuters)—An American author, engaged on a world investigation into cuckoldness, reported today that Englishmen were the world's "best cads."

The latest evidence came from blond, blue-eyed Frederick Spencer Theodore Asaph Elliot Peckham, aged 36, who gave a press conference on a mink bedspread he carried everywhere with him.

Peckham ("Call me Ted") defined a cad as "someone who doesn't really work and lives off charm, personality and sex."

He declared that, after three months touring Europe for material on a book about cads, he was convinced the Englishman "wins easily" the best expondents.

Here were his views on the different types of cads he found in Europe:

Italians—the most romantic, but the most unfaithful.

Frenchmen—cultured, keen on marriage, very jealous.

French—wonderful lovers but too interested in money.

Germans — the worst dancers, smelly, unfaithful, the most industrious, most efficient. Good all-round cads.

Danish—the most promiscuous and the neatest—but no thought for a girl's feelings.

Peckham, who made some $250,000 in four years hiring out gentlemen escorts to lonely ladies in the United States, had little good to say about the American cad.

"They are always complaining, filled with remorse, he complained.

SMOG HOUR
Smog Student Needs Tears From Adults

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Calling all weepers.

The UCLA medical centre wants tears for smog research.

Dr. Robert H. Brunish announced today a study of the chemical makeup of tears may yield a clue to the eye-irritating factor in smog.

The UCLA scientist says he has plenty of children's tears from onion - peeling first products for science from his own children and in the children's ward of the UCLA hospital.

But he's short of adult tears, even smog tears.

Dr. Brunish has a theory that tears need be pale, sorrow or anger differ from those produced by irritation during smog. He hopes to get plenty of both kinds—for comprisons.

Crocodiles need not apply.

Work Like Deuce To Loose Moose

This is a story of three men and a moose.

The moose was on the loose, the men driving along a highway near Renfrew.

The big bull showed no fear of the humans and their automobile. He calmly walked across the highway in front of the vehicle and tried to push his way through a wire fence.

The line held. The moose antlers were hopelessly entangled in the top strand of the fence.

The loose moose did not raise the deuce. He merely stood there while the men inserted a large stone under the wire, grabbed a fire iron and calmly cut the strand.

The loose moose was loose. It calmly strolled away without a shake of its magnificent points.

Lord Tweedsmuir to Visit Old Buddies of 'Hasty Pees'

Two outstanding features will mark the eleventh annual reunion of the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment scheduled for this city on October 15th and 16th.

One feature is the fulfillment of one of the aims of the regiment, the publication of the regimental history. The other is the visit of Lord and Lady Tweedsmuir. Lord Tweedsmuir is a former battalion field commanding officer of the regiment.

The regimental history entitled "The Regiment," took three years of work to complete. It has been compiled by Farley Mowat, son of former Major Angus Mowat, one of the originals of the regiment. The story is told with frankness, humor and dramatic power by Mr. Mowat, a former platoon commander and regimental intelligence officer.

A special edition of the history will be made available to members of the regimental association. It contains 16 extra pages of pictures in addition to the honor roll. Major battles are graphically described.

The appearance of Lord Tweedsmuir at the reunion gives the getting of the famous "plow-boy soldiers" an added significance. The commanding officer, who led the regiment in its first great dash to fame at Ortona will be given an outstanding welcome. The previous visit of Lord and Lady Tweedsmuir on September 30, 1953, is one that will be long remembered in regimental annals.

The reunion was scheduled to fit the famous couple's visit to Kingston where they will attend the fall convocation at Queen's University.

MEMBER HOUSE OF LORDS

Lord Tweedsmuir is a member of the House of Lords and the House of Commons. He is a son of a former governor general of Canada, the late Lord Tweedsmuir, who also was a distinguished novelist writing under the name of John Buchan. His link with Queen's University is a strong one since that seat of learning has become the custodian of his father's books and papers.

Lord Tweedsmuir joined the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment in 1943 during the famous training days in Scotland. He was appointed second-in-command of the regiment, which at that time was under the command of the late Lt.-Col. Bruce Sutcliffe.

He left with the regiment for Sicily in June, 1943, and went through the Sicilian campaign with it. Colonel Sutcliffe was killed while conducting a reconnaissance prior to the Battle of Assoro in Italy and Lord Tweedsmuir assumed the command. He led the regiment in its famous drive for Assoro and was wounded during the action in August, 1943.

He returned to the regiment in Italy a short time later and remained in command for a period of three months when he was invalided to the base areas with illness.

Later he was sent to Africa and still later was posted to corps headquarters. He was a popular commanding officer. This was evidenced by the hearty warming welcome given him by "the troops" on the occasion of his first visit.

Saturday, October 15, will be devoted to registration of members and a general get-together when the famous battles in which the regiment wrote a blazing page in Canadian history will be fought and refought time and again.

TO HOLD BANQUET

Those concerned with the planning of the reunion have confined the formal part of the program to Sunday. Many will arrive on Saturday and accommodation will be made available. There will be a banquet at which Lord Tweedsmuir will be the principal guest. There will be a memorial parade to the Cenotaph and a church parade to the "White Battalion."

Regimental Association president, Bert Haydon of Belleville will preside at the annual meeting on Sunday, October 16, where much important business is on the agenda.

The local committee is elated that the scholarship fund which now amounts to some $6,000 will be used to establish a memorable disposition.

With the publication of the history and the visit of Lord Tweedsmuir, President Haydon and his associates, together with the reserve regiment look for one of the biggest reunions since the first was held in Picton in 1945.

Art of Metalcraft Can Be Displayed In Many Forms

The art of metalcraft can be displayed in many forms, whether it is brass, copper, silver, or the dull simplicity of wrought iron.

Featured in the Arts and Crafts exhibit of professional craftsmanship at the Winston Churchill School Friday evening and Saturday afternoon and evening of this week, will be a silver exhibit by Mr. Andrew Fisher, prominent silversmith of Toronto.

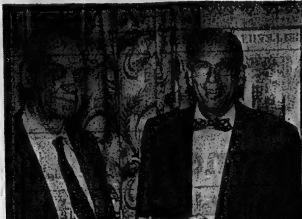
Not only a master but a teacher in this craft, Mr. Fisher will exhibit exquisite jewellery pieces and hollow-ware in silver.

From Ottawa where craftsmen have been working with copper, is an interesting showing of jewellery, ashtrays and plates.

Recently, an enterprising and artistic young couple, Doug and Do Jo Scott founded the Arts and Crafts shop three miles west of Kingston. From there are enamel on copper pins of Avi Bleier, young Kingston artist, and an exhibit of wrought iron work designed and made by Horst Rebein, a new Canadian of considerable talent, and an extensive background in art and handicraft work.

Mrs. L. Shephard, Foxboro, an honor graduate in Art and Jewellery of Ontario Art College, Toronto exhibits silver jewellery and copper work.

'Stern Action' Will Be Taken Say Police



Neglect of young bicycle riders to provide the required lights for their machines has tried the patience of city police who promise that stern action will be taken in the effort to force riders to comply with regulations.

Stressing that the operation of a bicycle after dark without the required lights was merely travelling at serious if not fatal accident, Inspector J. C. Hayes warned that "stern action" would be taken against offenders.

"The parents are partially at fault in allowing their children to operate their bicycles without the required lights," the officer noted.

The Inspector pointed out that the shorter days of autumn made it all the more necessary that proper lights be carried on bicycles.

Honored By Masonic Lodge

Mr. Arthur Hill, Leslie Shoe Store employee leaving for Lindsay to manage a new company store there, was honored by members of Belleville Lodge Saturday evening. During a presentation dinner attended by past masters and wardens presented with a Masonic Bible. Shown making the presentation to Mr. Hill is R.W. Wor. Bro. Fred Carter Ralph Plumpton, of Corbyville, on the right.

Arthur Hill Will Manage Leslie Shoe Store at Lindsay

Associated with the Leslie Shoe store at Belleville for the past 34 years and senior employee with the firm in terms of service, Mr. Arthur Hill is being moved to Lindsay as manager of a new company store there. Mr. and Mrs. Hill will move to Lindsay next week.

Well known in the city where he has taken an active part in municipal, fraternal and welfare activities as well as the work of his church, Mr. Hill will be missed in Belleville. He is the only son of the late James F. Hill, who was member of the Ontario Legislative Assembly from 1923 to the time of his death in 1936.

A member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Mr. Hill is a member of the church session and has also been active in the work of the Rotary club.

He is also a member of the Belleville Board of Education on which he served for two and a half years.

LIFE MEMBER OF LODGE

He is a past master and life member of The Belleville Lodge, No. 123 A.F. & A.M., and is also past District Deputy Grand Master of the Prince Edward District.

At a lodge presentation dinner held Saturday night at the Golden Acre Inn and attended by the past masters and officers of The Belleville Lodge, Mr. Hill was duly honored for his long service to the lodge when on behalf of the lodge members he was presented with a Masonic Bible. The presentation on behalf of the lodge was made by Rt. Wor. Bro. H. J. Clarke.

Master of the lodge, Ralph Plumpton of Corbyville, referred to Mr. Hill's long association with the lodge and said The Belleville Lodge was losing a valued member.

Mr. Hill is a specialist in the field of orthopaedic shoe fitting, having taken several courses in this line. The new store of Leslie store at Lindsay is on a smaller scale than the Belleville store but will also carry the same line of fine shoes. The store commences operation with a staff of three.

Mr. and Mrs. Hill have one son Jim now studying land surveying.

Stereatrons, New Scientific Devices, Outlined to Club

What comic books once described as the world of the future, long ago gave way to the illustrations seen in the draughting boards and now is rapidly becoming a reality.

And scientists and electronic engineers are coming up with things the comic books never dreamed of, even in their wildest moments.

This was pointed up yesterday to Belleville Kiwanis when Kiwanian Bud Pritchard of Northern Electric, brought along a flock of predictions for the future and backed them up with facts, as guest speaker of the club.

How the home of tomorrow will operate may go something like this.

You'll get up in the morning and while you're shaving be able to watch the early morning program on T.V. Thanks to T.V. screens that will hang on the wall like picture frames the distaff side down in the kitchen will be doing the same thing, and have your breakfast cooked in a matter of seconds. And when you leave the bathroom you won't need to exert yourself turning out the light over the mirror. There won't be any. Electric lighting will have been replaced by a lighting system that comes up automatically as the sun goes down, or vice-versa.

Setting out for the office you'll be able to have music from the local radio station on your wrist watch radio.

Meanwhile, back at the ranch house, the wife, basking in an electronically-controlled temperature, will watch as a washing machine gently shakes the dirt from clothes and dishes, watch the babies in the nursery by T.V. and be able to see who's ringing the front door bell by the same device.

All this and much more is possible thanks to little bits of solid matter, some not bigger than a pinhead, called stereatrons.

These are the devices of a new science, Stereatronics, the most important and revolutionary advances in electronic field. Some give off power, when light is applied; some vibrate at tremendous speeds applied to power they can change A.C. current to D.C.; they can amplify weak signals.

These little devices now are replacing the electronic transformers and rectifiers and eventually will replace most vacuum tubes. As at present, great demands are eating up the output of the science and financed, production applied to home markets the ensuing boom in production and consumption will reduce the cost, Mr. Punchard said.

Obituary

MRS. ELIZABETH FARRELL (Read)

In ill health for a short time, Mrs. Elizabeth Farrell of Read, died in the Belleville General Hospital, early this Wednesday morning.

She was born at Roslin, 84 years ago, being the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Buckley and has resided at her present home practically all her life. She was well known and highly respected in her community. Up to her retirement she took an active part in the work of St. Charles church and was a member of the Catholic Women's League and The League of the Sacred Heart.

Surviving are one son, Leonard Farrell of Belleville and one daughter, Mrs. Leo (Anna) Golden of Roslin. She was the last of her family as her husband, Joseph Farrell died in July of this year.

Resting at the Funeral Residence of George F. O'Brien. The funeral announcement appears elsewhere in this edition.

Not Spending Enough on Ads Says Speaker

Canadian Industry is not giving enough attention to advertising its products, David S. Cattan, manager of the Magazine Advertising Bureau told the Belleville Sales and Advertising Club at the first meeting of its new season last night.

National advertising expenditures this year likely will top the $150 million mark, or per capita expenditure of $9.80. In comparison the United States will spend about $35 billion, or $20 per capita.

In the past 10 years the U. S. gross national product has increased 18 percent while Canada's has grown 34 percent. In the same comparison, national advertising expenditures in the U. S. has increased three-fold, Mr. Cattan said.

"Thus we are running far behind the U. S. economy in terms of advertising expenditure, even though our gross national product is increasing at a much faster rate.

"I present these facts to you because we are rapidly entering a period when industrial production may well outstrip our unaided factory advertising and selling efforts to move that production."

The effort to match sales with production capacity has led to 'contrived devices' such as discount houses", the speaker said.

CONCERN SHOWN

"Serious concern is being shown in manufacturing industry that business levels about current installment-buying practices," he said.

"Such concern is not the outcome of mammoth production capacity, coupled with insufficient advertising and sale efforts to move merchandise. And like all unsound short term economic steps which are taken to cope with an immediate situation, they are not long-term, damaging results unless we replace them with better and more advertising, and a more intensive and realistic sales effort."

Increased production far outstrips the national advertising effort.

"In sales we have been surpassed at every turn by research and development leading to product improvement.

"It behooves us now to turn a little from preoccupation with production and acknowledge to the urgent problems of marketing and distribution. Not the least of these is advertising," Mr. Catton said.

The speaker was introduced by Irv Simmons.

During the meeting, under the chairmanship of president Frank Murray, the club also discussed its latest project — that of arousing public interest in civil defence in answer to a Federal government plea to such clubs across Canada.

Father of Two Killed in Car Near Marmora

MARMORA (Special) — Levi Laton, 27, of Madoc, father of two children was fatally injured shortly after nine o'clock this morning when his car left the road on highway No. 7 east of Marmora and turned over in the ditch.

The injured man was still alive when pulled from his badly wrecked car but died while waiting for an ambulance to take him to hospital. He was attended at the scene by Dr. R. Shatford and Dr. T. F. McCarthy, both of Marmora.

An employee of the Deloro Smelting and Refining Company, Mr. Laton was working the 4 p.m. to midnight shift. He was on his way home at the time of the accident, police said.

Details of the accident were lacking except that the car swerved to the north side of the highway and turned over in the ditch. Provincial Constable Ron Devey of Madoc, investigated.

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO. (CP)—Base metals were the strongest feature of first-hour trading on the Toronto stock exchange today, gaining more than two index points.

Among industrials there was mixed support for steels, papers, liquors, financial institutions and constructions. Foods and refining oils moved lower. Oglivie, at 36, yielded $2 of the $13 the stock has gained this week. Aluminum added 1½ and Labbatt a point.

Most senior base metals showed fractional gains. American Nepheline went 4c high at $1.70 with 12-cent advance. Normetal, Cassiar, Anacon, East Sullivan, Golden Manitou and Grandue added up to 25 cents.

Uraniums were mixed in light trading. Gunner warrants moved up 20 to $2.50.

Golds recorded a narrow index gain. Base golds added 35 to $4.60.

Western oils were narrowly easier but chalked up a number of advances, including Commoco, Pacific Petroleum and Granduc added up to 25 cents.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO (CP) — Meagre supplies of top grades of slaughter cattle sold readily at steady prices at the Ontario stockyards today.

Receipts were 2,100 cattle, 400 calves, all weights 20.75-21.75; good steers 19.50-20.50; medium 17.25; common 15-16; good heifers 18-18.50; mediums 16-17.50; commons 13-15; lower steers and heifers 8-12; choice fed yearlings 21.50-22.50; good fed yearlings 20.50-21.50; mediums 17-20; good cows 12-12.50; canner and cutter cows 6; good heavy bologna bulls 12.50; common and medium light bulls 8.

Replacement cattle; good stockers 18-19; mediums 16-17.50; commons 13-16.

Choice vealers 1 a hundredweight higher at 23-23.50 for good and choice vealers; mediums 18-22; commons 10-15.

Hog prices were not established. Lambs closed Tuesday 50 cents a hundredweight lower at 19 for good handyweight ewes and wethers; bucks discounted 1 a hundredweight, heavy lambs 2.

PRODUCE MARKET

TORONTO (CP) — Churning cream and butter prices were unchanged here today.

The egg market was steady with offerings ample in a quiet demand.

Quotations, provided by the Dominion department of agriculture:

Butter prices Ont., first grade, tenderable 58; non-tenderable 57½-57¾; western 58½.

DOLLAR RATE

MONTREAL (CP) — The U. S. dollar was at a discount of 1 7-32 per cent, the Bank of Canada reported at noon EDT, today. Tuesday's noon rate 98 5-32 cents. Pound sterling $2.75 5-16 against $2.75¼.

SNAKE MEETS MATCH

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—When 12-year-old Lafayette Ward stepped out of the school bus at his home Tuesday he saw a diamond-back rattlesnake coiled about 20 feet from his eight-year-old brother Tommy. Cautioning Tommy to hold still, Lafayette ran into the house, brought back a shotgun and blasted the rattler.

Cheese Exchange

A total of 3,203 cheese was boarded on the Belleville Cheese Exchange last night.

Some 1,301 specials, 1,408 white and 2,594 colored cheese made up the total. Price all round was 29 cents.

Juvenile Held After Complaint From Housewife

A complaint from a Foster Ward housewife that a young boy was using a high power rifle to shoot pigeons sent police to that area Tuesday with result that a 12-year-old juvenile was apprehended and a 38-55 Winchester rifle was taken into custody.

The lad will appear in juvenile court on a charge breaking and entering a neighbor's house. The rifle was reported stolen from the house which was vacant.

Mrs. William Sharpe, 130 St. Paul street later said that one shot had entered the attic of her house, while another struck a telephone pole on the outside wall. She had called police at the suggestion of neighbors.

LOSES COURT FIGHT

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The disinherited son of the late two-gun western film star, William S. Hart, Tuesday lost another court battle to prevent distribution of his father's estate. A petition by the son, William S. Hart Jr., 30, had asked for a court order to keep the actor's $1,175,000 Newhall ranch from being turned over to Los Angeles county for a park. Hart, who died in 1946, left the ranch as a museum and park containing relics of his screen career. The younger Hart has been fighting the will in courts for five years.

Canada Depends Too Much on U.S. Drew Declares

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C. (CP) — Progressive Conservative leader George Drew Tuesday night accused the federal government of "following a course of greater and greater economic dependence on the United States."

"The bureaucracy that has grown at Ottawa is acting as though Canada is not a fully sovereign state," Mr. Drew said in an address to the New Westminster Conservative Association.

"Canada observes its trade agreements with the U. S. but when entry of our goods below the border is blocked, it does not assert its rights.

"To be a great nation, he said, "Canada must act maturely in its trade dealings. This does not mean depending too greatly on one country, especially when unfavorable situations arise."

APPEAL TO FREES

Mr. Drew also commented on "the need for a change of government."

"Unlike any business, large or small, the books of the government cannot be audited by an independent auditor.

"Having no, the books do need examining. In every case where the opposition had the chance to investigate the activities of government departments, we found waste, inefficiency and extravagance."

Mr. Drew invited "the free and independent" to join in the issue of returning the government of the country to the people through its elected representatives of Parliament."

Earlier Tuesday in a speech to the Women's Canadian Club in Vancouver, Mr. Drew said diplomatic recognition of Red China should not be construed with the country's admittance to the UN.

OTHERS REFUSED

"There is no point talking about Red China getting into the UN when there are other nations we have refused," he said.

"Otherwise we would be admitting that sire alone is the gauge of morality — that Russia as well as a nation gets strong enough and tough enough we will admit it no matter what principles are involved. . . ."

Big Diamond Is Uncovered Says Geo. Drew

VANCOUVER (CP) — Probably the biggest "diamond" in the world —worth about $2,500,000,000—has been uncovered in the Northwest Territories, Progressive Conservative leader George Drew said here Monday.

The giant gem, he said, is a basketball diamond in the Indian city of Port Radium.

The find was built by filling a small lake with tailings from a uranium mine. Since then, new milling processes have been discovered and the baseball league had to suspend its activities.

"They'll get some $2,500,000,000 worth of uranium out of the baseball field," Mr. Drew said.

In Ottawa, R. J Henry, vice-president of Eldorado Mining and Refining Limited, described the $2,500,000,000 figure as "exaggerated."

"No doubt somebody has exaggerated the value of the tailings to left the ranch as a museum and park containing relics of his screen career. The younger Hart has been would have to consult office records to estimate how much the value was.

8 Die in Fire Near Coney Isle

NEW YORK (AP)—Wind-fanned flames swept through four frame rooming houses near the Coney Island amusement park early today and eight persons perished.

Fifteen others were injured.

The blaze broke out only two hours after another fire in a bath house on the Coney Island boardwalk seven blocks away. The coincidence aroused suspicions of authorities.

Peru Will Buy 600 Canadian Holstein Heifers

KITCHENER (CP) — An order for 600 bred first-calf heifers has been received from Peru, George Clemons, secretary of the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada, announced today.

Mr. Clemons described the heifers as "good commercial cattle," all sired by high record bulls.

Peruvian farmers financed by loans from the Banco Agropecuario del Peru, will get an initial shipment of 300 by the end of September. Of these Waterloo county farmers will supply 135. The remaining 300 will follow two months later.

PLANES BACKTRACK

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP)— Planes of U. S. naval air patrol squadron 49 were evacuated from the naval air station here twice earlier this month for hurricanes Connie and Diane. They were back Tuesday, having evacuated their home base on the Rapphannock river in Virginia in the face of hurricane Ione. This is probably the first time a navy air squadron has flown from the U. S mainland to Bermuda for safety.

Report Sinclair Talked With Reds On Recognition

HONG KONG (Reuters)—Diplomatic sources here said today that Fisheries Minister James Sinclair of Canada had informally discussed Canadian recognition of Communist China with Red officials in Peiping last week.

Sinclair passed through Peiping Sept. 14 after visiting Moscow to attend international whaling commission talks and touring Russia.

The sources added that despite a broken leg, suffered in a fall 20 feet from scaffolding during a fisheries inspection at the Siberian port of Petropaviovsk, Sinclair carried out "informal discussions" and answered questions regarding recent speeches by External Affairs Minister Pearson about Canada's interest in the Far East.

The sources said nothing definite was discussed, but the climate "indicates the possibility of something definite next year."

Sinclair and his department aide, Alistair Fraser, left Hong Kong today for Tokyo, where they will spend three days before flying to Vancouver.

Admiral DeWolf Will Be Chief Of Naval Staff

OTTAWA (CP) — Rear-Admiral Harry G. DeWolf, 52, will become chief of naval staff early next year, the defence department announced today.

He will succeed Vice-Admiral E. Rollo Mainguy, 54, who will go on retirement leave Jan. 16.

Rear-Admiral DeWolf, who will be promoted vice-admiral when he takes over the navy's No. 1 post, will be succeeded as chairman of the Canadian joint staff, Washington, by Maj.-Gen. H. A. Sparling, 48, now vice-chief of the general staff.

The new vice-chief of the general staff will be Maj.-Gen. N. E. Rodger, 47, now chief of the army's prairie command.

New chief of prairie command will be Maj.-Gen. W. J. Megill, 48, who has been senior military adviser to the Canadian commissioner on the Viet Nam international truce supervisory commission.

Welland Judge Dies Suddenly

HAMILTON (CP)—Judge Hazen E. Hazlewood, 58, junior judge of Welland county, died suddenly at the court house in Hamilton today. He was in the office of the judge's secretary shortly before he was to hear a county court action when he collapsed. He was pronounced dead a few minutes later by a doctor.

Out of respect to his honor, who frequently helped out in Westworth county court cases, Judge William P. Scheenger, senior judge of Welland county, has adjourned the general sessions until Thursday.

Driver Charged

CORNWALL (CP) — Police said today Felix Morris, 33, of Alexandria, Ont., has been charged with criminal negligence in connection with the traffic death Tuesday of Mrs. Mary Pennell, 64, of Honeoye, N. Y

They said Morris was driver of a car which was in collision with another auto in which Mrs. Pennell and her two sisters were riding. The accident occurred on Highway 2, about 25 miles east of Cornwall near the Ontario-Quebec border.

SPECIALISTS IN NON-SPECIALIZING

The Unemployment Insurance Commission knows its stuff.

Thousands of Canadians, if they care to take the trouble to peruse what the Commission has to say in a bulletin on supply and demand of university graduates in the labor pool, may doubt that statement. But if the Commission appears to be doing a little double-talking it is only because the person who prepared that bulletin is an expert and forgets that when experts deal with any subject they should remember that a lot of things they know is news to laymen.

The Commission started out by saying that the arts graduate, "the Cinderella among graduates," is at least coming into his own. Recent years the demand has been for specialists; "now the arts graduate is sought precisely because he is not a specialist," reports they (employers) want men who can deal with people, and later "become executives."

Then the Commission double-talks. College graduates, it says, generally are given preference in newspaper work, but this produces so few graduates of journalism that it can absorb them all and newspapers seek further recruits from other sources.

Are the indications that employers are seeking people who are not specialists and that so few specialists in journalism are being produced that the newspapers have to hire others not contradictory?

No they are not; for while a journalism graduate is a specialist in journalism, this means he is a specialist in not-specializing, that he is equally happy playing cribbage with cops or absorbing culture at an art exhibition; that he is able to look mournful at a funeral, jubilant at a hockey celebration, impressed at a political gathering and funny at a church service; that he is proficient at drying the eyes of lost youngsters, humbly absorbing a verbal beating from an irate exhibitor whose first prize cake at the local fair was credited to a rival and flexing his muscles at a heavyweight wrestler who thinks he has been ill-used in the columns of the Great Family Journal.

Whether or not our employers think the best manufacturers of this versatility is a mute point, depending entirely on the point of view; that is to say whether the newspaperman being questioned is learned graduate of a school of journalism or the hard-bitten survivor of a hundred battles with editors and publishers.

STORIES HIDDEN IN FIGURES

The Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario has just issued its 47th annual report, a thick book of 364 pages, most of them covered with figures.

To many, that will be all they will want to know about the report. Statistics do not interest them.

There must, however, be dozens of excellent editorials concealed in that mass of figures, if one had the time and talent to hunt them down.

For instance, the report gives the operating reports for the year which ended December 31, 1954, for every municipality receiving utility in Ontario.

From this section of the report we learn that Belleville Hydro earned $272,558.30 from domestic and commercial light service and $105,512.25 from commercial power service. Comparing these figures with those for other centres a person who had never seen any of Belleville's plants would be able to visualize the city, fairly accurately, as a city of homes, the shopping centre for a considerable area, with many prosperous industries and yet in no way to be considered as a principal industrial city. Similar judgments can be made regarding any other municipality in the province, and while special circumstances would enter some cases the assessments inaccurate, in the main they would be close to the facts.

Most interesting story, though, is that told by two neighboring columns. Now we see almost $9 from commercial power service for every $7 it receives from domestic service and for every $2.50 it obtains from commercial light service. Ottawa, like other large cities, less than 50 cents from power service for every $3 it gets from domestic service, and every $2.50 it gets from commercial light service. What more graphic way could there be the difference between an automobile manufacturing centre and the capital of a nation?

A BRAVE MAN DIES

Hon. L. S. Amery died in London last Friday.

Some may regard him as one of the last "die-hard Tories," singing the virtues of empire in a world which has turned its back on imperialism. Others will mourn him as one of the comparatively few strong voices which, in season and out, preached the need for unity within the British Commonwealth.

His most famous speech was, however, on a different theme. As France fell, he turned to Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain and spoke these words of Oliver Cromwell's: "You have sat here too long for any good you have been doing. Depart I say, and let us have done with you, in the name of God."

They were cruel words. They may not have been necessary words. But they were also courageous words. For Amery risked being remembered only for his bitterness, in order to assure that Chamberlain would be replaced by Churchill, whom he saw as the only man who could save Britain and the Empire in its time of greatest trial.

YOUNG ANGLER

He was a boy with a bamboo pole
And a can of worms and a freckled face.
Some day he will think of that fishing hole
When he can go to a costlier place.

The time will come when the years have flown
A man out fishing with friends he'll be,
And a fancier rod and reel he'll own
And larger fish on his hook he'll see.

He may be as proud, but no prouder then
Than he is today with that bamboo pole,
And the man will boast to his fellowmen
Of the fun he had at that fishing hole.

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BYGONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

Sept. 21, 1935

Ernie Smith of Corbyville when trolling in the Moira River about one mile north of Corbyville caught a 'lunge which weighed 23 pounds and measured 42 inches in length.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Morton, Trent Road, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Carter, Thomasburg, were returned from their honeymoon trip and a happy gathering of friends in Toronto and Quebec.

Mr. Carl Crosby's summer cottage at Bailie's Mills was the scene of a happy gathering this past week of sixty young people of John Street Church. It was a very enjoyable afternoon and a generous supper was served in abundance at five o'clock. The Rev. Robert Hall, the pastor of the church, officiated at an inspiring service around the big camp fire. Miss Ione Detlor, Miss Marjorie Hill and Miss Frances Hill were among the hostesses for the happy outing.

Mrs. James Walden and her daughter Jessie left by car for England where they will spend six months.

30 YEARS AGO

Sept. 21, 1925

Mr. A. Bernard Collins, barrister, attended a meeting of the Liberal Party Association in Kingston yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Fisher are spending a week at Dreyton, Ontario.

Mr. G. G. Brinnell has left for his home in Fort Lauderdale, Florida, after visiting friends here.

Miss Betty Williams, Isabel Street, has returned home after spending a vacation in Montreal. She will shortly resume her studies at Queen's University, Kingston.

40 YEARS AGO

Sept. 21, 1915

In the village of Foxboro last evening a presentation was made to Mr. John A. Hughes who is leaving the village to reside in Bowmanville. Prior to taking up residence in Foxboro Mr. Holgate resided in Sidney township for some years and was warden of the county for one year. He is highly esteemed in the community and is a prominent member of the Methodist Church.

The Rev. C. T. Scott, A. B., B. D., pastor of the Metropolitan Methodist Church, Victoria, B.C., has been invited to become pastor of Bridge Street Methodist Church in this city for a term of four years commencing next the next church year and the invitation has been accepted. Subject to the approval of the Transfer and Stationing Committee. Mr. Scott has a number of friends in this city who know him intimately and will welcome the Rev. Dr. E. N. Baker, Mr. George F. Stewart, the Rev. H. Osborne and Mr. F. E. O'Flynn.

From our file copy at this time in 1895: "Alone in London" will be the attraction at the opera house this evening. Go early and avoid the rush. No advance in prices. This will be the last chance to see the popular actor Harry Lacey and his company" (Advt.).

50 YEARS AGO

Sept. 21, 1905

Isn't the weather perfectly lovely? Nothing can find a nicer place to live than beautiful Belleville in sweet September!

Military News: The following of local interest appeared in the last issue of the Military Gazette: Fifteenth Regiment Argyll Light Infantry — Captain and Adjutant F. S. Conger is retired for the purpose of being appointed to the permanent force; Captain J. C. Maclean is transferred to the reserve of officers; Provisional Lieuts. J. A. Phillips and J. W. Kinneer retire.

Mr. and Mrs. Fisher have returned home after spending some time in the west.

Two young men, whose names were not obtained, upset the canoe off Victoria Park yesterday afternoon during a gale. One of them being held onto the canoe, but his companion started to swim to shore; he became exhausted and would have no doubt drowned had not William Dennison of a companion gone to his assistance.

Must Face School Issue

(Financial Post)

In educational circles across the nation this is the lull before the annual storm over teachers' salaries and teaching standards. Every year there is louder, longer and more threatening. It mirrors the growing size of the problem.

It's a sure bet that this year will bring new anguished cries from cost - squeezed school boards, more fiery complaints of low salaries from teachers, more concern about the shortage of teachers than ever before.

School boards will be blackliited by teachers' organizations, school mill rates will inch upward again to race after higher costs; a greater number of only partly trained teachers will be used; demands for more federal aid to education will rise to a new crescendo.

Who's right?

The school boards are right; costs are bearing very heavily on taxpayers.

The teachers are right; there is not sufficient money and prestige in the profession to attract enough young teacher trainees.

The federal government is right, it is spending so much for health, welfare and defence that education will have more for education will which is provincial responsibility would starve the present structure of the budget.

In the reconciliation these problems, there are others.

We cannot agree on our own panacea for education. One faction favors three-R education. Another favors a broad, but not always progressive education.

Nor do we have enough schools. Established facilities are overcrowded, the number of schoolage children mounts yearly, but does the number of new school desks.

Here is only a further list of the difficulties being faced by a key Canadian institution. If anything is essential, it is an early answer to the many questions.

What are those answers? No one seems to know. And that is the most disturbing part of the whole problem. Individual people and group talk about one or another of the many aspects of the picture without relating it to the whole.

There violent disagreements are costing us money and youthful time to vent. It is high time when this very basic, very difficult problem should be tackled and some agreement reached as to basic objectives and how to attain them.

We can afford to muddle on, as we have so far. The first essential is that we have given it a strong public interest, a knowledge of the problem and the will and firm intention to do something about them. That is what we lack now.

British Untie Gordian Knot

(Vancouver Sun)

Our flagging optimism about the salvation of the world is reinforced today by the story about the Big Four and the Big Five.

By an artful piece of diplomacy the ruler of 1,000,000 souls is on his way back to his African domain with his pride in full plume and his subjects rejoicing. Only two years ago he was exiled to Rhodesia by the British after the people seethed with bitterness.

The Kabaka (sometimes what he smokes) had removed the hereditary allegiance of his Kingdom which is legally supposed to protect-orate of Uganda—to the British crown.

That was bad enough. But when it came to snatching the fat from the mouths of babes the Legollators reached a stalemate. Parents and children could be settled laboriously except for one point. The natives insisted that their new government should be brought into force by having the Kabaka return to his native country. The British had declared that he must remain in exile until the new agreement was in full operation.

Colonial Secretary Lennox-Boyd could not budge the natives. He had to talk about agonizing reappraisal or called in some more troops.

Not Lennox-Boyd.' He refused to be panicked. He was convinced he couldn't be surmounted or the invincible conquered. The impasse with the natives took him a little longer to solve but he came up with the answer. He has simply put now in harmony on his proposal that a transitional agreement will be signed jointly by the British and by the Kabaka's personal representatives.

The United Kingdom Information Office says that this transitional agreement will be in the same terms as the permanent agreement except that the transitional provisions."

Two weeks or so after the signature the Kabaka will be authorized to return to Buganda "where he will sign the main agreement and perform such ceremonial ceremonies as may be wished or required," Lennox-Boyd announced.

Any other nations wishing to untie the Gordian knot without the aid of the sword might consult the colonial office, London.

New Setback For Baldies

(Cleveland Plain Dealer)

For years they have lived in hope — the baldies — that something, somewhere, somebody would come up with a formula which would grow hair.

Hope sprang anew last November when a Glasgow physician reported that two bald patients had begun sprouting a new fuzz after taking a drug for arterial trouble. The findings were reported in the medical press, and all the baldies in Scotland rushed out to buy the stuff, despite warnings that it was unsafe to use without medical supervision.

The general medical consultant for an English hospital decided to put the drug to the hair-raising test. He collected 80 baldies for the experiment. Then, each shiny head was photographed from three different angles. Every day for the last nine months the human guinea pigs have returned to have their growth they've been photographed. In a few days they'll have their final photographs, and a panel of doctors will study the results.

Alas, they're not encouraging.

"We've just one or two hopeful patches to show," the hospital spokesman said. "Otherwise I'm afraid it's back to the drawing board, out."

Well, that's the way it goes! Hope, disillusion, ad infinitum! And as haircuts go up in price, the area to be shorn grows in proportion. We wonder, is this really the best of all possible worlds?

Road to Isles 40 Years Old

(Ottawa Citizen)

The road to the Isles, played by hundred pipers on the steps of the Canadian Legion today day, has become one of the most famous of all Highland airs. Indeed, the title fame dates back only 40 years.

This fact is noted by the Halifax Chronicle-Herald in writing of the recent death of the man most responsible for the fame of the Isles as the world knows it. He was Revd. Kenneth MacLeod, a distinguished Gaelic scholar, authority on folklore and collector and translator of Highland songs. As a native of the Hebridean island of Eigg, Dr. MacLeod was interested in Gaelic songs and stories from childhood.

He frequently recalled how Patrick Kennedy-Fraser, a professional baritone, was responsible for the world's first knowledge that he should write Scottish words to this routine melody. He was also he was he magic poetry of The Road to the Isles.

The Chronicle-Herald seems frequently have to run the order of things which she wrote. In it was this line: "Laugh, and the world laughs with you, weep, and you weep alone." Troubles come to us all; and as it is rare events anything has to come with them, but everyone seems to be ready to join in our moments of laughter.

Some people go through a long life with troubles heaped on their heads and they are forever trying to get someone else to take a few off them. Of course no one will take them and so tries to avoid such a person. The Bible says that we should try and share one another's burdens — but it doesn't say how!

We are the better for keeping our troubles to ourselves. The Lord welcomes us, however; we can take our troubles to Him and he doesn't mind. He has given us the Bible that He yoke is easy and his burden light, and when we put our trust and faith in Him our own troubles melt away!

Ban Trapping By Two Women

(Windsor Star)

Two American women who hoped to trap beaver in the Lake of the River-Kenora area for the next five months find Ontario's trapping laws working against their project.

A trapping licence is obtainable only by citizens, which they are not. The provincial government were sighted with relief as they recalled that restrictive provision. Two girls from Wisconsin have signed out in rigorous Northwestern Ontario. But the water would be anything but an inviting prospect for authorities.

Even so, it might turn out that with the breakup the girls would have to portage their boat to the nearest town, glowing with health, and loaded with the dogpoorest pile of pelts ever since the boom days of the fur trade.

Women are unpredictable like that nowadays.

Isolated Tax-Dodging?

(Stratford Expositor)

Some $10,000 missing from a Saskatchewan farm is said to have been kept in the house instead of in a bank because the owners were afraid of taxation. The explanation may say with confidence that this kind of tax-dodging is an isolated case!

Must Have Been Victim

(Brantford Expositor)

There is now on the market a regulator that can prevent a car is born from hooking until the car is doing at least 5 m. p. h. The inventor must have suffered, as we have, from the senseless antics of the driver who suddenly stopped his horn at a traffic stop though it will do no good.

Personal Health Talks

The Iodin Ration Is Not Medication

It is discouraging to see a concrete called a quack, writes a physician) and discourtesy will convince nobody; but some of my family doctors feel that, although you have done a creditable job of organizing medical concepts, you lay yourself open to attacks like the one published when you recommend medication such as "The Iodin Ration" for lay readers.

We appreciate your desire to help people, but such harmless and almost inert medication such as "The Iodin Ration", the individual patient may think that if a little is good more is better and take enough to get into trouble.

Self medication of any kind, even a placebo, is not only dangerous but may lead to a loosening of the doctor-patient relationship, which we are sure you do not intend to sever.

(Signed ..... M.D.)

If the iodin ration which I recommend for every man, woman and child is "inert" or a "placebo" it can hardly be dangerous.

The physician states in his letter (not quoted) his opinion of the daily requirement of iodine, which, he says, the ordinary diet usually provides.

That is an arbitrary assumption. It is not consistent with the practice, recommended and approved by medical and health authorities, of adding iodine (potassium iodide) to table salt for general consumption.

This physician's quaint notion that an adequate daily intake of iodine constitutes "medication" is based on ignorance of nutrition — ignorance which has characterized many "statements of eager beaver health and medical writers in newspaper and magazine articles in recent years. I have cited some of these "warnings" here and challenged their authors to back the statements up with scientific evidence. No one has done so — I venture to say no one can do so, for the simple reason that there is no scientific evidence to indicate, for example, that vitamin D in any quantity I recommend, makes "calcium deposits" anywhere in the body; or that the use of borated talcum powder, or boric acid solutions, or boric acid ointment in the household is "dangerous". Worse still, some of these half-baked statements of the home have not been fit to admit that they were misled by the statement in the original medical journal report of "poisoning" of infants by absorption of boric acid from borated talcum, boric acid solutions and boric acid ointment to the skin of babies. The physician who published a statement confessing that the test for boric acid in the urine on which they based their conclusions, had proved unreliable.

I repeat that in my opinion every man, woman and child needs a very wee bit of iodine every day to keep him or her well.

St. John the Baptist Church to Hold Anniversary Service

MADOC.—Next Sunday, a 90th anniversary service will be held in St. John the Baptist church, Madoc, at 7.30 p.m. Many former rectors and incumbents of the parish will be present at the service, some of them taking part.

It is hoped to have the following rectors present, Archdeacon J. B. Cresgrave of Christ church, Belleville; the Rev. William Robinson, newly appointed rector of St. John's, Ottawa; the Rev. A. W. Smith, of Omemee, Ontario; the Rev. A. E. Pepper of Brockville; the Rev. John L. Hutchinson of Brockville; the Rev. H. C. Secker of Stirling; the Rev. A. Strother (retired) of Belleville, and the Rev. G. Reynolds of Lombardy, Ontario.

The special speaker for the occasion will be the Rev. Douglas Burns, B.A., S.T.B. of Kingston.

The choir will be under the direction of Mr. William Aylesworth and the organist will be Mrs. J. Aylesworth.

An invitation is extended to all former residents of Madoc and former parishioners to attend this service which will be followed by a fellowship hour in the parish hall.

CAMPBELLFORD

Kinette President, Sec. Re-elected For Second Term

CAMPBELLFORD — The president and secretary of the Campbellford Kinette club were re-elected to office for a second term at the season's first dinner meeting at Kay's Restaurant.

President Grace Bell and secretary Kay Herrald; treasurer, Kay Ayrhart; bulletin editor, Megan Collins and directors, Laurina Rabethge, Dorothy Stafford and Betty Burgis, were installed in office by president Cy Johnson of the Kinsmen club.

The Kinettes completed plans for operating a refreshment booth at the Campbellford Fair on September 22.

Past President Fran Hall presented the club with a framed portrait of the Queen, which will be hung in the dining room where the club will hold its meetings in the coming season.

ST. ANDREW'S L. A.

CAMPBELLFORD — The September meeting of St. Andrew's Ladies' Aid Society was held in the Ladies' parlor with the president, Mrs. Watters, in charge.

The Scripture reading was given by Mrs. Cowell and Mrs. Watters led the group in prayer.

The correspondence was heard, treasurer's report given, and collection taken. The quilt convener, Mrs. Patrick turned in $11 in cash and announced the next quilting day.

The visiting committee reported on six calls made. Mrs. Black and Mrs. Watters volunteered for the visiting committee for the month.

In the absence of Mrs. Hazell, no report was given on the mailing of cards.

Plans for the fall season were discussed, the two main projects to be the annual fowl supper and the Christmas bazaar.

On motion of Mrs. Patrick and Mrs. Rutcheon, the fowl supper will be held on October 26th.

The Christmas bazaar, customarily held on the first Saturday of December, will fall on December 3rd. Many suggestions for this were heard and accepted.

Mrs. Black supplied flowers for the church on a recent Sunday and arranged with choir members to assist for the remaining Sundays in September.

A reading entitled, "Adventure" written by Andre Young, was read by Mrs. Black.

Refreshments were served.

Driver Injured As Car Strikes Rear of Truck

CAMPBELLFORD — A 30-year-old Durham, Ontario man, Robert G. Villemaire, was injured after noon on Monday when the car which he was driving struck the rear of a large truck on the Campbellford-Stirling Rd. about six miles southeast of here.

The truck, owned by James Grills, of Seymour township, was driven by his son, Walter, age 22, was turning off the highway into a driveway leading to his father's farm.

Villemaire's car travelling east behind the truck, broke over a knoll, and was unable to stop in time. The nose of the car went under the rear platform of the truck, shearing off the top left corner of the car. It skidded about 75 feet and came to rest on its wheels in the south ditch. The driver was thrown clear.

The injured man was attended at the scene by Dr. W. F. Baker, of Campbellford and removed by Bennett's ambulance to Campbellford Memorial Hospital.

Doctors today said his condition is satisfactory, although he suffered concussion, shock and multiple bruises. The driver of the truck was uninjured. OPP Constable George Louth, assisted by OPP Constable Archie Eady, of the Campbellford detachment investigated.

Women's Activities

WHITE'S W.A.

WHITE'S DISTRICT — Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Curtis opened their home on Friday evening for the September meeting of White's Woman's Association with 17 members and 12 visitors in attendance. The president, Mrs. Casey Ketcheson presided and opened the meeting. One new member joined and three members paid dues.

The devotional service was taken by Mrs. Everett Nicolson and opened by all singing "Praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow," followed by repeating the 23rd. Psalm. A reading in explanation of the Psalm was given by Mrs. Nicolson under the headings "Personal, Shepherd, Attention, Leadership, Protection, Provision and Prospect," which showed much time spent in preparation.

Mrs. W. Jones gave a reading, "Just One Door," and Mrs. A. Young gave "He Restoreth My Soul." Mrs. Nicolson led in prayer.

It was decided that the latest money be handed in at the December meeting. Mrs. W. Yatman offered her home for a quilting on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Jeffery, Mrs. Nicolson and Mrs. C. Ketcheson are calling on newcomers. Plans were made for the "At Home," at the parsonage on Thursday, Sept. 22, afternoon and evening.

Mrs. B. Bonisteel took charge of the program, with readings, "Wisdom," by Mrs. W. Jefferi; "No Counsellor," by Mrs. C. Ketcheson, and "The Bellhiques of a Teacher," by Mrs. B. Bonisteel.

A cookie jar full of cookies, donated by Mrs. A. Hockaday was sold to Mrs. R. Ketcheson for $1. A number of mystery parcels including muskrakions, corn, candy and vases were sold by Mrs. Curtis to swell her latest money to $3.

Mrs. Curtis and her assistants served refreshments and a social time was enjoyed.

tiara held her fingertip veil of tulle illusion and she carried a bouquet of Sweetheart roses, stephanotis and trailing ivy.

Mrs. Herbert Dean, of Toronto, attended the bride, wearing a mauve gown of net over taffeta, fashioned similarly to that of the bride's, with matching halo headdress of net and flowers. She carried a bouquet of palest yellow daisy 'mums and pink-veined Cecil leaves.

Mr. Edward Buckley of Belleville, attended his brother, and Mr. Donald McInroy of Belleville, and Mr. Herbert Dean of Toronto, were ushers.

Following the ceremony, a wedding reception was held at Golden Acre Inn, Kingston Road, where the bride's mother, attired in navy blue with contrasting corsage of summer flowers, received. The bridegroom's mother, who wore old rose, with corsage of similar flowers, assisted.

The bride chose a light blue ensemble with pink accessories, for the wedding trip to Montreal and the eastern United States.

Previous to her marriage, the bride was honored by two showers: one by Mrs. John Quarrie and Miss Joan Martin of Belleville, and the other by friends of the bride at her home in Stirling.

Mr. and Mrs. 'Ed' George Happily Wed for 50 Years

With a haircut now costing a dollar at most city shops, how would a hair trim for that price sound with a dozen shaves thrown in for good measure?

To the younger generation such prices would sound a bit unreasonable but to Thomas "Ed" George, former local barbership owner such a package deal was real enough.

But that was half a century or more ago.

Now retired from barbering for a dozen years, Mr. George with his good wife this week are celebrating the 50th anniversary of their marriage. The couple will be "at home" to their friends on this afternoon of September 21st, while a family dinner party is scheduled for the George house at 164 Burnham street on the 24th.

According to Mr. George the regular price for haircuts "back in the good old days" was 25c, but in those customers he come in regularly the package deal of a haircut plus a dozen shaves for a dollar was dreamed up.

Instead of paying for each shave the customer paid in advance and received a ticket which was "punched" by the barber after each visit.

"In those days there were no electric clippers and shaving was almost a full time job," Mr. George recalls. "We took no holidays and I would be one of a number of o'clock Sunday morning before we got home."

"And I've even met a customer on the way home after work and was coaxed back to the shop to give him a shave."

CAME FROM ENGLAND

An Old Country boy who came to Canada from England as a young lad, Mr. George learned his barbering the hard way. That is he served as an apprentice receiving $1.50 per week.

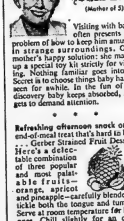
Mr. George gave up his shop 12 years ago and is now employed as salesman at the local liquor store.

Mr. and Mrs. George were married September 20th back in 1905 at St. Thomas' Anglican church by the late Rev. Ross Beamish. Shortly after their marriage they moved to Toronto where Mr. George followed his calling as a barber for several years before returning to Belleville.

Mrs. George is the former Margaret Arnott and describes herself as a "homebody". Mr. George is 76, while Mrs. George is 73. They are now members of Christ church.

They have two sons, William of Toronto, and Richard of Belleville, and a daughter, Mrs. Dorothy George who lives at home. There are three grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Christ Church C.C. Discusses Projects



A business meeting was held Monday evening by the Contact club of Christ church.

In addition to regular procedure, a club project was discussed and approved and a number of thank-you notes were read.

It was decided to have a corporate communion September 25 at eight o'clock.

Club president, Marguerite Cooke, announced that next Monday would be work meeting.

While refreshments were served by hostesses, Jean Flindall, Doris Stewart, and Isobel Murray the girl browsed around the tables index with articles of children's clothing, which were being offered for sale.

Women's Institute

CANNINGTON-CORBYVILLE W.I.

The Cannington and Corbyville Women's Institute held its regular meeting on Monday evening. There were 19 present with the president, Mrs. Demille in the chair.

A letter from Quinte Institute was read inviting the members to attend the recent Extension Service which was accepted.

Card and flower report was given by Mrs. K. Windsor and several cards of thanks were received.

Delegates were appointed to attend the three conventions in Belleville on October 13-14.

Interesting reports were given by standing committees.

The October meeting is to be held on the third Monday. A committee was appointed to plant bulbs and help beautify the lawn at the hall.

The lunch committee served refreshments and a social time was enjoyed.

MELROSE W.I.

A successful "Short Course" on food and nutrition entitled "Hospitality Foods", was held in the new kitchen of Melrose township hall last Wednesday and Thursday afternoons, under the auspices of Melrose W.I. centre.

Several members of Phillipston-Zion Institute foined with Melrose W.I., to make an attendance of 24 ladies on both days. Miss Merlin from the Home Economics Service branch in Toronto, was in charge of the demonstrations which consisted of the preparation and cooking of a complete buffet meal.

WANTS TO JOIN NIZAM'S HAREM

Jane Dollinger, 22, is a girl who will try anything once. Just back from a sojourn in the jungles of Peru, Miss Dollinger, who was a Miami (Fla.) secretary until illic more than a year ago, says she is going to join the harem of the Nizam of Hyderabad, who rules over 80,000 square miles of India, has four wives and 200 concubines and a collection of jewels worth about $90,000,000. Nobody has said the Nizam is aware of all this. (Central Press Canadian).

Some of the dishes made were, ham loaf, lima bean casserole, tossed green salad and crunchy holiday mix. She explained in a short talk on canning, the importance of planning every day meals so that the health of the family will not suffer.

Several appetizing menus were given and pamphlets on "Supper Dishes" and "Let's Cook it Right" were given to all.

On the second day many suggestions about preparing food in quantity service for banquets, and parties were given with particular stress on the need for organization with committees on planning, working, publicity, shopping, food-preparation, hostess, decorating and a follow-up one.

Thanks were tendered the leader, as well as the contractor, Mr. C. Hageman, who worked overtime to have the hall in readiness for this event, also due appreciation to the Superior Propane Gas Co., which kindly installed a stove which proved most satisfactory in preparing the various dishes.

Refreshments were served by the Melrose ladies at the close of the meeting on the second day.

BEAUTY

TENSION RELIEVING EXERCISES FOR THE OFFICE

A spine-stretching exercise done right at your desk will help to relieve tension and fatigue.

Fatigue and nervous tension show in the face first — and that's certainly no help where beauty is concerned. It's a wise woman, therefore, who learns how to offset the constant little annoyances and strains which add up to the mental total of complete exhaustion at the end of the day. Such knowledge makes her a nicer person to live with and, what's more, she hangs on to her youth longer.

If you have a desk job or work at a typewriter all day long, make it a habit to stretch your spine at intervals. You can do this without getting up from your chair, and you can do it quite inconspicuously. Just sit forward on the seat of the chair with your back straight, shoulders down and relaxed, and hands resting limply, palms up, on your thighs.

Now, push in your lower abdominal muscles and force that small of your back out. Hold that position. Tighten your hip muscles (the ones you are sitting on) and, with small of back still forced out, begin to stretch up with your spine and, at the same time, to roll your shoulders back, back — using only the muscles at the sockets. Gently relax and do it a few times. You will be delighted at the way taut nerves and cramped muscles untink themselves.

Here's another stretch-relaxer for you:

Assume the same starting position on your chair, push the small of the back out and stretch up your spine as before. Then, holding your head high, as a flower on a stem, turn your chin over your left shoulder while you roll your right shoulder backward. Hold for a second, gently relax, then repeat with chin over the right shoulder as you roll the left shoulder back. Throughout this and the preceding exercise, arms, hands and legs should remain limp and perfectly relaxed. Breathing should be slow, deep and natural. It's your spine that should get the work-out if you're to get the most out of these tension relievers.

Relaxing is something many of you have to learn, but you can learn it and it's worth learning, for it will save wear and tear on you and your face.

Now we get a new idea—Bermuda shorts with suspender tops, a fine idea for campus clothes. Well thought-out and freshly attractive is this outfit in black and red plaid wool and a white broadcloth blouse with shoulder tabs under which to slip the suspender tops. The built-up waistband is shaped by seaming outside and belting inside. A tab-covered pocket and red grosgrain ribbon ends add an extra Scottish touch.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEECKMAN

TIPS ON HOTEL TIPPING

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

My questions concern tipping while traveling.

1. (a) When signing the bill for a meal, how do you indicate the amount of the tip you wish to leave? (b) It is proper to give the tip listed on the bill adding it to the bill (c) Is 15 percent the correct amount for this service?

2. After ordering a meal in my room at a hotel, is it ever correct to push the table into the hallway, or is it necessary to wait for it to be removed?

3. When leaving the hotel after a short stay, is it necessary to tip the doorman? — E.

1. At the bottom of the bill for the meal, add a notation indicating the amount of the tip you wish given to the waiter: for example, "Tip to waiter — 20 cents." (b) Indeed it is proper to give the waiter the tip . . . this is more often done than making the notation on the bill. (c) For bringing up a dinner order to a room, the waiter usually is given 15 percent of the bill . . . but not less than 25 cents.

2. If you have given the room waiter his tip when he brought up your meal, or if you have added the amount of his tip to the check he left, you certainly may push the table into the hallway. Then no need to wait, and you may proceed with whatever you wish to do.

3. If the doorman performs no service for you, a tip is not required. But if he does any service for you . . . for example, calls you a taxi, gets or summons a taxicab for you, you should give him a tip: from 15 to 25 cents.

SHOULD ANNIVERSARY PRESENT BE GIVEN?

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Two of our dear friends here (we met through church activities) are to celebrate their 45th Wedding Anniversary soon with Open House at the Community Club. My husband and I have been invited, and he has been asked to provide the music for the occasion. My question is: Should we give a gift? If so, should we send it or take it? My husband says that so long as he has been asked to help furnish the music, it is not necessary for us to give a gift. I don't know, so I'm asking you, Mrs. Beeckman, because I'm sure you do know. — Reader

I wish I did know definitely what you should do . . . but this is a question that cannot be answered definitely because giving a present, for any occasion, depends (1) on one's inclination, preference, welfare one's purse, and (2) on the custom of one's community. However, I do know what I would do if I were invited to such an important occasion as the Forty-Fifth Wedding Anniversary of dear friends . . . I'd certainly take a present to the anniversary party.

Transition Trends

By TRACY ADRIAN

From the designers of Saint Louis comes this charming and practical dress which was created to carry you right through a change of climate.

It is extremely happy as a back to school costume or for a stay-at-homer. The outfit is made of rayon in a print that was inspired by the early Amish quilt patterns. There is a row of braid to underscore the silhouette lines, and the collar and cuffs of white linen are detachable.

a present I'd hope they would both enjoy and appreciate. Such a present needn't be an expensive one, but a something chosen with deliberated thoughtfulness.

If "to help provide music for the occasion" means that your husband is expected to pay, even in part, for the music-service provided, this might, if your husband wishes, be regarded as the anniversary gift, and you might send a friendly little note indicating this. For example: "Joe would like to have the music he planned for your Wedding Anniversary party be our gift to you two beloved friends. May the melody linger always in your memory . . . and every dear wish to you always!"

DINNER INTERRUPTED

Mother's Helper

WHEN YOU make a dress for your little girl, save a small square of the fabric for a matching handkerchief. If the material isn't suitable, use just a bit of it to trim a plain white hanky. An extra half-yard or so will be fun for a matching apron or doll's dress, too.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

HOW WOULD YOU FEEL IF THIS HAPPENED TO YOU?

Dear Beatrice Fairfax:

I am in love with a man who is supposed to get married to another girl in about ten months. We go out together as much as we can. He says he is in love with both me and the other girl. He wants me to forget about him. But I love and can't forget about him.

Would you please try and help me? K. R.

Dear K. R.:

Just how do you think you would feel if you were expecting to marry a man and then discovered he was taking another girl out? Why don't you try to imagine yourself in the place of this man's fiancee and realize just how you'd feel? I don't think I need to say any more on that particular point, do I?

So let's take up another point: What kind of girl is it who would go out with a man she knew was already engaged to some one else? And what kind of man is that doublecross and deceive his fiancee? I guess that's enough on that point, too, isn't it?

Then here's another point: If this chap is so inhumane as to believe himself in love with two girls at the same time, then he isn't in love with either one of them, and he'd be doing either a grave injustice to marry her. The best bet thing that could happen to the one he expects to marry would be for her to find out that he's been doublecrossing her and throw him over. For unless he changes radically between now and the time they're supposed to marry, he's going to get no prize package when she gets him for a husband.

Finally, you want me to "try and help" you. Well, if you don't begin to understand, after reading what I've already said, that it's up to you to help yourself in getting like a girl who knows what's right and what's wrong, then I'm afraid no one can do much for you. Moreover, in addition to doing the right thing by putting this rather poor figure of a man out of your life and thought, I would hardly think you'd care to hang on to a man, even in your thoughts, who wants you to forget about him.

The best advice I can give is to face the facts that you've been dealing, and helping some one else to do, a very mean and dishonorable thing; that a doublecrosser is not worth having, and that you will consign the whole sorry business to past and forget about it by filling your time and your mind with more worthwhile people and more worthwhile activity.

Stew in Style

By Mary Moore

Having lunch with the women's editor of a city newspaper is fun. She knows so much about your work and even tries some of the recipes.

Mercy Roe told me that in the apartment that she shares with another newspaper gal there is no dining-room. As a consequence dinner is eaten in the living-room every evening, and when they have guests it is buffet style—so fork-eaten food is a must and stew is a great old standby.

Plenty of folks are in the same dining-room-less but contented state and since fall is officially here today why don't we all get stew a bigger play? When it comes to serving time a properly made stew may be arranged on your best platter just as attractively as any roast.

Try your skillet skill with this little number on your family, then expand a little and invite those guests to whom an invitation is long overdue. If you make a peach pie to serve with it your budget won't skip a beat.

STYLISH BEEF STEW

Two lbs. beef—chuck, or shank, cut in 1-inch pieces, 1-4 cup flour, 2 teaspoons salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons shortening, 3 cups hot water, pinch of marjoram, or thyme or tarragon or oregano or tiny pinches of all of them, 6 small onions, 6 small carrots, 6 small potatoes, quartered, 2 8-inch celery stalks. Add the salt and pepper to the flour and dredge the meat cubes in it. Melt the shortening in a large frying pan (or saucepan or Dutch oven) and brown the meat on all sides, then add hot water and herbs, cover, bring just to boiling, reduce heat and simmer until meat is almost tender. This may take 1 hour, or 2 1-2 depending on cut. Add vegetables and turn heat high until boiling, reduce heat and cook until vegetables are just tender—about 30 minutes. Don't overcook or vegetables lose their shape. If desired turn it out on large hot platter and garnish lavishly with parsley and cut vegetables, pour meat mixture from platter, surround with border of alternating vegetables and garnish with clusters of parsley.

FRESH PEACH PIE

Four and one-half cups well-packed fresh sliced peaches, 3-4 cup sugar, 4 tablespoons flour, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1-4 teaspoon almond extract, 1-4 teaspoon nutmeg, 2 tablespoons butter. Make enough pastry for a double-crust pie and line pie plate with pastry. In a mixing bowl stir the flour and sugar into the peaches. Turn into lined pie plate. Mix together lemon juice, almond flavoring and nutmeg and drizzle these over the peaches. Dot with butter. Cook and roast on top crust. Bake at 425 deg. Fahr. for about 40 to 50 minutes or until juice bubbles through gashes. I think this is at its best when served slightly warm. The next best thing to serving it with Devonshire cream is Baumert cheese. I can hear the overweights sighing. But be comforted—I only had a one-inch piece too.

Versatility of Wool Seen At London Fashion Festival

By SYLVIA HACK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—A colorful picture of European fashion was presented at the International Wool Fashion Festival.

Clothes by top designers of 11 countries were featured. Represented were Denmark, France, Switzerland and Britain — with models to match—although French couturiers chose a German mannequin to show off their dramatic creations.

Organized by the International Wool secretariat, the show exhibits the versatility of wool. It now comes in a lace-type weave, smooth facecloth material, soft-moulding jersey and sometimes with a sheen to give a docskin look to the garment.

Y-LINE TUNIC

Among clothes shown at the Savoy Hotel was a Dior Y-line model, a Chinese-type tunic in sombre black faceccloth with high side splits opening on to a narrow black sheath dress. The broad shoulders of the tunic tapered off at the knees to give the Y effect.

Patou of Paris presented an afternoon dress—"Mystere"—in a fine, black woollen fabric with a high-waisted, swathed effect, topped by a white mink shoulder band and matching flat hat over a black jersey hood.

From the sombre to the neutral shades came a Danish model in white wool jersey, used for an evening dress with matching evening coat. The gown was strapless and draped, with the draping drawn diagonally across the bodice and hips and gathered on to the left hip, leaving the rest of the skirt straight.

The coat was full with a large cape collar and bouffant three-quarter sleeves fitted below the elbow. To complement the sheath line of the dress, the coat flowed freely from he shoulders, lined in ivory silk.

From Pedro Rodriguez of Madrid came a black and white checked, thick-wool sports ensemble, comprising a full-length coat and breeches tapering to below the knee, and a black woollen jumper.

BLACK ON WHITE

Marty of Zurich showed an evening dress in black wool lace on white, daring and beautiful. Cut on slim lines, the dress had a deep V-neckline, and black and white material swathed around the hipline, falling loosely to the ground on the left side.

From Germany came a sophisticated ensemble. The red wool jersey dress was cut in unbroken panels and had darts placed sideways to make it cling to the figure down to knee level—giving a mermaid look. From the knees the skirt widened towards the hemline and ended in a short double train. A white wool jacket with rich embroidery in iridescent colors completed the ensemble.

Rune Ulhammar of Sweden supported the Empire line, and showed a novelty evening dress in white and mushroom striped worsted with a band of the material above and below the bustline.

Joan Cavanagh of London showed a beige docskin sculptured town dress, with long sleeves and buttoned panels either side of the hipline.

Hartnell showed a purple tweed embroidered evening coat over a hunting pink Bermuda docskin dinner dress.

Synthetic Fabrics Theme Of Fashion Show Presented

By DOREEN BEDARD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL (CP) — Synthetic fabrics were the theme of a fashion show presented Monday by the Association of Canadian Couturiers, featuring original Canadian creations.

Inaugurating the second season of the association's showings, 16 designers participated in the revue.

Heavy tweed and wool velour were the most marked materials in the afternoon creations, while synthetic fabrics dominated the evening designs. Among the most popular synthetic fiber weaves were nylon, acetate, and viscose.

WORSTED ENSEMBLE

D'Anjou of Montreal showed a wool worsted ensemble called "Evergreen." In green worsted, this ingenious and elegant creation featured a coat lined with satin and matching skirt. A short overskirt, fitted around he hips, can be detached and easily transformed into a stole.

Signed by Raoul-Jean Foure and executed by Jacques de Montjoye, was a sheath dress of grey wool christened "Plain and fancy." The dress was touched off by a buttoned jacket which featured a large band of black seal fur on the front. The ensemble expressed the sheath concept with simplicity and originality.

Most of the coats shown featured straight design growing narrow at the hemline. Some were topped with weather flaps, and others, capes of varying sizes.

The oriental influence, new in the French collections, was reflected in the work of Germaine and Rene, two of the city's better known couturiers. They approached the evening field with a pale blue acetate damask, which featured bouffantes mounted on the back of the skirt to form an immense pleated flower symbol.

Fashion Flashes

Very much dressed up is one line of double-woven cotton gloves. For instance, a shortie is nicely glorified with tiny red and blue stones spattered all over the back with a sprinkling of tiny gold metal beads for an extra touch.

The brown family is very important this season — fashionwise, that is. Cited for success is the basic brown dress, a successor to the little black basic. One such is of dark brown silk crepe, fitted easily through the bodice, the neckline tied with a soft, self bow. A band of gold and bronze beading describes a yoke below the bow, and there are similar bands at the hip pockets. Dress buttons to below the waist.

Not everything is small hat, since most designers have included many brimmed and asymmetrical shapes in their current collections. Brandy brown felt is used for a bicorn with a semi-profile tilt. The brim, turned up in front, is lined with black grosgrain, and the hat is punctured at either side with a big amber-topped hat pin.

Smart separates use a great deal of jersey for sports wear, for afternoon and for informal evening wear. Good for smart general wear is a skirt composed of all-around box pleats and a blouse — both in avocado, wine, navy, taupe or charcoal wool jersey. The blouse features a velvet detailed bateau neckline and there is a contour self belt.

The Book Corner

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Sir John A. Macdonald's life story has been completed in one of the most important and interesting biographies that has been written about a Canadian—"The Old Chieftain" (MacMillan).

Donald Creighton, professor of history at the University of Toronto, began the story in 1932 with "The Young Politician," which won him the Governor-General's award for non-fiction that year.

The second volume opens at Confederation and reviews 24 momentous years until Sir John A's death in 1891.

In many ways it is a more human document than the earlier book, though the documentation is still meticulous. Some of its success in portraying the character of the many-sided Macdonald springs from Mr. Creighton's research in the diary of the second Lady Macdonald. She recorded the later years of the often-flippant, hard-drinking, astute politician with understanding and love.

SEARCHED ROYAL ARCHIVES

The 630-page, 250,000-word biography was written with the aid of grants from the University of Toronto, the Rockefeller Corporation and the Nuffield Foundation. Prof. Creighton found some of his most interesting material in the Royal Archives at Windsor Castle and in the family papers of noble families connected with the governing of Canada.

Prof. Creighton has written with sympathy of Macdonald's part in such almost-forgotten political controversies as the Pacific scandal, which caused the fall of the Macdonald government in 1872, and the Jesuit Estates Act, as well as the Riel Rebellion.

There is a touching account of Macdonald's death. He collapsed in a train at Toronto following a strenuous speaking tour of western Ontario. Back in Ottawa he struggled to carry on but two strokes left him completely paralyzed.

At his funeral there was a wreath of roses on his breast inscribed "From Her Majesty the Queen, in memory of her faithful and devoted servant."

FIRST NOVEL

"Judith Hearne," (Andre Deutsch Ltd.) first novel by a Montreal free-lance writer, has been receiving good reviews in Britain, where it was published early this summer, and in Canada.

The author, Brian Moore, is a 33-year-old native of Belfast who came to Canada in 1947. Belfast is the scene of his book which skilfully portrays the life — real and imaginary — of an impoverished Irish spinster trying to keep body and soul together on a far-to-small annuity.

"A writer worth watching," comments the Manchester Guardian in its review. "The book is a triumph," says the Sunday Times of London. Joan Walker, reviewing the novel in the Toronto Globe and Mail, says she feels the book has "two chapters too many" but adds the hope her criticism will be proved wrong by news next spring that Judith Hearn and her creator have been awarded the Governor-General's Medal for fiction.

BOOK FOR MOTHERS

Kate Aitken's new pocket volume "It's Fun Raising a Family," (Collins) is a guide for the care and training of children from birth to the sixth year. The versatile Toronto radio personality says in a foreword that it is a collection of practical information gathered "through a lifetime of "teaching children and raising my own family," as well as 20 years of broadcasting to women's audiences.

While not a medical book, it contains much general health information on mother and child, and advice on how to cope with all sorts of emergencies. Incidentally, it takes a lot of self-discipline on the part of parents to "properly care for the child without spoiling him."

Her previous books on beauty treatment, cooking, and etiquette, have sold more than 1,000,000 copies altogether. For the newest, Mrs. Aiken wrote the lyrics for five of Trevor Duncan's musical events, such as Christmas and birthday parties.

"The Sixth of June," Lionel Shapiro's novel published early in August, went on to be best-seller lists in New York. The former Montreal newspaper man's book about the London war ended eighth on the Herald-Tribune list, 10th on the New York Times, at mid-September.

TRUCK KILLS TOT

KILLALOE, Ont. (CP)—John Joseph Whalen, a Killaloe handworker fatally injured his 17-month-old daughter Marion as he backed a three-ton lumber truck out of his yard Tuesday. Killaloe is about 65 miles west of Ottawa.

LITTLE GIRL DIES AFTER STRAPPING

Charged with murder is Robert Randell of Woodstock, Ontario, shown with his wife, after his step-daughter Cynthia, died, apparently from the effects of a beating with a leather strap. Mrs. Randell, mother of Cynthia by a former marriage, sobbed as she said: "It was just a horrible, unfortunate accident."

Body of Cynthia Falconer, age four, was brought to the Woodstock hospital showing very severe bruises. Investigating her death, Police Sgt. Burk Moore said she died of a "corrective measure carried too far."

KILLED IN CRASH

LANCASTER, Ont. (CP)—Mrs. Mary Pennell, 64, of Honeoye, N.Y. was fatally injured in a two-car collision near here Tuesday. Lancaster is 45 miles southeast of Ottawa. Two of Mrs. Pennell's sisters, also injured in the crash, were taken to hospital in Cornwall. None of three persons in the other car involved was injured.

WHITE'S DISTRICT

White's Church Holds Rally Day Service

WHITE'S DISTRICT. — Rally Day service with the theme "Lord of the Lands, Make Canada Thine Own", was held at White's church on Sunday morning with a good attendance of parents, children and visitors. Mrs. Donald Bowers presided at the piano and Mr. Donald Bowers Jr., assisted the minister, Mr. Robert Percival with the service.

The choir rendered an anthem, "Lord of Our Birth". Messrs. Donald Bowers, Gary Jackson and Bruce Hunt read the Scriptures, Luke 10:25-37. The offering was taken by Messrs. Gary Jackson and Bruce Hunt and dedicated by Mr. Donald Bowers, superintendent.

PRAYER

Mr. Percival spoke to all on "Prayer" saying it was not for special occasions, or in times of trouble but for all times. Prayer to God was his main help before he made his final decision to go into the ministry.

The Misses Audrey Bowers and Sylvia Silham read a story "A Boy and His Alley". The story of new Canadians and how little Wilhelm gave his precious marble alley on the offering plate in place of money which he did not have.

Georgia Grandma Going Strong On $64,000 Question

NEW YORK (AP)—Myrt Power, a 70-year-old Georgia grandma with an encyclopedic knowledge of baseball, won $32,000 Tuesday night by rattling off the names of six players who piled up more than 3,000 hits in their careers.

Frowning with concentration, she named Cap Anson, Tris Speaker, Honus Wagner, Eddie Collins, Napoleon Lajoie and Paul Waner.

Ty Cobb, who holds the record with 4,191 hits in his baseball career, was named by the master ceremonies of the television show.

Next week Mrs. Power can win $64,000 or tak the $32,000 she loses she gets a consolation prize of an expensive automobile.

"No trouble with IRREGULARITY"

CHARGED WITH "WOLF-WHISTLE" MURDER

J. W. Milam (left) and his half-brother, Roy Bryant (right) are shown conferring with Sidney Carlton, one of their five attorneys, at Summer, Miss., where two men are on trial in the murder of Emmett Till, 15-year-old negro. Young Till was kidnapped after he allegedly "wolf whistled" at Bryant's wife. He was found later in a Mississippi creek shot to death. The men deny they had anything to do with the murder. Breaches of Municipal By-Laws Major Form Canada's Lawbreaking

OTTAWA (CP) — Lawbreaking, both major and petty, edged upwards last year in Canada's urban centres.

Police recorded 1,832,324 offences of all kinds in communities of more than 4,100 population, the bureau of statistics reported today in its annual summary of police statistics. The 1953 total was 1,719,171.

A big share were breaches of municipal by-laws, mostly parking violations. They totalled 1,303,543 as against 1,250,181 in 1953.

Sixty-six murders were reported last year, two more than the year before. There were 109 manslaughter cases, down three from 1953.

MORE ASSAULTS

But aggravated assault cases increased sharply to 1,638 from 938.

Police recorded 320,972 breaches of provincial laws—mostly traffic infractions—down from 357,179 in 1953. The total of offences under the Criminal Code and other federal statutes also decreased, to 1,033 from 101,594.

Thefts and burglaries of all kinds increased, however. Simple thefts rose to 75,222 from 65,653; burglaries to 22,403 from 21,083; auto thefts to 13,172 from 12,575, and robberies to 2,133 from 1,944.

Traffic prosecutions jumped to 2,001,416 from 1,773,452. The largest proportion were parking violations at 1,408,755, up from 1,240,881.

Impaired driving prosecutions rose to 8,886 from 8,190 while drunk driving prosecutions fell to 2,547 from 2,743. Prosecutions for reckless driving rose to 2,933 from 2,606.

Police in those municipalities investigated 162,788 traffic accidents — about the same as in 1953. Deaths and injuries were less—deaths down to 756 from 806 and injuries to 33,289 from 34,803. Also investigated were 324 drownings, five more than in 1953.

CAMPBELLFORD Hospital L.A. Welcomes New Superintendent

CAMPBELLFORD — The September meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Campbellford Memorial Hospital was held on Friday afternoon in the Auxiliary rooms with a large number present.

After the secretary's and treasurer's reports were given the president, Mrs. Fox welcomed the members and organizations present.

Mrs. E. Craighead gave her report on the purchasing of materials for the coming year. A large number of baby bootees were turned in.

Miss Wood, the new hospital superintendent, was welcomed by Mrs. Fox and gave a report on the hospital. She also expressed her pleasure in being associated with such a fine hospital.

Articles were turned in for the Fall Fair, and Mrs. A. McConnell and Mrs. Bateson were appointed to arrange them.

The annual bazaar will be held in the Masonic Temple on the second Saturday in December. This was discussed at some length.

Mrs. Ralph Locke was asked to purchase tulip bulbs and arrange shrubs for the grounds in front of the hospital.

The meeting closed in the usual manner and tea and sandwiches were served by groups 1 and 2.

New Witnesses Found in Slaying Of Negro Boy

By SAM JOHNSON

SUMNER, Miss. (AP)—New witnesses with "absolutely newly discovered evidence" will be on tap today when the state begins the task of trying to prove that two white men murdered a 14-year-old Negro boy.

Their evidence will strengthen the state's case, which is mostly circumstantial evidence, said Robert B. Smith III, a special assistant attorney-general assigned to the prosecution.

Smith and district attorney Gerald Chatham will call the state's first witnesses in the trial of 24-year-old Roy Bryant and his 36-year-old half-brother, J. W. Milam. They are accused of murdering Emmett Louis Till, a Chicago Negro boy who allegedly whistled at Mrs. Bryant.

Smith said field investigators talked to the witnesses through the early hours of today. At Tuesday night's press conference, he refused to answer a series of questions: How many witnesses, who they are, what they saw, witnessed the slaying, and whether their testimony would fill the gap reported between the time Till was taken from his uncle's home and the time his body was found in the Tallahatchie river.

DRAMATIC APPEARANCES

The new witnesses popped dramatically into the case Tuesday when Chatham got an afternoon halt in the trial to examine and question them.

Mrs. Mamie Bradley, the slain boy's mother, created a stir when she entered the courtroom Tuesday with her father and two other men.

She came without the official bodyguards she had requested.

Before leaving Chicago she had expressed some fear, but after arriving in Mississippi she said that no one had caused her any trouble. White spectators from the race-conscious area watched as reporters and photographers—white and Negro—crowded around the short, gray-suited mother.

SEGREGATED PRESS

She sat at a newly built table set aside for Negro reporters and photographers. They were segregated from other members of the press and worked Monday on a folding table.

Sheriff H. C. Strider, a jovial man who weighs 270 pounds, pushed his way through reporters to the witness chair to greet Mrs. Bradley.

"We are now in the state of Mississippi," he told her. "You will come under all rules of the state of Mississippi."

The subpoena made her a state witness in the trial of two store keepers accused of murdering her son.

BOOKED OVER CROWD

Mrs. Bradley fanned herself in the steamy room as questioning of prospective jurors began. Another man stood beside her chair, scanning the audience as if they expected trouble.

After a short time, they sat down, and the packed, hot standing room. Combined with persons who couldn't push in, the crowd totaled more than the 550 population of dusty Sumner.

Selection of the all-male, all-white jury ended at 1 p. m. EDT Tuesday. Chatham, a veteran of Mississippi juries, Negroes can be counted on the fingers of one hand, challenged no one, but Tallahatchie county has no qualified Negro voters.

Elephant Still Holed Up In Wooded Area

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP)—Vicki the elephant kept her 2,200 pounds hidden in the woods today, apparently content to graze in her newly found jungle paradise.

Vicki for the third straight day eluded a five-man search party that included Jack Reed, elephant expert with the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus. She escaped from a local amusement park 10 days ago.

Reed and others holed up in a jungle-like area six miles from downtown Charlotte. There's Kudzu—a choice grass for animals —growing in parts of the area. The wooded tract and Reed said Vicki apparently is content.

The first few days after Vicki escaped, huntsmen who beat the woods near the zoo got momentary glimpses of the six-year-old Indian elephant. They haven't been that fortunate since Reed arrived last Saturday.

CAUGHT IN GRIP OF "OPERATION ICEFIELD"

HMCS Labrador lies in an icefield, top, while preparations are made to blast a way through to more open water. She was beset in heavy pack ice, 15 to 20 feet thick, and under considerable pressure during current operations in the Arctic. Above, it was thought at one time that she would have to stay where she was until a turn in the tide and wind eased the pressure by natural causes. However, the Labrador's underwater diving crew managed to explode enough dynamite, above, to cause a crack in the ice which opened towards the ship. Six engines were quickly brought to the ready and the Labrador was under way again. (Central Press Canadian).

Grain and Businessmen Meet To Find Way of Moving Grain

WINNIPEG (CP)—Western grain oats, 268,700,000 of barley, 15,400,000 of rye and 22,200,000 of flax.

The combination of grain in store and the 1955 crop produces a sizeable mountain. But the movement of grain during the first two months of the 1955-56 crop year has not kept pace with production from Aug. 1 to Sept. 14. Canadian farmers marketed 38,000,000 of the five principal grains, compared to 52,200,000 during the same period last year.

Overseas clearances to Sept. 14 totalled 29,650,000, compared with 46,000,000 last year. Domestic use amounted to 22,890,000, against 26,000,000 last year.

The result is a bottleneck of grain at the Lakehead, eastern and Pacific coast elevators and prairie storage terminals.

It's certain the Canadian wheat board, the organization through which all of the country's wheat is marketed, will be a target for discussion at Saskatoon.

The board sets the quotas under which farmers deliver their grain to the elevators. At the present time no farmer is permitted to deliver more than the initial quota of 200 bushels of wheat, 400 of oats and 200 of barley and rye.

The federal government sets the initial prices which the board must pay for all wheat, oats and barley delivered to the board.

Western farm organizations have demanded action to move their grain surpluses into consumption but they don't want their grain sold at reduced prices.

Letter from Quebec Boy to Nehru Gets Action--A Young Elephant

MONTREAL (CP) — All that five-year-old Peter Mavrocek of Granby wanted for Christmas two years ago was an elephant. He didn't get it then, but he has it now.

Ambika, a three-year-old female elephant from southern India, arrived in Montreal yesterday for the Granby zoo, as a gift from Premier Nehru of India.

Peter had written to Premier Nehru, telling him Granby has a wonderful zoo and would the premier please send an elephant.

The premier wrote back:

"I am happy that a young and healthy elephant has been found to sail for Canada. It is really a gift from the children of India to the children of Canada and carries their good wishes."

Air Pollution Apathy Seen In Health Report

TORONTO (CP) — An Ontario health department report indicates the larger the city in which a man lives the more chance he has of dying of cancer of the respiratory system.

The report, prepared by Dr. A.H. Sellers, a departmental statistician, was submitted Tuesday to a meeting of the Ontario legislature select committee on air pollution and smoke control.

However, the report said there was no evidence at present indicating the relationship between air pollution and mortality in Ontario.

"There is seen to be some correlation between the respiratory cancer mortality for males and the proportion of its population residing in urban areas," the report said, "this correlation is not shown for females."

Asked to elaborate on the report, Dr. Sellers said there are many possible reasons for its findings. He suggested one might be air pollution, another social-environment, better chance of closer diagnosis in larger cities.

The report said studies made elsewhere have proved that electricity from lung cancer in England, Wales and Denmark is higher in urban areas than in rural.

Robert Macauley, Progressive Conservative member of the Ontario legislature for Toronto Riverdale, said automobile pollution and big industrial firms are the worst offenders in air pollution.

He said several large firms in Toronto once kept lobbyists at city hall to prevent smoke control legislation.

"They simply threatened the city that they would move away and Toronto would lose their taxes," he said.

When faced with the choice Toronto chose industry rather than lose assessment, he added.

Hurricane Hilda Toll in Mexico 266 Dead, Missing

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexico today counted a death toll from hurricane Hilda and the flooding Panuco river estimated unofficially at 266, with 100 others reported missing. Authorities still battled rising flood waters and the threat of epidemics.

At least 1,000 persons were reported injured. Thousands of homes were expected to mount, perhaps exceed, the 5,000 figure in Mexico's central and northeast gulf coast continued.

In isolated Tampico, focal point of the storm and flood damage, the main docks were under water, the railroad yards and marine buildings were on an island in the rising floodwaters from the Panuco river, and new areas were inundated hourly. The stricken city has a population of 110,000, thousands of whom were made homeless by the floods.

The Mexican airline (CMA), which operates radio-controlled Tampico's only communications link, flew out 60 persons from the city at Tampico's harbor and sank. Eight ocean-going vessels were damaged.

Hope for Early Settlement Of General Motors Strike

TORONTO (CP) — Negotiators planned to meet again today in an effort to settle contract differences involving 17,000 striking workers and get General Motors of Canada Ltd. into production.

Bargaining officials of the United Automobile Workers (CIO - CLC) and General Motors were to start meeting at 10 a.m. EDT. Three subsidiary farmers marketed 38,000,000 of the five principal grains, compared to 52,200,000 during the same period last year.

Overseas clearances to Sept. 14 totalled 29,650,000, compared with 46,000,000 last year. Domestic use amounted to 22,890,000, against 26,000,000 last year.

The result is a bottleneck of grain at the Lakehead, eastern and Pacific coast elevators and prairie storage terminals.

It's certain the Canadian wheat board, the organization through which all of the country's wheat is marketed, will be a target for discussion at Saskatoon.

The board sets the quotas under which farmers deliver their grain to the elevators. At the present time no farmer is permitted to deliver more than the initial quota of 200 bushels of wheat, 400 of oats and 200 of barley and rye.

The federal government sets the initial prices which the board must pay for all wheat, oats and barley delivered to the board.

Western farm organizations have demanded action to move their grain surpluses into consumption but they don't want their grain sold at reduced prices.

But the union insists that the company pay the entire cost of hospital-care and medical-plan coverage. The company says the union would require an additional five cents an hour in each employee's pay.

The UAW also wants more than the GM offer of two cents an hour for each worker to be paid into a fund to give extra wage increases to skilled workers. This would increase pay to the skilled groups by about six cents an hour.

The objective in today's talks was reported to be retention of the 12 cents-an-hour differential unique in Canada. More than half of the 17,000 workers are tradesmen or had been laid off prior to the strike deadline.

The laid-off workers will receive unemployment insurance benefits until not working and pending further dismissal, in compliance with federal law.

Only 100 workers were still on the job at Windsor at strike deadline and about two-thirds of the 10,000 employees at the big Oshawa works had been laid off.

John W. Livingston and E. S. Patterson of Detroit, leaders of the previous union negotiating team, were not expected to participate in today's talks. This leaves George Burt, Canadian director of the UAW, as chief.

Louis G. Seaton, also of Detroit, said Tuesday he would again lead the company team.

Campaign Against Obscenity Hits High Gear in Montreal; Two Weekly Tabloids Raided

MONTREAL (CP) — With four men arraigned on charges of libel and publication of obscene literature, Montreal's campaign against what Mayor Jean Drapeau has described as "salacious literature," has reached high gear.

The editors of two weekly tabloids, a reporter and a distributor have already been arraigned on either one or both of the charges and will appear for preliminary hearing within a week. A warrant Tuesday was issued for the arrest of the editor and publisher of a third magazine.

The arrests followed separate raids on the French - language weekly Nouvelles et Potins last Friday and on the English-language weekly Midnight two days ago. Police seized office documents and copies of both tabloids.

SEEK PUBLISHER

A third summons has been issued against Imprimerie Hebdo, which published Nouvelles et Potins, Midnight and the periodical Hebdo, and police are seek'ng Serge Brousseau, 45, editor and publisher of Hebdo, for allegedly publishing obscene material.

Ordered to appear for preliminary hearing Sep. 27 are Jacques Hebert, 42, scribbling editor of Nouvelles and a member of the Quebec board of censors, charged with libel; John Yader, 35, editor of Midnight, "for publishing obscene literature"; and Samuel Goldwerman, 28, of Canadian News Company, "for distributing obscene literature."

The editor of Nouvelles, Gaston Miron, 38, will have preliminary hearing Sept. 23 on charges of publishing libelous and obscene material. The libel charges result from an article criticizing vice-busting Pacifique (Pax) Plante, assistant police director, and allegedly libelling Lieut. Armand Courval of the morality squad.

HAS FRESH ATTACK

Meanwhile, the latest issue of Nouvelles et Potins — it has docu-mentary proof for fresh criticism of Mayor Drapeau and Mr. Plante.

Mayor Drapeau's announcement of a crackdown on all pornography — "obscenity cannot be doubled" has received wide support from other municipalities in the province.

PRIVATE CAMPAIGN

One alderman in suburban St-Laurent started a private campaign when he used $7.20 from his own pocket to buy a copy each of two Toronto-published weekly tabloids from newsstands in the south shore municipality.

Alderman Yvan Joyal said he thought the material published them among other council members "so we can see what we're up against."

Support came officially and officiously from Montreal's suburbs and in such widely-separated towns as Lachine, Beaconsfield, Sherbrooke, Ville LaSalle and Greenfield Park.

SHOOTING OF NEGRO BOY STIRS UP RACIAL PROBLEM

The murder of Emmett L. Till, above, a 14-year-old Negro boy from Chicago, who was visiting his uncle in Sumner, Miss., when he was killed, has stirred up racial problem in southern state. The youngster was found shot to death in river near Sumner several days after he had been taken from the home of his uncle, Mose Wright, a tenant farmer. In the dead of night. He had been badly beaten before he was killed.

Flash Reporter to Be Called On Show Cause Warrant; Parade of Detectives Heard

By BRUCE LEVETT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

VANCOUVER (CP) — The official-adjourned Tupper commission into the conduct and administration of Vancouver's 750-man police force has been adjourned again.

It will reconvene here Friday, marking the 28th sitting, with reporter Ray Munro on the stand to show cause why he should not be "committed for contempt."

The 27th day of the marathon hearings was occupied with testimony by several detectives, former police officer and a police magistrate.

It ended with R. H. Tupper ordering an adjournment and declaring Mr. Munro must be called on a show cause warrant on Friday.

Mr. Munro and Flash, the Toronto weekly tabloid for which he works, were cited for contempt because of an editorial early in the hearings. No penalty was ordered at the time.

Last week, T. G. Norris resigned as counsel for police chief Walter Mulligan. He had Mr. Munro called to answer questions about an article in Flash which Mr. Norris said "blackmailed" him on his private life.

When the reporter declined to answer "on the ground that it might incriminate me," the lawyer called him "a cowardly rat." Mr. Tupper ordered a warrant be sworn requiring Mr. Munro show cause why he should not be dealt with for contempt on the earlier offence.

The parade Tuesday of detectives —each of whom said he had never so much as heard rumors of bribes being offered policemen—prompted Mr. Tupper to say:

"I must confess, I am somewhat surprised at the purity of our underworld."

At one point Tuesday, Mr. Tupper said to Det. Bill Dumaresq:

"You have been 22 years on the police force. Have you ever heard of anyone attempting to fix a ticket?"

"No, sir . . . There was the odd case of a traffic officer . . .

"Have you ever heard of bribes being offered on other things?"

"No," the officer said, "I've never heard of that."

"Then," replied the commissioner, "our underworld must be incorruptible in that regard."

Next week, Mr. Tupper said, he would like to hear John G. (Jay) Gould's cross-examination of witnesses. Mr. Gould now represents Mr. Norris as chief Mulligan's counsel.

He has still to cross-examine Det. Sgt. Robert Leatherdale, who said the chief offered him a sergeancy for a pledge of engaging in graft and that he declined.

Det. George Kitson, who said he quit the gambling squad after hearing of pay-offs.

Insp. John Dunn, passed over in traffic department controversy.

Helen Elizabeth Douglas, who said she and chief Mulligan had a five-year association from 1944 to 1949 and that he gave her a diamond ring presents and took her on a cross-country trip to a Montreal police chiefs' convention.

Magistrate Gordon Scott, police prosecutor during the period in 1949 Vancouver's licensing agency was taken by police, testified he was instructed by former chief of police commission at the time and left the matter up to it.

He told Mr. Tupper that prosecution of prostitutes and vagrants who had appeared before the agency.

Solar Battery Powers Phones

NEW YORK (AP)—Bell Telephone Laboratories announced today that its new solar battery, which converts energy from the sun, will be used to power a rural telephone system near Americus, Ga., for the first time on Oct. 4.

The solar battery, unveiled last spring by Bell Labs, will generate enough power to operate eight phones. Mounted atop a telephone pole, it will generate up to 10 watts of electricity every morning from the sun shines. Since the circuit, of which the eight phones are a part, requires only one watt, the surplus will go into storage batteries mounted on the pole for use after sunset.

500 Educators Open Convention

QUEBEC (CP) — The annual convention of the Canadian Education Association opened here Tuesday, with some 500 delegates from all parts of Canada in attendance.

Provincial Financial Minister Onesime Gagnon, speaking in French and English, said Quebec's dual education system has safeguarded the rights, traditions and cultures of both the English-and French-speaking residents of Quebec province. He regretted that English-speaking Canadians have failed to grasp the contribution which the system had made to Canadian society.

The system illustrates the possibilities of "constructive co-operation when the rights of majority and minority are respected," Mr. Gagnon said.

DOUBLE HAWGTOWN?

TORONTO (CP)—A town planning expert says Toronto will grow so rapidly in the next 50 years that it will join with Hamilton, Gordon Stephenson, 47, newly appointed professor of regional and town planning at the University of Toronto, also predicted the city will grow in size in the next few years.

Fisheries Minister On Way Home

VANCOUVER (CP)—A 24-month Asian journey, during which he spent 60 days behind the Iron Curtain and suffered a painful injury in an accident, will end Saturday when Canada fisheries minister, James Sinclair, returns home.

Now in Hong Kong, Mr. Sinclair said in a long-distance telephone interview Tuesday he expected to see his wife and family for the first time for Vancouver via Canadian Pacific Airlines, when he is scheduled to arrive here Saturday.

"I'm making a good recovery," he said. "I can get about 25 yards at a time now."

Mr. Sinclair said minister started on his tour of the Soviet Union early in June for fishery talks and also visited Red China.

WAS BADLY HURT

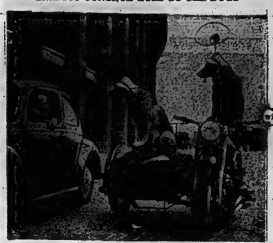
He confirmed reports he was hurt in a severe recovery in a fall Aug. 4 from a 20-foot scaffolding that collapsed at the time from Russia indicated.

He had conveyed across the Chinese border Monday in a sedan chair, after visiting Peiping, Shanghai and Canton.

"I received very kind treatment in Russia and in China," said Mr. Sinclair.

He said he was "quite impressed" by the social and industrial progress he found in Russia and China, although "not hopeful" for a relaxation of tension between Communist countries and the free world.

GIRL IS DROWNED



PALMERS RAPIDS, Ont. (CP) — A three-year-old girl, Donita Easton, was drowned Tuesday at this hamlet 60 miles southwest of Pembroke, Ont. Police said she slipped off a wharf into the Madawaska river while playing.

Find Two Skulls, Believed Those Of Missing Pair

KAMLOOPS, B. C. (CP)—Discovery of two weathered human skulls has reopened a missing-person' case involving a desperado who took poison last year in Ontario to cheat the gallows.

RCMP reported Monday night that the remains—one of the skulls had a bullet hole through it—were found Sunday by hunters in a creek bottom 10 miles northwest of this Interior British Columbia city.

They said they believe the find solves the disappearance nearly three years ago of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Labrie, a young couple who had been living in a Kamloops auto court with desperado Henry Seguin.

The Labries disappeared in November, 1952. Three months later police questioned Seguin after learning that he had stayed with the couple in Kamloops.

Seguin was in the penitentiary, serving a term for the attempted murder of a bank manager in a holdup at Williams Lake, B. C., and Ontario authorities wanted him on a charge of murder.

SEARCH HALTED

Seguin admitted he stayed with the couple but denied any knowledge of their disappearance. He said Labrie left Kamloops for "a new job somewhere" and that Mrs. Labrie moved from the suburban auto court into town.

Investigations reached a dead end when winter snow halted an intensive search of the Kamloops area for any trace of the couple.

Seguin was handed over to Ontario authorities to face a charge of murder in the death at Maxville, Ont., of businessman Leonard Hurd, found in one of his taxis on a sideroad Aug. 28, 1952. He had been robbed of about $1,700. There were three bullet holes in his head and two in his chest.

TOOK POISON

Seguin, a 28-year-old laborer, became a hunted man when a zipper bag containing army discharge papers in his name was found in the rear seat of Hurd's car. He was arrested at Williams Lake.

He was convicted of the Hurd slaying Oct. 27, 1953, at Cornwall and was sentenced to be hanged Jan. 19. An hour before the scheduled execution he took his own life with poison.

NATIVE INDIANS

Three Treaty Indians At General Synod

EDMONTON (CP)—Three men who attended the general synod of the Anglican Church of Canada here would surprise anyone who still thinks of a vanishing Indian with a vocabulary built on "Ugh."

The three, all treaty Indians born on reserves, are Canon Edward Ahenakew, Canon Ahab Spence and Rev. Stanley Cuthand.

Mr. Cuthand told the synod: "I am no different from my fellow Canadians. I do not want any special privileges for native Indians. We want to accept our responsibilities—economic and spiritual."

Characteristic of the three is Canon Spence, A Cree Indian, born on the Split lake reserve in Manitoba, he was educated at the Indian residential school at The Pas and later at Ehbens residential school. He graduated from the University of Saskatchewan with a bachelor of arts degree, and earned his theology degree at Emmanuel College, Saskatoon.

Ordained in 1931, he now serves one Indian congregation and four white congregations in the Little Pine reserve area in Saskatchewan.

Canon Ahenakew, also a Cree, is a missionary at Fort la Corne, Sask. He was ordained deacon in 1910 and priest in 1912. He was educated at Wycliffe College, Toronto, and Emmanuel College. The latter recently awarded him the degree of doctor of divinity in recognition of his work among his people.

His present mission is on a reservation of 600 Crees, mostly farmers with some trappers. He has occupied the mission for 25 years.

Indians Shake Slump, Cling Desperately To Slim Hope Of Winning Flag

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

LOOKING THEM OVER . . .

In the acquisition of five Peterborough players, the Belleville senior "B" club (Gad, when will they tab it with a name?) has taken into its puckchasing bosom a quintet of the most potent point-getters to wear the Littlock colors last hockey semester.

Heading the bevy of puckdunkers is Chum Fryia, who came up with 55 goals last season after netting a neat forty in 1954. Chum also had 32 assists for a seasonal total of 87 points. Bill Bill scored 23 for the last-place Petes in 1954, having 26 helpers for 49 points. Bill McMasters and Gus Leonard each had eleven goals with Bill helping 17 times and Gus 27. Theodis Grenslaw scored 19 goals and came up with eleven assists, but, it must be remembered, he only played part of the season.

The Peterborough five collectively scored 99 goals and 102 assists out of the entire Petes' output of 173 goals and 192 helpers.

Gus Leonard, who is well known to Belleville fans as a player of the gentlemanly type. He garnished the penalty box for only two minutes during the 1953 campaign and last season suffered duranss rule for 13 minutes. He is a good scorer and playmaker, plays centre or defence and is a veteran of the Trent Valley hockey wars, who used to get his mail in Marmore when he was a youngster.

Chummy Fryia, who headed muchacho, calls his own home town Bill William but has lived in Peterborough for a goodly number of years. In his younger days he starred with the Petes juniors. Chum is next to "poison" in front of the goal, historically all the goalies will testify. He is a fast breaker, a tricky stickhandler, and knows how to sink the rubber.

Bert Hill is a veteran centre player, hard-working and very effective. He is an ex-Eagle who buried the inter-city hatchet and joined the Petes. Bert helped the Eagles win the provincial title the year of the big "scandal."

Now comes Bill McMaster. If there's a guy who loves to mix matters it is this big colorful, hard-hitting defenceman who went to the mat on more than one occasion last season with Whitby's bruising playing coach Bus Gagnon. Bill has a terrific shot, prefers the "villain" part with the fans and is a westerner who believes in "smile when you call me names, pocket" Bill had a taste of overseas hockey before joining the Petes, playing with a club in the Scottish League.

Bill, it will be recalled, playfully bit a chunk out of Gagnon's ear last season, or so goes the story, and in a later game went charging in to mix matters again with the Whitby coach. Gagnon drew a three-game suspension over that deal.

Then there's the colorful, fast-stepping Teodie Greenlaw, who is a sniper of more than passing (to us intend. ed) ability. Teodie, like Bert Hill, is an ex-Eagle and is well known to Belleville fans. He has a long way to go before he reaches the hockey "hump" and is regarded as one of the best wingers in the group. Belleville can use a guy like Teodie.

The quintet should add a decided scoring punch as well as defensive action to the Belleville club. Mix the Belleville players well with the Petes, garnish with two or three imports, stuff with a quota of recognized ability, and the Old Lady of the Moira should come up with a puck dish that should do right nobly during the coming winter struggles.

It is rumored along the hockey railtos that the management is in touch with the Duncan duo, also defenceman Hub Macey, but nothing definite on the matter has been released as yet. Ted DeCray is the storm centre of some verbal clodoes between the Belleville and Whitby managements but the workings of that business is still in the dark.

Doug Murray, signed by Baldy Cotton last season, leaves October 5 for Barrie where he will try out with the Junior "A" squad . . . . Bob Temple's Bobcoats trek to Madoc tomorrow night where they meet the village squad in the first game of the "A" A" playoffs. Probably back here Saturday . . . Saturday is the big test for Point Anne when the Ox Pointers tangle with the strong Waterloo Seagrams team in the first game of the OASA Industrial Intermediate playoffs. The second game is set for Waterloo a week hence. The Pointers are deserving of the breaks but they'll have to be at their best to cop this first important tussle. The game is being played at the Point starting four p.m. . . . And a little bleacher support would do wonders for the Phil Lott-Johnny Elliott crew . . . . Attention, fans, who clip the senior "B" schedule: "Insert after 'Sunday, Oct. 16' in the Belleville HOME games, 'Friday, 25, Brockville' . . . . In the general schedule Belleville is slated to play at Brockville on Friday, November 25. Efforts are being made to change this date to Saturday, Nov. 26, in view of the fact the Belleville club is playing at Cornwall the following Sunday . . . . Rumour has it that Levandoski, who tossed baseballs for Kingston in the COBL and last winter played for Providence in the American League, will be wearing a Goodyear uniform this winter . . . . Here's a tip for you young baseball fans. Don't miss the picture "This is the Little League", showing at the Belle Theatre today and Thursday. The film shows the selection of boys for juvenile games, playing the games, winding up with the little world series with a Canadian team taking part. And it would not be a bad idea for some of you minor baseball coaches to sit in on the picture. It will be well worth your while. See it, fellas . . . . Doug Hull, star hockey and diamond athlete hops off the deep end this week-end. Doug is taking unto himself a beautiful bride on Saturday. Congratulations, Dougie, from all of us.

$25,000 IF KILLER CAUGHT

NEW YORK (AP)—Executors of the estate of Serge Rubinstein Monday offered a $25,000 reward for evidence leading to conviction of his killer or killers. Rubinstein, colorful financial figure and international man of mystery, was found strangled in his luxurious Fifth Ave. mansion last Jan. 27 City.

Oust Chisox With 3-2 Win Must Win Rest and Hope; Yankees Need Three of Five

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Just a few days ago Casey Stengel said the New York Yankees had to win all their remaining 10 games to win the American League pennant. Now they can wrap it up by winning three out of five.

It might not take even that much effort by the Yanks. Any combination of New York victories and-or defeats by second-place Cleveland totalling three will do it.

Still, the Yankees don't have it in hands down. They've won seven straight, matching their longest success streak of the season, and have gained three games on the Indians in the important "lost" column—last night's 7-2 in the nightcap. Four New York relielers paraded to the mound to save starter Whitey Ford's 18th victory as the Nats scored six times in the last two innings.

Cleveland, which went into a four-game set with Boston averaging a pair from Washington, finally shook the slump with a 3-2 decision over Chicago as Bob Feller officially fell out of the race.

The Indians, with four games left—another at Chicago tonight, then three at Detroit—have to win ten all and be sure.

Washington caught Ford by surprise in the eighth inning. The rubby southpaw had a four-hitter going and had retired 13 in order. Then Ford walked a man and pinch-hitter Jim Lemon, just up from Chattanooga, whipped a home run and the Nats were up on their hindlegs.

It took Gary Coleman, Jim Konstanty, Gerry Staley and finally Tommy Byrne to get 'em back on the leash.

FOOR FIELDING

Carlos Paula, Washington right fielder, pestered the Yanks into their big lead with some shabby fielding. The rookie played an outline liner into a double in a three-run Yank third. Then he kicked a baseloaded single into a three-run blow and misplayed a hard liner into a triple in a six-run seventh.

The first game was easier for the Yanks, although starter Don Larsen didn't last long. He got the second inning. Reliefer Tom Morgan, with help from Konstanty, got the decision. The Yanks scored three in the first off Mary Grissom and then scored the clincher in the third as Hank Bauer doubled and moved across on two long flies.

Cleveland hung on as Early Wynn turned a little trick into his 17th victory with some dandy clutch work. Bobby Avila tripled home two runs to break a 1-1 tie in the sixth and beat Billy Pierce.

The Sox, who were out win or lose when the Yanks won two, mulfed a ninth inning chance that collected just one run. Two bad runners on first and third with two out, Chico Carrasquel hit into a double play. Then, with runners on first and second and two out, George Kell popped up to end it.

BALTIMORE TAKES 2

Detroit beat Kansas City 7-3 and Baltimore, leaving Washington alone in the cellar, made it six straight with a 9-7 win over Boston. The Red Sox now have lost six straight.

In the National, Brooklyn took two from Philadelphia 6-3 and 4-3. Frank Kellert and George Shuba belted homers off the Phils' Robin Roberts. Robin, who lost his 13th against 23 victories, has given up 40 gopher balls—breaking by one the major league mark set by Murry Dickson with St. Louis in 1946.

Willie Mays hit his 49th and 50th home runs as the New York Giants took two from Pittsburgh 11-1 and 11-4—giving Willie seven homers in six consecutive games to match a major league mark.

Milwaukee climbed Cincinnati 7-0 and St. Louis beat Chicago 2-0 in the other NL games.

Wings, Millers Meet in Series

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—The 1955 little world series opens here tonight with the International League's fourth-place Rochester Red Wings opposing Bill Rigney's Minneapolis Millers, champions of the American Association.

Red Wing manager Dixie Walker has nominated his ace righthander, Duke Markell. He will be opposed by Al Worthington, the Millers' No. 1 hurler. The first three games of the best-of-seven series will be played here before the series shifts to Minneapolis for the remaining contests.

The Millers, winners of eight straight in the Association playoffs, are making their second little world series appearance. They lost to Newark, four games to two in 1953. Rochester has split the last post season finales in which it has participated, winning last in 1952 against Kansas City.

Stamp Injuries Not Serious

CALGARY (CP) — Officials of Calgary Stampeder Football Club breathed a little easier today when they learned none hurt during Monday night's game with the B.C. Lions were not as severely injured as first feared.

Quarterback Don Klosterman, carried off on a stretcher with cracked, is suffering from a badly wrenched back. He will not be able to play in Saturday's game against Edmonton Eskimos.

Quarterback Bill Stevenson is suffering from a painful but not serious hip injury. He will play Saturday night.

Import end Willie Roberts suffered a sprained ankle.

They'll Do It Every Time

By Jimmy Hatlo

Fight Notes

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—In the opinion of Ezzard Charles, an expert if ever there was one, the one-day postponement in the heavyweight championship bout between King Rocky Marciano and Archie Moore will hurt the challenger more.

"I think Moore will be worse for one," said Charles, who beat Archie three times, then lost twice to Marciano. "He has more imagination than Rocky."

That's a new way of putting it.

There is considerable talk going around that if Marciano wins, he'll retire. One of his close advisers said he wants to quit, that he's tired of the rugged training and life of a hermit that he must live while preparing for a fight, and that he has a half-million dollars in the bank.

With conservative estimates, he'd get a minimum of about $15,000 a year for life, the adviser said.

If Marciano decides to call it quits, the heavyweight division will be in sad shape. The only promising heavy is Floyd Patterson, the ex-Olympic champion, and he's a year or two away.

International Boxing Club president Jim Norris has his problems, too. Consider:

"Four different guys called me insisting they get good seats because they were bringing the governor of their state. If all of them are right, the governor must want to lie down."

Moore had his usual gem when asked how the postponement would affect him.

"One day is a little piece of 20 years," he commented, apparently referring to the length of time he has spent in the ring.

FISH FIGHTS BACK

DENISON, Tex. (AP) — Fisherman Joe Hibreath of Denison dragged a 20-pound gar out of nearby Little Mineral lake into his boat. The gar showed its displeasure by clamping its powerful jaws on Hibreath's leg. Hibreath finally got back to the dock with the fishing plug, the gar and his leg all firmly hooked together.

Odds On Rocky Jump To 19-5 Following Day Postponement; May Increase

Predict Fair Cool Evening For Battle of Champions; Moore Is Tense, Rocky Cool

BY MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—Heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano, an old hand at postponements, became a heavier favorite over Archie Moore for his 15-round title defense tonight light heavyweight champ Archie Moore in Yankee Stadium tonight.

Two odds favoring the all-conquering, 31-year-old Brockton Bomber lengthened to 19-5 following the one-day setback caused by hurricane Jone's hollow threat. The odds may jump another point or two by the time the contestants climb into the ring for the 10:45 p.m. (EDT) showdown.

"No Moore money has showed" said one bookmaker in explaining the rise. "As a betting-fight this one has fizzled out like Ione."

HERE FAIR WEATHER

With the gusty gal safely away from New York, forecasters predicted a fair and cool evening, just about perfect for the battle of champions.

Three other reasons may have influenced the increasing swing to Marciano. At the weigh-in ceremony Tuesday afternoon, the unbeaten and well poised Moore appeared grim and tense while Marciano was his usual self, cool and relaxed.

Then, Rocky has been through this scrambling waiting period before. His return bout with Ezzard Charles was postponed twice last September and when they finally got in there, Rocky bombed out old Ez in the eighth round.

Weight is the other factor. The 30-year-old challenger scaled 185, about three pounds more than he had been expected to carry. Moore tipped the beam at 183, about a pound more than he had aimed at. There will be no further weighin unless the weather kicks up again and another postponement until Thursday.

CONTRASTS WITH VALDES

Some observers felt that ancient Archie would have been better off if he was closer to 180 even though he tested only 178 when he whipped Cuba's Nino Valdes on May 2 in 15 rounds. But the Ancient giant's lackadaisy-time style is in sharp contrast to the relentless pace Rocky normally sets, a fast pressure on Archie's legs is going to be terrific.

The opinion here is that the old-timer's legs and body will yield to Rocky's fresh strength and power punching within five rounds. Archie is a better boxer and a sharper hitter, but Rocky has met his type before in Jersey Joe Walcott and Ezzard Charles and his record is a gawdy 45-0. You can't fault success.

Hiding a winning streak of 21, Moore has a 120-116 record.

Usually a postponement hurts a gate but this fight seems almost certain to benefit.

"We've refunded about $5,900 by late evening and sold about $6,000," said Harry Markson, promoter Jim Norris' able aide. "We had close to $700,000 in before the postponement and I'm confident we'll do at least $750,000 and maybe much more."

In addition, the delay gave the theatre network people a chance to add a theatre in Los Angeles to the hookup, making a total of 129, along with veterans hospitals in which will receive the closed circuit telecast.

Trabert Gets $80,000 Offer To Turn Pro

LOS ANGELES (AP) — U. S. tennis champion Tony Trabert admitted Tuesday he has received an attractive offer—reported to be $80,000—to turn professional for Jack Kramer.

Kramer added that he has also made offers to Australia's Davis Cup champions, Lewis Hoad and Ken Rosewall.

Trabert, Cincinnati's U.S and Wimbledon singles king, who is playing in the Pacific southwest tournament here, said:

"Yes, I have had an offer from Kramer. I'm not in a position to say what it was, and as yet I have not come up with any decision."

Trabert admitted that the idea of "quick money" was something to think over in regard to the security of his wife and family.

Blake Develops Punch Line For Canadiens

MONTREAL (CP)—Coach Toe Blake made a change in forward lines at Montreal Canadiens' training camp Tuesday and the new combination came through with nine goals in a practice game.

Blake took Jackie Leclair and Dickie Moore from the line with which Maurice (Rocket) Richard has been working and gave the veteran centre Floyd Curry Ken Mosdell and Dick Gamble as mates. Leclair has been slow rounding into shape and the move was pleased with the back-checking efforts of the new line.

Atkins Ready For Hated Vons

"It will be different come Friday night" growled tough, rough Fred Atkins, 175, Welsh team mate Doug Hepburn in the tag-team bout with the hated Vons Ketch and Schober at Memorial Arena Friday night. "I was robbed last week by that referee — but this time they're using a pair. Let 'em! I can whip all of 'em."

Mr. Atkins was put out no end after the contest last week when referee Ketch demanded a rematch. He clobbered the Vons but good and didn't appreciate a repeat performance. Should be a thriller with in all probability six men in the ring at once.

Also on hand will be Lionel Ballard, Tiger Jim Tomay O'Toole and Pat Finley and Frank Thompson.

Bob Goldham Only Red Wing Out of Fold

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (CP)—Detroit Red Wings Tuesday announced the signing of two more players, leaving only veteran defenceman Bob Goldham out of the fold.

No contract difficulties are expected with the 32-year-old rearguard, one official of the club said, and the Red Wings did not consider him a holdout.

May Emulate Pennsylvania Boxing Code

NEW YORK (AP) — A special committee of the National Boxing Assn. has agreed to meet in Harrisburg, Pa., sometime in December to work out a nationwide boxing code modeled on Pennsylvania's new law.

The committee Tuesday accepted an invitation from Pennsylvania Gov. George M. Leader to meet with the Pennsylvania captain.

The NBA committee was set up last month at Leader's suggestion during the NBA's annual meeting in Detroit.

James Crowley, chairman of the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission, is to work out details for the December meeting. The Pennsylvania boxing code gives the state boxing commission much tighter control over boxers, managers and promoters and also over televised fights originating in the state.

Develops New 'Ice Boot' For Athletes

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—University of Utah trainer Walt Delland has developed what he calls a "portable boot" to give ice immediate treatment to athletes who sprain ankles in athletic competition.

Deland Tuesday described the treatment this way:

"I bring the boot on the field with water in the bottom and add ice cubes. Then I shoe off the injured player an assistant is filling the boot with water from a quart or so of ice cubes.

"I put a light bandage over the foot and immerse the foot in the water. The pocket on the side has a drawstring, which allows the ice water to drip on the injured ankle.

"The injured player swishes his foot around in the water and this helps the water to circle over the ice and down over the ankle again. With this cold wet treatment I can reduce by one-half the time lost by an athlete with a sprained ankle."

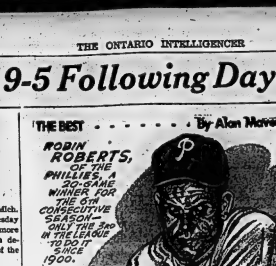
Deland said he has applied for a patent.

Blues Trounce Aggies 39-0

TORONTO (CP) — Coach Bob Masterson unveiled his 1955 University of Toronto Blues Tuesday with a 39-0 victory over Ontario Agricultural College Aggies in an exhibition football game.

The way in which Blues, one of the finalists in the senior Intercollegiate Football Union this season, handled the intermediate Aggies from Guelph didn't answer any questions about their strength.

"It's hard to tell anything from a game like that," Masterson said. "The Aggies were supposed to have a strong team, but we handled them pretty easily."



Masterson was impressed with the blocking. It was completely a ground game. Blues completed only nine of 18 passes. Three of their touchdowns came off the passes.

EACH SCORED TWO

Flying wing Gerry Lansky and end Burt Kellock each scored two majors, fullback Phil Muntz and halfback Jack Rogers one each. Pete Malik converted all six and added a 19-yard field goal.

Blues were up 12-0 after the first quarter, 18-0 at the half, and 32-0 after three quarters

Ed Skrzypek turned in the steadier game at quarterback in his personal duel with Harry Wilson for the starting job. Skrzypek completed six of 10 throws for 140 yards and revealed a versatility in directing off passing formations. Wilson clicked with three of eight passes, for 76 yards.

Orfuns Win City Title, Ott Trophy Defeat Point Anne Three Straight

BY GEO. H. CARVER
(Sports Editor)

Behind the sterling chucking of Bobby Hunter and a brilliant two-way exhibition by shortstop Dougie Hull, Orfuns Grocerite Orfuns moved to a 9-1 win over the injury-riddled Point Anne team last night to win the city softball championship and Ott Trophy.

The Orfuns took the best-of-five series with three straight victories winning the first two games by narrow scores. The Cams came up with an outstanding display both afield and at bat to clinch the deciding contest.

Hunter was at his best. He allowed three hits, two of them doubles but widely scattered. Elliott and Phil Gilmour connected for the two basers with Reg Mallory hitting a first innings single. Ironically Hunter committed the only Orfuns' error when he threw wide to first allowing the lone Point run to score.

The Point-leaders after whiffed six and walked but one. With his team playing flawless ball behind him, spaced by the brilliant Hull, Hunter turned back 18 of 19 batters in the first six innings. Only 32 Point hitters faced him over the nine innings route.

Veteran Pat Maracle gave up 18 clouts to the hot Orfuns, one of them a home run by Manager Batchelor. Hull spearheaded the Orfuns' attack with four for four, a triple, two singles and a walk. Batchelor added a single, two-bagger while Barclay and Davy Jones contributed a brace of singles each. Bromley and Hunter, with a double, and Hunter also connected safely.

Phil Elliott and Gilmour hit doubles to lead off the sixth and ninth innings respectively, but Hunter retired the next three batters easily with both occasions. Jones kicked off with a trio in the first innings thanks to Batchelor's fine stop, and Batchelor's four bagger. They added singles in the second and third and a pair each in the fifth and sixth.

The Pointers' lone run came in the second innings. Green was tossed out and Whalen drew a walk. Hunter threw Bennett out then bobbled Forwood's grounder to the mound. The pitcher however, Hull past first base scoring Whalen.

Maracle struck out two and walked one, but his team played loosely in the field behind him committing no less than five errors. In fairness to the Pointers they fielded only nine men. Jake Wade has aggravated an injured ankle. They had men in scoring position but twice after the second innings, once in the sixth when Elliott doubled and again in the ninth when Gilmour hit a two bagger and went to third on a wild pitch. Hunter took care of them and the rest.

Hector Lalonde Looks Good To Coach Irvin

WELLAND (CP)—Coach Dick Irvin of Chicago Black Hawks derived considerable pleasure Tuesday from the way some of the "name" players in camp were finding their form.

Metro Prystai is going very well and working hard, while Gus Mortson and Frank Martin are well into their stride on defence, Irvin said. "Top Leswick was just as feisty as he was in the final games last season."

One of the rookies who looked good to Irvin Tuesday was Hector Lalonde, a forward who starred for the Galt team in the OHA junior A series.

May Change Basketball Rule

TORONTO (CP)—A major amateur basketball rule change may be in the offing, Wilf A. Crowley, secretary-treasurer of the Ontario Amateur Basketball Association, announced Tuesday.

Mr. Crowley said it is likely a new 12-foot free throw lane will be adopted at the OABA's annual meeting in Sarnia, Catharines and Galt.

At the moment a six-foot lane is in operation. Main reason for the proposed change, he said, is to take some of the advantage from the tall player. If the 12-foot lane is adopted, all amateur floors will need to be relined to meet specifications.

Another item on the annual meeting's agenda is a proposed affiliation with the Canadian Federation of Secondary Schools Athletics Association, the first step would bring all Ontario high school basketball under OABA jurisdiction.

Also under discussion will be plans for Ontario's participation in the Canada playoffs to decide the Canadian Olympic representatives.

Gaels Edge St. Lawrence U.

CANTON, N.Y. (AP) — Queen's University of Kingston, Ont. edged St. Lawrence University 12-7 Tuesday in the opening game of SLU's football season.

The teams were tied 6-6 at the end of the first half, played under American rules. In the second half, played under C a n a d i a n rules, Queen's scored a point on a rouge and an unconverted touchdown.

Mustangs Will Win Crown But Not Easily, Says Metras

BY BOB GAGE
Canadian Press Correspondent

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Coach Johnny Metras says the 1955 Western Ontario Mustangs will be worthy successors to Mustang teams that won six championships in the last nine years of the senior Intercollegiate Football Union.

But he won't come right out and say Mustangs are a cinch to take the crown this time. He expects too much trouble from the other three clubs in the union—Queen's Golden Gaels, Toronto Varsity Blues and Montreal's McGill Redmen.

He has 19 holdovers from the 1954 squad that went all the way to the playoff finals before losing the Galt team in the OHA junior A series.

Although Metras has lost two outstanding players—quarterback Don Getty and half Glen Fracas — he has picked up some able replacements.

TO TIGATS

Fracas, leading scorer in the league last year and all-star halfback in the Canadian Press poll for the straight season, graduated to Hamilton Tiger-Cats of the Big Four Union this year.

Getty, also an all-star in 1954, is a quarterback with Edmonton Eskimos in the Western Interprovincial Football Union.

Gone over Getty's spot in the lineup will be Willis Casanova, a triple-threat back who played high school football at Windsor Patterson. Casanova was out of football for two years while he took a whirl at professional 'baseball in the New York Yankees chain.

Willie probably will work with John Girvin, a backfielder and quarter last season. Girvin s Getty operated together last year in Mustangs' new diamond-T f mation.

HIGH SCHOOL HOPE

The vacancy left by Fracas' d parture will be filled by Don Aitchison, a rugged 200-pound bas who played high school ball Mitchell, Ont. He played most last season with the intermediat but moved up to Mustangs for t final against Toronto.

The strongest part of the tea appears to be the line. Ted Collis of Leonidos, 1955 captain of Mu tangs, and all-star Ted Roman Kirkland Lake ace anchor the Hus tlers' tackle positions. Roman w also handle the punting.

All-star centre Don McGee Toronto is back. Jim Kennedy s guard Lowry, both of London, w fill in at centre. Drew will see a t as a linebacker as well.

TWO HOLDOVERS

Bill Turchan of Fort Colborn and Bruce Thomas of Midland a ends. Thomas will fill a guar position while Thomas, formerly guard, has been switched to end.

Veteran ends include Al Gleeso Don Killinger and Bob Hatchett. Two of the newcomers in t line are guard Bruce Ward s Bruce Town White, both from To onto, Norm Hodgson, a tackle fro Kirkland Lake, Ross Archibald, guard from Windsor Kennedy, ar cod Adam Telfer from Kirkland Lake.

Metras has five backfielders Bill Hicks, John Johns and mself Desborough, Wally Delahey, Hali Simmons, who led the league i scoring last year, and Willie Mays

Bill Gray of London and Dav Langhorn of Peterborough.

Robin Victim of Homer-Hammering; Willie Mays Equals Four-Ply Record

NEW YORK (AP)—The homer-happy National League, with a one-season record already packed away and a pennant a barrage on the individual major league home run marks.

Robin Roberts, Philadelphia's 23-game winner, fell victim to the home run-conscious Tuesday night at Brooklyn, giving up his 39th and 40th of the season—a record total for games won by a pitcher. Teammate Murry Dickson held the old mark of 36, set in 1946 with St. Louis.

Willie Mays of New York poke into the picture, swatting fo homers in a doubleheader wi Pittsburgh for a record-equalli total of seven in one consecutive games. Two other Giants, Geor Kelly (1924) and Walker Coop (1947), already shared that mark.

Mays, who tops the majors in home runs this year, now has 36, six others — Babe Ruth, Jimmy Foxx, Hank Greenberg, Jack W Ralph Kiner and Johnny Mi —ever have hit that many.

Peewees Ready For Tournament

FERGUS (CP) — Four hundred pint-sized players will meet here and at nearby Elora Sept. 24 for the 10th annual Ontario minor peewee soccer tournament.

The group consists of players ranging in age from 10 to 12 years last New Year's Day.

The following teams are entered: 1 Peterborough, last year's winners; Long Branch, Port Dalhousie, Hastings, Owen Sound, Milnico, Sarnia, Brooklin, Fergus, Brampton, Oshawa, St. Catharines, Newmarket, Alderwood (two teams), Toronto Maitlands, Toronto Roden Athletic Assn.

Starting time is 9 a.m. EDT both the Fergus and Elora arena Five games will be played at Fergus and five at Elora, ending all final here.

Each game will consist of three 15-minute periods with a sudden death overtime basis.

After the tournament, the J. Bergin Memorial Trophy will b presented to the Champion Pe which won the novice tournam this year, believed the first held i Ontario.

Sam Snead's Golf School

Have your weight forward at impact. This permits you to swing down to the ball so that the loft of the club face does its work properly for the flight desired. Get pictured right by using a highly lofted iron. So his heels are relaxed together, stance open, eyes on the ball. He left shoulder is passing up, the right shoulder passing under the chin and his two shoulders are revolving in an almost vertical plane. The grip of the club is shown through that this was a short shot. He is shooting for the pin. Our player is plenty smart about keeping his eyes on the ball and he is only now reaching the position where he gets the signal from his right shoulder passing under his chin, that, while still holding his head in fixed position, he can begin to rotate his head slowly to look after the ball.

TV Production of 'Our Town' Much Different from Play

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — Thornton Wilder, the author of "Our Town," must be wondering how to explain to his friends what NBC-TV did to his Pulitzer prize-winning play.

Presenting this play, "Producers' Showcase" opened its new season Monday night with an enormous investment of talent, including Frank Sinatra, Eva Marie Saint, Paul Hartman, Sylvia Field, Ernest Truex and Peg Hillies.

The director was Delbert Mann, who has won a reputation directing "Marty" and other perceptive dramas.

The performances turned in by these people were excellent. To the least one viewer who saw the play twice on Broadway the fault was not theirs that its effect was utterly confusing.

"Our Town," the play, is concerned with the attenuation of spirit long after the flesh is dead. "Our Town," as presented on television, was a fragment of nostalgia which sank into the maudlin.

MEDIOCRE MUSIC

On Broadway it was played on a bare stage which underscored its true meaning. On television it was played on sets which wavered between impressionism and realism.

The role played by Frank Craven as the "stage manager" of the play on Broadway back in 1938 was clear to anyone. The same role played by Frank Sinatra on TV never was defined. The general confusion of intent was not aided by mediocre music Sinatra sang well, the actors played well. But what was it all about?

Perhaps because it feared to free up to the stark theme of this play, television turned in a mediocre performance at an enormous waste of tremendous talent.

Let's take a break for the commercial.

Coming in with many new shows as a new season begins are many new commercials. One of the most interesting innovations is the Hollywood commercial, the plug for a new motion picture.

The latest trick of the season a manufacturer of almost anything pays for a program containing a couple of movie stars and a few film clips. It often ends up by actually such a plug for a certain movie that you can't remember who was the original sponsor.

One interesting trend in commercials is that human intestinal tracts appear to be on the way out while automobile intestinal tracts are on the way in. Last year the human intestinal track was an important commercial star, demonstrating the action of stomach ulcers/diet aids, headache remedies.

But what the agency calls its "visual aid instruction" is still humming right along in the commercials with auto innards the big new thing.

WINS $100,000 SUIT

NEW YORK (CAP)—A 13-year-old boy won a $100,000 damage suit against the city Tuesday for an injury to his right eye in a playground accident. Salvatore M. Lavanco fell on a pointed stick he found and injured the optic nerve, causing partial blindness. The city was accused of failing to supervise the playground properly.

AT THE McCARTHY — Tough Army Major Charlton Heston makes a search through Cadet Tim Considine's locker for a stolen watch in this scene from Universal-International's heartwarming Technicolor comedy, "The Private War of Major Benson," opening Thursday at the Odeon McCarthy Theatre. Heston co-stars with Julie Adams.

Peggy Lee Will Only Accept A Role She Believes In

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)— The living room of Peggy Lee's hilltop home was rocking.

The pianist was pounding out a rhythm; the guitarist and bass fiddle player strummed furiously; the drummer and bongo artist assaulted their instruments. Leaning against the piano and moaning in throaty tones was Peggy, dressed plainly in a yellow smock with tightly combed platinum hair. After a half-hour of this she called a halt for sandwiches and iced tea and collapsed in a chair.

"This is awfully hard work," sighed the singer, who was rehearsing for a date at Las Vegas' Sands. "I've got a version of "Escape the Bayou" in double time that makes my stomach hurt when I'm through. I don't know what to do it every night.

"'Lover' has gotten to be a monster, too. I have to sing it faster every time."

WON'T COMPROMISE

The trouble with Peggy is that she's a perfectionist. She won't go out and sing the same old songs with the same old arrangements.

This failure to compromise marks her whole career and makes her a pensive, disquieted girl. Of her movie career, she said:

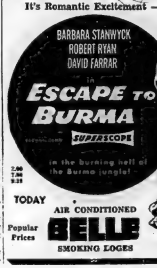
"I've had opportunities to do pictures in years past. But they were generally for the fluffy, gay musicals. . . They're just not for me. . . . I couldn't do anything I don't believe in.

"There were some lines in "The Jazz Singer" that absolutely stoned me. I'd come to them, and I couldn't get them out, because I didn't believe in them."

LOVED THIS ROLE

Her recent Jack Webb film, "Pete Kelly's Blues," was a happier experience. It will probably win her an academy nomination as supporting actress. She played an alcoholic girl of the '20s who she loved this role for nothing."

Peggy said she has three more films to do for Webb, and there will no doubt be other movies coming up for her. But she insisted that she won't do anything she doesn't believe in.



AT THE BELLE — Miss Hilsy, Barbara Stanwyck and "Roger", who appears with her in "Escape to Burma", romantic adventure drama, in Technicolor, co-starring Robert Ryan and David Farrar, showing at the Belle. Theatre, Belleville, starting today. Also, "Trouble in Little League", and a Disney Donald Duck CinemaScope Cartoon.

AT THE CAPITOL — Doris Day and Frank Sinatra are "Young at Heart" in Warner Bros.' romantic-drama with music which opens Thursday at the Capitol Theatre. WarnerColor film, with print by Technicolor, marks first time top song stars team in motion picture. Gig Young, Ethel Barrymore and Dorothy Malone also star in Arwin Production directed by Gordon Douglas. On the same program tense and thrilling adventure with Rory Calhoun and Piper Laurie in "Dawn at Socorro."

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Thursday, Sept. 22, 1955

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Though home undertakings are under restrictive influences now, sound money matters are favored. Stick closely to your interests; mind details.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus) — Aim to keep your disposition calm, serene. You will thus figure things out more intelligently, make better decisions. Work with, not against, associates.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini) — Although benefic rays linger from yesterday's fine Mercury aspect and are helpful to mental work, most aspects today stress patience, extra effort.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — Avoid self-pity and fretting now. Be more concerned over broad matters, activities which aid others.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — Don't become discouraged or angry if you don't achieve all you planned or hoped for. Keep emotions under sensible control. Liking what you have to do lightens the work. Be satisfied.

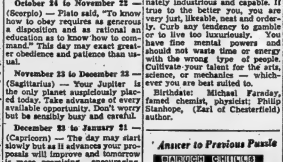
August 24 to September 23 — (Virgo) — Advice to Gemini pertinent to you now. Avoid worry, thinking over annoying things. See the good that is all around and work for high aims, future happiness. Pray when troubled.

September 24 to October 23 — (Libra) — "Whatever I did not know, I was not ashamed to inquire about, so I acquired knowledge." This is a good motto for today. Cooperation with right forces will be helpful, relieve strain.

October 24 to November 22 — (Scorpio) — Plato said, "To know how to obey requires as generous a disposition and as rational an education as to know how to command." This day may exact greater obedience and patience than usual.

November 23 to December 22 — (Sagittarius) — Your Jupiter is the only planet suspiciously placed today. Take advantage of every available opportunity. Don't worry but be sensibly busy and careful.

December 23 to January 21 — (Capricorn) — The day may start slowly but as it advances your prospects will improve and tomorrow is more promising, encouraging. Work, plan with the future in mind and you won't lose real opportunities.



January 22 to February 20 — (Aquarius) — You will have to supply the impetus and ambition needed to meet necessary requirements but don't despair. A great deal can be accomplished even on a trying day like this one may be.

February 21 to March 20 — (Pisces) — Similar indications to Capricorn now. As the day advances it grows more generous and productive and you can look forward to a truly big day tomorrow. Plan wisely, don't overdo or worry.

You born today are artistic, intuitive, genial in disposition, innately industrious and capable. If true to the better you, you are very just, likeable, neat and orderly. Curb any tendency to gamble or to live too luxuriously. You have fine mental powers and should not waste time or energy with the wrong type of people. Cultivate your talent for the arts, science, or mechanics — whichever you are best suited to.

Birthdate: Michael Faraday, famed chemist, physicist; Philip Stanhope, (Earl of Chesterfield) author.

IT MAY BE YOUR LIVER

If life's not worth living
it may be your liver

It's a fact it takes up to two pints of liver bile a day to digest the digestive food in two meals! If your liver bile is not flowing freely your food may not digest . . . you blame it on your stomach . . . you feel constipated, and all the fun of eating is gone. Then you need Dr. Chase's Liver Pills to make Dr. Chase's Liver Bile. These famous vegetable pills help your liver bile flow freely. Then your food digestion starts functioning properly and you feel and look better, day after day. Get Dr. Chase's Liver Pills today. 24 tests 35c.

Marmora

MARMORA — Quarterly services are being held at Marmora Free Methodist Church next Sunday with a former pastor, the Rev. Lorne C. Hall, in charge.

St. Paul's Ladies Guild held a euchre party in the Parish Hall on Thursday evening with eight tables in play. The prize winners were: men, William Neal, Bonanza; ladies, Mrs. Charles Leonard, Marmora.

Mrs. Percy Gordon recently visited her mother, Mrs. Ed. Watsonmaker at Eldorado.

The Rev. Bernard J. Crawford, and the Reverend J. E. Glover attended the Retreat at Bon-Mor-Lac camp, Madoc, on Thursday and Friday for the ministers of the Belleville and Colborne Presbyteries.

Mr. and Mrs. John Vanvolkenburg have moved into the apartments on Forsyth Street formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Donald Donaghue.

Miss Julia De Vries, of Toronto, spent the week-end with her aunt, Mrs. A. Clifford.

Mr. John Gray has returned home from Kingston General Hospital where he was a patient.

Miss Mary Dostanko visited Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Perfumo in Chicago, ill., last week and friends and relatives in Hamilton and Toronto, on her return trip.

A son, Ralph Carman, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Reynolds (nee Zella Carman), at Belleville General Hospital, on Wednesday, September 7.

Mrs. S. Vanvolkenburg is visiting relatives in Madoc.

Mr. and Mrs. William Swarts, and Mr. Ethan Dunnville, Ohio, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Ellis.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Bowen accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Henry McConnell and daughter, Joan, of Belleville, spent the Labor Day week-end at Syracuse and Lake Placid, N.Y.

Extra pupils at Marmora Public School over last year's enrolment are being accommodated in St. Andrew's Church Hall, with Mrs. Albert Campion as additional teacher.

Thomasburg

THOMASBURG — Residents of Thomasburg, Roblin and Moira gathered in the IOOF hall Friday evening to honor Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gray, newlyweds. They were presented with a desk, tiny boy chair and a lamp during the evening with the best wishes of the community. Dancing was enjoyed by most of those present before and after the presentation. The bride, the former Marion McTaggart, is on the staff of Madoc high school. They are making their home near Thomasburg. Several from here motored the long trousseau tea last Saturday, in honor of Miss Marion Bastman, bride-to-be, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. K. Bastman, Tweed, Ont.

Mrs. Gordon Boldrick had the misfortune to cut the middle finger of her right hand quite severely while collecting eggs one day last week. Medical attention was given promptly relief and she is convalescing at her home, although still not able to use the hand completely with her household duties.

Mrs. H. R. Bell, recently visited Miss Isobel Beatty, who is a patient in Belleville General Hospital, early last. Miss Beatty's many friends wish her a speedy return to health.

Mrs. I. Crawford, who has been visiting relatives at Kingston, Ontario, has returned to her home here.

The Rev. C. R. Chapman attended the minister's retreat at Camp Bon-Mo-Lac on Thursday and Friday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan McCann, of Eldorado; Mrs. H. Pigden and Duane of Madoc, and Mrs. L. Robinson of Wellington were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Wilson on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brough, newlyweds, returned from their honeymoon trip on Monday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Adams of Picton and Mrs. Mildred Thomas Emerson were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Martin.

Mrs. N. Fryer of Madoc, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Wilson at present.

CRASHING CAR INTERRUPTS TV PROGRAM

Mrs. Elizabeth Yeo of Manchester, Ont., had a narrow escape from death through the wall of her home as stopped six feet from where she was watching T.V. Alone in the house at the time, Mrs. Yeo said she thought something had exploded and the whole house had blown up. "All I could see was a cloud of dust." Four years ago a similar accident sent a car bouncing off front lawn tree into their veranda. Driver of the vehicle which failed to make a turn, Clarke Harrison of Manchester, was admitted to hospital with chest and head injuries. (Central Press Canadian).

'Peg-Leg' Stars For Grid Squad

STANBERRY, Mo. (AP)—Fourteen-year-old Lonnie Messner is the first-string centre on the Stanberry high school football team—despite an artificial leg.

"He tackles and blocks with speed and accuracy," said his coach, Ben Bourn.

Lonnie also plays linebacker on defence. His teammates point out that in their 6-0 win over games this fall no opponent has broken through Lonnie's position.

The 140-pound freshman lost his left leg just below the knee in farm tractor accident five years ago. He plays with a plastic limb and a metal brace.

He played on the Stanberry grade school football and basketball teams two years and was captain of the junior high football team last year. He was benched only once during" basketball season—because he broke his pivot foot.

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Science Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Oct. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and relieve pain. Thousands have been relieved—without resort to surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, the very striking improvement was noted and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinkage) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And this healing substance was found in a wide variety of hemorrhoidal conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, constricting salves or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a famous scientific institute. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use in healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name Preparation H.® The price is only $1.25, plus handling on application. The name to ask for is Preparation H.—at all drug stores. And money per — if not completely satisfied — your money will be refunded promptly.

War Correspondent for BBC Recalls Ordeal of Arnhem

By RON EVANS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—On a cloudy Friday afternoon, eleven years ago, Canadian broadcaster Stanley Maxted glided silently into one of the grimmest and greatest battles in British military history.

Maxted, then a BBC war correspondent, flew with the British 1st Airborne Division into Nazi-occupied Holland. He landed near a pleasant garden city called Arnhem, his memories of the harrowing nine days which followed are still vivid.

But it's pretty difficult to tell you what it was like unless you've been through something similar," said the 39-year-old Canadian, now a television executive in Britain's biggest advertising agency.

GAINED FOR ACTION

The massive airborne operation had two objectives: to gain control of the Rhine river bridge at Arnhem and prevent its destruction; and to stop the Germans from sending forces across the bridge which would have prevented the British 2nd Army from crossing the vital Waal bridge at Nijmegen. Although the British airborne troops succeeded in holding the Arnhem bridge during the early stages of the battle, they were later pinned down and cut off from relief.

Maxted, who joined the BBC on loan from the CBC in 1940, took a month's training before the assault, including parachute jumps from balloons and aircraft and practice glider landings. He carried only a portable recording machine into the battle.

"It was not bad at all going in," he recalled. "You always get the feeling that every gun on the ground is shooting straight at you, but of course they aren't. Later, on another assignment, our glider was set on fire and I picked up a broken rib and a shell fragment in my head."

DAYS WITHOUT WATER

For the first three days, he said, things went fairly well for the First British Airborne Division, commanded by Maj.-Gen. Robert E. Urquhart.

"I just moved around talking to the boys and doing my job."

But the tide turned as the Germans threw increasing numbers of picked SS and Panzer troops, equipped with tanks, self-propelled guns, multiple mortars and flamethrowers, into action. The British bridgehead, 2½ miles square at the beginning of the battle, was whittled down to about 1,700 yards by 800 yards and held under constant fire.

"The stuff was really coming in thick. I dug a foxhole under a rhododendron tree and stayed there."

The Germans destroyed a nearby well and for the last three days the airborne troops were without water. Poor weather and the restricted battle perimeter hampered the dropping of supplies. Ammunition ran low and rations were cut to one-sixth.

"There was a dove-cote there and twice I had roast pigeon — pedigree too."

Finally on the night of Sept. 25, 2,000 survivors filed through the German lines under a heavy protective barrage and were evacuated across the Lower Rhine river. About 1,200 casualties were left behind. The division's medical officers and chaplains stayed with them.

"We waded out into the river up to our hips, it didn't matter because it was soaked through long ago and had been for days, sounds, now hold a treasured place in the BBC library.

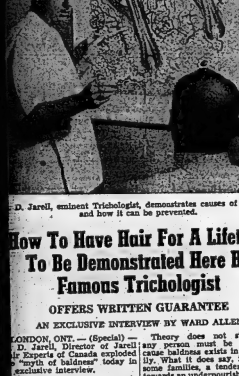
"And a voice that was sheer music spoke up from the stern of the boat. It was a French-Canadian voice. The engineers were Canadians."

Maxted's recorder had been riddled by mortar fire and he brought out only two disks, stuffed down the front of his battledress. Those recordings, carrying what Maxted call 'the tough-but-gentle" Canadian voice over a mosaic of battle

Maxted was born in Folkestone, Kent, brought up in Toronto by his forbes father, the late Dr. Malcolm W. Sparrow, and educated at Toronto's Parkdale Collegiate. He was gassed while serving at Toronto's Parkdale Collegiate. He was gassed while serving with the Canadian Field Artillery during the First World War and took up concert singing on a doctor's advice. He made his first broadcasts as a singer in Montreal.

Today he is still on the air, with a BBC Sunday night series of religious talks he calls himself "a sinner who talks with sinners." The first program in his current series will be made from Arnhem Sunday night.

Maxted last visited Canada six years ago.



"The reason I'm not there now," he explained, "is that I have asthma and I can't take the winters."

D. Jarell, eminent Trichologist, demonstrates causes of baldness and how it can be prevented.

How To Have Hair For A Lifetime To Be Demonstrated Here By Famous Trichologist

OFFERS WRITTEN GUARANTEE

AN EXCLUSIVE INTERVIEW BY WARD ALLEN

LONDON, ONT. — (Special) — D. Jarell, Director of Jarell Experts of Canada exploded the "myth of baldness" today in an exclusive interview.

"Baldness is unnecessary, cotand a plague to mankind" says Jarell.. "No man need be bald. No man need suffer the stigma of premature old age that is forced upon him because he is losing his hair. The Jarell method of hair and scalp treatment can prevent baldness—can turn colorless fuzz into healthy growing hair — can make you look youthful again."

Demonstration to Be Held In Belleville, Ontario

This revolutionary method of hair treatment for the first time in Canada will be demonstrated in Belleville, Ontario, Thursday ONLY Sept. 22 at the New Queens Hotel. Trichologist M. L. Lewis will conduct the private individual interviews from 12 noon until 9.00 p.m. on Thursday only. There is no cost of obligation, and you need no appointments.

Reason for Baldness

"There is always a reason for baldness," continued this nationally known authority. "Hair cannot grow through a scalp that is infected with dandruff, excessive oiliness, or extreme dryness. A scalp that has never been exercised cannot be expected to produce healthy hair." Men, and women too, walk the streets today completely devoid of nature's finest ornament — hair. Simply because they were not taught the simple rules of hair and scalp hygiene while they were growing up. "The simple answer," emphasized this expert "is that children should be taught the same simple rules of hair and scalp hygiene that they are taught for the proper care of their teeth. If this were the case, baldness would be fairly today!"

Heredity Not Involved

Trichologist Jarell dodged no issues. He quickly took up the most widely spread theory of baldness heredity. "Blindly unrealistic belief that baldness is hereditary came from misrepresentation of the theory of genetics.

Theory does not state that any person must be bald because baldness exists in the family. What it does say, is that in some families, a tendency exists towards an undernourished scalp." The purpose of Jarell Hair and Scalp experts is to teach the methods of strengthening the weak scalp and nourishing it to a healthy, vigorous condition. A healthy scalp will grow hair, if it is not already completely bald" assures Jarell.

Is There Hope for the Completely Bald?

In his travels throughout the United States and Canada, Jarell has collected hundreds of testimonies of his ability to develop weak fuzz into healthy, mature hair. All of his clients have started with a private examination, hair and scalp analysis and a diagnosis of the disorder. Jarell is quick however, to tell a hopeless case that he cannot be helped. "We strongly advise", says Jarell, "that no person who is completely bald holds any hope whatsoever of regrowing hair. If there is any fuzz at all, we can restore a healthy scalp condition and the hair will grow normally again as nature intended."

Offers a Guarantee

"Jarell Hair Experts of Canada, offer a guarantee to any client who enrolls for treatment. If he or she is not completely delighted with results at the end of 30 days, the money invested will be graciously refunded," pledged Jarell. "We must have satisfied clients. We must regrow hair. After all, it is our best advertisement."

Is Your Hair Healthy?

If you have a scalp disorder, or if you are worried about your hair, call at the New Queens Hotel, Belleville, Ont. Thursday only from 12 noon to 9.00 p.m. The public is invited. The examinations are private and open to men and women. You do not need an appointment, and you will not be embarrassed or obligated in any way.

Westerner Offers Plan To Move Wheat Stockpile

Saskatchewan Liberal Chief Keeps Proposals Secret

OTTAWA (CP)—A western Liberal has offered the government a plan for moving Canada's wheat stockpile—now 100,000,000 bushels higher than last year.

A. H. McDonald, Saskatchewan's Liberal leader, said Wednesday night he is confident the government will accept his proposal, details of which are secret. He has already discussed it once with Prime Minister St. Laurent and said he will get the prime minister's final answer within the next few days.

Mr. St. Laurent Wednesday gave no indication that he has any special disposal plan under consideration. He told reporters he feels confident somewhat will be sold because it is the world's best.

HUGE STOCKPILE

Canada now has supplies estimated at 982,000,000 bushels—481,000,000 in carryover and about 301,000,000 in new crop prospects.

The over-all stockpile is about 100,000,000 bushels higher than last year and almost equal to the all-time high of 983,000,000 in 1953-54. Canada's wheat exports dropped in 1954-55 for the second consecutive year, the result of poor harvests. reported Wednesday that exports for the year ended July 31 were low at 251,800,000 in the 1954-55 crop year which ended July 1.

Exports totalled, with exports of 255,100,000 in 1953-54 and a record of 385,500,000 in 1952-53.

DEFINITE PLAN

Mr. McDonald said he placed before the prime minister a definite plan to move prairie wheat and put dollars into the hands of western farmers.

He also said he will attend, as an observer, a Saskatoon meeting next week of western grain and business men called by the Independent Citizens Farm Union Council to find a way of moving prairie grain.

Reports from the meeting said farmers are becoming more and more concerned over a shortage of storage space and a lag in sales.

Return to Work

GUELPH (CP) — Two hundred support staff workers at the Canadian General Electric plant returned to work Wednesday following talks Tuesday aimed at resolving a week-old classification dispute.

The hourly-rated employees were suspended following a three hour show of dissatisfaction over the reclassification of two welders.

Company officials said a series of meetings will be held to resolve the dispute.

THROUGH OWN NEGLECT

KIRKLAND LAKE (CP)—A coroner's jury Wednesday night ruled the death of Mrs. Agnes E. Kirby of Kirkland Lake was killed through his own negligence Sept. 8 while working as a prospector's helper in a mine. J. Samojlenko, cage operator, said Beatrice was trying to climb down a shaft at Kirkland Lake Gold Mines when the cage struck her.

CABINET PLANS MORE SESSIONS BEFORE MEETING

No Firm Decisions Reached on Issues

OTTAWA (CP)—Federal cabinet ministers are planning more sessions before reaching final stands on issues to go before the October federal-provincial conference.

The cabinet conferred 2¼ hours on conference questions Wednesday and after the meeting Prime Minister St. Laurent said no firm decisions were reached. Government economic and fiscal officials sat in on the meeting.

"We are still trying to make up our minds on what our attitude will be on various matters," Mr. St. Laurent said after the meeting. He declined to discuss what particular points had been under study.

There will be more meetings," he said, "and there will be a lot of figuring in between." He thought at least two or three more sessions would be held.

HEAVY TAX TALKS

Main purpose of the conference starting Oct. 3 is to negotiate a renewal of federal-provincial tax agreements with nine provinces, which expire at the end of 1956.

Possibility to devise a formula which will bring in Quebec.

The cabinet discussed at an agenda-setting meeting in April increases in federal health and welfare services—leading into a national health insurance plan—and federal assistance to universities and development of natural resources.

The federal government had hoped to have the provinces ready by now for a plan of federal participation in the cost of caring for the unemployed not covered by unemployment insurance. This may spill over into the conference.

Premier Frost has announced he intends to propose a health insurance plan at the conference, but Prime Minister St. Laurent said Wednesday he has received no details of it.

Some Progress Is Reported In GM Secondary Parleys

TORONTO (CP)—An official of General Motors of Canada said today "some progress in isolating the problems" was made this forenoon during secondary talks aimed at settling the strike of 17,000 hourly-rated GM production workers.

He made the observation to reporters when the meetings between company representatives and United Automobile Workers (CIO-CCL) union officials ended at St. Catharines recessed for lunch. He declined to elaborate.

It was announced the meeting between the St. Catharines unionists and the company would be resumed at 2 p. m. The union men from Oshawa and Windsor themselves before going into session again with company representatives, possibly later in the day.

Non-economic problems at the two plants have proved a stumbling block to the main series of discussions covering the 13 GM assembly plants at which the union started a strike early Monday.

Negotiators sat down as hundreds of men picketed GM plants in Oshawa, St. Catharines, Windsor, London and the Toronto suburb of Scarborough in Ont., the fourth day of the strike that has crippled GM's entire Canadian operations.

The meetings were arranged Wednesday after the company asked the Ontario labor relations board to have the strike declared illegal. The board is expected to hear the application Sept. 30 or Oct. 3.

GM claims the union contract at the five plants is still in force because the agreement provides it shall remain in effect until either side gives 60-days notice to terminate.

The union termed the stand an "American misinterpretation of Canadian law." Officials said they waited more than seven days after the report of a conciliation board as required by the Labor Act, before calling the strike.

The issues to be settled in the Oshawa and St. Catharines plants include the guaranteed woman's body was discovered last Aug. 9 living in 12 feet of water in the Rideau river. The body was weighted at the head and feet by two large boulders.

WENT FISHING

Evidence at the trial was that the pair went on a fishing expedition one day in October, 1953, and Labelle returned alone.

Labelle's counsel, T. A. Vanini, told the jury there were three possibilities which led to the girl's murder and which had not been satisfactorily explained by the prosecution.

He said the crown had not proved to the jury that the woman was dead when she died, nor that her death was accidental, nor that there was a sufficient motive for the slaying.

"Why should he want to kill her?" he asked.

"If Labelle had formed an intent to kill Raymonde Lanouette that day would he have paraded from the boat along the street to the dock where witnesses could see him?"

Mr. Justice Stewart said the jury had to choose between two versions of his actions offered by the crown and the defence. The crown told into the river and he dragged the girl's body out without harming her. Two days later he said he returned and said he denied seeing the woman after a lunch-stop on the river bank.

JURY ACQUITS JUSTIEN LABELLE ON MURDER COUNT

Woman's Body Found In 12 Feet of Water

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (CP) Justien Labelle, 69-year-old bush worker, has been acquitted of murder in the 1953 fishing-expedition drowning of Raymonde Lanouette.

An Ontario Supreme Court jury deliberated for two hours and 20 minutes Wednesday night before returning their verdict to Mr. Justice G. D. Stewart. He said: "I agree entirely with your verdict. Whatever you thought or conceivably saw was the situation, you have seen that an administration of justice was carried out."

Labelle was charged with murder after the 29-year-old woman's

Crash of Airliner in Dust Storm at Tripoli Kills Fifteen

TRIPOLI, Libya (Reuters)—Fifteen persons were killed Wednesday night when a four-engine BOAC airliner crashed in a dust storm while approaching Idris Airport here.

Seventeen other passengers and the crew of seven were injured. The plane, bound from London to Kano, West Africa, via Tripoli and Wheelus Field, Most victims were believed to be British. Forty persons were on board. Eleven were Britons, the crew members.

Eyewitnesses said the big British Overseas Airways Corporation Argonaut exploded and crashed in flames after striking a row of trees on the approaches to the palm-fringed airfield built by the United States Air Force. Mussolini. RAF jets now are stationed there.

This is the season of the hot Ghibli winds, which pick up the dust of the Sahara and send it swirling in dense yellow clouds to the coast.

The plane's last stop before the crash was Tripoli for its final jumping-off point for the long haul to Kano, Nigeria, in West Africa.

It was believed the pilot had difficulty in landing because visibility was cut down to 100 yards or less in the air.

British airmen stationed at Idris and Libyan firemen made desperate rescue efforts after the crash but the flames were taken to the British military hospital in Tripoli, which is twenty miles from the airport.

The wreckage of the plane, in three main groups, was spread over a radius of 100 yards. Ten bodies after the fire had left it smouldering.

It was believed that some passengers fell out and that others jumped to the ground as the plane fell.

Belleville Group Hears Graham

TORONTO (CP)—The number of "decisions for Christ" in evangelist Billy Graham's greater Toronto crusade was boosted to 384 Wednesday night when 78 persons in a near-capacity crowd of 8,500 stepped forward.

Wednesday night's audience helped bring the four-meeting attendance figure to 32,00. Most of those present were from outlying Ontario points, including two large delegations from Belleville and Bracebridge.

Graham said too many people spend nearly all their lives looking after their bodies and too little time on their soul or intelligence "which lives on forever."

"You can put a receiver to your head and blow your brains out but you cannot commit suicide. You can't destroy it forever whether you like it or not."

Jas. McClintock Is Acquitted Of Negligence

COBOURG. (Special.)— A Supreme Court jury deliberating one-and-three quarter hours yesterday returned a verdict of not guilty in the case of James Mc-Clintock, 25, R.R. 4, Trenton, charged with criminal negligence causing the death of his wife in a highway accident April 23. Mc-Clintock was driving a car on the 2 highway four miles west of Trenton at a time he went out of control and turned over several times. Mrs. McClintock, a bride of four months, fell into the path of the rolling car and died subsequently on the shoulder of the road from the injuries. McClintock was committed for trial at Magistrate R. B. Baxter, presiding at the preliminary hearing at Brighton. He was defended by Belleville barrister Ron Cass.

Arts and Crafts Exhibit Will Be Splendid One

The exhibition of Art and Crafts at Sir Winston Churchill School on the evening of September 23rd and the afternoon and evening of September 24th, will offer an opportunity for the citizens of Belleville and the surrounding areas to see a wide selection of work by artists in many crafts. It is an opportunity which should not be missed as it is rarely that a collection of this kind is available outside the really large cities. It is an exhibition which should certainly bring a great deal of pleasure to all those who pay it a visit.

In the Art Section there will be on view paintings by professional artists of high standing.

Mary Scheedler, well known for painting at the Madoc Art School is exhibiting one of his paintings. The majority of these paintings are of scenes in this area which will no doubt be of particular interest to local residents.

Mrs. Scheedler is an artist of international reputation, a graduate of Warsaw College of Art and holds a diploma from the Imperial Academy of Fine Art. Her paintings were by special invitation at the National Galleries in Warsaw and she has exhibited in Poland, Switzerland, Paris, London, Stockholm, Tehran and Ankara. Her paintings in these countries have been shown at museums and important exhibitions in many of the world's leading cities.

SHOWN IN GALLERIES

Mrs. Scheedler is Scotia Society of Artists, of which Mrs. Scheedler is a member, have shown her work in Halifax and her paintings have been shown at Montreal Museum of Fine Arts, Art Association and at Mart House; there was also a one man show of her watercolors at Eaton's Art Gallery in Toronto.

Favva Airoia is instructor of painting at Cobourg, Trenton and Colborne Art Clubs and president of the Cobourg Art Association Society, Toronto. He will be exhibiting five oil paintings which have been shown previously at important exhibitions and art galleries.

Mr. Airoia studied art at Professors Cox and Hill at Toronto's Art Schools and Academie Libre, Stockholm and had one man shows in Stockholm and several Swedish cities before coming to Canada in 1951.

Since his arrival in this country his work has been shown on many occasions at the Royal Canadian Academy, the Ontario Society of Artists, Canadian Society of Water Color Painters, the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts and the Exhibition and the Canadian National Exhibition Art Gallery.

There will be on view two oil paintings and one water color by Philippa Faulkner. As many local people will know, Mrs. Faulkner is a graduate of Toronto School of Fine and Applied Arts, has had a wide experience in commercial art, and is a member of the Color and Form Artists Society, Toronto.

Paintings by Mrs. Faulkner have been shown at Hart House, The London Art Gallery, Montreal Museum, The Royal Canadian Academy and Galleries of Montreal, and at Eaton's Art Gallery. In addition there was an exhibition in New York of her work which was done in Mexico. Each of the paintings being shown by Mrs. Faulkner have been exhibited previously in Toronto and Montreal.

It is always gratifying to see a person from one's "home town" succeed in their particular sphere and it is certain that many will wish to view the work of this local artist.

PAINTING INSTRUCTOR

Oscar Schlienger is instructor of painting in Peterborough and district at Lindsay, Bancroft and Port Hope. He will be exhibiting three paintings in water colors and two in oils.

Mr. Schlienger came to Canada from Switzerland twenty years ago. He has had many one-man shows in Toronto, including one under the auspices of Mart House. His work is held in very high esteem in art circles.

Four years ago Mr. Harold L. Garner, general manager of the Peterborough Examiner, originated and sponsored special classes in Peterborough for children of high school age who showed exceptional talent and Mr. Schlienger was chosen as instructor in this important work.

Paintings by Mr. Schlienger have been shown in many of the foremost art exhibitions and galleries, including the Ontario Society of Artists and the Royal Academy in Toronto and Montreal.

The club is confident of another successful year and feels that an exhibition of this high quality will be appreciated by everyone in the district and will be an encouraging beginning to the club's activities for the coming season.

The Art Group will have cards available for their use this season and would like to express their gratitude to W. O. McCaffrey for his valuable instruction last season and for his kindness in making possible the supply of this valuable equipment for their members' use.

Registration night for classes will be September 26th at the George School. Classes to start first week in October.

Shopping Made Easier At Canadian Tire

Canadian Tire Corporation for many years have built their business on a cash basis, but to keep pace with modern shopping habits, they have inaugurated their own Credit Budget Plan. The highlights of this plan are that a customer may purchase any merchandise or service over $20, with a minimum payment plus weekly payments as low as $1.

On accepted accounts there is no waiting, immediate delivery of any goods can be secured. Under this new scheme there is no outside interviews or references required.

As in all of Canadian Tire Corporation activities, they have been successful in selling up this plan with a minimum cost to the consumer. Carrying charges are much below most other companies.

Amelia Rose Resident Remarries at 94

"After being married for nearly 68 years I just couldn't stand to be alone," 94-year-old Stephen Vancott of Ameliasburg told reporters this week following his second marriage early this month.

Mr. VanCott still spry and active despite his age, married Mrs. Annie Way of Consecon, in September. It was the second marriage for both of them.

Mr. and Mrs. VanCott's first wife died shortly before the couple's 68th wedding anniversary.

Mr. VanCott attributes his good health and longevity to the fact that he has never smoked or drank.

Truman Believes He Paved Way For Preventing Third World War

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harry S. Truman says he believes his administration paved the way for preventing a third world war for "as far ahead as man can see."

It did so, the former president of the United States contends, by making sure of American military strength and by dealing with Soviet Russia on a "give and take" basis.

Truman leaves for conjecture the exact language he used in a face-to-face dressing down he gave Russia's Foreign Minister Molotov at the White House on April 23, 1945—two weeks after he took over on the death of Franklin D. Roosevelt—for failure to carry out Russia's Yalta agreements on Poland.

But he says it was so sharp that Molotov was stung to remark: "I have never been talked to like that in my life." Truman recalls he replied: "Carry out your agreements and you won't get talked to like that."

Jonathan Daniels, a one-time member of Truman's staff, once quoted one of those present as saying Truman used "blunt language unadorned by the polite verbiage of diplomacy" and "the natural language of a direct politician to be given be recognized as politicians too."

The story of the White House session is told in Life magazine's current issue in the first of three instalments of "The Truman Memoirs." The New York Times and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch are serializing them, too. The instalments make up the first volume which will be brought out in book form in November by Doubleday and Co.

Truman is reported getting $600,000 for the two and a second volume to be published early next year.

Truman tells of getting his "first bit of information" about the development of the atomic bomb after he became president. He recalls Fleet Admiral William D. Leahy, his chief of staff, as saying in his "sturdy, salty" manner:

"That's the biggest fool thing we have ever done. The bomb will never go off, and I speak as an expert on explosives."

BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

By CHRIS. F. LEGGAT

The local Boy Scout Association held a meeting recently in St. Thomas' Parish House at which the usual important Scout items were discussed. Apple Day was planned, Mr. Wm. Hurst will head the committee and under his leadership a successful day is anticipated. Apples will be sold by Scouts and Cubs on Friday evening and all day Saturday October 14th and 15th.

Regional Commissioner Archie Lewis presented an interesting report on the 8th World Jamboree. There were 32 boys from the district, 16 from the city. On Monday, August 15th the boys arrived, Tuesday they were the guests of the R.C.A.F. at Trenton until evening, when they were invited to attend the Belleville Fair. On Wednesday they toured the Northern Electric plant and on Thursday left for Niagara-on-the-Lake. The Commissioner was very pleased with their smart appearance and he added "They were well-trained and a credit to Belleville."

Mr. Len Claspoole who arranged the bus tours for Niagara Falls and the Jamboree was glad that everything went according to plan. The hundreds of passengers delighted with the trip and expressed very complimentary remarks on the courtesy of bus drivers.

Mr. Claspoole stated that the success of the tours was due entirely to the co-operation of the people and the boys on the trip, the obliging Rawson drivers, and the efforts of his committee, Frank Lavender, Jim Ritchie and Stu Robb.

SWIM CLASSES START

Swimming has started again at the Y.M.C.A. Juniors and Scouts are urged to attend Saturday at 2.00 p.m. It is fortunate in having the same competent instructors under our chief instructor, Jack Trainer.

Bob Munro reported the following badges won:

Rescuer's, ambulance, carpenter, tailor and swimmer's badges by Dale Burley.

Athlete's badge by Ray Stephens, Derrick Reid, Paul Marcus, John Skinger, Wayne Wickett, Dennis Reid, Richard Harvey, Terry Marcus.

Swimming badge by Wayne Wickett, John Skinner, David Skinner, Terry Marson, James Churchill, Allan Gough.

Farmer's badge by Wayne Wickett.

Jamboree Note: Over 80,000 automobiles were clocked by the O.P.P. No accidents reported!

IN MEMORIAM

MORGAN—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, who passed away September 22nd, 1954.
Your presence is ever near
Your love remains with us yet;
You were the kind of a father,
Your loved ones could never forget.
—Lovingly remembered by wife Lily and daughter Jean.

MULLEY.—In loving memory of my dear husband, Thomas Harding, who passed away September 22nd, 1954.
We do not forget, nor can we do intend.
We think of you often, and will to the end.
Gone and forgotten by some you may be,
But dear to us, for memory you ever will be.
—Lovingly remembered by Wayne and Beatrice.

MULLEY.— In loving memory of dear Daddy who passed away Sept. 22nd, 1954.
Gentle Daddy, dear and true,
How we miss your smiling face;
Until you let us meet you
None on earth can take your place.
A loving Daddy you will always be,
How sweet the memory still;
Your death has left a loneliness,
The world can never fill.
—Sadly remembered by Ali and Doreen.

CARDS OF THANKS

We would like to express our sincere thanks to Rev. Hillis and to Mrs. Hillis and to all who sent cards, mother; also to those who sent flowers and gifts in our recent bereavement.
—The Blade: Family.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to my relatives, friends and neighbors who remembered me so kindly during and after my hospital stay in Belleville General Hospital. Especially Rev. Percy Bryant, Mr. Merrick, Mrs. Bryant and Mrs. Hillis for visits and comforting prayer. Sister Mary Ann, Sister Mary Bateman for kind and skilful attention to my needs and for the lovely messages in cards, flowers, gifts and fruit. Also Sister Mary Kindersley, Sister Mary Hill W.A. and Bethel Hill congregation for special prayers in Plainfield W.A. and Bethel for flowers; to my special nurses Miss Beck, Miss Miller and Mrs. Thompson who were, so attentive to me in the night and afternoon on First Floor East; to my doctor Dr. Bell, much to my comfort; a special thank you" to my kind neighbors. My husband and family join me in saying thank you all so much.
—Mrs. Frank Treverton, 10 Reynolds Crescent.

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market moved irregularly upward in light trading during the first hour of today's session on the Toronto exchange.

Industrial advances were generally small with selective buying chiefly in foods, utilities and motors. Steels, papers, constructions and financial institutions were mixed. Rolining oils moved down a peg. Chrysler marked up the top advance of 34 to a high of 95¼. Ogilvie swung upward with a 82 gain to 25. Abitibi added a point better were Ford A, Aluminium, Minnesota and Ontario Paper and Labrador B. Atbiibi headed the lowers, dipping 1.

Mines showed little trend and prices mostly moved in a narrow range. Falconbridge, Hudson Bay and Noranda moved up fractions among the senior base metals. Among uraniums, narrow gains went to Algom, Bicroft, Black Bay, Gulch and Lorado, Gunnar. Canadian warrants and Beaucage were easier.

Golds firmed a little on the strength of some penny gains. Decourcey Island was at a high of 41c, $1.20 with a four-cent advance. Ventures added ¾ among holding companies.

Consolidated West Pete posted the best gain in a mixed-to-higher golds group, adding 55 to $6.10.

AT THE CENTRE OF HURRICANE IONE

Pictured at an altitude of 15,000 feet, a navy F9H-2P Banshee piloted by Lt. Peter Mongilardi, noses through whirling clouds of the North Carolina coast to make a visual and movie film report on Hurricane Ione. Before the storm hit with full force, the plane had reported that Ione's eye was 40 miles across as big as that of the recent Hurricane Connie. But later on Ione had reduced to less terrifying proportions. — Central Press Canadian.

Russia Regrets Lack of Progress In Arms Talks

PARIS (Reuters) — Russia has expressed regret to France over the lack of progress in international disarmament negotiations, official sources here said today.

A personal letter from Premier Bulganin was handed over to Premier Edgar Faure by Alexander Ankin, the Soviet charge d'affaires.

Similar letters have been delivered in London and Washington. The contents were not immediately announced.

Sinclair Silent About Talks With Chinese

TOKYO (Reuters) — Fisheries Minister James Sinclair of Canada, who arrived here with injuries he received in a 20-foot fall during a tour of Russia, today declined to discuss his recent talks with the Communist Chinese.

Sinclair, due to fly to Canada Saturday, was unable to receive visitors. But a reliable here of Canadian Ambassador T. C. Davis, where he is bed-ridden.

His aide, Alistair Fraser, said Sinclair could make no statement about his visit to Communist China, during which he was reported to have held "informal" discussions with Chinese foreign ministry officials about the possibility of Canadian recognition of Red China.

Pickering Police Break Theft Ring

PICKERING, Ont. (CP) — A theft ring police said they believe responsible for nearly all breaking and entering during recent months was broken up by township police Wednesday.

Two youths, both on probation, were arrested and loot worth thousands of dollars was recovered. A third man—believed by police to be the ringleader—is expected to be picked up shortly.

Charged with theft, breaking and entering, receiving and contributing to juvenile delinquency are Lloyd Bruce Warren, 16, and John Campbell, 16.

Police said they were found in a one-room apartment in east Toronto with a 14-year-old girl missing from Pickering township since Monday.

TSE Changes Hours Monday

TORONTO (CP) — The Toronto stock exchange issued a reminder today that, beginning Monday, Sept. 26 and along with Montreal exchange, it will begin trading at 9 a.m. EST and close at 2:30 p.m. Ontario and Quebec move back to Standard Time Sept. 25. The new hours conform with New York's where Daylight Time remains in effect until the end of October.

British Troops Search Village

NICOSIA, Cyprus (Reuters) — Several hundred British commandos swooped today on the Cypriot Greek village of Akanthou in the Kyrenia foothills, and began an intensive search for terrorists, arms and explosives.

Marine commandos with mine detectors swept through streets, gardens, shops and orchards. Armed police aided in the operation.

The village was surrounded and the search begun after a special watch in the island throughout the night in response to a "full alert" signal from Nicosia.

Troops and steel-helmeted police were on guard in all major towns after the island-wide alert.

G & M Publisher Given Appointment

CHICAGO (CP) — H. G. Kimber, president and publisher of the Toronto Globe and Mail, has been appointed to the Canadian promotion and service, finance, and policy committees of the audit bureau of circulations, it was announced today.

Mr. Kimber recently was elected director of the audit bureau of circulations.

Hope Wanes For Lost Hunter

NORTH BAY (CP)—Hope waned today for the safety of George Bucknell, 45, a hunter two days overdue.

Along autumn-blazed trails, veteran woodsmen were joined today by novices from the city as the search entered its third day. Mr. Bucknell, a locomotive watchman, was supposed to rejoin a hunting companion Tuesday noon.

He is missing in an eight-mile square area 12 miles north of here.

Police expressed the fear that a mishap had overtaken the experienced woodsman.

"If he's hurt, we could pass within 20 feet of him in that bush and never see him," a policeman said.

Joining in the search were airmen from the North Bay air base, hydro and Ontario Northland Railway employees, and scores of volunteers.

They are led by provincial police equipped with portable radios.

The last trace of Bucknell was an arrow scratched into the dirt surface a bush road initialled "G. B." It pointed towards a trail into the bush.

Disease Epidemic Threatens Port After Hurricane

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A disease epidemic menaced flood-stricken Tampico as the gulf port battled the ravages of the rampaging Panuco river in the wake of hurricane Hilda.

The unofficial death toll in northeast Mexico is 205, with more expected when isolated sections report.

Dysentery, which generally stalks victims of a major flood, has broken out among Tampico's 30,000 homeless—almost a third of the 110,000 population. Two children have died and 100 more are reported critically ill.

Medicine is being flown in along with food and clothing.

Unofficial estimates list about 400 persons missing in the wake of the flood and hurricane, in addition to the known dead. Another 1,000 have been reported injured. The navy ministry put property damage at 1,500,000,000 pesos ($120,000,000).

Rocky Marciano Has No Thought Of Retirement

NEW YORK (AP)—Heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano, unmarked except for a red blemish under his left eye, said today he would defend his title again next June against one of four opponents—Bob Baker, Nino Valdes, Hurricane Jackson, or Floyd Patterson.

Asked about dressing room statements that he was considering retirement after knocking out Archie Moore in the ninth round of their title battle Wednesday night, Marciano said:

"All I said was that a few people would like to see me stop. My mother and a few of my friends. I said it was a thought."

In answer to a direct question, Marciano said he had no thought of retiring at the present time.

Warns Nations Not to Recognize East Germany

BONN (AP)—Chancellor Adenauer declared today that West Germany would regard it as "an unfriendly act" if any third power establishes diplomatic relations with Communist East Germany.

Opening parliamentary debate on his agreement to open such formal relations with East Germany's sponsors, the Soviet Union, Adenauer stressed his government's adamant refusal to acknowledge the legitimacy of the East German regime. The regime was given sovereignty by the Russians in negotiations in Moscow this week.

Adenauer obviously aimed his remark at the Western powers and neutrals. The East German government is already recognized by the Soviet Union and its satellites.

Task of Laying Heavy Phone Cable Across Bay Completed Successfully

Twenty-seven tons of telephone cable in one 3,700-foot stretch takes a lot of floating, but that is just what a party of Bell Telephone cable-laying experts threw this morning on the Bay of Quinte while most of city residents were still asleep.

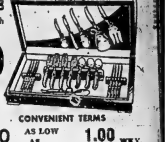
The new submarine telephone cable manufactured by Northern Electric in Montreal will carry telephone conversations between Prince Edward County and Belleville when the Bell Telephone Co. cuts in the former Sprague line with the Belleville exchange next December.

With all preparation made the day previous the actual cable "floating" operation took just over an hour and one-half this morning as the big four-inch line carrying 310 pairs of wires was pulled across the bay.

Mr. Grant Crowley, manager of the Bell Telephone exchange, said today that the Rossmore group of subscribers on the former Sprague line would be the first cut into the Belleville exchange. This was expected to take place in December with the balance of the line to be cut in some time next June.

SHIPPED ON FLOAT

The big submarine telephone cable weighing 55,000 pounds), together with the reel on which it was carried from Montreal weighed a total of 33 tons.



It was then shipped under cable ship-ped from Montreal by truck and was brought to Belleville on a large highway float.

When everything was ready the big float carrying the reel of cable was spotted on the Rossmore side of the bay and shortly after 6.30 this morning a heavy winch operating from the road entrance to Zwick's Island commenced pulling the cable across.

To prevent damage the cable moved on rollers until it reached the water's edge; then every 20 feet or so steel drums were tied to the cabel as it moved out across the bay. The steel drums kept the cable up off the bottom of the bay and prevented damage from scraping on objects.

With the cable strung across the bay, ropes, tying the cable to the drums, will be cut allowing the cable to sink to the bottom of the bay.

"IT'S ONLY MONEY"

Monday the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission played host to a party of some sixty newspapermen and representatives of radio and television stations on a tour of the St. Lawrence power development and seaway project.

One of the features of the tour was a demonstration of the manner in which Hydro is moving a number of the residences at Iroquois, Ont., to a new townsite. The present village will be flooded.

A 200-ton machine, picked up a six room frame house, moved it a mile, waited 20 minutes for the touring party to arrive from a side-trip and then placed the house on a new foundation. The job was completed eighty minutes after the machine moved in on the house. The family breakfasted in the house and all utility services were connected when the demonstration started.

The telephone call was received on the new site while the house was still several inches above its new foundation. Water and electrical services were restored before the work of placing the house on its new foundation was finished.

Most of the onlookers were impressed. Mayor Nathan Phillips of Toronto was not.

Afterward, the mayor, he told Ross Strike and Lt.-Col. A. A. Kennedy, known to many Belleville residents as a war-time commanding officer of the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment, that the Commission of the Province of Ontario would not permit a house of this type to be moved to the new townsite.

The house was a six-two-storey frame structure, in a reasonable state of repair, but not impressive. Mayor Phillips argued that Hydro was creating a new town and that this town should be a modern one in every respect.

Ross Strike, chairman of the H.E.P.C., attempted to refute this argument, but Mayor Phillips laughed off his efforts. "It's only money!" he said jocularly.

What he was that the money in question was not the Hydro Commission's money, but the money of all the users of Hydro, including many thousands of those Toronto citizens who elected him as mayor.

Most of these citizens, we suspect, would have been more inclined to agree with Henry Wightman, who with his father publishes the Napanee Post-Express. Wightman looked at one frame house which had been moved, placed on a new foundation, given a coat of paint and provided with a new chimney.

"I would be proud of my house a face-lifting like that, and an all-new paint job, and getting 15 per cent of what I think it is worth," he declared.

Of course he was exaggerating. Those Iroquois residents who chose to have their houses moved, instead of selling them outright to Hydro, get a bonus of 15 per cent of the appraised value—not of the value they set on their own property. They do, however, get other bonuses. Unless a heating system is new, the old one is left in the original basement and a new one is installed without charge. Grounds are landscaped. One house, moved a week ago, not only had a green lawn but also dahlias in full bloom. To achieve this transplanting miracle, Hydro must have moved a big chunk of earth with the house.

Although there have been complaints from some of the residents being forced to move out of the area which will be flooded, those who toured the area Monday almost without exception came away with the conviction that Hydro was fully aware of the human problems involved and was doing everything it could to make the enforced migration as painless as possible.

In such a vast undertaking, though, there are bound to be some mistakes. It is doubtful if the property for the Hydro officials were relieved of one major headache. Originally they submitted a plan for the new town of Iroquois, showing where Hydro proposed to locate the residences which were moved from the old town. They had been grouped in conformance with the architecture of the houses. The Iroquois Council rejected the plan, said it would determine where the houses should be placed. So Hydro was relieved of the responsibility. The Council, however, appears to have carried out its work to the satisfaction of most residents. Generally, it appears, old neighbours will be together in the new town. If there are objections to the Council's plans, new sites are found. But so far there has been only one such case. To date ten houses have been moved and another ten will be moved within a week. When the job is completed it is possible as many as 200 houses will have been moved. Other residents of Iroquois have elected to receive cash for their property and purchase or build new homes in the new townsite, or build or purchase homes elsewhere.

The whole problem of arranging for the purchase of property in the area to be flooded must certainly have been a tremendous one. The property officer is Ralph Morden, a native of Wellington, who still resides there. He carried out similar work for the Niagara development, especially the relocation of property for the Ontario Hydro is Harry Hustler, who has a cottage at Consecon and who annually hunts deer in North Hastings with a club which includes members from Belleville and other district points.

NOT PERFECT

There was a sculptor in ancient Greece who carved an image of a boy holding a bunch of grapes. People said the work was so perfect that birds used to swoop down on the statue to try to eat the grapes. "Ah," said the sculptor when he heard the statue praised; "if it were really so perfect, the boy would frighten the birds away." (CBS Radio Bulletin.)

CARD OF THANKS

What can you do? What can you say
When wires and cards and letters bring
From friends both near and far away
The word that is most heartening?

I have today a treasure rare
Of card and telegram and note,
Supplying strength for every care,
For every ill and antidote.

All birthday greetings blithe and gay,
Which while I live I shall recall,
Though "thank you" seems too
slight to say,
My thanks I send to one and all.

LOOKING BACKWARDS

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BYGONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

Sept. 22, 1935

At a special meeting of the city council a by-law was passed authorizing the borrowing from the bank of $40,000 for current expenses.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Bales and family and Mrs. I. Savage, all of Los Angeles, California, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hopkins, Station Street.

Mrs. and Mrs. J. H. Wills of Niagara Falls are visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Bamford, North Park Street.

Mr. George James of Niagara Falls, Ontario, is renewing acquaintances in town.

At a recent banquet followed by a business meeting the following officers were elected by the members of the Darling Young People's Association in connection with Victoria Avenue Baptist Church: president, Lorne Andrews; first vice president, Edith Lasker; second vice president, Audrey Rowland; secretary, Jimmie Grant; assistant secretary, Violet Hobson; treasurer, Bill Hales; pianist, Kathryn Hogle; assistant pianist, Edna Jobson; group leaders, Mabel Peck, Helen Wilson, Norah Hales, Audrey Rowland; social convenors, Bessie Hart; hustler, Bert Orr. A very interesting illustrated travelogue concerning England, Ireland and Scotland was given by the Rev. Harold Reid. Mr. Lorne Andrews was the chairman of the meeting.

30 YEARS AGO

Sept. 22, 1925

Mr. James M. Booth has left to resume his vocal studies in Boston, Mass.

Miss Laura Cook has left to attend the Model School in Peterborough.

Mrs. F. H. Waldron and Luella of this city, accompanied by Mrs. Fred Foster and son, Ross, of Trenton, have returned home after a motor car trip to Ottawa and Montreal.

Mr. James Phillips of Montreal, is home on a short visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Phillips, Charles Street.

Mr. F. Arnott of Frankford has joined the staff at the Smith Hardware Company here.

Chief W. J. Brown of the Belleville Fire Department is attending the convention of the Fire Chiefs of Canada which is being held in Hamilton.

40 YEARS AGO

Sept. 22, 1915

City Clerk J. Wilfred Holmes has returned home from a well-earned vacation spent in Toronto, Rochester, N. Y., and Wellington-on-the-lake.

Mr. and Mrs. I. B. A. Lucas formerly of Belleville, now of Cressy Point, Muskoka District, County, spent a few days here recently with Mrs. D. E. Lucas, North Front Street.

Dr. W. J. Gibson has resumed his practice and will confine his attention principally to surgery and consultation.

50 YEARS AGO

Sept. 22, 1905

The Rev. W. H. Peake and family, who have been residing in Campbellford for more time, have taken up residence in this city.

Mrs. W. C. Clarke, Victoria Avenue, is visiting friends in Montreal and Quebec City.

Capt. Will Conger of the 15th. Regiment, has been appointed Paymaster for the 15th. Regiment.

John Grotto, hackman, reported to the police that a lap rug was stolen from his cab yesterday. The police are looking for the culprit.

Little Timmy Rules Roost

(Ottawa Journal)

Lovely little children can drive their parents crackers.

An Ottawa couple took their family west on holiday and, as many parents expect, the children quarrelled all the way. East of Winnipeg the quarrel reached the breaking point with a six-year-old girl flinging herself around and as a final horrendous threat his father and mother said they would leave him behind if he didn't behave and stopped making trouble.

A few miles further on unabashed, Timmy was out in the sun on nice, soft grass beside the road and the entire family went on with their automatic waves and "aren't you sorry you weren't good, Jenny?" The plan was to go around the corner and then come back to a properly-shaken child.

This schedule was upset by an emergency with one of the cars developing and the return was delayed a little longer; then had been inspected, Timmy back on the highway, they found Timmy chatting with a policeman.

"Hullo, Timmy," they said, expecting tears. Timmy ignored them.

"Who are these people"? said the policeman. "Never saw them before"; said Timmy.

They had to prove they were Timmy's parents by a long-distance call to Ottawa which finally convinced the policeman. All the way home Timmy ruled the roost, intolerable, and not one said a word.

Made $5,000 On an Error

(Financial Post)

We've just heard from a stenographer we once knew.

A couple of years ago she had asked a friend for "a good stock market buy." The cautious friend said "Try International Nickel." Next day she stepped into the first brokerage office she came to and bought 100 shares — very thin stock purchase order. Ten shares at the market — around $33 a share.

A little later came the confirmation order for not 10 but 100 shares of Nickel. Our girl was scared. She just didn't have that kind of money. She had hoped to make a little something with her small savings but on no account to let her husband know about her schemes. Result was she had sounded off about thrift, the perils of speculation, etc., etc.

Two nervous days and restless nights. Then in desperation she told hubbie about the deal and the confirmation "billing" for the 100 shares. His reaction was sharp, forceful and full of protestations that he would fight this devilish thing to the highest court in the land. When bubble next day called the broker to do battle with his fists if necessary, he was blandly informed that the mistake would be set right at once and that, meanwhile the stock had climbed two bucks. When hubbie got that figured out he calmed down considerably.

End of story: The young couple scraped up what they had and borrowed the $1,700 needed to go margin on the stock. They still have their loco. It's now around $85 a share.

We like stock market victories especially for the people who can use very nicely an extra $5,000.

Was Blonde Just Kidding?

Men, we're facing a serious danger.

Our best girls won't tell us but pretty young Danish dancing instructor in Toronto does not mind giving it to us right in the tootsy.

She says, winning as she steps along, that she thinks Canadian men are the world's worst dancers.

"The way some of the men here stumble around our dance floors is just pitiful," declares Miss Inge Mads Weiss, one of the dancers in the Canadian National Exhibition production.

Maja, who worked for seven months as an instructor at a Toronto dance school, testifies that this was "the worst job I ever had."

This candor rather punctures our muscular myth. While Canadian males have never considered themselves the beaux of the ballroom, they have felt that they could stretch around adequately enough for it.

Now this pert Dutch prancer has raised ugly doubts in our minds.

Are we just a bunch of heavy-footed hobbledehoys who can't stand on our own feet in front of a dance band? When that band is playing a waltz, for instance, on the other night that we danced divinely was the just because Did she mean that with us the light fantastic was just fantastic?

Heretofore we've given it small measure property when he gets to wondering what he's doing on the dance floor. Now we're not so sure. Is really thinking about his performance. When we're thinking of his about our feet everything goes wrong.

And this chain of unhappy suspicion goes on and on. You remember that when you last undertrude out she told you were a wonderful dancer. But were you? Was that just a come-on until the old ball and chain was securely fastened to your ankle.

And maybe when she told you that you were a short visit to Belleville, N. Y., and Wellington-on-the-lake.

Libraries Pay Authors

(Edmonton Journal)

A common complaint among authors is that while public libraries have stimulated the habit of reading, they have actually cut down the writer's rewards. In the old days, it is argued, every person who wished to read a particular book bought it, and the book author drew his royalty on each sale; but now the book can be borrowed at the library, and one copy serves scores of readers.

The government of Sweden recently undertook to correct this situation. Whenever a book is borrowed from a Swedish free public library, the author contributes approximately three-fifths of a cent. Two thirds of this is earmarked for the book's author, and the remainder goes to a special fund to provide pensions for deserving writers.

While the amount paid on each borrowing is minute, it can add up to a substantial figure if a book is extensively read. Dr. Seuss, author of a popular children's book received nearly $1,200 from the Swedish fund last year. This is an attractive sum by European standards, considering that as similar payments may be made for a good many years to come; a book often retains its popularity at the library long after it has disappeared from the book stores.

So far this Swedish experiment has not been widely remarked. The difficulties would doubtless be more formidable in countries where libraries are not under the control of the central government. However, it is an interesting effort to reconcile the seemingly divergent interests of two essential parts of a nation's cultural life — the writer and the public library.

Can We Use Atoms To Save Relics

(New York Times)

Atomic radiation may be used to save the aged Gothic Westminster Abbey, St. Paul's Cathedral and hundreds of other British churches, from decay of relics threatened by gnawing and devouring insects.

That is the suggestion of Sir John Cockcroft, head of the British Atomic Energy Authority, made at a press conference in Geneva.

Sir John said that tests at the Westminster Laboratory definitely indicate that "low doses of radiation make short work of the eggs of insects inhabiting the ancient timbers.

Chief among these insect pests is the deathwatch beetle, which bores holes in ancient beams. The deathwatch beetle is named for the eerie tapping noise which the insect makes in its cavities in the wooden beams. The common furniture beetle is a serious pest in Europe and England. It has appeared in the U. S. and Canada. Most of the damage to timbers is done by the larva of the beetle.

Sir John said that the laboratory has established that low doses of radiation make deathwatch beetle eggs infertile. Larvae in the timbers show apparent effect upon the strength of the timbers themselves.

According to Science Service, British scientists believe that atomic radiation may provide the cheapest and most practical method to combat beetles that has long been sought. Much of the research have been put into the research.

Nelson's flagship, the Victory, is among the most seriously threatened of British treasures. In one short test period, more than 1,000 beetle larvae were found in a lower deck of the wooden vessel.

If further British testing indicates that low doses of controlled atomic radiation may be the answer to the problem, museums and relics now threatened by insects.

Can such irradiation of eggs be used for other kinds of insect control—cotton, for example? One could hardly rid a house of termites by irradiating boards (even if this were practical and safe), because termites nest and feed in the underground soil, perhaps some further applications of atomic energy to insect control can yet be discovered.

Why Toenails Die

Could you tell me, asks a Boston lady, eh, why toenails die. I go to trim mine and they come off like flowers. Particularly the great toe and the middle one. (Mrs. W., L. A.)

Maybe it's because we don't use 'em anymore.

The finger nails, toe nails, skin and hair are all subject to the individual's nutritional condition, and they get all their nourishment or food as every other part of the body does, from the food we eat, not from any magic cream, oil or other stuff you apply or "rub in", intwit.

One who has vite has healthy nails, skin and hair. But you or not get or maintain vite on a diet of cheat-food — a diet in which most of the calories are in refined white flour and refined white sugar.

As nutritional condition improves the health and appearance of the skin, hair and nails improves. Not overnight, but, say, in the time it takes the nails to grow their full length — three or four months.

WE ALL LOVE COMFORT

Perhaps it was Einstein with his theory of relativity who got us off on the idea that everything is relative.

Is a thing wrong? Well, we are told, that depends on circumstances. Is it fair that deprivation? It is all a matter of personal taste. The result of such reasoning on moral standards have practically ceased to exist. According to this theory of relativity, almost anything can be twisted around to be right, provided it turns out to be comfortable. And almost anything can be shown to be wrong if it produces discomfort. Pain is the just delve down into most moral conclusions, we will see that comfort or the desire for comfort lies at the basis of most of our judgments.

And this is not true among any one class. The fact is, that if there is any group above all others which is dominated by the desire for comfort, it is the educated, the cultured, the highly educated group. Given enough education, a person can justify almost any form of vice and evil.

To say this is not to disavow education, but only to say that the more educated people become, the more are they prone to rationalize their weaknesses.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

"pay dirt" that, is similar to the joy of the prospector who strikes a vein of gold or silver.

One of the outstanding acts of understanding is for us to comfort one another. Clearing up our thoughts and emptying our hearts of prejudices would be the time would be such a drop of fear that people would seem like a new world — which, of course, it would be! We are fashioned into fixed ideas and misunderstanding.

When any young people "fall in love" they live, breathe and act in each other's eyes makes them complete slaves of the beauty about them, ad they give to each other rather than take. Life and wonderful experience. They see more good and beauty in the world, and they meld their dreams. Their most unselfish qualities shine out. They are at their best. They tap possibilities and interchange them. They are guided by a light that originates in each other.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

It is so easy to pretend to be cheerful. And so little is gained by being grumpy. Tens of thousands, even hundreds of thousands of men and women in Canada alone are pretending to be cheerful almost every day of their lives. They are mainly, the clerks in stores, the salesmen, the waiters, the postman, the men behind counters and wickets, the girls in theatre booths, the women who do the work in the beauty parlors, conductors, bus drivers. It is quite conceivable that all these thousands and tens of thousands of people today people are without troubles and debts and worries and sorrows.

So they have cultivated the simple art of pretense. They pretend to be cheerful. And they get away with it. And the world is a more liveable place because of them.

It would be more liveable if it were not for those who won't take the trouble to pretend. They are grumps. The bears. The crabs. The surly, the sullen, the ill-humored, the testy, grouchy, bilious, pettish, beefy, huffy, peevish, petulant, sour, splenetic, acrimonious, irascible. As you can see I have been looking up my Roget's Thesaurus?

There are some people who just won't pretend. They deem it a virtue not to pretend. They comfort themselves with the thought that they are honest, they are truthful, they are candid. No fakery for them. They not only call a spade a spade, but they call it a bloody spade, and there is one behind practically everywhere.

Poor souls, they don't understand that love itself is a form of tender pretense, that the charm of babies is really a masterpiece of masquerade, that childhood and beauty is largely in the imagination, (the little brats!) that manners, morals, and ethics are all pretty pretenses in which we are all agreed, or into which we are coerced. All art is pretending. All dignity is pretense. The best to the happiest people in the world are those who pretend they are better than they are. And the happiest of all are those who pretend everybody in the world is as good as they are. Which is fine.

Come on, grouch, snap out of it!

Varied Program, Good Racing And Splendid Exhibits Make Tweed Fair Fine Success

A big horse and cattle show together with a fine agricultural exhibit featured the annual Tweed Fair held Wednesday afternoon as fine weather and fine exhibits attracted possibly one of the largest turnouts in the history of the society.

Fair-President Elsie Ketcheson and his directors wore big smiles of satisfaction as the crowd continued to pour into the grounds well on into the afternoon.

Exhibits in the agricultural building were of high quality with the showing of flowers and various farm products being exceptionally good. School exhibits of school work and handicrafts demonstrated the interest of the younger generation in the fair. There was also a fine display of home cooking, needlework and sewing.

But it was the horse show which captured the interest of the majority of district visitors as the finest in horse flesh in both light and heavy classes was paraded before the judges. So numerous were the entries that judging of some of the horse classes was still underway at six o'clock.

FINE HORSE RACING

Lovers of horse racing also got their money's worth with no less than 23 sulky horses turning out for competition. Four classes were necessary to provide competition for all the entrants.

Cattle classes were well represented with Holsteins, Ayrshires, Polled Angus, Herefords and dual purpose Shorthorns being entered.

Members of the Tweed Calf club held their achievement day in connection with the fair with twinsome Barbara Blakely topwinsome Barbara Blakely topping a field of 13 competitors on this year's work. Barbara was third in showmanship while her calf finished in ninth position.

Standing of the calf club on the year's work with standing of their calves was as follows: Barbara Blakely, 9; Doug Farrell, 4; Eva Martin, 5; Eldo Martin, 6; Exton Varty, 7; Harold Reid, 8; Elwood Varty, 10; Francis Kinlin, 1 (Hereford); David Geen, 1; Laurie Healey, 2 (Hereford); Jack White, 1 (Shorthorn; Bill Rivers, 3, and David Coulter, 8. All calves with the exception of those listed in brackets were Holsteins.

Douglas Farrell was tops in showmanship with other placings being: H. Reid, Barbara Blakely, Eva Martin and Exton Varty.

PARADED CALVES

The baby show was another big feature of the fair with no less than 23 entrants.

Winners in the one-to six months class for girls were Carolyn June, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Carleton of Thomasburg; Connie Frances, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fergus Cassidy, Stoco; Patsy Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Tebo, Flinton, and Marjorie Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Turtiotte, of Sulphide.

Boys, 1-6 months—James Earl, (Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hunt, Tweed;) Allan Reginald, (Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Dunham, Tweed;) Wayne Andrew, (Mr. and Mrs. A. Nugent, Tweed; Duane Stanley, (Mr. and Mrs. S. Lockwood), and Patrick, (Mr. and Mrs. Mike Provost) tied for fourth, and Glenn, (Mr. and Mrs. L. Holmes.)

Girls 6-12 months: Nurinne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Pigden of Madoc; Cleanine, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Fleiler; Tweed; Barbara, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Spencer, Tweed; Wanda, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Reavie, Flinton, and Karen, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Grey of Tweed.

Boys 6-12 months: Michael John, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Ingles, Tweed; Paul James, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rashotte; Cecil James, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Morrow; Glen Elvin, Mr. and Mrs. E. Lessard; Robt. John, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Masters and Jimmy, Mr. and Mrs. Oakley Trudeau.

In charge of the baby show were Mrs. Harold Varty and Mrs. Sam Jones.

NEW ATTRACTION

A new attraction at the fair this year was the square dancing competition in which Thurlow and Tweed teams entered. To lively "hoe-down" music supplied by professional artists, the young dancers dressed in typical old time costume sailed through their sets to draw big applause from a packed grandstand. The Thurlow team finally copped the winners.

Due to lack of time many of the customary entertainment novelty events were cancelled but directors did squeeze in a rousing tug-of-war between two teams of district stalwarts. Oldest man on the grounds was Charles Wood of Flinton at 84 years, while a Mrs. Boomhour of Crookston, who recently passed her 95th birthday copped the prize as the oldest woman. Grandstand stage events were "emceed" by Tommy Mason of Buckhorn.

The Madoc Municipal Band played several numbers during recesses between races and grandstand events.

SPLENDID MIDWAY

But the March Midway with its numerous rides, entertainment booths and concessions, was a big attraction for the younger generation who kept the ferris wheel, merry-go-round and other thrillers going at full capacity throughout the afternoon.

There was a big cheese show at the fair with no less than 43 cheese, including stiltons, being shown. Henry winner in the various classes was Roy Huffman of Corbyville, with five firsts. Murray Hazelip, Ryiestone; Archie McMillan, Stoco; Louis Kellar, Thomasburg; Frank Brennan of Tweed; Ivan Sine of Eldorado and Charles Clarke of Madoc, also came in for their share of prizes.

Officers of the 1955 Tweed Fair Board are as follows: Emerson Hodgins, hon. pres.; Ross Ketcheson, pres.; R. J. Hunt and W. LeBarge, vice-presidents; John O. Sager, secretary; S. Heidman, assistant secretary, and Henigan Rush, treasurer.

Weddings

WEBSTER—HEAD

FICTON.—With white tapers in ver candelabra casting a soft ow over a setting of standards white gladioli and Shasta daisies palms and ferns, South Bay ted church was the scene of a ely candlelight wedding ceremony, when Marilyn Kathryn , became the bride of F.O. n Fletcher Webster, RCAF. bride is the daughter of Mr. Mrs. Maurice L. Head, R. 3 ton, and the groom is the son Mr. and Mrs. E. Fletcher Web- , Picton. Rev. Robert Sherwin, B.D., of Cherry Valley, officated, assisted by Mr. George ight, of Milford.

raditional wedding music was yed by Mrs. G. Wright and Sybil Rutley, Toronto, a ge friend of the bride, sang Perfect Love" and "A Wed- g Prayer". She was also solo- at the reception, rendering "Be- me."

Given in marriage by her fa- the bride wore a floor- th gown of Chantilly lace n nylon tulle over satin, made Princess lines. The lace jack- formed a sweetheart neckline had long pointed sleeves. The ped skirt featured corde ces of nylon tulle caught on with scallops of tulle held seed pearls. Her fingertip of tulle illusion was held by ronunet of seed pearls. She car- d a mauve orchid and white rysanthemoris on a white Bible. iss Patricia Crompton of Windsor, as maid of honor, was in mauve, and Miss Beulah Calder, R. 3, Picton, bridesmaid, in apple green. They were similar waltz-length dresses featuring hooped skirts shirred on tight bodices and short jackets. The matching pleated headdresses were trimmed with white button mums. They carried crescent-shaped bouquets of white Shasta daisies and ivy.

Scott Latimer, Gormley, Ont., was groomsman and ushers were Ross Head, Kingston, brother of the bride, and Dr. Robert Clapp, Picton.

The reception was held in the church banquet hall where a mauve and green color scheme was carried out with streamers from a wedding bell and floral arrangements. The bride's table, covered with a white linen cloth, centred with a three-tiered wedding cake surrounded by a wreath of fern and mauve gladioli, while mauve and white chrysanth and mauve and green tapers completed the attractive setting.

The bride's mother was gowned in dusty rose lace with black velvet picture hat, matching accessories and corsage of Sweetheart roses and stephanotis. The groom's mother chose navy crepe with sequin-trimmed blue velvet petal hat, matching accessories and corsage of pink button 'mums and blue forget-me-nots.

Servers were Mrs. Bill Pullen, Mrs. Walter Whattam, Mrs. Ron Fox, Mrs. Jim McCaw, Mrs. Burton Winters, Miss Elizabeth Mallory, Miss Patricia Minaker, and Miss Sandra Minaker.

For a trip to the Adirondacks, the bride donned a dark brown dress of nylon glazed winter cotton, gold and brown Westborough tweed coat, matching hat and accessories and corsage of bronze baby 'mums. Mr. and Mrs. Webster will reside at 230 Regent Street in Kingston. A graduate of Queen's University, the bride is on the teaching staff of Fort Henry school, Barriefield. The groom, a graduate of the Royal Military College, is now attending Queen's University.

Guests were present from Chicago, California, Syracuse, Peterborough, Toronto, Belleville, Kingston, Ottawa, Windsor, Owen Sound and Gananoque.

ARISS—EMERSON

Tall standards of pink and white gladioli adorned the chancel rail of St. John's United church, Tweed, on Saturday, September 10, at 3.00 p.m. for a lovely late summer wedding when Anna Mary Emerson and Tweed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Emerson, became the bride of Ernest Frederick Ariss, of Sulphide, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Ariss.

Mr. Fred Porter, church organist, rendered the wedding music and accompanied the soloist, Miss Helen Cook, of Belleville, who sang "The Lord's Prayer", and "Believe, It Is Morn."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Harold Emerson, was charmingly gowned in floor-length nylon tulle over taffeta, featuring a fitted bodice with low neckline and cap sleeves and a full tiered skirt. Her fingertip veil fell from a headdress of shirred tulle sprinkled with seed pearls. She wore matching mitts, and carried a cascade bouquet of pink bountiful roses, stephanotis and adiantum fern.

Miss Ruth Blakely, as maid of honor, was attired in a waltz length gown of rose-shot taffeta in princess style. She wore a sequin covered hat, and carried a semi-cascade bouquet of blue pom 'mums.

Miss Nora Emerson of Tweed, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid, wore a gown of turquoise shot taffeta in waltz length styled similarly to that of the maid of honor, with matching sequin-trimmed hat, and carried a semi-cascade bouquet of bronze pom 'mums.

Mr. Alan Hewitt of Sulphide, attended the bridegroom; Mr. Ronald Tattersley of Toronto, and Mr. Jack Hewitt of Sulphide, were ushers.

For reception was held in the church parlor, where the bride's mother gowned in charcoal crepe with rose accessories, and wearing a corsage of feathered carnations and white Briarcliff roses, received, assisted by the bridegroom's mother, who wore mid-night blue shot taffeta with similar corsage.

For travelling to the United States, the bride donned a brown tweed ensemble with rose hat and gloves, brown purse and shoes, and pale pink feathered carnation corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Ariss will reside in Sulphide.

Holloway St. E.A. Enjoys Pot-Luck Supper

The September meeting of the Holloway Street United church Evening Auxiliary was held recently in form of a pot-luck supper with plenty of good things to eat.

Hostess Frederick welcomed the three new members and hoped that they would join the group.

Miss Eastman took charge of the business period, which brought an enjoyable evening to a close.

Women's Hospital Auxiliary Report Most Encouraging

The activities of the Women's Hospital Auxiliary of the Belleville General Hospital are again in full swing and, indeed, the coffee-snack shop has been in operation throughout the whole summer.

Mrs. J. Lennox Smith, the president, was in the chair at the recent regular meeting and welcomed new and former members, who all showed a keen interest in the reports and the ensuing discussions.

It was with regret that the resignation of Mrs. K. Buchanan was accepted.

Mrs. Smith announced that plans were being completed for the Women's Hospital Auxiliary tea to be held on September 28, at the home of Mrs. George V. Faulkner, 257 Bridge Street East, under the convenership of Mrs. A. S. Lewis to whom she expressed her thanks and appreciation.

Mrs. B. E. Burley, corresponding secretary, read a letter from the student nurses telling of their dance to be held later this month for the graduating nurses, and welcoming all members of the hospital auxiliary and their friends who could attend.

Mrs. L. B. Fonger announced the re-opening of the Opportunity Shop and the need of donations. If requested, she will have any articles collected. Last year a cheque for $2,050 was turned over to the Hospital Auxiliary from the shop.

GRATITUDE EXPRESSED

The president expressed gratitude to Mrs. W. C. McCutcheon and Mrs. C. Ducsberry and their staff for their constant help at the coffee shop. Mrs. McCutcheon outlined the plans for this season and told of the financial help and popularity of the home cooking which is being donated daily by interested citizens. These gifts are welcome at any time, and will be collected if so requested.

Mrs. Smith spoke of Mrs. J. E. Buchan and Mrs. McCutcheon who, as "goodwill members", have been speaking in neighboring localities on behalf of the hospital auxiliary in response to requests for information which have been received from many organizations.

Reference was made to a recent regional hospital meeting held at Queen's University which Miss Peart, director Nursing at Belleville General Hospital, Mrs. Buchan, Mrs. Smith and Mr. K. Box attended.

Miss Peart's presence at the local meeting was appreciated, and her helpful suggestions were sought.

A committee was formed of Mrs. J. H. Forrester, Miss M. Peart, with power to add to their number to visit the nurses' residence and note any requirements.

Tea was served at the close of the meeting.

Ladies' Aux. Holds First Fall Meeting

The Army, Navy and Airforce Veterans in Canada Ladies' Auxiliary Unit 49, held first its fall meeting in the club rooms Front Street on Monday night. President McKenna presided.

One new member was initiated.

Reports were given from various committees.

Comrade Elizabeth Lundberg was chosen as delegate to attend the provincial command meeting in Simcoe, September 24.

Discussion took place regarding rummage sale and banquet in near future.

A social half hour followed.

Women's Activities

ST. ANDREW'S W.M.S.

The September meeting of St. Andrew's W.M.S. met in the church with vice-president, Mrs. Weir, presiding and extending a welcome to all.

The report of the secretary was read by Mrs. Fleming, followed with the treasurer's report by Mrs. Diamond. Correspondence was also read and there were 22 calls made during the summer.

There was a discussion of the Missionary conference to be held in the church, November 4th.

The study period was opened by the reading of the Scripture by Mrs. Kane, followed with prayer by Mrs. Yorke.

"The Religion of India"... was the topic on the study of India. The three faiths, Islam, Hinduism, and Christian, were dealt with by Mrs. Yorke, Miss Blair, Mrs. Kane and Mrs. Miller.

Mrs. Bell and Mrs. Mantle favored with a duet, accompanied by Mrs. Boyce at the piano.

Following the close of the meeting, tea was served by the group in charge.

Victorian Order Of Nurses Gives Work Report

The first meeting after the summer recess of the Belleville Board of the Victorian Order of Nurses was held at the YMCA, Monday evening. The president, Mrs. M. E. Bulger was in the chair.

Plans were discussed for canvassers for the Community Chest campaign in October.

Two nurses from Queen's University, Kingston, Mrs. Marjorie McLeod and Miss Doreen Appleton, are taking their V.O.N. field work with the Belleville branch of the Victorian Order in September.

The nurse in charge reported that in June, July and August, 1,138 visits were made to 154 patients. These visits consisted of the following: nursing care to the medical, surgical and chronically ill, which includes care of the aged; nursing care and instruction to mothers with new babies and prenatal instruction in the home.

Besides the home visits for nursing care and health supervision, the Belleville Victorian Order of Nurses provides school nursing service to Holy Rosary school one half day a week and school nursing service to Canniff-ton-Corbyville school one half day every two weeks. The V.O.N. also assists the local Department of Health at the weekly Child Health Conferences at the Riverside Centre.

National Ballet Plans To Visit City

Preliminary plans are well under way for the visit of the National Ballet of Canada to Belleville in mid-November. The Belleville Theatre Guild, which is sponsoring the ballet's two performances held an organizational meeting on Monday evening and appointed the following committees to make the necessary arrangements: co-convenors, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tanner; secretary, Mrs. L. Arnott; treasurer, Mr. Jules Abramsky; ushers, Mrs. Eve Benger; tickets, Mr. S. Robb and Mr. D. Thomas; programs, Mr. C. Miller and publicity, Miss Mady Mouli.

St. Margaret's Guild Plans Future Events

St. Margaret's Guild held its first meeting of the fall season at the home of Mrs. Fred Bradley on evening, Mrs. F. E. Moore, president, was in the chair.

Several items of business which had transpired during the summer months were discussed and plans for the Christmas bazaar were laid.

Mrs. Arthur Watson and Mrs. J. Ritchie then took charge of the evening's program, which proved to be the enjoyment of all.

Some articles of handicraft for the bazaar were distributed among the members and the evening came to a pleasant conclusion with refreshments served by the hostess.

B.Y.P.U. Holds First Banquet

The B.Y.P.U. of Victoria Avenue Baptist church held its opening meeting of the fall season on Monday evening with 26 in attendance.

The banquet was prepared and served by members of the Dorcas Association. Fall flowers gaily decorated the church parlors for the occasion.

President, Russell Soule, welcomed all the new and old members. A sing-song led by the Rev. L. K. Daniel with Miss Carol Daniel at the piano was followed by devotions in charge of Mr. Carl Hall. Miss Evangeline Reilly rendered a solo "The Lord's Prayer".

The Scripture reading was read by Miss Ruth Goodman. This was followed by a duet "Stay Still" sung by Mrs. D. Reilly and Evangeline.

The guest speaker for the evening was the Rev. R. D. MacLean of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. He was introduced to the group by Miss Marilyn Duvall.

In Mr. MacLean's message, he pointed out "that as a car needs every cylinder to function properly, so do our Young People's need each and everyone to do his and her job properly for our Lord, who is common to us all."

Mrs. Russell Soule thanked the guests for their services rendered and invited each one to attend the regular meeting next Monday night at 8.00 p.m.

George Parker closed the enjoyable evening with prayer.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

THIS IS A MATTER FOR A LAWYER TO HANDLE

Dear Beatrice Fairfax:

My husband and I were divorced early in 1953, and the minor son, now 13, is with me during the school months and with his father through vacation. This was our own agreement out of court, although it was noted in the divorce proceedings.

It was, however, explained in detail to both of us that we were to provide decent living quarters for our son when with each of us, so here is what I want your advice on.

I have information to the effect that my ex-husband is living with a woman who isn't even discovered from her husband, and who is the mother of four minor children. She lives on welfare money, which makes things easier for my former husband. She has a daughter who is my son's age.

Should I let my son face such a life and live in a home like this? I don't want to be mean about things, but the older my son gets, the more he dreads going there.—Mrs. D. R.

Dear Mrs. D. R.:

This is, of course, a matter for a lawyer, and you should talk it over with the attorney who represented you in your divorce proceedings. If you wish to change the terms of the custody of your son, it must be handled on a legal basis.

However, if you want my personal opinion, I certainly think it most unwise for your son to be forced to spend time in any such home as you describe. For a boy of his age to be placed in an unwholesome situation like this might, to my way of thinking, do his whole personality a great deal of harm. Moreover, I doubt very much if the court would approve his being with his father under these circumstances.

By all means, consult your lawyer at once, and let him advise and guide you.

The Stag Buffet

By Mary Moore

My friend Charlotte has a son, who is a transocean pilot. Fergie likes to see his buddies in the Air Force on his infrequent visits at home, so Charlotte is expert at throwing stag parties.

One of the things the fellows loves is barbecued spareribs. So, since one of our readers asked for a "Stag Buffet" menu, I thought there were plenty of you who would welcome this man-eater's menu.

MENU FOR STAG BUFFET

Shrimp Cocktail Tray
Barbecued Spareribs
Spiced Crabapples
Buttered Rolls De Luxe Cole Slaw
Marinated Tomato Wedges
Angel Custard Dessert
Unsalted Pecans
Bottomless Pit Coffee

SHRIMP COCKTAIL TRAY

Use a big beautiful Savoy cabbage for the "bowl" to hold the shrimp. Scoop it out ruthlessly leaving only a lush round-leaf outer wall. Buy a 3 1-2 lb. can frozen shrimp from your fish store (you may have to order these in advance and they cost around $2.00 per lb.). Or buy a 5-lb. can of frozen shrimp in shells. Boil (12 mins.) and shell and clean yourself. Make Cocktail Sauce in advance: (Serve in separate bowl for the men to use as a "dip"). Provide colored toothpicks.) Combine and chill together 1-3 cup each chili sauce, catsup, 1-3 cup prepared horseradish, 1 1-2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce.

BARBECUED SPARERIBS

Cut ribs so that there is meat on both sides, discarding the leftover stripped rib. Provide at least four each of these, and place in bottom of very large roasting pan. Cover with layer of sliced onions. Pour Barbecue Sauce over (below). Repeat layers; cover and bake at 325 deg. Fahr. until meat is tender—2 1-2 hours. Uncover last 1-2 hour. Best hot but good cold. Barbecue Sauce (quadruple these amounts to serve 20): Mix together in saucepan 1 tablespoon 1-2 cup catsup, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon tabasco sauce, 1-8 teaspoon chili powder, 1 cup water, 1-3 teaspoon dry mustard, 1 tablespoon brown sugar.

DE LUXE COLE SLAW

(Triple this for 20)

In a saucepan heat together, 1-4 cup mild vinegar, 1 tablespoon each sugar and butter, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon dry mustard, 1-4 teaspoon pepper. Pour a little of this hot mixture into 1 beaten egg, then stir that back into hot vinegar mix and cook gently until it nearly boils. Remove from heat and beat in 2 tablespoon cream. While hot pour over 2 cups finely shredded cabbage (you will need 9 cups for 20 and triple the dressing) Chill and serve ice cold.

Marinate peeled tomato quarters in French dressing in refrigerator 2 hours. Drain well. Serve ice cold on bed of lettuce.

ANGEL CUSTARD DESSERT

(Serves 10 generously — 12 adequately.)

Clip this recipe and put it in your Party Dessert File.

Bake a 10-inch angel cake (for this purpose I'd advise using a packaged mix unless you have your own laying chickens). After it is removed from pan tear cake into chunks—about 1 1-2 inch pieces roughly, with forks. Return chunks to well-oiled angel tin. Pour over Angel Custard Filling (below), then add more cake, then more custard and so on until all pan is brimming full. Chill until firm. Unmold on large serving platter and cut into narrow wedges. For men serve with whipped cream. Angel Custard Filling: Three and one-half teaspoons plain gelatin (supposedly 1 envelope), 1-4 cup cold water, 6 beaten egg yolks, 3-4 cup sugar, 1 1-3 teaspoons grated lemon rind, 3-4 cup lemon juice, 3-4 cup sugar, 6 stiffly beaten egg whites. Soak gelatin in cold water. In double boiler cook together stirring, the yolks, 3-4 cup sugar, lemon rind and juice until custard coats spoon.—water should not boil underneath. Remove from heat and stir in soaked gelatin. Cool till partially set. Beat 3-4 cup sugar into whites while beating until stiff. Fold into custard.

Make twice as many coffee as you think you will need and thick pouring cream. There's a meal the fellows will remember.

WHEN REPLY-INFORMATION IS NOT GIVEN IN INVITATION

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I have just received an invitation to attend a reception in honor of the Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary of a wonderful couple. Of course I would like to acknowledge this invitation at once, but as the reception is to be given by their children, I do not know to whom to address my response. There is a rather large family and I am not too familiar with their married names. Would it be proper to address the envelope to the oldest daughter, with the enclosed note addressed to the daughters and sons? Or what would you suggest?

M.

Usually when the invitations to this occasion are given by the sons and daughters of the couple, it is stated in the lower left corner of the invitation the name and address of the one to whom the regret is to send the reply. If this information is not given on your invitation I suggest you address your reply to the daughter whom you know best.

IS THERE anything children like better than messy expert assist? Some of the best can be made with an Ouidee Chemistry Set, fixed by remith food colorings, wate measuring spoons, plasti lishes and inexpensive dr saterial the rice, salmon macaroni. Let 'em mix a they want.

BEAUTY

By HELEN JAMIESON

BEAUTY SESSIONS IN THE KITCHEN

A kitchen shelf, complete with cosmetics, is a great help to the beauty-conscious homemaker.

Many homemakers complain, and rightly so, that they just don't have time to run to beauty parlors regularly, nor do they have time for the daily home beauty rituals recommended by the experts. Such a woman should not be discouraged, however. Even if she don't spare, say two hours, for a complexion and a nail treatment, she can, by using an odd moment here and there, accomplish quite a lot toward the maintenance of her looks throughout her working day. One of her first steps should be the erection of a "beauty shelf" right in her kitchen. This can be put on the wall, in the broom cabinet door or, if this is not feasible, a shelf anywhere handy to her working area will do.

On the shelf she should keep such items as powder, rouge, lipstick, facial tissues, a comb and nail file. And a good mirror, of course! She should also include face cream and hand lotion — preferably in small metal tubes or glass containers, since they not only take up less space than large jars or bottles, but they won't spill, leak or dry out. In her refrigerator she should keep a small bottle of toilet water or witch hazel, or both. Once set with all these aids, she's ready to give herself between-chores beauty treatments that will not only help her along the road to beauty, but will give her spirits a lift as well.

While waiting for a cake to bake, for instance, she can reach out for her cream and give herself a quick facial. After hands have been immersed in hot water for any length of time, hand lotion can be applied immediately. When such items are immediately handy, a woman is more likely to use them than if she has to make a special trip to her bedroom or bathroom to get them. A nail file or emery board is especially apt to have about since there's no place like the kitchen for getting a slight split or crack in a nail. Immediate filing will prevent the damage from becoming greater.

If the kitchen becomes overheated from cooking or washing, a dash of cold toilet water, cologne or witch hazel over the forehead, nape of the neck and forearms will do much to overcome that "sweltered" feeling. And, finally, while dinner is cooking, she can apply her make-up quietly and unhurriedly so that when the family troops in "starved to death" she can greet them with a smiling, pretty face.

STIRLING

Professor and Mrs. Richard Chard Honored By Community Friends

STIRLING.—On Friday evening, River Valley school house was filled to capacity with friends and neighbors in honor of the newlyweds, Professor and Mrs. Richard Chard of Kingston.

The school-room was artistically decorated by the pupils and teacher with fluffy white vines and red berries and a profusion of garden flowers. There were also large bouquets of gladioli, asters and roses, brought by friends on this auspicious occasion.

PROGRAM

"Mr. Glenn Bush was master of ceremonies and spoke briefly. Mrs. Phil Conley presided at the piano. The program consisted of assembly singing of "Shine on the One I Love", and "Springtime in the Rockies."

Miss Cheryl Utman sang "Faith, Hope and Charity", with her mother, Mrs. Ralph Utman, as accompanist.

Violin and piano music was provided by Mr. Glenn Morrow and Mrs. Phil Conley.

Mrs. Bob Philip read "Advice to the Bridegroom re His New Tasks."

Misses Marguerite and Truce De Bruyn delighted with a couple of numbers one of which was "Shadows."

The River Valley school children under the direction of the teacher, Mrs. Reg. Coombes, also sang, the primary group rendering "Time for School," and the intermediates, "The Man in the Moon". The seniors gave two selections "Hunter's Horn", and "Time to Sing."

Mrs. Percy MacMullen contributed two readings, one of which was "The Latest Fashion".

The boys' quartet, Douglas Kane, Billy Conley, Kenneth Sager and John Sager, sang "Good to Know You" and "This Old House". Mrs. Ross Bush read two humorous poems on "Advice" and "Opinions" and Miss Helen Morrow delighted with a piano solo.

Mrs. Ernest Carr read "What I Call Living" by Edgar Guest.

Mr. Walter Lindenfield sang one of Harry Lauder's Scotch songs, "He Loves the Lassie" and told a humorous story re "The Blarney Stone" and Misses Margaret and Helen Morrow gave a piano duet.

MARRIAGE SKIT

A marriage ceremony skit was enacted with Joanne Heasman as bride, Douglas Kane as bridegroom and Walter Lindenfield as parson.

Miss Joanne Heasman sang "Just One Girl", with her mother, Mrs. George Heasman as accompanist.

Dick and Madge were given seats of honor and Mrs. Clifford Lansing read an appreciative address on behalf of the River Valley neighborhood and outside friends. She paid tribute to River Valley school, to the teaching profession and welcomed the bride, the former Marjorie Jones of England.

In the address Mrs. Lansing told of Dick's achievements at River Valley public school, at King George high school, Stirling, where he was given the honor of presenting the valedictory address at commencement; of his military service overseas and the unique honor of meeting Princess Elizabeth, now Queen; of his services in St. John's Anglican church and now his professorship.

On behalf of the group, the address was signed by Glenn Morrow, Margaret McDonell, Grace Bush, Grace Donohoe, Isobel Heasman, Joan Bush and Flossie Irven.

PRESENTATION

Messrs. Allan McDonell, Glenn Morrow and Walter Lindenfield made the presentation of an occasional rocker upholstered in green figured brocade; a walnut coffee table, and matching end table.

Mr. Jack Bush read an illuminating address on behalf of the chairvari gang which convened in the rain one evening last week and Mr. Ed. Heasman made the presentation of another matching end table.

Dick and Madge each voiced gracious thanks for both program and gifts, after which the bridegroom's father and brother, Mr. Clarence Chard and Mr. John Chard, each voiced thanks to those who had made so many plans for the gathering.

Best wishes for future happiness on the matrimonial voyage was voiced by Messrs. G. B. Bedford, Stanley Irven, Ross Bush, J. L. Donohoe and Reeve Harry Morrow.

Following "The Queen", a host of ladies served bountiful refreshments and all enjoyed a social hour of fellowship and were personally introduced to the bride.

Women's Activities

MARMORA C.W.L.

MARMORA — The monthly meeting of the Marmora sub-division of the Catholic Women's League was held in Sacred Heart parish hall last Wednesday evening.

Following adoption of minutes of the June meeting and the dealing with correspondence, Welfare convener Mrs. C. Crawford, reported two baskets and two baby gifts sent out. Visiting ladies for July reported six calls made that month. Visiting ladies for next month are, Mrs. M. Monk and Mrs. J. O'Neill."

The president, Mrs. Charles Cook, handed out aprons to be sewn by the ladies in readiness for the coming bazaar. It was reported that linen has been purchased for the making of tablecloths.

Plans were made for catering to a forthcoming wedding on October 6. Groups 4 and 5 will handle this project.

Mrs. Charles Brady gave an interesting paper on "Education" after which the Rev. W. P. Healey addressed the meeting. He gave the financial statement of last year's bazaar. The event with a turkey dinner will be held on October 26 and 27.

Mrs. Donald Shannon gave a reading on "Don't Judge Others," after which the meeting adjourned.

Women's Institute

QUINTE W.I.

The Quinte Women's Institute members with their friends met at the Front Road church hall on Friday, Members of the Parkdale branch and the Camilton branch were guests for this special day.

Three home economists, Miss Mary Porteous, Miss Marilyn Huber, and Miss Doreen Croft, attended from the Home Economic Service, Department of Agriculture, Toronto. The topic was "Sandwiches for all Occasions."

They showed how to have everything ready when entertaining and avoid last minute rush.

Lunch box meals were planned, milk, fruit, vegetables, bread and meat should be included.

Variety comes in using different kinds of breads and many combinations for the fillings.

They showed how to make fancy or party sandwiches, pinwheels, frosted loaves, ribbons, cornucopias, flower pots and open-faced sandwiches, which looked lovely and tasted good when they were later served with a cup of tea.

All remarked it was a most enjoyable afternoon.

Princess Royal To Pay Extended Visit to Canada

LONDON (CP)—The Princess Royal, 58-year-old widowed aunt of the Queen, arrives Friday on her first visit to Canada.

Her 27-day tour will take her from Quebec to Victoria with stops at Montreal, Ottawa, Kingston, Ont., Niagara Falls, Ont., Toronto, Winnipeg and Vancouver.

She will be the guest of Governor-General Vincent Massey in the Citadel at Quebec and again in Government House, Ottawa. In Kingston, her hosts will be the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals and in Victoria she will inspect the Canadian Scottish Regiment.

HONORARY DEGREES

She will receive honorary degrees from Laval University, Quebec, and McGill University, Montreal, and will open the new Montreal General Hospital.

Princess Mary, only daughter of the late Queen Mary and sister of the late King George VI, was declared princess royal by King George V in 1932. The title is the highest a British woman may bear and ranks second only to the Queen. It has been borne by the eldest daughters of British sovereigns for 228 years, yet is not a right, but is created at the pleasure of the sovereign.

The Princess Royal does not share the duties of public attention turned on the Royal Family, but she too is a tireless worker in the public interest.

RED CROSS OFFICIAL

Commandant-in-chief of British Red Cross detachments, she has worked for the Red Cross 45 years and was a blood donor during the Second World War. She has been president of the British Girl Guides Association for 20 years and major-general of the Women's Royal Army Corps since 1950.

Princess Mary, a slim, shy girl with blonde hair and blue eyes, was married in Westminster Abbey in 1922 to millionaire Henry George Charles, then Viscount Lascelles and later Earl of Harewood. It was the second time in British history that the daughter of a reigning sovereign had married a commoner, for Lascelles' title was one of courtesy and did not rate a seat in the House of Lords.

Brought up in stricter seclusion than now is fashionable for royalty, Princess Mary never attended a formal school but was taught social and domestic graces by her mother. She displayed a flair for languages and now speaks French and German fluently.

Since the Second World War, the Princess Royal has emerged as a woman of elegance and charm, dressing with dignity and grace. One London newspaper reported she used no make-up until she was 36.

The Earl of Harewood died in 1947 and the princess' elder son, George Henry Hubert Lascelles, succeeded t the title, The present earl was aide-de-camp to the Earl of Athlone, then governor-general of Canada, from 1945 to 1946, and now is director of the Royal Opera House, Covent Garden.

The Princess Royal divides her time between a flat at St. James's place and Harewood House near Leeds in Yorkshire.

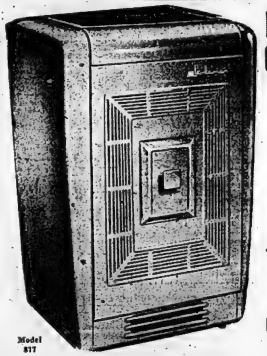
Here is the itinerary of her Canadian tour: Sept. 29, arrive Quebec aboard be Empress of France; Oct. 2, Montreal; Oct. 6, Kingston; Oct. Ottawa; Oct. 12 Toronto; Oct. 13, Niagara Falls; Oct. 14, Winnipeg; Oct. 15, Victoria; Oct. 21, Vancouver; Oct. 23, Montreal; Oct. 25, sails for Liverpool aboard the Empress of France.

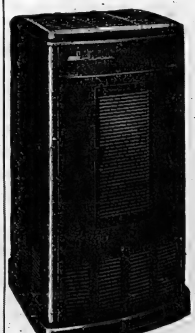
Club Activities

MARSH HILL M.B.

MARSH HILL—Marsh Hill Mission Band met Monday night in the Marsh Hill school with 11 members, the leaders, Mrs. E. B. Finkle, and three mothers.

Mrs. Finkle opened the meeting with the thought, "Try your best to forget the evil done to you."





After the singing of the hymn, "When He Cometh," Mrs. Finkle told the children the story of "The King and the Hermit," also a thing when it needs to be done. Help a person when he needs to be helped.

Mrs. Harold Detlor presided over the following program: verses of Scripture were read by Elizabeth Finkle, Carol Lindenfield and Marilyn Finkle; Gary Mayall read a poem, "Did the Sparrow to the Robin"; Ralph Detlor read, "A Prayer for a Boy," and Gwenda Detlor, "God Cares About You."

Mrs. Detlor told the chapter from the study book, "Holes in the Road," after which Mrs. Detlor closed the meeting.

Public Trustee Lawyer Guilty Of Estates Th ft

TORONTO (CP)—Chester G. McDonald, a lawyer in the office of Ontario's Public Trustee, today pleaded guilty to three charges of stealing from estates under public trust. Amounts involved totalled $32,000. He was remanded to Sept. 26 for sentence.

McDonald was charged with stealing $9,442 from the estate of the late Henry Walton, $3,215 from that of Frank Sinclair, and $23,043 from the Nigot Steiner estate.

A trust officer said McDonald surrendered voluntarily and made restitution of $10,000.

Crown Attorney Stanton Hogg told magistrate J.L. Prentice there are extenuating circumstances.

"The accused's thefts inflicted no harm on any living person," he said.

2nd Thurlow

2nd THURLOW — Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mitchell, also Mr. and Mrs. A. Clarke, Belleville, were entertained by Mrs. J. Lynch at the New Queen's Motel to dinner on Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Keene and boys visited with Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Atkins on Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Greatrix enjoyed a recent week-end at Pembroke and district.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mitchell were recent supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Tucker, of Sidney.

Several friends and neighbors of Mr. Charles Clapp and bride attended a shower at S.S. No. 3, Thurlow, on Friday night and presented them with many lovely and useful gifts.

Mrs. Douglas Atkins visited with Mrs. Arnold Mitchell on Tuesday night.

Several Quinte W.I. members attended the regular meeting at Shannonville on Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Vivian and family of Brampton, spent a few days over a recent week-end with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Vivian.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mitchell called on the latter's uncle, who is a patient in the Peterborough hospital following an accident when he was badly injured by a falling log.

Mrs. A. Dent is a patient in the Belleville hospital. All join in wishing her a speedy recovery.

Mrs. D. Atkins has been on the sick list for a few days.

Several members and friends of the Quinte W.I. attended the "Home-making Club's" sandwich making at the front road church hall on Friday afternoon. The Quinte ladies served refreshments and tea at 4 o'clock.

The South Area School has reopened with the following teachers in charge: S.S. No. 3, Thurlow, Miss Marion Asselstine; S.S. No. 4, Thurlow, Mr. Lott; S.S. No. 1, Thurlow, Mr. Bell; S.S. No. 20, Mr. H. Darling, principal, and Mrs. Darling, Mrs. Hutcheson and Miss Gay as teachers.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Wright and Rickey of Stirling, were Thursday night visitors of Mr. and Mrs. R. Atkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Bush and family of Sidney, had dinner on Sunday with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mitchell.

YOU CAN WIN $3,000 THIS WEEK in the exciting DOMINION "Famous Brands" FORTUNE-HUNT!

Although 24 phone calls to various localities in Ontario were made Saturday night in the DOMINION "Famous Brands" FORTUNE-HUNT, no one came up with the right answer to win $1,000 in last week's contest. Calls were made between 8 and 9 p.m. to Cornwall, Kirkland Lake, Sarnia, Brantford, Orleans, Belleville, London, Barrie, Lakefield, Sudbury, Port Colborne, North Bay, Hamilton, St. Catharines, Windsor, Perth, Oshawa, Peterborough, Brampton, Maxwell and Toronto. Don't miss out next Saturday night ... have the right answer when the DOMINION FORTUNE-HUNT calls.

You can win $2,000 this week in the DOMINION "Famous Brands" FORTUNE-HUNT. First, find the "Phantom Famous Brand" listed on this page (you'll find it in the DOMINION FORTUNE-HUNT ad). Then, between 8 and 9 o'clock E.S.T. next Saturday evening, DO NOT ANSWER HELLO or you will be immediately disqualified from an opportunity to win $2,000.

Instead of answering HELLO, say "DOMINION STORES" and then state the name of this week's "Phantom Famous Brand." If you do, and it is the DOMINION FORTUNE-HUNT caller, you will win the Grand Prize of $1,000.

$1,000 BONUS! If you win the Grand Prize and have in your home at the time a box top or label from this week's "Phantom Famous Brand" (or a reasonable facsimile) PLUS a DOMINION cash register slip dated this week and totalling $5.00 or more, you will qualify for a bonus prize of $1,000.

$500 CONSOLATION PRIZES! If the DOMINION FORTUNE-HUNT calls your telephone number and you make the mistake of answering HELLO, but can still name this week's "Phantom Famous Brand," you will qualify for a consolation prize of $500.

Employees and agents of Dominion Stores Limited and their families are not eligible for this contest.

GRAND PRIZE MUST BE WON! If this week's Grand Prize is not won on Saturday night, it will be added to next week's Grand Prize of $1,000. This will be repeated if necessary until someone wins the accumulated Grand Prize.

Find the "PHANTOM FAMOUS BRAND!"

Below are listed a number of Canada's most famous brands of food and household products. ALL BUT ONE of these products are illustrated on this page. Check the list of products against the illustrations and find the one that is NOT ILLUSTRATED. That is the "Phantom Famous Brand" in this week's contest.

Winch Assails Drew's View

VANCOUVER (CP) — A CCF member of Parliament said here Tuesday that Progressive Conservative leader George Drew is as "politically and mentally dead as the Conservative party in British Columbia."

Harold Winch, CCF member for Vancouver-East, said Mr. Drew fails to realize Canada is already represented by a two-party system of government.

The CCF member was comment ing on Mr. Drew's statement here Monday night that "the CCF party hasn't a chance" of forming a federal government "within our lifetime."

There is no difference between the Conservatives and the Social Credit parties—they both stand for private enterprise," said Mr. Winch. "The CCF is the only party opposed to Conservatives, Social Credit and Liberals."

GIANT POWER PLANT

This artist's sketch shows the giant Bersimis power development which Hydro-Quebec is building in the wilderness north of the St. Lawrence River's north shore. Water held back by two dams at the outlets of Lake Casse will run through a 7½-mile tunnel into the penstocks of a huge power house near Labrieville, Que., and turn generators in the power house. The three tunnel entrances show how workers drove three sections of the tunnel simultaneously. Bottle-shaped white object above the power house is a surge tank driven into the mountain to relieve pressure in the tunnel. A tailrace returns the used water to the Bersimis river. Inset map shows the location of the project in relation to Lake Casse and the St. Lawrence's north shore. Cut-off dams will control the run-off of water northward into the Saguenay river basin. (CP Photo).

Gigantic Power Project

Bersimis Development East of Quebec Will Rank Among World's Biggest in Output

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

LABRIEVILLE, Que. (CP)—Everything is big about Bersimis, the power development which the Hydro-Electric Commission of Quebec is building 200 miles northeast of Quebec City.

It ranks among the world's biggest developments in output, has few rivals in sheer drama of concept, and perhaps is supreme in the combination of wilderness it will open up and populated areas to which it will bring added service.

In its present phase it will have 1,200,000 horsepower capacity and a second development may raise it to 1,800,000 horsepower.

POWERS MANY PROJECTS

Southward the power will cross the St. Lawrence river by 32-mile under-water cable and continue 140 miles by transmission lines into the Gaspe peninsula to power a huge copper development at Murdochville and new and old enterprises throughout the peninsula.

To the west it will directly and indirectly through release of other power supplies, send electric energy into vast new mining areas such as Chibougamau and a fresh surge into the hungry lines into Quebec and Montreal.

To examine this new development let us start at Lake Casse, some 90 miles inland from the lower St. Lawrence river.

Into Lake Casse from the northwest flow the waters of Lake Pipmoucan and a farther large drainage basin.

Out of Lake Casse at its southern end flow two rivers, the Bersimis which drops some 1,200 feet in 80 winding miles to the St. Lawrence, and the nearby Deschenes river, a short waterway which soon joins the Bersimis.

HUGE RESERVOIR

Imagine for the moment that we are Hydro-Quebec—the name by which the Hydro-Electric Commission is generally known—and the big contracting firms which it has brought in. This is what we do (and already we have done the greater part of it):

We build two dams to hold back Lake Casse's waters as they enter the Bersimis and Deschenes rivers. Thus we create a 250-square-mile reservoir holding 385,000,000 cubic feet of water.

From Lake Casse we tunnel through granite mountains for 7½ miles, dropping 875 feet or five times the height of Niagara falls.

At the bottom of this tunnel we run off at right angles eight smaller tunnels, ranging up to 1,100 feet in length, which we call penstocks, and these lead into a powerhouse in which we install eight turbine generators of 150,000 horsepower capacity each.

Then we let Lake Casse's waters into the tunnel to propel the generators which yield our power.

COSTLY PROJECT

This is simple enough in principle, but, together with transmission lines, it is costing $225,000,000 to do it, and absorbing the work of up to 5,000 people over a period of three years—1953 to 1956.

Let us go back to Lake Casse and the dams we build.

These dams are of earth and rock. The one across the Bersimis is 2,210 feet long, 900 feet wide at the base, 40 feet wide at the crest and 200 feet high; and that across the Deschenes is 1,035 feet long, 825 feet wide at its base, and 200 feet high.

We pour into these two dams 5,000,000 cubic yards of fill, enough to build a four-lane highway 22 feet wide and seven inches thick from Montreal to Toronto, with some left over.

Between the two dams a knob of mountain is cut away to form a 1,000-foot spillway to let out excess water.

MASSIVE TUNNELS

Let us now enter the tunnel where it leaves Lake Casse. The tunnel is hewn out of the granite, 35 feet in diameter, and will be 21½ feet when we have finished lining it with concrete.

Into this and other tunnels going into the powerhouse we are putting 607,000 cubic yards of concrete, representing 2,240,000 bags of cement —enough to build a sidewalk three feet wide and one foot thick for 1,400 miles, or from Montreal to Winnipeg.

For greater speed we build the long tunnel in three sections simultaneously, and to reach the workings we drive in three other tunnels, each 32 feet by 28 feet, with varying lengths—2,368 feet, 2,296 feet and 1,260 feet.

The powerhouse at the end of our tunnel, also inside the mountain, is 565 feet long, 65 feet wide and 80 feet high, and we get in and out of it through another tunnel, 250 feet long.

BIG WATER VOLUME

From the powerhouse we build a tailrace, including a 760-foot tunnel 70 feet high and 48 feet wide, to return the used water to the Bersimis river. Later we may put the water again 20 miles further down after it has dropped another 330 feet in the river's natural course.

We also excavate a surge tank so that if we wish to interrupt the almost inconceivable force of water coming down our long tunnel, the water will have somewhere to go without blowing out the mountain sides.

We have dug this surge tank from the top of the mountain which houses the powerhouse. It is 675 feet deep and 84½ feet in diameter. It is cylindrical and looks like a tank but it, too, is carved out of granite and must be one of the most impressive-looking holes in the ground to be seen anywhere.

Before we could get our project under way at all we had to build a diversion channel and tunnel to drain the Bersimis river from our damsite and a long culvert to divert the Deschenes.

NINE MILES OF TUNNELS

When we are finished, we will have tunnelled 48,000 feet or some nine miles, and have blasted out 2,200,000 cubic yards of rock. We have become miners as well as construction and power men.

Let us return again to Lake Casse. We are backing up a lot of water and if we don't look out we shall send water overtaxing into another watershed leading westward to the Saguenay river. So, some 60 miles back from our Lake Casse dams we build two more dams. These will keep the water shepherded southward, but if the Saguenay basin should need more water, probably we could let it have some from our store.

We have already started to back up the waters but it will be some two years before our reservoir is filled.

Looking forward to November, 1956, when we shall have our first power to send out, we build four transmission lines into the hydro-electric systems of Lake St. John, Shawinigan and Quebec; a little later we will build a double-circuit line from Quebec to Montreal and put in a double-circuit line to the submarine cable leading to Gaspe.

Altogether our transmission right-of-way covers 15,000 acres of which 10,000 acres are wooded, much of it almost inspectrable.

SIGNED CONTRACTS

We have signed nearly 3,000 contracts with landowners; and we have become lawyers as well as miners and construction and power men.

We had a lot of other things to do. We built a wharf and a huge silo to store cement at Forestville, on the St. Lawrence 85 miles away, and installed a 30-ton derrick to handle the heavy equipment we are bringing in.

We have built dynamite magazines at discreet distances from our workings to store the 5,300 tons of dynamite we are using; we have set up a concrete operation with a six-storey batcher building in which our concrete is mixed; and we have blasted out a quarry and mined a big impervious-clay deposit for fill for our dams.

We have installed 85 miles of telephone line and a radio system in case of telephone breakdown, and we operate a continuous teletype circuit to Hydro-Quebec headquarters in Montreal.

And, oh yes, we have built the handsome new town of Labrieville near our powerhouse.

LARGER OBJECTIVES

Comparing our project in output with other projects, following are the objectives of larger Canadian developments, with the amount installed at the end of 1954 in brackets:

Kitimat, B.C., 2,240,000 (420,000); Beauharnois, near Montreal, 2,200,000 (1,425,000); the Adam Beck, Niagara, Ont., 1,826,000 (460,000); Bersimis present phase 1,200,000 with 450,000 ready by 1956, and an additional 600,000 phase complete; Shipshaw, Que., 1,200,000 (1,200,000); St. Lawrence seaway and power project when completed, 2,200,000, of which Ontario and New York will each get 1,100,000 horsepower.

Big United States developments include:

On the Columbia river: Grand Coulee 2,102,000 (2,102,000); the Dalles 2,722,000 (1,733,000); Chief Joseph 2,700,000 (1,600,000); McNary 2,226,000 (1,567,000). On the Colorado river: Hoover, or Boulder dam 1,857,000 (1,742,000).

"SPIED ON," START STRIKE

BLACKPOOL, Eng. (Reuters)—Nearly 600 auto body workers here who stopped work Monday because they claimed their employers had cut down lavatory doors to spy on them, voted Tuesday night to return to work today so that negotiations for the disagreement could begin. Carpenters lowered the doors of lavatories in the men's washroom where the management claimed the men wasted their time talking and smoking.

IT'S EASY WHEN STEER IS GENTLE

Steer-riding is usually something reserved for rodeos, but at the fall fair in Milford, Ont., Sam Wray rode his steer as easily as a policeman rides a horse. He won the prize for the most onstanding item of the fair. — Central Press Canadian.

Canada's Wheat Exports Drop For Second Year

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's wheat exports declined last year for the second year in a row while those of her competitors increased. The United States took over from Canada as the world's top shipper.

Final figures for the 1954-55 crop year issued by the bureau of statistics today showed that Canada's exports dropped to a four-year low of 251,900,000 bushels, down from 325,100,000 in 1953-54 and the peak of 383,500,000 in 1952-53. The crop year ends July 31.

U. S. exports increased to 276,000,000 from 211,400,000 in 1953-54; Argentina's to 134,500,000 from 110,000,000; and Australia's to 84,500 from 63,400,000.

The U. S. is disposing of some of her surplus wheat by selling for local currencies, bartering for other goods, or presenting it to some countries as gifts.

A major portion of Canada's wheat is sold under the 47-country international wheat agreement. But in 1954-55 many importers purchased only part of what they planned to take and therefore not one of the three major exporters—Canada, the U. S. and Australia—were able to sell their full quotas.

WINDS BLAST MIDWAY

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)—A windstorm that whipped through crowds at the tri-state fair here Tuesday night injured at least 25 persons and leveled the carnival midway. One of the injured was believed in a serious condition. Bill James, midway operator, estimated damage to his shows and concessions at more than $50,000. Property damage was extensive throughout this panhandle city.

Icelanders, Driven from Home By Volcanoes, Chose West Side Of L. Winnipeg to Start Anew

By WALTER GRAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

HECLA ISLAND, Man. (CP)—Many years ago in Iceland a mountain blew up and the people fled. For most their flight brought them to Manitoba.

Nearly penniless; their belongings packed in one or two battered trunks, many of the Icelanders chose this pine-covered island lying off the west shore of Lake Winnipeg to start a new life. They named the island Hecla after the volcano that drove them from their homeland.

Civilization came to Hecla in 1876. Today, the second and third generations still carry on the traditions and the way of life of their forefathers.

FISHING FAMILIES

Hecla islanders make their living from the lake. Most of the 200 residents come from fishing families.

In June and July the Icelanders stow their gear on their boats and sail 200 miles north to whitefish waters. In September and October they fish closer to home. Following freeze-up they are out over the ice around the island until the breakup in March.

During the summer the islanders fish much the same way as their grandfathers did. But the nylon hardier has revolutionized winter fishing.

Where previously the fishermen loaded their equipment on dog-drawn sleds and camped on the windswept ice for days, now they skim over the lake in a high-powered snow vehicles for a day's fishing and then return home each night.

Only in recent years has fishing been made easier for its residents. The first settlers led a life of misery. Thirty unmarked graves stand as a memorial to the smallpox epidemic that all but wiped out the pioneers soon after their arrival.

"TERRIFIC PRIDE"

Heigi Jones—Johnson is the family's Icelandic name — says the pioneers had "terrific pride."

"All during the depression, even though they didn't have a cent to their names, not one soul asked for relief," the 39-year-old fisherman-resort operator said.

Before 1953 Hecla Island could be reached only by air or boat. The SS Keenora calls twice weekly during the summer on its run from Selkirk to Warren's Landing on the north end of the lake.

In 1953 the provincial government built a road down the island and installed a four-car ferry to carry traffic from the mainland to the west. Two years ago the Manitoba power commission strung a power line from Riverton, 28 miles southwest.

The island's affairs are governed by the local school board. The children attend two schools, one of two rooms and the other a single-room unit. Motion pictures are shown in the local hall once a week and the islanders attend services in the Lutheran Church.

Most islanders live in the village of Hecla, on the east side of the island. Eight miles further north is Gull Harbor, site of an all-season government fish hatchery, a government dock and Heigi Jones' Gull Harbor lodge.

During the winter Heigi fishes with his father Beggi, 65, and his brothers Binny, 38 and Beggi, Jr., 36. And for the last two summers he has been running his lodge.

OFF BEATEN TRACK

Few vacationers have discovered Hecla. The road into the area, 100 miles north of Winnipeg, would frighten the best of drivers should be attempt it during a rainstorm. But in good weather he is rewarded by white sand beaches and some of the best lake swimming in Manitoba.

Across the channel are the pine-covered islands — Black, Little Punk, Big Punk and Deer—all still in their virgin state.

Deer and moose roam the Hecla woods and on the west side of the island is a marsh that natives say is alive each fall with migrating waterfowl.

But the island's real asset is its people. The Icelanders' door—and their food lockers—are always open to the visitor.

"They always make the best coffee, the best fish and the best vinlerteria," says Heigi.

Vinlerteria—lace tart—is the Icelandic cook's specialty. It consists of five thin layers of cake separated by ribbons of fruit paste. A dessert fancier's delight.

TOSCANINI HONORED

MANTUA, Italy (CP)—Maestro Arturo Toscanini, adjudged the most outstanding living personality of grand opera, Wednesday night was awarded a golden statuette by Orpheum, Italian musician of ancient Greece. This was the first time the golden Orpheus has been awarded. Golden statuettes will be awarded later to the soprano, mezzo-soprano, tenor, baritone and basso considered the best of the year.

U.S. Is Willing To Cut Tariff On 900 Items

By GEORGE KITCHEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (CP)—The United States on Wednesday night made public a list of some 900 imports on which it is willing to consider tariff cuts when 25 nations meet to negotiate new tariff concessions at Geneva next January.

The list, covering U. S. imports totalling $1,772,000,000, ranged from scotch whisky and automobiles to electrical equipment and olive oil. Included was a broad segment of miscellaneous items such as reindeer meat, shark fins, ball bearings and long bananas.

The total included three basic imports of interest to Canada—lumber, wheat and aluminum. Canada is the principal exporter of those items to the U. S.

Other Canadian-interest items included oatmeal, magnesium ores and concentrates, pickled and salt salmon, knitted woolen goods, rayon weaving manufactures, dressed but undyed fur and fur skins and paper board and pulpboard.

However, Canadian observers suggested the proposed concessional list will be more important to Europe than to Canada.

They noted that the U. S. administration, under the new trade agreements law adopted by congress in July, is permitted to reduce tariffs by only five per cent a year during a three-year period. Since most of the 900 items listed already carry a low rate of duty, a five-per-cent reduction would be relatively minor.

U.S. Wildlife Experts Welcome Canada's Protest

WASHINGTON (AP) — United States fish and wildlife service officials expressed belief today that the whooping crane will become extinct if U. S. Air Force photoflash bombing is carried on near their wintering ground on the Gulf of Mexico coast.

They were elated at the announcement Tuesday that the Canadian government, under a treaty for the protection of migratory birds, has filed an official protest with Washington against location of the bombing range on the southern end of Matagorda island.

The birds, U. S. officials say, is only about a mile from the shore boundary of the Aransas national refuge. This protected area is the winter home of the only known flock of whoopers in the world.

Within a month, the annual migration from breeding grounds in western Canada is supposed to end at Aransas.

The birds may be driven away from Aransas if the air force plan is carried out. Photo-flash explosions are of high sound intensity and illuminate brilliantly an area of hundreds of square miles.

Ottawa Wants To Quiz Sinclair On Peiping Talks

OTTAWA (CP)—It appears certain that the government will want to hear from Fisheries Minister Sinclair just as soon as he returns to the capital.

A Hong Kong report Wednesday quoted diplomatic sources there as saying that Mr. Sinclair informally discussed de facto recognition of Communist China with Communist officials when he was in Peiping briefly last week.

The possibility of recognition is not a prime issue here at the moment, if one at all. But the general attitude to the matter can be summed up about the way it was put a year ago: "Don't worry, maybe some day."

Asked what the Hong Kong report, Prime Minister St. Laurent told newspaper men he didn't know. Mr. Sinclair discussed recognition in Peiping.

"I'm becoming somewhat chary of some newspaper reports," he added.

Sudbury Star Says New Mill Will Be Built

SUDBURY (CP)—The Sudbury Star said Wednesday a $50,000,000 steel mill that would process 6,000,000 tons of steel ingot annually is envisioned for nearby Copper Cliff.

The paper said the mill would work in conjunction with the new $100,000,000 plant of the International Nickel Company and would employ about 4,000 workers.

The announcement that the federal government would grant a $500,000 charter a deepening program in Georgian bay near Little Current was considered a big step, the paper's story said.

It also said the Canadian Pacific Railway plans a $2,600,000 expansion program at its docks at Little Current to handle 25 miles west of here.

Company officials were not available for comment but the Star said company sources have been informed Ore boss's iron tonnage will be shipped by way of Little Current.

The new iron plant, not yet open, will have a 750,000 tons annually. The paper says capacity ultimately will be increased.

In Toronto, official comment from International Nickel Co. could not be obtained. However, informed sources close to the company's consideration in reports a steel mill will be built at Copper Cliff.

TORONTO (CP) — Harry Waisglass, assistant research director in Canada for the United Steelworkers of America (CIO-CLC), Wednesday night was named CCF candidate for the federal by-election in Toronto Spadina Oct. 21.

Court of Appeal Sets Aside Conviction on Murder Charge

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario court of appeal Wednesday set aside the conviction of Robert Ducharme, 23, on a charge of murdering a northern Ontario school teacher and ordered a new trial.

Ducharme was arrested near his home in Sudbury, in the Hamilton area, last December, a few days after 21-year-old Steve Klapoushak was found shot to death beside a bush-country school at Dalton Mines, northwest of Capreau.

He was convicted at a trial in Sudbury last May and sentenced to be hanged.

Witnesses said the teacher, originally from Timmins, befriended Ducharme when Ducharme got a job on a railway work gang.

At the appeal hearing here this month, defence counsel C. L. Dubin argued that the evidence indicated someone other than Ducharme could have killed Klapoushak. He said the slayer could have been a man who died accidentally in a mine accident before the trial.

Ducharme's appeal that he be hanged last July 28 but was granted a stay of execution when his lawyer lodged an appeal.

He was convicted largely on the basis of a $40 pencil note he was alleged to have forged. The note had been sent to Klapoushak. The crown argued that Ducharme's possession of it indicated he had robbed the school-teacher's cabin.

In his defence, Mr. Dubin said many witnesses did not recall seeing the note in the mail envelope in which it was supposed to have been delivered. He argued that the note was not found in Klapoushak's cabin.

In handing down judgment on the court of appeal bench, Mr. Justice Pickup said much of the evidence submitted was unrelated to the charge and was circumstantial.

"A person accused of crime must be tried on the evidence against him," he wrote, "and this applies with equal force to circumstantial evidence as it does to any other kind."

He also thought it "quite improper" that Ducharme should have to answer the crown's question concerning desertion from the army.

"The accused is to be convicted, if he is convicted at all, on evidence relevant to the crime with which he is charged and not upon character or past record."

ELEPHANT ARRIVES IN RESPONSE TO BOY'S LETTER TO NEHRU

Just a growing youngster as elephants go, Ambika, 1,065 pounds and six years old, is a four-month home in Granby zoo, Que., as a special gift from Prime Minister Nehru of India to the children of Canada. Ambika may never have arrived had it not been for Peter Mormorek of Granby, right. He wanted an elephant and did the most logical thing he could think of to get one. He wrote to Prime Minister Nehru, who thought Peter's request perfectly natural. So he sent Ambika together with a keeper and now Peter, and everyone else in Granby, has an elephant.—Central Press Canadian

Hurricane Janet Builds Strength Far Out to Sea

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The season's 10th tropical storm spun far out in the Atlantic today, with weather bureau forecasters predicting that it will grow in size and intensity.

Named Janet, the storm had been 1,800 miles southeast of Miami early today, with winds estimated at 65 to 85 miles an hour. It was moving between west-northwest at about 15 miles an hour, and continued movement in that direction was expected.

The northward Windward and Leeward islands lie in the path of the storm and small craft hazard has been warned to stay in port. Vessels in the vicinity were advised to exercise caution.

Six Fishermen Feared Drowned Now Found Safe

TURKEY POINT, Ont. (CP)—Six fishermen, missing since Tuesday on windswept Lake Erie, were found Wednesday stranded but safe on a small island off nearby Long Point.

The men were returned to the mainland in a rescue boat after search plans got under way for the men in a small boat.

The men, Jack Daughan, 31; Larry Herbert, 29, and Charles Price, 28, all married and from Raymond Wilson, 49, Henry Ross, 60, and James Risch, 45, of Oxford Centre near Woodstock, set out Tuesday in two separate parties.

Gus won't know what the honor is until it's conferred, he will be presented by the Indians of the Six Nations reserve.

Chief Smoke Johnson of chiefs and braves will be held during the weekend of events and a meeting while two places carried out an air search.

Word from the London Flying Club spotted Pellow waving two white handkerchiefs from a small boat.

Both parties, fishing from small boats, sought shelter on the shore when winds up to 30 miles an hour whipped up huge waves.

Marilyn's Coach To Be Honored

HAMILTON (CP)—Gus Ryder, who coached Marilyn Bell to her record-breaking across Lake Ontario and the English channel, will be honored when he opens the Intercity Tennis Tarp in nearby Burlington Sept. 29, Rotary president Gus Wood announced Wednesday.

Gus won't know what the honor is until it's conferred, he will be presented by the Indians of the Six Nations reserve.

Chief Smoke Johnson of chiefs and braves will be held during the weekend of events and a meeting while two places carried out an air search.

BBC Starts Swinging Before Bell, Lands First Punch in TV Battle

LONDON (CP) — Commercial television invades British homes with a blare of trumpets tonight, ending the Corporation's air-wave monopoly of the state-sponsored BBC.

But the BBC, usually sedate and sometimes stuffy, Wednesday night started swinging before the bell and landed the first punch in the TV tournament.

A ghost image suddenly came on the screen and an American announcer lampooned the virtues of a face pack called "Slime."

The regular announcer finally appeared and laughingly apologized that the wrong program had slipped in — "that's tomorrow night."

Argument is likely to start immediately—and go on for years—as to whether the new programs, financed by advertising, are better or worse than the non-commercial single program provided for many years by the BBC.

It took fierce controversy in Parliament and the newspapers before the idea of any commercial TV in Britain was accepted. Finally an independent authority was set up to plan programs and police.

They appointed program contractors—organizations capable of producing acceptable programs and selling advertising time to sponsors, who have no say in the programming. All they can do is buy time—at up to £1,000 a minute for commercials between the programs.

Randolph Churchill, son of the ex-prime minister, today introduced a new commercial TV into commercial TV with a letter to The Times, pointing out that big newspaper groups are among the shareholders of the program companies he claims that these newspapers would cease to give objective criticism of TV programs.

And other newspapers not involved in commercial TV would be reluctant to give excessive space to advertising the wares of their rivals, he says.

SETS FIRE LOSS

CALGARY (CP)—R. S. Munn, president of Burns and Company Ltd., said Wednesday loss in the fire which destroyed part of the company's plant in Prince Albert, Sask., Sept. 16 "is not likely to exceed $2,000,000." Previous unofficial estimates of the loss ranged as high as $5,000,000.

HITS PREJUDICE

LONDON (Reuters) — American Negro Congressman Adam C. Powell (Dem., N.Y.) said Wednesday night that color prejudice in England has grown to the point where "England is drifting into what we term 'segregation' to extricate ourselves from."

BLAME DEAD SKIPPER

HAKOKATE, Japan (AP) — A marine court of inquiry has blamed the dead skipper for the 1954 typhoon sinking of the huge government railways ferry Toya Maru. A total of 1,172 persons were drowned. It was the worst sea disaster since the Titanic sank in 1912 with 1,517 dead.

END RELIGIOUS COURTS

CAIRO (Reuters)—The Egyptian cabinet has abolished all Moslem, Christian and Jewish religious tribunals, a government spokesman said Wednesday. All religious cases in future, including divorce and inheritance cases, will be transferred to civil courts.

Newfoundland Capital Puts House in Order After Ione Sweeps Across Province

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—This frazzled Newfoundland capital sought to put its house in order today while waiting for reports of hurricane Ione's vandalism to drift in from outlying parts of the gale-raked province. Winds reached 92 miles an hour here.

The hurricane covered her tracks with silence. All telephone communications out of St. John's were knocked out and twisted wires took care of most telegraph stations throughout the island.

Damage will not be totalled for days.

Although Ione dealt harshly with property no deaths were reported and no signals were received here of ships in distress.

ONE INJURED

The only person reported injured was a 13-year-old Larry Jerrett of Carbonear. Ione picked him up and threw him against a telephone pole. He suffered head injuries and a broken leg.

Fishermen were well warned of the approaching gales and had their gear safely battened down—in the St. John's area at least. Sections of St. John's were left without power for hours.

Freight sheds and other buildings on the waterfront had their roofs scooped off and flung in the harbor. Chimneys, radio and television antennae and trees fell left and right.

Most schools in the province were closed for the afternoon.

Gander airport reported closed down during the hurricane.

The big United States naval base at Argentia on the south coast also was closed by authorities. No personnel were allowed out of doors.

Dulles Prepares To Review Year At UN Assembly

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United Nations opposition centred today on State Secretary Dulles and his annual review for the General Assembly of American foreign policy.

Dulles was listed as the second speaker in the 10th assembly's opening round of policy statements from delegation chiefs. Brazilian Ambassador Cyro de Freitas-Valle was the head-off man.

It was learned that the American secretary would put special emphasis on disarmament, German unification, development of the peaceful uses of atomic energy and revision of the UN charter.

Following the general statements, assembly discussion of disarmament is slated to be held over until after the Big Four foreign ministers thresh out the question at Geneva Oct. 27.

After that, the United States is expected to press for a resolution endorsing President Eisenhower's proposal for the big powers to exchange military blueprints and aerial and ground inspections.

FIGHT BREWING

While the assembly turned its attention officially to worldwide issues, a bitter floor fight was brewing over Greece's demand that the British island colony of Cyprus be allowed self-determination.

The assembly steering committee—by a 7-to-4 vote Wednesday night—rejected the Greek request for debate on the issue after British Delegate Anthony Nutting contended that "passions would be still further inflamed." Greece is certain to ask the full assembly to overrule the committee, but there is considerable doubt that she will get enough votes.

Stoney Indians Begin Round-Up Of Wild Horses

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE, Alta.—(CP)—The annual wild-horse roundup by the Stoney Indians of about 100 miles west of here in the wilderness valleys of the Rocky Mountains.

Most of the animals will be sold to be turned into horsemeat. A few farms, but some will be kept and trained by the Indians for the rodeo circuit.

The herds have been running in the Kootenay and Bow valleys since the oldest Indians can remember. They are believed to be descendants of Indian pack trail horses of the rugged forestry stations and the rugged mountain Indian mustang.

Some chiefs estimate the number of wild horses at 1,000. The thrive on the lush grasses a plentiful water on the plains, p ticularly in school level.

Ottawa Pupils Will Be Guinea Pigs for New Method

OTTAWA (CP) — Public school schools children in five Ottawa classrooms will be guinea pigs this year for a new method of teaching French to English-speaking pupils.

During the first stage of the course, for a period of 15 minutes daily, they will be asked to speak or write French. Instead they'll listen to French spoken by a teacher and from radio, movies and tape recorders.

Later the teacher and pupils will carry on conversations, the teacher speaking in French and the pupils answering in English. Still later the pupils will converse entirely in French.

Not until the second stage, still later, will pupils be called on to learn to speak and write French through exercises similar to those now used by standard teaching methods.

Ottawa is the first city to make the experiment. It is being carried out by Dr. Robert Gauthier, a Roman Catholic separate schools and grade 5 classes in three public

Dr. Robert Gauthier of Ottawa, in the public education system of Ontario, says the main difference in the new method is that the pupil will be free to wrestle with the problem of expressing himself in French until he has become familiar with the language and stored up a number of words and phrases in his memory.

The old method of teaching French, Dr. Gauthier explains, he said, has not been successful in the past.

The age of 10 or 11 was the time to start teaching a new language because by then most children were firmly established in their own tongue.

Public school pupils in the experiment will have four 25-minute periods a week and the separate schools children five 15-minute periods.

Charges Reds Plot Coup In Singapore

SINGAPORE (Reuters) — David Marshall, chief minister of Singapore's self-rule government, charged "international communism" is plotting to seize by violence this British crown colony.

The 47-year-old leader was introducing a public security bill in the crowded legislative assembly as rich-eyed police guarded all entrances. The bill would incorporate into the colony's laws many of the British anti-Communist emergency regulations.

Outside the building, hundreds of student demonstrators marched with banners denouncing the bill, a storm of jeers greeted Marshall as he left the assembly house after his speech.

The chief minister told the assembly that any easing of anti-Communist laws in Singapore would be "a stab in the back" for the adjacent Federation of Malaya where the jungle war against the Communists has gone on for seven years.

Engineer Skips Government Job After Finding, Selling Rich Ore Find

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Premier Smallwood told the legislature Tuesday night that a Hungarian engineer skipped his Newfoundland government job after uncovering a rich Quebec mineral deposit and staking registering it in his own name.

He said the engineer, whom he identified only as Mellicrash was hired in 1953 as one of 70 field personnel to scout mineral deposits in Labrador.

He was given an aircraft and a licence to prospect in Quebec because his assigned area was near the Quebec-Labrador border.

But instead, he went prospecting in Quebec, spotted a hill of iron ore from the aircraft and acquired the right to it in his own name, Mr. Smallwood said.

The premier said a news magazine had reported the find and the Hungarian sold out for $1,000,000.

Mr. Smallwood said attempts were made to have the engineer arrested but by that time he had left the country. It was believed he had returned to Europe.

Think of all YOU can do with the help of a PERSONAL LOAN!

With fall days at hand and the demands of winter just ahead, why not make life easier for your family and yourself by seeing us about a PERSONAL LOAN?

We are glad to offer the advantages of our Personal Loan service to anyone on a payroll, salary or with other regular income, whether he wears overalls on his job or is an office-worker, professional man or senior business executive. What we go by in making a loan is mainly the borrower's character—and the regularity of his income. No collateral is required. And in most cases no signature is needed other than those of husband and wife. Loans are made in strict confidence, of course.

Insurance is arranged by the bank. To protect your estate, you are insured for the life of the loan.

How much can you borrow? You can get loans of from $60 to $3600 or more for 12, 18 or 24 months.

Easy terms. You simply repay by making equal monthly deposits in a special savings account opened in your name. You get interest on these deposits at the regular savings rate. When the loan is repaid, you receive a cheque for this interest—less the small charge for insurance.

Many Uses. You'll find Personal Loans useful for many purposes besides those mentioned above . . . purchase of cars . . . consolidation of debts . . . payment of taxes . . . travel and education . . . and other worthwhile objectives. A wise use of credit can greatly improve your standard of living.

How to get a Personal Loan. Drop in and talk over your problems with the manager of our nearest branch — we have more than 700 to serve you.

These include:

- CURRENT ACCOUNTS
- SAVINGS ACCOUNTS
- SAFETY DEPOSIT BOXES
- BANKING BY MAIL
- TRAVELLERS' CHEQUES
- COMMERCIAL LOANS
- LETTERS OF CREDIT
- MONEY ORDERS AND FOREIGN REMITTANCES
- HOME IMPROVEMENT LOANS
- MORTGAGE LOANS UNDER THE N.H.A.

JUNTA FORCES PERON TO RESIGN

Argentine troops are shown setting up anti-aircraft artillery in Plaza del Mayo in Buenos Aires against possible air attack by rebels. The entire country was under a state of siege for four days before a four-man junta of army generals assumed command of the forces which had fought unsuccessfully to keep in power their colleague who had been master of Argentina since Oct. 17, 1945, and its president for nine years. Army and navy units were reported to have joined to force the resignation of President Peron, his cabinet and other authorities. (Central Press Canadian).

RECOVERS

Six-year-old Bobby Jones of Rossland, B.C., has made what doctors call a remarkable recovery after a freak accident paralyzed his right side. His right eye was pierced by a discarded car-radio aerial. The optic nerve was not injured but Bobby's right side was paralyzed and he was unable to walk, talk or eat. He now has recovered and will return home shortly. He is shown in a Vancouver hospital with a playmate. (CP Photo).

Tried to Buy Life of Luxury On Easy Plan

CHICAGO (AP)—They died trying to buy a life of luxury in the United States on the "easy payment" instalment plan.

That was the theory offered by investigators today for the deaths of Branimir Spasic, 48, and his wife, Olga, 47, recent immigrants from Europe.

They killed each other Saturday with a vicious butcher knife duel in their flat.

Gilroy Parker, investigator for the coroner's office, put together this story of the deaths:

Spasic, a Czech, came to Chicago in 1950 and got a job as a sheet metal worker with take-home pay of $109 a week.

PINCH TOO MUCH

His wife, a German, came to Chicago in 1952. She took a factory job at $53 a week.

Soon they moved into their $95-a-month, three-bedroom flat and began buying on credit.

But the pinch was too much. They borrowed $35 from a loan company last March 28. On April 26 they borrowed $300 more. There was a third loan for $300 later.

The records showed that Spasics had a monthly income of $616. Their payments, including rent and insurance, came to $330.47.

In the mailbox were three notices of payments overdue.

Melrose

PRESENTATION

MELROSE — Following the morning service on a recent Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sullivan were pleasantly surprised when an address was read by Miss Helen Milligan, and on behalf of the community they were presented with a purse of money by Mr. Ed. Slater. Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan Cheryl had moved to Belleville some weeks before without the customary "send-off" party, due to their unexpected departure, so they were invited back for this special occasion. Fred Marie graciously expressed her grateful thanks for the gift. Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan has a new home under construction in Shannonville and will be moving to that village after this fall.

Sincere sympathy is extended to and Mrs. Lorne Wesse and family and other relatives of the late Geo. Sexsmith, who passed away late last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Boyle left for their home on Monday last, returning by Toronto by way of Niagara Falls.

Mrs. William Coulter, Chatham, has been visiting her brother, Mr. George MacFarlane, who continues very poorly ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Doyle and family left to make their home in Lindsay early this month.

Local teachers attended the first teachers' meeting of the term held at S.S. 15 (Mrs. McAuliffe's school, on the 4th line) on Tuesday afternoon. Inspector G. W. Nelson capably handled the meeting and presented some new regulations and offered guidance to the Tyendinaga teachers in his inspectorate. The teachers' executive for Madoc and Tweed plan the convention at the home of the president, Mrs. Helen Shetler, on Wednesday evening. The convention this year will be held on the Tyendinaga Indian Reservation.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cook entertained over the week-end Mr. Cook's sister, her husband and family from North Bay.

Mr. Vernon Pascoe accompanied a group of ball fans to New York over the week-end.

Mrs. Macfarlane of Shannonville, is visiting her friend, Mrs. George Badgley.

A group of interested W. I. workers attended the Cooking School in Melrose Hall on Thursday and Friday of last week. Visitors from Zion Hill joined with Melrose for these classes.

Miss M. E. Bailey is visiting friends in Western Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton Demille, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. D. Cronn, enjoyed a few days' holidays in the U.S.A.

Gardenville

GARDENVILLE — Sunday School met on Sunday morning at 1030. All were glad that the organist, Miss Margaret Harris, was again able to be present. Classes were finalized, with an increase of 40 percent over the previous Sunday.

Mr. Jack Baxter, superintendent, expressed the best wishes of the school to Mr. Jack Hart, primary teacher, who left Sunday afternoon to study theology at Queen's University. The Sunday School pupils are saving paper to boost their Missions project.

The Rev. E. V. Cook brought a helpful message, explaining the several petitions continued in The Lord's Prayer, on Sunday afternoon.

Miss Gwen Hart began her duties in the operating-room of the Trenton Memorial Hospital on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moynes, and baby, Belleville spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Moynes.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Grounds are holidaying in Rochester, New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Baxter, Mrs. Jack Vader and Master Jimmy Vader attended the Mohawk Fair on Saturday and report many interesting competitions and exhibits.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton French, Belleville, spent Saturday evening at Mrs. French's mother's, Mrs. Ida Chase. Guests at the same home on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. McCowan of Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. George Landon were week-end guests of Mrs. Landon's daughter and husband of Belleville.

The opening of the duck-hunting season resulted in many hunters visiting the village to try their skill. The ducks are plentiful here this years.

This week fishermen of the town began their season's work on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnot Young and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Baxter visited Dr. and Mrs. D. Menzies in Kingston on Sunday.

Mrs. T. Collett spent a few days this past week with her son and his family in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Davidson and family and Miss Nadine Burris, Reg. N., Middleton Park, Trenton, were Sunday visitors at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Baxter and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Baxter.

Mrs. Davis and Mrs. J. Baxter were Monday afternoon callers at Mrs. A. Tucker's.

HUNT HIDDEN ARMS IN CYPRUS

Although all is now comparatively quiet in Cyprus, British troops and local police are still searching for arms and known leaders of the recent riots on Britain's eastern Mediterranean bastion. Troops are seen above leaving a house after a search during one of the operations that covered three villages outside Nicosia. Population of the island is predominantly Greek; hence the movement for union with Greece. (Central Press Canadian).

Madoc Junction

MADOC JCT. — Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clarke, Mrs. S. Danford and Annamae Clarke visited relatives at Colborne last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stapley and family spent Sunday with Mrs. Stapley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Summers, at Mt. Pleasant.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cooke of West Huntingdon, were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. George McMullen and Mr. and Mrs. William McMullen.

Mr. Robert Clarke visited Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Ashley, of Batawa, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Petherick spent an evening recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clarke.

Mr. Hiram Ashley is spending a few days visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bell, of Deseronto.

A most successful bake sale under the suspices of Eggleton United Church was held on Saturday afternoon at Mr. Bosiak's store in Stirling.

Master Robert Sills and little Miss Ann Sills, of West Huntingdon, have been spending some time at the home of their grandfather, Mr. Raymond Chambers.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Lyons, of Belleville, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clarke on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bridges, Thomas and Paul were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ross, Corbyville, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lyons of Frankford, spent the supper hour on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clarke and family.

Sorry to report that Mrs. Frank Smith and Mrs. S. Danford are on the sick list. Their friends are wishing them a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Danford has been spending the past few weeks with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. H. Clarke.

4th Thurlow

BETHANY W.M.S. and W.A.

4th THURLOW—The September meeting of the Bethany group was held in the evening at the church with an attendance of 19. Mrs. Bert Martin presided for the W.M.S. meeting. Scripture passages were read by Mrs. Harold Pound, Mrs. George Sills and Mrs. Harry McPherson: a discussion followed each reading.

Mrs. S. C. Cooley was in charge of an interesting program. A reading, "Say Nice Things," by Mrs. Douglas Tummon; a temperance reading, "Dr Shaw on Liquor Drinking," was given by Mrs. Harry Walker; a Christian Stewardship reading by Mrs. Russell Ritz; a poem, "Giving a Thought to Africa," by Mrs. Charlie Hinze; a reading, "Make Your Happiness," by Mrs. Stanley Watson; a poem, "Do Something," by Mrs. H. McPherson, also a poem by Mrs. Cooley.

Mrs. Cooley thanked all who had helped with the program.

A business period for the WMS followed with letters of thanks read by Mrs. H. Pound from Mr. and Mrs. J. Berkhuizen and from the Rev. W. R. Merrick.

Memorial Certificates were discussed and Mrs. George Sills gave the treasurer's report. A thankoffering church service was discussed, also a bazaar.

W.A.

Mrs. Grant Cole, president of the W.A. conducted a business period, giving the treasurer's report in the absence of Mrs. D. Martin. Catering to Belleville Livestock Sales on September 27th, was planned and the decorating for anniversary service, also the harvest supper was discussed.

Mrs. H. Walker was appointed to purchase a wall brush.

The calendars for next year were ordered and other business discussed.

News Broadcaster Convinced Radio Has Advantage Over TV

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—It's always a pleasure to find a radio personality convinced of the superiority of his own medium over television.

Such a man is John Vandercook, who presents an intelligent, informed and candidly subjective news broadcast over ABC radio Monday through Friday.

Radio, he says, offers the ideal medium for a commentator to develop significant relationships of ideas in news events—on the way they're happening, in advance of newspaper columnists.

"Television can't achieve the same effects because television is a picture crazy. People hate to be. Who wants to look at a commentator talking?"

Vandercook, a veteran radio commentator who has travelled widely and written 13 books, does his own research and writes his own scripts—a 60-hour-a-week job.

Recognizing that many folks are looking at TV instead of listening, radio these days, he says of television journalism:

"I hope to figure out a way of using argumentative, contentious and taking chances. By and large 75 per cent of the people I talk to are duds and trios instead of solos. As of now, radio is doing a much better job than TV."

"The Calne Mutiny Court-Martial," Herman Wouk's adaptation of his Pulitzer prize-winning book, will be presented on "Four Star Jubilee" (CBS-TV) Nov. 19. The hour-and-a-half color production will reunit the Broadway cast of the play. It will come live from Hollywood.

Gian-Carlo Menotti, one of the world's foremost opera composers, has again accepted a commission from NBC to compose an opera for television. Menotti's previously-commissioned opera for NBC-TV was the highly successful "Amahl and the Night Visitors."

"WHO'S MAD ??!"

"Me? Not on your life! I'm just shouting loud enough so's everybody can hear what I have to say. And what I have to say is this: Never overlook the importance of your estate."

Our Tigerish friend is so right. Fortunately, today, many wise men and women rely on the experience and co-operation of The Sterling Trusts Corporation in matters concerning their estate. Our free booklet, "Blueprint For Your Family," covers many aspects of estate administration. Write for your copy today.

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

By SAM GORDON
The Kibitzer

You need more than a good right arm to make a difficult bridge contract. In your set of equipment you must find a trick that is a cinch or something that works just as well.

You have already seen the deal shown here:

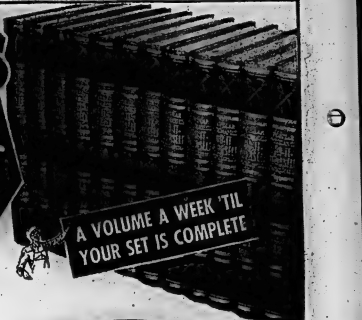
South became the declarer at a small slam contract of six clubs. West started out with an opening lead of the heart king. When east fired the discouraging deuce on it, west decided to switch.

If south had only one heart to start with, leading heart ace to the second trick might be a fatal mistake. But south set up the dummy heart queen on which south might get a needed stuff.

So, the second lead from west was his lone spade. Dummy took this with the queen of spades and south saw his main worry was in diamonds. A finesse in that suit may save the loser in it.

But if west had diamond queen the finesse would lose and down would go the contract. So, declarer decided to try first a tougher type of play that might prevent the need of a losing finesse.



Six rounds of trumps and ace of diamonds were cashed. On the trumps, west shuffled five hearts in a row. This seemed to indicate that west was saving diamonds to protect his queen.

So, declarer entered dummy with a spade. By this time each hand was left with only three cards, of which dummy had a top spade, heart queen, diamond jack. South had king with two diamonds.

West was left with ace of hearts and queen with small diamond as dummy led the final top spade from there. South dumped one of his diamonds on it and west found himself in a squeeze spot.

If he coughed up heart ace, dummy heart queen was good. If west let go of a diamond, south king and other diamond were home. Try as hard as you please, you must bow to a squeeze.

Singer Marion Marlowe Learned The Hard Way It Pays to Get Fired

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Tall, shapely Marion Marlowe has returned to Hollywood under different circumstances from her last visit.

Today she is headlining at a big new night spot, has signed for a leading role in a movie and is agitating for more.

When she was last here, she was a cashgirl at a drive-in restaurant.

Moral: It pays to get fired.

As any television fan can tell you, Marion was one of the so-called Arthur Godfrey Friends. As it apparently must to all Godfrey employees, she got the axe.

SUCCESS WITH SULLIVAN

The soprano was immediately signed for several appearances on the Ed Sullivan show. And she will be featured prominently in "The Ed Sullivan Story," which Warners is going to film.

Lunching on the balcony of her swank seventh-floor suite here, she reminisced about her previous assault on Hollywood.

"It was back in 1947 or so, and I had just graduated from high school in St. Louis. I heard Monogram was looking for a girl who was tall, brunette and could sing in the chorus, a girl named Audrey Hepburn.

"She saw how lonely I was," Marion recalled. "She would bring me grapes and I would read her my letters from home. She was very sweet and she's just the same today."

Marion came back home, got a big buildup, then the gate from Godfrey. She's enjoying her new-found freedom, both financially and professionally.

I qualified for all three.

"A friend of mine sent my picture. The studio wrote back for me to come to Hollywood—at my own expense, of course.

"So I came out. I sat around for five months doing nothing. They finally cast the part with a short blonde and dubbed in the songs. It figures."

But Marion stayed in Hollywood, hosting hamburgers at a drive-in. The girl across the hall in the studio club where she lived was also struggling for a start in films—Marilyn Monroe.

"I ate breakfast next to her every day for almost a year," Marion related. "She was a very quiet girl—hardly said a word."

Finally Marion snapped at the chance to go to London in a show called "Sauce Tartare." She met another struggling young actress

Finns Out Of Olympic Hockey

HELSINKI (Reuters) — Finland will not take part in the Olympic ice hockey championship in Cortina d'Ampezzo, Italy, next year because of the cost of sending a team, the Finnish Olympic Committee announced Wednesday.

Finland will, however, be represented by 34 competitors in the other winter Olympic events. Of these, 27 will be skiers and seven skaters.

A WAY TO LIVE

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (AP) — Mrs. Weka Pinkers, 108, attributed her long life Wednesday to her favorite Maori dish—'sting' ray cooked in an earthen oven with dried shark.

KITCH KLUCKS!

The Magi waved a magic wand over the Magis from Brockville, known in hockey circles as the Magedomas.

Canon Kitch Stanford, mentor of the Magis, wore a wise smile at the group meeting the other Sunday. He argued for and won his point that the group register 25 players instead of the formerly adopted 18, while the club with others with others will dress but 14, including a spare goalie.

No wonder. The canny Kitch had a basketful of hockey ears under his hockey derby which could not be released until the proper moment. Kitch lifted the lid off the basket to radio sad press blokes down Brockville way the other day and came up with an array of talent as paper thin had the typewriter and tamil expressents a-pay.

Wow! What an array. Kitch has raided the Ottawa Valley, the Northern Association, and local junior ranks to bolster seasoned veterans of last year's gallant, hard-fighting club.

He started off by grabbing Emile Dagnais, remember? He played a few games at season's end. Dagnais is a hockey veteran. He played junior hockey for Ottawa St. Pats, spent a season with the Ottawa Commandos, two years with Twins Oilers and six with the Ottawa Senators. Last year he was with Pembroke and finished with the "Maggies."

The Brockville report states the Magies have three straining for the net berth. They include Johnny Bourads, formerly of Chatham; N.C. Fiumore, Cecil of the former Smith's Falls Atlan cappists, and lookit, Don Serrault, it says here. Could be our Ron Sarsali who played here a season or so ago? His records substantiates it, although the name is twisted.

Up front the Magies boast a scoring wonder if the report is correct. He is Gordie Lonier, top-rated centre who is said to have scored 101 goals in the British Hockey League last year. Mean anything? Others include Jack Gordon of last year's Sudbury Wolves, one of the NOHA's highest scoring forwards, and Al Cuntz.

Cuntz is another Ottawa Senator who saw service with Pembroke last year. While with Ottawa he was last-ditch's top shadower. He is regorted to have seen action with the New York Rangers.

Enthusiasm over the 1955-56 edition of the Magi's is said to be running high in the riverside city. They have inaugurated a "999" club, an organization to consist of that many members, each of whom pays an entry fee of ten bucks. 344 are already joined. The president is a member of the provincial parliament, James Auld, MPP, while such famous Brockville names, as George T. Fulford and Col. M. L. Douglas grace the honorary president roster.

Enter the Kanny Kitch again. Kitch told the press boys that he has three other topflight players ready to be signed, but being a conscientious graduate of the College of Applied Hockey Managery, he must needs "keep mum" regarding identity until their releases are obtained.

To quote the Brockville scribe: "The Magedomas have mapped out an extensive campaign similar to those directives, straight to the senior "B" group championship. Much can happen to thwart this objective but the Magedomas mean business in a big-way this year and intend to prove it when they lift the lid on October 24."

That's a great spirit, but the Magis must remember there are four other clubs in the group with exactly the same idea. Four probably powerful humps over which the Magis must climb before they sally west to take on the weaker sisters of the other "B" groups.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Many people have queried this department as to what name the senior "B" club will wear on their uniforms this season. Frankly we do not know. There have been many rumors about the club wearing the name or names of certain firms who may donate cash contributions, but we do not go along with this since the club has no outright sponsor.. The club is being operated by a group of city players bolstered by out-of-town athletes, so we believe a name pertaining to the city should be appropriate.

How about the "Mosrats?" Athletic clubs from this city have many times been referred to as the "Rats from the Moire." Or how about the "Quintet?" Nope, don't like that one. Or say "Riversiders?" That one doesn't fit headlines very well. Or a combined name the "Bellborough" is suggested by the city players and the adopted Poles. There are plenty of names to choose from. The Boys, Lugs, Thugs, Bandits, Pirates, Buccaneers, Tigers, Lions, Wolves, Wolverines, Bidgers, Hippos, Indians, Mohawks, Chipewyas. Or take the floral series: Bluebells Lily, Daisies, Roses, Maples, Elms, Oaks, Balms of Gilead, Birches, Ash, Pines, Pansies (now there's a dilly), Petunias, Dahlias, Forget-Me-Nots. Or even.

Seriously, let's get a name quickly, and stop these telephone and verbal queries. How about sending in a few suggestions, but they must come pronto.

Comes Off Floor in Second To Unleash Fierce Assault; Left Hook Ends Challenger

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—Heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano's awesome, meat-grinder destruction of ancient Archie Moore in one of boxing's great battles may have been the Brockton Blaster's last fight.

This was the one Marciano wanted to win more than any other since he knocked the crown off Jersey Joe Walcott's brow three years ago in Philadelphia. And he won it in typical fashion Wednesday night with a relentless, bulldozing attack that smashed Archie's crumbling defences in 1:19 of the ninth round of a bitter battle.

Now, with the light-heavyweight king out of the way, there were no more worlds for boxing's Caesar to conquer and he mulled over retirement.

The swarthy son of a shoemaker who fought his way from poverty to riches and manager Al Weill, the shrewd little man who guided him to the top will discuss the situation. They are scheduled to announce their decision at a press conference today.

If this was Rocky's finale, he made it one they'll long remember. He came off the floor like he did in the memorable first fight with Walcott and ground down the crafty rocky master of the art of self-defence with a relentless assault to the inevitable finish.

A smashing left hook to the jaw ended the 38-year-old master craftsman's fierce resistance, leaving him a collapsed heap in his own corner. It was the fourth time that veteran had been knocked down in the bitter battle and this time he had nothing left. He had been on the deck twice in the sixth round and once in the eighth.

FLOORED THE CHAMP

Out to become the first light-heavyweight champion to ascend to the heavyweight throne, Archie gave it all he had in the beginning when he floored Marciano for a four count in the second round with a right to the jaw.

For a while it seemed as though the crowd of 61,574, which contributed to a handsome $848,117 gate in the Yankee Stadium, was going to see an astonishing upset.

Rocky blinked his eyes. It was only the second time in his career that he had been floored and a worried expression appeared on his face, just as it did the time Walcott decked him.

Archie went after the champ with another right to the jaw but Rocky's head was clear now and he moved in close. Archie's big moment was gone even though he had Rocky bleeding from the nose and bruised under to left eye before the hectic round was over.

PATTERN OF VICTORY

In the third Rocky established his pattern of victory. He started his manoeuvring with the crafty Moore to the ropes and ripped him in close with both hands. It didn't matter whether the heavy blows landed on Archie's arms, shoulders, head or body, Rocky just fired away in his primitive fashion.

There was a slight cut over Rocky's left eye and blood dripped from his nose, but that only served to spur him on. Try as he would from then on, Archie couldn't get away from the rope traps Rocky set for him with his bulling drives.

The pressure was hot on Archie in the fourth and fifth rounds and in the sixth his legs betrayed him. Rocky's old "Suzy Q" overhand right shook him all over, buckling his knees. Another long right dropped him for a count of four. Rocky swarmed all over his stricken foe, smashing him down for eight.

MOORE RECOVERS

For one minute of the seventh, Archie seemed to have dipped into his fountain of youth. He smashed over two rights to the jaw that momentarily stopped Rocky's furious drive. But midway in the round, time and Rocky caught up with Archie again. By the end of the round, Archie's right eye was almost shut and he appeared dead tired.

The 10 years of fighting caught up with the poised craftsman in the eighth. He nailed Rocky with sharp punches but it was like using a bean-shooter against a tank. Rocky just rolled on. A right to the jaw dropped the dead-tired Moore on the seat of his pants. The bell saved him.

Rocky was ready for the kill in the ninth and everyone in the park, including Moore, knew it had to happen. Springing forward like a lion after a sheep, Rocky floored his game foe with ropes and let loose with everything he had. Moore, his back to the ropes and his own corner, somehow found strength to fire two hard shots at Rocky's jaw. Then it happened. A short, perfectly-timed left hook thudded against Archie's jaw and he crumpled in his corner, a SOLEY left mitten over one rope.

It was all over. Archie won the way he wanted to if he had to lose. He said:

"When the doctor (Dr. Vincent Nardiello) asked me if I wanted to quit (after the eighth round) I said no champion should lose except in the centre of the ring. I'm happy it ended the way it did. I wouldn't want to lose sitting in a corner."

Millers Whip Red Wings 8-3 In Opener

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Minneapolis Millers, American Association champs, go after their 10th straight post-season victory today in quest of their first little world series title.

Millers made it nine straight in playoff competition Wednesday night by pasting the International League Rochester Red Wings 8-3.

A chilled turnout of 8,685 saw Millers blast five Rochester hurlers for 11 hits, including three-run homers by catcher Carl Sawatski and leftfielder Bonnie Hoft.

Righthander Al Worthington survived early-game wildness to go the route for Minneapolis.

Worthington hurled four-hit ball until the 8th inning when three hits and an error cost him two more runs. The Rochester defeat ended a six-game winning streak held by the International League's fourth place finishers and holders of the Governors' Cup.

Minneapolis, which never has won the junior series and was participant only once before, will send out Al Konikowski (10-8) or Jim Constable (13-9) to start the second game. Dixie Howell, Red Wing manager will go with his veteran righthander Ellis Deal (14-4) in an effort to even the best-of-seven series at one apiece.

Hockey Thinking of Quitting Archie Thinking of Fishing

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK (AP)—Rocky Marciano is a fighter with the world at his feet and worry in his heart.

There's a lot of pressure from his family for me to retire," the heavyweight champion said Wednesday night. "My mother wants me to quit. So does my dad, and my wife.

"It has been a pretty bad ordeal for them. I don't know what I should do."

Then the swarthy son of a Brockton, Mass., shoemaker added:

"Personally, at this point I don't feel I should retire."

WEIL DENIES

"No, no, it's not quitting," insisted Al Weill, peppery little manager of the champion, who beat Archie Moore Wednesday night.

Marciano's mother always has grieved that her strong young offspring should have taken up a career of violence. When he fights, she never listens. She slips off to a quiet church and prays.

The father, a modest Italian immigrant now retired from his shoe factory job, encouraged Rocky's ring career but recently has felt his son has reaped enough rewards.

A devoted husband and father of a three-year-old girl, Marciano has felt keenly about neglect of his wife and family forced on him by rigid training routines.

MOORE FLOORED HIM

Marciano spoke of the stiff right-hand punch of Moore which sent him slumping to the deck in the second round.

"Sure, it hurt me," Rocky said. "I was blacked out for a second. But I snapped out of it quickly. I was up at the count of four."

Speaking of the punishment which Moore absorbed before he finally dropped, the champion said:

"I hit him enough to knock out a dozen men. But he was clever. He smiled with the punches and knocked them off with his shoulders and arms."

Was Moore the toughest of all his 49 victims? Marciano hedged.

"One of the toughest," he said. "I'd have to include Jersey Joe Walcott (the only other man ever to floor him), Ezzard Charles. But Moore certainly was the cleverest."

MOORE HAS QUIP

Moore, the gashed and battered victim, a man with a quip as quick as his left, started interviewers.

"I enjoyed the fight myself. If the people did, then I'm happy."

Moore said he was beaten by Marciano's "consistency"—"that's what I mean, consistency," he added. Then he said he thought he might have won the fight had he been able to follow up that second round knockdown, "but I wasn't warmed up yet."

At 38, seven years Marciano's senior, Moore might be forgiven a few thoughts about retirement himself. But no.

"I'll be happy to fight Rocky again," he said. Then, "sure I'll keep on fighting for awhile."

But right now? "Fishing," said Archie. "I've got to go fishing."

Only Miracle Will Bar Yankees From Winning Flag

Need One More to Clinch It After 7-3 Win Over Senators; White Sox Trounce Tribe 7-2

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cleveland's one-hoss shay, fall-ing-apart pitching was piled on the American League junk heap today with only a miracle capable of pushing it any further along the pennant road.

And it will take a large, economy-size miracle to bar New York Yankees, more than ever the old pros, from their 40th championship in seven years. With four games remaining, starting with a twi-night at Boston Friday, Yankees need to win but one more to clinch it.

They can drop all four and still win it should Indians, now four games back on the all-important "lost" side, drop even one of their remaining games.

The once-frantic pennant scramble practically came to a close Wednesday night as New York Washington 7-3 and the Tribe took a 7-2 lashing from Chicago White Sox—who became official also-rans 24 hours earlier.

CAN DO AT WORST

At worst, New York can tie for the flag. Yanks have won eight straight — the longest streak of manager Casey Stengel's guys this season — to overhaul Cleveland's two-game edge of only a week ago. Since then, Indians have lost five of six.

To accent the closeness of the up-and-down pennant battle since the all-star game break, the 35th game edge New York now holds is the biggest they've had since July 15, when Yanks led by Mauch Gang's margin. Who have had only a nodding acquaintance with base hits in their lineups, got but five safe blows off Jack Harshman Wednesday night. The Sox, meanwhile, clubbed Bob Lemon, once the Mr.-Big of the Tribe's Big Three, who lost his second straight.

Lopez has started his season-closing Early Wynn and Mike Garcia—in each of the last six games and they've clicked along with the hitters.

An error by rookie shortstop Billy Harrell, infected by Lopez in a try for more hits, opened the way to a five-run eighth inning for the White Sox as Lemon lost his 10th. He's won 18.

SIX THREE INNINGS

New York packaged the Nats in three innings, tagging Chuck Stobbs for six hits and five runs for extra bases—and a 4-0 lead. Billy Martin iced it with an inside-the-park homer with two on off rookie Ted Abernathy in the fifth.

Bob Turley won his 11th but walked eight and Yip Coleman and Bob Grim mopped up after Washington scored four in the seventh.

New York wound up with a 16-6 season mark against the last-place Washingtons—who put the best face forward Indians' blanket by cracking the Tribe in 13 of their 22 meetings.

In the other American League games, Baltimore left the cellar behind by beating Boston 8-7 in 13 innings and Detroit clobbered Kansas City 10-1 as Ray Boone and Harvey Kuenn homered in an eight-run first. Orioles now have won seven straight while the Bostons have dropped seven in a row for their largest slump of the season. The Tigers have won six straight.

GIANTS END UP 2nd

The New York Giants, world champs a year ago, clinched third in the National League standings by popping Pittsburgh for the second straight day in a double-header 7-2 and 7-3. Ray Monzant gave three hits in the nightcap and Don Liddle allowed only four in the first game.

Willie Mays was injured in the second game crashing the bleacher wall in the Polo Grounds while trying for number six sensational catches. He was carried off the field but is expected back in the Giants' Friday lineup.

Guz Bell drove in eight runs with a grand-slam homer and bases-loaded double, as Cincinnati walloped Milwaukee 15-5. Chicago beat St. Louis 7-5 with Randy Jackson hitting a bases-loaded triple in a four-run, 10th inning.

Royals Win Soccer Crown

TORONTO (CP) — Westminster Royals Wednesday night won the Canadian soccer championship on the strength of a 2-2 tie with Montreal Ukrains in the third game of a best-of-three series.

Royals won the first game of the series and the second ended in a 1-1 deadlock.

Dutchies Trim Imperials 27-17

KITCHENER (CP) — Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen came from long gains from scrimmage to offset a Sarnia passing attack and down the Imperials 27-17 in a wide-open Ontario Rugby Football Union game here Wednesday night before 3,100 fans.

By winning the Dutchies, with a game in hand, moved into a tie with Sarnia for first place.

Both teams fumbled frequently. Dutchmen nailed down the decision with the top pass play of the night, a 55-yard heave from Bob Celeri to Billy Tonegusso who got clear on the Imperial five and romped over. The Imperials had cut down the 15-8 Dutchmen lead at the half to 19-17 in the third quarter when the Dutchmen struck in spectacular fashion.

Billy Graham and Cookie Gilchrist led the home scorers with eight points each. Bobby Kunis and Billy Tonegusso got five each and Celeri booted a long, quick-kick single.

COUNTED MAJORS

Ross Downwell, John Jacobs and Dick Dixon bagged Sarnia majors. Gino Cappelletti scored two converts.

Graham got a touchdown from the Sarnia one after a long fumble early in the first quarter. Bobby Kunis electrified the crowd with a twisting 67-yard gallop through a broken field in the second quarter. Gilchrist got a second quarter major when he ran 80 yards after recovering a Sarnia fumble.

Tonegusso's major and a 33-yard final-quarter field goal by Gilchrist plus three converts in four attempts completed the K-W scoring.

Cappelletti, former Minnesota star, tossed 28 passes and completed 15 for 182 yards with one interception. Celeri and Carl Tasker tossed 16 for the winners and completed nine. Tasker was three for three. They picked up 136 yards. Imperials made 18 first downs and the winners 11.

Sam Snead's Golf School

Don't force the club when you start down. You just apply steady pressure, mainly from the left arm and pivot. Nevertheless the illustration shows well the downward pull of the arms. The weight is passing over to the left foot from the right in rhythmic motion. The left side is straight as a string. This straight left side provides the fulcrum against which the arms, in reversing pivot, use the uncocking wrists hit at impact. Notice that the wrists are not yet uncocked. That's right. The hands should not be fully uncocked until the instant of impact. You may not realize how great the power is that is generated in the clubhead by the uncocking of the wrists at the bottom of the swing. But remember that the clubhead is forty odd inches away from your hands and exerts a lot of power far out at the end of the shaft. Swing smoothly. Don't force the club.

Shamrocks Whip Trailermen Mann Cup Returns to Coast

VICTORIA (CP)—The Mann Cup was back on the west coast for the first time since 1948 today, with Victoria Shamrocks the new Canadian lacrosse champions after finally outlasting Peterborough Trailermen on their third try.

Shamrocks trimmed the understaffed Petes 17-6 Wednesday night to take the best-of-seven series in convincing style, four games to one.

It was the same margin by which Peterborough had stopped Victoria in the last two finals. Trailermen were seeking an unprecedented fifth straight title when they met their-mach in the hustling Islanders.

Vancouver Burrards were the last team to bring the Mann Cup trophy west of the Rockies six years ago. Owen Sound took it back in 1950 the Trailermen have been the kingpins for the last four years.

WITH FOUR STRAIGHT

Shamrocks dropped the first game to Petes 15-12, but came back with four straight victories to become the first Victorian team since the Foundationers turned the trick in 1919 to win the Canadian crown.

For the first 13 minutes Wednesday night it looked as if a sixth game would be needed. Trailermen looked sharp in grabbing a 3-0 lead in the opening quarter.

But then, as in the previous three games, the 11-man Trailer-men crew ran out of steam and the reinforced Shamrocks took over control.

Larry Booth was the big gun as he fired six goals for the winners. Rookie defenceman Bill Bamford also played a big part in the victory with two goals and six assists.

Other Victoria marksmen were Bob Dobbie with three goals, Pen Wes Bradshaw and Denny Davies two apiece, and Whitey Severeid and Jake Proctor with singletons.

TOP HARKSMEN

Lou Nickle scored three times for Peterborough, Bobby Thorpe and Bob Allen, Jerry and Jim Hefferman and St. Catharines' re-placement Tony Cannon, one each.

A standing-room crowd of 5,600 cheered wildly when Victoria goalie Conroy Johnston, who recovered brilliantly after a shaky first game, was awarded the Mike Kelly Trophy as the most valuable player in the team in the playoffs. Penalties meant a big difference in the game. Victoria scored eight times with an extra-man advantage, Peterborough four.

Queen's Coach Sure Gaels Will Win 1955 Grid Title

Canadian Press Correspondent

KINGSTON (CP) — Coach Queen's Golden Gaels, heartbreak team of the 1954 season, figure the 16-year drought of the University of Western Ontario Mustangs and Toronto Varsity Blues in the senior intercollegiate Football League is about to end.

After coming within a shoelace fumble of a crack at the league title last year, Coach Frank Tindall's Gaels are certain they will win the championship for the first time since 1937.

It is not just locker-room talk. The team possesses three ingredients for the pre-season confidence: A strong halfline, the return of 24 veterans and a 33-4 victory over Toronto Beaches of the Ontario Rugby Football Union's intermediate game last weekend.

One member of that backfield will be Ron Stewart, a fellow whose final-gun bobble in a game against Western cost Queen's a chance to play Varsity's Blues for the championship.

COSTLY FUMBLE

The fivefoot-six, 165-pound ace fumbled behind the goal line in Western fell on the ball for a 20-18 victory.

Stewart will be on the highly-rated "big" line Tindall plans to play-ing out of the T formations. His sidekicks will be Gary Schreiber and Bill Sowash.

A member of the Canadian Press all-star team last year, Stewart scored 50 points in regular competition. Schreiber, who handles the place-kicking for the Gaels, added 25, including 15 converts.

Other veterans like Jim Crulkshank, Jocko Thompson, Frank Geard, Bob Bevan, Karl Quinn and Dave Lane are also fighting for backfield berths.

Opposing teams will have another jolt coming when they see the last half of the season when Tindall unveils Wayne Peterson, a three-game suspension for a referee-pushing incident in the play-off game against Western, ready to go to the field.

Schreiber and Thompson, last year's leading kicker, will handle the kicking duties—Gord on place-kicks and Jocko on punts.

HAS QUARTER PROBLEM

Tindall still has quarterback problems. The two stars from the 1954 team, Wally Mellor and Norm Dyson, have left. Eight players have tried out for the spot. Tindall may go with veteran Jim Crulkshank, moved up from the halfline, and Chuck Sarfance, a former intermediate.

In the game against Beaches, Tindall used five men in the quarterback spot. He got some surprising performances from a converted end Don Fox, and Pete Redfern, a former Carleton College player.

The Gaels will have one of the best backfield in Queen's history. Tindall has captain Gary Lewis at centre and regulars like Russ Thomas and Jack Abraham at guard, Clair Selles and Jim Hughes at tackle and Lou Lane and six-foot-seven Jay McMahon at end.

"If we can stand season on Gaels' coach, Tindall believes he is fielding one of the best teams he has had.

"A successful season hinges on quarterback and our backfield," he said, "but the injury jinx."

SAINTLY DISGUISE

UPLAND, Calif. (AP) — Henry Calvin Vahn was in the habit of wearing a choir robe and carrying a Bible when he went to church, police said. But they arrested him Tuesday on suspicion of burglarizing four churches in the last few weeks. They accused Vahn, 27, of taking more than $300, typewriters and movie projectors from several churches. He was identified by a Methodist secretary.

Senior A Hockey Opens Oct. 21

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario Hockey Association Senior A will begin its 1955-56 schedule Oct. 21, representatives of the five-team league decided Wednesday night.

Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen play at Chatham against Maroons and Owen Sound Mercurys and Stratford Indians are at Stratford to open the schedule. Windsor Bulldogs open their season Oct. 22 at Kitchener.

Dutchmen, Allan Cup champions, will leave Jan. 19 to play in the winter Olympics at Cortina, Italy.

The first all-star game in the league's history will take place Oct. 19 at Kitchener. Dutchmen take on an all-star team composed of players from the other four teams, which will be coached by Doug Gillespie of Owen Sound.

Hornets Get Leaf Rookies

ST. CATHARINES (CP)—Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League Wednesday sent defenceman Barry Cullen and Gary Aldcorn to their farm team Pittsburgh Hornets' training camp.

General manager Hap Day said there were too many players in the Leaf training camp.

Canada's Winter Olympic Teams Are Announced

MONTREAL (CP)—Ken Farmer, president of the Canadian Olympic Association, Wednesday announced the 37-member make-up of Canada's teams for Olympic Winter Games at Cortina, Italy, Jan. 26-Feb. 8.

In addition there will be 13 officials, bringing the total to 50.

Largest entry is the hockey team. The Kitchener - Waterloo Dutchmen, 1955 Allan Cup champions, have been officially approached by the COA. Acceptance of the Dutchmen was recommended by the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association.

Farmer said there will be 11 players and four officials. Thirteen of the Dutchmen qualify under Olympic amateur regulations. There will have to be replacements for four who were professionals and were reinstated as amateurs.

OTHER COMPETITORS

There will be 10 competitors for skiing, seven for figure skating and three for speed skating.

Pat Ramage of Brantford is manager of the ski team and Peppi Rathenmoser of Austria was named women's coach. A second coach will be named by the Ski Association Oct. 1.

The figure-skating team is made up of Carole Jane Peach of Montreal, ladies' singles; Ann Johnstone Toronto, ladies' singles; Charles Snelling, Toronto, men's singles; Frances Dafoe and Norris Bowden, world champions from Toronto, in the pairs; Barbara Wagner and Bob Paul, also of Toronto, pairs; Sheldon Galbreath of Toronto is the figure skaters' coach. The Figure Skating Association will select a manager Oct. 1.

Farmer said that of the $82,000 objective expected from the public to help meet costs for both winter and summer games, only 27 per cent has been received so far. The $82,000 is part of a $215,000 general total. The remainder has either been pledged or is virtually assured from federal and provincial governments and sports-governing bodies.

In addition to Canada's lone competitor in gymnastics — Ernestine Russell of Windsor, Ont., a manager-coach for her will be approved.

Boisvert Talk Of Bruin Camp

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (CP)—Gilles Boisvert, just another player when he was acquired by Detroit Red Wings in a summer trade with Boston Bruins, is the talk of Detroit's National Hockey League training camp.

The little goaltender came up with a great display Wednesday night as Edmonton Flyers of the Western Hockey League defeated the parent Red Wings 3-2 in an exhibition game. It was the first time the Red Wings had lost a game at their training camp here.

Toronto May Give Lumsden $1,000

TORONTO (CP)—Board of control recommended to city council Wednesday that Cliff Lumsden, winner of the $15,000 32-mile Canadian National Exhibition marathon run, be given $1,000.

Controller Roy Belyea opposed the motion. He said:

"When I see so many people come to us with worthy projects we'd be turned down? I hardly think he would be justified."

Lumsden was the only marathoner to finish the race. His total winnings approach $30,000, including contributions.

Trenton Edges Shellettes 5-4

O'Neill's two-run homer in the bottom of the seventh gave the Trenton Cleaners a 5-4 victory over the Belleville Shellettes in Trenton last evening. Trenton now hold a two-games-to-one lead in their three-of-five series for the Belleville and District women's softball championship.

The two teams matched blow for blow most of the way, Shellettes taking a 2-0 lead in the top of the third, Trenton tying it and each team marking one in the fifth for a 3-3 score. Belleville went in front 4-3 in the sixth but Miss O'Neill slammed her circuit blast with one on to win it in the seventh.

Donna Drake, on the mound for Trenton and the Shelfrae Trenton and the Shellettes' ace, Linda Wagg, hooked up in another tight battle. Drake gave up seven safeties while fanning three and walking four. Wagg was touched for nine hits, whiffing two and passing an equal number.

O'Neil had a perfect night at the plate for the victors, adding a trio of singles to her homer.

Shirley Fox paced the Shellette attack with a triple and single while Lois Batchelor had a brace of singles. Rita Harder, Linda Canning and Carolyn Baker each poked one-baggers.

No date has been set for the fourth game since the Shellettes travel to Goderich on Saturday for the second game in their OASA series.

Bomb Scares Race Driver

BONNEVILLE, Utah (AP)—After 10½ days of taking his turn at circling a 10-mile track, racing driver Danny Eames felt he knew his way well enough to risk a quick side glance.

There's no way of telling if what he saw made him go faster than the 100 m.p.h. he was doing on the gleaming salt flats of western Utah.

But he certainly was startled.

Sticking out of the salt near the track was the tail fin of a bomb.

It took Eames some time to convince others in the crew which is racing a Dodge stock car toward a record for distance equal to that around the world, that there was a bomb nearby. But when he did, a Utah highway department maintenance crew went out and hauled it away.

It was about two feet long, well corroded, and apparently had been dropped by an air force plane probably operating out of nearby Wendover air force base.

Beaches Oust Elliott Bantams With Second Win

Toronto Beaches took a 3-0 lead in the initial frame and were never headed last night as they ousted the Belleville Elliott's Regents from OABA bantam play with a 10-2 victory in Toronto.

Belleville dropped the first game of the series by a one-run margin here last Saturday after scoring previous victories over Peterborough and Oshawa clubs.

Toronto had a little too much for them last night and the five markers in the first frame was too much to overcome. Belleville netted single markers in each of the second, third and sixth innings while Toronto added a pair in the second and singletons in the third, fifth, sixth and seventh.

Allan Quartermain went the route on the hill for the winners, allowing ten hits, striking out 10 and walking two. Ted Hook started for the Regents, allowing five runs on four hits, fanning none and passing two. Brother Jim Hook took over in the second, whiffing six and passing one over the remainder of the seven innings.

Ottment slammed a home run, the only extra-base hit for the winners. Allmark and Adams each had two singles with Tant, MacDonald, Palmer and Quartermain also hitting safely.

Locks spearheaded the Belleville offense with three singles while two each went to Keller, Moreau and Jim Hook. Langabeer had the odd hit.

The losers committed four errors while Toronto bobbled three times.

Lineups:

Belleville: Keller, McGuire, Moreau, Locke, T. Hook, J. Hook, Dever, Langabeer, Clapp, Lewis, Scrimshaw.

Toronto: Tant, Allmark, MacDonald, Palmer, Craig, Young, Ottment, Smith, Adams, Rooney, Quartermain.

Toronto	521 011 x—10	9	3

Mays Will Play Friday

New York (AP)—Willie Mays, New York Giants' flashy centre-fielder, had only a stiff back and a bruised hip today to show for his run-in with the bleacher wall at the Polo Grounds Wednesday while attempting another of his sensational catches.

The 24-year-old player crashed the wall in full flight trying to stab a 450-foot triple by Pittsburgh's Dale Long.

Willie, who leads the majors with 50 home runs and who on Tuesday matched a major-league record by hitting seven in six consecutive games, was carried off the field. X-rays proved negative and he is expected to play Friday.

First Bottle Convinced Her Syntona is Great Medicine

Helped Indigestion and Backache From Which I Formerly Had No Relief.

"The first bottle of Syntona convinced me that it is a great medicine," said Mrs. J. A. Carter, 168 North Brock Street, Sarnia, Ontario, recently.

"I was suffering with heartburn, gas and indigestion. I could not eat or sleep right and was always weak and anything. Often my nerves were all on edge. I became troubled with backache and pains in my limbs and muscles.

Relief Came Quickly

"Almost from the very first I could notice a difference. I felt relief from the pains and after I continued taking the medicine the gas, sourness, acid flatus and heartburn cleared up and I began to enjoy my meals more. There is a great improvement in the way I feel generally. The aches and pains and backache have gone, now relieved and I sleep better at night."

MRS. J. A. CARTER

Syntona is made principally from herbs and roots. It acts on the stomach, liver and bowels, aids in the elimination of excess acids and impurities from the system and promotes better assimilation of food for increased strength and energy.

Syntona is sold and recommended in Belleville by Dolan the Druggist.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars, for

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1955

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Mixed influences, with matters requiring mental keenness, home and family interests in top favor. Don't seek promotion, unless it may have not been earned.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus) — An excellent period for study, research, improving the quality of your work. Military activities under a fine Mars aspect. A day for vigorous action.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini) — Invigorating, favorable aspects! Concentrate on business and interest; keep enthusiasm high but, at the same time, wisely directed. Care advised in mechanical work.

June 22 to July 22 (Cancer) — If you think before acting and don't rest to try something newly proved worthwhile, you can make gains now. It's up to you.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — The Sun's position now stresses the need for proper channelling of effort, self-control in the emotional department, and willingness to take orders as well as give them.

August 24 to September 22 (Virgo) — Your Mercury will expected. Start and finish the day with faith and confidence. Be enthusiastic but reasonable, fair but shrewd in dealing with others. Prepare for a happy weekend.

September 23 to October 23 (Libra) — To produce results as you would like now, show vigor, animation and stick-to-it-iveness, but don't override others. Good family, especially, especially if you don't force issues.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio) — Promote your interests — but with a soft touch — and you will gain more. Inspiring, invigorating rays on the whole, particularly for activities in which you have talent, liking.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius) — Be your amiable, spirited self but do not overtax nerves or lose your temper. The day has much promise but needs clever planning and management; also skill and patience.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn) — You will probably be more deft, more ambitious than usual today. Discriminate between false leads and good possibilities and use red tape to get at the core of things. Good rays on the whole.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius) — Keen intuition, proper consistency and application of your talens can put you in splendid position for gain, fresh benefits. At the same time you can also arrange for a happy week-end.

February 21 to March 20 — Mixed influences. Keep eyes open and your special interests. Let nothing daunt you. Familiar matters and new interests of value equally sponsored: Use your fine ability and judgment.

You Born Today have courage, tenacity, great imagination and intuition. You may possess unusual aptitude for science or an artistic career; have mechanical ability and can get along well with many people. Your sense of justice and fair-play fits you for law, the judiciary. And many noted actors were born in your Zodiacal sector. You could be a first rate physician, manager of an institution or business executive; will, if true to your finer self, do a conscientious, thorough job in whatever you undertake. Avoid gambling, overindulgence in beverages and extravagance. Birthdate: William Archer, Scottish author, critic.

CAN WATCH THEM

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—A weary hospital nurse now can keep an eye on her patients without leaving the room. Another "eye" that flashes pictures of hospital rooms to a receiver on the nurse's desk was displayed Wednesday at the annual convention of the American Hospital Association. A nurse can talk with them, too, on the television-like gadget.

PRINCESS, 15, MARRIES PRINCE, 31

Marriage of German Prince Alfonso Maximilian Hohenlohe-Langeburg, 31, to Austrian Princess Virginia Ira Furstenberg, 15, in Venice, Italy, was the most lavish of post-war Europe. Three hundred princes and princesses, dukes and duchesses, most of whose titles are no longer recognized in their homelands, crowded into the small church at St. Sebastian to hear the bride — a young bride's license to drive the sports car presented to her by the groom—say "I do." They will honeymoon in Mexico and the U.S. (Central Press Canadian);

And she laffed and kept on dancing holes.

Little Benny's Notebook

Ma was daraing holes out of socks, saying to pop. It's actually a clever idea, William, really.

Then I got to thinking of anything brilliant, pop said, and ma said, I was thinking of Mr. Satterlee the brush man. He rang the bell today on his usual rounds, she said.

Then she made a clever remark? pop said, and ma said, No, he sold me a clever brush.

Does it do more than pop said, and ma said, Well practically. It's a very little brush on a rotten, and the idea is to roll it over a hair brush to collect the loose hairs, she said.

I don't want to disillusion you, my dear, but what brush are you going to use to remove the lint from the little roller brush? pop said, and after he'd stopp laffing he going to get a microscopic brush to clean that infinitesimal brush, and so on indefinitely, he said, and ma said, Do you know, William, that the more I thought about it my mind when I bought that little roller brush. The whole idea is too visionary, and I know I'll never use it, she said

Then for Feet sake why did you buy it? pop said, and ma said, Because Mr. Satterlee started on one of his long tales of family trubbles. They always start with his wife and I don't stop till they reach his grand children. The only way to stop him is to buy a brush, and the cheapest one he had was the little roller. It seemed to be the only way I could get back to my ironing at compara-tively little expense, she said.

So sum it all up, my dear, your idea was clever than the little roller, pop said, I believe you're right, William.

MARMORA

I.O.D.E. Holds Regular Meeting

MARMORA — The regular meeting of Marmora Chapter, I.O.D.E., was held in the Masonic Hall recently under presidency of Mrs. Regent Mitchell.

Correspondence read by Mrs. F. M. Mared included a letter from Canada Packers advising April 30 and May 1 the dates offered for the holding of the prospective Cooking School. The members agreed to accept the same.

An invitation to the J. R. Cooke Chapter turkey dinner to be held in Stirling Community Hall on September 29 was read and accepted. The guest speaker at that function will be Miss Jeanne Knapman, the provincial president.

FAVORABLE BALANCE

The treasurer's report, presented by Mrs. Carl McKay, showed a favorable balance. The regent thanked the members who had assisted at the Fair booth and also at the dances held at Marble Point Lodge during the summer. Miss Miriam Savage read a letter from headquarters regarding Services of Home and Abroad. Mrs. M. Boriand, sewing convener, requested permission to buy flannelette for her work. An order has been placed at provincial headquarters in aid of the adopted school.

Donations were sent to the shipping fund, the Korean project and the workroom maintenance fund.

It was decided to hold a rummage sale September 23 and 24 in the Sanderson store. It was also decided to hold a bridge tournament again this fall.

In the absence of the membership convener Mrs. A. M. Jones introduced a new applicant, Mrs. T. F. McCarthy, for membership. She was received and welcomed by the regent and members and was duly enrolled.

After the meeting closed refreshments were served.

Wallbridge

WALLBRIDGE — Apple picking is the order of the day and a bumper crop is reported despite the extreme hot summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Langsbeer, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harris have returned home after spending the past week motoring through Algonquin Park, and other northern points of interest. They also spent a couple of days with the former's daughter, Mrs. Ralph Finkle and Mr. Finkle, of Thornhill and Mr. and Mrs. James Oliver, of Toronto, as well as attending the Toronto Exhibition.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Evans, on the arrival of a baby girl, who has come to be a little sister for Peter.

Holidays seem to be over for another season, and all have got back to work. The school children are enjoying their school work again after their long holiday with Mrs. George Rikley as teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harris spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Jos Found.

Wallbridge L.O.B.A. No. 1168, held its regular meeting in the Orange Hall on Monday night with a fair attendance as a number of members are helping in the Foxboro canning factory. Plans were made to hold their birthday party on October 21st and inviting LOL members.

During the evening, a presentation was made to sister and brother Kingston, having just celebrated their 45th wedding anniversary. Sister Pearl Holmes presented them with a lovely gift from the Wallbridge L.O.B.A. members. Mr. and Mrs. Kingston, though taken by surprise, graciously thanked all for their lovely gift.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Woodward and baby, of Bala were Sunday guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smith.

Sunday being a lovely day, many were seen enjoying drives.

Glad to report the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Parks, who was badly hurt when hit by a truck is improving and is able to be back home from the Toronto Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Fisher, and daughters have moved to their new home in Foxboro. All regret losing such valuable neighbors, as they will be greatly missed in all church activities in which they actively participated. It is hoped they will often come back.

WELLINGTON

W.I. Hears Talk On C.A.S. Work

WELLINGTON. — The regular meeting of the Wellington Women's Institute was held in the town hall on Tuesday evening. Twenty-seven members and eight visitors were present. The president, Mrs. R. Ellis, was in the chair.

A discussion followed on catering to a hot chicken dinner for the school teachers to be held some time the latter part of November. Miss Edie Ward moved to cater to the dinner and Mrs. Hilda Moore, seconded the motion.

Delegates were chosen for the Area convention to be held in Belleville in October, Mrs. Ruby Whitney, Mrs. Clare Stoneburg, Mrs. Carson, Mrs. Dick and Mrs. Ellis were the five chosen.

BIRTHDAY BOX

The birthday box was started for another year with three ladies, Mrs. Cory Harris, Mrs. William Adams and Miss Edie Ward, having October birthdays, with Miss Edie Ward receiving a nice gift for having her birthday nearest to the date of the meeting.

Sick and shut-ins of the village will be remembered with a card.

Hostesses for next month will be, Mrs. Clara Stoneburg and Mrs. Helen Gaskins.

Mrs. B. Reid and Mrs. Carson hostesses for the evening, put on the following program: "Current Events" by Mrs. Andy Walker, who finished the events with there is only 83 shopping days before Christmas. Poem of the month "September", by Mrs. Ben Bishop, Mrs. Laverne Wright delighted all with a lovely solo, "My Cathedral" accompanied on the piano by Miss Carley Cleaves. Mrs. Bill Magee of Bloomfield, gave a monologue, "A Little Leaven", which everyone enjoyed immensely.

Miss Anglin of the Children's Aid Society, Picton, gave a splendid talk on "Why is There a Children's Aid Society in a Community?". She showed by illustrating many of the requests received by the society of the fine work the society does to help, not only the children, but in many cases the parents, too. This talk was most interesting to all.

Mrs. Magee gave a fine reading "Grandma in The City", which was indeed a treat to hear. Mrs. Wright gave another beautiful solo, "Melody of Love".

A hearty vote of thanks was given by Mrs. Dickson to the hostesses for the fine program. They are new members to the Institute and this was their first meeting as hostesses. A vote of thanks was also given to Mrs. Wright and Mrs. Magee who were guests.

While the ladies were preparing refreshments, Mrs. Carson put on a little contest, with Miss Anglin being the winner and receiving a lovely prize.

Tickets on a hand-painted picture, which was given in the Institute were sold. Mrs. W. Callow bel dthe lucky ticket on this.

Refreshments were served by the ladies in charge.

CHARGED IN SLAYING

PERTH, N.B. (CP)—John Ranskin Hansen, 21, of Lower Perth, was charged Wednesday night with murdering Mrs. Gertrude Trask, 40, whose body was found early Wednesday in his small dwelling near Perth. She had been shot,

Vicki Captured

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Vicki the elephant was captured here Wednesday by a posse of more than 30 men who chased her for nearly two hours.

The posse, including volunteer firemen and county police who were off duty, chased Vicki from her lush wooded hideout where she had holed up for 12 days. They surrounded her and roped her some four miles from the wooded area.

She was immediately returned to the...amusement park zoo from which she escaped Sept. 11.

President Ready To Make Public Bulganin's Note

Believed Personal Letter Deals With Geneva Talks

NEW 4-CENT STAMP

A new four-cent purple stamp portraying the late Prime Minister R. B. Bennett will be issued November 4 by the post office department. This is one of a series started several years ago and intended to commemorate former prime ministers. Mr. Bennett was prime minister from August 7, 1930, to October 23, 1935. (CP Photo).

FRASER, Colo. (AP)—President Eisenhower made ready today to make public Soviet Premier Bulganin's personal message to him on the American plan for mutual aerial inspection and exchange of military blueprints.

Aides said the Kremlin leader's note might be released for publication by the day's end—or it might be held up until Saturday.

The timing depended on when Eisenhower got a go-ahead from Russia's Premier Bulganin, whose message was delivered to the United Nations General Assembly meeting.

DECLINES COMMENT

At Eisenhower's Rocky mountain fishing camp near here, Murray Snyder, assistant White House press secretary, declined any direct comment on the contest of the Bulganin message, which the president received Wednesday.

But sources elsewhere said it is likely to contain Bulganin's counterproposal that the United States and Russia swap military blueprints and agree on mutual aerial inspection of military establishments.

In Washington Thursday night, U.S. officials were reported to regard the Bulganin reply as generally encouraging in tone, but some of them were understood to feel that the Russian premier attached strings. Others felt it was not even a conditional acceptance but rather essentially a restatement of long-standing Soviet policy on rearmament.

There seemed to be agreement in Washington, however, that the reply was not a rejection of the Eisenhower plan, and that it would leave the door open for further negotiate in the UN disarmament sub-committee.

Umbrellaman Gets Dividends From Loans

OSAKA, Japan (AP) — Statiomaster Taro Matsumoto gave up smoking, and with the savings bought 20 umbrellas for loan without charge or signature to rail passengers caught in sudden showers.

Passengers returned the umbrellas so diligently that Matsumoto now has 36.

Hurricane Janet Makes Sea Boil Like Buttermilk

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Janet, so powerful that her winds have made ocean waters look like "boiling buttermilk," whirled westward in the Caribbean sea today at about 1,500 miles southeast of Miami.

Several of the smaller Leeward and Windward islands lie in the path of the storm, and islands on the coast of Venezuela also are considered in danger.

Janet, the tropical storm of the season, has winds estimated at 115 miles an hour and a small area near the centre—a well-defined eye about 20 miles in diameter—with an uncertain future.

Hurricane warnings have been ordered for Green Grenada north to St. Lucia and storm warnings in the remainder of the area from Dominica to Tobago, at the eastern entrance to the Caribbean.

The hurricane smashed across Barbados Thursday, flattening flimsy wooden structures in which the poorer of the island's 200,000 inhabitants live.

No accurate estimate of the damage is yet available, but relief work is under way.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO (CP) — Synopsis: Cool weather will continue today and Saturday over most of the province. Showers will move across northern Ontario from the west today as a disturbance moves slowly east of Manitoba and crosses those regions. This unsettled weather is expected to continue Saturday as cool moist air flows down from the north in the wake of this storm.

Southwestern Ontario will have increasing cloudiness today followed by scattered showers. These showers will move slowly into southeastern Ontario Saturday with gradually improving to sunny conditions in the southwestern regions

GALA WELCOME IS STAGED FOR GEN. LONARDI

Peronista Congressmen Will Be Rounded Up

By BRUCE HENDERSON

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Maj. Gen. Eduardo Lonardi made a triumphal entry into Buenos Aires today to take control of the provisional government of Argentina on behalf of the victorious rebels.

The airfield in suburban Palermo was tightly guarded by troops and police armed with machine-guns. A red carpet was rolled out for Lonardi. Thousands of citizens crowded around the airport limits, cheering wildly and waving flags.

The military guards held them back firmly but made no move to dampen their enthusiasm.

The plane which accompanied Lonardi from Cordoba were freshly painted with a huge V for victory and with the cross—a reminder that the revolution was caused in part by President Juan D. Peron's feud with the Roman Catholic Church.

Peron meanwhile remained aboard a closely guarded Paraguayan gunboat in Buenos Aires harbor, where he took refuge Tuesday. Paraguayan government officials said he was in "perfect condition."

Another gunboat has left Asuncion, Paraguay's capital, at once with orders to escort the ex-president to the Paraguayan capital.

ARREST PERON SUPPORTERS

The revolutionary leader's entry into Buenos Aires was preceded by an order from the provisional government for the arrest of all Peron supporters in the National Congress. Earlier the new regime had dissolved the Congress, in which the Peronista party members held all 34 Senate seats and all but 19 places in the 155-member lower house.

Violence flared here and in Rosario, Argentina's second largest city, as students and other foes of the ousted dictator moved to eradicate evidences of Peron's power. Street fights occurred throughout Buenos Aires Thursday despite efforts of armed patrols to keep crowds from gathering. Several Peronista party buildings were wrecked. Furniture and busts of Peron and his late wife, Eva, were torn from walls and destroyed.

Lonardi's order for congressmen is regarded as one of the strongest moves by the new government to ward off possible trouble from disgruntled Peron supporters. Leaders of the rebellion have called for peace and work to rebuild Argentina.

ARREST MINISTER

Oscar Nicolini, communications minister under Peron, was reported to be under arrest.

Roman Catholic Church sources said the new government will issue a decree permitting two exiled prelates to return to Argentina. They are Archbishop Mangin Manuel Tato and Ramon Novoa, were expelled by the dictator after Peron's feud with the church. All Argentine officials connected with the expulsion of the two prelates were excommunicated by the Vatican.

Ottawa Will Ask U.S. to Halt Giveaway Wheat Program

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada will appeal to the United States next Monday to restrict its huge wheat giveaway program and halt injuries to Canadian wheat markets abroad.

A federal trade authority says the American have already used part of this program to rid themselves of surpluses and this now has become an "acute matter."

A request that the U.S. restrict its program to keep its promises not to interfere with commercial markets will be brought forcibly before U.S. State Secretary Dulles and his colleagues when they meet with Canadian ministers Monday, the official said.

Mr. Dulles and three other American ministers are scheduled to arrive by plane from Washington Sunday night. He will confer with External Affairs Minister Pearson that evening, probably on Mr. Pearson's forthcoming trip to Moscow, and on the following day will confer with Canadian ministers on Canadian - American trade problems.

This will be the biggest delegation of American ministers to confer in Ottawa in post-war years. It will mark the second session of the joint trade and economic committee set up in 1953 as a high-level vehicle for resolving economic issues between the two countries.

The Canadian delegation, of eight ministers, four from each country, was to have met once a year or more frequently, but so far there has been but one meeting, in Washington in March, 1954.

The meeting here next Monday is scheduled to last one day.

It was at the Washington meeting that the U.S. representatives including Agriculture Secretary Benson, Commerce Secretary Weeks and Treasury Secretary Humphrey, agreed to confine the surplus disposal plan so that it would not interfere with commercial world marketings for wheat.

But the Canadian government has virtually accused the U.S. of not living up to its agreement. Trade Minister Howe, member of the committee, informed the Commons that data on the U.S. program had hampered Canadian wheat sales in many of the smaller markets abroad.

Molotov Asks West to Copy Russia in Giving Up Bases

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov today called upon the Western powers to end the arms race and liquidate their foreign military bases without waiting for international agreement on disarmament.

At the same time, the Soviet leader told the UN Assembly that Russia is giving early consideration to President Eisenhower's proposal for an "open sky" policy of aerial inspection between Russia and the United States territory.

He submitted a resolution urging the Assembly to endorse a study of the Eisenhower plan, along with proposals submitted by Russia, Britain and France.

In a major policy speech, Molotov pointed to recent Soviet reductions of military forces and the surrender of the Soviet naval base of Porkkala to Finland. Then he called upon the other big powers today to similar deeds that they really want to end the world arms race.

In the assembly steering committee meeting, the U.S. request for a second time helped reject a proposal to put a colonial issue on the agenda. This time the committee rejected the Asian-African call which sent the United States, China and Ethiopia abstained.

31 Prisoners Turned Over By Soviet Union

BERLIN (AP)—The Soviet Union today released 31 prisoners, including 15 Germans, 12 Frenchmen, two Belgians, one Swiss and a Dutch woman.

The Germans remained at a transit camp at Frankenwalde-on-the-Elbe in Communist East Germany while the others were turned over to diplomatic missions of their respective countries and left for West Berlin.

A Moscow announcement Thursday said the Frenchmen had been pardoned by a prison for "crimes against the Soviet Union." All are civilians.

The German Red Cross said the German contingent includes leading Socialist and former members of the Nazi Wehrmacht.

Dutch authorities identified the woman as Mrs. Regine Krampen, about 50, wife of a Berlin Dutch journalist who lived in Berlin throughout the Second World War. She was arrested in Berlin shortly after the war.

Chadwick Quits Off French Coast

CALAIS, France (AP)—Florence Chadwick, San Diego, Calif., housewife, gave up late today in her attempt to swim the English channel from England to France and return.

The 31-year-old Miss Chadwick got within 1-3 miles of the French coast when she quit. She said she was "tired and sick."

Miss Chadwick had plunged into the Channel near Dover at 2:47 a. m. She gave up at 3:45 p. m.

Find Dynamite West of Whitby

WHITBY (CP)—Police said two Toronto motorists, Robert Jenkins and David Macuso Thursday found 95 sticks of dynamite in a box beside a road in a wooded area in bushes near Highway 401 two miles west of here. Provincial police are investigating.

NEW EVIDENCE UNCOVERED IN GASPE SLAYINGS

Lawyer Forwards File To Justice Department

QUEBEC (CP)—The lawyer for convicted murderer Wilbert Coffin has brought forth statements alleging that two men were seen in the Gaspe area of Quebec shortly before the murder for which Coffin has been sentenced to be hanged.

Lawyer Francois Gravel said in an interview Thursday he has forwarded a file to the justice department in Ottawa containing statements and affidavits linking Coffin's trial to a United States-licensed jeep to the area.

Coffin is scheduled to be hanged Oct. 21 for the killing of 31-year-old Richard Lindsey of Hollingsburg, Pa. An application for leave to appeal now is before the Supreme Court of Canada.

PRODUCES STATEMENT

Gravel produced a statement signed by Dr. and Mrs. William Wilson of Toronto, reporting that during a trip in early June, 1951, they saw a jeep, covered with a weatherproof cover, parked between St. Simeon and Riviere-du-Loup, Que., in the Gaspe area.

Mrs. Wilson said the jeep bore Pennsylvania licence plates and was occupied by two men in "their late twenties." She described those who were "wearing American army-style jackets."

"They were in possession of a variety of guns," the Wilsons' statement continued, "and appeared to have been equipped with a tent and a stove and items of that nature."

Mr. Gravel said the statement, received here Wednesday, "after long months of investigation," bore out a statement attributed to Coffin and read by police at his trial last year in Perce, Que.

COFFIN ASSERTIONS

Coffin's alleged statement said that when the 44-year-old Gaspe prospector last saw the Lindsey party in Gaspe bushland early in June, they were with two men in a jeep bearing a United States licence plate and partly covered with a plywood structure.

A few weeks later young Lindsey's bear-gnawed remains were found in the bush not far from his father, 47-year-old Eugene, and a friend, Allen Clear, 18.

Mr. Gravel said he has affidavits from residents near Baltimore, Md., who say a second-hand jeep, similar to the one reportedly seen by Coffin and the Wilsons, was found at Juniper river. It bore one Pennsylvania licence plate.

Mr. Gravel in Bathurst said Thursday night they have no information that Coffin has said they would have heard if such a vehicle had been discovered. Further, they said there is no Juniper river in the Bathurst area, but there is one in Gaspe, New Brunswick.

There was a Juniper lake in Northumberland county.

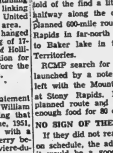
Six Adventurers Missing 86 Days In Barren Lands

RCMP Finds Supply Cache In Hunt on 600-Mile Route

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. (CP)— Discovery of a supply cache provided the first clue today in the search for six adventurers unreported since they headed their canoes into the inhospitable Barren Lands 86 days ago.



A radio message received here from the find a little more than halfway along the canoeists' planned 600-mile route from Stony Rapids in far-north Saskatchewan to Baker lake in the Northwest Territories.

RCMP search for the party was launched by a note the canoeists left with the Mountie department at Stony Rapids. It gave their planned route and said they had enough food for 80 days.

NO SIGN OF THEM

If they did not reach Baker lake on schedule, the adventurers said, would be a good idea for the RCMP to know their location in case of trouble. There was no sign of them at Baker.

The leader of the expedition is Arthur R Moffat of Norwich, Vt. described as a lecturer-explorer. Other members are believed to be Edward Lancourte, 21, of San Rafael, Calif., and Roy Bryant, 20, of Amsterdam, N.Y., and Peter Francis, 18, of San Mateo, Calif. RCMP here had identification cards of Lancourte and Bryant but not of Moffat only. However, the three men's names were on members of the party when they passed through Montreal in June and were interviewed by the press. They said at that time that they were going to be joined by two Canadian university students.

PICTURE OF SORROW

Mrs. Mamie Bradley, is comforted by her father, John W. Carthan, as she left Chicago for Summer, Miss., to attend the trial of Wheeler accused of murdering her son, Emmett L. Till, 14. The defendants, Roy Bryant, 24, and his half-brother, L. W. Milam, 36, are charged with slaying the boy because he allegedly "wolf whistled" at Bryant's wife. (Central Press Canadian).

Waterfront King At Detroit Says Shots Fired

DETROIT (AP)—Zigmund Snyder, known among dock workers as "king of the Detroit waterfront," told police he narrowly missed death early today from a burst of pistol shots fired at his car. He was not injured.

Snyder was ousted two weeks ago as business agent of local 1224 of the AFL International Brotherhood of Longshoremen by union trusteeship, charging Snyder with misconduct.

Snyder told police an automobile with blinding headlights bore down on him as he was driving on the river front.

Just as the car was about to pass, he saw a flash of shots from the other car. One bullet struck his windshield, shattered the windshield. The car raced on. Snyder straightened up and gained control of his car in time to keep from crashing into a parked truck.

Snyder told police he had no idea who fired the shots, but he believed the shooting was connected with labor union trouble.

'With Grace of Elderly Governess' Commercial TV Makes British Bow

LONDON (Reuters)—A leading London critic says no American sponsor would have given screen time to Britain's first television advertising commercials which flashed on Thursday night as commercial TV made its debut.

But James Thomas tells readers of the Daily Telegraph that the "American influence poked through with little regard for songs about glorious products."

Even so, the commercials were so quiet that many people telephoned the station to complain that something was wrong with their sets.

For its first appearance commercial TV had a special, 15-minute preach, concentrating heavily on spreading the message over soothing and serious music.

Most viewers said they tuned in to see what the commercials would be like. But L.M. Gander in The Daily Telegraph writes that the organizers were so "shy of advertising" that they waited for almost an hour before putting over their first commercial, a plug for toothpaste.

After describing the toothpaste's "delicious tingle" the commercial then showed a picture of a girl "somewhat nervously scrubbing an immaculate teeth."

The Daily Sketch says "well-behaved, reserved, almost apologetic . . . independent television stepped into the ring to question the 29-year-old monopoly of the BBC with the grace and carriage of an elderly governess."

The Daily Mail, which has a large interest in two of the companies producing programs for the new network, complains: "Just one page with stories and pictures of the opening, commenting: 'The BBC's monopoly of independent television's life wrote a piece of history in a dignified and sober style.'"

There are knocks for the new network in the Daily Express critic, Cyril Aynsley, says the new TV had general aliveness, but filmed excerpts of plays were poor, the news scrappy and the commercials "tiresome."

The Times says: "Offensive would be too strong a word for it for those comic little interruptions of the entertainment, but one feels at times that a thick skin of resistance to them would be needed before long."

Boys Flee Jail For Third Time

BRACEBRIDGE, Ont. (CP) — Two 15-year-old boys who walked out of the Bowmanville reformatory school for boys on two occasions within the last two weeks, have made another escape, police said from the Bracebridge lockup.

A week ago one of the boys was given permission to attend a family funeral. When he failed to return he was picked up by provincial police.

He walked out again a few days later and joined another boy who also had escaped. They were picked up and lodged in the town's lockup but escaped again.

Church Collapses During Storm, Taking Ten Lives

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (Reuters)—Ten persons who took refuge in a church when hurricane Janet struck the Barbados Thursday night were killed when the church collapsed, reports received here today said.

A thousand persons were left homeless after the hurricane struck many buildings by uprooting trees and hurling them on roofs.

The storm struck the island without warning. The rising gale, terror and misdirection toured the affected areas today and inspected the damage caused by the storm.

Reports from the island have been sketchy since the hurricane roared its way through, cutting communications and flattening the flimsy wooden houses in which the poorer of the British colony's 200,000 inhabitants live.

Last of Streetcars West of Toronto Make Final Runs in Winnipeg

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Two creaking old streetcars lurched along Winnipeg's Portage avenue in a farewell tour recently, following in the tracks of thousands of their kind discarded throughout Canada in the last decade or so.

They were the last streetcars in use west of Toronto. Buses are now in service in the four Atlantic provinces.

A Canadian Press survey shows that Toronto, Montreal and Ottawa still use streetcars although many of them soon will be relegated to the scrapheap. Only in Quebec city and Hamilton are they the sole means of local transportation.

Montreal has about 700 on duty, but the number serving the city before buses started to take over a big transportation job several years ago. And officials say they expect to discard all of them within six or seven years.

Ottawa has replaced the trams with buses on two routes within the last two years and it is expected the entire system will be converted over within 10 or 12 years.

Only in Toronto — where the transportation system includes Canada's only subway—do the streetcars appear safe from extinction for at least for a number of years. Buses and trolley coaches are also in use.

Generally, transport companies, the drivers and the passengers favor buses or trolley coaches. Some company officials say they are going over to replace than streetcars. Operators find them more maneuverable in heavy traffic. Passengers like the curb service they provide. They are quieter than streetcars.

An official of the British Columbia Electric Railway Co., said replacement costs for a streamline streetcar appear safe "for a while" trolley coaches cost about $30,000 and buses $50,000.

Besides, the streetcars have a champion in Dave Gill, general manager of the Canadian Transportation Commission, who says he prefers them although he grudgingly admits they are on the way out.

"The streetcar still is the most satisfactory public transportation vehicle if we could only get them through traffic," he said. "But as we can't, eventually they'll have to go."

GM and Union Still Discuss Local Disputes

TORONTO (CP)—Company and union negotiators may get back to the chief issues today as talks continue in an effort to settle a strike of 17,000 General Motors of Canada workers.

Issues dividing the St. Catharines and Oshawa plants occupied the discussions Thursday between GM officials and representatives of the United Automobile Workers (CIO-CCL).

The talks on the Oshawa and St. Catharines contracts resumed at 10 a. m. today. As was the case Thursday, company officials were moved back and forth from one meeting to the other from time to time, a spokesman said.

There were no talks on contract issues which affect the 13,000 members out on strike Monday at plants in Oshawa, St. Catharines, Toronto and Windsor.

The meetings sought instead to establish fields for talks, issues such as the number of workers in each unit which will be involved in main bargaining begins again. Officials of both sides reported "satisfactory progress" in discussions but did not go into details. The atmosphere appeared friendly.

The Ontario labor relations board has set Sept. 27 for hearing in politics of union General Motors Corporation of Canada to have the strike declared illegal.

The corporation said the union has refused a request to amend the agreement, but nothing about terminating it.

Prime Minister's Round-World Trip Described

The around - the - world – in 42 – days trip of Prime Minister St. Laurent had been a trip that was a hard-working round of social appearances combined with a liberal helping of statesmanship.

At least this appears to sum up the trip after hearing one of the inside stories on the tour from the pilot of the trip, Group Captain J. G. Stephenson, OBE, AFC, senior staff officer of the Training Command Headquarters at RCAF Trenton.

Guest speaker to the Y's Men's Club here last night, the group captain gave the members an account of the trip from an observer's viewpoint.

One of the most striking subjects on the entire trip was the Prime Minister himself, Group Captain Stephenson thought.

"When he left this country he, in my opinion, left behind all his politics, that is domestic politics. He became a statesman."

This probably was never more in evidence than at the time Mr. St Laurent stood up in the Indian parliament to speak for the U. S. during a time of strained relations between India and the U. S. The United States had been supplying arms to India's northern neighbor, Pakistan, and India, outraged, was claiming the arms would be used against her.

"Mr. St. Laurent started then in one hour that this was not the case," said the group captain.

"He is a very quiet man and he doesn't care what he says as long as he believes it. He conceived the peoples of the world that Canada itself was trying to secure the peace with any nation, and, I think, he did an excellent job at that."

The 42-day trip covered a distance of 30,000 miles around most of the globe. Among other impressions "we were very impressed with the calibre of the men whom we met who represented the U.S. government," the group captain.

He said it was "very evident" the U. S. was doing its best to place in certain areas men, who were capable of handling the situation.

Among notables met and observed on the trip were Lord and Lady Mountbatten, Mohammed Ali Khan, Gen. Alfred Gruenther, chief of NATO, and Ali Khan.

The speaker was introduced by Bud Trill and thanked by Lindsay Reid.

Silk Screening Display Shown At Arts, Crafts

An interesting display of silk screening by Mrs. Elizabeth Wilks Hoey is being shown tonight and Saturday at the Arts and Crafts professional exhibit at the Belleville Chrysanthemum Show.

Mrs. Hoey, a resident of Belleville, Ontario, and has promoted many Canadian designs with Canadian background. Some specimens of her work can be seen on the walls of Barclay's Bank and the Bank of Nova Scotia in Toronto.

Included in the display will be a silk screen with design and dye also finished material to give a better understanding of the process.

SAYS MALENKOV ILL

BONN (Reuters)—Carlo Schmid, a West German official and Socialist leader, said Thursday night that Georgi Malenkov, the Soviet expremier whom he met in Moscow recently was "very ill with heart trouble, and puffed and blue when he went upstairs." He said "I think his illness may well have been the best explanation for his resignation."

Obituary

LATE THOMAS PAUL EGGLETON

The funeral of Thomas Paul Eggleton of Foxboro took place Wednesday afternoon with service in the chapel at the Thomas C. Thompson Funeral Home conducted by Rev. R. M. Clark of Foxboro United Church. Interment was in Clark Cemetery.

The bearers were Harold Wannamaker, J. W. Daniels, John Herbert, Clifford Wilson, James Hannah and Ivan Caldwell.

ARTHUR ERNEST McNEIL

The funeral of Arthur Ernest McNeil took place from the Belleville Burial Company Funeral Home Thursday afternoon with service in the chapel being conducted by Rev. R. M. Clark.

Interment was in Lansdowne Cemetery.

The bearers were Thomas Shields, Clarke Landon, Clifford Munn, William Munn, Clarence McDonald and J. W. Lackie.

WILLETT JOHNSTON

The funeral of Willett Johnston was held from the Grant Funeral Home on Wednesday afternoon to the First Pentecostal Church on North Front Street, for service.

The late Mr. Johnston was an ardent supporter both financially and personally of the church that has been recently erected and many of his friends and church associates were present to pay their respects. He was also an employee of the Bell Telephone Company for many years and this company was largely represented at the funeral.

Rev. A. L. Ellis, who conducted the service paid a tribute to Mr. Johnston as a community-minded man and also as a great help to the church of his choice. During the service Mrs. A. E. Smith, accompanied by Mr. A. L. Ellis sang a solo "Shady Green Pastures". Mr. Ellis also sang one of the last cities at Belleville cemetery.

The bearers were Daniel Benn, Bert Houston, Harry Rollins, Charles Pringle, George Riley, Crenfell Fredericks.

MRS. JOHN BALYX

In ill health for some time, Mrs. Allie (Totty) Balyx, 72 Great St. James Street, died in the Belleville General Hospital, as of Thursday morning.

She was born in Belleville 87 years ago, being the daughter of the late Mr., and Mrs. Frank Smith, and on the last date of life in this city, where she was well known and highly respected. She was a member of St. Thomas' Anglican Church and fraternally a valued member of the Ladies of the Moose and the L.O.B.A.

Surviving is her husband, John Balyx; five sons, Jack, Garnet, Bernard, Arthur and Melvin Balyx, of this city; two daughters, Mrs. Robert (Bessie) Waldron of Trenton, and Mrs. Harry at home; one brother, Harvey Smith, of Toronto; three half-brothers, Bernard Mondeville, Walter Mondeville and Raymond Mondeville, all of this city and five grandchildren.

Resting at the Belleville Burial Company Funeral Home. The funeral announcement appears elsewhere in this edition.

LEVI J. LATON (Madoc)

MADOC —As the result of a motor mishap five miles west of Madoc on Highway No. 62 early Wednesday morning, Levi J. Laton of Madoc, died instantly killed.

He was born at Queensboro 70 years ago, being the son of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Laton and had resided in Madoc for the past six years but had been a continuous resident of that community all of his life. He was employed as foreman of the production casting department of the Deloro Stobie Mining and Smelting Company at Deloro, where he was held in high esteem both by the employees and management.

He served for a brief period in the armed forces of the Second World War and was a valued member of Branch No 263 of the Canadian Legion at Madoc. He was also a member of St. John's Anglican Church.

Surviving are his parents; his wife, the former Helen Elizabeth Peters; two daughters, Sharon and Susan at home; five sisters, Mrs. Leo (Irenaus) Labelle of Picton; Mrs. James (Gertrude) McNaughton of Trenton; Mrs. Chas. (Margaretta) Rose of Actinolite; Mrs. Clarence (Dorothy) Dwyer of Niagara Falls, Ont.; Mrs. Symon (Loretta) Light of Cranbrook, B.C., and three brothers, Paul Laton of Picton; John of Actinolite and Francis of Debert, N.S.

Resting at the family residence. The funeral announcement is made elsewhere in this edition.

JOHN WELLINGTON DOWN
Frankford R.R. 1

Funeral services for John Wellington Down of Frankford, were held from the Rowe Funeral Home, Frankford, on Wednesday, where the service was conducted by Rev. B. H. Harpell of the Standard Church. The funeral was under the direction of the Orange Lodge, No. 242.

Bearers were all members of the Orange Order and were: Cecil Palmer, Wilfred Wood, Frankely, Carman Frost, Harvey Pilcher and Albert Caskey. Interment was in Mount Zion Cemetery, Murray township.

Mr. Down died suddenly at his home on Sunday.

Born at Mount Zion in Murray township 83 years ago, Mr. Down was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Down. He had lived at Stockdale for the past ten years but during his active years had farmed in the Mount Zion area. He was associated with the Anglican Church and was a member of Orange Lodge, No. 240, and Black Knights. He was a past district master of the lodge.

He is survived by his wife, the former Orphie Grosjean and three sons, Ogle Down of Mount Zion Clinton of Trenton and Morley of Trenton. There are 33 grandchildren and 15 great grandchildren.

Also surviving are three brothers, James Down, Frankford; William and Clarence Down of Sask. katchewan, and two sisters, Mrs. R. (Eva) Cooke and Mrs. Henry (Emma) Nelson, both of Trenton.

MRS. ELIZABETH FARRELL (Read, Ont.)

The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Farrell, who died in Belleville General Hospital on Wednesday, was held from the Funeral Residence of George Clifton this morning.

Interment was in St. Charles cemetery, Read, after Requiem High Mass in St. Charles Church, said by Rev. E. Brideau.

Present in the sanctuary was Rt. Rev. D. Hanley, K. Hastings.

A guard of honor was formed at the church by the members of the Catholic Women's League, attached to St. Charles Church.

The bearers were Williem, Patrick, Joseph F and Francis Buckley, Clair Brennan and Earl Brennan.

Bell Telephone Contract To Kingston Firm

The contract for the construction of a two-storied extension to the rear of the Bell Telephone exchange building on Bridge Street has been awarded to T. A. Andre and Sons, Ltd., of Kingston, Grant W. Procter, Bell manager here, announced today. The addition will measure 32 by 77 feet.

The new section, which will be architecturally in keeping with the present building, will house dial equipment to provide for Belleville's growing telephone needs, Mr. Proctor said.

Son Borrowed Father's Car

City and provincial police reported a quiet time during the past 24 hours with no accidents and only routine matters coming to their attention.

City police were alerted to be on the lookout for a car which proved to be a stolen car but it turned out to be all a mistake.

A rural resident working for the C. N. R. left his car parked on the railway grounds and when he came back from his run found the car to be missing.

After police were alerted it was found the man's son had wanted to use the car and had started the vehicle by crossing the ignition wires.

New Chess Club Officers Named; Seek Members

Martin Hamelink of Ameliasburg was elected president of the Belleville Chess Club at the annual meeting of that organization, held last night at the Y.M.C.A. here. Milford J. Waller, R. R. 1, Foxboro, is the new secretary, while Timothy Meeus of Belleville was re-elected treasurer.

The new executive is deeply concerned over diminishing interest in the game. Two years ago, when the club was organized, it had 48 members. Last year there were only some 30 members and not all of these were active. Much of Thursday's meeting was given over to a discussion of this situation and possible methods of remedying it. The executive is anxious to hear from all chess players, who can get in touch with any of the new officers, or with the immediate past-president, Dick Payne, 16 Moodie St. Also under activities discussed was the organization of groups for juniors or beginners.

Definite plans for the season will not be made until the result of the club's efforts to attract new members and recapture the interest of former members are known However, the donor of players who attended the annual meeting were unanimously of the opinion that the club should continue its operations, even if efforts to obtain a larger membership are not successful.

Hurricane Janet Causes Concern To Students

Studies and college life were temporarily forgotten by four Alfred College students today as word was received that the island of Barbados had been cut off from the outside world by the destructive path of hurricane Janet.

The Misses Lucille and Barbara Goddard of Christchurch, Barbados, Miss Yvonne Bourne of Belleville, Barbados and Miss Barbara Watson of St. Michael, spent an anxious night and today over the well-being of relatives and friends.

College officials and students were also concerned over a last year's graduate Miss Phillipa Moulder, who resides on the British-owned Caribbean beauty spot.

News despatches this morning stated the Hurricane Janet had thundered across the Windward Islands into the Caribbean Sea. She had smashed her way through Barbados and ominous silence enveloped that outpost.

The last word came at 10 a.m. yesterday when the weather observer reported Belleville would be said he was forced to evacuate his instruments.

6RD Driver Winner In Truck Roadeo

TRENTON (Special) — Truck Roadeo. Two words that sound confusing to the ordinary laymen, but mean as much to the transport man as the Calgary Stampede does to the cowpoke of western Canada. And yesterday was "Roadeo Day" at No. 6 Repair Depot when Air Office Commanding Air Material Command A/V/M K. N. Fiset, CBE, AFC, CD, flew a Mitchell aircraft down from his headquarters at Ottawa to watch the finals and present the awards. The A/V/M took the occasion to inspect the big repair depot and in the company of the new Commanding Officer, Group Captain T. A. Sparton.

Cpl. R. J. Bjostrom, 31, from No. 6 Repair Depot, carried off the honors of the meet with a score of 273.5 points out of a possible 400. In second place, close to the winner was A/C. A. H. Attrill, 24, RCAF Station Lincoln Park, Calgary. In third place was LAC C. C. Sarjilla, 25, Seventeen Wing, N.B.

All units participating included: 1 Supply Depot, Donnview; 2 Supply Depot, Moncton, N.B.; 11 Supply Depot, Calgary; RCAF Station, Rockcliffe; Station Lincoln Park, Calgary; 16 Repair Depot, N.S.; 11 Technical Servicing Unit, Montreal, and No. 6 Repair Depot, Transport Section. Seventeen drivers entered the competitors.

QUALIFIES FOR FINALS

The winners qualified for the inter-command finals to be held at the 11th Hussars Armouries, Montreal, on November 15 and 16 inclusive. Finally at the CNE grounds in Toronto on November 19 and 21 the air forces' best will vie against the drivers. Prizes of $300, $200 and $100 will go to the three drivers found to be the most proficient. The Automotive Transport Association of Canada sponsors the cash awards.

In addition, the first place winner at the competition in Toronto will receive the annual armed services trophy for retention for one year, along with a permanent miniature trophy.

The competition for safe and skilled driving, known as a "Truck Roadeo" is held annually in connection with various safety organizations, government and police departments to stress defensive industry.

Driving is not the only skill called for in the competition. The driver is also judged on his appearance and personality and must pass written tests on his knowledge of driving safety and courtesy, the trucking industry generally, first aid, fire fighting and equipment defects.

Collector's Hand Digging Deeper

OTTAWA (CP)—The federal tax collector's hand is digging deeper into the business affairs of those who claim their stock profits are capital gains. The government believes many are making a living out of speculative transactions and should be paying income tax.

Authorities said Thursday the main target of increased federal activity in this field is the person who deals in stock promotion. Federal investigators have searched through brokers' records, trust company documents and legal transfer records to establish the nature of a person's business and how he makes his money.

The government doesn't tax profits on capital gains, such as on the sale of a house or securities, unless it finds that the person making the profit has been carrying on a business in that field.

Weekly Livestock Review

TORONTO (CP) Top grades of slaughter cattle were steady with lower grades 50 cents a hundredweight lower this week at the Ontario public stockyards.

Top grades of calves were 25 a hundredweight higher with the lower grades and heavy calves slow at steady prices. Hogs were 50 cents to $1 a hundredweight lower. Lambs were 50 cents a hundredweight lower while sheep were steady.

Cattle receipts were 1,100 head less than last week and some 300 head less than this week last year. Receipts from western Canada were some 500 head higher than last week at 1,200 cattle and 470 calves.

There was only one load shipped to eastern Canadian slaughterers and there were no exports to the United States.

TOP GRADES MOVE

A small supply of top grades of steers, heifers and fed yearlings sold readily at steady prices. The large number of slaughter cattle grading medium and down were much in excess of demand. It was estimated that there would be 2,000 cattle unsold at the close, mostly medium and medium killers and stockers.

Sales sold at steady prices with bulls continuing to sell slowly at last week's lower prices. The best trade was reported as good.

Prices: Choice steers $20.75-21.75; with good steers $19.50-20.50; medium $17-19; commons $12-16; good heifers $19.50; with a few choice to $19; mediums $16-17.50; commons $12-15; boner steers and heifers $8-12; choice fed yearlings $21.50-22.50; with sales up to $23; good fed yearlings $20.50-21.50; mediums $17-20; good cows $12-12.50, with a few sales as high as $13; good to choice heavy cows $14; canner and cutter cows down to $9—a heavy bologna bulls generally $12.50; common and medium light bulls down to $8.

Reduced cattle: Good stockers were scarce and sold readily. The bulk of the offering were common and medium and met a narrow demand. Good stockers were $18-19; mediums $16-17.50; commons $13-16. Stock calves were $16-18.50.

Calf receipts were about 500 head more than last week with prices early in the week $1 a hundredweaker. Common, medium and heavy calves were slow. Calves closed easier. Good and choice vealers were $23-25, with tops of $25.50; mediums $16-22; commons $10-15.

Hogs were 50 cents to $1 a hundredweight lower with grade A $20-20.25. There were several loads sold out at $20.50. Sows were $18.25 dressed and stags $15 dressed.

Sheep and lambs receipts continued heavy with 500 head less than last week. Lambs were down 50 cents a hundredweight lower at $19 for good bodyweight ewes and wethers. Bucks were discounted $1 and shorn wethers with heavy lambs discounted $2. Common and medium lambs were $13-17. Good light sheep were generally $8 with common and heavy down to $3.

DOLLAR RATE

MONTREAL (CP) — The U. S. dollar was at a discount of 1 3-32 per cent, the Bank of Canada reported at noon today, Thursday's noon rate was 98 13-16 cents. Pound sterling $2.75⅝, unchanged.

Woman and Son Die When Truck Rams Small Car

TORONTO (CP) — A Toronto woman and her son were killed and another child injured Thursday night when a small English auto was crushed between a parked cruiser and a transport truck.

Rescue workers labored two hours to free the bodies of Mrs. Doris Wilson and her 12-year-old son Jimmy from the demolished auto, whose length was reduced to three feet by the impact.

Two of the injured, Scarborough police constables Jim Crow and Syd Brown, said they had parked their cruiser near a hill to investigate a minor accident when the transport rammed the little car.

OTTAWA-BOUND

The small auto braked as it approached the cruiser. The Ottawa-bound transport plowed into its rear and stripped the body of the auto from its chassis.

Crow and Brown were treated for minor injuries. Mehindel Meilicke, who was being questioned about the minor accident when the transport struck the little car, also was injured and taken to hospital. He was in fair condition today.

There were two other fatalities in the Toronto area Thursday.

Andrew Allen, 35, died after being pinned under a milk truck which was struck by a delivery truck and a streetcar. Thelma Wood was killed when he darted in front of a car in suburban East York.

Warrant Issued For East York MP In Traffic Case

TORONTO (CP)—A bench warrant for the arrest of R. H. McGregor, Progressive Conservative MP for East York, was issued here Thursday by magistrate Fred Barnett, it was learned today. Mr. McGregor did not appear in court on a traffic charge.

The 49-year-old MP was charged Aug. 24 following a collision at the East York intersection of O'Connor drive and Sunrise Ave. Damage to two cars amounted to $700. No one was injured.

He was charged with crossing the centre line of the highway within 100 feet of an intersection. Police said two cars had stopped on O'Connor drive beside the centre line waiting for one in front to make a left turn. Mr. McGregor's car approached from the rear, swung into the opposite lane to pass waiting cars and struck the left-turning car.

Police said the warrant means that they must arrest Mr. McGregor on the next court day and take him to court.

RADAR BASE BURNED

FEZ, Morocco (Reuters) — Fire destroyed an American air force radar post at Tcerkia near here after an accidental explosion Thursday. There were no casualties.

Pickets Block Office Workers At Oshawa Plant

OSHAWA (CP)—The first major incident of the five-day-old General Motors strike occurred today when 1,000 non-union office employees attempted to enter the south plant and were blocked by reinforced United Auto Workers picket lines.

Traffic was snarled at 8 a. m. by cars containing office workers not those of pickets going off shift. Ontario police, assisted by special union police, kept the stream moving quietly and the jam was cleared within 30 minutes.

USE EXTRA PICKETS

An office employees' spokesman said the employees received orders Thursday night to report for work this morning at the south plant. As soon as word reached local 22 strike headquarters in UAW Hall, extra pickets were sent by truck to seal off entrances.

Pickets jeered the office workers as they drove past each gate but no violence was reported. A cameraman for the company managing, G. M. Topics, was said threatened with destruction of his film.

Spokesmen for the auto union building have reported for work regularly since the strike began. Local 22 officials said this was permitted because these office workers do not enter the factory. South plant offices, however, are dispersed throughout the plant.

Union officers said a similar attempt was made by office workers to enter GM parts warehouse at Ajax earlier this week, but was turned back peacefully after a brief exchange of words.

Company officials could not be reached for comment.

Army Secretary Of United States To Meet Officers

OTTAWA (CP)—Army Secretary Wilber Brucker of the United States flew into Ottawa Thursday for a one-day trip to meet defence officials and officers of the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority.

Mr. Brucker arrived by plane at 2:15 p.m. EDT from Massena, N.Y., where he had inspected U.S. construction on the seaway project. He is the cabinet member supervising the U.S. federal government's part in the navigation section of the $900,000,000 job.

Before he leaves this afternoon, he is expected to confer with seaway officials and members headed by Hon. Lionel Chevrier. He also has scheduled calls on Defence Minister Campney, Gen. Charles Foulkes, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, and Lt.-Gen. Howard Graham, army chief of staff.

The visit was described as largely a get-acquainted trip for the recently-appointed secretary.

West Germany's House Approves Envoy Exchange

BONN (Reuters)—The West German Bundestag (lower house) today approved unanimously an exchange of ambassadors with Russia.

The house also approved a declaration that it expects Russia's Premier Bulganin to adhere to his verbal promise to Chancellor Adenauer to release all German prisoners still held in Russia as soon as possible.

This promise was given when Adenauer agreed, on his visit to Moscow last week, to the establishment of diplomatic relations with Russia.

In another resolution, the Bundestag supported Adenauer's two reservations as given in documents published in Moscow.

Adenauer declared that the establishment of diplomatic relations with Russia did not mean recognition of the present temporary frontiers in Germany. Nor did it mean any alteration in the claim of the West German government to be the only authority entitled to speak on behalf of the whole German people.

The house also urged renewed efforts to achieve German reunification and the resolution expressed hope that the foreign ministers' conference at Geneva next month will bring this nearer.

'Ladder Truck' Rear Section Was Wagging

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP) A long hook-and-ladder fire truck crashed against a new automobile at a road turn Thursday night.

Driver John F. Meaney realized the reason for the accident as soon as he looked behind him.

The tiller man—the man who steers the rear section of the fire truck—was not there.

REVOLUTION IN ARGENTINA

Juan D. Peron is no longer president of Argentina. That is an important change for Peron and for a number of other people.

It is not yet certain how large a number.

The New York Times evidently thinks that it will be very large indeed. In an editorial the Times expresses thankfulness on behalf of the Argentine people for having received the end of this arduous road," (the end of "one of the most important and unsavory dictatorships of the post-war world."). It says that the future, though terribly hard, "should at least be lived in freedom."

It maintains that the Argentine people deserve a tribute for having proven that a totalitarian dictatorship can be overthrown "in a great country with a minimum of bloodshed."

That makes the deposing of Peron a very important event, not only to the mass of the Argentine people but to the world at large.

Unfortunately caution suggests that the New York Times, in its understandable dislike for Peron, may have been overly enthusiastic in welcoming as a friend any person who was formerly a foe—a mistake which has been made before by other people besides newspaper editors and by governments as well as by newspapers.

There are, for instance, comments in more reasonable, and sobering, fashion.

"We would like to agree with the New York Times' view that the forces of freedom are on the march and that a new day is coming for Argentina'," it says. "Some forces of freedom may be marching and a new day may be coming, but there is room for suspicion that among Peron's foes freedom's legions are not on top and that the dawn of the 'new day' will be delayed."

The Journal says that it would be pleasant to believe that the ousting of Juan Peron came from the masses, "from people who love freedom and who know democracy and can practise it," but that it appears as if the revolt was a "palace affair."

The Journal could have reinforced its argument by referring to conditions in Argentina before Peron seized power. Peron was not "the" dictator, but "a" dictator.

These poor people would not have been shirtless had the previous regime governed with efficiency and justice.

Indeed, in a country which has not enjoyed even a form of democracy the rise of a dictator is almost always a sign that the masses have been poverty-stricken. For while it is difficult for the common people to overthrow a dictator once he has got power it is also difficult for a man to make himself a dictator without the backing of at least a large segment of the population.

That does not mean that Peron was a dictator in his rise to power, or that it continues after he seizes control as it did to a large extent in Peron's case, is no guarantee that the wonderful things he aims are good or that, when his power is broken, will remain.

It can be said, however, that mere opposition to a dictator does not make one wise, just or a believer in democracy.

With the Journal, before we start cheering Peron's successors we shall wait to discover who or what his successors are.

CHANGING HIS OLD SWIMMING HOLE

Almost every man has fond recollections of the old swimming hole.

Sometimes, when it is revisited, it does not measure up to memories.

Time is always to blame. Often the change is in the man. But sometimes the old swimming hole itself has been changed. Only infrequently, though, has this change been made by the one-time swimmer, and very, very rarely at a cost of $600,000,000.

Back in 1914, on the eve of the First Great War, a youth used to watch for freighters steaming westward past Morrisburg. When one entered the canal he would hurry through the three miles, then hop off and plunge into the St. Lawrence River.

Then he would swim back to Morrisburg.

"Wasn't that a long swim?" he was asked. "No," he replied with a smile softened by reminiscence, "all one had to do was to keep afloat. The 14-mile-an-hour current in the Rapide-Platte would carry one back home in twenty minutes."

Those trips were made without benefit of goggles, snorkel or flippers.

The year before the days of outboard motors, but a canoe made a fast trip through the rapids. There were those who thought the canoeist too daring; obviously they did not know that the trip was often made without any craft.

In those days there was talk of the St. Lawrence Seaway. When the swimmer returned from the wars in 1919 there were surveyors at work in Morrisburg. But it was not until 1954, when the swimmer and canoeist had become vice-chairman of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario, that W. Gordon Gray saw a start actually made on the task of transforming his old swimming hole.

Britain has transferred 25,000 square miles of British Somaliland to Ethiopia. Nomadic tribesmen in the area do not welcome the change. They are sending two men, Ibtian Hilo Momin and Michael Mariano, to the United Nations Genéral Assembly to endeavor to have the International Court of Justice hear their protest. To finance the trip by air the tribesmen have sold a flock of 3,500 sheep. This is evidence that they are really deeply concerned about the change. They deserve a hearing. The delegation should not be dismissed with a wave of the hand and a casual "Bah!"

"Now there's a boy, two minutes old,
For you to put in bed!"

Now there's a boy!" and I was he
Of whom he spoke in praise.
Then some arrived that seemed to be
The doctor's favorite phrase.

To mothers all to spy:
"Now there's a boy for you to teach

Oh, could the doctor look on me

LOOKING BACKWARDS

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BYGONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO
Sept. 23, 1935

There are approximately 300 families on relief in the city at the present time according to His Worship Mayor Geo. O. Yice; this figure is following a very careful check-up of the families on the list. Mr. James V. Ross, superintendent of the local employment service urges all citizens to engage through his office men for odd jobs.

Mr. J. W. Stevens of Vancouver, B. C., is visiting his sister, Mrs. L. Wilkes, Catherine St.

Mrs. P. J. M. Anderson is spending a few days in Toronto with friends.

Mrs. Tye of Montreal, a niece of the late Rt. Rev. Monsignor Farrelly, pastor of St. Michael's church here for many years, is in the city and is stopping at Holy Guardian. She was here visiting she has arranged for a memorial mass for the late, to be placed in St. James' Cemetery.

Miss Helen Lee, John Street, is visiting this week in Gananoque with Miss Eugene Brennan in Rochester, N.Y.

30 YEARS AGO
Sept. 23, 1925

Mr. Everett Liddle of Hamilton, formerly of Belleville, is spending a few days in town.

Mr. D. MacKay of Winnipeg is the guest at the Quinte Hotel.

Mr. Redeer Ross, Foster Avenue, has left for Kingston where he will enter upon studies at Queen's University.

Mr. Thomas Ingram of Pronto, N.Y., is visiting friends in Belleville, is spending a few days in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Martin and Mr. F. M. Robb have arrived from California; they made the entire trip by motor car.

40 YEARS AGO
Sept. 23, 1915

Lieut. Col. Lorne W. Marsh, who has been in command of, the 15th. Regiment since 1911, has been granted leave of absence for twelve months owing to the fact that he will be busily engaged in the manufacture of munitions here at the plant of Marsh and Henthorn. Major David Barragar, second in command, has been given command of the regiment and he has arrived home from Bawerfield to take over the stores. Major Barragar enrolled in the 15th. Regiment in 1899 and since then he has taken a keen interest in military matters. He has been engaged lately in training a fine battalion of infantry at Brockfield. Major Barragar is an efficient officer and is popular with all ranks.

From our file copy at this time in 1895: The 15th. Battalion will parade to the hospital lot at the north east corner of Victoria Avenue and Church Street this evening and on Monday next will be the usual crowd present to listen to the band music and watch the soldier drill. Belleville citizens enjoy this event; the boys meet their friends and make the young fry have a hilarious time — you think it is all noisy — but we were probably the same when at their age we attended the band concerts.

50 YEARS AGO
Sept. 23, 1905

A hockey team may be formed in connection with the 15th. Regiment Bugle Band.

Mr. John A. Scott, Thurlow township, has left for Regina, North West Territories.

Mrs. John Symons of Owensgo, N.Y., is visiting friends here.

Mr. John J. B. Flint, police magistrate, will leave shortly on a trip to Manitoba.

Messrs. W. Magrath and Phil. P. Canniff left today by motor car for Toronto where they will attend the Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pettly will leave shortly for Philadelphia, Pa., where they will spend the winter with their son.

Breakfast at School

(From a Report by the Norwegian National Nutrition Council, Oslo, Norway)

When children start school, they also enter a very important period of growth and physical development. Between the ages of eight and 15, the weight of most children is doubled and their height increased by 25 percent. The foods eaten during this period is one of the most important factors influencing the health of the child. The correct diet is not evaluated in terms of calories, but rather by the means eating the right proportions. Many mistakes are made when one knows what to choose. It is this principle which forms the basis of the Oslo breakfast.

The first free school meals were given to children from poor families. These children received lunches consisting of soup, meat, fish, and other cooked food, as hot meals were supposed to be particularly nourishing. However, Professor Carl Schiotz of Oslo University, was of another opinion. He maintained that the children should benefit more from a meal of sandwiches, fruit, and raw vegetables. Such a meal, the professor claimed, contained vitamins and minerals than the hot school lunches and was more effective in stimulating the action of the teeth and jaws. This opinion was confirmed by practical tests at some of Oslo schools and in 1926, Oslo breakfasts became a part of the general plan for promoting the health of children of all social levels.

N! all municipalities found it economically possible to provide free school breakfasts. A plan known as the "Sigdal System" was adopted — the children brought their own Oslo Breakfasts with them to school, where a common meal was arranged under the supervision of the teacher.

Many associations and private groups worked to promote the introduction of the Oslo Breakfast, either by meeting the costs or by providing some of the foods required.

The Oslo Breakfast is intended to provide the child with a sound basis for study the day. The plan also intended to teach this same child the importance of choosing the right foods.

The easiest way to introduce the Oslo Breakfast is for the school administration to sponsor and finance the meal and serve it to classes by children. Many Norwegian cities as well as some of the larger rural communities have adopted this plan. This where this is not possible, other ways must be found. The Oslo Breakfast system is a workable solution, providing the principles of nutrition are sufficiently interested. The Norwegian National Nutrition Council strongly encourages the idea of co-operation between home and school.

Whether the meal is completely free or arranged in co-operation with the parents, it is always served as a common meal and according to certain rules:

If there is no dining room, classrooms are aired, children wash their hands and sit down to an unhurried meal. The quantities are calculated for the smaller children and one quarter of an hour for older ones. In the rural districts where the children eat something at home before they start on their road o school, the Oslo Breakfast is usually served in the middle of the school day. However, there is no loss of recess time.

The children are never compelled to eat anything they do not like. Some children, for instance, may have a well-founded reason for disliking hardtack, perhaps because of changing teeth, toothache, etc. Children unable to drink all their milk, for example may have their quota reduced.

The meal is usually begun with an orange (if available) and a piece of hardtack. Sandwiches follow and are served with milk. Cod liver oil is taken between courses. A piece of rutabaga, carrot or apple finishes the meal for the purpose of cleaning the teeth.

How Fast are Fish?

(By David Cranston, condensed from Salmon and Trout Magazine, London, England)

Fishermen frequently fall into the error of overestimating the speeds of fish. The reel screams out its line, the captive struggles mightily and plays cunningly, and all the time appears to swim about faster than is actually the case. Nevertheless there are many kinds of fish which are built for good speed, even when not hooked, and the whole subject of fish speed is fascinating.

To begin with, no creatures are such masters of their natural element as are fish — not even birds, with their apparently effortless soaring and gliding. A fish can remain motionless for as long as it likes; it can move forwards or backwards at an imperceptible degree; it can sport forward from breath at high speed; it can go up or down with supreme ease.

Furthermore, the shape of a fish is ideal for swift, almost noiseless, and long-distance streamlining is perfect, as man recognizes when he makes submarines and aeroplanes. Even the "organ of propulsion" with streams of water ejected vertically downward under the gills, the molded body shape, the bullet-head, the flat-sectioned surfaced inset eyes, the scales and the tapering rear quarters are all admirable aids to effortless progress through the water.

The resistance of water, by the way, is something like 700 times that of air, so the really high speed achieved by fish are little short of miraculous.

It was formerly thought that the fin, particularly the fin nearest the tail, and the tail itself, were the sole means of locomotion, but experiments have demonstrated that without tail or fins is far from helpless. The chief purpose of the tail section is through the rippling undulation of the fish's body, aided by the streams of water from the gills.

The other organs are useful as steering devices, balancers, brakes, and aids to sudden movement, while the streamlined shape of the fish, a kind of sac containing gas and fat known as the swim bladder, a sort of hydrostatic lifebuoy, adjusting the specific gravity according to the degree of water pressure at varying depths. Thus a fish can move quickly up or down in the water without experiencing any discomfort at the sudden changes in external pressure.

Both shape and tail formation of fish are good guides to their powers of speed. The fastest fish have long, cigar - shaped bodies, and broad rather than deep bodies. A fish with short, high laterally-compressed bodies (the perch shape, as opposed to the pike shape) are slower-moving.

It is exceptionally difficult to get reliable proof of fish speeds, for there are many obstacles in the way of clocking underwater movements — some of which may be startling when one has any degree of accuracy. Fish speeds have been measured by a number of devices; by stop-watch; by "fish-o-meter" attached to a rod to register the speed at which the line is run out; but a device in which fish are harnessed to a sled to record which, unwinds over a large pulley, activating a sensitive relay device recently revolutionized the film of swimming fish and worked out their speeds by measurement of the varying positions on each frame of the film. The film of fish swimming fish from the known speed of a ship which it passes in a recorded time, and by measuring the speed of the current in a natural stream where the exact minimum speed a fish must achieve to make headway against it.

A French scientist, Prof. A. Magnan, using the third device mentioned above, has done a lot in this field, but most of his findings relate to the normal speeds of fish, rather than to their absolute maximum speeds. He found pike, dog fish, salmon, mackerel, herring, and blue shark to be among fish with the fastest typical speed. Some speeds he recorded are almost 11 miles per hour; tunny, 14 mph; and blue shark, 24 mph. All of these are normal, rather than emergency speeds.

Salmon have attracted more speed investigators than any other fish, and French expert who coaxed fish along a specially built track in the River Vienne found the salmon can leap from the track at about 15 mph. The highest recorded speed for a salmon is 25 mph, though there is nothing I can do about it that readers have great scientific ily if they communicate their likes or dislikes to editor of publisher.

Today I received a most encouraging letter from a lady in somewhere in North America, she doesn't say where. However she says she was much impressed by the piece in this column Saturday, July 16, titled "Rheumatic Isn't Funny?"

I tried to make readers understand that I use the name rheumatic not fascitously but as the most appropriate name I can apply to physical degeneration of joint tissue. That's what I believe most joint disability of gradual onset and (over a period of years) standing is. I believe it is stupid or dishonest to call almost any chronic joint disability "arthritis" and waste time and money on the endless succession of proprietary drugs which the trick specialists and "clinic" racketeers exhibit in such cases.

In the piece I said:
Any real inflammation which may occur in the course of physical degeneration is incidental, and in any case cold, dampness, sudden changes, insufficient clothing and all that old hokum bunkem has nothing whatever to do with the trouble.

Doctors and folks are techy. . . the very idea that one is degenerating is offensive.

I'd never mention it (degeneration) at all if I were not prepared to offer advice. . . retard the degeneration process or in some instances reverse the process. . . regeneration of joint tissues and cure of the rheumatism.

The lady says she is taking no medicine at present for her knee trouble. That takes aspirin only when she is going somewhere where she will have to be on her feet and do much walking. She enjoys my articles whenever they are printed and she accepts wholeheartedly my teachings about the absurdity of blaming the weather for one's aches and pains.

You poor benighted so-and-so's who think you know better than I do what ails you and what your everyday "exposure" have on wind and other parts of the body can't possibly realize how much satisfaction I get from such a letter.

TODAY'S TALK

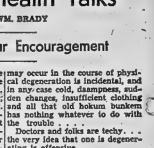
By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

FOR LOVE OF FRIENDS

There is a time in the life of us when friends become our greatest possession. That moment is beyond the price. They become our either self and our most intimate companions. And if we have many friends then we are rich indeed. These friends help grow upon us as we advance in years. A loyal and understanding friend has a living value far above all other precious things.

No one can go through this world so long as he has a friend. And what a joy it is to perform for a friend. To do the little things that mean so much. Even to be expendable for their sake at times. Sacrificing is a high quality among genuine friends.

Wendell Phillips once Nora Perry, the poetress, on the streets of Boston, and asked her where she was going. "To see a friend," was the reply. "Oh, take me with you," said Phillips. "I want to meet one." Friends are rare creatures, self alone.



THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

What television needs now is some good tough character to arise and smash it. Some critic reviews, TV management and put an end to some of the ridiculous "traditions" that already strangle the infant. Take the infant industry as we should have a dinner for the baby.

Most absurd of these is the accepted rule that when a quartet comes on the screen to sing, the singers have got to stand in a single around, snapping their fingers, wagging their heads. The hand has to have its members rise up and sit down again, in a highly formal and highly ridiculous series of ups and downs. If a solo singer is on the screen he also must wander around, the camera following, in front of backdrops as corny as those the old movie photographers used, along with curlylegged table and the inevitable chair for the customer to lean his elbow on while being crooned at.

It is easy to understand how this rule of moving about was born. It was born when the producer first inspired the directors of the old movie shorts, and which still inspire the amateur home movie maker. "Move! Do something!" Gives the home movie maker, as he starts his camera buzzing. And we directors at once begin waving our arms about, turning our heads and is grinning widely, poking one another in the ribs. This proves it is a nice audience. The client receives, of course, had to do the same thing.

When TV was born, the first movies, and to prove for a fact that the picture was alive, everybody had to wave. We should have got over that home movie impulse to have everybody doing something. It should have got over it months, maybe a couple of years ago. But in the panic, we are being treated to the same old "traditional" rules that were laid down by small stagecoach. If the stages are big, dancers like tiny cutouts forming patterns like those kaleidoscopes we used to get in Christmas bits of colored glass in them which, when turned, formed fantastic designs before the eye.

So TV moguls without enough imagination to see the next step in their own art keep crying "Movel Make it move!" So thequartets and the trios and what-not sing, and the soloists wander about against the cardboard backdrops, and their hands rise up and sit down, rise up and sit down.

PETTY THIEVES?

Here are some facts extremely disconcerting to any patriotic American—Hotel managers declare that on an average one towel per guest disappears from their hotels every year, and that about 40 per guest each week. Some hotels even report that 75 percent of their towels disappear. In the big cities, automobile sales agencies remove clear lighters from cars immediately upon their arrival because such equipment will surely be stolen if left in cars which are on display. It is said that millions of dollars' worth of goods is smuggled into the United States every year by professional smugglers but by people of prominence in their communities.

The people who take the hotel towels, etc., are not thieves—they are respectable. That means a matter of morals. They seem to have the idea that because they paid for a night's lodging they have bought such incidental articles as hand towels and soap. Perhaps so do these things are for the most part worth the price. But the principle and, on the whole, quite reasonable. But they fail to realize that principles of honesty apply equally to the little things of life and to the big things

However, the picture is not entirely dark. Yesterday I handed a man two five-dollar bills which had stuck together, believing I was handing him only one. He discovered the mistake and handed one back to me.

Power Resources Meet Needs Until End of 1962

GALT (CP) — Power resources now under construction will meet the requirements of Ontario only until about 1962.

Richard L. Hearn, chairman of the Ontario Hydro Electric Commission said Thursday night.

Addressing a meeting of the Galt Board of Trade, he said Hydro now is faced with the task of planning fu. new sources of power to meet the demands beyond that time.

"With regard to future development, we now are at the crossroads for after the St. Lawrence power project we are left without any major undeveloped hydro-electric sites to meet the expected power demands."

However, after two years study of the problem, "We believe the alternative source of power will be the application of nuclear reaction to produce heat and thus steam for conventional turbo-generators."

"Ontario is fortunately blessed with a large percentage of Canada's presently known uranium ore deposits, necessary fuel for a nuclear reactor, and for the first time we have an alternative natural resource to help power our future developments."

Watchman Found

NORTH BAY (CP) — Search parties Thursday found George Bucknell, 45, North Bay locomotive watchman lost in dense bush 12 miles north of here since Tuesday.

A police radio message said Mr. Bucknell is in good shape considering the 50 hours he has spent in the bush. Temperature both nights dropped to near freezing.

He is being brought out to the highway by jeep, police said.

ST. CATHARINES (CP)—Plans for construction of a $1,300,000 joint St. Catharines-Lincoln county home for the aged were announced Thursday. The provincial government will pay half the cost of the 225-bed home, to replace a 63-year-old, 59-bed structure.

which operates 327 coaches in Vancouver—largest fleet in Canada—and gas buses in Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster, has spent $20,000,000 in transit improvements since the war.

In Regina, the last streetcar was replaced by a trolley coach in 1950 and buses took over in Brandon in 1922.

The switch to buses in Quebec City started in 1938, was interrupted by the war and was completed in 1946.

Streetcars have never been used in Prince Edward Island. The only New Brunswick city ever to employ them was Saint John where they gave way to buses in 1948.

Streetcars disappeared from St John's, Nfld, in 1949 when buses were bought, mainly because they are easier to negotiate over the city's steep hills.

900-Room Hotel Is Certainty For Toronto

TORONTO (CP) — A $9,500,000 hotel, the Lord Simcoe, is to be built in downtown Toronto, it was announced Thursday.

The 18-storey, 900-room structure will be on the northeast corner of University avenue and King street west and is to be financed entirely by Canadian capital, largely contributed by Toronto and Montreal interests.

Construction of the first major hotel to be built here in 25 years will start soon, probably by Nov. 1. Target date for completion of the hotel, which will be Toronto's second largest, is early in 1957.

The city's largest hotel is the 1,200-room Royal York, opened in June, 1929. It is the biggest hotel in the Commonwealth.

Operators of the Lord Simcoe will be National Management Limited of Montreal, headed by John C. Udd of Brockville, who has been identified with Canadian hotel construction and management for more than 25 years and who also is well known as a mining executive.

LIKE UN BUILDING

The hotel will be an aluminum-and-glass structure, similar in design to the United Nations Building in New York. Facilities will include a drive-in registration desk and underground parking for 200 automobiles.

Mayor Nathan Phillips, announcing the project at a press conference, said:

"This will help make for a greater Toronto and will not take business away from the existing hotels. It has long been need. It augurs well for the future of Toronto as a great convention centre, the greatest in Canada, and it will enable Toronto to run from 15 to 20 conventions at the same time."

Also announced Thursday were plans for a new international air depot directly opposite the new hotel on King street. R. E. Strauss, president of the Atlas Hotel Co. Ltd., said he became owner today of a block between York street and University avenue and that Principal Investments Ltd., has acquired possession of the property to build the depot.

It will house offices of airlines agencies, now scattered throughout the city. It will provide facilities similar to air terminals in Montreal, Chicago, New York and London.

The Metropole Hotel, situated alongside the sites of the two other projects, will undergo an ambitious program of rehabilitation.

The multi-million dollar projects will transform the University avenue, King street, and York street area.

The Lord Simcoe, to be built on the north side of King street, will face on University avenue.

ELECT CEA HEAD

QUEBEC (CP) — A. McCallum, deputy minister of education in Saskatchewan, Thursday was elected president of the Canadian Education Association.

Death Accident

ST. CATHARINES (CP)—An inquest jury Thursday declared accidental the death of Ian Murray of Toronto, 21-year-old CBC television cameraman, at last month's eighth world scout jamboree at Niagara-on-the-Lake.

Mr. Murray, of Toronto, died aug. 21 of a fractured skull when he fell from an elevated bucket at the rear of a Hydro truck. Evidence was that a chain fitting holding the bucket gave way, allowing the bucket to dip.

ENGAGEMENT NOTICE

The engagement is announced of Mary Bernice Brennan, Reg.N., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clare Brennan, Merrsville, Ontario, to Ira Gerald Bradley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Bradley, Petrolia, Borough, Ontario. Marriage will take place on Saturday, October 1, 1955, at St. Peter's Cathedral, Peterborough.

Weddings

DOYLE—HUGHES

White gladioli at the altar, and pedestal gladioli standards made a lovely setting in the Church of St. Mary Magdalene, Napanee, at seven o'clock, Saturday evening, September 3, for the marriage of Beatrice Louise Hughes, daughter of Mrs. Ethel Hughes, Napanee, and the late Frank G. Hughes, and Clayton Clayton Doyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Doyle of Napanee. Rev. W. L. Simmons officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. W. K. Houston played traditional wedding music.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Maurice O. Turney, the bride looked radiant in her lovely strapless gown of fine white nylon net over satin. Her jacket was fashioned of Chantilly lace with long sleeves ending in points over her hands and the full bouffant skirt had sequin appliques. Her full length veil of nylon illusion was gathered into a white satin headpiece with a matching band of seed pearls and she carried red roses.

The bride's attendants were Miss Earlon Loucks and Miss Sharon Tierney of Napanee. Miss Loucks, as bridesmaid, wore a ballerina length, strapless gown of pink nylon net over taffeta, with pink net stole and headdress to match, and carried a mixture of 'mums and roses.

Miss Tierney, as flower girl, was attired in pale blue nylon with velvet ribbon trim. Her headdress was of yellow roses, and she carried a nosegay of yellow roses and white 'mums.

Walter Doyle, brother of the groom, was groomsman, and ushers were Maurice McCracken of Selby, and James Miller, of Belleville.

A reception followed in the Sunday school room, which was tastefully decorated for the occasion. The bride's table was centred with the three-tiered wedding cake, under pink and white streamers and wedding bells.

Mrs. E. Hughes, who assisted in receiving the guests, wore a gown of blue tissue nylon and a corsage of pink roses. Her accessories were black. Mrs. Doyle chose a gown of navy sheer, with a corsage of yellow roses, and navy accessories.

For travelling to Algonquin Park, the bride donned a figured beige corded silk gown, with brown accessories, and a corsage of bronze and yellow baby 'mums.

After their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle will reside on Bridge Street, in Napanee.

Out-of-town guests were present from Toronto, Belleville, Bath, Selby and Napanee district.

KIRBY—FARRELL

Before altars adorned with blooms of mixed gladioli in the Church of the Assumption, Carlisle, at 10 a.m., on Saturday, September 3, Mary Teresa Farrell of Carlsbank, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Farrell, became the bride of Gerald Francis Kirby, of Ivanhoe, son of Mr. Michael Kirby and the late Mrs. Kirby. The Rev. F. C. Whalen, uncle of the bride, officiated.

The wedding music was rendered by Mr. Ambrose Kidd at the console of the organ, who accompanied the soloist, Mr. Ronnie Cassidy.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in her bridal gown of white lace over satin, fashioned with molded bodice with matching lace jacket having long, pointed sleeves. The bouffant skirt was accented by a deep hemline of tiered net. Her veil of nylon illusion was caught to a heart-shaped matching headdress studded with seed pearls and sequins and she carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis and trailing ivy.

Miss Margaret Farrell of Kingston, sister of the bride, as maid of honour, was attired in a ballerina length gown of white lace over coral taffeta, with tiers of coral net accenting the hemline. She wore a matching feather headdress, and carried a cascade of coral and turquoise Shasta mums.

Miss Anne Gabourie of Tweed, was a pretty little flower girl dressed in a floor-length dress of white net with full tiered skirt and matching headdress. She carried a nosegay of coral and turquoise pom.

Mr. John Kirby of Ivanhoe, attended the bridegroom, while Mr. Joseph O'Neill of Erinsville, and Mr. Daniel McAvoy of Ivanhoe, acted as ushers.

Following the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served in Erinsville parish hall, where the guests were received by the bride's mother, and the bridegroom's sister, both of whom were charmingly attired for the occasion.

For the wedding trip to Montreal, Quebec and St. Anne de Beaupre the bride chose a navy silk taffeta dress with pink and navy accessories and corsage of pink carnations. Mr. and Mrs. Kirby will reside in Ivanhoe.

Guests were present from Toronto, Ivanhoe, Belleville, Read and Eldorado.

Harmony Lodge Initiates For Quintenas

Fortunate indeed were the Quintena Sisters and Brothers of Belleville Rebekah Lodge No. 133 to have the Sisters of Harmony Lodge, Gananoque, and their assisting Brothers on Tuesday night to exemplify the Rebekah degree to Quintena's two initiates, Mrs. D. Tugnette and Mrs. M. Stevenson.

Each lodge has its own special gift in presenting the inspiring initiation ceremony and Gananoque, under the leadership of its Noble Grand, Sister G. Cunningham and her capable Staff Captain, Sister G. Lloyd, was no exception. Charges were clear and concise, floorwork graceful and precise while Harmony personified its name in the harmonious accord of its soloists and choir, lending due reverence to this solemn and thought-provoking occasion.

INITIATION TEAM

Sister Cunningham was introduced as Noble Grand, Sister Tyrant, V.G., by Sister B. Boldrick, P.N.G., while Sister Harwood presented Sister Lloyd to Quintena and her guest members from sister lodges. Quintena's own Noble Grand, Sister Mary Plumpton, assisted by her Vice Grand, Sister June Carruthers, presented each of these officers with beautiful corsages.

During the evening, Rebekah sisters and brothers had also the pleasure of being introduced to Sister Irene Aman, Deputy Associate President of L.A.P.M., by Sister K. Miller, P.N.G.

After lodge, a delightful repast was served in the upper hall by the convening sisters of the month, who had also tastefully decorated both halls with autumn flowers from the sisters' own gardens.

Good words of well-wishing were heard from Sisters Cunningham, Tyrant and Lloyd, while Sister Plumpton, Sister Duffy of Stirling, and Sister Aman gave parts and commendation to the work of the evening and enjoined success to all in the coming year.

Through Sisters Carruthers and Oliphant, Quintena presented a gift to Sister Cunningham for Harmony Lodge, in appreciation of the evening's favor.

All Sisters and Brothers left for home with the feeling of renewal of the strength that is Rebekahhood and Odd Fellowship.

Ivanhoe W.I. Hears Talk On 'Agriculture'

The September meeting of Ivanhoe W.I. was held recently at the home of Mrs. Gray Bowkett, with 16 members and eight visitors.

The meeting was opened by the president, Miss Agnes Gay.

All bills were ordered paid and the sick committees reported a number of cards sent.

The program opened with community singing followed by a reading by Edna Tanner, "Agriculture and Canadian Industries".

Mrs. Arthur Hassall favored with a solo "Light a Candle for the Altar", which was much appreciated.

GUEST SPEAKER

Mrs. Harry Benson introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Carl Clancy of Wellman's who gave an instructive talk on "Agriculture". She also showed pictures of her trip to California showing erosion of the soil and the petrified forests.

She was thanked for her interesting talk by Mrs. W. Donnan.

Mrs. Harry Benson gave a demonstration on "Arranging a Bouquet of Flowers", and Mrs. Helen Kirby conducted a contest.

Mrs. Cooke and her committee served the dainty refreshments and a social half hour followed.

SIGN TREATY

LONDON (Reuters)—The treasury announced the signing Thursday of a financial and trade agreement with Communist Bulgaria. The agreement, which lasts until 1957, provides for Bulgarian purchases in Britain next year worth about £2,500,000.

St. Mark's Lutheran W.A. Holds Meeting

St. Mark's Lutheran W.A. held their first fall seasonal meeting at the home of Mrs. M. Wodzak, Gordon Street, with 15 members being present.

The president; Mrs. Wilman extended a hearty welcome to all members for the fall season.

Each member listed at least two functions she would like to see realized in the near future.

Mrs. W. Calbury, treasurer, gave a complete financial report for the Sunday school and church.

Mrs. V. Breach, recording secretary for the W.A., will conduct Sunday school for the fall term. Miss L. Pukancik will be in charge of the nursery.

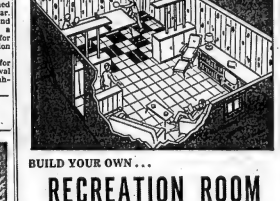
Mrs. Wodzak served refreshments at the conclusion of the meeting.

Any members wishing to participate in the auxiliary, please call any one of the following executive—Mrs. Carl Rolof, secretary; Mrs. W. Calbury, treasurer; Mrs. V. Breach, recording secretary or the president, Mrs. Cliff Wilman, Byron Street, Trenton.

Brides-to-Be Feted at Shower

Miss Isabelle Fox and Miss Maureen Adams of the Niagara Finance Company Limited, both October brides-to-be, were feted at a shower held in their honor by the women staff members of the Industrial Acceptances Corporation Limited, at the home of Miss Jean Edwards, Gordon Street on Tuesday evening.

The evening was spent playing the ever-popular games of court whist and scrabble. Winners were Miss Cathy Holway and Miss Isabelle Fox.



Miss Fox and Miss Adams each unwrapped many beautiful gifts for which they thanked their many friends.

Refreshments were served and all thanked Mrs. Edwards who so graciously opened her home for the occasion.

Prior to her resignation, Miss Fox was presented with a set of crystal by Mr. Donald King on behalf of the staff of Niagara Finance Company and Industrial Acceptance Corporation. Mr. King expressed his deep regret at the loss of such a conscientious employee.

Miss Adams will be leaving the company in the immediate future. Both brides will be greatly missed by their co-workers.

"WHERE BETTER FURNITURE IS NOT EXPENSIVE"

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEECHMAN

CONCERNING LETTER-DIRECTORY

Dear Mrs. Beechman:

What, in your opinion, is proper under the following circumstances? A secretary, married and living with the family over a period of many years, has been and still is on very friendly terms with her former employer and his wife, and been entertained by them in their home on many occasions. Now, in corresponding with them, should she address her letters to her former employer at his place of business, or should she address her letters to both "Mr. and Mrs." and send them to their home address?

HBJ

It would definitely not be proper for this secretary to address her letters to her former employer at his place of business. This would be most discourteous to the employer's wife, who has been such a good and abiding friend to her, has included her in such warm-hearted and intimate hospitality. She should address her letter to "Mr. and Mrs." (or to "Mrs." with reference to "Mr." in the body of the letter), and of course address her letters to the home address.

BOY WRITES SUGGESTIONS AND BUTTER LETTER TO FRIEND

Dear Mrs. Beechman:

1. My 15-year-old son has been invited to visit at the home of his boy friend's grandfather for several days soon. I have never met this very grand person, but yesterday I talked with him over the telephone when he called to ask my permission for my son to come to his home. My worry is what to do to show my appreciation. Should my son or I write a bread-and-butter letter? If so, would you please give me some suggestions about wording it? Also should a present be sent? If so, what would you suggest?

2. This grandfather lives out-of-town, and I do not know his address. His daughter, the mother of my boy's friend, lives near me, and although I have not met her we have talked together over the telephone. Would it be proper for me to telephone to her and ask her for her father's address?

1. The very best way to show appreciation for such special hospitality is for your son to write the very best bread-and-butter letter he can . . . and to write it at once after his return home. If the boy's grandmother is the hostess of the home, he writes his letter to her. If there is no hostess, then the letter is written to the grandfather, who extended the invitation. The first sentence should say enthusiastic thanks for the hospitality; for example, "I wish I had just the right words to say my thanks to you for your wonderful hospitality. You are so very kind and thoughtful to plan such good times for me, and I enjoy being with you all so much." Then he should say his thanks for special plans: swimming perhaps, or tennis, or hikes, or whatever sports were provided; parties or picnics or drives; meeting friends of the family; and, most important of all, his joy in being with his friend's "grand" grandfather. Convince your son that every enthusiastic word he writes to the host will be most welcome . . . he will want to know that he gave his grandson's friend a happy time!

You too should write a note of thanks for the cordial invitation and wonderful hospitality given your son, say how thrilled he has been with his accounts of the happy activities. A visitor-gift would be at all in keeping with the visit; you might think of something that would be a kind thought, perhaps several jars of super-excellent jam or jelly that is your proud specialty, or a special kind of delectable cookies or candy; or some flowers or a plant from your garden; or perhaps a carefully chosen book that you think would interest him (he may have talked with your son about a particular interest of his, and you may have a good book on this subject).

2. You can get from his friend the exact address of the grandfather, or, if necessary, you may telephone the boy's mother.

Readers' Friday Column

As Conducted by Mary Moore

QUESTION:

Do you have a recipe for stuffed peaches that are served with cold meats for buffets, etc.?—C. MacL.

ANSWER:

There are several ways to serve peaches stuffed, with meats. I will give you a few.

BROILED PEACHES

Place six peach halves that have been peeled and canned in a shallow pan. Sprinkle with sugar and dot with butter. (If desired place 1 teaspoon red tart jelly in each cup.) Broil until peaches are delicately brown-ed. Serve hot with meat—preferably ham or other pork.

STUFFED PEACHES

Mix very finely chopped celery and a tiny bit of chopped chive with white cream cheese. Fill hollows of peeled peach halves (or apricots or pears) with mixture formed into balls. Sprinkle with chopped almonds. If desired this may be topped with a little mayonnaise (especially when served on a salad plate).

STUFFED PEACHES NO. 2

Four large peach halves (canned) . . . Mayonnaise . . . Cream cheese, 1 tablespoon finely chopped celery, ¼ cup toasted slivered almonds, about 1-4 cup French dressing, tiny lettuce cups. Drain peaches. Mix cottage cheese, chives well. Fill peach centres. Sprinkle almonds over. Drizzle French dressing through stuffing and serve on lettuce cups.

QUESTION:

I read all your columns . . . the little extras about your family plans I enjoy enjoyed . . . could you find me a recipe for ripe tomato catsup . . . the kind bought in the stores is what I have in mind. We have lots of ripe tomatoes and if I could make a reasonable substitute it would certainly give the budget a help.—Elizabeth W.

ANSWER:

The catsup manufacturers have the advantage of pressure cookers to retain the red color brightly in their catsup, however the following is a very good catsup recipe that I hope you and your family will enjoy.

TOMATO CATSUP

Three and one-half quarts, washed, stemmed, sliced or quartered tomatoes, from 2 to 3 hot red peppers (if you want it "hot") or 5 red sweet peppers, 2 cups chopped onion, 2 large garlic cloves, 1 cup brown sugar, 2 cups white vinegar, 3 tablespoons mixed whole pickling spices tied in muslin bag. Cook together the tomatoes, peppers, onion and garlic until very tender then press through sieve. Add sugar, vinegar and spice bag to tomato pulp and boil vigorously for about 45 minutes until of catsup consistency—remember it will thicken a little more when cold. Pour into sterile hot jars or bottles and seal.

QUESTION:

Would you please send me a recipe for apple julee also apple cider. . . as soon as possible.—Mrs. Ed. T.

ANSWER:

A satisfactory home process for apple juice has not been worked out yet. It is an extremely complicated process—the clarification and retention of flavor being the difficult steps. I could give you the manufacturers' method but it runs into pages. It appeared in "Food in Canada" May 1945. Apple cider is made in a cider press by grinding the clean apples, then pressing out the juice. You must have a cider press for this and these may be bought at farm supply wholesales. I am sorry that I cannot answer you more satisfactorily but you have asked for something that cannot be made with average home equipment.

NEW LIPSTICKS FEATURE STAYING POWER

A whole evening "on the town" and her lips are as perfectly made up as they were when she started out.

There's hardly a woman in the world who'd think of going out without first having applied lipstick to her pretty mouth. She'd feel positively undressed without it. And yet, as we all know, it happens too often that, having left home perfectly made-up, the average woman is often shocked to find just a couple of hours later the lipstick she so carefully applied, has come off or smeared or changed color. Which is probably one of the reasons women are constantly whipping out their mirrors in public places — much to the consternation of their masculine escorts.

A couple of cosmeticians have come to the rescue, however. One with a lipstick which, according to its manufacturers, is guaranteed to remain on twenty-four hours. The other with one which will not fade or darken under different lights. Both of these attributes are bound to appeal to the women who has experimented and experimented and still hasn't found the lipstick which, to her estimation, has the right staying powers.

The 24-hour type lipstick is based on a French formula and it contains a special emollient that makes it lubricating and keeps the lips all the time you are wearing it in perfect shape. It leaves no gloss about dry lips. According to the cosmetician who perfected it, you can eat, smoke, drink and kiss your best beau with perfect assurance that no telltale marks are left on cups, glasses or cigarette ends and that your lips will look as lovely as ever afterward. Even after removing make-up with soap and water or cream, the lipstick is said to remain on so that you will wake up in the morning with color on your lips instead of looking "washed-out" and faded. In applying this lipstick no blotting is required but it does require 15-minutes to "set."

The other new lipstick on the market is one of a trio of products, which also includes make-up foundation and face powder so blended that they will not change color in any light. This is a great boon to those who carry different cosmetics for different times of day — a lipstick for daytime wear, another for evening occasions, etc. It is because these new cosmetics reflect light rays that they remain constant in color whether under the glaring rays of the sun, the harsh-ness of artificial light or the soft-ness o candlelight. At any rate, it seems as though the new lasting lipstick has finally arrived and, as most women will be the first to say: "Praise be!"

Fashion Flashes

Just the thing to point up a very smooth hair-do, come Fall, is a Davy Crockett chignon — of raccoon fur, of course!

A fresh appeal is offered by the fur-trimmed coat and suit via the use of cerise in the fur collar of Persian lamb on a cloth coat. Consider the charms of a bright red fleece coat with a high, round collar of Persian lamb dyed to tone, or an effect of coral, of softest fleece with a gold Persian lamb collar. Very different from the usual trim, isn't it?

Elegance goes inward as lingerie and foundation garments go in for lavish handling. For evidence, we cite a corselet in an ashes of roses shade with ecru lace overlay. Hand-painted floral pattern and seed pearls decorate the garters tabs. Silk satin, front and back, and sheer power net sides do the work.

Nothing casual about the handling of casual hats by one noted designer! To make things easier for the traveler he has designed big, beautiful casuals, soft and elegant, that pack beautifully. A typical offering is a dramatic, oversize cloche of soft gold beaver felt, the cloche brim nipped to a point in front. Narrow ribbon ties over with bow at side.

Practical luxury is nicely typified in the handknit dress or suit. Done in a lacy stitch, in a fine and wool mixture, in a long-torso dress with lacy knit circular skirt. Iridescent beads are knit in to the bodice, which has a wide V-at the shoulder neckline and bracelet-length, tight sleeves.

Little bits of fur lend rich appeal to new accessories. A scarf of chiffon in mink bordered, and there is a delightful duo of belt and collar in silver-blue or deep ranch mink. Also, there are little flowers of mink to pretty up a coat or jacket lapel.

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

ASK THE X ABOUT THIS, BETTY

Dear Beatrice Fairfax:

I would like to know how to get addresses of some boys in the service so that I could write to them.

Please send me some if you can.

Betty H.

Dear Betty:

Personally, I never think it is a very good idea to try and 'make' friends with strangers through the mails, especially when it is girls who want to write to boys they don't know.

However, I realize that some people feel differently about this, and that there are organizations which do supply names and addresses of boys in service. If the organization is a reputable one, it probably has information which would enable it to judge which names and addresses can appropriately be given out.

I suggest that you check with your local YMCA on this. They may have the names of some boys in your town to whom it would be suitable for you to write, and if they don't, they may know where you can get such names.

THERE'S ALWAYS THE CITY HALL

Dear Miss Fairfax:

My fiance is now in the army, and we plan to be married when his time of service is up, which will be soon.

We cannot be married in my church, as my fiance is not of the same faith as I am, and so I would like very much to have the ceremony out of doors in sort of garden setting.

Do you know of any such places and who would perform the ceremony under the circumstances?

Marlene C.

Dear Marlene:

If you have no garden of your own, perhaps some one of your friends has, and would be glad to make it possible for you to have your wedding there. Why don't you find out?

This, however, is, of course, a very small consideration compared to the other about which you ask; that is, who would perform the ceremony, since you think the pastor of your church could not do so.

Have you made quite sure of this? Possibly there might be some way of adjusting things so that your pastor could marry you, if not in the church building itself, then perhaps somewhere else. Have you discussed the matter with him, or are you just taking it for granted that it couldn't be done?

If you haven't discussed it, then I suggest you do so right away. If it proves to be definite that he will not marry you, then you might ask some other minister in your town to do so. And, of course — unless you insist on the garden setting — there's always the alternative of a civil marriage at your local City Hall.

I hope this may help you.

Senator Barber Ready to Retire

OTTAWA (CP)—Jack Reynolds, who for 35 years has clipped the heads of senators, cabinet ministers and governors-general, is planning to lay down his scissors and retire.

Senate barber since 1930, Mr. Reynolds started in the hair-cutting business 60 years ago in London, England, as an unpaid apprentice.

He worked his way up to the post of barber of the House of Commons at Westminster, but left three years later when the price of parliamentary haircuts was reduced from a shilling to sixpence.

One of his steady customers in London was the Duke of Devonshire, and Mr. Reynolds became his barber by appointment when the Duke came to Ottawa as governor-general in 1916.

Before becoming senate barber, Mr. Reynolds had a private practise in a small Ottawa shop, and doubled in brass as manager and coach to a number of athletic teams at local colleges.

Although he was hired particularly for the convenience of the senate, his clients in recent years have included Prime Minister St. Laurent and Mr. Justice Douglas Abbott of the Supreme Court, former finance minister.

Mr. Reynolds and his wife plan to move to Vancouver.

Foxboro

FOXBORO—Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Lott, Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mayo, Redonda Beach, Los Angeles, California, were week-end guests of the former's brother, Mr. Harry Lott.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Dafoe who were married on Wednesday.

Miss Mary Monigomery, Frankford, spent a few days last week with her brother, Mr. Ed. Monigomery and Mrs. Monigomery.

Friends of Mr. Percy Kilpatrick will be sorry to hear he is a patient in Belleville General Hospital following a severe heart attack. All wish him a speedy recovery.

Mrs. James Lake was a Sunday guest of Mrs. R. B. Hamilton and Clevton.

Mr. Charles Dafoe spent last week as guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Dafoe.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Thompson, Ivah and Melville, Moira, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Armstrong, Darlene.

The Rev. Darke was the guest speaker at Wellman's anniversary on Sunday.

Sympathy is extended to Miss Ruby and Morley Eggleton in the passing of their father on Monday at Belleville Hospital.

DEADLY WARNING

BLOCK ISLAND, R. I. (AP)—Two sea gulls, killed by a plane at Block Island airport, are serving to keep other sea gulls off the runway. Airport attendants staked out the birds, one on each side of the runway to keep live gulls away, and pilots are no longer bothered by the numerous birds in the vicinity.

Atomic Reactor Back in Service

CHALK RIVER (CP)—Canada's NRX atomic reactor here is back in operation after a seven-week shutdown.

W. J. Bennett, president of the Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd., announced today that chips of plutonium fuel which broke off inside the reactor tank have been removed and the tank repaired.

Empey Hill

EMPEY HILL — Rally day was observed at the United Church on Sunday morning with the superintendent, Morley Oliver in charge of the service. Mrs. Harold Winter read the story of how the first Sunday School was started.

The junior pupils of the S.S. occupied the choir loft and sang two numbers. The Robert Baikes diplomas and seals were presented to the pupils who had been present at 60 per cent of the school sessions. The Rev. John Renshaw gave a helpful address.

The community was saddened on Saturday evening to hear of the sudden passing of Mr. Arthur Sexsmith who died in Kingston General Hospital following an illness of one week's dugation. Deepest sympathy is extended to Mrs. Sexsmith and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Faul, of Belleville, were Tuesday evening supper guests of Mrs. C. Maricetis and Leonard.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Waddingham spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Manley Kimmett at Selby.

Sorry to report that Mr. Clayton Marisette is again a patient in Kingston General Hospital.

SHOWER

A large crowd attended the shower given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Morden (nee Roberta Allan), who were recently married at Empey Hill United Church. Round and square dancing were enjoyed to the music furnished by Messrs. R. Melbourne, W. Johnston, J. McCollough, and C. Akey. At the lunch hour Mrs. C. J. Akey read an address and Mrs. K. Waddingham presented the happy couple with a purse of money.

Marysville

MARYSVILLE — The Misses Flora and Agatha Murphy spent the week-end in Marysville.

Mr. Sammie Hunt, Belleville, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Wringe.

Many residents of the community attended the Mohawk Fair, on Saturday; ideal weather prevailed for the event.

The local hunters were busy over the week-end "trying" to get their quota of wild ducks.

Corn picking is now the order of the day. The Metcalfe canning factory, Deseronto, closes Thursday evening.

Sunday School Lesson:

Good Religion Makes Difference

By ROY L. SMITH

There is a popular saying, common on the lips of many, to the effect that "all religions are good, if you live up to them." But the simple truth is that all religions are not good. Some religions are very bad. But the cure for bad religion is not the repudiation of all religion. Rather, it is the substitution of good religion.

SAVED THE JEWS

Said Frederick the Great to his chaplain, "Sir! Show me a miracle, if you believe in God!" To which the chaplain replied, "My Lord, the Jew!"

There's your miracle! The only race that has come down to us from antiquity, surviving persecutions, pogroms, ghettoes and every known form of indignity. Saved by the things he believed —by the things that have made him different. In the meantime the Jews has placed all of civilization deeply in his debt because he has held true to good religion.

THE SABBATH

Occupying a central position in his faith has been the Sabbath—an institution he has passed on to Christianity. In the Ezekiel passage of this week's lesson we have an ancient statement of the doctrine that the observance of the Sabbath is the eternal link between God and His people. No race or nation can hope to survive the erosion of the centuries which does not hold some time, some things, and some possession in high reverence. In fact, the hope of a people rests with their power to revere those things that are holy and sacred.'

WORSHIP

Conspicuous in the life of the Jew was the emphasis he laid on worship. It is highly significant that in Nehemiah's day, when the nation was in the process of rebuilding, the people voted to lay upon themselves a universal poll tax, the proceeds of which were to assist in maintaining public worship. It was not a levy laid upon the people by their government, but an obligation they freely accepted and imposed upon themselves. A nation that does not worship does not survive. Even Soviet Russia is developing its ritual, already having its "scripture" (Das Kapital, somewhat neglected at times and revised at other times) and its missionary zeal.

STEWARDSHIP

Among the pagans it was a custom to offer the first fruits of the land—that portion of the crop which ripened first—to the gods, as an acknowledgment of their authority over the land. The ritual was taken over by the early Hebrews, and the first fruits offered to Jehovah who was the "Landlord of all the earth". Conspicuous in their theology was the doctrine that "the earth is the Lord's, and the fullness thereof." The payment of the tithe, and the offering of other gifts, was an acknowledgment of this ownership.

The Uniform Sunday school lesson for September 25: "Renewed Allegiance to the Law." Nehemiah 8; 9; 10:28-39; Ezekiel 20:19-20.

REDEMPTIVE STEWARDSHIP

A young man just getting a start in business found himself in a wretched dilemma with mounting bills, chaotic family finance, and domestic discord as a consequence. Then one day, under the inspiration of a sermon on tithing, he proposed to his wife that they give one-tenth of their income in spite of the fact that they were in debt. It was agreed. Very quickly they discovered that they had introduced a system into their financial affairs, and systematic management of their small income soon began paying dividends in the form of financial progress. At the end of the first year they had a clean slate, and at the end of two years a savings account. "The necessity of tithing systematically taught me the importance of system in the rest of my affairs," he says. Stewardship had saved a family and redeemed its affairs.

Labor Relations Lawyer Takes Crack at Unions

ST. CATHARINES (CP)—A leading labor relations lawyer said Thursday that some labor leaders, "motivated largely by a lust for power," are "attempting to undermine the present conciliation procedures" in labor disputes.

Norman L. Mathews of Toronto, special lecturer on labor relations at Osgoode Hall law school, said some of these "irresponsible union bosses seem recently to take an unholy delight in expressing their contempt for government - established boards of conciliation."

He said in an address to a service club here that the recent behavior of George Burt, Canadian director of the United Automobile Workers (CIO - CCL), during a board hearing, was "a studied attempt to sabotage the whole conciliation process and an obvious defiance of the laws of our province."

DURING GM TALKS

Mr. Burt led his team of negotiators from conciliation hearings several times during recent discussions on a dispute between UAW and General Motors Corporation of Canada.

The union leader said then that conciliation was useless and the company would only come to terms with the union under the threat of a strike.

Since then the board, headed by Judge J.C. Anderson, handed down a report making no recommendations on the dispute." A strike of 17,000 GM employees was called last Monday and the men, employed in five Ontario plants, still are out.

FAR OUTWEIGHED

Mr. Matthews said he felt there was a number of disadvantages to present conciliation procedures in Ontario but advantages far outweighed the handicaps.

"In the case of most responsible unions, I believe the same holds true. Many unions have secured justified concessions they would not otherwise have received through recommendations of conciliation boards.

"On the other hand there are some unions and some union leaders who are motivated largely by a lust for power, in many instances through the granting of high degrees of union security, they have become so powerful and arrogant, so adept at distortion of facts and rabble-rousing, that they have no regard for any person or for any law that stands in their pathway to conquest."

In Toronto, Mr. Burt commented on Mr. Mathews' address:

"What the UAW really has no regard for is lawyers who live off the avails of labor relations."

He continued: "Mr. Mathews is a big wheel in the Liberal party, isn't he? That probably explains his salaaming before the Conservative government of Ontario. To these political lawyers, as long as labor gets it, it doesn't matter what political party does it to them."

Argentina's New Government Promises Complete Freedom Will Be Granted Newspapers

By FRED L. STROZIER

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — The new revolutionary government that takes over power today has promised complete freedom of the press in Argentina.

Buenos Aires newspapers still are suffering from a strict censorship imposed by the military junta that assumed ruling powers when President Juan D. Peron fell Monday.

The censorship applies to all newspapers—the old controlled Peronista press and independent newspapers such as La Nacion and La Clarin. However, dispatches of correspondents are being cabled abroad without interference.

Every day this week newspapers have had to send proof sheets of their stories to the army ministry. The censor has eliminated large parts of some stories. In one case of nine columns submitted to the censor, four columns were eliminated. Editors said such a censorship has never been imposed here before in modern times.

Most Peronista afternoon papers failed to publish the day Peron fell. Now they are limited to one edition daily. Mostly they are coming out with four pages.

Their true ownership and how they came into control of Peron and his closest friends will be an interesting story when all the details become known.

The independent newspaper La Prensa was expropriated by Congress at Peron's behest in January 1951 and given to Peron's union followers of the General Confederation of Labor, which made a token payment of about 20,000,000 pesos ($1,300,000) for La Prensa. The paper yielded an average annual profit of more than $5,000,000.

It is taken for granted that one of the first acts of the revolutionary government will be to find legal means of returning La Prensa to its former owner, self-exiled Dr. Alberto Gainza Paz, now in New York.

Angry Farm Wife Fires at Pupils One Is Blinded

JAMESTOWN, Tenn. (AP) — A schoolboy was blinded in his right eye on his 15th birthday Thursday when an angry farm wife fired a shotgun into a truckload of youths because they shouted at her.

Sheriff Clayton Upchurch said three other York Institute students suffered minor injuries when struck by the shotgun pellets.

A Glasgow, Ky., doctor said Mrs. Pyle's eye was destroyed by one of several pellets which struck him in the head and neck.

The sheriff quoted Mrs. Harrison Holt, about 50, as saying the boys yelled to her as they passed going to a farm demonstration and again when they returned. Upchurch quoted her as saying she did not mean to harm anyone but "just to scare 'em."

Dr. Harold Robbins, teacher who was accompanying the boys, swore out four warrants against Mrs. Holt, charging her with felonious assault. She waived preliminary hearing and posted $4,000 bond pending grand jury action in January.

Pretty Girl 'Slickest Thief'

MONTREAL (CP) — A pretty girl with a timid manner was held by police who described her as "the slickest thief we've seen in years."

They said the 18-year-old girl, assisted by a "business manager," —robbed three north-end stores of more than $700 and may be involved in at least two other cases. She is scheduled to appear in court Friday. Police said she still was sought.

Police said the girl operated by obtaining jobs in the stores and then robbing the cash register just before closing time.

On seeking employment, she had given the telephone number of her "last employer." The telephone would be answered by her "business manager" who would describe her as "one of our best workers."

Mother Testifies She Recognized Her Son's Body

SUMNER, Miss. (AP) — Mrs. Mamie Bradley testified Thursday she positively identified her son's body when it arrived in Chicago for burial after being pulled from the Tallahatchie river.

"I looked at the face very carefully . . . I just looked at it very carefully," the 33-year-old mother said softly.

The state called Mrs. Bradley as its second witness today to bolster identification of he body as being Till's. The identification is a major point in the state's case against two white men accused of murdering the 14-year-old Negro boy. The defence is expected to contend the boy whistled or made off-color remarks at w hite woman.

Roy Bryant, 24-year-old storekeeper in nearby Money and his 36-year-old half-brother, J. W. Milam, are accused of murdering Negro lad and dumping his body into the river.

IDENTIFIES RING

Lawyers showed Mrs. Bradley a ring taken from the body after it came from the Tallahatchie river Aug. 31. She identified it as her son's ring.

The silver signet ring is vital in the state's attempt to prove the body in the river was young Till's.

The jury was sent out of the room while defence counsel questioned Mrs. Bradley about instructions she gave her son before he came to Mississippi.

"I told him that in coming down south that he would have to be careful at all time . . . to say 'yes, sir' and 'yes, m'am' at all times," she replied.

"I impressed it on him that he should be very careful," even to the point of kneeling in the dirt.

Circuit judge Curtis Swango, Jr., ruled the testimony about her coaching would not be presented to the jury.

Defendants in Sensational Murder Trial Will Not Testify

By SAM JOHNSON

SUMNER, Miss. (AP)—Mississippi's most sensational trial in years was expected today to go to a country jury deciding the fate of two white men accused of murdering a Chicago Negro boy.

Only character witnesses were scheduled during the day for 24-year-old Roy Bryant and his 36-year-old half-brother, John William Milam. Their counsel said the defendants probably would not testify.

They were accused of murdering Emmett Louis Till, 14-year-old Negro, and dumping his weighted body into the Tallahatchie river after, they claimed, the boy had "wolf whistled" at Bryant's wife.

The defence appeared confident this morning that the all-male, all-white jury would free Bryant and Milam—principally, they felt, as a result of testimony by three defence witnesses attacking the identification of the battered body as that of Till. All three said the body was bloated and decomposed.

STATE VOICES DOUBT

State attorneys privately voiced doubt that they would get a guilty verdict.

Acquittal, however, would not end the publicized case. Both Bryant and Milam are under indictment also for kidnapping in connection with Till's disappearance.

District attorney Gerald Chatham earlier said the two could not be tried for kidnapping at this term of circuit court. Next term is next spring.

The state rested its case Thursday after Mrs. Mamie Bradley, Till's widowed mother, cried as she looked at a picture of the body.

WOMAN'S TESTIMONY

Thursday Mrs. Carolyn Bryant, wife of the co-defendant, testified that a Negro with "a northern accent" came in and pulled the first one out of Bryant's store.

"I started out to go to the car for my pistol," Mrs. Bryant added. "He (the first Negro) was standing on the front porch of the store. He whistled."

Mrs. Bryant said she was alone during this incident, her husband having gone away on a business trip.

The defence did not ask Mrs. Bryant the identity of the molester and whistler. However, other witnesses placed Till in the store that night. Mrs. Bryant described

"This Negro man came into the store," said the 21-year-old mother of two children, "and stopped at the candy counter."

She said he ordered bubble gum. "I held out my right hand for some money. He caught my hand. I pulled away. He said, 'How about a date, baby?'"

She said the Negro used unprintable words which she refused to repeat, and concluded with "I've been with white women before."

Fewer Bees Causes Concern

TORONTO (CP) — An agricultural experts says current trend towards fewer Ontario beekeepers and fewer colonies of honey bees than in the past will reduce yield from all farm crops requiring pollination.

Prof. G. F. Townsend of the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph expressed the opinion Wednesday at a joint meeting of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, the Ontario Soil and Crop Improvement Association and the Ontario Beekeepers' Association.

The meeting was called by the federation of agriculture to consider a report by the beekeepers' association that changes in the methods and emphasis in farming endanger the beekeeping industry by cutting down on nectar-bearing crops.

The meeting endorsed resolutions calling for Ontario government support of an accelerated research program on nectar-bearing plants, a publicity program to make farmers aware of the importance of honey bees to their crop yields, and an appeal to the federation to consider at its annual meeting in November the beekeepers' problems.

Another resolution asked that all Ontario farmers consider planting one to five acres of nectar-bearing plants such as clover.

Bobcats Win 'AA' Championship With 13-8 Victory Over Madoc

By GARRY ALEXANDER

The Belleville Bobcats captured the Labatt Trophy and the city and district softball league "AA" title last night by whipping Madoc 13-8 in a weird seven-inning sudden death contest in Madoc.

Home runs, errors, misjudged balls, couple of excellent fielding plays and some fine hurling by Vic Allan was witnessed by only seven fans in hockey-cold weather.

Bobcats took command from the opening pitch. With two runs in the first, six in the third, one in the fourth and another four in the fifth. Madoc netted all their markers in the fifth when they gathered three of their four safeties.

Big Vic Allan gathered the victory, hurling the initial six frames. He was working on a one-hit shutout until the sixth when he lost control and his mates bobbled twice to lead to Madoc's tallies. Allan fanned six while passing nine, five in the sixth. Skip Dracup fired the final frame, allowing two runners, both on walks, while whiffing a pair.

Bob Schofield started for Madoc, lasting five frames and surrendering all the winner's runs on nine hits. He fanned one and walked seven. Wayne Shaw threw hitless ball for the sixth and seventh, fanning three and passing none. Ten Madoc errors did little to aid the hurlers, first-sacker Johnson committing five of them.

Dave Lockyer accounted for the winner's first-frame markers, following Dunsbury's walk with a lined homer to deep centre field. The third was a nightmare with eleven men batting as Madoc erred three times, two men walked and Ross Empey blasted a three-run homer over Carswell's head in centre. Gord Donovan and Harry Wardhaugh chipped in singles.

Successive singles by Empey, Temple and Wardhaugh netted another in the fourth while four errors, two walks and Lockyer's two-bagger sent their final four across in the fifth.

Meanwhile Vic Allan threw fine ball, allowing only a popped-bunt single in the fourth. He seemed to tire in the sixth and walked three men with two down. Whitehead was singled for one run, a walk forced in another and Donovan dropped a fly for two more. John son singled home another and Ernie Carswell slammed a long homer to right for the 13-8 score. Another base-on-balls and an error put two more on before Hatch grounded out to end the rally.

Dave Lockyer with a homer and double and Ross Empey with a home run and single paced the victor's attack. Harry Wardhaugh and Bob Temple each contributed a brace of singles with Gord Donovan getting one. Carswell's homer was the big Madoc blow with singles for Tufts, Whiteman and Johnson.

Lineups — Bobcats Duesbury, Donovan, Lockyer, Bone, Dracup and Empey, Temple, Wardhaugh, Hunter, Allan, Dracup.

Madoc — Whiteman, Nickle, Schofield, Johnson, Carswell, Hagerman, Shaw, Hatch, Tufts.

Quick Chief Wins $66,000 'Little Brown Jug'

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—Quick Chief, classy black colt expertly piloted by Billy Haughton, Thursday took the 10th annual $66,000.66 Little Brown Jug in easy fashion, defeating 16 of the nation's nifitiest three-year-old pacers.

The victor needed only 4:00 3-5 minutes to pick up the $24,645.24 first money as he toured the Delaware County Fair half-mile track in 2:00 1-5 and 2:00 2-5 in the divided races.

Dottie's Pick, bay filly owned by J. E. and E. C. Armstrong of Brampton, Ont., came up with the big surprise as she defeated favored Meadow Ace by a half-length in the first heat of the second division in two minutes flat, a world record for her sex and age, and matching the best any three-year-old colt has ever done.

ALL QUICK CHIEF

But in the payoff heat, with the fice leaders in the first two competing, it was all Quick Chief. The pride of the Farmstead Acres of Brookville, N.Y., took the lead at the one-eighth pole and made every post a winning one as he came in three lengths ahead of Dottie's Pick after staving off challenges from several others.

Here's how they split the big purse: with their finishes in the two heats in which each competed:

Quick Chief (1-1) $24,645.24; Dottie's Pick (1-2) $12,987.74; Meadow Ace (2-7) $44,955.66.

Quick Chief's victory gave him a dozen heat wins in 17 starts this year, boosted his 1955 earnings to $80,603.24 and his lifetime salary to $115,770, a neat return on the $5,500 the Farmstead Stables paid for him at the yearling sales.

ATERLOO vs. POINT ANNE

The district sports classic of the week is the opening of the tussle of the OASA Industrial Intermediate series which gets under way at Point Anne tomorrow afternoon starting at 4 p.m. The Ox Pointers still smarting from that three-ply defeat at the hands of the city Orlons in the league title tar series will be a-running for Waterloo Seagrams softball blood.

The game inaugurates the new industrial series in which only employees of sponsoring plants may play. The Ox Pointers have been bridesmaids all season at the hands of various clubs and tomorrow they hope to take the first step towards a bridal robe. The Seagrams defeated a Toronto club in the semi-finals and should be some punkins. Manager Bob Temple of the Bobcats, told this department he would not play the second game of his "AA" titular series on Saturday so the boys could go down the line and support the Point. And by that token the Point crew could do with a big spot of box office support. The game should be a thriller.

ECOND BEST IS GOOD

"One of the best heavyweight fights I have ever seen—and I haven't missed many," said Harry Robinson, Belleville's No. One fight fan and not a bad scrapper himself in his younger days.

Harry viewed the biz scrap from the fourth row back in Toronto's Loew's theatre after paying a tab of five bucks. "It was worth it," grinned the happy Harry, "and believe me again, I'll never see another fight on a home television screen if I cannot see the real thing. This theatre stuff is the cat's whiskers and that is where you'll see Harry next time."

Harry lives, breathes and dreams boxing. That is when he is not mentally perturbed over his bowling prowess. He has seen the last fifteen or twenty heavyweight champion scraps "live" and Wednesday's bout was the first he has missed since away back when.

The former railroader-bowler-boxer is all agog over the startical production of television fights. Next to an actual ringside seat one can see the "whites of their eyes" when they're not discolored. Theatre TV is the real McCoy, according to Harry.

"The fighters come out life-size on the huge screen," he said, "and it's almost like being ringside. You can almost hear 'em breathe and the thud of leather on flesh is plainly audible as well as visible."

"Besides," quipped Harry, "you can eat popcorn to your heart's content and the guy alongside is not as liable to plunk your hat down over your eyes as he is near the actual ring. The theatre was crowded." Harry added. He predicts theatre television will spread over Canada, "and if it does," he said, "tell the boys to be sure and not miss it.- Leave the drawing room sci for soap operas, westerns and Arthur Godfrey's survivors."

OM TAKES OVER

Tom Pappas, managerial box-man of the Recreation Bowling Alleys for the past two or three years, has now assumed full control of the Bridge Street emporium of spares and strikes. The likeable Tom who has a smile for everybody took over the trig responsibility on September 15 on a rental basis and agreement with the owners.

Tom enjoys a well-deserved popularity with bowlers and league officials of a number of city organizations, not to mention a large circle of friends outside the kegling sphere. He is gentlemanly and courteous in all his dealings with the public and this is evidenced in the fact that not a few bowling leagues leave "repeat orders" with Tom season after season. Quite a few more nose have decided to spend their bowling recreation hours at the Pappas Alleys this season.

The season has just got under way and it looks like a busy one for Tom and his Recreation Alleys. Just the same anyone desiring to bowl, or if any leagues want accommodation, better see Tom. He'll try to arrange time and space some way or another.

Speaking of bowling, the attention of all league secretaries is again drawn to the fact that bowling scores will be published in this newspaper on Tuesdays and Fridays. Scores and other copy should be submitted as soon as possible after games are played.

NE TIME

One afternoon some years ago the Chicago Cubs were hooked up in a bitter game with the Pittsburgh Pirates. Paul Waner, the Pirates' star outfielder, had shown up with a first class hangover as the result of a brass rail spree during the night. And in his first four times at bat Waner wasn't able to get a loud foul. On his fifth trip just as Charlie Grimm, the Chicago manager, was relaxing, Paul blasted a triple to deep centre.

As the Pittsburgh outfielder slid into third base, Grimm rushed from the Cubs' dugout, kicked dust in Waner's face and shouted:

"You little so-and-so. This is a fine time to sober up."

No matter how good a customer you've been in the past the answer is the same—NO CREDIT!"

Yankees Will Tour Japan

TOKYO (AP)—New York Yankees will play five popular Japanese professional baseball teams and picked teams from 16 other Japanese clubs in their October-November tour of Japan, the Mainichi newspapers announced today.

Yankees are expected Oct. 26. They will play 17 games before they leave for Okinawa and Manila Nov. 18.

Possible Foes Include Baker Valdes, Jackson, Patterson; Moore Return Bout Doubtful

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—Heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano will be back in action next June. Possible victims include Cuba's Nino Valdes, hulking Bob Baker of Pittsburgh, Hurricane Tommy Jackson of New York or Brooklyn's Floyd Patterson.

The Brockton Blaster, who earned half a million-dollars for his ninth-round knockout of Archie Moore in a spectacular brawl Wednesday night, has decided to go after a few more helpings.

It may not be as much as he earned with the colorful, cocky light-heavyweight boss but it figures to be plenty the way theatre television is advancing.

Moore, who was knocked down four times and had his right eye shut, said he wants another crack at the rock-ribbed, steel-jawed Marciano but it is doubtful if the return bout will be made. Too many people remember what happened to Ezzard Charles in his second fight with Rocky after their thrilling first bout.

NOT LIKELY CHOICE

The 29-year-old Patterson — an Olympic champion—doesn't seem a likely choice in the near future. Now the No. 1 contender for Archie's 175-pound crown, the fast-punching youngster is being groomed as a heavyweight threat for 1957.

Baker may be the next choice. Winner of seven straight, he earned a decision over Valdes, the 29-year-old 195-pounder has won ticketed for a title shot before Moore's clamor and his wins over Valdes and Carl (Bobo) Olson gave Archie his chance.

Valdes, another six - foot - three husky, zoomed back into the picture by stopping England's Don Cockell in Miami 14 months ago. The current streak includes two decisions over Ezzard Charles, who has never been the same since he went through the Marciano meat-grinder twice.

HIGH TV REVENUE

Marciano's share of the gross gate of $948,117, the estimated $1,240,000 theatre-TV revenue and the $35,000 radio fee, was $470,997. Moore will receive about $300,000.

Archie said he is eager to fight Marciano again. "If don't have to do it, because he knows he can make money with me."

Moore has an offer from British Jack Solomons to defend his 175-pound crown against England's Randy Turpin in London's Royal Court Jan. 16.

"It sounds good," said manager Charley Johnston, "but we'll have to see what the terms are. Archie can make a few other fights while he's over there."

Red Wings Cool Minneapolis 7-3 To Square Series

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Right hander Ellis Deal pitched Rochester Red Wings of the International League to a 7-3 victory over Minneapolis Millers of the American Association Thursday night to tie their best-of-seven fifths world series 1-1.

A top-coaled crowd of 7,565 saw Rochester break the Millers' post-season nine-game win streak.

Lower Jim Canada'ohn, a lefty, was nicked for three runs in the fourth when shortstop Ed Bressoud committed two costly errors.

Rochester broke th game open in the fifth when Jack Brand hammered a three-run homer and Stan Jok followed with a single, homer, both off reliefer Harry Nicholas.

Deal coasted to victory behind a 7-0 lead. A pair of doubles cost him a run in the sixth and Willie Rickland's two-run pinch homer in the seventh scored the Minneapolis scoring. Deal fanned six and walked four.

CIVIC APPRECIATION

The Management,
Belleville Skeletion.

May I express the deep appreciation of our citizens, to the citizens of Belleville, for the kindness and hospitality extended to the members and students of our Goderich Podgers Ball Team, on their recent visit to your City, to engage in combat for provincial honors. please convey our thanks to all concerned.

On September 24th, we are looking forward to meeting the young ladies and officials of your Skeletion, when they arrive here to continue the struggle for supremacy. May I assure you that arrangements are complete for their stay and comfort. We want them to stay overnight and return home on Sunday. The expenses of the players will be taken care of locally.

Yours sincerely,
John E. Hocking,
Mayor.

Ryder Having Special Trophy Made for Boy

TORONTO (CP) — Swimming coach Gus Ryder has a protege of whom he is prouder, he says, than of his own three Olympic champions.

He's so proud of 14-year-old Eddie Memberry from nearby Agincourt that he's having a special trophy made for him.

Eddie is a marathon swimmer with a difference—he can't use his legs. A poliomyelitis victim, he is paralyzed from the hips down.

Ryder's protege, who can't swim both ways across, Cook's bay, a three-mile inlet of Lake Simcoe just southwest of Barrie. Because of current changes Eddie actually swims eight miles in each direction.

The day before his feat, Eddie, unknown to his mother, had done the distance in one direction.

Eddie, a square-cut, thatch-chested boy, he can do a powerful arm stroke.

Able to walk only with two canes, he said:

"It's not very far, but I thought that if Marilyn Bell could swim Lake Ontario I could try to swim that bay."

He was accompanied by two boat-side mothers, Mrs. R. D. Memberry in one, and his sister, Glenda, 16, in the other.

Eddie checks out Gus Ryder's classes at Lakeshore swimming club. Ryder, the customs broker whose devotion to making crippled children self-reliant through sport is shared by Marilyn.

"He is a real champion. This is the kind of experience more important to me than an English Channel or Lake Ontario attempt."

Gus coached Marilyn to success both in Lake Ontario and the channel, and collapsed in exhaustion after coaching 24-year-old Cliff Lumsden of Toronto to victory in the Canadian National Exhibition's 32-mile marathon swim two weeks ago.

Eddie, whose other hobby is piano playing, returned to high school this year. He says he's going to keep up his swimming throughout the winter.

Riders Oust Argonaut Spies Mean, Unethical Trick--Coach

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Toronto Argonauts, who meet Ottawa Rough Riders in a Big Four football game at the nation's capital Saturday, sent along an added guard on Thursday night.

Ottawa coach Chan Caldwell promptly labelled it attempted espionage and warned of dire consequences if it happens again.

It seems Dick Shatto, on the Argo' inactive list because of injuries, casually sauntered in to observe the Ottawa squad at work on the practice field.

He was quickly recognized by Caldwell and his assistants who are from Tennessee, college football rival of the University of Kentucky where Shatto played.

Said Caldwell later: "I told him he had five minutes to pull up stakes." Shatto did.

Caldwell added: "I gave him a message for that Scotsbloe (Harry Vanshire, Argonaut team manager). Told him to report that I'd punch anyone we caught in a mean, unethical trick like that."

The Riders marched off the practice field and went into secret conclave.

If that same friendly spirit prevails Saturday, the Lansdowne fans may be in for some rugged entertainment.

The high - priced Argos, who looked set to three straight defeats, will be hungry for their second win in five starts. A victory over Ottawa would deadlock the two teams and produce a three-way tie if the leading Montreal Alouettes repeat their last week's shellacking of the Tiger-Cats in Hamilton.

In the Western Interprovincial Football Union Saturday, Edmonton Eskimos go to Calgary to defend their eight-game unbeaten streak against the Stampeders, who have managed to salvage only a pair.

Winnipeg Blue Bombers, who have two for eight, go against the Saskatchewan Roughriders at Regina. British Columbia Lions, who are like the Roughriders have won two are idle until Monday night.

The Ontario Rugby Football Union sees no action until Sunday, when Kitchener - Waterloo Dutchmen meet the winless Beaches at Toronto. A victory for the Dutchies would put them in the league lead, a game up on Sarnia Imperials.

Big Tex Coulter, completely recovered from a leg injury suffered in last week's game against Hamilton, will be back in the Alouettes' kicking slot when they head into Tiger-Cat territory.

Montreal coach Peahead Walker will have Jim Letford strengthened by Jim Staton, import offensive tackle earlier released but called back to take over from Al Makowiecki who has to sub for injured guard Ray Cicia.

Coach Carl Voyles, playing it cautious during the Hamilton workout Thursday night, had his squad avoid rough body contact. Both quarterbacks, Nobby Wirkowski and Carl Garrigus, handled the team alternately as Voyles sharpened his ground and air attack formations.

Attendance at Civic Stadium figures to be among the largest in years. Publicity director Dick Heaney said it might hit 18,000, close to the record of just over 19,000 set in 1952.

The Argonauts picked up a hopeful new backfielder Thursday but he won't be signed-in time for Saturday's game. Bill Clark, a six-foot, 209-pounder, came in for workouts after being cut by Detroit Lions of the National League. Coach Bill Swiacki will decide on his future after watching him work out for a while.

Yankees Can Clinch American League Flag With Victory Over Red Sox

Won't Need Triumph If Tigers Hand Indians Another Loss; World Series Starts Sept. 28

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

This is the day the New York Yankees can clinch the American League pennant and officially produce the Cleveland Indians to a state of frustration once again.

The Yankees, rumbling along on an eight-game winning streak, can claim their sixth flag with seven seasons with a victory in either the day or night portion of a double header at Boston. And they can do it without that should the Indians drop their afternoon game at Detroit.

If the Tribe, losing five of the last six, comes up with another clunker New York can lose all four of its remaining games and still hang up the bunting in the Yankee Stadium for the opening game of the world series against Brooklyn next Wednesday.

To get the job done, manager Casey Stengel has named Whitey Ford to face the Red Sox, who have lost seven in a row, in the afternoon game. Tommy Byrne (16-4) has the night game assignment. Frank Brewer (11-13) and Willard Nixon (12-9) were the Boston choices.

PICKS SCORES

Cleveland manager Al Lopez, still hoping for a miracle, has selected Early Wynn (19-10) to face Detroit's Frank Lary (14-14), the pitcher who hung one on the Tribe last weekend.

Even a victory doesn't figure to perk up the Indians' injuns, but at least it will give them a clinch of second place and some old pennants disappointment they suffered for three straight years before cracking the .500 layyear hole on the pennant last season.

Waiting in the wings is the club that dumped the Tribe, and Baltimore also figure in a tussle for finalboth leagues.

Senior B Club Named 'TPT's' Admission Prices Decreased

The Belleville senior "B" hockey club will be known as the "Belleville TPT's" for the 1955-56 season.

This name was decided upon at an enthusiastic meeting of the club executive held Monday night. The name was selected in deference to the management of the Toronto-Peterborough Transportation Co. which has offices in Belleville.

The Toronto-Peterborough Transportation Company through its manager, Mr. Ray Tanner, of Peterborough, has donated a four-figure cash donation and in addition two sets of sweaters and crests.

Another important piece of business on the agenda was the setting of admission prices for the coming season. It was the unanimous decision of the executive that a decrease from the price figures of last season was imperative.

GENERAL SEATS

Only the first three rows of seats in Memorial Arena will be reserved. Last season they were priced at $1.25. The new figure is $1.10. The dollar seat price of last season has been eliminated. Instead every seat in the arena regardless of position other than the first three rows will be sold at seventy-five cents.

These prices, however, apply only to scheduled games. Playoff figures will depend on the financial position of the club when that time rolls around.

Subscribers will be taxed $18 for their season tickets. Those holding subscriptions last year will be given the first choice of seats and the subscription sale will start at Bill Cook's Tobacco store on Monday. The following week the subscriber list will be thrown open to the general publish.

It was emphasized, however, that all subscriber dues must be paid before the first scheduled game. Potential purchasers can order seats and pay for them on the "instalment plan" but the full price must be paid prior to the opening game.

Regarding the player situation, the executive decided to continue negotiations with the Canadiens twins and Hub Macey, Macey is expected to report to the city at the first of the week. He is being regarded as a coaching possibility. Efforts are still being made to secure a topflight goalkeeper. Members of the player procurement committee will scout various playing centres on a subsequent trip.

The finance committee, under the chairmanship of Bill Bell sounded an optimistic note. It was stated that a number of firms and individuals have promised cash donations. The big one, of course, was that of the TPT. Chairman Bell requests that those desiring to donate cash contributions to the club send cheques to him at the "A" Company or secretary Drury Denyes at the city hall. Official receipts will be issued.

The club will travel by car and it was estimated by transportation chairman Bruce Bishop that five cars will be necessary for each trip. Those who wish to contribute the use of their vehicles are asked to contact Bruce. Some have already been secured and the cars will be used in rotation.

Jim Driscoll will have charge of the program and members of the executive will pitch in to help secure the necessary advertising.

It was stated that turnstiles will be installed in Memorial Arena prior to the opening game.

Arrangements are under way to bring the Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen, Canada's representatives at the Olympic hockey games and St. Michael's College junior "A" squad here for exhibition games. Manager "Red" Doran, who is conducting the negotiations said that prospects were good for the appearance of these outstanding clubs in Belleville.

The meeting was held under the chairmanship of club president Frank Grandame. A full turnout was present.

Kwong, Bright Lead Yard Race; Carpenter Tops

Performance records released today by league statistician Bill Hawryiak show that Kwong, with 650 yards rushing in eight games, could eclipse the league record if he keeps up the pace. The record 1,063 yards was set last season by Calgary Stampeders' Howard Wright.

Bright has 463 yards and only eight yards behind him are Calgary Al Pollard of British Columbia Lions, Gerry James and Leo Lewis of Winnipeg Blue Bombers have 435 and 383, respectively, and Edmonton's Earl Lindley follows with 380.

LEADS THE LEAGUE

Quarterback Frank Tripucka leads the league with a 60-per-cent completion record on 145 passes, nine of them going for touchdowns. Lions' Jacobs Cailla is thrown 20 more than Tripucka for a 58.7 record and leads in total yardage with 1,496160 more than Tripucka.

Willie Roberts of Calgary leads the pass-receivers with 567 yards gained on 37 passes, but his percentage straight, which stands at 25.6 is overtaken by Roughriders' Larry Isbell with 81 per cent on 13 passes and Ken Carpenter with 8 on 30.

Carpenter—the league's leading scorer—has scored nine touchdowns on passes, followed by Isbell's three.

Uncle Sam Gets Cut Of Moore's Purse

NEW YORK (AP)—The U.S. internal revenue bureau Thursday filed a lien against approximately $64,000 of Archie Moore's purse for Wednesday night's heavyweight title bout against champion Rocky Marciano.

Truman Gibson, International Boxing Club secretary, said only about $4,000 was for 1954 income taxes. He said the other $60,000 was an "anticipatory tax," based on Moore's 1955 earnings for his fights with Nino Valdes, Bobo Olson and Marciano.

Gibson said Moore expected to settle the matter Tuesday through his lawyer.

SIGN DUTCHIES COACH

KITCHENER (CP) Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen, Canada's representatives at the Olympic hockey games and St. Michael's College junior "A" squad here for exhibition games. Manager "Red" Doran, who is conducting the negotiations said that prospects were good for the appearance of these outstanding clubs in Belleville.

The meeting was held under the chairmanship of club president Frank Grandame. A full turnout was present.

Redmen Improved Says Coach But Has Doubts About Crown

By GERRY LA FONTAINE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL (CP) — McGill Redmen aren't won a Senior Intercollegiate football championship in 1955 but with a classy new quarterback and more beef along the front wall, it is doubtful that their silverware famine will end this season.

Coach Larry Sullivan admits this year's edition of the Redmen looks more promising than the club that took six pastings last fall, but he also says the rest of the league is stronger.

Queens, Varsity and Western all claimed a pair of easy wins over McGill last year as they piled up 211 points against a pitiful 54.

The brightest prospect for the red and white this season is Dick Carr, a veteran quarterback from Columbia Lions of the Ivy League. The six-foot signal caller from Revelstoke, B.C., tips the scales at a hunky 190.

BIG MAN

Besides calling plays, running occasionally, and passing, Carr will share kicking chores with Paul Dingle, an end who did most of the booting last year.

Three new tackles will bring a total of nearly 700 pounds to the line. Art McCabe, surprisingly fast at 254, Ray Brown, 227, and Len Sigurdson, 209, are the hefty-new-comers to a line which includes two heavyweight holdovers.

Merv Shaw, who weighs in at an even seventeen of a ton, held down a tackle spot last year while Des De Simone at 211, played guard.

Other linemen back from last year's club are guards Garnet Bertrand and Joe Cremin, tackles Earl Merling and Joe Larsen and ends Dingle, Sam Yuska and Marty Pauman.

The backfield will require patching with fullback Ricky Adrian, halfbacks Bob Hutcheson and Bob Perry and flying wing Don Gagnon the only familiar faces.

USE STRAIGHT T

Jimmy Grant, who played local high school ball last season, will partner Joe Carr's understudy Wally Tiffany Bennett and Bob Holland, who also played high school ball here, will fill out the wingline.

Joe Cronin and Murray Armstrong, up from last season's intermediates, and Gene Thalheimer, from Albany, N. Y., are also likely candidates.

The Redmen will stick to a straight "T" formation this year although the addition of Carr will probably widen spreads and give a more potent passing attack. In their three home games last season McGill gained a total of less than 200 yards in the air, completing only 13 of 44 passes.

Dick Duff Signs Leaf Pro Contract

ST. CATHARINES (CP)—Toronto Maple Leafs wound up the first part of their training Thursday and prepared to meet Pittsburgh Hornets, Flin Flon Bombers and Barry Cullen scored five goals in practice workout at the Pittsburgh camp.

It was the first reunion of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior "A" forward line that led St. Catharines to the Memorial Cup two years ago, and was made possible when Barry was sent to Hornets from the Leafs' camp Wednesday.

Otherwise the big news here was the signing of left winger Dick Duff, 19-year-old former St. Michael's College junior, to a pro contract by Leafs.

Hawks Win

WELLAND (CP)—Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League coasted along after a four-goal, third-period attack Thursday night to whip Buffalo Bisons 5-1 in an exhibition game.

Wings Option Two Players

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (CP)Detroit Red Wings Thursday announced the optioning of two young defencemen to New Westminster of the Western Hockey League.

Ed Zeniuk, 22, who played last season for Edmonton Flyers, and Ron Tribault, a graduate from the junior ranks, have been optioned out by the Wings.

AVERT STRIKE

NEW YORK (AP) — The Long Island Railroad and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen reached an agreement Thursday, thus avoiding a long-threatened strike.

Richards Shine In Canadiens Practice Game

MONTREAL (CP) Coach Toe Blake whipped his main squad of Montreal Canadiens through two sharp practice games at the Verdun Auditorium training camp Thursday, and half a dozen players wound up with two goals apiece for their day's work.

The red squad and the white squad sawed off at 4-4 in the morning, and the whites came through with a 5-3 win in the afternoon.

Maurice (Rocket) Richard and his Pocket Rocket brother, Henri, each counted two in the Rocket aggregate of seven and Dick Gamble scored a pair. Claude Provost had one.

The National Hockey League Canadiens meet Montreal Royals of the Quebec Senior League Saturday night in a game at the Forum, and next week the main squad plays exhibition games at Sudbury and Pembroke, Ont.

Sonshine Ejects 'Note Makers' At Practice

TORONTO (CP) A couple of furtive figures roamed around the practice field Thursday night while Toronto Argonauts were working out on their Big Four football game Saturday at Ottawa.

The first got the gate when he couldn't explain why he was making notes of Argo drills.

"He's from Ottawa," denounced Sonshine.

An hour later the second character was observed writing notes on a piece of paper and tucking it in his pocket. Out he went, at the prodding of a park policeman.

MAJOR A LEAGUE

Bill Bateman toppled the maples for a 913 triple in the Major "A" League last night. His games were 276—318—319. This is the best effort so far this season. Other scores were: K. Bowers 775, J. Resourceful Agent Cashes In on Smart Piece of Selling

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Sometimes you really have to work to make a buck in this town.

Take a fellow like Mel Schlank, an agent in Hollywood for many years. Sometimes his 10 per cent from the clients' labors mounted up. Sometimes it didn't.

He started thinking. As anybody in show business knows, one of the most profitable sidelines is the tie-up industry. Nearly every television star appealing to kids does it. You see Howdy Doody on Jam glasses, Davy Crockett on everything.

But, Schlank reasoned, one of the most popular shows on TV had no tieups. That was "The Little Rascals."

The reason was obvious. Hal Roach made the comedy shorts 20 years ago. He sold them to TV distributor after the war to get his studio out of hock. Now the child stars in the comedies have grown up and scattered.

TRACES THEM DOWN

Schlank sighed over the money potential that could be gained by commercial tie-ups, and decided to tackle the seemingly impossible task of getting the rights.

His first objective was Spanky McFarland. He was located in Texas, where he had gone after an unsuccessful comeback try in Hollywood. Schlank signed him up for tie-ups as well as acting. Spanky landed a spot on the George Gobel show and a personal appearance in Washington that drew large crowds.

"I went after Alfalfa Switzer next," Schlank recalled.

Alfalfa had become a hunting guide in northern California, then returned to Hollywood for a couple of roles with William Wellman. He married and retired to a farm in Kansas. Schlank located him.

"Next came Darla Hood," the agent said. "She was the easiest to find, because she had been working in Jimmy McHugh's night club act. But because she was the only one still active in show business, she was the hardest to sell."

BUCKWHEAT IN ARMY

But he signed her and went on to greater challenges, finding Buckwheat Thomas.

"I didn't even know his first name; the old contracts read Buckwheat. Finally I got his social security number through MGM and located his mother.

"His mother was suspicious and didn't want to tell me anything. Finally she told me that he was in the army, at Fort Lewis, Washington."

Schlank enlisted the army brass in the search for Buckwheat and finally reached him. The agent even tracked down the trainer and the owner of Pete, the circle-eyed dog in the series, long since dead. But complications arose, and he decided to go forward with his four human stars.

"Now we're ready to make deals for all kinds of merchandise," Schlank said. "Everything from comic books, clothes, newspaper strips, beanies to dolls, puppets and toys.

"The four kids may stand to make upwards to hundreds of thousands of dollars."

Minus 10 per cent, of course, for their persevering agent.

Pictures Show Ref Failed To Wipe Gloves

NEW YORK (AP) — Movies of the 1:Brilling Rocky Marciano-Archie Moore fight Wednesday night show that referee Harry Kessler twice failed to wipe off the beaten Moore's gloves after knockdowns in the sixth round.

Right hands to the head felled the light heavyweight king for counts of four and eight in that hectic round. The 38-year-old Moore would have received a momentary respite if Kessler had remembered to wipe off his gloves. Marciano could have been handicapped too if any resin from the canvas got on to Archie's gloves and then in Rocky's eyes.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars, for

SATURDAY, SEPT. 24, 1955

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Take sensible precautions in family and personal matters. No overstrain or recklessness. Day is excellent with creative, work, all worthwhile activities.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus) — Give a little, take a little, but do all in a smooth manner. Do not hurry one minute and be lackadaisical the next. You people often wear down your nerves and energy attempting too much.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini) — Stop, stop — thinks, confer, deliberate, and then don't make that critical reason or decide on that drastic move till you are sure it will do all good and no one harm. Make today better in every way.

June 22 to July 22 (Cancer) — Do what your conscience tells you. You have a fine sense of strategy; apply it.

July 24 to August 22 (Leo) — Note Taurus today: your aspects suggest similar tendencies. Go easy on your nerves. Tread lightly. Harmony pays well.

August 23 to September 23 (Virgo) — There are more than immediate means and ideas available for advancement if you will dig a little more. Your talents should elicit extra help — both from unexpected sources. Technical matters can advance.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra) — You may not feel like doing the minor or seemingly needless things you must, and should today. But do them and note how well things will go. Libra can give others a big boost.

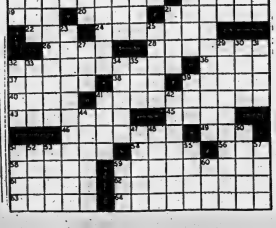
October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio) — This is no time for small talk, ye-doing needlessly, or for straining to do the utmost beyond good sense. To do well even in leisure-time activities will help you to preserve health, disposition.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius) — Let the other fellow have his say, and you will learn more from day to day: a simple rhyme, but a potent suggestion. Plan next week's matters so as to better use your time and energies.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn) — Why anticipate trouble? Smart people don't recognize it at all so that they can treat it more philosophically, as a matter of course. Smile the day through.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius) — This could be a splendid day, and you will no doubt start out to make it one. But if obstacles cross your path, be your sensible self. Don't be dismayed.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces) — Small matters can conveniently be taken care of today. If you must work full time, then don't crowd yourself with other matters. Use free time wisely, too.



You born today have many talents and a charming personality. Most of your tendencies come from Libra, which Sign has just left. You also have traits from the waning Virgo, and are called a Zodiacal Cuspal. There is great strength in this sector, also a few faults which can make you and others unhappy if you don't control them. Don't get into heated discussions, or into any rut; your talents are too much in demand to be so wasted. You make friends easily and can assist others to success. Don't overindulge in the foods and beverages you like. Skill, industriousness can carry you far. Birthdate of: Zachary Taylor, 12th U.S. Pres.; Marcus A. Hanna, noted statesman.

All-Star Game To Follow Grey Cup Classic

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Sun said Thursday an East-West Canadian all-star football classic has been arranged by the Sunners to follow the Grey Cup each year.

First game is scheduled for Dec. 3 at Toronto. Subsequent games will be played in the other provinces included in the Western Interprovincial Football Union and Ontario but with the exception of the one hosting the Grey Cup.

The Sun made the announcement of the new grid classic will be made. The Canadian Rugby Union and is sponsored by The Star and the Canadian Sunners. Opposing teams will be made up of all-star players picked by football fans in the East and West. All clubs in the Big Four and WIFU have agreed to the annual games.

AT VANCOUVER

If an eastern team wins the Grey Cup Nov. 26, it is understood the first classic will be played in Vancouver next year.

Cost of putting on the contest is estimated at a maximum of $65,000. Players chosen by fans for each team will receive a $500 bonus plus continuation of salary and expenses.

The Sun said the Toronto Star plans to place advertisements in early newspapers in the Big Four WIFU and eastern leagues asking fans to mail their player vote to The Star.

WILL SEND TEAM

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—Ski officials of host city for 1st Germany said Thursday they have decided to send a 38-man team to the 1956 Winter Olympics. Same to represent all of Germany at Cortina, Italy. East and West Germany failed to agree in 1952. As a result, only athletes from West Germany competed at Oslo.

Canadian Racing Money Invades British Market

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON (CP)—Backed by the booming Canadian dollar racing mentors from Toronto and Calgary are moving in on the British bloodstock market with bandrolls bared.

Latest to join the ranks of Canadian purchasers is stockbroker Charles Burns of Toronto, who paid 630 guineas Wednesday for Medal Star, two-year-old winner of the first race at Brighton. Medal-a-Year is a bay filly by Brunel out of Tarola and Burns said the filly will probably be shipped to Canada.He and Max Bell of Calgary, whose British purchases have included such successful horses as Royal Serenade and St. Vincent, will attend next week's bloodstock sales at Newmarket. Mrs. Burns said Thursday it "definitely probable" her husband will make some purchases there.

Meanwhile, a mystery developed —what Canadian owner bought the Irish horse Closed Shop? Sporting Life, one of Britain's leading racing papers, reports that the two-year-old gelding, winner of a race last at the Curragh this month, has been sold "to go to Canada." Canadian racing men here said they hadn't heard of the sale.

Closed Shop is by Drawbridge out of Lady Barter.

Canadian money is making an increasing impact at British sales.

"Our country is expanding fast and creating a lot of wealth," Burns said in an interview. "I think Canadian owners will be racing increasing attention to British bloodstock."

Canadians who have poured money into British bloodstock in post-war years include R. P. Taylor of Toronto, who has five juveniles in training here and has yet to win a race; J. E. and Charles Armstrong of Brampton, Ont., with two juveniles and two older horses in training; George Gardiner of Toronto, part owner of St. Vincent, and P. D. Gordon of Vancouver.

Lacrosse May Be Finished In Peterborough

VICTORIA (CP) — Peterborough Trailermen, whose four-year reign as Canadian lacrosse champions ended here Wednesday night when Victoria Shamrocks won their first Mann Cup, may not be around next season for a crack at returning the trophy to eastern Canada.

Manager Bob Curtis said Thursday: "We don't yet know definitely whether there will be any senior A lacrosse in Peterborough next season."

Curtis, who said Trailermen and the Canadian Lacrosse Association didn't see eye to eye in a meeting Thursday to settle finances, added that the club has lost money this season, that it is "way in the hole," and that some of the directors are "fed up."

RECEIVE OFFERS

Curtis said many of the players apparently received offers from west coast teams to play in the Pacific Coast League next year. Several Peterborough players are thinking of retiring and speedy Bobby Allan may move to the coast and line-up with a Vancouver island club.

Curtis accused the CLA of failing to allow the Peterborough team the full share of expense money. CLA president Dr. Frank Kenny of New Westminster, B.C., replied that the CLA had lived up to the end of the agreement and has been more than generous with the Peterborough club.

The Petes left for home by plane Thursday night after attending a complimentary banquet for the two teams.

MAKES FIRST PLANE

LONDON (Reuters) — Communist China made her first airplane in 1954, the Communist New China news agency reported Thursday night.

BANCROFT

Car Driven At Fast Rate Says Witness

BANCROFT (Special) — A coroner's jury heard a witness tell on Wednesday evening at an inquest presided over by Coroner Dr. O. W. Anderson, how a car overtook his vehicle at an estimated speed of between 70 and 80 miles per hour, crash head-on into another going in the opposite direction. Four people were killed and one injured as a result of the collision.

The inquest was ordered to inquire into the death of Thomas Kelly, of Bancroft, the other victims were Wilbert Lyle Thackeray, of Peterborough; Earl Kerr of Fort Stewart, and Lois Vardy, of Muscliow.

Malcolm Saunders, of Lake St. Peter, said he was driving north on Highway 62 about 10.30 p.m. on Saturday, September 17. At a point about seven miles north of Bancroft he saw another car approaching, he dimmed his lights and the oncoming car did likewise. He was travelling between 45 and 50 miles per hour at the time. Another car, later believed to have been driven by Kelly, then passed witnesses' car at high speed. He could see that a collision was inevitable and immediately turned onto the shoulder of the road and braked hard.

Police photographs produced showed gouge marks presumed made in the shoulder gravel by Saunder's tires in his emergency stop.

The other two cars met head-on in the centre of the pavement and then one vehicle seemed to drop from the air about 15 feet in front of his car. He looked into the two wrecks and then flagged down another motorist and asked him to go and get assistance.

OPP Constable George Lloyd, who investigated the accident said he found liquor in both cars involved.

The jury, comprising foreman Ray Watson and members, Bob Kellar, Charles Plumley, Ross Foster and Gordon Maxwell, returned a verdict of death due to injuries received in the accident.

Drowning Cause Of Boy's Death Verdict of Jury

BANCROFT (Special) — A coroner's jury returned a verdict of death by drowning on 9-year-old Terence Irvin Twomey at an inquest presided over by Coroner Dr. O. W. Anderson on Wednesday afternoon. The boy died whilst riding in a truck driven by his father, Irvin Twomey, of Coe Hill, when the vehicle left the road and turned on its side in a ditch near Faudah Lake on Highway 28 in the early hours of Sunday, September 11.

O.P.P. Constable John Hawkins told the jury that when he arrived at the scene he found the body still in the cab of the truck. There was some water in the cab, but at that time the boy was not lying in it. He did not see the driver until later when he called at the Bancroft Red Cross Hospital.

Michael Irvin Twomey said in evidence that he was returning from Peterborough when he was dazzled by the lights of an oncoming car. His vehicle left the road and turned on its side in the ditch. He was doing about 30 m.p.h. at the time of the accident. He had consumed about 10 glasses of beer the previous afternoon, the last about 5.30 p.m.

Professor Josiyn Rogers, chemist to Crown Attorney's department, said that a sample of Twomey's blood taken some two hours after the accident showed an alcoholic content of 2.1 parts per 1,000. Such a ratio showed the person to be definitely intoxicated.

Dr. V. A. Lehlnant, of Bancroft, who performed the autopsy, said he found no indication of any serious injury on the body. There was fluid in the bronchial passages and lungs and, in his opinion, death was due to drowning.

Ernest G. Thomas was foreman of the jury with members Geo. Thomson, Don Easton, Terry Mahoney and Ronald Plumley.

ASK SAFETY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Automobile Association Thursday asked car manufacturers to ease up on speed and horsepower and to put more emphasis on safety in new models. A resolution adopted unanimously at the AAA's annual meeting said the great need today is for "ways and means of protecting the driver against his own mistakes."

Peron's Followers Riot At Rosario; Several Killed

Lonardi Announces Plans For Concordat With Vatican

Be Sure to Set Clocks Back Hour After Midnight

Tonight you get square with Old Father Time.

Any time after midnight you can start fooling with the family timepieces and set them back an hour. Daylight Saving is kaput for 1955.

It doesn't matter when you do it as long as it is after midnight or thereabouts. It all depends on what you are doing.

If you are going out strag don't start an argument with the dis-taff side. She might set the clock back to gain time to win her point.

By all means go to church Sunday. But see to it you don't arrive there at two. You might meet junior going to Sunday school.

If you're going out of town you could miss an extra hour of gossip with the relatives. Or arrive too early for that country dinner.

It's all for your own good. Remember how you griped last April when you spiked the grandfather, mantel, wrist and table models an hour to the front.

Saturday night or early Sun-day morning is your turn to howl.

And don't say you were not told. As if it were necessary.

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Provisional President Eduardo Lonardi, promising to defend democracy and liberty, today began the task of rebuilding the Argentine government from the wreckage of discarded Peronism. One of his first major tasks was to quell flickering violence staged by die-hard followers of ousted dictator Peron in Buenos Aires and Rosario.

The first major clash since the revolution which toppled Peron's dictatorship erupted in Rosario, 170 miles northwest of Buenos Aires and Argentina's second largest city.

Reports from Rosario said Peronistas fought a pitched battle in the streets Friday night with the triumphant revolutionary army. Several persons were reported killed, many were wounded and many more were arrested.

RECORD CROWD

The 59-year-old Lonardi, who as a dissident army general led the revolution that ousted Peron, was installed as provisional president Friday before a record crowd in Plaza de Mayo, in central Buenos Aires.

Standing on the balcony where Peron used to address his supporters, Lonardi promised freedom and justice for all—for supporters as well as opponents of the Peron regime. He promised that the Roman Catholic Church and its universities would retain their status.

Lonardi said his government would like to negotiate a concordat with the Vatican to govern relations between the government and the state church. High Catholic circles which want the church's rights and responsibilities put in writing, were pleased with the promise.

The provisional president, archdeacon Catholic, promised that all churches in the country will have assurance of liberty.

The provisional president pledged his best efforts to end inflation that has long plagued Argentina, cut government costs, and respect the constitutional rights of public assembly and freedom of the press.

REAL LIBERTY

"In no country of the world will the press enjoy more authentic liberty," he said.

Peron was all aboard the closely guarded Paraguayan gunboat Paraguay in Buenos Aires harbor.

Before flying into Buenos Aires Friday from rebel headquarters in Cordoba, Lonardi told reporters:

"We want to make it impossible for him (Peron) to cause damage to the country. In case he is brought to trial, the government will present himself as any other Argentine and enjoy all the guarantees and rights established by the constitution."

As long as Peron is on the Paraguayan vessel, which in diplomatic terms is considered equal to being on Paraguayan soil, he cannot be arrested as a political prisoner. Any attempt to arrest him would have to be on criminal charges, and even then it probably would have to be worked out with the agreement of Paraguay if an international incident is avoided.

Three Killed As Cars Collide At Walkerton

WALKERTON, Ont. (CP)—Three men were killed in a two-car head-on collision on Highway 6 a mile from here early today.

Dead are Kelly Pierce Sr., 51, of Southampton, and Howard Siefried, 21, and Carl Netzke, 16, both of Millbank.

Pierce was killed instantly. Netzke was dead on arrival at hospital and Seifried died a short time after being admitted.

Pierce was alone in a car travelling north on his way home from Jamestown, N.Y., where he was a manager of a veneer company, police said.

The other two men were travelling south. Police said they did not know which car each was driving. Both cars were badly damaged.

BUDGET DEFICIT DURING AUGUST IS $18,000,000

Defence Spending $10,000,000 Higher

OTTAWA (CP)—The federal government's budget accounts for $18,000,000 into the red during August and left Finance Minister Harris with a budget surplus of $114,-000,000 for the first five months of the fiscal year.

But August's deficit was largely the result of a bookkeeping decision: Canada's $26,000,000 Colombo plan contribution for $15.50 was missed until expenditures for the month.

Defence spending also was $10,-000,000 higher than in August, 1954.

Mr. Harris' monthly statement Friday showed the government took in $342,200,000 in budgetary revenue for August and spent $360,200,-000.

Compared with August of last year, revenues were up by $19,-900,000 and expenditures by $48,-200,000.

DEFICITS OFFSET

Monthly surpluses in April, May and July offset deficits in June and August, however, and left the government with the $114,000,000 surplus for the first five months of the fiscal year which began April 1, a year earlier than five-month surplus was $148,000,000.

Revenues for the five months with $1,539,200,000 a year earlier. Spending up to August 31 totalled $1,563,300,000 compared with $1,491,200,000.

In his budget speech last April Mr. Harris forecast a deficit of $100,000,000 for the present fiscal year.Last year he had a deficit of $151,000,000.

The old age security fund for pensions to those over 70 ran a $6,100,000 deficit in August, bringing the five-month deficit to $23,-600,000. For the corresponding period last year the deficit was $21,-400,000. The fund's shortage is covered by a temporary loan from general revenues.

Reporter Freed Of Contempt By Police Inquiry

VANCOUVER (CP)—Delay has again hit the much-delayed Tupper commission, inquiring into conduct and administration of Vancouver's 750 policemen.

Earlier this day of sittings ended Friday, R. H. Tupper, royal commissioner, granted an adjournment until Oct. 4 to allow lawyer Jay Gould time to attend another public inquiry at the Kootenay district.

Mr. Gould, counsel for police chief Walter Mulligan, was also engaged in a royal commission at Doukhobor affairs.

At Friday's sitting Ray Munro, veteran police reporter, was freed of contempt proceedings which had put him under $500 in sheriff for more than a month.

It also heard a detective, with 20 years police duty, say that a "careful, independent call girl" can operate without breaking the law.

Mr. Munro had been cited for contempt of the commission and the 8 for articles in the Toronto tabloid Flash, from which Mr. Munro resigned two months ago. The articles referred to witnesses and police chief Mulligan.

The contempt proceedings were brought to a head a week ago when T. G. Norris, former council to police chief Mulligan, charged that Mr. Munro attempted to bribe Detective in a Sept. 3 article which appeared in Flash in a column entitled Vancouver Merry-Go-Round.

Probably Bumper Crop of Young Snow Geese Slowing Up Migration

ST. JOACHIM, Que. (CP) — A delay in the annual arrival here of some 100,000 greater snow geese is not necessarily a good sign by the experts, who say it probably means they have been slowed down by a bumper crop of young.

About 200 of the big white birds, an advance guard for the main group, have arrived at Cap Tourmente on the St. Lawrence river, near this village about 30 miles east of Quebec City.

"Probably a bumper crop of young slowing up the tidal migration," g a m e s u p e r v i n t e n d e n t Charles Fortin said Friday.

Every fall, the birds pause here on the long journey from Greenland and Ellesmere island to their winter quarters in the southern United States, and return again in the spring on the way back to their nesting grounds.

Mr. Freemon, an authority on the greater snow goose, said the advance guard began arriving two weeks ago.

"The geese hatch their young up north in the summer but they have to wait until the young are grown enough for the flight of 2,000 miles before setting out," he said.

Mr. Fortin said the tidal flats below towering Cap Tourmente is the only place where the geese are known to pause during their flight.

Storekeepers Freed of Murder Of Negro Boy, Face New Trial

By SAM JOHNSON

SUMNER, Miss. (AP)—An all white jury, composed mainly of Delta cotton farmers, acquitted two white storekeepers of the murder ofa 14-year-old Chicago Negro boy Friday, but the half-brothers spent the night in a neighboring county jail.

Roy Bryant, 24, and John Milam, 36, still face charges of kidnapping Emmett Louis Till from the sharecropper shack in Leflore county where he was vacationing with his uncle, Mose Wright.

The two men were tried in Tallahatchie county because a battered, bullet pierced body — buried as Till's, but later rejected by the jury—was fished from the muddy Tallahatchie river inside the county line.

Jury foreman J. A. Shaw said identification of the body was the deciding factor in the one-hour and seven-minute deliberation that resulted in an acquittal on the third ballot.

"The verdict is as shameful as it is shocking," said the National Association for the Advancement for Colored People in a statement from its New York headquarters. "The jurors who returned it deserve a medal from the Kremlin for meritorious service in communism'swar against democracy."

Bryant and Milam spent the night in jail in Greenwood when their counsel offered to post sufficient the amount of bail needed for their release under the kidnap charges.

They were taken back into custody a few minutes after they embraced their wives happily as Shaw announced: "We, the jury, find the defendants not guilty."

Mrs. Bryant, the pretty mother of two boys, who testified a Negro man molested her on Aug. 24, said with a relieved smile: "I'm very happy. I feel a lot better than did yesterday on the witness stand."

Before the trial, officers said the 24-year-old woman was the object of Till's wolf whistle. But on the stand, as a defence witness, she mentioned no names in relating the episode at the store. Her husband's counsel used this lack of identification to demand of the state: "Where's the motive?"

She was never cross-examined. Jury

Two officers corroborated Wright's testimony that Bryant and Milam dragged Till from the sharecropper shack near the littlee delta town of Money where Bryant had a general store. The officers said the men admitted it in pre-trial questioning.

The storekeepers did not testify. But before the trial they claimed they had released Till unharmed because Mrs. Bryant said he was not the Negro who grabbed her around the waist and made an indecent proposal.

The state built its case around eye-witnesses, like the 64-year-old Wright, to the pre-dawn abduction and around the testimony of a 17-year-old Negro boy who said he heard "licks and hollering" coming from a barn owned by Milam's brother in Sumner county.

"There was a reasonable doubt" said the jury foreman in the identification of the body.

The defence concentrated on raising doubts about the identification of the body, working on the simple theory of no body, no murder.

A sheriff, a doctor and undertaker testified the body they saw was in advanced state of decomposition, that the boy had been in the water for days, and that by the time Till was abducted and discovery of the naked body, weighted with a cotton gin fan, was found around the neck with barbwed wire, it was in such a state of decay that fingers bore the initials "L.T." Mrs. Bradley said it was her belief that the body found in the pit on before catching the train for his vacation in Money.

The defence handled this point by calling Negro witnesses whose groups were "capable of anything" in attempting to destroy the southern way of life.

The verdict still left unanswered the question of what happened to Till. If the body yielded up by the river was not his, then where is he? And whose was the body found in the river?

Attorney Gen. Sr Strider of Tallahatchie county said he would continue his investigation in an attempt to identify the body.

District attorney Stanny Sanders said before empaneling the jury he would seek a kidnap indictment at the December session of the grand jury.

3 High School Girls Killed When Truck Demolishes Car

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Three ten-aged high school girls were killed and two other persons injured Friday when the car in which they were riding was demolished by a three-ton truck on Highbury avenue near the 10th Concession of London township.

Dead are Shirley Bell, 15, R. Ilderton, and Peggy Fitzgerald, 17, of RR 5 Ilderton, died.in the twisted wreckage of the car. The third victim, Dorothy Hayes, 14, of RR 5 Ilderton, died on the operating table at St. Joseph's Hospital.

The three students of Medway High School had been sitting in the rear of the automobile which it stopped to allow another student, Margo Bosley, 15, to alight in front of her farm home. The Bosley girl suffered from shock and minor lacerations. Her sister, Mary, Chester Hayes, father of the dead girl, received skull lacerations but was discharged after hospital treatment.

Driver of the truck, Percy Nixon, and his brother, Jack, both of Wiarton, escaped injury in the crash although their vehicle was extensively damaged.

The Nixon said he swerved into the ditch to avoid collision with the car which, police claimed, had stopped on the highway. The truck smashed into a telephone pole and the front-end of the car. The impact whipped the truck in a half circle, the machine's rear — end striking the car. The driver was each force it drove it 53 feet through a roadside fence.

Alex Bosley, 12-year-old brother of Mary was an eye-witness of the accident.

"When the accident happened," he said, "I was in the truck and Mary seemed to be turned around somehow. Then the car stopped under the tree and I saw the girls on the ground. Some people came along and took them away."

Three Related Teen-Age Girls Missing Month

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — Police throughout Canada and bordering states of the U.S. have been asked to help in the search for three related teen-age girls who disappeared from their homes here for more than a month.

Inspector J. L. Needham of provincial police Criminal Investigation Branch here Thursday from Toronto to take charge of the hunt for Doreen Love, 15, her sister Jessie, 15, and their cousin Joyce Love, 14.

Mrs. Rex Ives of suburban Sandwich West told Inspector Needham her daughter, Joyce, went to Leamington, 30 miles southeast of here, Aug. 14 to spend a week with her grandmother Mrs. Harry White and the other two missing girls who lived with Mrs. White.

Mrs. Ives said she learned the girls had disappeared from Mrs. White called her Aug. 21 and said they failed to return from a movie in known to pause during their flight.

CARDINAL YOUTH TO STAND TRIAL ON MURDER COUNT

Accused of Killing Local Shopkeeper

BROCKVILLE (CP)—Seventeen-year-old Ronald Reid will be tried on a murder charge, likely next month, in the gun and bludgeon slaying of a 50-year-old clothing merchant.

Reid sat quietly through a preliminary hearing here Friday as two witnesses told of the death of Benjamin Spillerman, a Cardinal shopkeeper, who died Aug. 13 with head and body wounds a pathologist said were "too numerous to count."

Magistrate Gordon S. Germyn committed the Cardinal youth to trial on a murder charge, expected to be heard before the Ontario Supreme Court assizes opening here Oct. 11.

Reid, who was reading crime comic books in his home when arrested Aug. 20, was asked by the magistrate if he wished to say anything.

"I have nothing to say, sir," Reid replied.

$50 MISSING

Police said $2,351 in three wallets on Spillerman's battered body was untouched. About $50 was missing from the cash till in the store where he died.

Dr. W. D. Hay, Queen's University pathologist, testified that Spillerman was bludgeoned and stabbed with a hammer and then shot while lying face down on the floor. He said a wound in the chest was the persistent violence by a number of individual wounds, the number of which I do not know," he said.

Cardinal police chief Edward Smith said an axe-head, scissors and metal crank were found near the body. He said the scissors were covered with blood. There was blood and hair on the crank and a bloody 38-calibre bullet was found on the scene.

FOUND GUN IN ROOM

Chief Smith said he found a .38-calibre revolver with a sawed-off barrel in Reid's home, a few hundred yards from Spillerman's store. It held five discharged cartridge casings.

Twenty-year-old Donald Baker of Cardinal testified he had given Reid a 38-calibre revolver similar to the one found by police except that it had a longer barrel, saying it for a shotgun.

William Barclay, 17, a friend of Reid, said he saw Reid with a revolver two weeks before the slaying. The gun was shot then in a group of boys watched.

Barclay said that some time later he asked Reid if he wanted to sell the revolver and that Reid said he would and sold it or thrown it into the river.

Trenton Airman Hurt in Crash; One Man Killed

BRANTFORD (CP) — William Bonner, 21, a member of the RCAF station at Clinton, was killed and four other airmen were injured Friday in a two-car head-on collision on Highway 2 about 10 miles east of here.

Injured are Richard Topley, Hamilton, also stationed at Clinton, who suffered a broken jaw and multiple lacerations, and Donald Woodstock, also stationed at RCAF Treston.

Bonner was on his way home when the crash occurred.

Soviet Premier Pours Cold Water On U.S. Proposal

DENVER (AP)—Soviet Premier Bulganin has thrown cold water on President Eisenhower's pre-disarmament plan but the president is hopeful Russia may yet be deliberately ignoring the essence of his program.

In a second message to the president, made public at Eisenhower's headquarters in suburban Fitzsimons, Bulganin said the Eisenhower proposals to exchange blue-prints on military installations "would become significant only if accompanied by a substantial reduction of armaments and taking measures for the prohibition of atomic weapons."

And he added that the president's plan for aerial inspection of military establishments in both countries would be meaningless unless it covered all countries in which the United States and Russia maintain armed forces—a development which would require the consent of governments of all the countries concerned.

40 Die As Train, Truck Collide Near Mexico City

Dynamite-Loaded Vehicles Were Racing Without Lights

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A dynamite-loaded truck and a train collided Friday night near Torreon, touching off a shattering explosion that took the lives of more than 40 persons, in a chain reaction, the collision and explosion set off the cargo of a second dynamite-carrying truck.

Reports from the scene said more than 40 bodies had been recovered and the death toll might reach 70. More than 150 persons were injured.

Authorities said the two trucks, both heavily loaded with explosives were racing without lights when the lead vehicle collided with the Torreon-to-Chihuahua train.

Torreon is about 200 miles west of Monterrey in north central Mexico.

The explosion buried the boiler of the locomotive 300 yards. The engine of one truck was found 700 yards from the crash and scattered cargo and injured were found over a 300-yard radius.

HOUSE DESTROYED

The blast levelled houses on nearby streets, killing several workers.

The train, made up of two passenger cars, a freight car and a mail car, was destroyed. A section was also torn from the rail of the road. Railroad officials said it would take two or three days to put the line to the United States border back in service.

Windows in the town of Gomez Palacio, two miles from the scene, were broken and hundreds of panic-stricken residents of the community fled from moving picture theatres.

The trucks were believed carrying dynamite to mining operations in the area.

British Press Assails Handling Of Maclean Case

LONDON (Reuters) — A bitter British press campaign unanimously flays the government, the foreign office and the secret service in angry comments on Friday night's official report on the flight to Russia of the diplomats Donald Maclean and Guy Burgess.

The report — a government "white paper" — disclosed that the two men left the shores of Britain without difficulty in May, 1951, after the government had ordered that Maclean be arrested when security men.

Today British newspapers of all shades of political opinion criticize the form of the white paper and express grave disquiet at its revelations.

The newspapers condemn the government for maintaining strict silence about the matter and attack the security services for letting spy suspects slip through their fingers.

The pro - government Daily Telegraph criticizes the white paper as "its total failure to come to grips with the real questions in the case."

The Daily Express, also pro-government, calls the white paper an "insulting document." The Daily Mail, a third Conservative newspaper, says it is "shocking for both admissions and its omissions.

Stolen Jewelry Valued at $40,000 Found by Montreal Police in Taxi

MONTREAL (CP) — An estimated $40,000 in stolen jewelry has been recovered by police and will be turned over to its owner, headline-making Mrs. Liliane Pursey, Police Detective Inspector Georges Allain said Friday night the jewelry was found Friday by police in a cheap, blue duffle bag, stuffed in the trunk of a taxi undergoing repairs. Two men, one a taxi-driver, were arrested Thursday in a downtown office and will probably be arraigned today or Monday.

The more-than 75 pieces of jewelry were stolen Aug. 4 from the Montreal residence of Mrs. Pursey, Allain said. The driver was arrested and charged with illegal possession of stolen goods and is scheduled to appear in court next week on the charge.

Boy Asks Police For Protection At Home, School

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)—What's a boy gonna' do when his dog follows him to school, and, when he tries to take him home, the bell rings?

That was the problem of an eight-year-old boy who walked into police headquarters Friday and asked for "police protection."

He said if he returned to his home he would get a spanking; "and if I go to school I'll get one, too."

Police gave him an escort to St. Aloysius parochial school.

Constable Freed On Criminal Negligence Count

TORONTO (CP)—An Early Bird freed constable Bruce Priestman of Scarboro, East York township, whose shot at a stolen automobile was said to have led to the death of two student nurses Aug. 1 and the wounding of a car-theft suspect.

Priestman, 22, faced two charges of criminal negligence—one arising from the death of one of the nurses and the other from the wounding of the suspect.

The jury in Ontario Supreme Court got before the hour and 40 minutes.

Priestman said later:

"I'll go back to police work if they'll take me."

Chief officers of the East York force said Priestman, who has been cleared by three inquests, will likely be able to return to duty. However, an East York police commission meeting will decide on the matter.

It said when the fleeing car went out of control and crashed into a group at a bus stop were Colombo Canadian, 19, of Toronto, and Joseph Sylvia, also 19, of Scarboro. Colombo, a student nurse, Eileen Keating, 19, was injured.

The second nurse, Robert Smythson, 18, of nearby Uxbridge suffered a bullet wound in the neck and shoulder. Police said Priestman chased the car through East York and Toronto before firing the shots that fired at the tires of the car and the bullet was deflected so that it struck the suspect.
